Foreign Students Form Club Here

The Cosmopolitan Club was formally presented to the campus at an inauguration banquet attended by student leaders and college dignitaries last Friday night. The banquet was held in the Grill Room of the college cafeteria.

Perhaps the newest of organizations on the campus, the Cosmopolitan Club is composed at present of all the students attending State College from foreign lands. The club began organization in December and were recognized by the Dean of Students as a campus organization about three weeks ago.

Subhi Shaat, a graduate student in Deisel Engineering from Palestine, is president of the new group and presided at the meeting. Following the meal, Shaat gave a short history of the club and explained its purposes. He expressed the hope that they would be able to help make other students from foreign lands acquainted with the college and meet other students from their own country. In speaking of the future of the club and its members, Shaat stated that in reality they would be ambassadors for the United States and for State College when they returned to their homes.

The membership of the club at the time of organization was restricted to students from foreign lands, but Shaat related that future plans call for opening the membership to any one interested.

Among the visitors present were President Frank P. Graham and Dr. Levitt of Chapel Hill, John A. Park, editor of the Raleigh Times, Dean E. L. Cloyd, Dr. Roy Anderson, Dean J. H. Lampe, Dean Kirkland, Dean H. L. Kampfoefner, Dean Campbell, and other interested college personnel and stu-

WSSF Dance

The annual WSSF dance will be held in the Naval Armory on Friday night, March 4th at 8 o'clock. The student body is cordially invited to attend this dance. No admission will be charged. Beta Sigma Phi, Raleigh business girls sorority, will be present with 150 young ladies for the dance. There will also be a radio so that dancers can hear the Wolfpack play their semi-final basketball in the Southern Conference Tourney.

Overalls, Gingham Dresses Mean Barnwarmin' Time

Bring out the blue-bibbed overalls and gingham dresses because the Ag Club Barn-Warming is on March 5, just one week away!

Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra will furnish the music for the dance. Local talent has been secured to provide string music for "old country square dancing."

A feature of the dance will be the crowning of the Barnwarming Queen. The Queen was selected from pictures submitted by Ag students and her identity will be revealed at the dance. Miriam Scott reigned as Queen over the 1948 Barnwarming.

Tie For "Most Outstanding Senior Engineer" Award

The 100,000th volume has recently been placed upon the shelves of the D. H. Hill Library, according to Harlan C. Brown, college librarian.

The book, composed of several issues of Life magazine, marks an important event in the growth of the library. When the present building was completed in 1926, the library contained only 17,231 volumes; and in 1936, it contained 42,064 volumes.

Raymond L. Collins, of Hickory, engineering student and assistant in the library, processed the 100,000th volume and placed it in circulation.

Besides its regular collection, the library has about 10,000 documents from such agencies as the U. S. Department of Agriculture, engineering and agricultural experiment stations, and the Department of Commerce.

Reece, Moore Selected As Most Outstanding

James A. Reece of Cramerton, a senior in civil engineering, and Phillip St. John Moore, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., a senior in mechanical engineering, have been chosen by a faculty committee as the outstanding seniors in the School of Engineering.

The two students were awarded engraved gold watches by the Engineers' Council during the annual Engineers' Ball Saturday night. The presentations were made by Dean J. H. Lampe of the College's School of Engineering, who praised the academic records of both students.

Reece and Moore are veterans of World War II, and they are highly active in campus affairs and have made outstanding academic records. Both men have served as mayor of Vetsville. Reece was mayor during 1947-48, and he was succeeded by Moore.

Reece is vice-president of the college chapter of Chi Epsilon, national honorary civil engineering fraternity, and holds the rank of major in the Organized Reserve Corps. He is also a student instructor in mathematics and engineering mechanics.

He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society; Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity; Sigma Pi Alpha, national honorary languages fraternity; Phi Eta Sigma, national honorary freshman society; and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Moore, a native of Weldon and a former student at the University of North Carolina, was a captain in the Army's Medical Corps during the war. He is historian of Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary mechanical engineering fraternity, and is chairman of the program committee of the college chapter of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman honor society; Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensics society; Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity; Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor fraternity; and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He is also a student instructor in engineering mechanics.

"King For A Day" Features Plans For Freshman Dance

The King for a Day program, sponsored by the Order of Thirty and Three, will be strictly a freshman affair this year, President Virgil Mims announced this week.

Due to financial difficulties, last year's Freshman class was unable to arrange a dance, and the King was crowned at the Sophomore Hop. At a meeting of the Freshman class last Thursday, however, the present Freshman class voted to hold its own dance this year, to be paid for by an assessment of $2 per member of the class. These dues will be paid at spring registration. Paul W. Langley, president of the class, will appoint a dance committee of eleven members who will make arrangements for the dance to be held in the spring term. Acting in an advisory capacity to assist the Freshman Preliminary plans for the annual World Student Service Friend Campaign were made at a dinner meeting held in Room B of the College Cafeteria last Thursday night.

The following organizations were represented: Campus Government, Golden Chain, Blue Key, Thirty & Three, Engineer's Council, Tompkins Textile Society, Future Farmers of America, Westminster Fellowship, Wesley Foundation, Aquinos Club, Hillel Foundation, Baptist Student Union, Lutheran Students Association and the YMCA. The number of organizations represented and the number of persons attending was limited by the size of the meeting room.

Many other organizations have been invited to name representatives but, as yet, have not done so. Among these are the Scabbard and Blade, Monogram Club, Interfraternity Council, Agriculture Club, Theta Tau and others. There is nothing exclusive about the present set-up. If there are other organizations that would like to work on the campaign, they should notify John Wright, chairman of the Central Committee, immediately.

The temporary chairman, John Wright, was elected permanent chairman by acclamation Thursday night. H. Wessell was named vice-chairman and Al Armatruda, treasurer. Roy Gilbert was elected secretary. Chairman of the poster committee is Bill Wilson.

As a means of collecting funds this year, the committee decided to ask the major campus organizations to contribute a team of canvassers. Then each team will be assigned a territory in which to work. Thus the plan is to develop friendly rivalry among the different teams.

In addition to personal solicitation, plans are being made for a WSSF dance and some other special events.

With the major campus organizations and all the religious groups, Jewish, Catholic and Protestant committed to the project, WSSF this year should be a truly all State College event. The faculty have not been forgotten either. Many of the faculty members are very much interested in the WSSF work. One faculty member has already volunteered his services and another has offered his services before he was asked.

representatives in arranging the program will be a committee from the Thirty and Three. Dick Fowler is chairman, assisted by Bob Peacock, Ross Lampe, and Buddy Boyles.

Full Day's Festivities

The King for a Day program will be a full day's festivities, climaxed by the dance in the evening. The King himself will be determined, as in past years, by dexterity in handling a greased pig. Entrants in the pig race will be a representative cross-section of the Freshman class, selected in a manner to be announced later.

The King, together with a Queen for a Day, will reign over the Freshman Hop in the evening. Last year's king was Dick Kirmeyer, and his queen was Vivian White, Miss North Carolina for 1947-48.

Midwinters Will Get Underway Tonight at 9

BY GILBERT MAXWELL

The annual Midwinter dances, highlight of the college social season, will get underway Friday night in Frank Thompson Gym to the music of Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra. The Interfraternity Council, in bringing Dorsey to the campus, have secured one of the most celebrated bands in the country for the affair.

Both the Friday and Saturday night dances will run from nine until twelve o'clock. The Saturday night function will be formal. A new feature of Midwinters will be a concert by Dorsey's crew in Pullen Hall Saturday afternoon. The concert will last from three to five and all students are invited.

Jimmy Dorsey, famous the country over for his fine dance music, has for years had one of the top bands in the nation. In addition to appearing on many of the major networks, he has been starred in several Monogram and MGM movies. Dorsey has also gained fame for his many superior recordings, which have made him a favorite with the juke-box set. His better-known discs include "Amapolita," "Green Eyes," and "Tangerine." Featured vocalists with Jimmy's troupe are Helen Lee and Larry Noble.

A near-capacity throng is expected to crowd the floor in Frank Thompson for the dances. As the Technician goes to press, a major part of the guest bids for the dances have been given out by fraternity men.

Pictures of the sponsors for the IFC president and dance committee members appear elsewhere in this issue.

Mann Appoints Four To Tower Committee

Professor C. L. Mann, Chairman of the Alumni Memorial Tower Committee has announced the appointment of Avery Brock, editor of the TECHNICIAN, W. C. "Bill" English, president of the Engineers' Council, James K. Butler, president of the Ag Club, and William H. Entwistle, Jr., a textile student, as the new student representatives to the Alumni Memorial Tower Committee. It is the function of this committee to attempt to finish World War I Memorial Tower in accordance with the original plans.

Within the past two years a considerable amount of money has been raised from different sources, and the carillon bells have been installed. The bronze door has been erected on the east side of the Tower. The shrine room at the base of the Tower has been designed, and the marble has been delivered here on the campus.

FOR SALE: Staff parking stickers, $1.00 each. Percy Cuted. Phone 2-1954.

Prof. Sutton Speaks To Chem Engineers

At the February 16 meeting of the A.I.Ch.E., everyone indulged in a lecture by Dr. P. P. Sutton who customarily teaches physical chemistry. Dr. Sutton pointed out the purely arbitrary, present system of numbering all sorts of quantities could be altered for a different system expressing mathematical relationships with much less difficulty. Perhaps someday, someone will invent the desired system. By way of passing, Dr. Sutton defined a number as "a class of all classes which is similar to the given class." Also discussed at the meeting were plans for the Engineers' Fair and a method of awarding a prize for the best senior project paper.

The March 1st meeting, Tuesday, 7 p.m. will be Ladies Night. "Treasures from the Sea" will be shown and refreshments served in honor of the members' wives and best girls.

Too Far

(From the "Daily Tar Heel")

Students who returned from the YM-YWCA retreat at Montreat over the weekend had a good story to tell yesterday about the embarrassing position Dean of Women Katherine Carmichael found herself in.

Through a mistake in room registration, Miss Carmichael wound up with a State College man for a roommate.

After everything had been straightened out, Dean of Men Fred Weaver made the classic remark of the weekend:

"That's carrying consolidation a little too far."

Vocalist

Pi Kappa Phi Will Initiate Frat Sing

To encourage more cultural interest and interfraternity activity, Pi Kappa Phi is initiating an annual Interfraternity Sing. This sing, which will be held during each spring term, will be judged by well known musical artists of Raleigh and vicinity. A loving cup, appropriately engraved, will be awarded the frat which, in the opinion of the judges, presents the best performance. This award, presented each year, will become the permanent trophy of the winning frat.

The date of the Sing has been set for May 20. Each of the 17 fraternities has been invited to participate and has been sent a copy of the rules approved by the Interfraternity Council. Pi Kappa Phi hopes that each fraternity will pick a classical or semi-classical composition, or a well known popular concert tune.

Foreign Students Feted By Rotarians

BY LEON BALLANCE

Approximately 73 foreign students from State, Meredith, and Peace College were guests of the Raleigh Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting as National Brotherhood Week got underway here.

Some 69 of the students were from State College and represented 21 different countries.

H. J. Schaaf, Arabian student from Palestine, and president of the State College Cosmopolitan Club, spoke briefly for the visitors.

Student Speaker

"You are signing a treaty here today between these 21 countries and the United States," commented Mr. Schaaf. "You have but to turn to the faces of the boys beside you to see the happiness and gratitude written there."

Greetings were extended the visitors from Manley G. Mann, vice-president of the Rotary Club, who presided, and from John A. Park, rotarian, on behalf of Rotary International.

Dr. Roy Anderson of State College introduced the students by having them stand by countries. There are 78 foreign students at State College, 47 in textiles, 20 in engineering, and 11 in agriculture, announced Dr. Anderson.

Freund Speaks

Dr. Rudolph E. Freund will speak on "Communism vs. Capitalism" on Wednesday night, March 2, at 7 p.m. in the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium. Dr. Freund will deliver the second lecture in a series of three on "Communism vs. the American Way," being sponsored by the Upper-classmen's Y.M.C.A.

Dr. Waldo Beach will give the third speech in the series, entitled "Communism vs. Christianity," on Wednesday night, March 9, at 7 p.m. in the Y auditorium.

Dr. Freund, faculty member of the Economics Department at State College, gained first hand knowledge of both fascism and communism during his many years residence in Europe.

$25,000 Donated To Give New Library For Textiles

BY RUDOLPH PATE

The Burlington Foundation, a trust set up by Burlington Mills Corporation, has made a donation of $25,000 to the State College School of Textiles to be used for the remodeling of former classroom space into what will be one of the most modern textile library facilities in the nation.

Announcement of the donation was made by Dean Malcolm Campbell at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Textile Foundation held at the Greensboro Country Club.

Plans Already Made

Work of remodeling the classrooms into the library will be begun this fall upon completion of the two wings now being added to the Textile Building.

Plans, Dean Campbell said, are already being drawn by Dean H. L. Kamphoefner and Instructor J. C. Knight of the School of Design. He said they include "beautiful panelled walls, the most modern of lighting equipment, reading tables, racks, chairs and other furniture."

Mills Show Interest

There will be an office for the textile librarian, Miss Katherine McDiarmid, a special section for the storing and projection of microfilm and the entire library will be air-conditioned. On one wall will be a large mural to be painted by Duncan Stuart of the College's School of Design.

This donation, said Dean Campbell, is another evidence of the interest of J. Spencer Love, chairman of the board, and J. C. Cowan, Jr., president, of Burlington Mills. These men are the principal officers of the textile corporation

See Advisers

During the period from March 4-11 each student should see his adviser to secure advice and registration materials, it was announced today by the registration office. Further registration information will appear in next week's TECHNICIAN.

Rabbi Kaplan Will Speak To Foundation

To emphasize "Brotherhood," the Methodist student group of State and Meredith has invited Rabbi Harry Kaplan of Temple Beth-Or to address the regular Sunday night Wesley Foundation meeting, on February 27. Brotherhood Week of February 20-27 is sponsored annually by the National Conference of Christian and Jews.

In addition, as a reminder that brotherhood must be between nations as well as between different faiths, Wesley Foundation students are asked to invite some international student whom they know to be their guest for supper and meeting this Sunday night. Those who plan to bring a guest should notify the Wesley Foundation office, telephone 3-1861, before Sunday.

which set up the Burlington Foundation. They have long shown an interest, he said, in improving the facilities of the School of Textiles. The Burlington Foundation previously made donations totalling $100,000 to the North Carolina Textile Foundation.

Orchid Queen

In celebration of the 52nd year since the founding of their organization, the members of Rho Chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity have selected Mrs. Jim B. Rhodes of Raleigh, to reign as Orchid Queen at their annual Founder's Day banquet, Saturday, February 26th.

Mrs. Rhodes was selected by members of the local chapter in appreciation of the interest which she has shown in the development and growth of the fraternity.

The banquet will take place at 7:30, Saturday evening, in the Gold Room of Teel's Supper Club. Dean Malcolm E. Campbell and "Floopy" Dunlap, both of the Textile School, will be guest speakers for the evening.

FOR SALE: Ohlsson "23" Engine, complete with metal fuel tank, ignition system, and log book with actual time recorded. Call 2-2720.

Clubs Hold Meetings

A short, but important, business meeting will be held by the State College Chess club, Friday, March 4, at 7:00 p.m. The club president urges all members to attend.

The second meeting of Xi Sigma Pi, honorary forestry fraternity was held Thursday night, February 19, in Ricks hall. New officers were elected for the term beginning in September. Those men selected for officers were Jay Safley, forester; Henry Dellinger, associate forester; John Barber, secretary fiscal-agent; and Horace Green, ranger.

Luncheon Honors Mumford

Prof. Lewis Mumford, noted author, architect, and visiting lecturer in the School of Design, was honored Thursday, Feb. 24, at a special luncheon given by the State College English Department in the college cafeteria at 12:30.

Dr. Mumford, whose book "Technics and Civilization," is a freshman text in the department of social studies, spoke informally on the place of English in the humanities program. Approximately 25 persons attended the luncheon, according to Dr. Lodwick Hartley, head of the English department.

How Modern can "Jazz" get?

Listen to Skitch Henderson's latest waxing of "CRAZY RHYTHM"—a Capitol Recording... and you'll know the answer!

One of the hottest of the oldies, "Crazy Rhythm", comes back with a sock, the way Skitch and his band revive it! Skitch Henderson is great at putting a smooth-modern touch on an old favorite. And when it comes to cigarettes, Skitch has another long-time favorite—Camels! Here's how Skitch plays it: "Camels are mild and full flavored. I've smoked Camels for years."

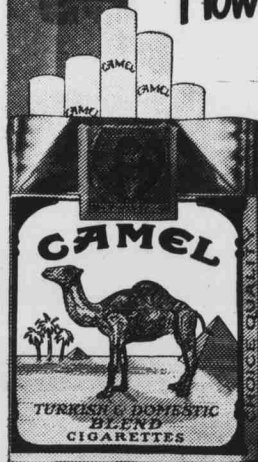

How Mild can a cigarette be?

SMOKE CAMELS FOR 30 DAYS
—and you'll know!

In a recent coast-to-coast test of hundreds of men and women who smoked only Camels for 30 days—an average of one to two packs a day—noted throat specialists, after making weekly examinations, reported

Language Fraternity To Meet Wednesday

The Alpha Chapter of Sigma Pi Alpha, National Honorary Language Fraternity, will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening, March 2, at 7:30 in the faculty club room of the College YMCA. At that time plans will be discussed for the delegation to the National Congress and reservations will be made for the banquet and dance, for members and guests.

The National Congress will be held in Raleigh this year with the Pi chapter at Saint Mary's as host chapter. With the expansion program now being carried out, there will be much to discuss at this annual congress. One of the expected activities will be a mass initiation of all new members in this area. It is believed that this will be the largest initiation in the history of the organization.

This spring will mark the 23rd anniversary of the national organization, which has as its objective "to stimulate an interest in and to acquire a more intimate knowledge of the geography, people, language, life, customs, history, industries, and culture of foreign countries and to make a contribution towards bringing about a better understanding between these countries and ours by having a better knowledge of them." Membership requires a high scholastic average in languages and above average grades in other college courses.

During the present school year, the Alpha chapter at State College has had very interesting and informative talks by G. D. Singh of India, who spoke of his native country, and Dean Z. P. Metcalf, who told of his experiences and impressions during his trip to European countries last summer. The local chapter was also guest of the Meredith chapter at a joint meeting and Christmas party.

All members are urged to attend the March 2nd meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Symphony Gives Sunday Concert

BY FRANK JARVIS

At 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, 20 Feb. in Pullen Hall, the State College Little Symphony gave one of its finest concerts of the year. The audience voiced its deep appreciation by its enthusiastic applause after each number. Many of the listeners commented that the concert was the best that the Little Symphony had ever given on the State campus.

The program consisted of the following well known classic numbers:

Overture to "Barber of Seville"—Gioachino Rossini; Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2 (opus 269)—Carl Friedemann; Emperor Waltzes (opus 437)—Johann Strauss, Jr.; Herod

Pictured above are the young ladies who will sponsor the Midwinter Dances presented by the Interfraternity Council at N. C. State College this weekend. Jimmy Dorsey and his Orchestra will provide music for the dance set. The first dance will begin at 9 o'clock Friday night in Frank Thompson Gymnasium. There will be a concert in Pullen Hall from 3 until 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the formal dance from 9 until 12 Saturday night in Frank Thompson Gym will bring Midwinter's weekend to a close.

Much Practice

The near perfect renditions indicated long hours of practice and precise directing. This concert once again emphasized the fact that all music lovers miss a wonderful treat when they do not attend any concert given by any State College musical organization. Two other concerts in the near future shall present an opportunity to all to hear some inspiring music. On Feb. 27—4:00 p.m., the State College Concert Band shall present its winter concert. The Sunday following that, March 6—3:00 p.m., the State College Glee Club shall present its winter concert.

Plans Announced For 'Poor Man's Midwinters'

By HARDY WESSELL

The four thousand State College students who won't be able to attend the IFC Mid-Winter dances need not weep and moan tomorrow night, thanks to Brotherhood Week. A not as elaborate but equally spirited time may be had at the State School for the Blind Gym when Charlie Pugh and his Skunk Creek boys get together with John (Abner) Brendle doing the calling for the climax of a week's adventure in Brotherhood.

The Protestant Religious Council in conjunction with the Hillel Club and Aquinas Club are sponsoring the old fashion shin-dig, with extras, that you can't afford to miss. In addition to the Pugh Boys and Brendle, the program includes that famous quartet from the Stadium, Mac Katzin's famous group of Palestinian Folk dancers, and that international figure, Sergio Zuniga, who will pick and sing his way into your hearts by way of a few Latin American ditties that you won't soon forget. As a climax to the program, the Dramatics Class of Needham Broughton High School will present a skit emphasizing the need for living Brotherhood.

Brotherhood Week is sponsored throughout the nation by the National Conference of Christians and Jews and is time to coincide with Washington's Birthday.

Its Honorary Chairman, President Harry S. Truman, had this to say, "Brotherhood... is the source of the unity within our nation which will make us powerful in example and strong in moral purpose so that we may give to our world the leadership worthy of our heritage... I urge a personal rededication to the principles of equality and justice which have made our country great and I hope that all institutions of education, religion... will engage in community activity to make brotherhood a living success."

"Brotherhood is giving to others the rights and respects that we want for ourselves. It is a personal thing. It is a matter of relationship between people. It involves our attitudes, what we feel and think about others." Through the combined activities of the religious organizations of the campus, these principles are being lived.

The dance committee for "Poor Man's Midwinters" is composed of representatives of the various religious groups. Regis Lesko and Daniel Santucci represent the Aquinas Club; Mac and Leonard Katzin represent the Hillel while Charlie Pugh, Jim Koch and Hardy Wessell represent the Protestant Religious Council, an organization made up of all of the Protestant denominational groups.

The folk dance is the appropriate ending to the week's activities. It will be held at the State School for the Blind Gymnasium, opposite Pullen Park at 8 P.M., Saturday night, February 26. Tickets may be bought at the YMCA office, the price of admission being 50 cents couple or stag. All proceeds will go to the World Student Service Fund.

Richard Dill Speaks To A.S.H. & V.E. Meeting

Richard S. Dill, Chief of the Heating and Air Conditioning Section, National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., returned to his alma mater as an honored guest and speaker when he addressed the State College Student Branch of the A.S.H. & V.E. on Tuesday, February 8.

Mr. Dill spoke on "The Control of Condensation in Buildings." This was a subject of vital interest to both architectural and engineering students. From a wealth of personal experience and research, the speaker outlined the many factors that lead to condensation with its attendant troubles and dangers.

This problem is becoming more acute as the building public and home owners are using more insulation due to the high cost of fuel. Mr. Dill offered ventilation and the proper use of vapor barriers as the two most promising means for controlling condensation.

In an extension of his remarks on insulation, Mr. Dill compared the relative merits of the various types of insulation commonly available to the home owner. This section of his address was profusely illustrated with slides which were developed by the Bureau of Standards.

Mr. Dill supplemented his prepared address by answering questions from the floor. During this period Mr. Dill outlined the work being done on solar heating.

Symphony Concert

The State College 38-piece Little Symphony Orchestra, Christian Kutschinski conducting, presented a concert in Pullen Hall Sunday afternoon. The program included the Overture to "The Barber of Seville" (Rossini), Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2, (Friedmann), The "Emperor Waltzes" (Johann Strauss), Herod Overture (Henry Hadley) and "Aida" Selection (Verdi).

The band concert and the glee club concert previously announced for February 27 and March 6 respectively are postponed to a later date owing to unavoidable conflicting circumstances.

Dorm Doings

By GILBERT MAXWELL

This week's news is good news for the men in Tucker, what with the word that $1000 has been set aside for equipping their recreation room. The Dorm Club officers and floor representatives, elected only last week, are working on plans for installing the furniture and equipment the men want and for operating the room. Right from the first, the men in Tucker have shown a determination to complete their recreation room. Their spirit and interest is commendable, and they are to be congratulated upon the realization of their goal. Their work and subsequent success should serve as a constant reminder that if we want something badly enough and will work for it, we can succeed.

Incidentally, those officers out in Tucker are Bob Brown, president; William Dalrymple, vice president; and Fuller Motsinger, secretary-treasurer. The vote was light, but competition in the election was keen, with the vice presidency decided by one vote.

More Officers and Elections

Not to be outdone by the freshman dorms, the fellows on the north side of the tracks are getting busy with their elections. Watauga has announced its slate of officers as David Lane, president; David Spainhour, vice president; and Neal Thompson, secretary-treasurer. Floor representatives are Bill Morris, Dick Cashwell, and Scott Eubanks. Lane and Eubanks will represent Watauga on the Inter-dormitory Council.

Election machinery is also on the move in Welch, where Robert Thrower and Robert Troutman will square off for the presidency next week. This columnist confidently predicts a smashing victory for Robert.

Want Advisors for '49-'50

The Student Housing office has begun selection of a group of students to act as Freshman Advisors in dorms beginning next fall. They have a long list of applicants but prefer to have juniors or seniors who have had some training in public relations. There are several courses of this type offered here—in the Psychology, Economics and Sociology departments, and elsewhere on the campus. Any junior or senior who has had such a course or who is planning to take one this spring and would like to work with freshmen next year should contact the Student Housing office and get his name put on the list.

Odds 'n' Ends

One new development that has aroused a lot of interest in the dorms is the Dormitory Bowling League. There are a large number of participants and competition for top spots in the league is spirited. First Welch and first Becton stand atop the division that knocks 'em over on Wednesdays with three wins and no losses apiece. No less than eleven men are bowling better than a hundred per.

We happened to be out at the freshman dorms Tuesday night and those lights in the underpass surely looked good. Now the most pressing need is for lights along the street from the Gym to the dorms out there. It gets pretty dark along there and a fellow walking over after an evening session at the library might stumble and fall with practically no effort at all of his own. There was a petition circulated about such lights, but nothing ever came of it.

It has been brought to our attention that Ray Maxwell and Oscar Davis has a very charming guest in their Turlington room. How about it, Oscar and Ray?

It's too bad that Owen had to call off their Valentine party. The affair was canceled after the Technician went to press because of a mix-up in who had a prior claim on the armory. It was disappointing to the Owen crew, who had rigged a big program, but they'll be right back planning another shindig before long.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

As you no doubt recall, last year we opened what is now known as the Grill Room, and in January we featured a low-cost spaghetti dish for those students who were unable to enjoy the Grill Room because of the cost of the steak and chicken dishes.

As of last week we have instituted another change in the Grill Room, and in addition to featuring the steak, chicken, and spaghetti dinners as before, we also have four-course dinners featuring sea foods, grilled chops, and roast prime ribs of beef. This variety, we feel, will be an added attraction and should enable students to bring their parents, or other friends who might be visiting them, to the Grill Room with the assurance that they would have a fine choice of foods.

We would welcome at all times suggestions and constructive criticism regarding the Grill Room or the cafeteria service which would enable us to operate so as to benefit more students.

Dear Editor:

Mr. J. S. Doolittle, head of the Mechanical Engineering Thermodynamics Department is to be congratulated upon the success of his new book, Engineering Thermodynamics with A. H. Zerban co-author. This book presents, in a clear and complete manner, the basic fundamentals of the subject as applied to mechanical engineering.

It is lamentable that the students taking this course last year did not have the benefit of this enlightening book in struggling through thermo because it seems as though the quizzes given last year might easily have been lifted out of this very book. The closely supervised instructors gave exams on the basic fundamentals which are stresses in the present text but which were practically neglected in the homework and in the text used last year which stresses machines and devices. The discrepancy between the material covered on test days and the material covered the rest of the term was painfully obvious to everyone taking thermo last year.

The unfortunate students were even more pained and discouraged by the grades seen at the end of the terms. Try as they might, it seemed that one third of each class was predestined to failure.

The consistency of the failure rate from teacher to teacher and class to class was truly a thing of wonder. The failure rate in thermo is down considerably this year but is still remarkably uniform from one class to the other.

That the new book is an outstanding success can be judged by the sharp decrease in the number of failing grades in thermo this year. Now, what part of the decrease is due to the book and what part is due to a change of the unjustifiable failure rate apparently set by the department head last year, it is not within my providence to say, but the decrease in the deplorable rate of failures among junior engineering students is a welcomed change and, whichever may be the cause, the engineering students have one man to thank for it above anyone else — Jesse Seymour Doolittle.

Dear Editor:

Opening a recent issue of the Technician, I turned immediately to the "Open Forum" hoping to find a letter of rebuttal to Ted Williamson's "With the Greeks" column of the February 11th issue. However, it seems that the numerous feelings of disgust for the column that I have heard were only verbal. I find it hard to allow such a gross misinterpretation of facts to go unanswered.

Progressive ideas are too easily branded "undemocratic" and "radical" during these unstable times. The fact that a situation has existed for years is no indication that it is perfect. We are constantly progressing, but we cannot go forward without instituting changes. Mr. Williamson would have us believe that there is no room for advancement in our fraternities. Does it not seem a little strange that in the shadow of Brotherhood Week, fraternities, the source of our leading citizens, should still be so backward as to discriminate because of race or religion? I sincerely believe that the drastic action taken by Amherst College was definitely necessary. It is the push needed to get fraternities out of their own private civilization and return them to a level equal to that of other college HONOR societies.

Mister Williamson has expressed his opinion with a healthy sprinkling of emotional terms not unknown to bigoted propagandists. He is suffering from a common twentieth century disease which is characterized by a complete mental relapse at the sight of the color RED.

MICHAEL J. SILVER

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to you in answer to Mr. Haas of the sports page. I would like to call it "An open letter in answer to An Open Letter to Basketball Referees, Hedrick and Williams."

I have never before read such a one-sided story by someone who needs the experience of writing. Mr.

Haas speaks for the State College student body stating that, "we don't have much respect for you fellows here at State." I seriously doubt that Mr. Hedricks or Mr. Williams will lose sleep over Mr. Haas's letter. Why not ask Gerry Gerard about those technical fouls called against him? I'm sure the coaches opinion would be of much greater value than those of this novice sports writer. I sincerely believe the fouls were committed and were deservedly called. I don't question Mr. Gerrard's knowledge of basketball, but I do question Mr. Haas's intelligence about it.

As for the paragraph about periodic exams I'd like to suggest that certain sports writers be invited also. Let's all see just how much better Mr. Haas would be than Mr. Hedrick and Mr. Williams.

Such terms as "stronger punishment than my verbal kick in the pants; forced to have to accept your refing in the future," and other restrictions are not popular in this country, Mr. Haas. I'd like to suggest you find a solution or do something to better this persecution by referees of basketball players, especially those so mistreated by Mr. Hedrick and Mr. Williams.

Textile Problems Will Be Topic of Forum On WPTF

BY HARVEY SCHEVIAK

Textile students and alumni who have made careers of the textile industry will discuss questions and problems of textile fields in a forum to be conducted Saturday afternoon, February 26, over radio station WPTF at 4 p.m.

The State College School of Textiles is sponsoring the forum in cooperation with the industry-wide Textile Information Service and WPTF. The forum will discuss matters concerning the textile student, the textile graduate, and what the textile industry expects of them and what it has to offer them.

Such questions as: Why are college graduates seeking to enroll in textile schools? What does the textile graduate expect upon graduation concerning employment? What does the industry expect of the graduate? How crowded is the textile field? These and many other problems of the student, and of textile management, will be openly discussed by the participants.

Moderator on the 30-minute forum will be Dean Malcolm E. Campbell of the textile school, and W. E. Debnam, radio commentator, will be master of ceremonies.

The textile industry will be represented by John F. Matheson, president of Mooresville Cotton Mills and a graduate of the textile school in 1927, and Robert Dalton, Jr., of Charlotte, now sales engineer of the Whiten Machine Works. Views of the more recent graduate in industry will be expressed by Dalton, who has been in the textile field only six years.

The textile student will be represented on the program by James G. Middleton, Wilmington, N. C., and Emmett Bringle, Covington, Tenn. A graduate of Yale University, Middleton is a part-time student instructor of yarn manufacturing at the school. Bringle, junior class president, was the winner of the scholarship offered by Hyde Park Mills of Covington. The forum script was prepared by textile student Robert Freeman, a graduate of City College of New York.

North Carolina and State College School of Textiles were chosen for the forum because textiles is the state's largest industry and because the textile school is the largest in the nation of its type. Of the 900 textile students to graduate this year, State College will provide nearly a third of that figure.

Chemical Fraternity Holds Banquet

On Friday evening, February 18, 1949 thirteen students and three members of the N. C. State College faculty were honored at the annual banquet of the Alpha Beta Chapter of Gamma Sigma Epsilon national chemical honorary fraternity. Members are selected on their outstanding ability in the field of chemistry and on their character and high scholastic standing.

Dr. W. J. Peterson, Head of the Department of Chemistry, Dr. E. M. Schoenborn, Jr., Head of the Department of Chemical Engineering; and Prof. H. A. Rutherford, Head of the Department of Textile Chemistry and Dyeing were awarded honorary membership in Gamma Sigma Epsilon. Other faculty members present were Dr. W. A. Reid and Prof. W. E. Jordan of the Department of Chemistry.

Dr. C. S. Black, Grand Keeper of the Cult of Gamma Sigma Epsilon and Head of the Department of Chemistry at Wake Forest College, spoke on the subject, "Why Study Chemistry?"

Vetville Has Contest To Sell Store Stock

"Stop the Music" and other radio giveaways have nothing on Vetville Mutual Grocery's "Sell the Stock" drive. The cooperative grocery, which launched its drive for new members February 19, offers the following prizes for the persons selling stock to the greatest number of people: a beautiful set of Reynolds lifetime aluminum ware and pressure cooker, first prize; a steam iron, second prize; an indispensable desk lamp, third prize; and a clothes hamper, fourth prize.

Prizes, according to Jim Reece, will be given on the number of new members procured rather than the number of shares sold. An increase in the volume of business conducted by the store means a greater saving to the residents of Vetville who trade there. Any person connected with State College may enter the contest.

The store, whose purpose is to save money for its members, handles fresh meats, vegetables, and eggs and most canned goods at prices from one to 20 cents cheaper per item than other commercial groceries.

Rules of the contest are as follows:

1. The contest will run for twenty-one days, beginning February 19, and ending March 12, 1949.

2. All cash returns from sale of stock must be submitted to the treasurer by 5 P. M. Saturday, March 12.

3. The record of stock sales will be posted in the store and the winners will be announced by March 14.

4. Judges of the contest will be three members of the Board of Directors, including the treasurer, and the judges' decision is final.

5. Anyone affiliated with North Carolina State College constitutes an eligible candidate for membership to the Vetville Mutual Grocery, Inc.

6. A candidate can obtain membership through the minimum purchase of one $15 share of stock.

7. A share of stock may be purchased by two methods: (a) Full payment of $15; or (b) Installment plan of $5 a month for three consecutive months. In this latter case membership is not completed until the full $15 is paid. However, the initial payment credits the contestant with obtaining a new membership.

8. Eligible contestants are all present shareholders and all new shareholders (providing their stock is purchased within ten days after opening date of contest).

9. All contestants will acquire certified receipts from the store treasurer. The new candidates will subsequently receive his stock from the treasurer upon submitting this receipt.

By HAAS

An article such as the one found in this column last week is like the rolling stone. It certainly gathered no moss, but it did garner quite a bit of comment, some favorable and some unfavorable. At least I know the stuff is being read. (I can't wait to get the letters that will ask why it is!)

Some few people were quite perturbed over my harsh treatment of the referees in the Duke-State game.

I concede one point to you. The article was one-sided, and that is the only concession I make. As far as the content of the column goes, it still remains as written. The only apology to Hedrick and Williams is that we didn't print their argument also.

The game was a fast and rough one to call. That is exactly the point I wanted to get across. In answer to a letter to the editor, there is nothing in the world a "novice sports writer" can do but howl about the injustices on the campus. But if enough howling is done, maybe the higher-ups will realize that something will have to be done to improve refereeing.

If a man cannot keep up with his job in industry, he is thrown out. Why not in officiating as well? There are good referees in the country; and, for a price, they can be brought here to keep up with the game as it is being played at State College now. It is true that the game is progressing more rapidly than expected, but that is only an argument in favor of top-rate officials.

The point has been brought to my attention that the officials that we have in this conference handle two jobs. They are forced by the low pay afforded them in the officiating capacity to hold other jobs to make enough money to live. The conference should have year-round officials, possibly in teams.

There is also the problem of students continually howling down the necks of the refs. It takes a good man to ignore the constant disagreement of the fans, but there have been lots of games at State that weren't interrupted by the howling of fans because of the decisions of the referees.

Along this line of thought, has anyone ever given credit to the long line of sports editors who have pleaded with students, through their columns, not to boo every decision made by the refs? Only the one time that a writer (novice, Mr. Nelson) tries to get across the idea that the fans might have a legitimate reason for their conduct at games does everyone take up the issue against him. Try to remember the times we have mentioned good refing and tried to stop booing, with no comment from anyone!

As for a solution to the problem: Scout around half as diligently for decent officials as you do for players, and the problem will solve itself. Work the officials in a team set-up so that each member of a pair will be familiar with the other's system of refereeing. PAY

ENOUGH MONEY TO KEEP GOOD MEN ON THE JOB.

The sports page doesn't carry a picture of Warren Cartier receiving the 30 & 3 award as the "Most Valuable Player" last Tuesday night at the Furman-N. C. State game because we went to press before the picture could be printed and engraved, but we want you to know, Swede, that we agree heartily with the team and 30 & 3 in their choice. Congratulations to a fine ball player and a great sport.

Make your plans for the big annual Red and White Football game to be played Saturday afternoon, March 5th. The game is sponsored by N. C. State's Monogram club, and the proceeds will go to a very worthy cause. It's a good way to get a preview of the squad and contribute to a worthwhile organization.

Bowling is hitting the limelight at State College since Les Mincey organized the State College league. A team from State journeyed to Durham last Friday night and whipped a Duke Duck Pin club two out of three games. Bill Zachary was high with 308. Other members of the team are: Charles Hicks, Charles Lambert, Charles Edwards, Jack Key, and John Cowan. In a return match at Man-Mur alleys last Tuesday night, the same club won again over the Dukes, 1443-1400. Zachary again paced the locals with a 302 mark.

Hardwood Chatter

BY PETTINELLI

A few of us transplanted New Yorkers were pulling out of Washington, D. C., on the "Palmlander" headed for Raleigh last September and between salamis on rye, State's basketball team found its way into the fragrant conversation. A tall, ordinary looking guy with a crew haircut took his last munch and went into the next car to brush his teeth.

As he left we turned to Eddie Bartels and asked, "Well, Ed, what are the chances of Joe seeing the light of varsity action next season with all those guards Ev Case has hanging around the Stadium Dorm?"

Eddie peeled a bit of skin from his salami and between chews he said, "A lot of people don't know it yet, but my boy Joe Harand will be knocking mucho Southern Conference ball-players around under the boards before the end of the next season."

At that time it sounded like a lot of extra praise for a buddy, but the rugged 6' 3" guard from Tenaflie (no relation to "Flit") has proven that it wasn't.

If you don't believe it, just recall the recent State-Duke encounter and think about the guy who enabled State to maintain possession of the ball throughout the second half by snaring the ball from Dukes with everything but his left wisdom tooth.

Mr. Collins, the usually terrific pivot man for Duke who hauls them from the boards with the greatest of ease, was presented with a fatiguing evening's work by "Joltin' Joe" Harand.

Everyone and his little brother knows that Joe has no great set-shot, and his ballhandling is not spectacular, but Joe can work in Coach Case's system with a steady, straight-type pass that is not often broken up. His main asset is a fighting "mine is not to reason why, mine is but to do or die" spirit.

Joe is a textile student with a fine scholastic record. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and he thinks that S.A.G.E. will be the outfit to watch in the future.

Board Events To Be Run Tomorrow At Hill

BY JOE HANCOCK

Track squads throughout the Southern Conference will gather in Chapel Hill tomorrow for the 14th Annual Southern Conference Indoor Games—an event that hasn't been held since 1942.

This year's event promises to be an exciting one, with records in all four divisions, conference, non-conference, freshman, and scholastic in jeopardy. The Southern Conference Indoor marks which go on the line Saturday are held by athletes from various institutions, with Glenn Corpening of Carolina holding two of them and a tie for another. Corpening went on his record breaking spree in 1940, hanging up new marks in the 70 yard high hurdles and the high jump and trying the 70 yard low hurdle mark. No other athlete holds more than one record.

In last year's Southern Conference Invitational Games, which were substituted for the regular games during the war, four records were smashed. Roger Neighborgall, Duke's middle distance star, smashed the old marks in both the 440 and the 880. Jim Moody of Carolina shattered the record in the high jump and Navy's Jim Oberholtzer bested the record in the mile run.

The feature attractions in this year's meet will be Carolina's freshman star Bill Albans and the mile relay squad from the University of Maryland. Albans participated in the Olympics this past summer, and reports from Chapel Hill indicate that he may steal the show Saturday. In a bid for individual team honors, Maryland is banking a lot of its hope on its crack mile relay squad led by anchor man Ed Matthews. The Old Liners just recently captured first place in the mile relay in the indoor meet held in New York.

In addition to being anchor man on the relay team, Matthews is a participant in the 440 and the 880. Last year he was nosed out by Neighborgall in both of these events, and he is expected to offer the Duke speed merchant stiff competition again this year.

State's harriers were able to garner but one point—a fourth in the shot by Jim Byler—in last year's contest. Other outstanding contestants from State who are expected back are George Pickett in the high jump, Dave Dubow and John Hunter in the mile, Goodman in the hurdles, and Dusty Dostanko in the shot.

The freshmen harriers will be led by two Raleigh boys, Tyler Wadsworth and Bob Leonard.

you the shirt off his back even if he isn't wearing a "T-shirt."

Unfortunately, Joe is shy and sometimes he doesn't get his due. If he continues to play ball like he has been playing he should get credit and a little more than credit from various and sundry people around this campus. Right, Eddie?

W. & L. And LaSalle Meets End Season

BY JACK BOWERS

The Wolfpack will close its conference cage season tonight in Norfolk against the Washington and Lee Generals.

The Pack, with a conference record of 13 wins and a loss is assured of first place seeding in the Southern Conference Tournament to be played next week in Durham. The Generals are not expected to give Coach Case's charges any trouble, and they are completely out of the running for a spot in the tourney.

Coach Case will probably elect to start flashy Sam Ranzino and Dick Dickey at forwards, Paul Horvath at the pivot spot, and rebound ace Joe Harand and Bob Garrison, the "Fort Wayne Fireball" at the guard posts.

Move On To Philly Saturday
After a night's warmup drills against the Generals, the Pack will move into Philadelphia for an all-important meeting with LaSalle University. A victory over LaSalle would help State's chances of entering one of the New York post season tournaments.

LaSalle, with a season's record of 18 wins and four defeats, will be the big test for the Pack. A win over the Catholic school and a tournament win in the conference meeting would boost State into a highly possible spot as the Southern district participant in the NCAA, since Kentucky, the number one club in the district, is sure to head for the same tournament that St. Louis hits.

State's hopes for a win over LaSalle rest on the recovery of guard Vic Bubas. Vic will probably lay out of the Washington and Lee game tonight so that he will be in shape for the LaSalle encounter.

Correction

The TECHNICIAN'S Sports department would like to correct an obvious error made in last week's edition. We stated that Dave Baxter, the new freshman baseball coach is an ex-NCS star on the diamond. Dave never played ball at State.

Also, Baxter served in the U. S. Navy rather than the Army. The '42 season, when we had him playing at NCS, he was with the Rocky Mount club.

Sorry to get so mixed up on the info, coach, we'll keep tabs on you from now on, tho, and get the right stuff next time!

Pack Downs Furman 76-45, In Finale

BY CHARLIE LEGRAND

Going on a scoring rampage for the third straight game, the State College Wolfpack defeated a scrappy Furman team, 76-45 Tuesday night in Memorial Auditorium.

This game, which was State's last home contest of the season, left the Pack with a conference record of 13 wins and one loss.

Coach Case started Dickey and Ranzino at forwards, Horvath at center and Garrison and Harand at guards. Led by Ranzino, who hit on 10 of 22 shots from the floor for 20 points, and Cartier and Horvath with 13 and 10 respectively, the Wolfpack jumped to an early lead which it never relinquished.

After a blazing opening which netted the Staters a 14-2 lead after 5 minutes of play, Furman fought back and made a ball game of it near the end of the first half. However, the Hurricanes wilted in the second half and the Pack raced to their 18th consecutive Southern Conference victory in Raleigh.

State connected on 26 of 72 tries from the floor for an average of 36 per cent which was 10 per cent better than the efforts of the Furman club.

Vic Bubas, State's star sophomore guard, was injured mid-way the second period and had to be carried from the floor. Vic is expected to be ready for the next game with Washington & Lee tonight in Norfolk.

Joe Harand, who has been playing a great game at one of the guard posts recently, continued his fine work under the backboards where State was weak during many mid-season games.

This added strength has been a factor in the Wolfpack's strong finish.

Cartier, who was honored as the most valuable player on the team by a player selection, turned in a fine performance while collecting his 13 points.

Varsity and Frosh Swimmers At Duke

Coach Willis Casey's varsity swimming crew will journey to Durham next Tuesday to go against the Blue Devils of Duke University in the last contest of the season.

Bill Kelly's freshman team will also take part in the meet, tangling with the Blue Imp swimmers in a preliminary meet. The frosh have met and defeated the Duke freshman team once this year.

The records so far this season show that the Wolfpack varsity boasts wins in the Southern Conference over Virginia Tech, Wil-

Swimmers Sink Emory University

Winning first place in every event Saturday, the State College swimming team defeated an Emory University squad 47-19 in Frank Thompson pool.

Swim star Bill Kelly splashed home in the record breaking time of 23.3 seconds to smash the pool record for the 50 yard freestyle by six tenths of a second. Kelly also swam anchor on the winning freestyle relay team composed of Morris, Mandel, Stafford, and Kelly.

Two surprise wins came in the 150 yard backstroke where Lojko defeated Bill Van Pelt in the good time of 1:41.1, and the 200 yard breast stroke which Pete Cloud won in 2:53.4 over Dippy and Beal of the Georgia team.

Other first places were won by Wells Denyes in the 220 yard free style, Fred Stafford in the 100 free and Dick Shober in the 440 free.

Summaries:

300-lb. medley relay: 1—State, Mandel, Colud, Lojko. Time: 3:19. 220 freestyle: 1—Denyes, (S), 2—Bickey Morris, (S); 3—Anderson, (Emory). 2:28.

50 freestyle: 1—Bill Kelly, (S); 2—Hanner, (Emory); 3—Shober, (S); 23.3 (New pool record. Old record of 23.9 set by State's Bill Ward in 1948).

100 freestyle: 1—Fred Stafford, (S); 2—Pennington, (Emory); 3—Frank Mandel, (S): 56.7.

150 backstroke: 1—Matt Lojko, (S); 2—Van Pelt, (Emory); 3—Cunningham, (Emory). 1:44.1.

200 breaststroke: 1—Pete Cloud, (S); 2—Dippy, (Emory); 3—Beal, (Emory). 2:53.4.

440 freestyle: 1—Dick Shober, (S); 2—Hanner, (Emory); 3—Thompson, (Emory). 6:09.5.

400 freestyle relay: 1—State, (Morris, Mandel, Stafford, Kelly) 3:54.8.

liam & Mary, and VMI, while outside the conference, the Pack swimmers have beaten Virginia and Emory University.

State's tankmen have suffered two defeats at the hands of LaSalle and Georgia Tech. Coach Kelly's Wolflets hold a perfect mark this season over five tank outfits, with wins over UNC twice, Duke, Augusta Military and Staunton Military.

Against the Blue Devils, Coach Casey will again call on Bill Kelly to show the way. Kelly will probably work in three of the races, the 50 and 100 yard free style and also as anchor man in the 400 yard free relay.

Diving will be another strong event for the splashers of the Red and White. Harry Cramer and Snookie Nunis have not been defeated in the board event all season.

Bowling Standings

The State College bowling league which is being held at the Man-Mur alleys has produced some of the closest games ever seen by the alley manager, Les Mincey. When Les turned in the scores for the past week's rolling to the sports desk of The Technician, he pointed out the four game spread between the 11 teams trying to oust Sigma Chi from first place in the Fraternity league.

The Wednesday Dormitory League offers another Riply-like oddity. There are two teams tied for every place in the league but last. Ten teams spread out over first to fifth place in the 11 team league.

Two clubs are knotted up in first place in the Thursday Dorm rolling, and three kegler klubs are toppling 'em evenly for second spot.

"Cow College" Drops Tar Heels Again

BY JOHN LAMPE

Playing before a none-to-happy audience of Carolina students in Woolen Gym, last Saturday night, the Wolfpack of State College trounced the Tar Heels for the second time this season 79-39. The win was the 12th in the Southern Conference campaign against a lone loss, which was to the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest.

All-American Dick Dickey was in the lime-light all evening against the Tar Heels, getting 9 points in the first half and adding 10 more in the final period for a total of 19 points. Besides his large contribution to the point total, Dick also gathered in a good number of the rebounds and played an excellent defensive game.

Lanky Joe Harand turned in a very creditable performance in the clash with the Carolina team. Teaming with Vic Bubas from the start, he made things hot for the Tar Heels under the backboards, hauling in the majority of the rebounds.

The defensive ability of the Red and White was amazing, holding the Tar Heels to only three close-in baskets, two of which came in the closing minutes of the ball game. Most of the Carolina scoring was done on long set shots, with both Thorne and Nymicz hitting for fine percentage, considering the distance.

The Wolfpack started the game with a bang, Horvath tipped the ball to Ranzino on the jump and Sam passed to Dickey who pumped in a one-hander to give the pack a quick lead. The margin was lengthened in short order with free throws by Vic Bubas and Paul Horvath; Horvath, a few seconds later added another basket to give the rampaging Wolfpack an initiative which they never lost. The half-time score was State 43, Carolina 24.

The second half opened with State continuing to pump the ball through the hoop while holding their opponents to three baskets for the first 9 minutes of the half.

In the free throw department, Coach Case's team held an excellent mark, hitting for 19 out of 25 for 76 percent. The best the Carolina varsity could do was 9 for 21 for a 43 percentage.

State Wrestles VPI, Naval Apprentice

The Wolfpack bone-crushers continued their torrid pace last week in two intersectional meets. First they slaughtered Naval Apprentice School 31-2 in Newport News, Va. on Saturday, Feb. 19. Without much chance for respite they continued their winning ways on Monday, defeating Virginia Polytechnic Institute 20-5.

Captain Steward Oliver of Virginia Tech won his seventh consecutive match when he outpointed R. Troxler in the 175-pound division.

Charlie Musser, States great heavyweight was held to a draw by B. Baucom of Tech.

Tonight State faces Washington & Lee in Norfolk Va. This will be a preliminary to the State vs. Washington & Lee basketball game.

Mural Memos

The inevitable happened in Intramurals. Instead of Basketball being the attraction for the week's hostilities, Wrestling took over the limelight. This position was more than adequately filled according to all reports. Frank Pettinelli, my co-worker on this sparkling literary manuscript, was heard saying "It wasn't hard to take." That about sums up the opinion of all the spectators. The bouts were fast and furious throughout. No quarter was given by anyone (except by the smart-money in the pipe-lined balcony). Yours truly will announce all the final winners in the next issue of the Technician (undergraduate pronunciation). Finals in Wrestling will take place on March 1, at 8 o'clock. Everyone should look forward to attending these Matches. You could never find an hours entertainment that you would enjoy more.

Basketball

Basketball stuck its round-leather head up on the side beam of the limelight. Some crucial games were played in the fraternity league. Geist & Co. combined their stocks (Preferred & Common) and over-capitalized Sigma Pi by the percent of 17 to 16. Fleming's ten points for S.P.E. were too much for K.A.—so the conclusion saw S.P.E. trim K.A. 23 to 14. Goodman, P.E.T., 9 and Lovein, P.K.A. 10 put on a demonstration of shooting for the fans. P.K.A. was shooting just a little more precision-like as the score indicates. P.K.A. 24 to P.E.T. 19. A.G.R. raked Sigma Chi with a 20 to 14 planting.

The Dormitories also bounced the ball silly for a few games last week. 1st Becton trounced Y.M.C.A. by the tune of 19 to 15. H. Bronson (that handsome forward) of the Off-Campus five put on a brilliant display of shooting, sinking 9 field goals and 1 foul shot for 19 big points. This helped his team maul 2nd Syme 46 to 16. Vetville toyed with B. Owen for a count of 27 to 7.

Second Becton dumped Gold to a quick defeat 26 to 8. Other scores were as follows:

1st Becton over Watauga, 14-6; 3rd Alexander over 2nd Owen, 18-17; 2nd Turlington over 1st Turlington, 30-14; 1st Syme over Trailwood, 27-24; 2nd Becton over 2nd Tucker, 15-12; Vetville over 3rd Syme, 23-12; B. Syme over Welch, 23-18; 2nd Turlington over 1st Owen, 39-9.

The winners in the Dormitory Table-Tennis tournament will be announced next week.

The moment has arrived when I must leave (you-all). Don't forget to check up on the Wrestling-Finals next Tuesday at 8 p.m. (after all its only a dime). Until then, keep your spirits up with Intramurals gang only a few more weeks to go before we get a furlough.

Pack Returns To Frank Thompson Gym

The Augusta Military Academy five, decided it would be more convenient to be mauled by the score of 86-24 in Frank Thompson Gym by the State frosh at 4 p.m. than to wait until 6:15 and go to the Auditorium.

The mutilation, originally scheduled as the prelim to the Furman-State contest, was the last time the frosh squad performed this season.

In the absence of Butter Anderson, Head Coach Case sent every one of State's freshmen into the game. The starting five of Terrill, Jacknowski, Holt, Stoll, and Cook were just too much for the Kadets, and Wiggins, Anderson, Lumley, and Butts took over the bloody battle for the frosh.
