Merit Rating Sheets Go To Dept. Heads

BY BILL HAAS

The tremendous task of collecting and tabulating nearly 30,000 Merit Rating sheets, covering 394 faculty members, is virtually completed.

Tabulation of ratings for instructors in the Chemistry, English, Mathematics, and Physics departments has been finished, and compilation of rating material for the remainder of the school's departments will be completed in two weeks, according to Statistics Department officials.

Information on the four departments listed above was turned over to Chancellor Harrelson this week, it was announced at the Tuesday meeting of the Campus Government Council.

The tabulations are the end result of a Faculty Rating system formed and activated by the State College Campus Government. The ratings were made by State students during the first weeks of the Winter Term.

The question asked most concerning the recent rating of professors and instructors has finally been answered!

Merit Rating data will be used advantageously!

The Chancellor has stated that he intends to examine the reports as they come in, and then he will turn the rating data over to the school deans and departments heads for further perusal and consultation.

Interviews will be conducted by the department heads for the prime purpose of reviewing the individual rating of each faculty member.

To insure the effectiveness of the rating system, Chancellor Harrelson stated that he intends to require periodic reports from deans and department heads on the manner in which the material from the rating is being used.

Although results of the teacher rating have not been disclosed in every department, several cases have arisen in which the Chancellor felt that the material was needed at present in several departments, and information has been furnished.

All material is tabulated on IBM cards, and it will be a very simple matter to refer to the cards for any necessary data in the future.

Information now on hand reveals that the students were, for the most part, very serious in their grading of the professors.

Faculty Merit Rating is a new and very important part of State College, and can prove to be one of the major tasks each student is asked to perform every year.

At present, the Campus Government plans to continue the rating at least once a year, with the date of rating probably rotating each year between the three terms.

Dr. Mr. Haas:

I welcome this opportunity through the columns of the TECHNICIAN to congratulate the students of State College who are receiving their degrees at this commencement.

As an alumnus of State, Class of '17, I wish the members of the Class of '49 every success as they go out into the world from this campus.

Sincerely,

W. KERR SCOTT.

Tomorrow Is Last Day To Pick Up Yearbook

Tomorrow is the last day that you may get your 1949 Agromeck. The office in the Publications Building will be open this afternoon from 2 to 5 and tomorrow from 10 to 12. This is absolutely the last chance to get the yearbook.

Seniors Notice!

There is an editorial on page four that should be read by every graduating senior on the State College campus. In effect, you are now the alumni of N. C. State College. You were here too early to benefit from the plan that Fred Kendall is suggesting, but you can help the students who will remain by supporting the Alumni Association.

Freshman Queen

Queens may come, and queens may go, but it would be nice if this little queen were here to stay! Frances McLeod, "Miss Rex Hospital" of 1949 was chosen by the Order of 30 & 3 to reign at the King for a Day ceremonies with Ted Potts tomorrow night in Frank Thompson gym. Miss McLeod is a Raleigh resident and a student nurse at Rex Hospital.

State Military Society Brings UNC Into Group

It was with much delight that the N. C. State company of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, installed a new company at the University of North Carolina last week. Instrumental in initiating this new company was Clyde Moore, Captain of the State College chapter, along with Scott Stidham, Gene Tatem, Jack Alston, Sam Cooper, and Eddie Palmgren. The honor of membership was bestowed upon 10 of the leading Air ROTC cadets at Carolina, along with Colonel Switzer, PMS&T at Chapel Hill, who was chosen to associate membership.

Above is the schedule of campus meetings by days for a typical month of the school year. This schedule is submitted to the Student Body by the Council of Campus Government of this year for their observation and suggestions as to improvement. This is not a perfect schedule, but it can be made perfect if every organization will see to it that their club is included and adheres to it beginning with next year. The secret to the success of this plan is the habits that it will form and everyone will always know when their particular society is to meet well in advance. The Campus Government next year will set into practice the improved schedule with the hope that it will eliminate most of the congestion now prevalent.

Adams To Fill Post Vacated By Vaughan

Appointment of William Elton Adams, Sr., as director of instruction for the School of Engineering at N. C. State College, was announced today by Dean J. H. Lampe.

Adams, now assistant professor of mechanical engineering, will assume his new duties on July 1. He will succeed Prof. L. L. Vaughan, who will retire from the position on June 30 after 41 years of service on the institution's faculty.

Dean Lampe stated that Adams' appointment to the post has been approved by Chancellor J. W. Harrelson, a faculty committee, and the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

Adams came to State College on February 1, 1939, as instructor of engineering drawing and descriptive geometry. He has served as assistant professor of mechanical engineering since June, 1941.

Campus Government Lists Accomplishments

Merit Rating Hailed As Big Achievement

BY OSCAR WILLIAMS

The Campus Government finishes the year with seven major accomplishments that directly benefit students at State College. The TECHNICIAN prints the following report to answer the question, "What does the Campus Government do?"—The Editor.

The 1948-49 Campus Government Council has concluded its final session. When the Council adjourned last week, it left behind a year of progress during its term of office.

Merit Rating

Students had a chance last winter to grade their instructors in the first Teacher Merit Rating at State. The Councils of 1947-48 and 1948-49 made the preparations and carried out the program, which was the first one in a major North Carolina college.

Book Exchange

Under the auspices of the Campus Government, Alpha Zeta opened a student book exchange. It is a non-profit enterprise which enables students to buy and sell books at face value.

Dorm Organization

The active dormitory clubs and the Interdormitory Council grew out of an investigation and a program of the Campus Government. The dorm parties and athletic organization are a direct result of the interest of the Council and the head of student housing to improve student life.

Transportation

The Campus Government took up the battle to get student transportation to the Carolina and Wake Forest games when it became apparent that no one else was going to assume the responsibility. Under Council and YMCA direction buses went to Chapel Hill, and a special train ran to Wake Forest.

G U S C

State College men played an influential role in setting up the Greater University Student Council. State students stand to gain much from this organization if their representatives maintain their active participation. Record appropriations are due in part to student work, and the GUSC has set up an outline of qualifications for a new University president.

National Student Association

The Campus Government voted after a long, careful consideration to affiliate State College with the National Student Association. NSA membership gives State students access to inexpensive tours abroad and paves the way for a purchase card system next year. Under this arrangement students buy from local merchants at a 10-25 per cent discount.

Freshman Week

Freshman orientation last September, the most comprehensive freshman week so far, was planned by the 1947-48 Council. This year the Campus Government has laid plans to give incoming freshmen even better indoctrination in the fall.

Not Enough Space

The above items are not a complete report at all. The council is credited, among other things, with a vigorous fight against the tuition increase, diplomas to commemorate the service of graduates' wives, and lending a hand to build the West Haven social room.

President Fred A. Kendall and the men working with him contributed substantial time and effort in carrying out their program.

Mu Beta Psi Holds Gala Annual Affair

The State College Chapter of Mu Beta Psi, honorary music fraternity held its annual banquet at Club Bon Air Tuesday night, honoring new members chosen from students who have served two or more years in the Band, Orchestra or Glee Club. Tommy Wood of Gastonia, President for the coming year, served as toastmaster.

Honorary memberships were bestowed on William Sumner and Wallace Grieves. Honor guests were Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Fountain, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. L. B. Rogers, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, Dr. Lillian Parker Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. John Dughi, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bourne, Tommy Matthews, Wallace Grieves, William Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schiller, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kutschinski.

The blue banquet hall was decorated with red and white streamers, which set the color scheme. Blue and white tapers were placed at intervals down the center of the tables, covered with white tablecloths, each centered with a broad red stripe.

The members recently initiated into Mu Beta Psi are John H. Beaman of Marion, Richard Bean of Winston-Salem, Samuel T. Brown of Elizabeth City, Boyt H. Cathey of Gastonia, Earl T. Justice of Canton, Henry J. Klein of Elmhurst, L. I. New York, Albert M. Lyerly, of Newton, Richard T. Mitchell, of Raleigh, James L. Murphy of Rocky Mount, Robert M. Reams of Apex, Russell H. Shouse, Jr. of Winston-Salem, James A. Shuping of Morganton, George R. Tolleson of King's Mountain and William M. Yeago of Fayetteville.

Support Your Alumni Group . . .

How loyal are State College graduates to their Alma Mater after they graduate? How loyal will you, a senior, be after you finish? These are but two of many questions that have been asked and will be asked by practically every State College student. Every successful, growing college needs adequate alumni support and every school depends to a great extent upon its alumni for support in many different ways.

At North Carolina State College the Alumni Association has always had a lower percentage of the graduating classes joining and maintaining their membership than other schools of similar size in this vicinity. In fact one school of almost half the size a great distance away has a larger active alumni chapter in Raleigh than does State College. Why is this? It certainly is not the fault of the Association. No other organization works any harder than this understaffed group on our campus, and this was certainly proven by the work they did during the 1949 Legislative Assembly. Let us look closer.

Alumni are not made after graduation; a student's loyalty is built up while he is a student. A student who begins to love his alma mater during Freshman Week with a feeling that swells as he continues through school is the best prospective alumnus. After thinking it through, most students will agree to this viewpoint. If, then, alumni are made during their college careers, they are also lost during the same period. Since State College is deficient in loyal alumni it follows that something must be wrong on the campus.

With this in mind a survey was made during this year among the student body with students of several types. They were asked to list ten factors that, if improved or corrected, in their opinion, would swell the roll of our Alumni Association. Here is what was found:

Without exception, every student polled stated that faculty-student relations were not what they should be. Under this topic some of the points that were brought out were: Many of the faculty take the students for granted, they do not realize that the students are paying or hiring the professors to teach them, there is a definite lack of a friendly attitude in some cases, and there is a gap between the two groups.

Probably the next in importance was the desire for a campus of more beauty. Included in this was a wide variety of ideas that could increase student loyalty such as better walks and lawns, improved looks of buildings, names for buildings, better lighting, cleaner grounds, and others that would develop a sense of pride.

Dormitory life was frequently discussed in the polls. There was a need expressed for better janitorial service, better maintenance of rooms, better conditions in classroom and dormitory washrooms.

Also in connection with dormitory life a feeling of the lack of relations between students living next to each other. Often a student goes through an entire year of school without making it a point to know all the men on his hall or as many as possible in his dormitory. The poll showed this to be true

Credit Where It Is Due. . . .

In recent editions, the Technician has apparently been riding the staff of the Wataugan pretty hard. We have had no malice toward any member of the staff despite that feeling on the part of some persons.

Our aim has been to present a widely-felt sentiment on the campus in the most unbiased manner possible. Even our discreditors soon discovered that we were correct in our statements.

To give credit where it is certainly due, we wish to commend Ted Williamson and Jack Alston, Editor and Business Manager-Elect for endeavoring to publish a final issue of the magazine before school is out.

Both men were recently elected to head the publication next year, and have no responsibility for the condition of the Wataugan this year.

In order to gain experience and to help the magazine keep the good name it has carried in the past, the new bosses are working through the rush of the final two weeks of school and are going to put out a special issue of the Wataugan.

Naturally, the students can't expect to see in this special issue the caliber of work that should be displayed next year. Williamson and Alston are trying to make the most of a bad situation and really don't have time to work up a good magazine.

If their ambition and initiative shown in the effort to publish a Wataugan in two weeks is any indication, State College's humor magazine will be at its best next year!

among students enrolled in the same curriculum. Friendships are made only through constant cultivation.

A great many other factors were brought out by individual students and by groups. Factors that can easily be improved and with surprising little cost. Among these was a need for an improved Freshman Week program, one that can adequately "sell State College" to the incoming students. Some felt that the potential found in the social fraternities is not being encouraged. Several felt that the deans offices were not places where students could find advice and assistance easily as it should be. The students felt that in many cases the faculty were not given the freedom of expression and activity that would be expected. The great need for a student union building and the functions of a student union was pointed out by more than one individual.

Certainly these statements can be added to and many other desirable features brought out, but these are sufficient to show the opinion of a cross-section of the student body.

It is time for every State College citizen to do some real thinking and to see what he can do to make a Better State College.

—Kendall.

Student Union Questionnaires Distributed; Info Needed Now!

Do you want a Student Union building at State College? Have you any suggestions of features that you would like to see in your Student Union building?

State College students have pleaded long and hard for a Student Union building, and now definite plans are being discussed concerning the construction of the necessary structure.

Dean E. L. Cloyd has been working actively on the Student Union plan for over two years hoping to get money appropriated. Now that the go-ahead signal has been given, State students will be asked to submit their ideas on how the building should be laid out.

A check list is being prepared by the Student Union Committee and will be distributed in all dorms, fraternity houses, and the three veteran's settlements. Off-campus students may pick up their questionnaires at the YMCA.

Students are asked to cooperate with Dean Cloyd and the committee in getting the information back to the group as soon as possible, because much of the formulative work must be completed before students return in the fall.

This attempt by the administration to secure student views is the second time in as many weeks that students have been asked to contribute their ideas on a subject of major importance.

Because the faculty is recognizing student opinion, the entire student body should cooperate with the plan.

As soon as all check lists are completed and are returned to the committee, the group, consisting of students and faculty members will discuss all the suggestions with architects who will design the structure. This discussion will determine which features can be included now and which will be added later.

Golden Chain Holds Leadership Banquet

"I challenge you, as leaders, to meet collectively in the early fall in a workshop manner by interest groups to explore your own ideas, to discover what your ideas are collectively, and to get them down in understandable terms, and get them in channels that will show results."

"It seems to me that you leaders of all campus organizations owe that much to the campus Government and to your fellow students."

With this thought provoking challenge, Dean Ned Wood thrust upon campus leaders at the annual Golden Chain Leadership banquet last Wednesday night a yoke that should be borne by the leaders.

The banquet is an annual affair sponsored by Golden Chain after the Spring Term tapping ceremonies honoring organization leaders on the campus.

Dick Fowler, Arch Regent of Golden Chain, was Master of Ceremonies for the banquet, and Dean Ned Wood introduced the main speaker, Bill Friday, Assistant Dean of Students at Chapel Hill.

Dean Friday spoke on the importance of learning in college how to become thinking leaders in the community after graduation.

The Dean stressed the fact that college is the foundation for future leadership, and that civic activity is only a continuation of college extra-curricular participation.

Leaders Give Resumé

After the main speech, several campus leaders gave short resumé's of their organizations accomplishments during the past year. Fred Kendall, retiring Campus Government President, spoke for his

"Y" King Honored

Mr. Edward S. King, general secretary of the State College YMCA was honored last night at a banquet on the campus.

A plaque, with the official Y emblem was presented to Mr. King, along with a bound volume of personal letters commending him for his untiring efforts on the State College campus.

Inscribed on the plaque, which was given by the student Y cabinet, were the words: "In recognition of his loyal, meritorious service during the past 30 years as general secretary of the College YMCA and of friendship and counsel which have been the guiding light to so many of us."

group; Reid Farrell, Business Manager of the 1949 Agromeek, covered publication activity for the year; Oscar Bozeman, Captain of the Football team, covered the athletic achievements of 1948-49; and Horace Taylor, member of the Interfraternity Council, gave a short talk on frat accomplishments.

Fowler called on Hoyle Adams, new Campus Government President, to give the highlights of next year's plans and then asked Bill Haas, TECHNICIAN Editor-Elect, to tell the group what to expect from the college newspaper.

The floor was then thrown open for discussion. Ted Williamson, Wataugan Editor-Elect, promised six of the best humor magazines ever published at State for 1949-50. Scott Eubanks, Head Cheerleader, and Tom Wood, Mu Beta Psi president, pled for campus-wide learning of the Alma Mater. Eubanks also discussed the recently formed Interdormitory Council.

Dean Ned Wood closed the meeting with the challenge quoted in the lead paragraph of this story.

You Must Have A "C" To Re-enter School

Students who have attended this or some other college for two or more school years (excluding summer attendance) must have net honor points equal to credit hours earned to be eligible to re-enter school next September.

It will be impossible for the Registration Office to notify students about their final status in time for them to come to summer school. Our office will give totals up to date to students who come in by July 4. Because of the rush of grade posting and commencement no such information can be given from June 6-16.

Any information about spring term grades must be secured from the teachers or from grade reports which will be mailed as soon as possible during the week beginning June 13.

'Points of Order' To Be Given By Request

Dr. Lodwick Hartley, head of the Department of English, has announced that the course in Parliamentary Practice (English 236) will be taught in the fall term next year, instead of just the winter and spring terms.

The course will be taught by Professor E. H. Paget, and he has agreed to include it in the fall schedule in response to many requests from students. It is a three hour elective course which some departments accept as a substitute for Business English and Public Speaking, and will be arranged at the students' convenience. The only prerequisites are the three terms of freshman English composition.

The presidents of all clubs, societies, fraternities, and other organizations are urged to bring this notice to the attention of their members, as a knowledge of parliamentary procedure will improve the efficiency and the activity of all organizations, expedite the conduct of business meetings, and also be very valuable in later life to those who have a good command of the basic principles and technicalities.

'King' To Be Crowned At Dance Tomorrow

The annual Thirty and Three "King for a Day" festivities get underway tomorrow when the sophomore leadership fraternity honors "King" Ted Potts and "Queen" Frances McLeod at a luncheon at the Club Bon Air.

Potts, a freshman from Stadium Dorm won the annual pig chase sponsored by the Thirty and Three, thereby winning $150 in clothes and a date with the "Queen" for the day. This year's queen is Miss Frances McLeod, selected as "Miss Rex Hospital" in the recent North Carolina Student Nurse contest.

Miss McLeod, who is from Asheville, was chosen to represent Rex in the contest because of "her appearance, speaking ability, scholastic standing, personality, aptitude for nursing, and spirit of nursing."

Following the luncheon, the "King" and "Queen" and the members of Thirty and Three will go to Huneyutt's Store where the "King" will select $150 in clothes. After the clothes have been selected, the "King and Queen" will have the rest for the day to do as they please.

The coronation ceremony will be conducted during the intermission of the annual Freshman Dance which begins at 8. Miss Miriam Scott, niece of the Governor, will crown the "King."

The Campus Dispatch

Make yourself an honest man, and then you may be sure there is one less rascal in the world.

—CARLYLE

W. L. Mayer, Director of Registration, talked to the Council Tuesday on the issue of preregistration. The Campus Government has been investigating the possibilities of installing preregistration at State College and called in Registrar Mayer to hear the College viewpoint.

Preregistration has been tried at State before. Once it was run in the spring term and shortly after the war students registered in the fall for the winter term.

Troubles

There have been several major difficulties during previous preregistration experiences according to Mr. Mayer. The first trouble was the students who changed their minds or failed courses after they had preregistered. Then some departments objected to having to handle heavy preregistration work. Also, class space had to be held for a student whether he came back or not, and numerous men who came back failed to check by the business office.

While preregistration works well at some schools, Mr. Mayer said, there are greater problems at a state technical institution. Liberal arts colleges do not have the difficulties of a complicated system of prerequisites and laboratory periods. In addition State College accepts any graduate of a North Carolina high school with the result that there is a high percentage of failures among freshmen and sophomores.

Possible Summer Graduation

Mr. Mayer also answered questions concerning a summer school graduation. The administration has no strong objections, and it seems likely that a program can be worked out.

Student Festival To Be Held In Hungary

A World Festival of Youth and Students will be held in Budapest, Hungary, from August 14th to 28th, it was announced today. The Festival is being sponsored by the World Federation of Democratic Youth (WFDY) and the International Union of Students (IUS).

The Festival will be one of the greatest events in the history of the international student movement. It will be a mass demonstration in favor of the program of the IUS and the WFDY and in support of the struggles of all youth and students for peace, democracy, national independence of peoples and a better future.

The Festival will include a vast program of lectures, film showings, exhibits of national art and culture, international competitions in music, folk dancing and other arts, sports events, etc. The 10th World University Summer Games will also be held in Budapest during the Festival. In addition, sight seeing tours, work projects, river trips on the Danube and similar activities will be available to the participants in the Festival.

American student and youth participation is being arranged by the U. S. Office for the World Youth and Student Festival, 144 Bleecker Street, New York 12, N. Y. A wide American participation is being urged. For further information, those interested should contact this office.

52-20 Club Disbands For Most Vets In July

Readjustment allowances for the great bulk of veterans of World War II, specifically, for those discharged prior to July 25, 1947, will end July 25, 1949, unless Congress reenacts or continues the provisions for such benefits contained in Title V of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944. Only those veterans who had accumulated entitlement to the benefits prior to July 25, 1947, and were discharged after that date, will be allowed to draw allowances to which they are entitled, and then for only two years after the date of this discharge.

Among those veterans who will not receive all allowances to which they might otherwise be entitled are students who may become unemployed, employees of employers of less than eight employees, employees of federal, state and local governments, workers under the training programs and others who may have been at work and become unemployed after next July 25. Bills are now before Congress to extend or modify and extend the provisions for one or two years, designed to protect veterans who may become unemployed during the present and expected period of unemployment.

ESC Chairman Henry E. Kendall, points out that semi-official estimates place at 415,000 the numbers of North Carolina World War II veterans who have been discharged. This means that only 181,860 of the North Carolina veterans even filed claims for allowances, or 43.8 percent of the 415,000 who were entitled to draw benefits. Of those who filed claims, many never drew even one payment and many more stopped drawing benefits after one, two or several payments. In fact, Chairman Kendall reveals, only 8.0 of the estimated 415,000 eligible veterans had drawn the entire amount to which they were entitled by the end of April, 1949.

Jobs Open for Grads In Advertising Field

Members of college graduating classes were asked today to consider "profitable employment in the selling end of business" in order to meet a national need for at least 2,000,000 additional salesmen.

Walter C. Ayers, a director of the Detroit Sales Executives Club and Executive Vice President of Brooke, Smith, French & Dorrance, Inc., Detroit and New York advertising agency, said that "almost every industry and every type wholesale and retail establishment must have additional sales people if they are to maintain or increase their volume."

Calling upon current college graduates to seek careers in selling, Mr. Ayers referred to results of a study sponsored by the National Federation of Sales Executives in cooperation with the Department of Marketing, College of Commerce, University of Notre Dame.

The study revealed, he pointed out, that the modern sales executive is well paid for his efforts.

"Almost half of those questioned reported that they earn more than $15,000 a year, and more than 11 per cent earn in excess of $30,000 annually," he said. "More than 22 per cent earn between $6,000 and $10,000 a year, while slightly more than five per cent earn less than $6,000."

Two million is a minimum estimate of the number of additional sales people needed to keep the country's production at a prosperity level, Mr. Ayers said.

"In 1940, about 46,000,000 people were employed in the United States," he said. "Included in this number were some 3,200,000 salesmen—one salesman to 14 workers in all other fields."

"But in 1948—in a seller's market due to shortages—60,000,000 people were employed in the United States, of whom only 3,700,000 were salesmen. The increase in employment from 1940 to 1948 was 14,000,000 people, but, of these, only one in every 28 workers was a salesman!"

Mr. Ayers, pointing to a "big deficit" in America's sales force, said the "brutal truth" is that the 3,700,000 salesmen presently employed aren't nearly enough to keep the country's factories, farms, mines and forests producing at a prosperity level.

"Probably at least 6,000,000 salesmen will be required to do the job in a buyer's market, and we have only about 60 per cent of that number now," Mr. Ayers declared. "That means that more than 2,000,000 sales jobs need to be filled with the greatest possible speed."

The field of selling, and particularly sales management, is a definite challenge to college men now considering business careers, the Detroit advertising agency executive said. "The field is open and the rewards are high, with the economic future of the country largely dependent upon their efforts," he declared. "America cannot remain prosperous without a fully manned sales force."

Additional information concerning job placement in the advertisement field can be obtained from Public Relations Department, Brooke, Smith, French, and Dorrance, Inc., Detroit, 14, Michigan.

Dorm Doings

By GILBERT MAXWELL

With the end of the year, dormitory men may look back upon the school year of '48-'49 as one of the most eventful in the history of State College. This year saw the installment of an office of Student Housing at State, under the direction of Mr. J. J. Stuart. Mr. Stuart has been highly successful in dodging publicity during the year, but we want to take this opportunity to say that he has done much for the men in dormitories and for State College as a whole. May he continue to be the best friend of the student for many years.

Another person who has meant much to the dormitory program is the retiring president of the Campus Government, Fred Kendall. Fred was instrumental in getting the dorm clubs off to a good start and in setting up the Interdormitory Council. He has done much to strengthen student government here at State, and his fellow students will not soon forget him.

There are many other men who have made great contributions to the dormitory program, and in giving a rundown of the year's activities, we will try to mention most of them. If we overlook anybody, please try to remember that there were almost a hundred names to be brought forward and bear with us in the realization that we didn't mean to leave out anybody.

Interdorm Council

First on the list of outstanding workers are the members of the Interdormitory Council — Alex Vann, hard-working president of the Council from Becton Dorm; vice-president Eugene Jeffords of Owen; secretary Reuben Miller and treasurer Don Anderson of Berry. There are the committee chairmen — Russell Crowell, Rules; Doug Watts, Athletic; Bob Thrower, Building and Grounds; Eugene Jeffords, Social; and Bobby Brown, Dorm Life. Other members of the Council are Phil Broughton, Harry Bates, John Dillard, Weldon Cable, Bruce Darden, Louis Hine, Ralph Bostian, Jack McCracken, David Lane, Scott Eubanks, and A. W. Moore. A. C. Barefoot, executive secretary of the group, has been indispensable in the early months of organization. The committees submitted their reports to the Council at the last regular meeting last Thursday night, and all the reports showed a remarkable familiarity and interest in their subject.

Social Life

Probably the biggest improvement in the whole dormitory picture was the new social program set up by the dorm clubs. Dormitory parties became the order of the day, with one being reeled off almost every weekend. Alexander and Owen led the way in dances, each dorm sponsoring dances with the aid of the local chapter of the national business girls' sorority. There were many men who helped in arrangements for these social events, among whom were Harry Privette, Henry Champion, Ben Moore, Marshall Vernon, David Fletcher, David Sides, Phil Warner, Charles Hardee, and Billy Christian in Alexander.

Rueben Miller, Willard Davis, Tom Bass, Tom Enodgrass, and Phil Corbin led the way in social activities for Berry. The workers in Syme included Tom Macon, Russ Crowell, Art Cline and Wally Moore. Bob Hurt, "Skinny" Hollowell, Doug Watts, and Bill Hord were the wheels in the Becton athletic program. Leaders in the dances put on by Owen were Gil Newton, Paul Lovington, Dick Gilson, Jerry Filiciotto, Dan Crook, A. C. Newsome, Bruce Darden and Jim Vause.

Homecoming Day

Not to be forgotten are Lemuel Robertson and all the other boys who won the Homecoming decorations contest for Tucker. Berry was a close second with C. W. Bostic, Sam Sarvis, Phil Corbin, Ray Walker, J. C. Faulkner, and Willard doing the work. Syme finished first in Blue Key Stunt Night with well nigh the whole dorm participating in a minstrel show. Gold, led by Wade Hobson and Bill Hoffman, placed second. Syme came through again to win the Mu Beta Psi singing contest. As in the stunt night victory, the percentage of men participating ran high, as it has in everything Syme has undertaken.

Intramural interest has been more intense this year than ever before, with a real fine job on the parts of all the athletic directors. Becton leads the dorm league, with a good chance of taking the championship. For other intramural dope, we refer you to the sports pages of this paper.

As a parting shot, we would like to remind our readers—both of you—that the dormitory assistants must not be left out when the honors are being passed around. Many of them went right into the dorm organizations and others preferred to stand on the outside and help and advise. Many of these men are graduating this year. They will not be easily replaced. We thank them for their interest and support and wish them every success in the great big outside world.

State Outing Club Has Big Plans For Summer

The N. C. State Outing Club held its second square dance last Saturday evening in the Fairmont Fellowship Center.

Part of the plan this time was to begin the intercollegiate phase of the club's activity. Schools represented include N. C. State, Woman's College, UNC, Brevard, St. Mary's, Meredith, Queens, Rex Hospital, and several others.

This weekend the Outing Club is planning an overnight trip to the mountains above Winston-Salem.

The summer program is still unsettled, but tentative plans include a visit to the Smokies soon after exams, more trips to the beach, also a number of picnics, short hikes, and swimming parties in the Raleigh area. Much of this will be arranged by postcard correspondence. Those interested may write Jim Huff at G-10 Trailwood, State College Station, Raleigh.

The summer program will have its climax when a number of Outing Clubbers from North Carolina invade "Yankee-land" to attend College Week, the annual get-together in the mountains. Much of our future will depend on this trip; meeting a great bunch of fellows and girls from the other colleges and universities; and learning more of the real possibilities before us. College Week has often been called, "outside of marriage, the greatest institution in life." Those who plan to go this year are promised some real eye-openers.

College Week this year will be held at Lake Colden in the Adirondack mountains September 9-16th. Ernie Anderson, Amherst Outing Club member and honorary member of the NCSOC, as chairman of College Week has promised to have chaperones on hand early for some of us Southerners who have to start and return early because of registration dates back here at State. The coordinator of travel for NCS and other southern schools will be Frank Brandt at P. O. Box 112, Salisbury, North Carolina.

Starting from scratch, this new club gained approval of the college authorities and has held some type of outing almost every weekend, including square dances, picnics, short hikes, and a trip to the beach.

The NCSOC also was accepted as

Skitch Henderson Plays For IFC Finals

"Skitch" Henderson and his orchestra will provide the music for the IFC Final Dances to be held Friday and Saturday nights, the 10th and 11th of June.

The Dance Committee, headed by Rodney Coleman, and including Charlie Boney, Joe Clements, Norman Concoll, Richard Willard, and Jim Blue have been working hard trying to solve the attendance situation. Because of a conflict in dates the dances were switched from Memorial Auditorium to Frank Thompson Gymnasium. However, because of the fire laws, there could be only 1200 bids distributed, for this is the maximum allowable in the gym.

Since they do not want to see any one turned away from the door as happened at the Mid-Winters, the dance committee has made an effort to secure the National Guard Armory for the Finals,

English Classes Present Speech Hour

The Speech Hour, a group of skits dramatizing public speaking, was presented May 17 in Pullen Hall. A pre-program warm-up began at 6:30, and the main show started at 7:00.

The build-up before the program had several unusual features. Two speakers talked at once, trying to drown each other out.

Special guests and school officials were interviewed. Also in the earlier activities was parliamentary guerilla war.

The main show at seven o'clock was a series of skits about speech classes. Each course was described and highlighted. The correct way and the wrong way of presentation of each activity was demonstrated. The courses represented were as follows: Public Speaking, Parliamentary Practice, Persuasion, Argumentation, and Extemporaneous Speaking, and Public Address.

Professor Edwin H. Paget teaches all of these courses.

WSSF Headquarters Expresses Gratitude

The following letter was received from the World Student Service Fund Headquarters thanking State College for the contributions made during the drive week:

May 6, 1949
North Carolina State College of Agriculture & Engineering
Raleigh, N. C.

Attention: John R. Wright,
WSSF Chairman

Dear Friends:

Such a contribution as you have generously made is doubly appreciated in these days when you are surrounded, as we all are, with a great number of "good causes" seeking our support. You have the real gratitude, not only, of the Sponsors and Staff of World Student Service Fund, but of a great company of students whom you have served and for whom you have provided help by your gift.

A Polish girl finding life in Ley-sin Sanatorium, a student pitifully hungry in Greece or Hungary, an Italian undergraduate needing a coat or a dress, a young man on a Chinese campus eager for medicine to ward off malaria—your money has helped such as these. Their poignant need is for both material things and for the sense of fellowship which our American giving symbolizes.

As you consider this contribution among others you are enabled to make, I hope you will have the spiritual satisfaction of taking part in a task which is essentially a spiritual one. W.S.S.F. cannot rebuild, itself, the tragically devastated campuses and homes of hundreds of thousands of students. But it is affirmatively and significantly helping to reconstruct their morale and integrity and hope. Your part in that help shares in the appreciation expressed in hundreds of letters W.S.S.F. receives from students overseas. I hand on that thanks, adding my own, for your generosity.

Yours very sincerely,
W. J. KITCHEN
Executive Secretary

U. S. ARMY and U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

With The Greeks

The I.F.C. Dance Committee, not to be boxed in by the situation, is considering the National Guard Armory for the Finals. Its acceptance would mean a date bid for every Greek, and, consequently, a better dance weekend.

Sigma Pi won the Pi Kappa Phi Interfraternity Sing in very fine style last Friday night. Of the 16 social fraternities here at State only 3, excluding sponsor Pi Kappa Phi, took time out to enter the contest.

Undoubtedly there were some frats who had a good reason for not participating. However, many with well organized choral groups shunned the Sing. If it's a better interfraternity relationship we want, and I'm sure it is, lets practice it not only during Greek Week and the Intramurals, but consistently!

Tommy Hughes and Pinky Williamson of Kappa Alpha won the bridge trophy presented annually by Lambda Chi Alpha. The tournament was held at the Lambda Chi House Wednesday evening, May 18th.

Checking the social situation with the Greeks for the Finals, it's safe to predict that a few "post-war, economy-size" parties will be held.

After the Finals Sigma Phi Epsilon plans a beach party at Wrightsville Beach. And, as usual, they are going first class! Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha both will have house parties at Nags Head, while the Sigma Chi's will shine at Ocean Drive. Sigma Alpha Mu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will have house parties either in Raleigh or its vicinity after the Dances.

In the way of future planning, when you are over at the "Hill" for the State-U.N.C. football game next September 25th drop by the chapter house of your fraternity. This will be a welcome contribution from State's 800 Greeks to both Greater University Day and the bond between chapters of the two schools.

SEE YOU AT THE FINALS—JUNE 10 & 11.

Old Clothing Drive

During Exam week an old clothing drive will be launched on the campus. This is to give you an opportunity to discard any old clothes you no longer need and at the same time help people in other lands who can really use them.

Boxes will be placed in convenient spots for you to drop your clothes while packing to go home. If you want to lighten your load fill up the old clothing boxes with outgrown and seldom used items.

These clothes will go to needy people in Europe and Asia. They will appreciate any help you can give them.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By Frank Pettinelli

To the surprise of no one at all, Willie Evans, State's small and adroit centerfielder, was selected as the most capable man to roam the middle outfield post on a formidable all star team composed of Southern Conference ballplayers by AP, UP, and the Southern Sports Writers Association. Playing a fine game of consistent baseball is nothing new to William. In '47 he had a very successful year on the diamond; '48 found the likeable Bill in a slight slump, but this year as team captain the Burlington Basher hit the stride that was expected by all State baseball fans. This season was Willie's last, and we all will miss the humorous and quite dangerous leadoff hitter, who is perhaps a little sorry to hang up the spikes that have flashed their teeth at many a Southern Conference infielder.

After the fiery rivalry that existed between the Wake Forest and State baseball teams this season a puff of smoke in the form of "congratulations Baptist baseballers" has arisen from many people on the State College campus. We all knew that you people who live near U. S. Highway 1 had a baseball club that was GOOD. We acknowledge the fact and hope that you remember we gave credit when it was due, during the football season and especially during basketball season when it seems as if many of your student body forget there are still theology students attending your institution and sitting at hoop events such as the one which was played against State last winter at Gore gymnasium.

Has anyone here seen Buster? Who's Buster? Why he's the smiling manager of "A Little Moore" diner (the tin can), who has been stuffing State baseball players with meals after they bash out home runs. Bill Mussack started to hit a few home runs after he found out a meal was in store for those who powder the old pellet. Next football season Buster has a plan in mind for State's footballers who perform in an exceptional manner. Wonder what poor Buster will do when those boys on the basketball team start dropping in all those fast and furious points.

Congrats are on hand in the direction of "Shapel Hill" and Charlie Justice. Charlie was selected as the most outstanding athlete in the Southern Conference for the football season of '48. Mr. Justice it is rumored has an excess of 15 lbs. about a waistline that has proven to be quite elusive in the past. It is also rumored that coach Snavely is not worried about the 15 lbs. Anyway "Choo-choo" may not be able to chug next fall with all that meat and no potatoes we hope.—

Last week a few tall young gentlemen were seen working out with two or three State varsity hoopsters. One of the boys handled himself very well in the old pivot slot while passing off with that famous Ed McCauley ease. And guess who was there to watch with much approval?—You are so right!!—Coach Ev Case.

Intramurals at State this past term have been a big success and all the fellows who have participated deserve a pat on the proverbial back. The track event were held under the arcs and besides the boys who ran, a spirited crowd was there to cheer their favorites on. Softball offered much competition among the various Dorms and Frats as it always has in the past.

Gratitude should be expressed towards Mr. Miller and his P.E. staff for helping the boys in every way possible. Next fall the TECHNICIAN hopes to put more emphasis on the doings of these student athletes who are too often unsung heroes who also receive box seats at the infirmary.

State's athletic prospects for next year's sport agenda looks exceptionally well if the present stock of up and coming athletes are to serve as an indication. Paul Dinan, Tyler Wadsworth, and Bill Smith are a few of the blossoming frosh who seem headed for stardom on varsity teams in the future. Dinan at the present time is playing some fine baseball for Dave Baxter's frosh diamondmen. In the fall the versatile youngster will don a pair of cleats along with his top coat and probably do a great deal of pigskin toting for Feathers and Co.

Wadsworth, an agile and rapid frosh is expected to burn a noteworthy path on various Southern Conference track paths come next spring. A member of the freshman cinder squad this spring, Tyler has been the main reason for the smile on the face of Willis Casey, track coach, which says, "Wait till next year" in upper case letters.

Smith, who browses about the initial sack for the baby Pack has come through with some terrific hitting and fielding for the mythical frosh Southern Conference champs in these past weeks. What he lacks in experience he makes up with natural ability. Next season we think he will have ample opportunity to show both his experience and ability; namely around first base for the varsity.

Weathers, No. 1 man on State's tennis team, whose home town is Raleigh, helped Coach Seeger's boys to compile a fine season record.

Successful Season Under Belt, State Tennis Squad Hangs Up Rackets Till '50

BY JOHN LAMPE

The State College netters completed the most successful season since the war with an impressive record of 8 wins, 3 losses and one tie in twelve dual matches.

Retiring Coach Seeger's boys started the season off strong by taking six straight wins before dropping a contest to Duke's Blue Devils.

The first encounter for the Red and White racket team was with Colgate University, whom they deadlocked 3-3. The match could not be completed due to rain. It was at this point that the racket men began to get up steam. Taking Southern Conference opponents in their stride, they defeated the University of South Carolina, Wake Forest, and Albright College of Reading, Pa. Then on a northern jaunt, took the measure of the University of Richmond, VMI, and Washington and Lee.

The Blue Devils furnished the next opposition for the Pack, and they responded with the first loss being inflicted on the Packers. In this match the Red and White took the one and two singles, but could not muster enough strength in the lower brackets for the winning points.

Snapping back in the victory column, State College swept by Wake Forest for the second time but then met Carolina. The Tar Heels rolled over the Pack, taking the match 8-1. The next encounter was with the University of Virginia, and the Cavaliers gave the Red and White their third loss.

The successful season was closed out by a contest with the University of Maryland whom the Wolf-pack defeated in an abbreviated match which could not be completed due to cold weather.

Winning six and losing three, Coach Seeger's Freshman Tennis Team turned in almost as good a record of the varsity. Led by Bill Jones and Joe Maddux, the Baby Pack was victorious over many leading high school and Junior College outfits.

The Wolflets had a hard time getting started and dropped three out of four contests for their only losses. They lost to the Kittens of Davidson, the Baby Tar Heels and to the Blue Imps of Duke University while the lone victory came over the Baby Deacs.

Following the Duke match, the Baby Pack regained their poise and were in full command of their opponents, and they did not lose any more matches the rest of the season. Running their victory total to six, they defeated Campbell College twice, Louisburg College, Oak Ridge, and climaxed the season with a 5-4 decision over Goldsboro, the high school champs of North Carolina.

Bill Jones and Joe "Baby Doll" Maddux, two potential varsity performers, had identically the same record of 6-3 for the season. These two along with Charlie Morris, number three, should give plenty of competition to the varsity men for positions on next year's squad.

Pack Ends Season Tied For 2nd In Big 4

Wolfpack Baseball Squad

Nine Winds Up With 8-12 Record

by Jack Bowers

The final Big-Four standings of 1949 found the Wolfpack diamondmen tied with the Tar Heels of Carolina for second place in Big-Four play with a season's record of five wins and eight losses.

In regular season play, including all games, the Pack fared slightly better, with a final mark of eight wins and twelve setbacks.

Captain Bill Evans, All-Southern Conference outfielder, was the offensive leader for the Pack, in Big-Four Activity, with a final batting mark of .321. Shortstop John Norrell actually had a higher average than Evans, but, by coaches agreement, players had to appear in 10 games to qualify for the batting title. Norrell had a final mark of .333.

Catcher Bill Fowler and third baseman Hank Utley led the squad in the number of doubles with two. Outfielder Don Cheek took top honors in the three-bagger department with two, and outfielder Bill Mussack led the team sluggers with two fourbaggers. The important runs-batted-in title went to Cheek.

Irvin Page led the State moundsmen with a Big-Four record of two victories and two defeats. Work-horse Ernie Johnson was runnerup with three wins and four defeats. Johnson led the league in strikeouts with 25. Bob Smith ran into hard luck and dropped his only two starts.

The highlight of the season as far as the Pack were concerned was a 7-5 loss handed to the Big-Four and Southern Conference champions from Wake Forest. This game was the only one the mighty Deacons lost to a collegiate outfit.

Frosh Cop Mythical Big Four Baseball Crown

BY SI PURYEAR

The State Freshman baseballers copped the mythical Big Four crown Wednesday afternoon by trouncing the Tar Babies from U. N. C. by the score of 18 to 5.

First sacker Bill Smith of High Point was nothing less than brilliant as he blasted a single, three doubles, a homer, stole three bases, and handled thirteen putouts to lead his teammates to their tenth consecutive victory. State had a 3-2 lead coming into the fifth inning when they belted balls into every part of Freshman field, pushing across eleven runs to put the game on ice. The Wolfpack yearlings collected a total of eighteen hits off three Carolina throwers, handing Henry Schacht his first defeat of the year. Lewis handled the mound assignment for State giving up only eight hits, striking out six and passing none.

This game closes a season long to be remembered by State followers. Coach Dave Baxter deserves congratulations for the fine job he has done in turning what looked like an average team into the hottest team in the league. After dropping the first three games, the frosh were not expected to compile ten straight victories, and take the championship. The record shows three wins each over Duke and Carolina and five over Wake Forest.

Perhaps the brightest stars in the talent packed lineup are Lunsford Lewis, Bill Smith, and Bill Wilhelm. Lewis is a pitcher who throws righthanded and has a record of five-one for the year. Wilhelm and Smith are both regarded as major league prospects and have been approached with offers by several scouts. Other starters are Walt Ferrell, Skip Burkhart, Charles Westbrook, and Macy Faulkner, outfielders, second baseman Paul Dinan, shortstop Roland Brinson, and third baseman Bill Martin.

Good going boys. We will be looking for you on the varsity next year. Interesting to note is the fact that fourteen of the nineteen man squad are native North Carolinians.

Coach Tripp's Golfers Compile Season Record Of 11 Wins And 4 Losses

BY CHARLES LEGRAND

With the completion of the Southern Conference Tournament State finished the most successful golf season in many years. Coached by Charlie Tripp, the linksters have continued to improve and wound up the year with a fine record of 11 wins and only 4 defeats.

The victories came at the expense of Carolina, Duke, South Carolina, William and Mary, V.P.I., Newberry, Amherst, Davidson twice, and High Point twice. The Duke victory was especially pleasing since it marked the first win a State golf team have posted over the Blue Devils on their home course. The win over V.P.I. was one of the two losses that strong team suffered all year.

Defeats came at the hands of potent Wake Forest twice, and Carolina and South Carolina once each. This left the State squad with its record of 11 wins and 4 defeats, which compares favorably with the records of the past few years.

The State squad was led by Turnbull and Gibson, who have both finished 4 years of golf competition, and by Brackett, Isenhour, Preisinger, Saenz, and Wood. Special notice should be given to Wood, Saenz, Isenhour, and Preisinger, who playing in the fifth and sixth spots on the team, consistently won their matches and enabled the team to post its fine record.

Low score for the year was Brackett's 65 at the Country Club against Amherst. Another fine score was Turnbull's low medal score against Carolina when he beat North-South finalist Harvey Ward with an excellent 69.

With the graduation of five of the seven players, there will be many holes to be filled by new-comets. Sophomores Brackett and Isenhour will probably form the nucleus of next year's team. Brackett, though a relatively short driver, is consistent and is good with his irons. Isenhour plays his woods beautifully, but will have to work on his chipping and putting to play the first rate golf he is capable of playing.

These boys who have spent many hours of practice and play are to be congratulated for the fine way they represented us in the meets with our friendly enemies. Praises also go to Coach Tripp, who has given his time and energies so unselfishly for three years without any remuneration what-so-ever. His teams have a three year record of 25 victories, 11 defeats, and 1 tie, which is mighty good in this fast league.

Thanks boys for a job well done.

Tracksters Finish Rough Season With A 2-5 Record; Frosh Show Hopes For '50

BY HARVEY JACKSON

The State College varsity track team captured two of their five meets during the past season, beating William and Mary 69-57 and South Carolina 86-40. They dropped contests to Wake Forest by 85-40, to Duke by 100-26, and to Carolina by an 81-45 score.

Herb Goldberg was probably the outstanding performer for the cindersmen. He captured the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash against Wake Forest and William and Mary. Against South Carolina, he took the 220 yard dash and was just nosed out in the 100 yard dash. He topped this off with a win against Duke in the 220 dash for the good time of 21.9 seconds.

Other outstanding men were Joe Davis and Jim Byler. Davis captured the broad jump against Carolina, Wake Forest, William and Mary, and South Carolina, while Byler won the shot put against the same clubs. Byler's best throw for the season was 47 feet 9 inches, slightly under his best toss for last year.

Frosh Break Even

The Freshman track team compiled a record of two wins and two losses for the season. They beat Carolina 64-62, and Wake Forest 86-40, while dropping two encounters to Duke by scores of 86-40 and 87-31.

The yearling squad provided a promising youth in Tyler Wadsworth, a Raleigh boy. He shapes up as a leading contender to top the Southern Conference record in the 440 yard event. During the past season he ran the event in 50:5, just one second off the present record. Wadsworth was unde-

W. F. Beats Pack

BY HARVEY JACKSON

State College lost a thrill-packed contest to the Wake Forest Deacons before a near capacity Devereaux Meadow crowd last Saturday night by a 6-4 count. The Deacons' Russ Batchelor provided the winning blow in the eighth inning with a two-run homer over the left centerfield barrier.

Wake Forest touched Irv Page for three runs in the initial frame with the aid of two State errors. State closed the gap in the second and third frames with single runs to bring the score to 4-2. Then in the fourth they took the lead on hits by Buck Livingston, a walk to Bill Mussack, a perfect sacrifice by Page, and Evans' line single into left. This outburst gave the Pack a 4-3 margin.

In the fifth, Matney singled into right and Brooks ran for him. After Hoch had sacrificed Brooks to second, Rogers popped out, but Teague slapped out a single to left to bring Brooks across with the tying run.

Willie Evans led the State batsmen as he cracked out three singles in five trips to the plate and Hank Utley got two bingles in three official trips to take runner-up laurels.

feated in the 220 yard and the 440 yard events, during the season, and was beaten only once in the 100 yard dash. He was also anchor man on the relay team, and certainly has the makings of a great track man. Other outstanding stars were Bob Branyon and Larry Siegel.

State tapped Nicholas and Moe Bauer for nine safeties, while Page was serving up twelve to the Deacons. This loss left Page with a two won-two loss record for the season.

State Drops Last Conference Game To Carolina 7-1 At Chapel Hill

BY BOB CURRAN

Tuesday afternoon at Chapel Hill, Carolina's Tar Heels walloped the Wolfpack 7-1, behind the seven-hit pitching of Dean Cassell. The win enabled the Tar Heels to pull into a second place tie with the Pack.

Big Bob Smith, the sophomore from Charlotte, started on the mound for State, but he lasted for only four innings. He gave way to Ernie Johnson when the Heels put together four of their seven runs, which was more than enough to win the ball game. Both State hurlers were wild in the fourth inning when they gave up three walks between them.

The Wolfpack was saved from a shutout in the seventh inning, when Hank Utley was safe on a fielder's choice, advanced to second on a wild pitch, and scored when Ned Council singled.

Bill Evans, All Conference outfielder, played his final Big Four game for State. He is scheduled to play for the Burlington Bees in the Carolina League this summer. Bill Mussack, Ernie Johnson, and Hank Utley have also finished for the Pack.

The game was the final Big Four contest for both clubs, and they ended up in a second place tie, behind Wake Forest's Demon Deacons. The final Big Four standing for the 1949 season:

Making long distance SHORTER

There's a new and faster way to handle Long Distance calls. Made possible by new electronic switching equipment, it's called operator toll dialing.

You give the Long Distance operator the number you want. On keys before her at the switchboard, she punches out your call. In instant response, the new equipment takes over. It speeds your call to the distant city and rings the telephone you want. Just like that.

Toll dialing now reaches some 300 cities and more and more will be added until the network is nationwide. It's a part of the effort to make your telephone service better and better, at a cost within the reach of everyone.
