

C. G. Scrutinizes Insurance Plans

Rate Reduction and Increased Coverage Sought by Committee: Banquet Plans and Student Gas Station Also Considered

By George Wallace
The Campus Government called a special meeting for May 5 to apply the finishing touches to some old bills and vote on some new ones. It was announced at the first of the meeting that the next meeting would be the last meeting of the old council and the first meeting for the new council that was recently elected.

Earl Poplin, chairman of the welfare committee, presented various bids from different insurance companies that are contracting to carry the student's insurance policy for the coming school year. A motion was made that the bids be eliminated to two bids and that Earl recommend one of these bids to the council at the next meeting. The motion passed. The two bids that are eligible for contract are North American Insurance Company and Pilot Insurance Company.

Tom Avery, chairman of the elections committee, moved that the recent tie in votes for president of the senior class be voted on again by the rising senior class. The motion passed so a voting poll will be set up so that the rising seniors might once again vote for their favorite candidate.

The Banquet committee announced that the plans for the Campus Government Banquet are still as tentatively planned which are for Friday night, May 8, at 8:00 at the Village Restaurant. Both old and new members are urged to attend.

Bob Horn, Editor of The Technician, presented his idea of having a State College gas station which would be run by the students and profits going to the students after the station had been paid for. The council agreed that this was a good idea and something to look into for the coming school year.

Mammoth TV Show to Be Held in Coliseum

The first Raleigh-Durham TV Fair will be held in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum at North Carolina State College May 21-23. The exposition, featuring a broad range of exhibits of television makes and models, will precede the opening of WNAO's TV station, which is scheduled to begin its telecasting May 23. It will be the first UHF station in North Carolina.

Continuous entertainment has been planned throughout the TV Fair. The hours that the fair will be open include Thursday, May 21, from 7 to 11 p.m.; Friday, May 22, from 3 to 11 p.m.; and Saturday, May 23, from 2 to 11 p.m.

Any profit made by the fair will be presented to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Dr. Pou Heads Animal Industry

Appointment of Dr. John William Pou, head of the University of Maryland's Dairy Department, as head of the Animal Industry Department at North Carolina State College, effective July 1, was announced recently by Chancellor J. W. Harrelson and Dr. James H. Hilton, dean of the college's School of Agriculture.

Dr. Pou, a native of Iredell County and a 1938 honor graduate of State College, will succeed Dr. D. W. Colvard, who has been chosen to replace Dr. Hilton as dean of the college's School of Agriculture. Dean Hilton will become president of Iowa State College July 1.

Prof. Earl H. Hostetler, veteran head of the Animal Husbandry Section of the department, will retire from his administrative duties at his own request July 1 and will be succeeded by Dr. H. A. Stewart, a member of the department faculty since 1945.

Dr. Pou received his B.S. degree in animal production from North Carolina State College in 1938, was awarded his M.S. degree in dairy husbandry by the University of Wisconsin in 1947, and earned his Ph.D. degree in animal breeding at Cornell University in 1951.

Dr. Pou, known to his friends as "Joe," is a familiar figure in North Carolina agricultural circles. A top-ranking 4-H club member, he was assistant county farm agent in Iredell County from 1938-1941. During this period, he received the National 4-H Extension Award providing for nine months' study in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

From 1942 to 1945, he served in the U. S. Army with the rank of Major in the infantry. Upon his release from the Army, he became dairy specialist with the North Carolina State College Agricultural Extension Service, working in that capacity during 1946.

The new department head was appointed extension dairyman, Dairy Department, University of Maryland, in 1947 and worked in that position until 1951, except for 16 months spent in graduate study at Cornell University.

Dr. Pou was promoted to post of professor and head of the Uni-

Colonel Harrelson Gets Merit Award

N. C. State Alumni Association Pays Tribute To Chancellor Harrelson's 48 Years of Service to the College: Speight Trophied

The North Carolina State College Alumni Association paid tribute to Chancellor J. W. Harrelson at its annual luncheon meeting here recently.

In recognition of his 48 years of service to the college, the association presented its "1953 Meritorious Service Award" to Chancellor Harrelson, who has announced plans to retire as State College's chief administrative officer June 30.

The presentation of the award was a highlight of the alumni luncheon. Rudolph I. Mintz of Wilmington, president of the alumni association, presided.

Principal luncheon speaker was Dr. Felix S. Hales of Cleveland, Ohio, class of 1913, executive vice president of the Nickel Plate Road, the New York, Chicago, and St. Louis Railroad Company, and a native of Wilson.

The citation honoring Chancellor Harrelson reads:

"Chancellor of North Carolina State College, Colonel John William Harrelson, class of 1909, has served the College for forty-eight years, from student to chief executive officer. Under his guidance, the physical plant of North Carolina State College has been doubled, the quality of instruction and research has been greatly improved, all phases of extension have been broadened and strengthened, and the College is now in its greatest era of service. During his administration, the student enrollment reached a peak of five thousand, three hundred and thirty-five.

"Born in the Double Shoals section of Cleveland County, he attended Piedmont High School at Lawndale. Following a period of employment in a cotton mill and a country store, he enrolled as an engineering student at State College in the fall of 1905. Since he was graduated in 1909, as valedictorian of his class, he has filled all positions from instructor to head of the Department of Mathematics. He has served as chief executive officer of the College since 1934, first as Dean of Administration and later as Chancellor.

State Glee Club In Choir Festival

Festival Opens Natl. Music Week and is Host to Over 500 Singers From 35 Clubs

The State College Glee Club wound up its year's activities Sunday when it participated with more than five hundred other singers representing thirty-five chorals groups in the second annual Choir Festival sponsored by the Raleigh Music Club as the opening gun of Raleigh's observance of National Music Week.

Mrs. Mae Finch, retiring president of the Raleigh Music Club, was the originator and promoter of the festival, which appears destined to be an annual affair for Raleigh. Sunday's program attracted an estimated three thousand people, and elicited high praise from many quarters.

Organization chairman was Miss Geraldine Cate of Saint Mary's School faculty; Mrs. Willis Casey was chairman of the committee on arrangements; Arnold Hoffmann, State Supervisor of Music Education, conducted the festival choir; Christian Kutschinski, State College Director of Music conducted the Orchestra in two special numbers and its accompaniment of the festival chorus; and Mrs. W. D. Miller was the organist. Professor Fred Wheeler of State College (also a prominent member of the City Council) opened the festival by reading Mayor Briggs' proclamation of National Music Week for Raleigh.

The orchestra is now busy putting on finishing touches for its symphony concert, which will be presented in Pullen Hall on May 17 as its final musically cultural contribution of the present school year.

State Does Well By General Assembly

Bond Issue Includes More Than a Million: Half a Million Okayed as Regular Grant: Design, Reactor, Dorm Renovations Included

"The Legislature has been good to us this year," said Chancellor Harrelson as he spoke before the first annual College Union Banquet last Thursday evening. Figures supplied The Technician by the business office show that over a million dollars has been approved by the Legislature to be included in a bond issue which totals around fifteen millions. Here is the tally:

BOND ISSUE—PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT ITEMS
School of Design	$465,000
Dairy Manufacturing, Equipment	150,000
Dormitory Renovation (Gold, Welch and Syme)	125,000
To Complete Nuclear Reactor	120,000
Pulp Lab	200,000
Agricultural Engineering	400,000
Fencing and Screening Railroad	85,000
TOTAL	$1,545,000

The above figures are separate from those which the Legislature approved in their regular appropriations. State College was awarded approximately $540,000 in the latter category. The list of these appropriations—an incomplete one—follows:

Restoration of Equipment fund borrowed from Library to award Diagnostic Laboratory Contracts	$ 54,000
Renovation of Winston Hall for classrooms	140,000
Renovation of 1911 Building for classrooms	40,000
Renovation of all old campus lighting and addition of new West Campus and South Side lighting	20,000
Storm Sewers	66,000
Maintenance Equipment	25,000
Industrial Arts Shop Equipment	25,379
Addition to Frank Thompson Gym and Swimming Pool	150,000
Renovation Page Hall	40,000
Civil and Electrical Engineering Equipment	20,000

The original requests, which were submitted to the Legislature totaled more than $6,126,000 under the heading of "Urgent Needs"; however, the Administration thinks that State College has done extremely well by this Legislature since it put so much emphasis on curtailing expenditures for the school development programs throughout the state.

Cafeteria Scene of Col. Union Banquet

First Annual Affair is Considered Big Success; Old, New CU Officers Combine Eating and Speech-Making

The College Union Social Committee sponsored the first annual College Union Banquet Thursday, April 30, 1953, at 7:30 p.m. in the college cafeteria. Those attending included the old and new chairmen of the standing committees of the College Union, the old and new members of the Board of Directors and the committee members.

Dick Pitts, outgoing president of the College Union, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening. Pitts introduced the incoming chairmen of the Union committees. Each committee chairman gave a brief resume of his committee's work for the past year and the plans for the coming year.

Dave Phillips, the incoming president, and Davis Turnage, the incoming vice president of the Union,

Stores Committee Pens Swan Song

There will be no panel discussion of the Student Supply Stores' policies and practices broadcast over WVWP this term.

Plans to hold the discussion were abandoned by the Stores Committee at the suggestion of Bob Horn who had originally conceived the idea. Horn stated that the benefits to be derived from holding such a discussion could best be realized if the program were scheduled at the beginning of the fall term rather than at the end of the spring term.

The advisory group held its final session of the school year on Tuesday to wind up its activities. Present were Chairman Howard Nahikian and C. M. Asbill, Jr., representing the faculty, Mr. L. L. Ivey and Bob Horn. Two other student members, Pete Barnwell and Max Brittain in addition to the third faculty member, Professor Briggs, were unable to attend the meeting as was J. G. Vann, the Assistant Controller.

The members present discussed the advisability of preparing a resume of the committee's activities to Chancellor Harrelson. A tentative outline of the report, which suggests that a history of the Supply Stores and an operating statement be issued to all incoming students through the medium of "The Tower," was presented by Dr. Nahikian for the consideration of the group.

After the suggested alterations have been incorporated into the report by Dr. Nahikian, it will be published in The Technician.

BANQUET—

James Milam, the outgoing vice president, and Dick Pitts were presented gifts in appreciation of their services to the College Union for the past year. Dave Phillips made the presentation.

Chancellor John Harrelson was honored by a gift from the College Union for his outstanding service to North Carolina State College during his reign as chancellor.

The College Union plans to make this banquet an annual affair to show their appreciation to the working members.

University of Maryland's Dairy Department in 1951 and is resigning from that position, effective July 1, 1953, to return to North Carolina State College.

Born in Topeka, Kansas, February 3, 1903, Dr. Stewart has been a member of the North Carolina State College faculty since 1945 when he became a professor in the Department of Animal Industry.

A widely known scientist and teacher, Dr. Stewart has conducted a wide range of research investigations, chiefly in the fields of swine breeding and nutrition, beef cattle breeding, and the breeding of sheep. His research findings have been published in a number of the nation's top-level animal industry journals.

Professor Hostetler, who is stepping down from his administrative post as head of the Animal Husbandry Section to devote his full-time efforts to teaching and research, is one of North Carolina State College's best known faculty members and one of Raleigh's most active civic and religious workers.

"For every woman who makes a fool of a man there's another who makes a man of a fool."

"Under his leadership the various foundations have strengthened the work of the College. The State College Development Council has been established with annual alumni giving as an integral and important part of this program.

"During the late twenties and early thirties he served as Director of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, and in this capacity awakened the State to the far-flung possibilities of its resources. He has been a reserve officer in the Army of the United States since 1909, and saw active service in both World Wars.

"Colonel Harrelson is active in civic and church affairs, and is a member and director of many and varied organizations too numerous to mention. Next to his wife, he loves North Carolina State College and has devoted a half century to broadening its field of service toward the economic development of North Carolina and the Nation.

"He married Miss Elizabeth Connor, of Wilson, on December 14, 1935. They reside at 1903 Hillsboro Street, Raleigh, and are looking forward to moving to their new home at 1016 Harvey Street, following his retirement June 30, 1953."

The Alumni Association, in its meeting, honored Bobby Speight of Evanston, Ill., a star basketball player for State College, when it presented him the alumni athletic trophy. The presentation was made by H. W. (Pop) Taylor, director of alumni affairs at the college.

Captain Thompson

Mel Thompson, 6-3 center and rising senior, has been elected captain of the State Wolfpack for the 1954 cage season. Noted for his hustle and determination, Thompson was selected by his teammates in a vote. He has been the No. 1 center for Coach Everett Case's Pack for the past two seasons.

Wood, Kennett are First Place Winners As NCS Poultry Team Places Third

The Southern Poultry Judging Contest was held in Memphis, Tennessee, April 16 and 17, with N. C. State winning third place. Arkansas won first place and Texas second. There were nine teams competing.

In individual placing Bynum Wood, a junior from Sandy Ridge, N. C., and a member of the N. C. State team, won first place in the entire contest. Connor Kennett, a junior from Durham, N. C., won first place in the market products division.

Other members of the team are Ned Rash, a junior from West Jefferson, N. C., and Luther Robinson, a sophomore from Clinton, N. C. The N. C. State team was coached by T. T. Brown, Professor of Poultry Science at N. C. State College.

The North Carolina State Mutual Hatchery Association, Inc., has awarded $125 in cash prizes to members of the team who participated in the contest.

Prof. Brown announced the list of award winners and expressed appreciation to the association for its interest in the student group. Bynum M. Wood received the highest prize of $35 for placing first on the team and also first in the entire contest. Kennett received $32.50 for placing first in the market products division of the contest and Ned Rash, the third man on the team, received $30. Luther Robinson, who was alternate in the contest, received $27.50.

THE EDITOR'S
 NOTES
 IN PASSING

Don't be surprised if this column starts reading like the Academy Award presentations from now on, for the Editor has every intention of bestowing several carefully screened credits upon those who have earned them during the past year.

First, there is Jerry (There's a Ford in Your Future*) Erdahl. Because Jerry lives, eats, sleeps, and personifies the spirit of the Union he has been able to breathe life into our local Union organization to make of it a vital, dynamic unit which has and will continue to contribute so substantially to the progress, well-being and welfare of State College, its faculty, staff, and not least of all, its students.

When Jerry delivered the keynote address (a signal honor) at the National Union Convention held in San Francisco last month, he had the delegates at the meeting dotting on his every word while he expounded on the "Basic Philosophy of the Union," a formidable subject in any man's language. He outlined his conception of that philosophy in its purest and most serviceable form and by so doing gave many of the country's less progressive directors an insight into a dynamic philosophy virtually unknown to them before. We of State College enjoy the benefits of the Erdahl philosophy in action. It is the foundation upon which our exceptionally strong Union organization is built and thrives.

Yes, Sir, we're sold on the Union and because we are and because we are so thoroughly indoctrinated with Jerry's philosophy — with modifications — we should all like to become, upon leaving State College, lifetime members of the Union by proxy, if not officially. Will you accept us in that capacity, Jerry?

The close physical association from which The Technician and Union's staffs have derived so much mutual benefit, satisfaction, and pleasure has not gone unappreciated either. We are therefore more determined than ever to continue the close contact and look with wide-eyed hope to the plans which the Union has for an annex to the main building now nearing completion.

Perhaps the lion's share of the benefits which have been gleaned from this pleasant association have been enjoyed by the Editor personally as much as anyone, but only insofar as he has been successful in broadcasting and implanting the seeds of the Union philosophy in the fertile young minds of the students who will remain to germinate them. The Union, as you all know, has its basic being in the students themselves.

Well now, back to Jerry for a wind-up. Jerry, for being Mr. College Union himself, for setting and maintaining the high standards which you have, for letting us exploit you to fullest extent, witty-wise and car-wise, for letting us love you for what you are rather than what we would like you to be, take a non-taxable bow. You've earned it boy.

*(A $50 Erdahl original.)

A nod this week to Tom Avery of SAE who did such a fine job during the past two weeks as head of the Elections Committee for Campus Government. A record number of voters responded to the pleas of the men in the sound truck and those printed on the "Operation Spirit" memos which were slipped under the dormitory doors by Tom Avery's fraternity underlings. They all did us a good, constructive turn.

Several other SAE's have shown themselves to be voters par excellence by making such a strong showing at the polls during the run-off. To them went the Vice-presidency in addition to the positions of Secretary and Treasurer in Campus Government. Does this indicate that an unbeatable fraternity block has been formed? No, not at all.

Weeks before the polls opened, the SAE's began to stimulate interest in the elections among their brothers, particularly those who were already members of Campus Government. Those who finally decided to run for high officers were, as a result, fully aware of what they would run up against. They were also well qualified to hold positions which they sought.

The manner in which election interest was stimulated within the fraternity is, in our opinion, most commendable, especially if one takes into consideration the scramble which ensued in at least one other fraternity as it scavenged the list of offices open (at the last minute) and then assigned men to run for offices which were unopposed or which no one had signed for at all. This is a loathsome practice, one which we hope will not rear its ugly head again for a long time.

Another commendable aspect of the SAE electioneering campaign was the way that the candidates hit the dorms with everything they had, and then some. The entire student body (voting) was responsible for their having been elected. They were not put in office by a fraternity block. This is good.

We don't know how too many other people feel about it, but we would be inclined to pick SAE as top fraternity on this campus. How about it?

Has everyone observed the symbol of the South's undying patriotism, the Confederate flag now being displayed on the Nuclear Reactor's tall, well-stacked chimney tower?

It is the Editor's considerate opinion that, as of last week, a majority of the non-voting students on this campus, because of their apathetic interest and passive participation in the recent campus election, have automatically forfeited the privilege—or luxury as you prefer—of being listened to should they be so bold as to criticize any policies or actions which the new campus government administration might or might not follow.

Fortunately the new Campus Government officials, even though not extended vigorous support during the election, are all exceptionally competent, conscientious men. The students should be thankful for that too, especially in view of the fact that perhaps the time will soon arrive when a slate of candidates absolutely unfit to steer C.G.'s course during the cruises to come might sail into office without the student's having become aware of their respective qualifications.

This will surely happen if conditions remain as they are, and then the students, to put it mildly, will find themselves in a hell-ava fix, won't they?

Excuse this if it sounds Gabriel Heasterish, but there's good news from the Dining Hall. Harry Stewart says that he is not the least bit interested in extending his You're not forgetting any American (yourself included) when you give the priceless gift of blood.

To the veteran recuperating in a service hospital, blood is what it takes to make him whole and well again.

To the helpless child threatened with Polio, blood may mean protection against crippling disfigurement.

And to you yourself, blood may mean the difference between life and death in time of accident or disaster. For blood saves lives!

But blood cannot be mined or manufactured. This priceless, painless gift must come from the veins of healthy men and women. Men and women who feel concern for themselves, their country and their fellow man.

What better reasons are there for giving blood as often as you can?

realm of food activity into the College Union. We cheer his decision to remain with what he has.

We should also like to be able to cheer another decision, one which Mr. Stewart has not yet arrived at. It would be the decision to establish, of his own volition, a Student Advisory Food Committee to act as a liaison between the Dining Hall and the student body.

How about it, Mr. Stewart? Are you game?

If our readers have not found what they have learned to expect, a blazing, burn-em-up editorial in The Technician this week it is because the Editor decided to stand pat and cool his heels for a spell. Besides, the blows which have been struck in the last three weeks haven't all hit home yet. Best we wait and see what success the Wolfpack Club enjoys with its fund subscription campaign aimed at the parents of every student. Somebody else on Campus is interested in these returns also. They are the group trying to rustle up $96,000 for an undergraduate scholarship program. Let's hope that the Wolfpackers didn't make too big a dent in the financial resources of the College's friends and associates.

Jordan, Yarbrough and Krook Pen Letters of Appreciation

Bob Krook, successful candidate for the position of Treasurer to the Campus Government has issued a post-election statement which reads:

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for electing me to the position of treasurer of Campus Government.

"I feel that under the capable leadership of Bill Oliver, the new Council will serve the student body as faithfully in the future as Campus Government has in the past.

"The Council cannot, however, function properly unless it has the backing of the student majority; therefore, in order that you may benefit fully from your Campus Government, I ask you, the Student Body, to pledge your full support to the new Council and its officers."

Bob Krook.

The Vice president and Secretary-elect respectively of Campus Government, Bob Jordan and Harry Yarbrough, Jr., have both expressed their appreciation for the support they received in the recent election. Says Bob Jordan:

"The honor you have given me by this election is greatly appreciated. With Bill Oliver as our new president and with the support of the other new members of the C. G., I am certain that we can make this coming year a prosperous one for the student body. I pledge my continued support to the students."

Bob Jordan.

From the 'Y', a Letter to the Editor

Editors Note: The Editor intends to stick to his guns on the issue which has recalled to mind the following letter. They phrase in the letter which has been set apart and which reads "at least one candidate" is what was originally referred to in a TECHNICIAN editorial decrying the methods of selecting candidates for high office in the Union and "Y." In our opinion the phrase should read "at least two candidates," in order for it to be acceptable regardless of whether or not two candidates are available. Nonetheless, we appreciate having been sent this letter for it clearly demonstrates that none of us are infallible.

Dear Editor:

Your editorial of April 17 in which you protest the method of selecting the president and vice-president of the College Union and the College YMCA has been read with interest. However, if you had consulted the YMCA Constitution, as you did the Union Constitution, you would have noted that the YMCA Board of Directors does not select the nominees for these offices.

I quote Art. VIII, Section 1 of the YMCA Constitution: "At least two weeks before the end of the Winter term, the President shall appoint a Nominating Committee which shall nominate at least one candidate for each office unless the Nominating Committee and Cabinet decide that it is desirable to nominate candidates only for the offices of President, Treasurer, and Secretary, accepting for Vice-President the Presidential candidate receiving the second highest number of votes in the final election."

And Section II of Art. VIII states: "At the time the President appoints the Nominating Committee, he shall notify the general student body that suggestions for candidates for the offices of the Association will be accepted by the Nominating Committee for two weeks."

Section II requires the Nominating Committee to submit its report to the President at least two weeks before the date of the primary election.

Section IV states that following the Cabinet's adoption of the Nominating Committee report, the candidates shall be presented to the student body for election subject to the rules and regulations of the Campus Government.

The most important section of this article is number 5 and I quote: "In considering candidates, the Nominating Committee shall keep in mind the following qualifications: (1) Devotion to the purpose of the Association and willingness to give the office to which elected first place in extra-curricular activities, (2) Academic standing, (3) Ability to get along with people and to enlist their cooperation.

The new Secretary had this to say:

"Thank you very much for putting me into office. I will strive to do my best for the students. Under the leadership of Bill Oliver and with everyone cooperating, I'm sure the Campus Government will function very efficiently."

Fabulous Freshmen Hot

Followers of North Carolina State's Wolfpack who thought the zenith of Coach Everett Case's talent search was reached with last season's freshman cagers had better see what September will bring.

Case's fabulous frosh, now rising sophomores, already have Pack veterans worried about their standing as starters next winter, but the next crop may be even better.

A report at the Wolfpack lair was that an enthusiastic alumnus had arrived with a youngster from Ohio who had to duck his head to enter Case's office. It was claimed he was 6-11 and might be seven feet with a summer's growth—the Wolfpack's answer to phenomenal Bevo Francis of Rio Grande who will come here for a two-night stand against State and Wake Forest next season.

A mite ranked by having his sixth straight Southern Conference championship snatched away six weeks ago, Case may not be so particular to hold his next freshman team back from varsity competition.

Whatever the summer will turn up, Case is well pleased with the bunch he will choose from for his team next year.

His varsity regulars woke up Friday night to the hard fact that they're going to have to hustle.

Unless they do, Case has warned that they will be on the bench—the frosh served plenty of notice in the scrapping Red and White game that they are ready, with class to spare.

In fact, out of last year's holdovers only two—new Capt. Mel Thompson and guard Dave Gotkin—could breathe with ease after the full-dress intra-squad game, and Thompson probably will lose his job as center, moving to forward to make way for tall Ronnie Shavlik of the frosh.

Gotkin, who scored 23 points Friday night, could be hard-pressed by any of four—Whitey Bell and Vic Molodet, the classy frosh guards, Herb Applebaum, a swarthy veteran, or ballhawking Ronnie Scheffel, another veteran.

Among the forwards, veteran Dick Tyler will have to hustle to keep ahead of rising sophs Phil Dinardo and Lou Dickman.

Danny Knapp, who started at center against the sky-scraping Shavlik, was in plenty of trouble. He was charged with four fouls in the first five minutes of play. After that it was a standoff between Thompson and Shavlik, with Shavlik netting 18 to 19 for Thompson.

Among last year's Pack subs who showed promise Friday night were forwards Bobby Adams, who scored 15 points for the winning Whites and left-handed Jim Stevenson, who got 11 for the Reds.

The Whites, with Thompson, Gotkin, Bell, Dickman and Adams pacing the play, defeated the Reds of Tyler, Dinardo, Stevenson, Shavlik, Molodet, Applebaum and Scheffel, 86 to 77.

West and Langston Look Terrific

Quarterback Eddie West and Fullback Don Langston sparked the White Squad to a 27-18 win over the Reds Saturday as Coach Horace Hendrickson's State Wolfpack gridders wound up 20 days of off-season practice with their annual intra-squad game in Riddick Stadium.

West, a 190-pound rising sophomore from Alexandria, Va., tossed two touchdown passes and Langston reeled off a 56-yard run for the other score as the White team showed its superiority early in the contest. The Whites, however, were forced to fight off a third and fourth quarter challenge by the Reds to pull the game out of the fire.

The Red team, paced by Quarterbacks Colbert Micklem and Archie Faires and Halfback John Zubaty, rallied in the second half for a pair of scores after trailing 21-6 at the intermission. Zubaty had a 50-yard run on a handoff for one touch-

Rookie Yvars Stars In Blue Devil Tilt

Jack Yvars, strong freshman righthander, yielded just one hit to Duke's Blue Devils as he pitched and batted State's Wolfpack to a 5-0 shutout victory at the State College diamond Tuesday afternoon before a crowd of about 500.

Dick Brewer, Blue Devil second baseman, singled sharply past Dud Whitley at third in the fifth inning after two men were out to spoil Jack Yvars' bid for a no-hitter. The rest of the Duke lineup was unable to solve any of Yvars' offerings. Five Blue Devils were issued walks in five different innings and Gordon Clapp was safe in the ninth when Second Baseman Jack Turney bobbled a slow grounder.

Lewis Takes Third Loss

Jack Yvars and his battery mate, Carl Wyles, furnished two blows in the second inning that proved to be more than enough to hand Righthander Joe Lewis his third defeat of the season against six wins. Lewis was pitching with only two days of rest after blanking South Carolina on Saturday.

First Baseman Eddie Morris started a three-run splurge in the second with a double to left center. Then Wyles, who was catching his second game after playing most of the season in the outfield, drove the first pitch to him over the leftfield fence. It was his fifth homer of the season and third against Big Four competition. Lewis got Ed Horbelt on a called third strike, and Sonny Santoli grounded out to short. Taking a lesson from Wyles, Jack Yvars took a full swing at the first pitch and blasted it over the leftfield fence. Whitley and Turney reached Lewis for singles before Johnny Yvars forced Turney at second to end the inning.

Revenge for State

It was the first win for State over Duke after sustaining two one-sided defeats from the Blue Devils. Duke walloped State, 12-4, here in Raleigh earlier in the season and trounced the Pack, 23-3, in Durham, Lewis collected both of the wins.

After one was out in the third inning, Lewis issued two walks, but that scoring opportunity died when Lewis struck out Horbelt and Santoli popped out to short.

In the seventh, Johnny Yvars rapped a double to centerfield and was thrown out at the plate on Fuscio's single. Rightfielder Johnny Gibbons made a perfect throw to the plate and caught Johnny by 10 or 12 feet. Morris grounded into a double play to cut the inning short.

Lewis went out in the eighth for a pinch-hitter and State touched reliever Dick Kreutzer for two insurance runs in the bottom of the frame. Wyles and Horbelt were walked and Santoli sacrificed both base runners. Horbelt scored on a wild pitch and Jack Yvars singled Santoli home.

Wolfpack Needs Win Over Wake for Fourth

Southern and Northern Division baseball champions in the Southern Conference probably will be known by Saturday.

North Carolina's Tar Heels, boasting a record of ten conference victories against three defeats, are heavy favorites now to sew up the Southern title. The only teams with a chance of catching them are Wake Forest's Deacons and Duke's Blue devils, with 8-4 records.

The Northern Division race isn't that simple. George Washington's Colonials and Maryland's Terps are deadlocked for the lead with 6-2 records.

To complicate matters, nobody knows for certain how many games either George Washington or Maryland will play to round out the campaign. Some games which have been postponed won't be rescheduled unless they have bearing on the championship.

The races to determine the second-place clubs in each division likely will go right down to the start of the Southern Conference tournament at Raleigh, N. C., May 14. Runnersup in each division will compete in the tourney along with the champions in a four-team playoff for the conference crown.

Duke's ace righthander, Joe Lewis, saw to it personally Saturday that the Blue Devils remained in the Southern picture by shutting out the South Carolina Gamecocks on five hits, 4-0.

down, Faires connected with End John Thompson for one score, and Micklem pitched one scoring strike to End Paul Smith for the other.

In the first quarter both teams scored. Langston's 56-yard gallop on a handoff was the payoff for the Whites, while Micklem and Zubaty collaborated on a 60-yard drive that paid off for the Reds. Micklem tossed the score to End Paul Smith. The Red try for the extra point was wide, but Guard John Bagonis converted for the Whites and they led 7-6 at the end of the first period.

West set up two touchdown strikes in the second quarter, both on brilliant throws. The first was a 50-yard toss to End Finley Reed. The second pitch was to End Henry Brown, which carried to the 2-yard line where Halfback Chris Fraunhofer scored.

Thinclads Lose

Joel Shankle scored 23 points to lead Duke's track team to an 87-44 win over State here Tuesday.

Shankle finished first in the 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles, broad jump and high jump, and tied with two others for first place in the pole vault.

Buzz Sawyer scored 10 points to pace State's scoring.

started with a walk and went to third on two infield outs—the only Blue Devil to reach third in the ball game. Bill Werber's fly to right ended the frame. A leadoff walk in the seventh again failed to produce a run when Morris eliminated two runners with an unassisted double play. The lead man of the final two innings got on but neither reached second.

Jack Yvars, with three hits in four trips, paced State's 10-hit attack. Turney got two hits. For Yvars, who certainly pitched the best game of the season at State, it was his third win against no defeats.

IDC Sponsors Poll In Quadrangle: Gets Out a 244 Vote

On Wednesday, April 29, the Interdormitory Council sponsored a poll for the Campus Government in the "Mop-Up" in the quadrangle between Becton and Bagwell dormitories. This was done mainly for the convenience of the students of this area and also to help the Campus Government get out the vote. Approximately 244 votes were cast at this poll during the day. Those responsible for caring for the polls were: Henry Ramseur, Pres. of Bagwell; Craig Barnhardt, Vice-Pres. of Bagwell; J. D. Foster, Athletic Director of Bagwell; Al Pruden, Secretary of Bagwell; Jack McDade, IDC President; Jim Cook, Vice-President of Berry; John Kirkman, Berry; Giles Willis, Berry; Jack Farrar, Berry; Donald Davis, Berry; Willie Parks, President of Becton; and Charlie Osburne of Bagwell Dormitory.

Milton sez!!! "Thank You, Wolf-Pack!!!"
Before opening the doors on my new CLOTHING CUPBOARD last Monday there was a moot question, to wit: Was it nobler to dress the joint up in a hurry (and at great expense), or to save the money for the while, AND PASS THOSE SAVINGS ALONG TO CAMPUS CUSTOMERS in the wistful hope that one might thereby recall some old friends; mayhap, also pick up a few new ones. Well, we tore up the moot and cast the die, and now there ain't no moot no more. For the CUPBOARD has been loaded with buying customers all week long.
MILTON DID NOT GET RICH LAST WEEK (who could at those prices?) However, we were crowded to the doors with Carolina Gentlemen who found quality merchandise at bargain prices on those make-shift counters. So they bought in quantity and MILTON did a whole of a business.
Frankly, I want the Wolf-Pack to know on which side it's clothing bread is buttered, and though this may not be the way to get rich, it's my theory that it is a very good way to become known. SO WITH MANY NEW ITEMS ADDED (check below), THE SALE AT MILTON'S CLOTHING CUPBOARD GOES ON FOR AT LEAST ONE MORE WEEK!!!!

Kenfield's Netters Take Two Victories

North Carolina State's tennis team dealt Richmond's Spiders their fifth setback against a single victory here last week, 7-1.

The Wolfpack netters lost only one singles match. Alif Aksel, Turkish exchange student, captured the No. 1 singles match from Richmond's Jim Cofer, 8-6, 6-0.

The summary:
Alif Aksel (NCS) defeated Jim Cofer, 8-6, 6-0.
Don Kline (NCS) defeated Fred Bigser, 7-5, 0-6, 6-1.
Howie Greenberg (NCS) defeated Charles Bowden, 6-0, 6-3.
John Duffett (NCS) defeated Peyton Farmer, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4.
Coleman Figg (R) defeated Bill Cashion, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.
Carl Coopersmith (NCS) defeated Neil DeWitt, 6-0, 6-1.
Greenberg and Gough (NCS) defeated Bigser and Bowden, 6-0, 6-1.
Coopersmith and Garman (NCS) defeated DeWitt and Mell Morrison, 6-0, 6-2.

The Pack also captured two of the three doubles matches Saturday to eke out a 5-4 tennis victory over Hamden-Sydney after the two teams had split even in the singles.

In the feature singles match, State's Alif Aksel whipped Hamden-Sydney's Dick Edmunds, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1.

Summaries:
Aksel (NCS) defeated Edmunds, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1.
Richards (HS) defeated Kline, 6-3, 6-2.

Greenberg (NCS) defeated Saffelle, 6-3, 6-3.

LETTER—

(Continued from Page 4) I personally feel that each member of the student body is given a chance to be considered by the YMCA Nominating Committee. Our Constitution does require that its candidates be devoted to seeking to understand the will of God and to strive to realize it both in personal living and in working towards a Christian society. No student willing to subscribe to our association's purpose would ever be excluded from the consideration of the Nominating Committee.

We would welcome them into our fellowship with open arms.

Sincerely,
Bill Fulcher
President

Information Sought on Student Activities

A form for reporting your participation in various college activities is being circulated throughout the campus. These forms will be added to the students' records in the Student Personnel Office. This information is an important addition to the records. Each student is urged to cooperate for the benefit of having this important information available.

Off campus students—those not living in dormitories, fraternity or veterans' housing—are requested to come to the Student Personnel office at 10 Holladay Hall to fill out one of the forms.

Student Debaters Consider Solid South

The 18th "All-Participation" debate was held in Pullen Hall at North Carolina State College last Wednesday.

The program was sponsored by Prof. Edwin H. Paget's public speaking classes. Topic of the debate was "Resolved That the Solid South Has Been Permanently Broken."

Discussion leaders were J. T. Colwick of Parsons, Tenn., Wade Ritchie of Concord, Gilbert Boone of Spring Hope, James Deal of Newton, David Vivino of Preakness, N. J., William Gragg of Greensboro, Edward Frantz of Lebanon, Pa., and Lamont Fitzgerald of Raleigh.

Debate Adviser

Speech Activities Director Is Endorsed by Former Student York, Builder of 'Village'

Prof. Edwin H. Paget, faculty adviser for debating at North Carolina State College, has been named a sustaining member of the Community Builders' Council of the Urban Land Institute and will attend the council's spring analysis session in Houston, Texas, Thursday and Friday.

He was endorsed for council membership by J. W. York of Raleigh, builder of Cameron Village and a former student of Pro-essor Paget's public speaking classes.

In addition to directing the speech activities at State College, Professor Paget has organized and taught classes in salesmanship in Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Sanford, Wilson, and Rocky Mount. He has also acted as a sales and promotion consultant for several North Carolina companies and trade associations.

He recently completed a study of improved sales and promotional methods in community shopping centers.

New Courses Offered By Gaston Institute School Run by NCS

The Gaston Technical Institute of Gastonia, a training center operated by North Carolina State College, will offer an expanded program of instruction during the next school year.

The Gaston Technical Institute is operated by the State College School of Engineering and the college's Extension Division and is directed by James I. Mason. The fall term will begin with the registration of students on September 21-22.

Three principal curricula will be offered. They are electrical technology, radio and television technology, and internal combustion engines.

Details of the Technical Institute's program for next year are contained in a new booklet just published by the State College Extension Division. Copies may be obtained free of charge by writing the Extension Division, North Carolina State College, Raleigh, or the Gaston Technical Institute, Gastonia, North Carolina.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil
Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SHEDDY shed crocodile tears till he had alligator bags under his eyes, because he got the gator from his girl. "I'm going to hide from you and your horrible hair," she said "until you go gator bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Keeps hair well-groomed from morning 'till night. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." Paul slithered down to a nearby toilet goods counter for Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's swamped with purse-lipped females who want him to crocodile their telephone numbers. So water you waiting for? Buy a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil, or ask for it on your hair at any barber shop. Then your social life will stop dragon, and you'll scale the heights.
