

Term Social Events Are Announced

By MORTON GLUCK
"All work and no play makes Johnny a dull boy." The different Clubs, Dorms, and Fraternities about the campus are evidently anxious to see that none of their members will join the rank of "dull socialites"; so they have already made reservations for facilities at which to hold their social functions at this time. A list of these dances was submitted by the Social Functions Committee and has been approved by the Dean of Students.

As far as the dormitories go, Bagwell Dorm Club has arranged to hold its dance on Friday night, February 19 at the gym. Turlington and Tucker Dormitory Clubs have reserved Friday night, March 3, and Saturday night, March 4, respectively, for their social get-togethers—also at the gym.

Textile Society
The Tompkins Textile Society is, however, going to break the ice by starting off the Winter Term with their dance at the gym on the eve of January 21.

The Outing Club is going to square dance inside the Naval Army on February 10, and the gym will be decorated on February 18 for the Ag Club Barbequing. The big weekend of dancing, fun, and frolic sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council this term will take place on Feb. 3 and 4. Friday night the informal dance will be held at the gym on Saturday night all eligible social fraternity members will whirl a girl to the rhythm of Charlie Spivack and his Orchestra.

Junior-Senior
Spring will be welcomed on April 22 at Memorial Auditorium by the Juniors and Seniors at their annual Prom.

Alpha Gamma Rho and Pi Kappa Phi will probably close the season with their dance at the gym on May 13. This schedule shows a promising and eventful season to be enjoyed by almost every student at State for months to come.

Student Exchange Open Until Jan. 12

The Student Book Exchange is now open until Jan. 12. Any student who has old books and desires to sell them are asked to bring them over to the store in barracks 15. The Exchange does not buy or sell books, but acts as a medium of exchange. The seller sets his own price, leaves the book in the Exchange, until it is sold. A small handling price of 10 cents per book is charged up to $3.99, and 5 per cent of the selling price for books selling for $4.00 or more.

Proceeds
Proceeds of the Exchange will be turned over to the Treasurer of Alpha Zeta to be used in building a $100 scholarship to be awarded to a rising sophomore in the School of Agriculture.

The Exchange is operated by Alpha Zeta under the supervision of the Campus Government. It has been asked that all students having books in the store to come by and pick up their money, and all those who offered old books for sale are asked to pick them up as the space is needed.

Civil Service Exams Soon

Junior, Seniors and graduate students in the Engineering School may be interested in some recent announcements of the U. S. Civil Service. Examinations are to be given soon for appointments to jobs under the following headings:
(1) Engineer, and Civil Engineer (Trains). Jobs with the Bureau of Reclamation, in the West and Midwest.
(2) Junior Scientist, (Chemist, Physicist, Metallurgist) and Engineer Jobs are in Washington, D. C., Maryland, Virginia, and the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Part Time Employment
In some cases students are employed during vacation periods, with leave-of-absence granted while attending school.

The experience of making this application and taking the examination can be valuable in itself, whether or not it leads to the acceptance of a job with the Civil Service.

The full announcements may be examined at the Student Personnel Office, 105 Peele, where application cards are also available.

Students Wives Club

Students Wives Club will hold a meeting Tuesday, January 10 at 7:30 p.m., in the West Campus YNCA. The program will feature bridge, beginners bridge, and rummy. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be served. All veterans wives are cordially invited.

Dixie Classic

Congratulations go to the men behind the planning for the First Annual Dixie Classic. The event was the best tournament ever held in this state, and probably the best in the South. This was evidenced by the fact that over fifty thousand persons attended the three-day event, and over 11,000 were on hand for the opening afternoon's games.

Top-flight teams were presented, seats were reasonably priced, and generally the tournament was well handled.

To top things off, excellent trophies and medals were presented to the participating teams, who reported that they were well received during their stay in Raleigh. Congratulations again for a job well done.

Scholarship

In this week's edition of the TECHNICIAN, as you have probably realized, the editors have devoted considerable space in publicizing those students who have achieved high honors in scholarship.

While most of us are not too excited about cramming the books in an effort to reach the heights of scholastic success, we must nevertheless recognize the importance of scholarship and what it means to the college student.

It is indeed a pleasure for the TECHNICIAN to recognize these men on their achievements and to congratulate them on a job well done.

New Years Wishes

While we are in the well-wishing mood, the TECHNICIAN wishes for all of its readers a happy and prosperous New Year. The staff hopes that during the past year that the readers of the TECHNICIAN have enjoyed their school paper. The TECHNICIAN office is always open to anyone who would like to come in and offer suggestions as to how the paper may be improved.

THE KEYHOLE

By MAX HALBER

With barely enough time left to sober up from the holiday "spirit" we are at it again. Some of us hit the books hard last term and raked in quality points; some of us spent too much time at the Angel Farm and are now wrestling with the C-average. But all of us are here for one primary purpose: to absorb as much technical and academic knowledge for the cruel future as possible. And though dates mean nothing, the naked beginning of our tiny new year offers a convenient pause for a breather while we take stock and make resolutions.

What with the very versatile and ambitious press, radio, movies, and advertising, a lot of our thinking is done for us. We are often committing acts without much premeditation. We let habits, traditions, and conventions drag us along in sometimes life-long ruts. We frequently speak without considering how we appear to others, what we do to others. And herein lies my proposed resolution: THINK. Keep on drinking, keep on being noisy. Remain being selfish and consider yourself first. When driving be sure to lean against a raucous horn and scare hell out of every pedestrian crossing the street. "Borrow" Roscoe's fags and blow smoke in his face. Then put yourself in his shoes and . . . THINK.

In our "cold" war and in our misery of running or plugged schnozzolas we are apt to accept anything on the market that promises relief. Currently the antihistamines are the rage of Paul de Kruijff's Reader Digest article and the numerous newspaper and magazine ads. It has been the writer's experience that a highly ballooned movie or venture proved almost invariably mediocre, while the obscure but excellent ones only needed to speak for themselves. A parallel may be found in these new wonder drugs which claim to end, stop, kill, or banish colds. In order to make a hit with the public, the drug was launched with a gigantic advertising campaign, but the Food and Drug Administration, the National Better Business Bureau, the Federal Trade Commission, and the American Medical Association are warning the general public of an unconditional and wholehearted acceptance of a drug which so far has enjoyed only negative statistical prominence.

With The Greeks

By JACK McQUINN

With the old year but a week in the past most Greeks can look back upon a period of good fortune, pleasant occasions and other things too of a more sentimental nature. Of course, you understand we are an unusually optimistic breed of people who slave on the Technician week after long week, never any troubles, heartaches and so forth. Even if you should choose to disagree with us as to your personal luck during '49 no one can deny it hasn't been good for the fraternity colony at State. Our numbers have increased several hundreds, projects of beneficial nature to School and City have been carried out and tremendous improvements have been made in public relations. The I.F.C. has done yeoman work in sponsoring the Pledge Dances this Fall and straightening out, to a degree, the tangled Fraternity Rules situation. For the most part our association with the College Administration has been pleasant. However, we still look forward to the day when the attitude of that august trio will be of the "hands unstretched" variety and not just benevolent tolerance.

Varied Comment

Thus far we have heard varied comment, both good and bad, on Mr. Williamson's stirring article in the last issue of the Technician. Without taking a definite stand for or against his point of view we would have this to say about the matter of whether or not restrictive clauses as to race, creed and color should be abolished in the charters of our college fraternities. As campus politico Wade Hobson would say, "it's strictly a matter of ever how you happen to see it." If we were advising delegates to national fraternity conventions we would say vote against any ruling by the national office which would prevent the individual chapters from choosing any man they would sincerely like to include in their membership, whatever may be his religion or race. In other words, leave the matter up to the individual chapter. In reality the fraternity at school is nothing more than a club composed of boys with similar interests. The bond between chapters of the same fraternal order at different schools never has and probably never will be of any great strength. Therefore, we state again that the chapter, being in itself a local club as far as the deepest fraternal feeling is concerned, should be free to choose whom it so desires for its brethren. In effect, the fraternal cooperation between chapters of the same order would pattern after the Baptist Association of churches. If one chapter wanted to vary as to race or color in their membership they could do so, being completely on their own. Also if they desired, they would be free to band together with others of their order to restrict their membership. We would be dead set against any move by a college to say that fraternal clubs on their campuses must admit certain groups of people, which is to say we think Amherst College was very much in the wrong in declaring the frats must either "open up or get out."

The very latest and best rumors say that Charlie Spivak, trumpet man deluxe and latest and best on Maybe It's Because, will play for the Mid-winters Dances February 3 & 4.

Student Association Sponsors Foreign Trav

Travel programs of the U. S. National Student Association will provide a summer of education and adventure for more than 800 students in 1950.

Tentative prices for tours range from $340 to $625 for nine travel programs, six workcamps, and two foreign study programs.

Transportation will be by sea and air. "However, all facts and figures are not final," Erakine Childers, NSA vice president for international affairs explained. Children's office is 18 Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

He said that final plans would be set in January, 1950, and that all particulars and application forms would be available then. Here is a run-down of one of the tentative programs:

Travel Programs
Tri-Nation Tours of England, France and Holland, for 180 students, at $650.
Arts Tour through Paris, Florence and Venice in Italy, Switzerland, Holland, and England, for 30 students, at $875.

Festival Tours to Europe's summer music and drama festivals in Salzburg, Oberammergau for the Passion Play, Lucerne, and Edinburgh, for 70 students, at $850.

International Tours through England, France, Switzerland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Germany, England, France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria, and Holland, both groups of 55 students, at $625.

Southern Tours through France, Switzerland, and Italy, for 60 students, at $850.

Eastern European Tour, with one week in British International Summer School, then through Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and back to Paris, for 30 students, at $690.

Middle Eastern Tour from England, through Turkey, Israel for study-tours and work-camps, and possibly in Egypt, for 25 students, at $680.

Northern Tours through England, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, for 100 students, at $590.

Also under investigation:
India in work-camp and seminar, South Africa study-tour, Latin-American Tours—none above $800 at most.

Urgent Call Given By Dimes Campaign

An alarming number of people in age groups that include college and university students were victims of 1949's epidemics of poliomyelitis in this country, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis declared in issuing a special, urgent call for organized March of Dimes campaign participation by college and university student bodies.

The last year, Mr. O'Connor said, has seen the largest number of polio cases in any one year in any country in the history of the world or more than 42,000 cases. Of these 42,000 it is estimated that more than 10,000 were over 15 years of age with the greatest number proportionally between the ages of 15 and 24.

A realistically successful 1950 March of Dimes campaign is necessary, the National Foundation president said, to meet these demands as well as other obligations of the organization. Mr. O'Connor pointed out that these obligations are of peculiar importance to institutions of higher learning, their student bodies and faculties.

The Glamour Icees

Twenty-four Lovelies that will be seen in the ICE VOGUES OF 1950 coming to the Memorial Auditorium January 9 through 14. Nightly at 8:15 and a Bargain Matinee Saturday at 2:30 P.M. Students can secure a coupon at the YMCA or Student Supply Store that will entitle them to a 50 cents reduction on any priced reserved seat for the first two nights.

IT DOES COUNT

Sponsored by the Interdormitory Council

A sermon could be preached or maybe a book could be written on consideration. Do you ever think of your dorm brothers as brothers?

Now that the fun and merriment of Christmas has subsided and everyone can still feel the effects of all the hog's jowl, blackeyed peas, and booze that was consumed New Year's, let's make a resolution (not a New Year's resolution because they are already broke) to be a little more considerate in 1950.

How can I be more considerate? The one thing that comes to my mind now is the use of telephones in the dorms. If you drool to some dame for an hour and a half while others are waiting to use the phone, this doesn't show very much consideration. Remember—others are waiting.

Last Monday night I was in one of the dorms on the first floor when a call came for a person that lived downstairs. (It wouldn't do to print what the fellow said that answered the phone.) Just think, he didn't even have any studying to do this early in the term.

If you are out, and want to call your roommate or someone else in the dorms, send the call directly to the floor on which they live.

Wolfpack Post Win Over San Francisco 69-54; Meet Duke's Blue Devils At Durham Tomorrow

Ranzino Leads Way By Bucketing 28 Points

By Joe Hancock

Playing before the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game in the South, State College's Wolfpack turned back the highly regarded San Francisco Dons 69-54 at the Coliseum Tuesday night.

The Pack, who played on even terms with the NIT Champs for most of the evening, broke loose with a fifteen point spurge in the last three minutes to take the affair going away.

Sammy Leads The Way
Forwards Sam Ranzino and Dick Dickey were the leaders for the Wolfpack, Sammy pacing the scoring with 28 points, and Dickey leading the floor work with a brilliant display of ball-hawking and rebound work. Despite a thigh injury, Center Paul Horvath played a good game under the basket, and was second in the scoring with 15 points.

Leaders for the Dons were Don Geisen and Frank Kusara, who collected 16 and 12 points respectively. Geisen, a six foot forward, was deadly on his one handed push shot, but did not have too many opportunities to shoot. Kusara, an Indiana product, also used a one handed shot in bucketing his 12 points.

Disappointing
Biggest disappointments of the game were All-America candidates Don Lofgran and Rene Herrerias. Lofgran failed to show any All-America characteristics, and his attitude all through the game finally resulted in his being jerked by Coach Pete Newell. Herrerias, billed as a defensive standout, did little in the way of stopping Ranzino from popping the net.

The battle started slowly, with deliberate, cautious play by both teams. With a little more than five minutes left in the first half, Ranzino sent two quick one handers in the hoop to put the Pack ahead 22-17. This lead was short-lived, however, and the Dons pushed ahead with 2:25 left in the first half. Again it was Ranzino who pushed the Pack ahead, and they left the floor with a 29-28 lead.

Short Lead
At the opening of the second stanza, the West Coast boys took command and forged into a 32-29 lead during the first three minutes. Their lead was cut short, and a push shot by Horvath tied the game up at 34-all after 6:00.

At this point, the Wolfpack took charge of the game and except at the 3:30 mark when the Dons edged within one point, the Pack was never in danger.

In the closing minutes, the Dons reverted to the Wolfpack brand of ball in an effort to pull the game out of the fire, only to have it backfire in their faces. The Wolfpack, led by Dickey and Ranzino, blasted the basket for fifteen points during the last three minutes to put the game on ice.

Student Tickets

The Athletic Department announced last week that student tickets to the William and Mary and LaSalle basketball games will be given out from January 9th to the 12th. The tickets will be issued from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 4:00 on the days listed. No student may pick up tickets for more than one other person. In case a large group wishes to sit together, they must contact Bill Kelly in the Ticket Office of the Athletic Department.

"Crying Towel"

Pete Newell, youthful San Francisco Coach, really lived up to his reputation last Tuesday night.

Newell had been publicized as one of the biggest freeters in the coaching profession, and he certainly gave a good show. He was continually chewing on a towel or burying his head in a prayer-like position during the game. Every few minutes he would get up and pace the floor impatiently, openly displaying his consternation over the play of his team.

It is reported that Coach Newell can hardly stand the sight of food during the hectic stages of the cage campaign.

Gerard's Boys Expected To Give Pack Full Night

By JACK BOWERS

After racking up nine wins in ten starts, six of which were recorded in inter-sectional play, the State Wolfpack will journey to Durham tomorrow night to meet the unpredictable Blue Devils of Duke. A capacity crowd of 8800 is expected.

Devils Disappointing
Duke, generally regarded as the second place team in the conference behind State at the start of the season, has been disappointing up to date. The Devils hold wins over Hampden-Sidney, McCrary Eagles, Virginia, Davidson, Washington and Lee, Wake Forest, and Maryland. Losses were at the hands of Hanes Hosiery, South Carolina, Penn State, and Carolina.

Coach Gerard's boys finished seventh in the First Annual Dixie Classic held here during the holidays. In the tournament, they beat Wake Forest while losing to Carolina and Penn State.

Ranzino High Scorer
The Pack will be led into the Duke fray by their high-scoring duo of Sam Ranzino and Dick Dickey. Sam has 190 points in the ten State games for a 19.0 points per game average. Dickey has bucketed 136 points in the same number of contests for a 13.6 mark. Closely following these two is Center Paul Horvath with 125 points and a 12.6 average.

Although the Pack will go into the game as heavy favorites, the Devils can and may be tough on their home court. A hard-fought, close contest is expected.

Starting lineups:

State	Duke
Ranzino	F Youmans
Dickey	F Scarborough
Horvath	C Allen
Bubas	G Allen
Harand	G Groat

VIEWS ON SPORTS

By BOB CURRAN

Tuesday night in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum, Everett Case's Wolfpack basketball team set another record. The team played before a crowd of 12,000, which is the largest ever to watch a basketball game south of the Mason-Dixon Line.

While the Wolfpack was setting this record, San Francisco's "supposed" All-American (and I use the term loosely) set another kind of record. The individual I refer to is Don Lofgran, who left a very sour taste in everyone's mouth. The adolescent exhibition of unsportsmanlike conduct put on by this clown was probably the biggest ever seen here. When the San Francisco coach removed this temperamental "boy" actor from the game, Lofgran made distasteful gestures to the crowd that were far from complimentary.

Lofgran's crowning idiotic act was made after the game when he refused to shake Sam Ranzino's hand, but instead made another distasteful gesture which Sammy more or less ignored. The rest of the San Francisco team were better sportsmen than Lofgran, and from their performance on the court, they were much better ball players. When the game was over they all congratulated Ranzino on his fine performance.

During the Christmas holidays, while most of the troops were vacationing at home, the First Annual Dixie Classic Basketball Tournament was held at the Coliseum. The tournament was a huge success from all standpoints. Some fifty thousand witnessed the games, with State coming out as the winner. The three other Big Four teams didn't fare so well. Duke, Carolina, and Wake Forest lost their opening games, and Wake Forest was unable to win any of her three games. From all indications, the tournament will be a bigger success next year.

Student Union To Offer Many Services To Users

The proposed North Carolina State College Union will be located west of Patterson Hall and the library site on Hillsboro Street, directly north of the present dormitory underpass. The union plan calls for a three-story, rectangular building, 176 feet long and 98 feet wide. Plans for a future addition to the main building will be undertaken when the need arises.

A union building for a school the size of State College averages 25 square feet per student, whereas the State Union averages 11.5 square feet per student. As a result of the relatively small plant, functional arrangement of facilities have been arranged to receive multiple uses. The modern, open design Architect W. Henley Dietrick has used in the building plan has lent itself to the multiple use of facilities. For example: an area which is a lounge at certain times becomes a dance floor at others or a meeting room or site for a private or public tea or reception.

The main union entrance is on the campus or south side of the building. Facing the building from the south entrance, one is impressed by the glass wall that runs the length of the building on the ground floor. Once inside the lobby one can take in the services at a glance. To the left of one are five free telephones, a barber shop and a men's room. Straight ahead of one are two bulletin boards, a stairway to the lounge upstairs, and still on the ground floor — dead ahead—is the game room containing a control desk, selling tobacco and candy, and 9 billiard and three table tennis tables. To the right of one is a cloak room, trophy display case and the snack bar with its large open seating area and two small rooms which can seat 350 students.

Ground Floor

Having climbed the ground floor stairway to the first floor, one is completely surrounded with lounging space. The south lounge runs into an 80-foot terrace, to be used for dancing and dining at times but ordinarily for lounging. West of the stairway is a lounge, art gallery, a phonograph room, and the ladies' lounge with a quiet room.

To your north is lounging and lobby area, a phonograph room, browsing library, bulletin boards, display cases, and the Hillsboro union entrance. To the east is the information desk (where building paging originates, information on campus activities, train-bus-and-air schedules, candy-tobacco-magazines are sold, telegrams sent, etc.), main cloak room, reservation office, scenery and assembly rooms, which should hold more than 1,000 persons dancing and 650 dining.

Self-Elevator

Instead of using one of two stairways, one may move to the self-operating elevator near the first floor main entrance and go up to the top floor. One might walk counter-clockwise from the elevator and return to the elevator in about 120 steps. On the way you would pass the hotel rooms, dark-rooms, union committee offices, workshop, lobby, forum room, union administrative offices, Student Council offices, Interfraternity Council, Interdormitory Council, men's toilet, men's quiet room (for napping), campus organization offices, eight (8) meeting rooms, three (3) banquet rooms.

The State College administration has been pointing toward building the proposed union for many years. Dean E. L. Cloyd has been especially active in pioneering the project. State College's Union will be one of the only unions of the nearly 100 unions around the country which will come into existence from state funds. More and more colleges will follow North Carolina State Legislature's progressive example.

Since this building will be a private club, it is standard procedure for the users, student and faculty, to pay a quarterly fee for the maintenance of the building and its varied activities.

Construction on the union building will commence in early spring.

Harvard To Offer Region Scholarships

The second annual offering of scholarships under the nation-wide Regional Scholarship program of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration was announced last month by Dean Donald K. David.

Providing $50,000 in awards to a maximum of 55 men entering the school in September, the Regional Scholarship program is designed to insure "that well-qualified students without sufficient financial resources will be able to continue their education in the graduate field of business administration."

Award Varies

Under the Regional Scholarship program, the actual amount of the award to each scholar will depend directly on individual financial need. Selection of men to receive the scholarship will be made on a basis of aptitude for business training, without regard to financial need. In extreme cases, the scholarship may cover the entire cost of a man's training for business administration.
