Campus Election Primary Set For Thursday

Here Are More Election Closeups

By BOB HORN
With the addition of a few more physical ingredients to the political pot over the past week, the brew has received some much needed favor. Whatever force provoked the announcements of the last-minute office seekers is not known. It is known, however, that their entrance into the race has saved the whole affair from the doldrums.

Technicians
So far the most hotly contested office is that of Business Manager of the Technician. Three men, all of whom have been associated with the paper in one way or another, Jack Bowers as Sports Editor, Paul Focht as Feature Writer, and Lindsay Spry as Circulation Manager, have lived considerable interest in that office by their respective decisions to oppose each other. By virtue of his belated entrance into the Business Manager race, Spry has, perhaps unwittingly, presented the student voters with a new and not unwelcome variation on "The Third Man Theme."

First to announce his intentions running for the Technician's Business Manager was Paul Focht. Three days later he was faced with the opposition of Sports Editor Jack Bowers. When Lindsay Spry announced his candidacy the office assumed new importance. It had actually become a coveted one, especially in view of Spry's platform policy. Spry, present Circulation Manager of the Technician, is a sophomore in Mechanical Engineering who hails from Winston-Salem. He expressed his convictions this way: "I would like to see the 'profit policy' whereby the Business Manager and the Editor each receive a quarter of the profits from advertising, done away with. I think that all staff members should receive a straight monthly salary. With the profit incentive removed, I believe the students of State College will get the news to which they are entitled and for which they pay inflated rates of a paper crammed full of ads."

Radio Station
Joel N. Heim, a textile student from New York City attending State on an M. Lowenstein and Sons scholarship is a candidate for Business Manager of Station WVWF. He has worked on the business staff for two years. A Textile Management student, Heim is also a member of the Phi Eta Sigma honorary fraternity, the tennis team and the Tompkins Textile Society. Heim pleads that if elected he will expand the facilities of WVWF in such a way as to benefit all the students and will work to make the coming year the biggest financial success of any previous one in the station's history.

Vice-President
Robert (Jack) Jenkins, a junior in Agricultural Education from Potocasi is a candidate for Vice-President of the Campus Government.
He is a member of the sophomore finance committee, vice-president of the Ag Club, a member of the honor committee of the School of Education, treasurer of Alpha Gamma Rho, Editor of the "Keyhole" and also belongs to Kappa Phi Kappa, the Cadet Officers Association and Alpha Gamma Rho, the social fraternity.

Cheerleader
Running against Al Parker for Head Cheerleader is Bob Worrell, rising junior in Dairy Manufacturing from Goldsboro. Worrell is an active member of the Pep Club and during the NCAA Tournament announced and led most of the yells at the O'GNY-State game. He is advocating more highly organized cheering and intends to do everything possible to get better seats for the students in the Coliseum during the next basketball season.

Secretary
George M. Burgess, a Junior in Industrial Engineering from Norfolk, Virginia is running for Secretary of the Campus Government. Burgess is a member of the SIE and is also secretary of the Pep Club. His platform has not been stated.

Vice-President
For the office of Vice-President of the Campus Government, Claude R. Edwards, a rising senior in Industrial Arts Education from Mt. Airy is a candidate. Edwards is a member of K&K, the Industrial Arts Club and the present Campus Government. He states his platform this way:
"I believe the students at State College should take more interest in campus activities. Another thing that is needed very much is better instructor-student relationships. I think we should have at least one day off between the last regular class day and the first exam. Teacher rating should be a good thing and is one method of improving the quality of the instruction. If elected I will back these principles and any others that are in the interest of the student body as a whole."

McCracken To Head Campus Government

By BOB PHELPS
Some 36 campus politicians have filed with Dean Wood's office to run for office in the forthcoming campus elections on April 20 and 27. The deadline for filing with Dean Wood was last Wednesday, April 12. Jack G. McCracken will be the president of the Campus Government next year by virtue of having no one file against him. Other students running for the other offices of the Campus Government are: Vice-President: Scott Eubanks, Robert (Jack) Jenkins, Henry A. (Hal) Brown, Claude R. Edwards, and J. N. (Jim) Vause; for secretary: J. Edwin Coble, George M. Burgess, Neale Kelly, Jerry Hughes, and Robert W. Scott; for treasurer: Harvey H. Schevick, and Richard B. Kemper.

Haas Unopposed
Bill Haas will take over as editor of the Technician for the coming year as all prospective editors bowed out in his favor. The candidates for the other position on the campus publications are as follows: for business manager of the Technician: Paul R. Focht, Jr., Jack M. Bowers, and Lindsay E. Spry. There will be little selection for the station manager and business manager of the campus radio station, WVWF. Paul D. Miller, Jr. will be the station manager and Joel N. Heim will take over as business manager. For editor of the Watauga, Roger Crosby is the only person running while for business manager there is Robert Davenport and Wesley Doggett.

Other Offices
Other offices open to student-wide election are head cheerleader and representatives to the Athletic Council. For Head Cheerleader B. A. (Al) Parker, Robert H. (Bob) Worrell, and Richard L. Westmoreland are up for election. Senior representatives running for the Athletic Council are W. C. (Bill) Haas, Clair W. Roberts, and George E. Pickett, Jr. The junior representatives are Robert F. Miller and Don E. Powell.

The election of editors and business managers for the various school publications have been held in the School of Agriculture and the School of Forestry. The editor of the Agriculturist for next year is Bill Carpenter and the business manager is Jim Hinkle. The editor of the Pinetree, the forestry school's annual publication, is John Beaman and the business manager is Allan Skaarup. The editor and business manager of the Textile Forum are Julius Lasnik and Charlie Buie respectively.

Campaign Rules
Candidates are required by the Rules Committee of the Campus Government to abide by the following regulations:

1. No election campaign fund may exceed $25.00.
 2. No candidate may campaign in such a manner as to disturb classes.
 3. Notices must not be tacked or nailed to trees. String or scotch tape may be used.
 4. Each candidate must remove his posters within 24 hours after the final election.
 5. No campaigning will take place within fifty feet of the poles. (A line ten feet from the stairs in front of Y.M.C.A.)
 6. Sound trucks will not be used during classes nor after six o'clock p.m. Sound trucks may be used during class changes and from 12:00 o'clock noon until 1:00 p.m. STRICT COMPLIANCE IS EXPECTED.
- There will be two polling places this year, one in the main room of the Y.M.C.A. and the other on the west end of the dormitories in the Owen-Tucker region. The polls will be open from 7:30 in the morning to 6:30 in the evening. The Campus Government will be in charge of the polling places and will count the votes.
- In addition to the regularly enrolled students, all faculty members and administrative officers of State College are entitled to cast their votes. The clerical and office staffs are, however, not eligible to vote. ALL STUDENTS MUST PRESENT THEIR REGISTRATION CARDS AT THE POLLS IN ORDER TO QUALIFY AS VOTERS.

Attends Meeting
Dean Henry L. Kamphefer of the School of Design at N. C. State College has left for Havana, Cuba, where he will attend the 7th Pan-American Congress of Architects. One of the features of the congress will be an exhibition of student work arranged by ten schools of architecture in the United States, including the State College School of Design.

Textile School To Hold Open House April 22

The students in the School of Textiles at State College will hold an "open house" program in the school on Saturday, April 22, student leaders reported today.

Tours
Guided tours showing the processing of cotton, rayon, and wool will be conducted at intervals throughout the day. Special displays will illustrate unusual aspects of the textile industry. Movies will be shown in the new auditorium of the School of Textiles, and each guest will be presented a souvenir.

Student sponsors said the event has been arranged to enable representatives of the textile industry to observe the training that their prospective employees receive and to provide an occasion for interested persons to see how their clothing and household textile items are produced.

Arrangements Committee
A student steering committee is in charge of arrangements for the program. Members of the committee are as follows:
William M. Barnhardt of Charlotte, president of the Tompkins Textile Society; Reynolds A. Carnevale of Raleigh, president of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists; Harry M. Dalton of Charlotte, president of Phi Psi; J. Allison Davant of Charlotte, vice-president of Phi Psi; Sanford Gluck of New York, N. Y., representative of the Greater University Student Council; David E. King of Wilmington, president of Delta Kappa Phi; and Richard H. Norrell of Wheaton, Ill., president of Sigma Tau Sigma.

Election Rally

On Tuesday night, April 18th, at 8:00 p.m. the Y.M.C.A. will sponsor a meeting to stimulate interest in the coming campus election. This meeting will be held in the YMCA auditorium.

Mayne Albright, gubernatorial candidate in the last election, will be on hand to deliver a few remarks on the subject of political effectiveness on the campus, community, national and world scenes.

Candidates for office in the forthcoming campus elections have been invited to attend and those present will be introduced. This will be a fine opportunity to get to know the men that you want to head the campus affairs next year. All students are urged to attend this meeting. Come out and support your candidate.

Drop Courses

Saturday, April 15, is the last day to drop a course without a grade of F.

State College Gets First Nuclear Physics Course

State College's new curriculum in nuclear engineering and the institution's proposal to build a nuclear reactor were endorsed by a group of scientists and educators at the college yesterday afternoon.

The scientists and educators met at an informal nuclear education conference at the college and hailed the institution's new atomic developments as a boon to the peacetime development of atomic energy, and as an incentive to the advancement of technological training and research in the South.

First School
Dr. N. P. Powers of Washington, D. C., an official of the Atomic Energy Commission, told the audience attending the conference that the AEC long has advocated the creation of educational and research programs in atomic science at various institutions and that the attempt to initiate such an undertaking at State College is the first of its kind in any college or university in the United States.

Officials of the college and scientists on the college staff explained the details relative to the new curriculum in nuclear engineering which will be opened to prospective students in the fall of 1950 and outlined the proposal to construct a nuclear reactor on about five kilowatt power output on the State College campus to be used as the core of the instruction and research program in nuclear engineering education.

Project Development
The new academic projects were developed in the College's School of Engineering, headed by Dean J. H. Lampe. The Physics Department, headed by Dr. Clifford K. Beck, took the leadership in inaugurating the proposals. Dr. Beck, a former scientist on the world-famed Manhattan Atomic Project, worked at the nuclear plants in Oak Ridge, Tenn., before joining the college staff.

In welcoming the group to the campus, Chancellor J. W. Harrelson said that the new programs, constitute an effort designed to advance atomic research and education and that he believed the projects will be helpful in the regional educational idea.

Military Ball Sponsors

Your Duty - To Vote

If someone slips up behind you, pats you on the back, and hands you a cigar, don't be suspicious. He's not a Dix Hill graduate or a high pressure salesman, he just wants your support in the forthcoming campus elections.

Seriously speaking, once again election time is at hand, and we feel that we should mention something about the part each student should play in the selection of his campus leaders. This is not the usual election plea made by college editors, but rather a reminder of the seriousness of collegiate politics, especially here at State.

The job facing the new officers will be one of tremendous scope. It will be one which will require serious, level-thinking individuals whose sole interest is the students and State College as a whole. There will be no room for "glory hogs." State College is rapidly growing into one of the foremost technological institutions in the nation, and the student leader must have the vision to formulate his program accordingly.

The pace set by previous administrations means that the new governing officials must be in dead earnest in achieving such goals as the majority want. Carrying out such projects as teacher merit rating, development of an honor system, a purchase card system, improving athletic facilities, and other problems directly concerning the majority of students must be done in such a manner that the students feel that they are being benefited, yet at the same time these problems must not be rushed through hap-hazardly.

All the ramifications of the problems facing the student government should be carefully considered when you cast your ballot Thursday. It must be remembered that a hasty vote may mean what has been built up may be left to fall or simply stagnate.

To many, what has been accomplished in the past seems so immaterial that they feel that it is a waste of time to cast their ballot. Such disinterest cannot be condoned. The administration of campus affairs cannot be any stronger than the support it receives, and unless a majority of the student body appears at the polls the administration cannot morally act as a true representative of the State College student body.

Voting is not only a duty, it is a privilege. Here in the United States we exercise the right to choose our officials by the use of the ballot, and not by the force of arms or the power of minority groups. Let us not forget this right next Thursday when the time comes to select our Campus leaders.

Big Oaks from Little Acorns

The recent student murders and suicide at Carolina and Wake Forest have brought strong criticism and rebuke down on the shoulders of college students as a whole.

As usual, action has been taken only after it is too late. At Chapel Hill, is now against the law for a student to have firearms in his dormitory room. It is understood that the interfraternity council will pass the same rule concerning the possession of firearms in fraternities.

Merely forbidding a student to keep a gun in his room will not prevent the type of incidents which have occurred on the two campuses. A man who is in the mental disposition to kill will not obey any rule which is set before him.

The problem of student mental instability must be attacked before the man gets to the state of homicidal thinking. A college campus is fraught with pitfalls for the emotionally immature or mentally unstable student.

A single failure on a test, harsh words from a friend or teacher, too much work, and any number of seemingly insignificant problems can be worked into a major mental disturbance by this type of student.

Faculty advisors and instructors are the men closest to the solution of the problem. An advisor must be more than a course schedule-maker. Every advisor has a complete record of his student's lives at State College. It is not difficult to see when a man is troubled. Periodic interviews with each advisee may weed out a problem which could possibly develop into just such an incident as the two student killings on nearby campuses.

By noticing grade trends, an instructor can often spot the exact day when a student was affected by some problem. It is the instructor's duty to talk to the student who seems to be having undue difficulty with a course. Often the blame lies not in scholastic inability, but in some small personal problem which is occupying the student's mind.

Pass the rules to keep firearms out of college rooms, but don't stop there. Establish a closer supervision over the student. Make an advisor more than just a man with a stack of records; let him know his students well enough to discuss and solve these minor problems before they become student murders and suicides.

AROUND The TOWER

By SANFORD GLUCK

There is something very wrong with the students at State College. It was our predecessors who first created the Campus Government... it was the students also who made changes in it to keep it up to date... and it is the students who should now be supporting it. However, this is not the case. In a recent referendum on the proposed Honor System which was presented to the students for a vote, not even two thirds of our student body took the trouble to vote. This was something which affected each and every one of us, and yet there was not even enough interest to pass or defeat it actively. Instead, the Honor System had to be shelved with the knowledge that if enough of us had voted, it probably would have passed. It would have been much better if this amendment had been defeated by a two-thirds vote than to have it completely ignored.

Why is it that out of a student body of 4300 only one man desires the position of President of the Campus Government? After three weeks of advance notices in the Technician, only one man signed up to run for President, one for Vice-President, none for Secretary, and two for Treasurer of the Campus Government. In view of this the Campus Government was forced to extend the ballot period for a week, hoping that others would soon wake up.

What is the cause of this apathy? Is the student body or the Campus Government at fault? I've heard many boys complacently smile and say, "What has the Campus Government done?" The thing that most of us don't seem to understand is that we are the Campus Government—each of us and all of us. Whatever the Campus Government does is supposed to be done as a result of our wishes; that's why we elect representatives to voice our opinions. How, then, can anyone sit back and criticize the Campus Government for not doing anything? In reality, we are only criticizing ourselves—and it is who we deserve the criticism!

It's a pretty disheartening thing to attend Campus Government meetings week after week, to work inbetween times on the projects for the benefit of the school, and then to discover that the students who are supposed to back the Campus Government have no interest in it whatsoever. The basic question is similar to the old one about the chicken or the egg; or, translated to State College jargon: which should make the first step—the Campus Government or the students? Well, the Campus Government has already taken the first step in presenting various projects for acceptance by the students. It is now up to the students to support the Campus Government and demonstrate some interest in what their representatives are doing. The Campus Government cannot do anything without backing, and the students would certainly gripe if we did not have our own form of student government.

Our annual elections are being held on the twentieth and twenty-seventh of this month. The men on the ballots will be paramount in acting as middlemen between the students and the administration. They will also be the ones who help run the many student organizations on this campus. These elections will affect you next year. The idea that "my one vote won't matter" is absurd. If we all felt that way there really wouldn't be much sense in having a Campus Government at all. So exercise your right to vote—and back the men whom you want to lead you next year!

Dorm Doings..

New officers were elected for the Inter-Dormitory Council at a meeting last Thursday night. Gene Jeffords, the former Vice President, was elected President by an overwhelming majority to replace Alex Vann, who headed the Council through an active and progressive year. Gene is also Vice President of Owen Dormitory Club.

Vice-President

Paul Langley, President of Bagwell Dormitory Club, was elected Vice President of the Council in a close race with Wade Foy, President in Tucker. However, Foy came back to win the office of Treasurer to take over the job held by Don Anderson last year. Robert Scott, President of Beeton Dormitory, was elected to the post of Secretary to retire Reuben Miller.

Something new and exciting has just appeared in Berry Social Room—a ping-pong table. Berry ping-pong champs last quarter, will get even more chance to be hot shots at the game now. But the table, or the whole room for that matter, belongs to anyone in the dormitories who wants to use it, so come on down and paddle out a game.

Wiley Corbet, Social Director in Bagwell, has announced his Committee's intentions to hold a picnic and dance at Sunset Lake for the evening of May 5th. Sounds like a potential big time for the boys in Bagwell.

Enrollment Sinks Again This Term

In keeping with the trend evidenced over the past two terms, the enrollment figures again have disclosed a drop in the number of students attending State College. Hardest hit was the School of Engineering which registered a loss of 132 students since the winter term. However, the School of Engineering still retains the largest enrollment of any division of the college: 1924 total.

The next largest enrollment is found in the School of Agriculture with 928 students registered there. The students there number 105 fewer this term. Gains were noted in some of the specialized courses, but the general trend was towards a thinning out process.

Enrollment in the School of Education slumped from 418 in winter term to 399 this term. The baby School of Design lost 7 students which brought its total to 215. Least effected was the School of Textiles which fluctuated not at all to retain a steady total of 751 students.

There were 932 freshmen, 866 sophomores, 832 juniors, 1263 seniors and 280 graduate students registered in the college as of Friday, April 7.

With The Greeks

By JACK McQUINN

All Greek Seniors will be glad to know that their passing into the "outer world" will not go unnoticed. Arrangements are being made by a special IFC Committee for a Senior Stag party. The information we have so far indicates that the affair will probably be held on June 7 somewhere in Wake County, will include boudacious amounts of food and drink, and will feature a first class, all-star "girlie revue." We reiterate here that the celebration will be up-lifting, positively informative, and strictly stag. The cost will be divided among those attending.

Pika Ball Big Success! Sonny Dunham, slightly improved, in our opinion, since his fall appearance here, made last Monday night just a little more pleasant for Pi Kappa Alpha. The Easter Monday Pika Ball was a big success and was thoroughly enjoyed by both Pikas and visitors. Dunham did the unusual by playing numerous tunes popular now, in contrast to most of our bands which play a repertoire at least six months old.

About the time this issue of the Technician rolls off the presses Sig Eps and dates will be starting on a mighty fine weekend of entertainment. Friday night will see all SPEs from State, Duke and Wake Forest out at the Carolina Club for an all night party. Featured on the program will be a combo from Rocky Mount playing music strictly "a la Eschstein." Open house will be observed Saturday afternoon for all visiting brothers and dates at the Sig Ep home on Clark Avenue. Saturday night the Sig Ep Sweetheart Ball will be held at Memorial Auditorium. The Sig Ep Queen for 1950 will be announced during special ceremonies at intermission.

Italian Movie

"OUTCRY," the new melodramatic hit from Italy, opens Wednesday, April 19 at the Varsity Theatre for 3 days. It's the first Raleigh showing.

"OUTCRY," not only measures up to the high standards set by "Open City" and "Paisan," but in many respects tops these other productions in action and gripping interest.

The film introduces Lea Padovani, Italy's newest star, a tempestuous beauty of whom American audiences will be seeing a great deal in the future.

Tragedy in "OUTCRY" is simple and overwhelming. Man dies quickly, without explanation, like an animal, no memorable last words.

There is continual daring. There is no question here of telling a moral tale, but simply witnessing a collection of events. Passions and corrupt behavior do not vanish in wartime. "OUTCRY," a daring Eye-Witness film is daringly told and brutally frank.

Theta Tau Elects Officers For Year

In a regular meeting of Theta Tau, professional engineering fraternity, on Wednesday night at the college YMCA, the following officers were installed for the coming year:

Regent Harold Williamson
 Vice Regent George Andrews
 Scribe Jim McKeel
 Treasurer Bob Chadwick
 Inner Guard Frank Perkins
 Outer Guard Dick Robertson
 Marshal Glenn Putnam
 Corres. Sec'y Charles Le Grand

Theta Tau is a professional engineering fraternity of college students whose object is to develop and maintain a high standard of professional interest among its members and to unite them in a strong bond of fraternal fellowship. It was founded October 15, 1904 at the University of Minnesota and Rho Chapter at State was established February 16, 1924.

Faculty members who belong to Theta Tau are T. C. Brown, who is the faculty advisor as well as a national officer of the fraternity, and Professor F. W. Lancaster.

New Psychology Course Offered For Graduates

A new course in Psychology for graduate students has been underway since the beginning of the term. The limited facilities of the department were expanded to include a course in Clinic Practicum. A new secretary, Mrs. Hodgson has been installed in Room 112 Tompkins to take care of the paper work and answer all inquiries.

With the installation of the new course and its secretary it is hoped that psychological services can be extended to the public, the faculty and their families and the college employees on a broader basis.

Hinkle Elected

Jim Hinkle, a rising senior majoring in Dairy Manufacturing, was elected business manager of the Agriculturist in the final election run-off at a regular Ag Club meeting Tuesday, April 11. Hinkle heads up the Agriculturist staff along with Bill Carpenter, a junior in Agricultural Economics, who was elected editor at a previous meeting.

For next week, the Ag club program chairman has secured Professor Swain of the English department as the guest speaker. Professor Swain is noted for his ability to entertain his listeners with a humorous after-dinner type of speaking.

All Ag Club members are urged to attend this meeting which will be held April 18 in room 118 Withers Hall.

ASME Meeting

The ASME and the AIEE will hold their annual joint meeting Tuesday April 18 at 7:00 p.m. in the YMCA auditorium. Mr. B. L. VanderBoegh of the hydraulic testing division of the ASME will be the guest speaker. He is going to speak on "Hydraulic Turbine Power Generation." Mr. VanderBoegh will have slides to illustrate his lecture. All members are cordially invited and requested to bring along any prospective members.

of the Ag Club and also attends with regularity the Baptist church. He has attended several conferences representing the College YMCA. Also he is a member of Advanced Military, in Infantry.

Secretary Candidates: Sikes, Mann
 Two rising juniors are offering for the office of Secretary of the YMCA for the coming year, namely Lyndon Sikes and Gerald Mann. Lyndon, a student in the Ag School is from Greensboro, and Gerald is from Newport, N. C. and studying Mechanical Engineering. Lyndon is a member of the Campus Government, Ag Club, Phi Eta Sigma, and Thirty and Three. Gerald is best known as a cheerleader but is also affiliated with ASME, Wesley Foundation, Pep Club, and on the Sophomore Dance Committee. Both have served as committee members of the "Y" Cabinet the past year.

Two Ag Men Run for Treasurer of "Y"

The candidates who have been selected to run for Treasurer are both from the Ag School. Sam Furches, from Mocksville, an Ag Ed senior, is a candidate for reelection to the office of Treasurer. He is member of many other college activities and groups which include: Campus Government, Alpha Zeta, AGR, Greater University Council, Inter Dorm Council, Ag

Club, and Baptist Student Union. Dean Angell, a former Freshman-football player at State is the other nominee for the office of Treasurer. Dean is from Childrens Home in Winston Salem, and majoring in Ag Economics. He has worked on the YMCA Handbook and other campus publications. He was chosen on the all-campus and all-dorm football team this past fall while playing with Welch Dorm club. A member of the Advanced ROTC Dean is in the Quartermaster Corps. The past year he has served the "Y" faithfully as a committee member of the Personal and Campus Affairs Commission.

FRATERNITY INTRAMURALS

By PETER KOCH

Fraternity sports shifted into high gear last week, as every frat saw action in 4 first round softball games. High scores were predominant, and at this stage of the season the hitters seem to be ahead of the pitchers. However, there were a couple of fine pitching performances turned in. Thrower of Sig Chi, and Lumley of TKE looked particularly good on the mound.

Last Term

Before I recap the softball games, just a word on the windup of last term's intramurals. Sigma Chi came out on top in the playoffs in basketball, beating Pi Kappa in two out of three games for the championship. The point difference in the three games was a total of 5 points. Congratulations are in order for the men voted to the all fraternity team. The first team consisted of Charlie Buie (Sig Chi), Don Spencer (PKA), Stan Pinto (SAM), Bob Goodman (PEP), and Burt Steen (FKA). Pi Kappa leads Sigma Chi by 8 points in the overall point standings for the year.

Here are the results of the softball games played last week—Please bear with me should there be any mistakes in these scores. The umpires in these games did a rather poor job of scoring, and it was very difficult deciphering all their methods of scoring. In Section 1, Pi Kappa edged out SAM 3-2, and Delta Sig outslugged Sigma Pi to win 14-9. Sigma Chi exploded for 18 runs to wallop SAE 18-2, and SPE was victorious over Lambda Chi by a 4-2 score. In Section 3, Pi Kappa Phi outlasted Sigma Nu to win in a high scoring game, 13-10, and Kappa Sig squeaked by the fraters from PKT 8-6. KA started out on the right foot in a slugfest with AGR. KA won 12-5. TKE's talented softballers routed PEP 3-4. That winds up softball for last week.

Other Sports

Three other sports are on tap for the spring term. They are tennis, horseshoes, and track. The first round of eliminations in the top half of the draw in tennis were scheduled for April 14th, and the first round in the bottom half of the draw are to be played April 21st. Horseshoe eliminations started April 12th with 4 matches scheduled, and April 18th the other 3 frats see action at the pits. The track prelims will be run off on May 9th, and the finals are scheduled for May 19th.

Wolfpack Tracksters Win Over Lejeune

Coach Tom Fitzgibbons' State College track team registered a 74½ to 56½ victory over the Camp Lejeune Marines at Camp Lejeune Saturday afternoon.

It was the first track event of the season for the Wolfpack tracksters. It also was Lejeune's first track appearance of the season.

Charlie Chambers of State took off high scoring honors of the day. He rolled up 11 points by taking a first in the 220 low hurdles, and seconds in the 220-yard dash and the 100-yard dash.

Ted Dostanko and Herbert Goldberg of State were tied for runner-up individual honors. Each had two first places for 10 points each.

Next track meet for State will be on April 18, when the Pack travels to Columbia to engage the University of South Carolina under squad.

DORMITORY INTRAMURALS

By NEILL POSEY

Although the Big Four Sports Day is not until May 18, the selection of State's entrants has begun.

Carolina, Duke, Wake Forest and State will each enter a five man team in table tennis, horse shoes, golf and tennis. Softball and volleyball will be the main attractions.

Sigma Nu, a fraternity team, has been selected by intramural league officials to represent State in volleyball. That team was selected over the dormitory winner Becton.

Softball Winner

Since by May 18 a softball winner will not be determined in either the dormitory or fraternity league, softball players will be picked by Mr. Doak of the Physical Education Department.

Table tennis, horse shoes, golf and tennis were dubbed as "individual sports" by the league and thus the league officials will select the men to represent State. This will allow a player who won but whose team lost to be selected.

All men who play one of the above sports well are requested to file their name in the Physical Education office and obtain a try-out date.

New Trophy

Latest word from the Big Four Sports Day committee is that a new trophy has been ordered. The trophy will be presented to the school whose teams score the most meet points. Here-to-fore only the softball winner was presented a trophy. This new award should have the name of the three previous meet winners engraved on it as well as the May 18, 1950 winner.

This writer learned that a hurry-up call from Carolina called off the proposed basketball game between their fraternity and dormitory winners and ours. The State teams were all ready to journey over to Carolina. There seems to have been "heap much medicine making and no rain."

New Directors

Syme and Gold-Watuga have appointed new athletic directors J. H. Thompson and B. T. Bridges respectively. Thompson replaces H. W. Burroughs, Jr., who left school while Bridges replaces W. H. Hoffman who has become assistant secretary of the Inter-Dormitory Council.

That three out of eight horse shoe teams lost opening day matches on forfeits does not speak well for the league. Most State students have pitched a few at some time or another, why the forfeits then?

Gold-Watuga and No. 2 Syme's match was declared a double forfeit. Only one man showed up for the match. He was from Gold-Watuga. At least two men are required to gain a forfeit from another team.

West Haven, who won one singles game from Berry and lost the other, might not be eliminated had she had a doubles team. Since she didn't and Berry did, Berry automatically eliminated her.

Top Notch Pitching

Mr. Charlie Harrell demonstrated his right to the title of best pitcher in the dormitory league by striking out 12 out of 16 batters that faced him in the opening day softball game between No. 1 Becton and No. 2 Alexander. In softball, brother that is class AAAAAAAAAAAAA pitching.

In this issue Jim Twyford begins his series of articles on interesting men in dormitory intramurals. Sid Credle, Athletic Director of Welch is his first subject. Watch for his articles.

Reports are that "Snooky" Nunn, new Athletic Director of Bagwell is well liked for the new life and enthusiasm he has placed in Bagwell teams.

Tucker Mgrs. Named

Athletic Director Bobby Brown says that the occupants of Tucker have shown more interest in sports this term than at any other time during the year.

Softball results: Both teams were beaten in their first game, but much better playing is expected as the teams play together more. Managers Daughtry and Morton are scheduling practice games in between regularly scheduled league games.

Tennis: Managers Pitts and Warren appreciate the interest shown in this sport from the students. Tucker tennis teams are very promising this term.

Horse shoes: Managers are as follows: No. 2 Tucker, Ted Jackson and No. 1 Tucker, William Smith.

Welch Takes Win In Wild Contest

On Friday April 7, Welch defeated No. 2 Bagwell 19-6. The game was marred by five errors on each side which probably was due to the lack of practice this early in the season.

Horton and Monroe were the starting batteries for No. 2 Bagwell. Horton gave up 12 runs in the three innings he worked. In the fourth, Horton was replaced by his battery mate Monroe who yielded the remainder of the runs.

Chadwick proved to be No. 2 Bagwell's heavy hitter when he brought in two runs in the fifth with a long double into centerfield. The other men welding the heavy stick for No. 2 Bagwell were Morrison and Horton.

Welch's batteries were "Rock" Cathey and "Crazy Legs" Hoffman. "Home Run" Gibson, "Slats" Turner and "Flash" Twyford were the heavy hitters for Welch getting three hits each.

The best fielding exhibition of the day was put on by "Home Run" Gibson who handled six chances without a miscue.

State Golfers Play Tie With Davidson

Davidson College and State College golfers played a 1 1/2-all tie at Davidson Monday.

State's Spencer was low for the afternoon with a 71. Hill had a 74 for Davidson.

The summaries: Spencer (S) defeated Hill, 3-0; Devant (S) defeated Sloan, 2-1. Best ball: State 3, Davidson 2. Davidson (D) defeated Greene, 2-1. Smith (S) defeated Brandon, 2-1. Best ball: Davidson 2 1/2, State 2. Vernon (D) defeated Wilkins, 1 1/2 to 1. Baumgardner defeated Gerzinger, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2. Best ball: Davidson 3, State 0.

Bagwell vs. Bagwell

The tennis team of No. 1 Bagwell defeated its upstairs brother No. 2 Bagwell in their matches last week.

By winning one singles and the doubles match they were able to capture the dormitory playoffs.

In a singles contest Nick Dulin of No. 2 Bagwell defeated Ed. Travis 6-3, 3-6, and 4-6. This was the only win for the No. 2 team.

In the remaining singles match Jim Green defeated Bill Han 6-0, 6-0.

In the doubles match Wiley Corbett and Booster Harrington slipped by Paul Langley and Keith Hardy 6-2, 6-1.

Bauer Tosses Win In Easter Contest

By BILL TERONEBURG

The State Wolfpack opened Big Four competition last Saturday with a decisive 5-2 win over Duke, but the taste of victory was short-lived as the ever-present Moe Bauer dumped the State nine with seven scattered hits and an 8-3 Easter Monday victory for Wake Forest.

Both hitting and good pitching were the order of the day at Durham as Lunsford Lewis stingily laded out six hits to the Blue Devils while his teammates were slugging out ten hits—including a double and three triples—in a very welcome burst of power.

State jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first inning on singles by Wilhelm and Dinan and a double by Charlie Westbrook. They punched out two more runs in the fifth on Dinan's triple, Westbrook's single, and a triple by Bill Smith.

A final run in the sixth came from a triple by Don Chesek and a booted ball by the Duke infield.

Duke scored its only runs in the eighth inning. A scratch hit to the infield, a two-base blooper by Powers to centerfield, and a walk paved the way for two runs on a ground ball to deep short.

Paul Dinan and Charlie Westbrook led the State bats, each with two hits for five times up. No Duke hitter could muster more than a single hit off the assortment of Lewis' pitches.

The Wolfpack's book of memories fell open at an old familiar page Monday afternoon at Devereaux Meadow. For there once again the angular figure of Moe Bauer cast a silencing shadow over the hitherto noisy State bats.

Wild in Late Innings
But the crafty southpaw found the mound uncomfortably warm in the late innings, thanks to his own touch of wildness and to the efforts of his clogging infielders. When the pinch came, however, the State batters couldn't connect with Bauer's curve ball.

The Deacons hopped on the offerings of Irvin Page in the first inning for three runs. Hoch led off by clapping the second pitch into leftfield for a single, stole second, and after Harris walked, scored on Teague's knock thru second base. Harris moved to third on the throw-in and Teague to second. Harris then scored on a put-out at first and the State batters in on Joe Fulgum's first of three hits for the day.

State picked up its first run in the first inning also. John Norrell, replacing Paul Dinan who strained a muscle in the first inning, walked, Westbrook singled and when the centerfielder bobbed the ball, Norrell came steaming home.

A touch of confusion at the plate led to two more Wake Forest runs in the third. With the bases loaded and Bauer at bat, Gene Hooks tore home on Page's windup and when the dust clouds drifted away and the ball was located, Wrenn had also scored.

The Wolfpack bats rang a bit more effectively in the late innings. Six of State's seven hits came after the fourth frame, and, coupled with Wake Forest errors, led to the remaining two runs in the sixth.

Irvin Page stepped into deep water from the start and could never quite work his way out of trouble. Bob Smith relieved in the fourth and pitched heady ball in holding the Deacons to six hits. He showed a great facility for keeping the ball low, and it paid off but for several brief lapses.

Center Field Weakened
State was weakened noticeably in center field when Bill Fowler left the game in the first inning. Had his bat been around with men on base, the game might have been a different story.

John Norrell paced State hitting with three singles for four trips to the plate, and Westbrook picked up two for five.

Collegiate Press Convention To Meet In Greensboro On April 27

Woman's College and Guilford College will be rolling out the carpet in Greensboro, April 27 for leaders in North Carolina collegiate Journalism.

The two Greensboro colleges are hostess and host to the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association April 27, 28, and 29 when the organization's annual convention assembles this year in Greensboro.

Program

The program for the convention includes four continuous clinics for business managers, magazine editors, newspaper editors, and year-book editors. Experts will be on hand to give pointers on typographical layout, photographic layout, editorial writing, magazine production, ad soliciting, and design. Each clinic will be climaxed with a student-led jam session designed to air common student and policy problems. Shop talk during the convention will be interspersed with entertainment.

Already experts in professional journalism are judging entries submitted to NCCPA competition; and thirty-four colleges in North Carolina have been invited to send delegates.

Third Since War

The assemblage in Greensboro the weekend of April 27 will be the third convention of NCCPA since the close of World War II. Due to travel difficulties, a well organized Association was disbanded during the war.

This year, President Ellen Metz commented, the convention is intended to be "a happy combination of enlightenment and entertainment. College journalists," she added, "Can benefit more, perhaps, from meeting and talking to their colleagues than from any amount of professional dictation."

"And," President Metz continued, "We'll be glad to see the familiar faces again, but we hope we shall see so many new faces from new member schools that there will be standing room only."

Registration fee for the complete convention this year is $6.00. Any college student is eligible to attend. The fee, complete with name of delegate, school, and publication must be mailed to Leo Derrick, Box 522, Wake Forest, before April 20. Newspaper editors in every college in the State have complete information concerning the convention.

Intramural

why this writer missed him is unknown. He plays first base, throws left handed, bats left handed, is a three time all campus man—is named Ray Hepler.

Here are a few more notes on Welch, the team that has the best chance of keeping No. 1 Becton out of the double elimination championship playoffs.

Sid Gredle, Athletic Director of Welch, reports that he does not expect the 1950 model of Welch's softball team to go as far as last year's championship team due to the loss of key personnel. However, he definitely plans to beat No. 1 Becton if he doesn't beat another team in the league.

Big Worry

Pitchers are his big worry. One however is shaping up. April 7, "Rock" Cathey gave up six runs while his teammates ran up 19 on No. 2 Bagwell. Cathey still hasn't reached mid-season form.

Although Cathey is developing, Hugh Comer is still rated the best pitcher in Sid's camp. He is more of a control pitcher than a fire brand. Right now Comer is the best bet to oppose No. 1 Becton's ace, Charlie Barrell.

Mu Beta Psi Elects Officers

George R. Tolson of Kings Mountain, a junior in civil engineering, has been elected president of the State College Chapter of Mu Beta Psi, national honorary music fraternity, for the 1950-51 school year.

Other new officers of the chapter are Richard Mitchell of Raleigh, vice-president; Samuel T. Brown of Elizabeth City, secretary; and Albert M. Lyery of Newton, treasurer.

Nine students, all of whom take active parts in the various campus musical organizations, have been initiated as new members of Mu Beta Psi. The new members follow: Ralph C. Compton, Cedar Grove; Eugene Wallace, Dallas; Robert Carroll Williams, Jr., Winston-Salem; Harold K. Strawbridge, Durham; Lawrence C. Harrington, Winston-Salem; Jack M. Davis, Charlotte; Jim Clark, Winston-Salem; Robert S. Ward, Jr., Fayetteville; George L. Steiner, Ken Gardens, N. Y.

VETVILLE NEWS

By EDWARD G. ROBINSON
Vetville held its semi-annual election last Saturday, electing three men and three women to the town council. The 151 ballots cast were very low compared to the 700 eligible voters, but according to statistics usually one fifth of the people vote.

Election Results

Mayor: Tom Ray 81
Edgar Hastgrove 35
Jack Sappenfield 35

Secretary-Treasurer: Zana Bryan 22
Marion Rhyne 20
Jean Robbins 57
Ed Parker 39

Publicity Director: Margaret Munn 46

Improvements
There have been several improvements made in Vetville by the past council, the latest being the bus service granted by the White Transportation Co. The buses will run every hour on the hour so let's support this project and keep the bus service.
The incoming council still have problems facing them and it's up to every resident to give the Mayor and his Aldermen the cooperation needed to maintain a progressive Government.

Election

Treasurer
Harvey H. Scheviak, a junior in Textile Management from Kenosha, Wisconsin, is a candidate for Treasurer of the Campus Government. Curricular extras include: President of the Order of the 30 and 3; member of the Blue Key, Delta Kappa Phi, Sigma Tau Sigma, Past Managing Editor of the Technician, Present Editor of the Tower, past member of the YMCA Cabinet, the Publications Board and the Cadet Officer's Association. He is also the alternate representative to the Campus Government.

Scheviak maintains that he, "has been very interested in Campus Government affairs in the past." Although not running on a formulated platform, he advocates: Closer relationship of the Campus Government to the individual student, improved student-faculty relationship of the Campus Government to the individual student, improved student-faculty relationships, and the setting as a goal of the Campus Government a higher degree of interest in campus activities by the student body.

Business Manager
Jack Bowers, rising senior in textiles from Shelby is seeking the Business Managership of the Technician. At present he is the Sports Editor of that publication and of the Agromeck. Bowers is a member of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, the Delta Kappa Phi textile fraternity, the Cadet Officer's Association, the Tompkins Textile Society and has had two years experience in the publications field. ASHVE Meeting

The North Carolina State College Student Branch of The American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers will have at its guest speaker a well-known authority on controls for heating and air conditioning equipment. The speaker, Mr. Max Rafter, Vice-President of the Eastern Division of Johnson Service Company, has been in the controls industry for more than twenty years, and his lecture on Friday evening will be very informative to all who are interested in heating and air conditioning or controls.

The speech, which is to begin at 8:00 p.m. Friday, April 14 in Withers Hall at State College, is a joint meeting with the members of the North Carolina Chapter of ASHVE. All who are interested are invited to come and hear "Controls for Comfort and Industry."

WARNER CERTAINLY CARRIES A LOT OF WEIGHT SINCE HE STARTED USING VITALIS!

You'll be strong with the girls, too—if you use your head—and "Live-Action" Vitalis care. Just be sure to use that famous "60-Second Workout" topside. 50 seconds' scalp massage (feel the difference)—10 seconds to comb (and will the girls see the difference?). You'll look neat and natural. Bye-bye loose, flaky dandruff and dryness, too. So be smart and look smart—get Vitalis soon at drug store or barber shop.
