Monday Is Last Day to Sign Athletic Petitions

Alex Vann, Chairman of the Committee for the Betterment of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics at North Carolina State College, has announced that the petitions requesting an increase in the physical education fee will remain in circulation until Monday. They were scheduled to be withdrawn on October 26, but were not released until the 24. 3,000 names must be presented to the Board of Trustees to gain approval.

Vann states that the response to date has been good, and that he is "reasonably sure" that the necessary signatures will be secured. Approval from the fraternities has been almost unanimous, and several completed petitions have already been received from the dormitories.

Presidents of all campus organizations and the representatives of the dormitory clubs have copies of the petition. Additional copies have been posted in the campus YMCA for the benefit of off campus students.

The petitions ask that each student's physical education fee be increased by an additional eight and a half dollars per year. The purpose of the increased fee is to provide more adequate physical education and intramural facilities and services. The additional services may be added for the Winter term if approved at the November meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Keramos Society To Hold Banquet

In connection with the Ceramic Research Conference to be held on the campus next Wednesday, the North Carolina Chapter of Keramos, the national professional ceramic engineering fraternity, will hold a banquet honoring the alumni members of Keramos attending the conference.

The banquet, which will be held in the college cafeteria on Wednesday night, will have as the special guest of honor Dr. A. I. Andrews, head of the Ceramic Engineering Department of the University of Illinois, and national Grand President of Keramos.

Also expected to attend are Dr. A. F. Greaves-Walker, head of the Non-Metallic Minerals Section, Engineering Experiment Station, University of Florida, founder of the N. C. State Department of Ceramics and charter member of Keramos; Dr. Layne Mitchell, head of the Georgia Tech Department of Ceramic Engineering; Professor G. C. Robinson, Head of the Clemson Department of Ceramic Engineering; and Professor John W. Whittemore, head of the VPI Department of Ceramic Engineering. Dr. Greaves-Walker, Professor Robinson, and Professor Whittemore are alumni members of the North Carolina Chapter of Keramos.

"Hello Week" To Begin Monday With Big Rally In Stadium

Campus Government Sponsors Annual Campaign To Promote Friendlier Spirit Among Students

By ACIE EDWARDS

"At State, Everybody Speaks." That is the slogan for Hello Week, sponsored by the Campus Government this year, which begins officially Monday, October 31, with a big rally in Riddick Stadium at 12 noon. Scott Eubanks will MC the rally and the ROTC may be on hand to provide music for the event. President of the Student Government, Hoyle Adams, will deliver a short speech and Dean E. L. Cloyd will render a solo.

First Since 1946 This year marks the first appearance of Hello Week on the Campus since 1946. It was inaugurated in 1935 by Golden Chain as an annual feature, but was allowed to lapse three years ago. The Campus Government is bringing it back this year with the thought in mind that the students will derive some real benefit from it.

At the rally Monday, cards will be given out to students to wear for the entire Hello Week, Oct. 31, to Nov. 5. The card will be red and white in color and will read, "Hello, I Am . . . Who Are You?" Extra cards can be obtained at the "Y", the Frat houses or from the Dorm Councils.

Object The object of Hello Week, according to Burwell Smith, Chairman of Hello Week, is to promote friendlier spirit among the students and to acquaint the students with each other. It is hoped that friendliness among the students will prevail long after the week is ended. President Adams says, "It is not designed for one week only, but to encourage students to speak every day of every year."

Textile Society Raises Standards

On October 19, Sigma Tau Sigma, textile scholastic fraternity, passed a constitutional amendment raising the scholastic average required for admittance to the society. Henceforth, to be eligible for Sigma Tau Sigma, a junior must have an eighty-five average, and a senior, an average of eighty. The new ruling became effective immediately.

New Chapter Plans were instituted, at the second meeting of the school year, to establish a new chapter at Georgia Tech. A similar plan, begun several years ago, was delayed at the request of the administration of that institute. At that time, however, it was indicated that a future inquiry would meet with favorable response. Dick Stevens was appointed Chairman of the New Chapter Committee.

The members of Sigma Tau Sigma voted to reserve two pages in the 1949-1950 Agronomist. One page is to be used by the organization and the other, in the sponsor section, will feature a picture of Mrs. John Norrell, wife of the president.

Plans for Social Plans for a social to be held in December were discussed, details of which will be announced at a later date.

Record Concerts

The weekly record concerts will be resumed this Friday evening in the YMCA Conference Room from 7:30 to 9:00. These concerts, arranged by students for the enjoyment of all, were started last year and there has been some demand for a renewal of the series. If you enjoy listening to classical music, or if you want to learn more about it, you will find much in these concerts to interest you. Comfortable chairs are provided, comments are made on the selections played, and a general air of informality prevails. The first program will consist of Concerto No. 4 for Horn by Mozart, Symphony No. 4 by Brahms, and An American in Paris by George Gershwin.

The Secretary of the Fulbright Program Committee on this campus is: Mr. Rex Bach, Department of History and Political Science, 109 Peele Hall, State College.

Students Wives Club

There will be a meeting of the Students Wives Club Tuesday, Nov. 3, at the Veville YMCA at 8:00 p.m.

All students wives are cordially invited to be there.

Dorms, Fraternities Have Big Weekend

By Bob Horn

No one experienced difficulty in locating a State College dormitory or Fraternity during Homecoming weekend. Not several, but virtually all of the decorators clung to one theme—that of having a State College Wolf overpowering a turtle for the purpose of making Terrapin stew or soup.

Berryites Get The Jump The boys up at Becton, Bagwell and Berry started the ball rolling with their dance which was held in the newly dubbed "Upper Quad". Surveying the goings-on from his vantage point on the Berry balcony was a 14 ft. wolf.

Menus offering free Turtlebergers were prominently displayed. Sharing the balcony was George Martin and his Hillbilly Band featuring caller Don Biggerstaff.

First prize in the dormitory competition—a plaque in wood and bronze—went to Syme. Both this plaque and the cup won by Pi Kappa Alpha were presented by the Raleigh Merchant's Bureau. Featured at Syme was a cutaway of a rustic cabin showing a fireplace beside which a wolf stood supervising the preparation of our old friend Terrapin stew. Mounted on the mantle was an ancient muzzle loader. The fire simulated was reportedly one of the most realistic ever viewed in these parts, and the chimney exhaled real smoke continuously. A clever succession of road signs leading to the exhibit read, in order: Tired-Thirsty-Hungry Too-Stop Eat Mook TERP STEW-SYME'S ONE HUNDRED YARDS TO COMFORT STATION.

Turlington's Charlie Shackleton, Tom Hunter and Bill Mitchell were responsible for the erection of a picture showing a decrepit wolf envisioning a defeated Terrapin lying face upwards on the ground. Balloons and streamers in both Wolfpack and Maryland colors strengthened the decorations.

Pi Kappa Alpha A Three-Time Winner

Where fraternity houses predominated, Hillboro Street was also bedecked in her Homecoming best. Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha almost outdid each other as they vied for top honors; however, Pi Kappa Alpha's efforts reaped the reward when the enormous first prize cup was added to their already extensive and impressive collection.

KA House Two houses down, at Kappa Alpha, an animated turtle with a wolf astride swam through an assortment of marine life. Tom Hughes and Bill McCorkle headed the decorator's committee. The KA's placed third.

Veville Resident Wins Diamond

By EDWARD G. ROBINSON

What are your chances of winning a $350.00 diamond? Mrs. Louis Mustian of Veville chances were one out of 1,400, but she won. Last Saturday afternoon while Mrs. Mustian was up town shopping she passed Brawley's Jewelry Co., where they were having the drawing of the diamond. She knew her chances were slim of winning, but it did not cost to try, so she dangled her hand inside the glass vessel and hoped for the best. Inside the vessel were 1400 glass imitation diamonds and one real $350.00 diamond, so you can see the odds she had against her.

Lucky Choice After several minutes of this it, no I believe this is it, Mrs. Mustian rapped her hand to the bottom of the vessel and picked out a sparkler. She then went into Brawley's to have it appraised, and to her amazement she had become a prize winner for the first time in her life.

When asked how she felt, she said, "My husband was at the football game and when I got back to Veville everyone there had gone to the game, so I had to walk around for two hours before I could tell anyone what I had won."

Mr. Mustian, a junior in textiles, is just as excited about the diamond as his wife. He said he was going to have the stone mounted for his wife this week.

Special Ag Courses Offered Next Term

Short courses in three specialized fields of agriculture will begin at State College on January 2, Dr. James H. Hilton, dean of the College's School of Agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, has announced.

Dean Hilton said that instruction will be offered in dairy production, crop production, and beef cattle production. Each of the three courses will be given over a four-week period.

The short courses, he said, "are planned to be of practical value to any farmer in the State and to every young man who plans to make farming a part of his livelihood."

The dairy production course will include training in dairy herd management, animal health, milk sanitation, pastures and forage crops, farm management, artificial breeding, cattle judging and selection, and the Babcock testing of milk.

Topics to be covered in the crop production course will be soil management, tobacco growing, cotton, corn and small grains, soil testing, seed improvement, and forage crops.

The beef cattle class will consist of training in nutrition, breeding herd management, fattening and marketing beef cattle, animal diseases and parasites, and baby beef production.

Takes Third Place

The above exhibit was the third prize winner at the Fair. It was put on by the students from the Agronomy Department.

Say Hello!

AT STATE, EVERYBODY SPEAKS. THESE WORDS are not true, but they should be. If every student and faculty member would speak to everyone he meets for one week, a spirit of friendliness would take over the campus.

We should not need a "Hello Week" at State. We should speak to every one we meet every day. It is time for State students to stop walking around with their eyes on the ground, stop passing fellow students without even nodding their heads.

Most of us have looked down our noses at our cousins at Kulture Hill. But, we could, and should, take some lessons from them. Few students of the UNC campus pass without speaking. Sunday, I saw an even greater evidence of the school spirit that they have.

Are we going to stand by and let the boys and girls at the Hill be more friendly than we? There is no reason why we should. Unless we try, we will not be able to even match them in campus spirit.

Stadium Flags Missing

BROUGHT TO LIGHT OVER THIS PAST WEEKEND was a very unfortunate and disgraceful incident. The following letter written by a member of the football team will explain the vandalism caused by very thoughtless persons, which we hope were not State College students.

Dear Students:

State College students and fans were quite proud of the "Wolflets" last Friday night after their convincing victory over the Carolina Tar Babies. The "Wolflets" literally ran over the "Tar Babies" eleven in registering the first State victory in three years over the Carolina grid power.

After all of the victory celebrations, gloom spread over the Athletic Office the following morning. Two of the flags that flew over Riddick Stadium for the football game no longer were upon their masts.

Before Mr. Clogston appeared at State College, Riddick Stadium looked bare and uncolorful for a football game. Upon his arrival here, Mr. Clogston promptly bought 20 flags to represent each school in the Southern Conference.

Mr. Clogston wants to remind the student body that these flags were obtained at a great expense, costing $32.00 each. To replace these flags for the next home game would be impossible, because a period of six weeks would be required for special banners to be made.

IT DOES COUNT

Sponsored by the Interdormitory Council

Thanks Men!

To all dormitory men:

The demonstration of teamwork and industry that marked the homecoming clean-up and decoration activities of the dormitories does credit to the various dormitory clubs, their officers, and members. State College can well be proud of the cooperation and effort—the good college spirit—thus shown.

Syme, Tucker and Owen won the prizes for best decorations, but all eleven dormitories are winners in one respect. All were tops in cooperation in the clean-up and decoration effort for Homecoming Open House.

If State College students wish to see athletic improvements continue as they have so done in the past year, they must be willing to help the athletic department keep these new facilities that they are trying so hard to develop.

To those who removed or borrowed those Carolina and Duke banners, the athletic department asks you to please return them to the Athletic Office immediately, with no fear of disciplinary action. If they are returned promptly, the mistake will be considered merely as a matter of acting without thought.

John Tenck, Monogram Club.

A Very Poor Choice . . .

. . . Was made by the judging officials of the Bagwell, Becton, and Berry dormitories last Friday night. Dorm club members of that quadrangle sponsored a square dance and quadrangle-naming contest last week-end. It was the intention of the residents of those dorms, which was officially known as the Freshmen Quadrangle, to decide upon an impressive name for the quadrangle.

Many residents referred to themselves as Tri-Dorm members, but many more students who resided in those dorms used the term Upperclassmen Quadrangle or Upper Quadrangle.

Club officers of the three dorms got together and decided to have a contest to determine a standard, unofficial name for the quad. Any resident of either of the dorms was eligible to submit a name for the dormitory area.

It is agreed that many of the submitted names in the contest were impractical, silly, or just plain stupid, but there were also many which were fitting and showed judgment . . . something that cannot be said for the decision of the judges.

"Upper Quad" was the winning name as chosen by the judges. "Upper Quad," a name that had been used off-and-on by various students . . . "Upper Quad," a name that was one of the fundamentals in bringing about a contest to choose a suitable title . . . "Upper Quad," a name that was used in print when that dorm area was referred to in the TECHNICIAN . . . "Upper Quad," a name which we are stuck with.

If there is ever the day when a contest is formed to decide upon a name for the Student Supply Store, I will be the first one to submit the name "Mop-Up" . . . and then hope that as much judgment is used as in the case of the quadrangle contest.

OPEN FORUM

Dorm Noise

Dear Editor:

Loud, jeering voices, the sound of heavy feet, the tinkle of breaking glass, and the clam of a door are things you would not expect to hear in a college dormitory, especially at two o'clock in the morning.

It is unfortunate that the real meaning of higher education has been lost even to a minority of college students. To them, education entails only a knowledge of science and art as taught in the classroom. These students miss one very important aim of education—to understand and appreciate the rights of all our fellow men.

lightly better. Sometimes they are on, but more often than not they are off too. Why, nobody seems to know. Maybe light bulbs are scarce due to the coal strike.

I feel that someone is going to be hurt or even killed here someday, because lighting at a few critical spots is being ignored. The main entrance, railroad overpass, and the road to Tucker and Owen are, in my opinion, the most dangerous blind spots on the campus and something should be done about it.

Sincerely, H. P. Allyn

Traffic Problem

Dear Editor:

Are you violating State College traffic? For the past several weeks I have been making a private investigation of the traffic problem.

Each day I found cars persistently parked in no-parking areas: student cars were frequently found parked in staff zones; and many cars had no campus stickers on their windshields.

The odd thing about these violations was that no violation tickets were seen on any of the cars. Judging from the small numbers of violators caught each week, it was apparent that the cars were not tagged after my observations.

This condition is certainly an indication that our campus is being poorly policed. I feel that it is not fair to the small number of violators who get caught each week for a much greater number to be left unnoticed. If a few violators are apprehended each week, why can't the majority be also?

I realize that all violators can't be caught, but surely if the department would make some effort, most of the violations going unnoticed would be corrected.

If we are going to have these traffic laws, I say, let them apply to everyone or be disregarded entirely.

Date Tickets

Editor:

I have been prompted by a number of students on the State College campus to write this letter, and I hope in some way it will clear up a problem that many students have had at one time or another. The problem is, why must a State College student who chooses to bring a date to one of our football games be forced to sit in the poorest seats in Riddick Stadium? I, for one, can see absolutely no justification for this fact. We all inwardly like to improve our dates and also to have good seats for the football games.

Sincerely yours, Peter Koch

Cheerleaders Boost School Spirit

State College's lively cheerleaders have been going through the paces this fall boosting the school spirit in preparation for various football games and other athletic events. They are shown here as they put on a campus stunt to build student interest in intercollegiate sports. Two Scientists Named To Chemistry Dept.

Appointment of two scientists to positions in the Chemistry Department at State College was announced today by Dr. W. J. Peterson, department head.

Dr. Peterson said that Dr. Wreal Lester Lott has been named as a research professor of chemistry and that Dr. William L. Williams has assumed his duties as assistant professor of biochemistry.

Both appointments have been approved by Chancellor J. W. Harrelson of State College, Acting President W. D. Carmichael, Jr., of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, and the executive committee of the board of trustees.

Dr. Lott took his Ph.D. degree at Cornell University in 1939 and was associated with the U. S. Sugar Corporation as soil technologist from 1939 to 1945. Since 1945, he has been associated with the Agronomy Department at State College in a cooperative program with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry.

Dr. Lott will direct an expanded program of research and services in spectroscopy. With the aid of a grant from the Smith-Douglas Company, one of the most modern and well-equipped spectrographic laboratories in the country is being set up in the Chemistry Department on the State College campus. Spectrographic services will be made available to all departments concerned with the plant and animal sciences.

Dr. Williams, a native of St. Cloud, Minnesota, received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Wisconsin during the past summer. Dr. Williams served as research biochemist for the Fleischman Yeast Company for several years and held a Merck fellowship at the University of Wisconsin.

Congratulations

Yes Sir, Congratulations to everyone who attended the game last Saturday. That was the best display of School Spirit that I've ever seen. The yelling was exceptional and the support of the team even when we were losing, was swell. Several of the oldsters who have been around this institution for a number of years said that our support of our team last Saturday was by far the best that they'd ever seen. Why Bruce Beamon, who was Head Cheerleader here four years ago when the team went to the Gator Bowl and who also wrote that letter of congratulations that was reprinted in the TECHNICIAN three weeks ago, even came down out of the stands to pat the Cheerleaders on the back and tell us that it was the best yelling he had ever heard, far none.

If you, the Student and the Fan, continue to support our team in this same way, I am sure that the team will play better and we will win the next ones. Even at that I think it goes to show that you do not need a winning team to have good School Spirit. You have shown this by your performance last Saturday. Keep it up and we are bound to win.

Scott Eubanks, Head Cheerleader.

With The Greeks

Homecoming, 1949 style, was a very, very happy one for most Greeks. We saw school spirit revived to a point known during the Gator Bowl year of '46. And too, we saw the Wolfpack come a lot nearer having Terrapin soup for supper than most forecasters dared to predict.

A swing around the Greek social circle reveals that Alumni and dates had plenty of entertainment besides the game this past weekend.

Kappa Alpha's
Kappa Alpha, as friendly a group of men as you'll find hereabouts, held forth with a buffet supper Saturday night. Incidentally, the supper was so fine that Dorm President Alex Vann, who usually only puts in an appearance at such functions, stayed practically all evening. The K.A.'s copped third place in the Decorations Contest.

Lambda Chi's
Down on Hillcrest Street the Lambda Chi celebrated the weekend with an open house. Among the returning Alumni were Bill Morrison and Austin Sauls. Celebrities in the form, or rather shape, of Miss North Carolina, Miss Wolfpack, and Miss Katherine Durham, sponsor for Campus Government Prexy, Hoyle Adams, were present too.

Pi Kappa Phi greeted many old and new Alumni back for the festivities, Ause Harvey, Ray Queen, Jay Deyton and Jim Morgan being a few we bumped into. Saturday night the Pi Kappa entertained with a Gay Nineties Party at the House on Horne street. Hassel Moore, Frank Perkins and Ray Dameron drew the three top posts in recent chapter elections.

Though not socially active this weekend, the Sigma Chi's won second place in the Decorations contest.

P.E.P. had a get-together after the game at the House and entertained throughout the evening.

Buffet Supper
Tau Kappa Epsilon gave a buffet supper Friday night for faculty members and brothers. Saturday night their weekend social activities were climaxed with an open house for returning Alumni.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon went all the way, through the treasury that is, and had a supper for its new pledges out at the Tar Heel Club after the game.

Our last stop this weekend was at the Sigma Pi House. Over there they really know what Louis Jordan means when he gives out with "Good Rockin' Tonight." Seen around was Neely Shannon, runner-up for Miss Wolfpack, and Alumni Dude Newsom, Felix Webster, Jim Rhodes and Charlie Angel.

Frosh Upset Tar Babies 13 - 0

Webster and Potts Outstanding in Win

By JIM PLOTT

The underdog State Wolflets turned in an upset triumph here last Friday night over Carolina's Tar Babies, 13-0. Co. Captain tailbacks Ted Potts and Alex Webster, inspired the team to victory with their brilliant playing.

A second period aerial attack moved the State forces 87 yards for their first score. Potts, engineering the drive connected on three successive passes to blocking back Russell McGraw, and ends Dave Butler and Don Weatherwax. A 22-yard heave to wingback Marshall Long was completed for the score. Long converted the extra point and the Frosh took a 7-0 lead.

Operating from the "T", Carolina moved into scoring position twice in the first half, but each time was thrown back by State's forward wall. In the first period the Tar Babies marched to the 13 and again near the half they moved deep into State's territory, but only to be stopped when they crossed the 20-yard line.

Webster Outstanding

Webster was the engineer of the second scoring drive as he bowled through Carolina's line in the drive with the power of a horse. Interception of Carolina quarterback Steve Haven's pass by end Weatherwax started the drive. Webster gained 12 yards in successive carries before crossing for the T. D.

Another 65 yard drive fell short by inches in the last moments for the Wolflets as the Tar Babies forward wall held fast on the fourth down before kicking out.

Excellent quick kicking by Tailback Potts was one of the highlights of the game. Kicking from close behind his own line five times kept the Carolina Frosh backed up at all times. The little 165-pounder from Alexander, Va., averaged 49.9 yards in nine kicks during the game.

The deciding factors of the contest was decided by the tight defense of State's staunch line in halting Carolina's best scoring punches.

State Passes Effective
The real edge was for the Baby Pack was in the air. State completed 7 of 13 passes, while Carolina connected on three out of 17. The Tar Babies had five passes intercepted and State one.

The Wolflets will meet the Davidson Frosh at Fayetteville next Friday night for a game with the Wildkittens.

State Beats Maryland In All Statistics But Scoring

Kossilla Scores Only Pack TD on Pass Play

By JOHN LAMPE

If statistics and line play decided a ball game, the State Wolfpack would have edged by Maryland, but the Old Liners took advantage of their scoring opportunities and sent the luckless Pack down to a 14-6 defeat before 15,000 partisan Homecoming fans in Riddick Stadium.

The State team outbattled the Terrapins in the line, holding them to 63 yards and five first downs, but could not find the correct combination in the backfield to hit pay-dirt.

The leaders in the excellent Wolfpack defense were tackles Elmer Costa and Ted Dostanko, guard Charlie Musser, and Bob Bowly and Tom Toufaute, line backers. The three Maryland fumbles that State recovered, can be directly attributed to the hard charging Pack line.

Pack Scores Early

Coch Feathers' men opened the game fast, scoring in the first quarter. With Ed Mooney hearing the brunt of the attack from his tailback position, the Wolfpack marched from the middle stripe to the Old Liners' goal.

Fullback Jim O'Rourke made two yards at the middle; then Mooney threw a pass, but Jim LaRue of Maryland intercepted only to fumble and have End Tony Romanowsky cover the ball on the Maryland 23. Thompson tried a reverse, but only made one yard. Mooney on the next play fumbled but recovered on the Liner 27. On the next play Mooney flipped an aerial to end Steve Kossilla on the Terrapin 14, and then O'Rourke hit center for a first down on the 11.

Still plugging at the goal line Mooney took to the airways with a toss to Romanowsky; the pass

Frat Intramural Program in Full Swing

By PETER KOCH

Although State's Wolfpack took it on the chin for the fifth Saturday in a row, there was good news on the frat-intramural front. Handball stepped into the limelight along with volleyball, and touch football to give the Greeks a full week to show their athletic prowess.

Let's take in the gridiron battles first. Sigma Pi beat the KA's in a scoreless game last week. Neither team could cross the goal line, but Sigma Pi won the game by virtue of the one first down made in the game. Sigma Pi scored their first down on the first play from scrimmage and then the teams fell into a pattern of three plays and then a punt. Both teams played for a break and KA got it in the fourth quarter when they blocked a Sigma Pi punt and recovered the ball on the Sigma Pi 1 yard line. But Sigma Pi was not to be denied as their line pushed the KA's back fifteen yards. In other gridiron tilts last week, Sigma Chi won two games. They beat AGR by a 12-0 score and also trounced Delta Sig by a 28-0 score. The PIKA's remained undefeated as they swept by Pi Kappa Phi 12-0, Sigma Nu topped SPE 6-2. SAM edged TKE 2-0, and Sigma Pi squeezed out a 6-0 victory over Lambda Chi.

There were four volleyball games scheduled last week, and they all went according to form. Phi Ep. went over Kappa Sig. Lambda Chi triumphed over SAE, AGR beat Pi Kappa Tau, and it took Delta Sig three games before they were able to subdue Pi Kappa Phi.

The handball eliminations got off to a good start as Phi Ep. frat champs for the past two years, commenced the defense of their crown by beating Sigma Chi. In other matches, AGR won by a forfeit over Delta Sig, and SAE beat Pi Kappa Phi, and the Pikas took SPE into camp.

Turlington Wins In Intramural Game

After an apparent 6-6 deadlock at the half, the powerful No. 2 Turlington team ran up a 24-6 victory over No. 2 Tucker. Bob Smith and company didn't roll until the second half. Blocked kicks set up two scores. Game date: October 20.

Early in the third quarter, end Joe Brown, blocked a No. 2 Tucker kick on their 15-yard line. Smith passed to end, David Pippingier, for the score.

A moment of indecision by No. 2 Tucker gave No. 2 Turlington a score on the next play, the kick-off. Smith's kickoff came to rest in No. 2 Tucker's endzone where Charles Atwell pounced upon it for the score before No. 2 Tucker could decide what to do with the ball.

Late Score
A fourth quarter score was set up by defensive end Bobby Wright, who blocked No. 1 Tucker's kick. Smith ran around his own right end for the final score.

Pack, VPI Meet In Norfolk Tomorrow

State Favored To Take First Win

By BOB CURRAN

State's Wolfpack will journey to Norfolk, Va., tomorrow to tackle Virginia Tech in the annual Oyster Bowl game. The Wolfpack will be going after their first win of the season, as will the Gobblers from V.P.I. State will be favored to take the game, but the Gobblers will give them a tough game.

Coch Coach Beattie Feathers will be relying on fullbacks Ed Mooney and Ogen Smith to do most of the passing and kicking for the Pack.

while fullbacks Dick Johnson and Jim O'Rourke will do the carrying. They will be aided by Paul Bruno, who will see limited action because of hand and wrist injuries. Bill Thompson will be alternated between tailback and wingback, and will see action at both posts.

Up front in the line, Elmer Coats, who was mentioned for lineman of the week honors by the A.P., will hold down his usual tackle spot. At the ends Steve Koslitz and Tony Romanovsky will be counted on to do most of the pass catching, especially after their performances against Duke and Maryland.

Coch Bob McNeish of V.P.I. has his whole team in top physical condition for this game. Chip Collum will be at the fullback spot, and Bob Webb and Don Whitman will be in the starting backfield. Reserve backs Dave Thomas and Eustace Frederick will also see plenty of action.

Attention Co-Eds

The State College Co-Ed Club will meet in the Faculty Room at the YMCA Monday night at 7:30. All women who attend State are urged to attend.

Wrestling

The intramural wrestling program will be held on November 4. At that time events for all weights will be held.

Harriers Take Fifth Straight

Racking up victory number five, the Wolfpack crosscountry team defeated the highly-regarded Duke squad last Thursday afternoon 22-36. This win was the fifth straight of the current season for the surprising State men, who have yet to taste defeat.

Dubow Outstanding

Dave Dubow, a senior from Hillside, N. J., took first place in the hotly contested meet. Dubow, who finished in the excellent time of 22:18, barely edged Duke's ace, Charlie Thomlinson. The Blue Devil leader collapsed a few yards from the finish line.

The Pack harriers copped six spots of the first nine with Bobby Leonard and John Keenan taking third and fourth places to cop the meet.

Fresh Lose

The State fresh lost their meet to the Duke yearlings by the close margin of one point, 27-28. Bobby Jones and Clyde Garrison tied for first but the Blue Devils nabbed the next four to win.

Varsity Summary:

1. Dubow (S) 22:18, 2. Tomlinson (Duke) 22:23, 3. Leonard (S) 22:35, 4. Keenan (S) 22:50, 5. Bullock (Duke) 22:52, 6. Hudson (S) 22:55, 7. Griffith (Duke) 23:05, 8. Hunter and Vernon (S) tie, 23:40, 10. Fulmer (Duke) 24:20, 11. Wadesworth (S) 24:36, 12. Christy (Duke) 24:38.

INTRAMURAL FRONT

By NEILL POSEY

The Protest Committee of the Intramural Athletic Board substantiated the protest No. 1 Turlington against Trailwood concerning a game played October 6. The game will be re-played from the beginning of the second quarter. Officials other than those who officiated the protested game will officiate.

The protest came upon a reversed decision during the half-time by the referee who originally ruled that a touchdown made by Trailwood at the close of the second half was illegal. Nick Parthenos of No. 1 Turlington stated that in the closing minutes of the second half Trailwood was on its own 3 yd. line, that Trailwood passed for a touchdown using an 8-man line, that the referee called the play illegal and penalized Trailwood to its 1 1/2 yd. line, that subsequent plays were run before the half ended and that the referee reversed his decision late in the half-time period. Both the officials and Trailwood stated that no plays were run after the penalty and before the half.

Of course, having eight men on the line did not disqualify the touchdown made by Trailwood as long as the pass was caught by an end as was the case. Then too, the committee decided to accept the officials ruling as to the subsequent plays. However, they believed that any reversal of a decision should be made by the official during the play on which the original decision was made and not after the next play had begun. Furthermore, in this special case they believed that enough of the half-time period intervened as to make the reversal unwarranted, hence the substituted protest.

The committee however lost sight of one aspect of the protest. The disputed touchdown could have been thrown out and Trailwood would have still won 7-0. A rule used by West Point in their intramurals and appearing in "Regulations for Intramural Athletics prescribed by The Commandant of Cadets" (1949) states, "Protests are valid when the official has erred on the question of rules if the error has direct bearing on the results of the game or when ineligible players are used, or when a team has failed to comply with the participation rules." The Intramural Director, J. F. Miller and the committee ruled that in the future protests must at least be withdrawn in a rule such as the above.

Congratulations

Congratulations No. 2 Owen on your 12-6 upset victory over No. 2 Alexander. Both Owen and Tucker perennially field weak teams which are a discredit to the western division of the Intramural Dormitory League. You, by your victory have shown signs of being possibly a sleeper. Unfortunately you are in the same section as Powerful No. 2 Turlington. There you have a chance for the biggest upset of the dormitory touch football season.

Bill Austin, Athletic Director for Alexander, was so concerned about his team winning that No. 2 Turlington—No. 2 Alexander game of October 6 that he overlooked a small injury which he received upon slipping on the wet field. He finished the game not knowing that he was playing with a broken arm.

Watauga and Gold have united in order to field a team in Section III of the dormitory touch foot-

Booters Lose 3-1 To Tar Heel Team

By BOB PHELPS

A scrappy State College soccer team went down to defeat, 3-1, at the hands of the University of North Carolina Tuesday afternoon. The State team showed the true spirit they had last week, but just couldn't keep up with the speedier, more experienced Tar Heels. The Pack's number one booter Raul Rivendenzra was first to score in the initial period by booting home a long shot untouched by the Carolina goalie. However, from there on out the Tar Heels took over and it was mostly a defensive game for the State team.

Carolina Turns on Heat
After Rivendenzra's goal, Carolina tied up the game in the second period on Greenbaum's shot from the left of the goal. The State Booters couldn't get started again after the score was tied as the Tar Heels dominated the play with superb ball handling with the head as well as the feet. Carolina's right inside Foy turned on the heat and scored twice in the third period on a free fook kick from the goalies circle and on a pass from Sawyer.

Dispute over Free Kick
There was a dispute over Foy's free kick; as he booted the ball, Zuniga, State's goalie, stopped it, but doing so was knocked off his feet to the ground. The Carolina team swarmed him under as Foy came in and kicked the ball again in the goal before Zuniga could get on his feet. The officials, however, ruled the goal good.

Outstanding State booters were many; Rivendenzra turned in his usual excellent offensive play while Baxter, Connors, Mavrommatis, and Woo played a very good game. The Carolina team was fast with Ferebee, Sawyer, Foy, and Moore covering the field very well. Fullbacks Nelson and Rhoades kept State from the Carolina goal with their long punts.

Carolina had played games before today with Navy and Washington and Lee. The Tar Heels were defeated by Navy 3-0, but won from
