

ARSON ATTEMPT MADE

COLISEUM NEARS COMPLETION

Efforts Being Made To Open By Dec. 2

By ACIE EDWARDS

Uncertainty still shrouds the question of whether or not the coliseum will be in readiness for the opening basketball game December 2, but every effort is being made to have it completed, according to Mr. W. Z. Betts, Manager of the Coliseum.

Completion hinges upon a race against time since only two weeks remain before the first game. Athletic Director Roy Clogston said that an extra $2,000 has already been spent to bring in additional welders to finish the underlying pipe laying of the ice rink. They are expected to finish the job Saturday and then the task of pouring cement over the 90 by 600 feet arena will begin. The cement pouring represents an immense job since the entire 54,000 square feet of the ice rink will have to be completed in one operation.

The basketball court floor will be laid on the surface of the ice rink when the latter is finished. The court has already been ordered and will come in prefabricated sections, easy to set up and remove.

Seats Being Assembled

The 8,000 permanent balcony seats are being assembled as rapidly as possible. In addition to these, there will be 1,500 bleacher-type seats at each end of the basketball court, and 500 roll-away bleacher-type on each side, making a total seating capacity at basketball games of 12,000. The bleacher seats represent the best seats in the house, and they will be reserved for the student body during games.

The overhead lighting in the arena is already finished, and the sound system is being rushed to completion. The heating system will probably be ready to turn on by game time. Final touches are being put on by painters on the walls above the balcony seats.

Interior Work

The fiberoak ceiling has been finished on the west side and the workmen are steadily progressing around the hallway under the balcony leading into the arena. The hallway stretches all the way around the coliseum and there, during games, spectators will find refreshments along each side and a rest room in each corner.

Big Scoreboard

In the center of the arena, above the basketball court, a four-faced scoreboard will hang, making the score easily visible from any angle. The press and radio box will be on a level with the basketball court. It is expected to be in readiness for happy reporters at that first game with Washington and Lee.

Final completion of the coliseum will not be realized until sometime in March, but at present the main job is to have it in readiness for basketball by December 2.

Official Dedication

Official dedication of the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum is scheduled for January 25, at the basketball game between State and Louisville. Elaborate plans are being made for the occasion to hall the coming of State College's long-awaited coliseum. Two of the dignitaries expected to take part in the ceremony are the governors of North Carolina and Kentucky.

Conducts Workshop

Frank H. Jeter, agricultural editor of State College, will conduct a "News Writing Workshop" at the Kentucky Extension Workers' Conference, which opened Thursday at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. He left Raleigh Wednesday and will return after the conference ends today.

Want A Ride

Beginning last Thursday night the college station, WVVP, began a new program, "Travel Agency of the Air." The program is purely a service feature for the students of State. Its chief function is to arrange for rides for the students not having cars and who would like a way home on week-ends or special occasions, and to give them those rides with student-owned cars and who would take passengers.

The program will be presented each Thursday night at 9:15 at which time rides that have been received or written in during the week up until Thursday night, will be announced, and assignments made for those rides that are available. If you have a car and room for riders, or if you would like a ride home that week-end, or any other week-end, call the station at 7861, or drop a post card to Box 5748, State College Station, or stop by the station in the Publications Building and let them know your problem.

State Students Held In Thefts

Two State College students were arrested early Wednesday in front of Tucker Dormitory on charges of larceny and receiving. They were Buddy Edwards, 20, of Asheville, and Rufus H. Shelton, Jr., 21, of Roxboro, who are scheduled to be tried tomorrow in City Court.

Automobile Thefts

Officers A. O. Coats and E. E. Newton made the arrests shortly after midnight while investigating a report that an automobile was being tampered with in Cameron Village. Officer Coats said that the two defendants had two stolen radios in a car at the time of their arrests. They were taken off cars of L. W. Bowden, Jr., of 2410 Everette Avenue and Roy B. Brady of 832 Bryan Street, police reported, and were valued at $80 each.

Admit Theft

The officers also said that a suction pump, which could be used for stealing gasoline from cars, was found in the car with rubber hose and a quantity of tools. Shelton admitted when questioned later by local detectives, they reported, that he also stole a typewriter from a Methodist church at Roxboro and an adding machine from a State Highway Commission office there. They were found in his room at the college. Detective Sgt. W. G. Maddrey said, and were stolen in September, 1948.

Civil Service Announces Exam

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced examination for Physical Science Aid to fill positions paying from $2,200 to $3,100 in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. The optional branches covered by this examination are chemistry, physics, metallurgy, geology, mathematics, and other branches of physical science except meteorology.

To qualify for these positions, all applicants will be required to take a written test. In addition, for positions paying $2,450 and above, they must have had from 1 to 4 years of appropriate experience in the physical sciences. For the higher grades, part of this experience must have been in a specific branch of physical science, depending upon the position for which the application is made. Pertinent education may be substituted for the required experience.

The age limits, 18 to 62 years, will be waived for veterans. Further information and application forms may be obtained from most first- and second-class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications must be received in the Commission's Washington office not later than December 13, 1949.

Attend Meeting

Prof. M. E. Gardner, head of the Department of Horticulture at State College, and Dr. Warren S. Barham, research assistant professor of horticulture, attended the recent meeting of the American Society for Horticultural Science held in Milwaukee, Wis. Professor Gardner was elected to membership on the executive committee of the Society.

There will not be an edition of THE TECHNICIAN next week because of Thanksgiving holidays.

Pledge Dance Sponsors

By JOHN THOMPSON

The 1949 Pledge Dances begin tonight with an informal dance in Memorial Auditorium. This dance is the first of the big events planned for the week-end. It will begin at 8 o'clock and last until 12. The dance is informal, but the girls are requested to wear party dresses. Skirts and sweaters will be frowned upon.

Sonny Dunham, well known trumpet and trombone stylist, and his orchestra will provide the music for the dance. This handsome band leader has amazed even such notables as Harry James and Tommy Dorsey with his ability to play both trumpet and trombone. It has long been thought an impossibility to master both instruments, since they require a difference in embouchure (technical term for the set of lip muscles required to play a musical instrument).

Sonny Dunham has displayed his talents in such notable places as Paramount Theatre in New York City, The Million Dollar Pier at Atlantic City, New Jersey, and Frank Dally's Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove, New Jersey. Along with the versatile band and Dunham comes Pete Handley, the band's featured vocalist.

Saturday Concert

On Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 p.m., those who would like to hear Dunham's orchestra may do so by attending his concert in Pullen Hall. This concert is open to the general public. No admission will be charged.

Plans For Student Union Are Nearing Completion

By JACK MCCORMICK

Plans for the new Student Union Building, to be located just west of Patterson Hall facing Hillsboro, are rapidly nearing completion.

The new building will be completely modern in design with emphasis on glass fenestration. The building will fill a need that has been extant on the State College Campus since the college was founded. The new structure will include a large ball room, comfortable lounge, banquet rooms, conference rooms, a large cafeteria, and a spacious lounge.

A billiard room, table tennis facilities, and reading room will also be available. The reading room will be well stocked with newspapers, magazines, and challenging new books. Also included in the plans are some small rooms equipped with record players in which symphonies or popular selections may be played without disturbing others.

Marks Second Try To Burn Buildings

By JOE HANCOCK

A deliberate attempt to set fire to Pullen Hall was made early Tuesday morning when an unidentified arsonist threw a construction flare into one of the basement windows on the northeast side of the building.

Both State and local authorities have been called in to investigate the incident, but up until late today the authorities had nothing to report as to the identity of the culprit. The college nightwatchmen have been ordered to be on the alert in making their rounds.

According to Neil Clark, printer in the State College Print Shop who discovered the blaze and put it out, the following happened.

"I was preparing to leave the Print Shop after finishing work about 2:30 a.m. when I saw a glimmer in the basement of Pullen Hall. Not thinking much about it I got in my car, turned it around, and headed it up past the building. As I passed the window, I saw the blaze so quickly I got out of the car, forced open the window, and jumped into the room and extinguished the fire.

Heard Someone Running

"While I was trying to get the window open, I heard someone running in the building; and a few seconds later a student ran out of the building yelling that the building was on fire and that he was going to call the fire department.

"After I put out the fire, I noticed that the wick from the pot-like flare was under the half-burned paper that had been burning; and that the flare itself was setting upright about a foot and a half away from the place where the wick and papers lay. Other papers lay in the window sill nearby.

Police Called In

"A few minutes after I extinguished the blaze the fire and police department arrived, and soon thereafter I left for home."

Not A Prank

Mr. W. F. Morris, Director of Buildings and Grounds, stated that "this was no accident or prank, someone definitely tried to set fire to the building." Mr. Morris also reported that the State Fire Insurance's Division of Arson had been called in on the case.

The seriousness of the case was brought out the other day in the report of an attempt to set fire to college buildings in the past four weeks. On October 20, an unidentified person threw the same type of pot-shaped flare into a window of the west end of the Zoology building sometime around 12:30 a.m. Night watchman S. J. Highsmith reported that he discovered the fire about 12:40, and that he succeeded in putting out the fire before much damage was done.

Mr. Morris warned students that it is a criminal offense to remove the flares from where they have been placed, and that anyone moving the flares will be prosecuted.

Statesmen To Play For Logger's Ball

The annual Logger's Ball will be held Saturday night, December 3, in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium from 8 to 12. Dress is strictly informal. This affair is a yearly occasion sponsored by the Forestry Club of State College.

The music will be furnished by Zeke Barnes and the Statesmen band most of which were holdovers of the old Al Millman crew. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the affair for the nominal sum of $1.50 stag or drag. Anyone interested in tickets should see any member of the forestry school or the dance committee.

The committee includes chairman, Bill Broadwell, Frank Spivey, Curt Farr, Joe Evans, and Jay Slafkey. The floor committee is Klondike Smith, Phil Clements, Sam Hughes, Chuck Pardy, and Ernie Welch.

Want a Turkey?

The Raleigh Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that they will sponsor a Turkey Shoot Sunday afternoon and - again Tuesday night on the Track Field here on the campus for the benefit of their community Welfare project.

Only shot guns will be allowed in the contest. Firing will be at targets 60-75 yards away, with the Jayces furnishing the targets. Each contestant must bring his own gun.

The cost of entering the contest is one dollar a shot. Twenty men will fire at a time, and a fifteen pound turkey will be given away after each twenty men fire.

Debate Team Leaves for New York

The State College debate team, with director Prof. Edwin H. Faget, will leave for New York on Monday. The team will participate in inter-sectional contests with the debate squads of Columbia University in New York City on November 22, with Brooklyn College in Brooklyn on November 23.

Demonstration Debates

The team has presented a series of demonstration debates in training for the New York events. The debates will not be on the national question, but will be on special topics which have been arranged with the New York schools. Prof. Faget states that the team has been looking forward to the meetings, for these squads are always among the nation's best.

Team Members

The members of State's team are Robert Reams of Apex, Francis Chadwick of Wilmington, Jesse Austin of Clayton, Paul Foght of Kenosha, Wis., Eugene Gold of Brooklyn, and George Steiner of New York City.

State Night Planned At The Meadowbrook

A North Carolina State College Night has been planned for December 21st at Frank Dally's Meadowbrook, Route 23, Cedar Grove, New Jersey.

Design Standards To Be Raised

The State College School of Design is collaborating with the State Department of Public Instruction in an effort to achieve design standards for the State's current school building expansion program.

Announcement of the development was made jointly here yesterday by Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, State superintendent of public instruction, and Dean Henry L. Kampheofer of the College's School of Design.

Edward W. Waugh, associate professor in the School of Design, has been assigned to assist W. F. Crede of the Division of School House Planning of the State Department of Public Instruction in working out architectural designs for the new buildings.

A coordinating office has been set up in the State Capital Life Insurance Company Building on Hillsboro Street.

Buckminster Fuller To Lecture Here Again

Buckminster Fuller, designer extraordinary, will return to State College again this year on November 25 for a public lecture and special seminars for students of the School of Design.

Fuller is probably responsible for more fresh thinking about technology than any other living man. Those of you who may be interested in pursuing his biography further or after hearing his lectures should read the story entitled "Bucky Fuller's Dymaxion World" in the November issue of Science Illustrated Magazine. Science Illustrated says this about Fuller: To the American people, fond of classifying its public figures, Richard Buckminster Fuller, a stocky, jet-propelled man in his fifties, is an enigma. He invented a new system of geometry. He holds the only U. S. patent for a new kind of map projection. He has written several books. He has published a magazine. He has developed, without a doubt, the most radical cars, bathrooms, and houses in the world.

Thanksgiving Holiday

The Thanksgiving holiday will be next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 24, 25, and 26. Double cuts will be charged for missing classes Tuesday and Wednesday of next week and Monday and Tuesday following the holiday.

Congratulations

Congratulations to former Professor C. L. Mann, chairman of the Memorial Tower committee, for a job well done. Mr. Mann, former head of the college's Civil Engineering Department and member of the college staff for almost fifty years, served as head of the Memorial Tower committee since its inception in 1919. Last Friday the final additions to the tower, the Shrine Room and the Memorial Plaque, were officially dedicated. Thus after three decades of work, the committee's job is completed. It is indeed a pleasure to congratulate Prof. Mann and his committee for their untiring devotion to State College and to commend them for a job well done.

Safety Campaign

Congratulations are also in order to Delta Sigma Phi, local social fraternity, for their outstanding job in promoting safety in and around the campus. The fraternity has stenciled safety slogans on the walks all over the campus, and during Homecoming they strung a banner across Hillsboro St. to remind drivers to be careful. In view of the recent increase in automobile accidents in this area, the safety program put on by Delta Sigma Phi is very important to all of us. It is a step forward in making our community a better place in which to live.

Merit Rating

Last February the students rated their instructors on Student Reaction sheets which were distributed and collected in the class rooms by members of the departmental honor committees. The data from these sheets was tabulated and put on I. B. M. cards. Every person rated was referred to by a number in order that the information could be kept secret. The heads of the different departments received the information on their instructors and discussed each man's report with him individually.

Opinions of the rating system, as expressed by faculty members, ranged from enthusiasm to indifference, but in most cases the system was accepted favorably.

The item considered most beneficial by many of the instructors was the one under which the student listed "distracting mannerisms". The comments concerning each instructor were typed out and attached to his report. Most instructors were in favor of repeating the rating again this year.

Due to the excellent cooperation of the student body, Faculty Rating was a success last year. Now that the system has been proved, we may look forward to a better and more efficient rating of faculty this year.

THE KEY HOLE

By MAX HALBER

Unknown to many State College students there exists on the campus a psychology clinic which is designed to help the student with his private and personal affairs and problems. Dr. H. M. Corter as head of the clinic, Mike Caffee, and Alva Burgess are the backbone of the clinic and will see to it that their confidants are either straightened out with their girl friends or that they are advised in the logical selection of the pertinent course of study. So if you want to know what to do about your dreams or what to do about the nymphomaniac tendencies of Roscoe's wife, quickly seek out Tompkins Hall where you might find peace of mind.

It won't be long before the merry Yuletide will again embrace us with her enchanting atmosphere of homecooking, gifts, girlfriends, and good will. But while December 15 at six p.m. will find the campus clean of students, the cruel fact of returning when the country is still celebrating a legal holiday, January 2, 1950, as New Year's—and when most bowl games are being played—will be less enchanting.

We feel that although the academic calendar and its various dates were thoroughly scrutinized before adoption by the faculty council, a change in the winter term registration date is not entirely out of question.

Coming from a long line of Scotchmen I have found this to be of economic merit: When buying wrapped cakes of soap, remove the paper and permit the pieces to dry out for a few weeks. This will reduce the "wash-away" rate of the soap almost twofold. If you put the soap among your shirts or underwear to let it dry out there, you might even make new friends.

A rather shameful incident occurred the other day here in Raleigh, to which a State student was a witness. It seems that a negro was suddenly accosted by several white men, beaten, and robbed. This, of course, is not so unusual; what is abominable, however, is the action of the several white actors who stood around and witnessed the incident. Their action was exactly this: nothing!!! Said the negro: "All my life I expected something like this to happen and now it did." Seems like the Golden Rule is pretty well tarnished.

With The Greeks

By JACK McQUINN

The Greeks were treated to some very fine Greek-talk in simple English Sunday night at the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church. Dr. Samuel Levering, noted economist, minister, lecturer, and horticulturist, discussed Brotherhood and the way we Greeks can help sponsor this ideal. Dr. Levering pointed out during his talk that war can and must be prevented by understanding and real friendliness among the peoples of the world. His words were an inspired appeal for all fraternity men to carry the fraternal spirit of friendliness and neighborliness onward and outward into the world so that we may never again have to face the question of peace or war.

Outstanding Attendance
Much praise is due EX for their outstanding attendance at this meeting. It is unfortunate, indeed, that more of our clubs do not put just half the emphasis on church attendance which they do on football practice. Tonight Greeks will be heading for Memorial Auditorium around 8:00 in informal gear to attend the first of the 1949 Pledge Dances. The Dances promise to be great this year for at least two good reasons: Sonny Dunham and the freedom of space at Memorial Auditorium (quite a lot different than being crowded into the Gym like last year).

Dunham to Play
For those who like their music on the sweet side, Dunham's your boy. Sonny started out in the early '30s with Glen Gray and made quite a name for himself with his unique trumpet and trombone stylings. His theme, Mem'ries of You, is a Dunham original and well marks his musical ability as being on the superlative side. Like most bandmen, Lombardo excepted, he turned to swing in the early war years. In 1946, with the public's taste for jazz on the fall, Dunham changed to that "lovin' time" music which characterizes him now. For the youngsters, he has some really fine swing arrangements which he adds to his dance sets.

Tomorrow afternoon will find the State student body invited to Pullen Hall for a concert. The I.F.C. urges those who would like to attend to come on over. The high water mark will be reached tomorrow night, and when black and white evening gowns (low-cuts of course) will prevail. The formal ball, like tonight's opener, will be by "invite only" but we understand there are guest bids to be had for anyone wishing to attend. Incidentally, buffet suppers, after-dance breakfasts, and parties in general will be on tap at most Houses after the Dances for those Greeks interested in "touring the circle."

Planning Institute - Hear Design Prof

Architects must have detailed information about a wide range of factors before they start drawing plans for a new school building. Prof. Edward W. Waugh of the State College School of Design told delegates attending the Institute of School Planning at the college yesterday. Waugh said that architects must know about the type of academic program to be conducted, characteristics of the site, the topography, the ages of children expected to attend the school, and many other factors.

This information, Waugh said, is essential if the architect produces the most efficient building.

Principal objective of the institute, which opened at the college Monday, is to work toward improvement in design standards for the State's mammoth school building program. The sessions are being attended by architects and school officials from throughout the State.

Prior to Waugh's talk, Dr. Samuel Selden, head of the Department of Dramatics at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, outlined the features which the auditorium and stage of the public school should include.

Funds, he said, should not be wasted on an elaborate front curtain, a fancy "grand drapery," disappearing footlights, plaster finish on stage walls and ceiling, hard wood stage floor, and novel machinery.

He appealed to the architects and school officials attending the institute to give thought to the comfort of the audience and the practical use of the stage in building the auditoriums in the State's schools.

Others appearing on the morning program included Dean Henry L. Kampthorn of the State College School of Design; William M. Caudill of College Station Texas, research architect for the Texas Engineering Experiment Station; and Alonso J. Harriman of Auburn, Me., architect for many of the school buildings in New England.

Oliver K. Cornwall of the Physical Education Department of the University of North Carolina led a discussion on a recreational program for the elementary and secondary schools, and Matthew Nowicki, acting head of the Department of Architecture in the State College School of Design, discussed the design of school buildings with relation to function.

Amateur Radio Club Announces Contest

On Tuesday nights in Barracks 18 a seldom publicized organization known as the Amateur Radio Club holds its meetings. This coming weekend an Thanksgiving weekend will mark the club's participation in an annual sweepstakes contest sponsored by the American Radio Relay League.

The general idea behind the contest is not so much to establish social contacts with other hams, but to furnish the participating operators with a means of utilizing their discretion and skill in choosing correct times and frequencies under the rules of the competition. The local club intends to enter 6 or 8 of its 20-odd members who will work in conjunction with the Army Signal Corps mobile transmitting unit stationed on the campus. The Army unit's call letters are K4WAL; the club's W4-ATC. Amateurs in Alaska, Hawaii and Canada besides those in this country are on the list of the club's regular contacts.

Last year the club placed fourth in state-wide sweepstakes competition and was awarded a certificate for its participation during a 40-hour period stretched over two weekends. First prize in the year's contest is a handsome gift intended for the club which can compile the highest aggregate score. Code contacts will predominate with some phone communication admissible.

Officers

The club officers are: Bill McMurray—President, W4JQ; Burt Browning—Vice-President, W4PQ; Leslie Britt—Secretary-Treasurer, W4ORZ. The faculty advisor, Mr. Ramble, is an instructor in the Electrical Engineering Department. The club president extends an invitation to visit the club facilities to all radio amateurs with free Tuesday night.

Chi Epsilon

Chi Epsilon, National Honorary Civil Engineering Fraternity, held its fall initiation banquet Friday night, November 4, at the Tar Heel Club. The guest of honor was Dr. R. E. Fadum, now head of the Civil Engineering Department. Mr. Tom Osborne was Master of Ceremonies. Members of the faculty who were initiated were Mr. J. O. Litchford, alumni member; Professor C. R. Brainer and Professor E. L. Grist, chapter honorary members. The active members initiated were Marion R. Cochran, Roy E. Fuller, James W. Klutz, John L. Linder, Ralph L. Whitehead, Roy A. Huffman, James W. Lister, Charles T. Lambert, Roger M. Scovill, Elmo M. Sellers, Lawrence F. Spaine, George R. Tolson, and James E. Walls. The new members provided entertainment at the banquet, which was followed by an informal dance.

OPEN FORUM

Win Or Lose Spirit

Dear "Fans", Now that the Wolfpack has scored a smashing victory over Wake Forest, I am very curious to see the reaction of the ever-critical, always-fickle State College "supporter". Will he hop on the bandwagon and praise the team and coaches? Sure, he will—that is, until we lose another ball game. When we're winning, everybody's behind you, Wolfpack—but just let us lose! The loyalty and spirit sails out the window! Boys, it really helps a helluva lot that way.

We've had our knocks this year; but who hasn't? Carolina has lost three games already, but their supporters still support the team, WIN OR LOSE! Why can't we?

Maryland, a Sugar Bowl contender, lucked out on State after we pushed them all over the field. Carolina beat us, when the breaks went against us, while fighting to score, rather than holding the score at 14-6. Clemson and Duke beat us by a point. Tough luck. Davidson played an inspired game and caught us with our pants down. It happens to the best.

Coch Feathers, the entire coaching staff, and the team have endured the most vicious insults (verbal and written) with remarkable poise. How they did it, I'll never know. It makes the students seem rather small and stupid, don't you think? After all, coaching is a profession. A man can do only so much. That applies to both coaching and playing. I think a man's best effort, and then some, is enough to ask. If it's not quite enough to win on some Saturday, it's just unfortunate.

How about everybody making a real effort to support the team, from now on out? If we try half as hard as the players and coaches, we'll do O.K. Lets give the team a big sendoff and a warm reception, WIN OR LOSE.

Sincerely, Frank Thames

Letter To Organizations

ORGANIZATION PRESIDENT

State College Dear Sir: As a student on this campus you probably have noted that whenever the Alma Mater is sung at football games or other gatherings, there are only a few very students who know the song completely. The majority manage to mumble through the song with only the "N-C-State" pronounced clearly. And probably as a student proud of his school, you thought to yourself that something ought to be done about the situation. Something ought to be done. That is why I am calling on you as president of your organization to help us through your organization to get more students to learn the Alma Mater.

This is the way we propose to accomplish this. Most organizations and societies on this campus have some sort of initiation ceremony when they take in new members; such as wearing a sign of the organization around the campus for a week or memorizing the plaque in front of Page Hall and so forth. We hope to get each organization and society on the campus to include the recitation of the Alma Mater as a prerequisite to membership. The pledge or aspirant would not necessarily have to recite before the group, but could write it out—just so that he demonstrated his knowledge of the song. By having the knowing of the Alma Mater as one of the requirements for becoming a member of any organization on the campus, the Alma Mater would become a necessary key to open the doors. Since most students join some kind of club or society while here at school, this would mean that nearly every student would be faced at one time or another with having to learn the Alma Mater.

This of course will not affect the older members of your organization, but will be a sort of a fence to all who come behind us. One that they will appreciate after having crossed. I hope you will place this idea before your group, and if it meets with favor, swell. And if it meets with disfavor please let me know, especially if you have any better ideas. Thanks very much.

Yours for a better school spirit, Scott Eubanks

Head Cheerleader

(EDITORS NOTE: This note was given to the leaders of the various activities on the campus earlier in the term. It is herewith reprinted with the hopes that these men renew their efforts to boost school spirit.)

"Do A Little Thinking"

To the Editor: How mature are students at State College? As we all know the present honor system at State College is lacking in student support. In attempting to correct this situation, the Student Council is initiating a survey whereby student's opinions and desires in regard to an honor system will be polled.

It is every student's duty to "do a little thinking" on this subject and come up with some beneficial suggestions for improvement of our honor system. These comments and suggestions should be directed to the members of the Departmental and School Honor Committees so they may draw up a report to the Student Council.

This program should receive the full support of the students, as it is an honest attempt for betterment of moral conditions here on the campus.

Sincerely, George W. Lewis

"Bargain" Solicitors

Dear Editor: During the past week on the campus there has been at least one magazine solicitor offering "bargain" rates on two well-known publications. A two-year subscription to each (One a monthly edition, the other a weekly) was offered for "mailing costs." A check at the local post office revealed there was quite a difference between the claimed mailing costs and the actual rates.

The above solicitor admitted to one student that he did not have college approval and that he was working on his own. This same student, after becoming informed of the true mailing rates, attempted to get back a check he had given this solicitor. The solicitor claimed that he had given it to his boss who had taken it down town and had it cashed. A few hours later a local clothing store called this student asking for a verification of his check. Naturally he told the store he was stopping payment on the check. They in turn refused to honor it.

In the light of the above, students should beware of magazine solicitors who do not have proper credentials and a college sanction.

Sincerely, James R. Charles

Charlotte Club Plans Big Party

The last meeting before Thanksgiving of the State College Charlotte Club has been called for next Tuesday, November 22, at 7 p.m. in the YMCA. Bub Niven, president of the club, has asked that all men from Charlotte be present for this meeting as the final plans for the Christmas dance will be made. The date for the dance has been set at December 27 at the Army Auditorium in Charlotte. This is the one big event sponsored by the club and it is hoped that everyone will turn out for the meeting.

Thanksgiving Party After joining the club and paying the assessment for the dance, every member will receive his bid to the dance and also a number of date and stag gift bids. In order that those men who live off campus and those who are unable to attend the meetings may have an opportunity to join the club, a representative will be in the lobby of the YMCA next Monday and Tuesday from 11 until 2 and from 5 until 7. The membership fee to join is only one dollar (and that goes as credit on your assessment) so join up and let's make the State dance the best of the holidays again this year. Remember the meeting—next Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the YMCA.

Plans Now Complete For New Engineering Building

Bids For New Structure To Be Opened Soon

Plans are now complete for the construction of a new mechanical engineering building at North Carolina State College, J. H. Lampe, dean of the college's School of Engineering, announced today.

According to Dean Lampe, plans have been released and bids called for December 7 for the general construction, plumbing, heating, and electrical services contracts for the building.

Located on University Avenue between the Diesel Building and the Bureau of Mines Building, the structure calls for an expenditure of $929,600 in State funds, appropriated by the 1947 and 1949 Legislatures. Of this amount, $749,600 will be spent for the building and $180,000 for equipment.

Combine with Diesel Building

The "L" shaped mechanical engineering building, combined with the Diesel Building, will have the same appearance from University Avenue as the new Engineering Laboratories Building, which is scheduled for completion in June, 1950.

The four-story structure, which will give the Mechanical Engineering Department additional space which it urgently needs, will have a total area of 750,000 cubic feet and floor area of 52,000 square feet. It will be a modern fireproof construction with the exterior of simplified brick and stone. The floors will be of concrete and terrazzo, and the interior, in general, will be unplastered painted walls.

Experimentation with Metals

One of the features of the building will be facilities for experimentation in the study of metals, their alloys and materials which go into the design of machinery and equipment, as well as laboratories for the study of stresses in machine parts both at rest and under moving conditions. Provision will also be made for a small wind tunnel to study the characteristics of model airplane wing sections under conditions similar to actual flying, and, in addition, to study aircraft structural materials and built-up aircraft structures.

The laboratory facilities in this new building will provide for the study of various fuels used in heating and in the generation of power. Another feature of the building will be laboratory space for the study of various types of engineering instruments used in Mechanical Engineering and in aircraft. In addition to housing the Mechanical Engineering Department and the Aeronautical Option, the building will accommodate those students studying the new curriculum in Heating and Air Conditioning which was inaugurated this fall.

Laboratory Construction

All laboratories in the new structure will have adequate window construction to provide light and spacious working areas. Proper electric, steam, and water services necessary for modern laboratory investigations will be provided. In general, there will be separate instrument rooms adjoining each laboratory.

The lecture and classrooms will be modern and adequate in size to take care of the present student load and provide for reasonable future expansion. One lecture room will seat approximately 150, and will be arranged with a booth for slide-projection and other demonstrative lecture facilities. A secondary lecture room will seat sixty-five. Other class and recitation rooms will be normal in size. A design room on the fourth floor

Ag Club

All Ag. students are urged to be present at the Ag. Club meeting next Tuesday night, November 22. The Ag. Club constitution will be amended and approved, and anyone with suggestions or gripes especially are urged to be on hand. An attendance of 300 is wanted for this meeting.

Knitting Department In New Quarters

The knitting department's new quarters, one of the most modern in the United States, will be completely set up by the first of January, according to W. E. Shinn, head of the Textile School's knitting department. Moving of machinery into the first floor of the new textile building began during September.

Knitting Machines Moved

All the knitting machines have been moved from the department's old quarters on the second floor of the old building. These have been supplemented by a number of rebuilt machines purchased to round out the variety of machinery to be found in the modern, new knitting department.

Already in place in the new quarters are the half-hose machines and a number of larger circular machines, including jacquards, in addition to the flat knitting machinery.

Quarters Painted

The quarters are being painted, and when installation of equipment is complete, said Mr. Shinn, the knitting department will be able to lay claim to the title of "the most modern" of any textile school in the United States.

will provide spacious accommodations for machine and airplane design laboratories.

The building is scheduled for completion in January, 1951. Architects for the construction are Northrup and O'Brien of Winston-Salem.

Presbyterian Students To Aid In Church Campaign

All Presbyterian students will soon be asked to contribute to a fund-raising campaign for a new West Raleigh Presbyterian church. The $50,000 campaign will be held December 5 to 15 to build a large, beautiful church on the lot opposite the Post Office.

Dr. C. H. Bostian, Director of Instruction of the School of Agriculture, is General Campaign Chairman. The church has $50,000 in its building fund now. The new sanctuary, to be of English-style architecture of brick, will cost $125,000. Congregation Approves Campaign

At a congregational meeting last Sunday night, Russell Shouse, president of the Westminster Fellowship, the college group, promised the help of the students in the campaign. Others who spoke to the congregation were Dr. Bostian, Rev. A. L. Thompson of the Fairmont Methodist church, and representatives of the Seniors, the Sunday school, and the women of the church.

Every group will pray for the success of the campaign at all meetings. Members of the church have been asked to pray for the campaign for one-minute at 11 a.m. every day.

New Arrangement Planned

When the new church is built, the present auditorium will be converted into a fellowship hall, the kitchen will be enlarged, and additional classrooms added. This will enable the Westminster Fellowship to carry on a larger program of social activities among State College and Meredith College students.

The West Raleigh Presbyterian Church, led by Rev. E. J. Agsten, pastor, and Rev. A. G. Courtney, associate pastor and student pastor, has grown remarkably for several years. Miriam Bowitch recently joined the staff as Director of Religious Education.

A.I.Ch.E.

At the Nov. 15th. meeting of the A.I.Ch.E., the Rota (meter) Boys received their first lesson in that fabulous "unit operation" known as Atomic Fission. Dr. Beck, head of the Physics Dept. honored the Chem. E's with his address on chemical processes in atomic plants. The P.V.T. people glowed under his erudite radiation and reacted favorably.

This meeting was the last for this term. All members delinquent in dues and fees were warned to pay Steve Thomas before Nov. 30th., as the galliotine of "membership expiration" will begin its tragic cycles on Dec. 1.

Gov. Scott Speaks to Recreation Conference

Governor Scott addressed some 200 to 300 members at the first annual session of the Fifth Annual North Carolina Recreation Conference last November 7 at Sir Walter Hotel in the Virginia Dare Ball room.

The governor spoke on recreation in the rural areas of North Carolina and he plainly said, "I am not trying to pit town against country and country against town as many have charged. I want North Carolina to be so that you can't tell the difference between town and country."

Sectional Meetings

Tuesday was taken up largely with sectional meetings with a general session held at 2 o'clock. Lyman Ford, member of the staff of Community Chest and Councils of America, was the chief speaker.

Several other outstanding national leaders in recreation spoke from time to time. Among these were Willis H. Edmund, president of the National Industrial Recreation Association; Truman Sensing, director of research for the Southern State Industrial Council, Nashville, Tenn.; and John L. Young, assistant superintendent of recreation, Washington.

Host for Meeting

Host for the meeting was the Raleigh Recreation Department, together with the N. C. Recreation Society and the State Recreation Commission.

Guidance Service For Students Now In Operation Here

By T. M. McCALL

Guidance service for State College students, a psychology clinic, has just been set up this fall by the School of Education in the Department of Psychology. Located in room 112, Tompkins Hall, it is designed to serve students who are having problems of emotional difficulties, or of vocational choice, social relationships, school progress, or other problems. This clinic now takes over the former functions of the Veterans Guidance Clinic and the Psychological Service Center.

Clinic Director

Dr. H. M. Carter, assistant professor of psychology, is director of the clinic. On the clinic staff are Michael Caffey, assistant professor of psychology, who devotes one half of his time to the clinic, and two graduate assistants, Elva Burgess and Charles Mitchell.

Dr. Carter states the service is free, except for vocational aptitude tests, and that faculty members and campus employees may also use the service. Appointments can be made by coming to the psychology department, or calling extension 298.

"Frequently a student's happiness depends more on personal matters than on material conveniences and social arrangements," explains Dr. Carter. "All people have problems at some time or other that seem impossible to solve. Too frequently we may go along, day by day, 'blowing up' in exams, are unable to concentrate, endure the miseries of tensions, worries, vague fears and anxiety about the future, or blame ourselves about things that have gone wrong," he adds.

Hesitate to See Doctor

"Most people do not hesitate to see a doctor about a physical complaint that may cause only small annoyance. But many endure 'psychological pain, of much greater severity and much longer time because they don't know that there is help available. Others fear that their problems are so peculiar that talking them over will stigmatize the persons as a 'psycho' or some other undesirable person. Others like their misery so much that they just do not want to give it up," he continued.

"Having a way with women, getting grades of A's and B's instead of D's and F's, playing good instead of poor football, being chairman of the party committee instead of the party 'sad sack' who always cleans up the mess after the party is sometimes a matter of one's mental outlook on things rather than one's good looks, intelligence, physical prowess, or social aptitudes," he went on.

Adjusted Living

"Sometimes people never get to know themselves even after 20 years of living with themselves. They study mechanical engineering

BSU Party Planned For This Evening

The Baptist Student Unions from State and Meredith are making plans for a big party at Meredith College Friday night, November 18 at 7:30. The party, sponsored by the two BSU Councils, is planned especially to honor freshmen and transfer students; however, it is not limited to these students. Everyone is invited.

Admission Free

Admission will be free, but it will be necessary to pick up a ticket at the YMCA. You will have to have the ticket to get in. Approximately 200 more tickets are available. The tickets are being distributed on a first come first served basis.

The place for the get-together is the old auditorium at Meredith. Faye Nichols and Bert Bailey, social vice presidents for the two councils, will be in charge and are making all the arrangements.

when they can hardly tell their right hand from their left; they play the violin when they can't hear the difference between notes; or they plan to become teachers when they 'hate' kids," Dr. Carter said. "A thorough self knowledge is basic to adjusted living in complex societies such as ours. Knowing one's abilities and limitations makes this adjustment easier," he concluded.

Furniture Club

Students in the Furniture Manufacturing curriculum met in 1911 Building last Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing a professional society for furniture students.

After approving a constitution and by-laws, the group named Charles Tripp, senior from Raleigh, president. Bill Arden, junior of Asheville, was elected vice president and D. E. Ward, sophomore from Galax, Virginia, was chosen secretary-treasurer. Professor E. Sigurd Johnson, new faculty advisor for the club, unveiled a movie on the history and uses of mahogany after the business session.

Student Orators Present Speech Hour

The lively, educational speech hour presented each year by the students in advanced speech courses was held Wednesday, November 16 in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium at 7 p.m.

Highlights of the program included radio announcing, salesmanship, contrast speaking, formal address, and parliamentary procedures. It combined basic principles of speech with light humor to effectively illustrate students' points. The purpose of these programs is to introduce the advanced speech courses to the students so that they may have a better understanding of the subject.

Prof. E. H. Paget was the faculty advisor for the group.

Engineers' Council Sponsors Speaker

Dan Stewart will address the engineering students of State College Tuesday morning at 11:00. His subject will be "Trends and Opportunities in the Electric Utility Industry."

The Engineers' Council of State College is presenting Mr. Stewart as the first of several lecturers to be here throughout the year. Attendance to these lectures is required of engineering juniors and seniors, while all people are cordially invited.

This program is a serious effort to give the students some appreciation of problems in industry and industrial concepts. With this in view, the speakers are being selected from different types of industries. Mr. Stewart is a representative of a service company.

D. E. Stewart graduated from N. C. State College in Electrical Engineering in 1923. After graduation, he spent one and a half years with the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

By BOB CURRAN

Coach Everett Case is starting his fourth year as State College's head basketball coach. In his three previous years, he has brought more athletic glory to State College, than any one other man. His teams have won three consecutive Southern Conference Championships. They have been invited to the National Invitation Tournament at New York's Madison Square Garden twice in the last three years. And they possibly would have gone to a major tournament last year, if Adolph Rupp had not accepted two tournament bids for his University of Kentucky team. But this is all past history, and Coach Case is getting ready to make more history with this year's cage team.

When Coach Case came here in 1946, he had an all freshmen squad to start out with, with the exception of Leo Katkaveck. By rights this season should have been the last season for all of them, but of the original ten men that Coach Case started out with, only Dick Dickey, Charlie Stine and Warren Cartier remain. Leo Katkaveck graduated and is playing pro basketball with the Washington Caps. Eddie Bartels and Bob Hahn quit school and are playing with the Denver Nuggets and the Chicago Stags in the pro loop. Pete Negley left State to go to another school, and he is playing for Butler University this year. Norm Sloan gave up basketball to play football. Jack McComas signed a pro basketball contract, and Whitey Snow left school to go into business.

Losing that many good men over a three year period would give any coach headaches, but Everett Case has come up with men to replace all of them. Sam Ranzino last year's leading scorer, Vic Bubas the dead-eye guard, Joe "Backboards" Harand and long Paul Horvath are just a few. From last year's great freshmen team he has Joe Stoll and Bobby Holt at forwards, Lee Terrill, Pete Jackmowski and Harry Johnson at guards and big Bob Cook, the center, who is being moved to forward this year.

In his three years at State, Coach Case's basketball teams have lost only one home game, and that was last year to Louisville University. State lost that game by one point in the final ten seconds. Louisville is back again to play State in the new Coliseum, as are many other great teams, including San Francisco, N.I.T. Champions, U. of Michigan, Villanova and LaSalle. Coach Case tried to schedule the U. of Kentucky for the dedication of the Coliseum, but the game could not be arranged. The season opener is set for December 2 when State will meet Washington and Lee.

To keep the Varsity well supplied in future years, Coach Butter Anderson has a brand new freshman team working out every night in the gym. From the size of some of the young giants Butter has playing, there are going to be even

Pack Smashes Deacons 27-14

Mooney and Costa Lead in Victory

By JOHN LAMPE

The State Wolfpack rose to glorious heights last Saturday afternoon by smashing the Wake Forest Deacon Deacons 27-14 before 20,000 thrilled fans in Riddick Stadium.

The Pack, a two touchdown underdog, made history repeat by topping the favored Deacons. The Wolfpack dropped the Deacs under similar circumstances two years ago.

Scoring three times in the first period, the Pack had the game well under control before the Baptists' offense started clicking in the third and fourth quarters.

The first two State scores came before the first period was five minutes old. On the opening kickoff Wake Forest could gain no yardage and was forced to punt. Paul Dinan took the kick and returned to the State 39. From that point Fullback Jim O'Rourke hit the center for 32 yards; Mooney then proceeded to hit Bill Thompson with an aerial on the four, and it was from this point that Mooney scored standing up on a right end sweep. Westbrook's kick was perfect and the Pack led 7-0.

Deacons Stalled
Less than two minutes later the Deacons were stalled on their own 37 and had to kick. However, Guard Charlie Musser bolted through to block the kick; and Center Tom Tofaute snugged the bounding ball and scored easily. Westbrook's second conversion was good and the score read 14-0.

In the waning minutes of the first quarter, the Red and White hit paydirt again as a result of a pass from Mooney to Thompson from the Wake 27. Thompson made a spectacular over-the-shoulder catch in the end zone. Westbrook's try was wide and the Pack was held scoreless until the fourth.

The Baptists were pushed around for almost three quarters before they could get their attack rolling. Late in the third period a 73-yard pass play from Nub Smith to Red O'Quinn tallied for the Deacons.

Blocks Punt

Shown above is Charlie Musser, All-Southern guard candidate, who blocked a Wake Forest punt and set up the Pack's second touchdown in last Saturday's victory over Wake Forest. Charlie was one of the leaders in the fine defensive play of the Wolfpack line.

Then early in the fourth quarter Wake Forest scored again as Carroll Blackerby tossed a 11 yard aerial to O'Quinn in the end zone.

Wake Forest Drive

A few minutes later the Deacons again started a drive from their own 31 yard line, but Tackle Elmer Costa recovered a Blackerby fumble to end the threat and insure a State victory.

The fourth State touchdown came as the result of the Deacons' desperation passes. With three minutes left in the fourth period, Blocking Back Bob Bowlby intercepted a Blackerby pass on the Wake Forest 30 and sped untouched to the Wake Forest goal.

Pack Standouts

Although it was a team victory for the Wolfpack, there were several standouts. Tackle Elmer Costa stopped almost everything that came his way, and Guard Charlie Musser played a bang-up game, blocking a Wake kick to set up the second State T.D.

Little Ed Mooney sparked the whole State team with his triple threat performance. His running, passing, and quick kicking kept the Deacons confused for most of the ball game.

Sigma Nu rolled to a convincing 40-6 triumph over SAM. Pi Kappa Phi topped Phi Ep 13-6, and Pi Kappa Tau won over Lambda Chi by a forfeit. TKE and SAM played a 6-6 tie but the Sammy's led at the end of the game by 4 first downs to 2 for TKE. SAE topped Phi Ep 12-6.

Volleyball and Handball

In volleyball, Pi Kappa Phi topped Delta Sig. SAE won over Lambda Chi. Phi Ep beat Kappa Sig, and AGR was the victor over Pi Kappa Tau.

Harriers Place Second In Conference Meet

The Maryland Terps pulled down the Southern Conference meet last Monday at College Park by a wide margin for the third year in a row.

The Wolfpack harriers gave the Terps the most competition, but when the final score was tallied of the 65 entrants, Maryland had a 48-point margin over the Pack harriers. The score was 32 for Maryland and 80 for State.

Tar Heels Third
Carolina's Tar Heels were third with 85 points, and Davidson fourth with 92. William and Mary, Duke, VPI, and Wake Forest finished in that order.

Maryland's Bob Palmer finished on top for the third straight year in the conference meet. He did the four and a quarter mile course in 21:34.6 and set a new conference record. Palmer held the old one for a four mile course.

McGill Pushes Palmer
Tar Heel Sam McGill of Carolina gave Palmer the most individual competition until the last few strides when Maryland's Tyson Creamer edged out McGill by two inches with a final spurt of energy to close a 10-yard deficit. They were 4.4 seconds behind Palmer. Twenty seconds later Baker and Lindsay, both of William and Mary, came in arm-in-arm for the fourth and fifth.

The summary:
1—Palmer, Maryland, 21:34.6; 2—Creamer, Maryland, 21:39; 3—McGill, North Carolina, 21:39; 4—Baker, William and Mary, 21:59; 5—Lindsay, William and Mary, 21:59; 6—Umberger, Maryland, 22:24; 7—Hamrick, North Carolina, 22:24; 8—Bradley, Davidson, 22:41; 9—T. INTRAMURAL FRONT

By NEILL POSEY

The Committee for the Allocation of Student Activity Fee has appropriated $2,000 for intramurals for use during the coming winter and spring terms. This money will be controlled by the Intramural Athletic Board and spent through J. F. Miller, Intramural Athletic Director.

The committee was generous as well as prudent. The $2,000 appropriation for use during the remainder of this year plus the $1,000 appropriation last year for use during the beginning of this year equals the amount a 25 cent intramural fee would bring in. The straight 25 cent fee was rejected in view of the proposed general increase to the P. E. fee which would include a fee for intramurals.

Board to Spend $2,000

Since the appropriated money is part of the General Fund, any unused portion would be returned to the state at the end of the year. That there will be an unused portion is very doubtful. The committee recognized this fact when they made the appropriation. It is to be used for pay officials, buy supplies, and further intramural recognition—as far as the money goes.

The committee's action re-established the basis for the existence of the Intramural Athletic Board and gave the board the tools to do its job of maintaining a forward looking intramural program. Accordingly the board will meet November 22 at 7:00 in Mr. Miller's office.

The agenda as outlined in letters sent to board members will be: "1. The fall term's activities, conduct and responses. 2. The winter term's

Alexander Defeats Trailwood On Downs

An outweighed, out mamed, and underdog No. 1 Alexander team clinched a berth in the playoffs by defeating last year's winner, Trailwood, 4-3 on first downs. The win also made them winner of Section I. The game ended 6-6. Game date: November 7.

With three minutes left in the game and trailing 6-0, No. 1 Alexander gambled and won with a fourth down pass from Bobby Knight to Dick Sly on the Trailwood 29 yard line. Knight to Sly again accounted for the tie score two plays later. Trailwood then scored another first down but No. 1 Alexander had 4 first downs to Trailwood's 3.

Trailwood scored first at the end of the second quarter. The score broke a three game streak of "white washes" by No. 1 Alexander.

No. 1 Alexander played the entire second half in Trailwood's territory and threatened three times before the score. Manager George Fellman commended the play of Elven Engel, guard, Ernie Welch, guard, and John Emerson, blocking back.

Trailwood, greatly weakened by graduation last year, was led by Wiley Gouge and D. H. Hill.

Upset Week Designated
The underdog teams in the intramural dormitory touch football league have designated the past week as "Upset Week." As soon as No. 1 Becton and No. Turlington had been picked to win their respective sections, they lost.

Mighty powerful, mighty defensive No. 1 Becton man up mightily little score to lose to Gold-Watanga who previously hadn't won a game all season. Gold-Watanga now may consider itself to have had a successful season. No. 1 Becton now must beat Vetville again to win in Section III and thereby be eligible for the playoffs.

West Haven took from No. 2 Turlington the championship of Section II as they defeated them (6-0), 3-2 First Downs. A protest is involved, however. Nevertheless, disregarding this protest West Haven upset the picked runner up in the playoffs—that was quite a feat.

Wrestling Schedule Released By Crawford

Coach Al Crawford announced this week that his wrestling squad will have a total of 11 meets this year. Among the better squads the State grapplers will meet are Washington and Lee, Maryland, and Duke. Four of the matches are listed to be played at home.

The schedule:
January 7—Maryland, at College Park, Md.
January 10—Duke, at Raleigh.
January 13—Washington & Lee, at Lexington, Va.
January 14—V. M. I., at Lexington, Va.
January 17—Carolina, at Chapel Hill.
January 20—Citadel, at South Carolina.
January 21—Presbyterian, at South Carolina.
January 23—Quantico Marines, at Raleigh.
February 4—Davidson, at Davidson.
February 17—Presbyterian, at Raleigh.
February 24—V.P.I., at Raleigh.

Welch Section Champs With Win Over Berry

Welch became winner of Section IV and thereby gained a berth in the dormitory touch football playoffs by running over Berry 19-0 on an overcast November 14 afternoon. The game featured two long touchdown runs by Welch.

The game was hardly one minute old when Bob Walker blocked a Berry pass thrown by tailback Neill Posey. "Nic" Hicks picked the ball out of the air and scampered 20 yards for the score. In the waning minutes of the first quarter, Charlie Gibson broke through center and cut toward the right side line and went 40 yards for the touchdown.

Early in the fourth quarter Jim Twyford took a handoff from Gibson, skirted wide around his right end and behind a screen of blockers led by Sid Credle and dashed into pay dirt.

Sidney Credle, manager of Welch praised "Choo Choo" Gibson, "Flash" Twyford, "Nic" Hicks, "Glue Fingers" Turner, "Doak" Walker, and "Crazy Legs" Hoffman.

Berry, injury riddled and playing with only eight men, was unable to make even a scoring threat until Dick Jewett on his own 30 yard line completed a long pass to Perry. Wheelson on Welch's 28 yard line. Welch took over as Berry was unable to advance the ball.

Center Angus Mercer, playing with a near-healed cracked rib, and guard Ed Bond, playing with an injured knee, kept Welch from scoring in the second and third quarter. Ends Bill Trollinger and Dick Lawrence with blocking back Franklin Quinn assisted Mercer and Bond.

Last Saturday's smashing 27-14 triumph over the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest was perhaps the greatest game the State Wolfpack has played since dumping the highly regarded 1946 edition of the Duke Blue Devils 13-6. The final score was no joke. State just simply outcharged, outplayed, and out scored the dejected Deacs. There was no single hero, although little Ed Mooney, and big Elmer Costa were both human dynamos. . . . Coach Beattie Feathers, before the game in the midst of his most disastrous season, really deserves all the praise possible for his outstanding job in getting the pack "up" for the game. . . . The State defense held the Deacons to only 14 points. In their last three games against William and Mary, Clemson, and Duke, all major teams, the Wake Forest offense had rolled up a total of 110 points. . . . With three straight wins under their belts, the last against the supposedly potent Deacs, the Wolfpack has a new outlook on life. Only two games remain on the schedule Villanova and William and Mary. Both could be won with the brand of ball played against Wake Forest. Here's hoping the pack can retain that spirit of last week and make this a 6-5 season. . . .

Last week the State cross country team finished their regular season with an undefeated record. Out of ten meets, the pack won nine and tied one. In the Southern Conference meet, held earlier in the week at College Park, Maryland, the State boys placed second. All the credit for the harriers' improvement over last season should go to Coach Tom Fitzgibbon. Taking men who were here and already on the squad and without importing anyone, Coach Fitzgibbon has produced what is perhaps the best cross country team in the history of the school. Next Monday afternoon, State College will play host to the first annual State Crosscountry Championship Meet. With the kind of spirit they have shown all season, the Wolfpack harriers will be favored to continue their winning ways. . . .

Odds and Ends. . . . The dedication game for the new William Neal Reynolds Coliseum will be with the University of Louisville January 25. At the present time, plans are under way to get the Governor of Kentucky here for the game. . . . Coach "Butter" Anderson's freshman basketballers will play a total of 24 games, 15 being preliminaries to the varsity encounters. . . . The State frosh will be able to field a team which will average six-five. . . .

Due to the increased number of ads in last week's edition, the pigskin pickings were left out. For the season, in the second guessing department, yours truly has picked 134 out of 161 games for a .833 average. Bailey, with 106 for 141 and a .755 mark, is the runnerup. Curran has correctly predicted the outcome of 119 of the 161 and Hancock 117. Curran's mark is .741 and Hancock's, .733. With another rough week facing us, here we go again.

Rejuvenated State Wolfpack To Meet Strong Villanova Wildcats In Philly

Team Seeks Fourth Straight Victory In Contest With One Of The Prospective Bowl Elevens

By BILL THRONEBURG

The State Wolfpack laid its laurels carefully to one side Monday and settled down to preparing for a game Saturday that will probably call for a brand of ball on a par with that displayed in Riddick Stadium last Saturday afternoon if another State victory celebration is to be staged on the campus. For Philadelphia's Shibe Park will be the scene Saturday afternoon of State's only inter-sectional contest of the season, this with the Villanova Wildcats.

Much has been said and more will be said in the years to come of the thrilling brand of ball displayed here against Wake Forest by this 1950 State football team. The game will undoubtedly pass into the records as one of the most astonishing upsets of any football season hereabouts. But most important to the State football interests, the game served to boost flagging spirits and to reestablish team confidence that had worn somewhat thin. Now, with three straight wins behind it, the Wolfpack will be out to extend that streak against Villanova and to further prove that the early part of the season was a dismal nightmare.

Intramural Action

Above is a scene from the PIKA-SAE game of November 4. The PIKA team remained undefeated with a 27-0 decision.

Soph Of Week

Elmer Costa, the AP Southern Conference Soph of the Week, will be ready to help halt the Villanova ground attack when the Wolfpack meets the Wildcats in Philadelphia tomorrow.

Information has been slow filtering thru from Philadelphia, but all reports point to the Villanova record of 7 wins and 1 defeat—this defeat a 2-point loss to Tulsa. Noticeable wins have been recorded over Penn State, Boston College, and Georgetown. The Wildcats are reputed to have an extremely large, fast team and operate from the T-formation.

The Villanova attack is led by 225-pound Fullback Ralph Pasquariello who is making quite a name for himself in Eastern football circles by virtue of his bull-like charges thru enemy lines. Phil Snyder, a senior backfield ace, has also been an important cog in both the Wildcat offensive and defensive operations.

Big Forward Wall
The Villanova line is anchored by 260-pound Tackle John Sandusky, who with his running mate Nick Liotta and Guard Tony Marrallo, combine to present a formidable forward wall.

Exhibition With UNC Put On By State Fencing Club

By JACK BOWERS

The State College Fencing Club met the team from Carolina twice last week. No score was kept because there were individual bouts instead of team competition.

In the first meet between the two teams, held here at the gym, the State lads took six out of the eleven bouts. All of the bouts were close. The closeness in the match was very surprising since Carolina has three coaches, one for each weapon, the best equipment possible, and excellent practice facilities, while the State club has only one coach, Luiz Lousada, who coaches only because of his love for the sport. Lousada's team practices in the old Monogram room in the gym. There is only enough room for two men to practice at a time. However, the State team makes up in spirit what they lack in facilities.

Exhibition With UNC Put On By State Fencing Club

Around 400 spectators witnessed the match held here.

Lousada puts on exhibition. The main attraction of the match held at Chapel Hill was the falls bout between Rely Barrow, one of the coaches of the Tar Heels, and Lousada, coach and captain of the State squad. Lousada won the match by a very close score. Barrow is a very experienced fencer, having been taught by J. M. Castello, a fencing master and the coach of Columbia University's team. Lousada holds first place (Continued on page 8)

Costa Selected Soph Of Week By AP

Elmer Costa, who led State's line in its inspired play against Wake Forest last Saturday, was selected as Associated Press Southern Conference Sophomore of the Week.

The State forwards literally poured through the Deacon line and swarmed all over the Wake Forest backs as State turned in a thumping 27 to 14 upset. On offense the State linemen cleared the way with swift, sure blocking.

Costa was outstanding among the Wolfpack's defensive linemen and helped out on the offensive chores part of the time.

Costa, an ex-GI from Paterson, N. J., battered down three passes and he recovered the fumble that proved the turning point in the ball game.

Wake Forest was surging toward a touch down that would have tied the game or put the Deacons out in front by one point.

On the play Quarterback Carroll Blackberry of Wake Forest dropped back to pass and was rushed. Tackle Gerald Turbyfill of State batted the ball from his hand and Costa grabbed it.

Costa Makes 36 Tackles
Of 47 running plays attempted by Wake Forest, Costa was in on 36 of the tackles.

Costa is regarded by State coaches as one of the best tackles in the Southern Conference. He weighs in at 215 pounds and earned his varsity letter last year as a freshman.

Raul Echavarria, left fullback for the Wolfpack, was outstanding on defense. Center Halfback Francis of the Richmond team sparked the Virginians' defensive play.

The lineup:

"Vetville Day" Celebration Planned; Big Day Ahead For Residents

Entertainment To Be In Vetville YMCA

By EDWARD G. ROBINSON
Tomorrow will mark the third anniversary of the establishment of Vetville, and plans have been made for a big celebration, according to Mrs. Mary Farber, Vetville recreation director.

Activities for the "Vetville Day" celebration will begin at one o'clock in the "Vetville Y," with ping pong, cards, and bingo provided for entertainment. Arrangements also have been made to broadcast the State-Villanova game over the loud-speaker.

Children Entertained
The children will be entertained at the "Y" by the sponsors, and all children are welcomed at the party. Free punch, cookies, and prizes for various games will be provided for the celebration.

Beginning at 7:30 in the evening there will be a beauty contest for men only. The men will dress like they want, but they must resemble a female in some respect for they will be judged for beauty and talent.

Program Needs Support
George Andrews will be Master of Ceremonies for the men's beauty contest. The Vetville Council has given its endorsement of the celebration, and urges all Vetville citizens to turn out for the celebration. Plans have been made to have a photographer to take pictures of the various events, and following the beauty contest square dancing and round dancing will be in order.

Veterans Program Is Successful

Almost one-fourth of North Carolina's World War II veterans who entered the vocational rehabilitation program supervised by the Veterans Administration to overcome physical handicaps, have completed their training and are considered rehabilitated.

On November 1, education and training courses had been undertaken, at one time or another, by 10,620 disabled veterans in the state. On that same date, 2,287 had completed their training and were gainfully employed at jobs ranging from automobile mechanic to school teacher.

Supervised Training
At present 4,585 are actively participating in supervised training of one type or another to overcome employment handicaps resulting from service incurred or aggravated physical disabilities.

The North Carolina rehabilitation ratio compares favorably with the national figure, which discloses that 25 per cent, or 141,000, of the more than 520,000 handicapped veterans who have taken Public Law 16 education or training at one time or another and now rehabilitated and pursuing gainful trades.

Nationally, the ranks of rehabilitated Public Law 16 trainees, have been swelling at an average rate of more than 7,000 a month.

Record Concerts

The weekly record concert will be held this Friday evening in the Conference Room of the YMCA from 7:30 to 9:00. This week's program will feature the works of Slavic composers and will consist of The Moldau by Smetana, New World Symphony by Dvorak and Romans on Folk Tunes by Bela Bartok. There will be no concert next week due to the holidays.

2. Book—Laboratory Manual of Physical Chemistry by Mack and France, found in Ws. 104, October 19, 1949.
3. Book—Mathematical Tables from Handbook of Chemistry and Physics compiled by Hodgman.

Of those North Carolina veterans already rehabilitated, 329 received their special training in institutions of higher learning, 326 in other type schools below the junior college level, 1,511 in various on-the-job training establishments and 21 in the institutional on-the-farm training program.

The average length of course taken by those trainees who had completed their training has been 26 months—slightly more than half of the maximum period of four years allowed by the law.

Go Away, Choo Choo!

There was a cartoon in one of the recent college publications which expressed the exact sensation that many of the State freshmen had early this fall. It depicted two very tired and sleepy new-arrivals leaning out of the doors to their respective rooms on either side of the hall. In the background of the picture one of Southern Railway's finest was rambling down the hall toward them. The next night several fresh left their doors open to see if such a thing actually did take place.

The reason for the frosh's gullibility, however, was not unwarranted, since the location of the freshmen dormitories seems to have been planned by some schemer who was fond of practical joking. There are just about seventy-five yards between the dorms and the noisiest tracks this side of Grand Central Station. At this distance the frosh get the added feeling of actually being on the train, due to the quiet vibration of the buildings when the tracks are in use.

After spending about three weeks of nearly sleepless nights, the freshman becomes partially accustomed to the disturbance and is able to rest at last. By this time, though, since it is very difficult to study without getting sufficient sleep, the frosh has gotten so far behind in his class work that he finds it nearly impossible to catch up. To relate an actual case:

A clever young freshman named Lee, Resided in Tacker, floor three; But the noise of the trains So added his brains, That the best he could make was a "D."
—Bill Spence.

Fencing Exhibition

Trophies in foils for several of the best known meets held in South America.

Barrow and Lousada put on a very good show. The Carolina coach fences with elegance and has terrific speed both of hand and foot.

Individual matches were held in foils, sabres, and epees. In the matches held at Carolina, the Tar Heels won the majority but again all of the bouts were close.

State Inexperienced

Most of the State boys had to fence more than once, since their squad was not as big as that of the Tar Heels. Several of the State men had to fence with different weapons which is very hard for a beginner. Fencing with more than one weapon tends to confuse the inexperienced fencer.

The Carolina team has several men who have competed at other universities. Ross, Barrow, Seybolt, and Ferguson are all experienced men. All of the local players are inexperienced having taken up fencing since coming to State.

The Summary for matches held at Carolina:

- Foils: McKee, UNC, over Wells, NCS; Lousada, NCS, over Barrow, UNC; Fox, UNC, over Alvis, NCS; Houser, UNC, over Biggerstaff, NCS; Evans, UNC, over Jackson, NCS; Biggerstaff, NCS, over Hangver, UNC; Youngblood, UNC, over Campbell, NCS; Epps, Jackson, NCS, over Sanders, UNC; Ager, UNC, over Williams, NCS; Williams, NCS, over Gooding, UNC;

Cosmopolitan Club Entertained Recently

On Wednesday evening, November 2, the State College Cosmopolitan Club was entertained by Chancellor and Mrs. John W. Harrelson at their home on Hillboro Street.

Members of the State College faculty along with young ladies from foreign countries attending school in Raleigh were also present.

Refreshments were served and a movie on North Carolina was shown. All Cosmopolitan Club members are reminded that pictures of the club members will be taken tonight at 8 o'clock at the YMCA.
