AN EDITORIAL PLEA FOR COLLEGE UNION

See Your Legislator

The three students who journeyed to Governor Scott's office last week were armed with more than a bundle of petitions signed by some 1,600 alerted State College students. In addition they carried the hopes and needs of every student whose wisdom points out the urgency of filling the big gap between floundering youth and steady maturity.

Reports tell that over 99 per cent of the students who were given the privilege of signing the petitions calling for hastening the arrival of the Student Union jumped eagerly at the opportunity. These results make it clear to all that the students of State College need, want and must have the building at the earliest possible moment. They stand four square behind any action that will speed their dream into reality.

With the present trend in building costs, it is most probable that the initial funds appropriated by the 1949 General Assembly will fall short of anticipated bids. Estimates of the shortage vary between $200,000 and $400,000.

Governor Scott gave the only solution to this problem when he told the student delegation that it would be up to the students to get out and work on their legislators during Christmas vacation. This means that each member must be visited and convinced of the importance of the Student Union to the school.

The job is big. It is bigger, perhaps, than any task undertaken before by State College students: But it can be done—and simply.

Plans are already underway for organizing student committees for every county of the state. When they are completed the students will be called upon to put them into effective operation.

When the call comes, the students must stand four square again. The future of the Student Union will be in their hands. To answer the call means we have a Student Union. To shun it means we have nothing. CH

Capel Posts Win In Hot Elections

In one of the most heated class elections witnessed on the campus in recent years, Jesse Capel of Troy was named Freshman Class President today at noon.

Jackie Daughtry, Mount Olive; Bob Vail, Plainfield, N. J.; and Bill Collins, Henderson, were elected to the posts of Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer respectively.

Hot Debate

Parliamentary procedure came in for a lot of hot discussion as the frosh dissented on the manner in which the elections were handled.

The Republicans and Democrats couldn't have organized better campaigns than the yearling State College students did. Seven men ran for president, with a run-off required between Capel and Leroy Jackson. Capel won with 123 votes to 98 for Jackson. The new prexy is a Textile student.

Daughtry Wins

Jackie Daughtry, an Ag student, won a clear majority in the vice-president's post with 64 votes. His closest opponent was Jack Baugh with 39.

The Textile School scored again in the elections when Bob Vail won the post of secretary. Vail also won on a majority in the first vote.

Treasurer Vote Close

In the race for treasurer, three men went into the run-offs with only a five vote spread. George boermann led with 19, Bill Collins was second with 16, and Fred Landerth was close behind with 14.

Each of the successful candidates expressed dissatisfaction on the method of elections. Capel stated that he favored closed ballots and would work toward that end. Daughtry also wants closed ballot elections.

"Don't Raise Tuition" Says GUSC Resolution

The Greater University Student Council, composed of students from the three branches of the University of North Carolina, recently voted to send a resolution to Governor Scott and University President Gordon Gray opposing the contemplated raise in tuition.

GUSC is composed of 33 students, 11 each from State College, Woman's College, and Chapel Hill. One of the main functions of the council is to bring about closer cooperation among the three branches.

The resolution which was sent to the Governor and to President Gray follows:

A Resolution Concerning Tuition

Whereas, This Council continues firm in the belief that with each increase in the rate of tuition in the Greater University, the University moves farther away from the basic objective of education for all the people of the State at a cost within the reach of all; and

Whereas, An increase in the general tuition rates levied upon each student attending the Greater University is now being contemplated, with an attendant rise in the total cost of education, therefore:

Be it Resolved by the Student Council of the Greater University of North Carolina:

ARTICLE I
Section 1: The Student Council of the Greater University of North Carolina hereby records its absolute opposition to any general increase in tuition rates in the Greater University of North Carolina, and its determination to oppose any such increase in the cost of higher education.

Section 2: Copies of this resolution shall be forwarded to the Governor of North Carolina and the President of the Greater University of North Carolina.

Here Today . . . Gone Tomorrow

This cocky fellow is the king of the roost today, but Thursday he will be just another slice of meat between a pile of potatoes and gravy and the cranberry sauce. State College students will leave the campus Wednesday on an extended Thanksgiving holiday and won't return to school until Monday morning.

Date With Death: Break It!!

Some of the hundreds of State College students driving home for the Thanksgiving holidays may be among the 19 persons whom the State Highway Patrol estimates will be killed on North Carolina highways between Thursday morning and Sunday night.

This estimate is based on a 12 per cent increase over last year's 17 highway deaths. The 19 deaths will be added to a total to date of 836 persons who have met death on the highways of the state.

Heavy Traffic

Although driving conditions and roads will be good over the holiday period, State students driving from Raleigh to points throughout the state will be faced with heavy holiday traffic and 100,000 more vehicles than were on the roads last year at this time, according to the Patrol.

College students fall into a group which the Department of Motor Vehicles blames for a majority of automobile accidents occurring in this state. Persons under the age of 25 hold 30 per cent of the driver's licenses in North Carolina but are involved in 53 per cent of the accidents on the State's highways, a study completed today by the Department of Motor Vehicles revealed.

Statistics

By examining 375 driver's license applications at random from each of the eight alphabetical licensing categories, the Department determined that 447,500 drivers, or 30 per cent, of the approximately 1,500,000 drivers in the State are below the age of 25. A study of 2,400 accident reports in a typical month—August—revealed that 1,282, or 53 per cent, involved persons in the 16 through 24 age group.

A study of 64 fatal accidents in August—an average number for any month—revealed that persons under 25 were drivers of vehicles involved in 26, or 41 per cent, of fatal accidents. Eight of these involving young drivers occurred during a four-hour period between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m. Thus, during a period covering one-sixth of a day, when traffic normally is light, one-third of the fatal accidents, involving persons under 25, occurred.

Moonlight Murder

Some of the worst traffic accidents of the year, resulting in multiple fatalities, also have involved drivers of this young group and have occurred late in the evening or in the early morning hours.

Many Blessings Seen Around State Campus

By PAUL FOGHT

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High."—The Methodist Hymnal

For those of us who will give thanks to the Lord as we sit down to heavily laden festive tables, the TECHNICIAN wishes to suggest a few items for which State College students may express particular gratitude.

Let us give thanks that most of us acquire the right to vote before we graduate from college, and that the administrators of the State are coming to appreciate our influence.

Authentic Architecture

Do not fail to offer thanks for the opportunity to study and work in beautiful Pullen Hall. Few structures on any campus are so well suited for the study of early American literature, for few can offer such an authentic antique atmosphere. Praise be that few colleges will go to such extremes to facilitate learning.

Perhaps we should also express pleasure for being allowed to study in our barracks and quonset huts. In addition to housing classes, they now serve to orient the 1-A, non veteran student for the switch from campus to army post.

Praise the powers that these superb educational facilities have not been dismantled or burned by exuberant students celebrating their 21 and 22 hour schedules.

It may be that the athletes would like to sing a praise of two: the football team for the obnoxious publicity that the school publicity office did not get them, the basketball team for being ranked second to Kentucky, and the soccer team for the 50 cent meals they are supposed to eat on road trips.

Thanks too for the beautiful William Neal Reynolds Coliseum which is available for the use of any campus organization that can pay a rental of 300 dollars a night.

There are many things for which we may give sincere thanks: for the progress made toward the construction of our College Union, for the nuclear physics program which will bring added fame to State College, for the building program which will make State one of the nation's greatest technical schools, and for the increased cooperation given to the students by the college administration.

Let us give thanks for the 37 good men who labor mightily every Saturday afternoon to bring good sportsmanship, character, fame and gate receipts to the college. Rarely in the history of athletics have so few done so much for so many.

While returning these thanks it may be well to recall that examinations will start on December 9th, only 15 days after Thanksgiving. For those with doubtful averages in a course or two, there is this advice from Psalms, 107:1, "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good: for His mercy endureth forever."

Tommy Byrne Speaks At Aquinas Club Meet

The third meeting of the State College Aquinas Club was held Wednesday, November 15, in the Faculty room of the YMCA. After a short business meeting, during which Regis Lesko was elected vice president, the group listened to Tommy Byrne, ace pitcher of the World Champion New York Yankees. Tommy told the group of many of his experiences in the "tough racket." He also related a few of the basic fundamentals which a baseball player must possess if he expects to become a big-leaguer. A question-answer period followed.

Angel Angles by The Arch Angel

Chapter II—Why Meredith Girls Prefer State College Men More Than Any Other Wolves

Maybe we like you because you don't gripe too much about our sheltered life. Or perhaps it's because you're nearer to us—and therefore nearer to our hearts. Yet this couldn't be the whole story—'cause there is always the number of "State mechanical robots" rotating around your campus as well as ours. You know them—the boys who work problems on their slide rule while waiting for their dates. They find interest in no other topic besides "The Life and Love of Thermodynamics" of "Recapitulations of Electornically Wired Voltage."

We girls will first have to state how very ignorant WE are about it all. The average female at Meredith has had only a very elementary course in biology or chemistry. This means we can hardly tell a proton from an electron (or something). Anyway, we feel that you FEW State "robots" need to wake up to more than slide rules and algebraic formulas! Maybe it's because we're feminine enough to want to be placed BEFORE any scientific formula!

Like Security

Back to the main topic of YOU as the main light of our lives.

One of the primary reasons we prefer you State men is because you're more or less certain of what you'll be doing in a few years (in a vocational sense). This we compare to the average liberal arts college Joes who have no idea as to what they will be able to do. We like a certain amount of security just as you do.

Another reason you're liked so much by the Meredith angels is because of your interest in things other than women, parties, etc. A better way of putting this would be to say that speaking of you as a group, we consider you fairly well rounded—you don't seem to mind working along with playing (who are WE kidding—but it's true—for some of you, we think).

Of course the main reason we

Native Korean Speaks On Life Below 38th

Korea was discussed at the Freshmen YMCA meeting on November 15 in Tucker Social Room by Charlie Kim, a Textile student at State College and a native of Seoul, Korea.

Kim gave some of the history of Korea, emphasizing the fact that they were a peace-loving people. He gave the geographical setting of the small nation and pointed out that it is not a rugged, mountainous country as is often thought. It does have more severe winters than are experienced in this country, but its summers are similar to those enjoyed in North Carolina, says Kim.

The speaker then explained the division at the 38th parallel and its significance in terms of the Korean situation. A discussion followed the remarks of the speaker.

There will be two more meetings of the Freshmen YMCA Fellowship this term, Wed. Nov. 29 and Dec. 6th. Both meetings will be held in Tucker Social Room, at 7:30 p.m. All freshmen are cordially invited to attend.

The Inquiring Reporter

By BOB CARLSON

Ed. Note: Last Saturday the Inquiring Reporter roamed the stands of Groves Stadium to learn the opinions of Deacon supporters on the following question.

Question: What is your impression of State College's school spirit at the ball game today?

Sarah Page Jackson

Chief Majorette, Wake Forest
I'm afraid State's school spirit is mighty fine today. However, we're all hoping it won't top W. F.'s at the end of the game!! Since this person's making me say more, I guess I should compliment State's spirit and say, "Tis fine!"

Harry King

Sophomore, Wake Forest

Exceptionally good. The boys are really backing the team. They aren't satisfied with just letting the cheerleaders holler because they don't holler enough. The student section where I ushered organized themselves and had their own cheering section.

Ed. Note: This Wake Forest student ushered on the Wolfpack side.

William H. Stevenson

Considering the fact that State College has had only moderate success this season, I think the students of State College support their team very well.

Doyle Bedsole

Head Cheerleader, W.F.C.
State College's spirit is great, as it always is.

We want to thank the student body for their clean sportsmanship at the game and on our campus. No

How Do You Relax And Spend Your Spare Time Cigars, Day Dreams, Dates, Or Bottle Tops?

Do you enjoy relaxing? Do you like to putter, go out on dates, collect bottle tops or simply enjoy the feeling of ease and well being when you abandon yourself to a good cigar and a pet day dream? You should!

Recent scientific surveys have turned up some pretty interesting information indicating that leisure is as important as work—must be taken as seriously.

A Dr. Samuel Lowrie at Bowling Green University discovered that "more dates mean better marks... frequent dating enlarges a student's interests, broadens his extra-curricular activities so that he becomes a psychologically healthier and more rounded person."

Dr. William Menninger of the famed Menninger Clinic in Kansas told a conference of the National Recreation Association that well-adjusted individuals pursue a larger number of hobbies than individuals requiring psychiatric help. "There is," he explained, "scientific evidence that the healthy personality is one who not only plays, but takes it seriously."

So, buckle down fellas—not only on your school books but on the way you handle your extra-curricular activities, if you're after a happy, well-adjusted and successful life!

To make certain, perhaps you'd better double check yourself on the following quiz:

1. Do you plan your time so that even under the most hectic schedule, you get a chance for a real breather?
2. Do you have several hobbies? (They need not run to formal collections like stamps, but can include girls, baseball games, nature walks!)
3. Can you forget work problems out on a date?
4. Are meal times filled with relaxed, pleasant tastes and adventures in the enjoyment of food, or a nervous shoveling in of tasteless food?
5. Do you think you know how to make yourself relax, particularly under tension or when you're over-

FATAL FACTS!

To the Editor:

Several times this year the TECHNICIAN has written articles concerning school spirit, but last week's issue contained one which was headed "Lack of Pep."

This article stated, "We regret to report that the last pep rally was not attended by: the head cheerleader, the president of the Pep Club, the coach, the players, and 98% of the student body."

tired? What is your posture for relaxing?

6. Can you cat nap?
 7. Can you sleep at night even when not physically exhausted?
 8. Can you concentrate as hard on a pretty girl as on your studies even though you're in the midst of exam week?
 9. Do you smoke for enjoyment and not just as a nervous habit?
 10. Do you smoke cigars?
- Any reactionary professional objections might be met with classical quotes, such as John Locke's: "He that will make a good use of any part of his life must allow a large portion of it to recreation."

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 8...THE SEA GULL

"I'm not as gullible as I look!"

Maybe our little over-water friend is just fishing for a compliment. On the other hand, he may have reference to all these quick-trick cigarette tests you hear about nowadays.

Well, he's not the only one who's been at sea. Frankly, how can you judge a cigarette by a swift sniff? Or another cigarette by one fast puff. What's all the rush about, anyway? When it comes to making up your mind about cigarette mildness, we think you'd like to take your time.

That's why we suggest:

The sensible test—the one that you make on a day after day, pack after pack tryout for 30 days. It's the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test! Simply smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Let your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) be your proving ground. When you've tried Camels as a steady smoke, you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Junior Committees Set For Year's Activities

At the meeting of the Junior-Senior dance committee chairmen on Thursday Nov. 9, 1950, the following committees were formed.

The overall dance committee is composed of the chairman, Hank Smith, vice-chairman, Wilson Craig, the Junior Class officers, Ray Lofin, Buck Pruden, and Joe Stoll, president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, and the chairmen of the various sub-committees.

Dick White is chairman of the Building Committee with J. C. Laughon and Jack Jolly as members of the committee. The basic function of this committee is to secure the use of the building in which the dance is to be held and the use of the various facilities of that building.

The Concert Committee is headed by George Smith, who has as his committee members Neal Alexander, Bill Kendall, and Jimmy Davis. Their job is to make the arrangements for the proposed Saturday afternoon concert to be given by the band providing the music for the Junior-Senior.

Robert Knoop, John Shinn, and Bill Wilson are members of the Decoration Committee which is headed by chairman Ed Wagner. Theirs is one of the biggest jobs of all, decorating the building in which the dance is to be held.

Entertainment
William Painter is in charge of developing any possible means of entertainment which might supplement the dance itself; this committee was formed in an effort to provide a more memorable weekend for the Juniors, Seniors, and their dates for the dance. Working with Painter on this matter are A. J. Nielsen, G. B. Pressley, and Al Parker.

The Floor Committee is composed of chairman Howard Shell and members Richard Gwynn, Don Powell, and Dave Zauber. Their duties are varied and include getting necessary personnel such as police and firemen; they also select the dance marshals and ushers.

ers. The most important job this committee has to perform is the planning of the Ring Figure for the Juniors.

The chairman of the Invitation Committee is Herb Saywitz and the members of his group are Pete Jackowski and Jerry Lewis. They are charged with selecting the chaperones and other special guests; they also have to have the tickets and invitations printed and distributed.

Any members of the Junior Class that are interested in working on one of these committees are requested to contact the chairman of the committee on which he would like to serve.

Due to an oversight, the minutes of the class meeting which were published in last week's TECHNICIAN, did not include the following information. A motion was made and carried unanimously by members of the Junior Class that the class dues for this year be set at five dollars per member. Juniors are reminded that this fee includes bids to the Junior-Senior this year and next year. These dues will be collected at winter term registration. More information concerning the dues will be published later this term.

Free Shots

Influenza shots are being offered to all students. The college physician advises that students take advantage of this service at an early date.

Booters Hold Carolina To Close 5-1 Win

The North Carolina State Soccer team was defeated for the second time Tuesday 3-1, as the Tal Heels came from behind to score three goals.

Although Carolina was a heavy favorite to defeat State because of their earlier 6-0 victory, the boys from State were determined not to accept another such defeat. The first half found State leading 1-0 on a goal by State's All-American choice, Kare Kragas. This lead was lost in the early part of the third period when Tar Heel Fred Lurie, right wing, tied the game up in heading a ball past goalie Marty Kallman. Two minutes later, Art Winsor, inside right, placed a penalty kick past the goal to put UNC ahead 2-1. The final tally of the day came in the last period when Winsor again shot a low kick to the left side.

Both teams played good soccer, but Carolina's height was the winning factor once again. Outstanding for State were Raol Echaurria, Eddie Murrow, and Chopho Palezuolos.

Becton Wins

In volleyball, Becton No. 1 took two out of three from a scrappy West Haven team, to come out the victor. D. T. Watts, Bob Black and Joe Davis were the outstanding stars with a lot of team cooperation coming from "Stud" Alley, Warren Campbell, Erwin Horne-gay, Charles McLain, Paul Smathers, Vince Outland and Bob Dobbins. Becton No. 1 ended the first round of play by defeating Owen, Syme and West Haven. If they are as successful in the final round they will gain their sectional championship.

Statistics, when stated without facts, have little or no true meaning. If you, the Technician staff, are going to make such bias statements, why not learn the facts behind the scenes?

The head cheerleader was in the infirmary when the V.P.I. pep rally was held. The coach was away scouting some other team. The players were required to attend a meeting at which final preparations for the game were made. Tony Romanowsky and some of the other players had promised to attend, but notified us that afternoon they could not be there because of a meeting that night.

The Pep Club, as well as other organizations on the campus, makes mistakes at times, but why not give credit where credit is due? This practice of "mud-slinging" at the various organizations is no way to improve the present conditions.

Instead of presenting bias statements without the true facts behind them, why not offer your cooperation and advice in the future?
Lambert M. Sutton.

Wolfpack Ties Deacs On Last Minute Score

After playing on the defensive for almost sixty minutes, the Pack opened up in the last two minutes to score a quick touchdown to tie the mighty Deacons of Wake Forest 6-6.

With 95 seconds remaining in the game and the Pack on their own 29 yard line, little Ed Mooney faded back to pass. Instead of throwing a forward pass, Mooney threw a lateral pass out to his right flank, which Jim O'Rourke gathered in;

O'Rourke in turn threw a long forward pass down field and Jim Smith gathered it in on the thirty and went the rest of the way for the score. Captain Tony Romanowsky lowered the boom on the last Wake Forest defender.

The tie prevented the Deacons from making a clean sweep of the Big 4, and also assured the pack of one of their best seasons in recent years.

Ev's Team In Top Five Says Look Magazine

In the 1950-51 Basketball Forecast just released by LOOK magazine, the Wolfpack was picked among the top five teams in the nation. Tim Cohane, sports editor of LOOK picked the Pack in the No. 4 spot, behind C.C.N.Y., Kentucky and Bradley.

Cohane also picked the Pack to be the best in the Southern Conference, and also as the sectional dark horse in the South.

Sammy Ranzino was picked again to be one of the leading stars in the country, and Paul Brandenburg was picked among the outstanding sophomore stars.

The top ten teams picked:

2. Kentucky
3. Bradley
4. NORTH CAROLINA STATE

Giant Killers Headed For W&M Reservation Looking For Another "Upset" Victory

By MAYNARD SHIELDS

The giant-killing State College Wolfpack will invade the territory of the bow and arrow next Saturday for their annual encounter with the William and Mary Indians.

Last year, the Indians were victorious in the game by a score of 20-6. The Indians will field a team composed of 18 returning lettermen plus a host of promising sophomores, led by co-captains Vito Ragazzo and Joe Mark.

Ragazzo is regarded as one of the best pass catchers in college football and led the Southern Conference last year by scoring 15 times. In 1949 he gained more yardage (793 yds.) through pass receiving than any other college player in the nation. Ragazzo also plays halfback on defense. Guard Joe Mark, a 195 pounder, whom Coach Rube McCray regards very highly, will offer a constant threat to the Wolfpack runners. The backfield will be minus the great Jack "flying" Cloud, but they will offer a combination of capable backs including Dick Lewis, Ed Weber, Ed Magdziak, and Paul Yewic plus a trio of sophomores John Connors, Dick Kovacevich, and Ed Mioduszewski. Ragazzo and Mark will lead such men as Ronnie Gonier, Larry Fones, Joe Cardiac, and John Kreambeck.

The State College Wolfpack fresh from a moral-boosting 6-6 tie with a strong Wake Forest team will send a team of proven stars against the Indians. In the line, State will have Captain Tony Romanowsky and All-American Candidate Elmer Costa, plus such performers as Walter Schacht, Vince Bagonis, and Tom Tofaute. The State backfield will be led by the combination of little Ed Mooney and fullback Jim O'Rourke, plus Wingback Jimmy Smith, who scored the tying touchdown against Wake Forest. Blocking Back John Tencick is still recovering from a leg injury and will not play in the game, and fullback Harvey Yeates will see limited action because of a hand injury.

Will The Wolfpack "Go Hollywood"?

Coach Everett Case's highly rated quintet is currently being starred in two mediums—the hardwood and on celluloid—films that is.

During last year's basketball season, each of the Wolfpack's performances was recorded on film. The excellent lighting facilities of the Coliseum, incidentally now rated as the best of their type in the United States, made large-scale filming possible for the first time.

Pack in Color

Plans for the coming season are to outstrip the earlier accomplishments by several hundred reels, for Technicolor is also to be used. If, in the past, the Wolfpack's plays could have been termed spectacular or colorful, they promise to be even more so in the future.

Technicolor films will be used to satisfy the great demands from organizations throughout the country such as Wolfpack Clubs, Alumni Clubs, Civic groups, high schools and even the Special Services division of the Army.

Many Requests

Requests from all over the United States and from overseas occupation units have been placed for the films. Uncle Sam appears to have taken a special interest in them. The American Command in Munich, Germany wishes to use the movies to aid them in their athletic program. Also, the Army's Special Services Branch at Ft. Bragg has placed an order for two films a week for a similar purpose. High school basketball teams in every section of the country are studying the offensive and defensive plays of the Wolfpack by means of these films.

During the approaching season most of the games will be photographed in black and white, but all Big Four and inter-sectional contests will be recorded in Technicolor.

Any campus organization or fraternity wishing to obtain access to this form of instruction and entertainment may do so by contacting Coach Anderson at his office in the Coliseum. The average length of each film in approximately 1200 feet.

Much oil refinery equipment is made of nickel alloys which have been found to stand up under intense heat, sub-zero cold and to resist corrosion by acids. The modern petroleum refinery contains hundreds of tons of nickel alloys.

ANGEL ANGLES—

like you is because we're human and females; you're human and males—what better reason is there?

As long as we're throwing orchids we'll send a few onions, too. We can't understand your lack of unity as a school. Why you don't feel the same kinship as the boys do at Wake Forest or Carolina? (pardon me for using such language in this column.) Maybe it's because you're so big and scattered—and different, too.

But here's the ARCH ANGEL straying from the subject again. Perhaps the best way to explain why 61% of us prefer to date you State men is to ask you to ask the Meredith girls you date just why they like to go out with you—some fun, huh? Happy hunting!!! some fun, huh? Happy hunting!!! And a very happy Thanksgiving.

Rockhound Meeting

The next meeting of the Student Chapter of the AIME will be held in Riddick 11 at 7:30 on Tuesday, December 5. Two movies that will be shown are Neptune's Treasure in technicolor and The Story of Nickel. Everyone is welcome.

INQUIRING REPORTER—

red paint was found marring our campus. Thanks to you State boys for that.

I hope the old days of destructive rivalry are over between the two schools and a greater spirit of friendship will prevail.

Stanly Johnson

Freshman, Wake Forest

State College seems to have much more spirit than Wake Forest. Even tho Wake Forest has shown more on offense, the State Students sure haven't let their team down.
