President Endorses Student Union

Blue Key Picks Nine; Tapping Surprised All; A Top Honor At State

Four seniors and five juniors will be initiated into Blue Key, junior honorary society, at a special program to be held at the Y.M.C.A. on December 4. Bill Rogers, Assistant Y.M.C.A. Secretary and Faculty Advisor for Blue Key, will be guest speaker.

Blue Key is one of the top national leadership and scholarship fraternities represented on the State College campus. Its members have distinguished themselves in almost every part of the United States. Selection for membership in Blue Key is one of the top honors that can come to a student at State. Its members come from all departments on the campus.

Tapped Personally

The nine new men were personally tapped last week while attending classes. Names of those to be taken into the fraternity were kept secret, and the tapping ceremony came as a surprise to those selected.

Blue Key Fraternity seeks to recognize outstanding qualities of character, scholarship and service. Equal emphasis is placed upon leadership in student activities designed to promote the welfare of the individual's School, State College, and the Greater University as a whole.

Qualifications

The students selected recently tapped and their campus activities are:

James Brandt, Raleigh, Senior in the School of Design; Sigma Pi Alpha, American Institute of Architects; editor-in-chief of the Publication of the Students of the School of Design.

John Graham, Tennessee, Junior in Forestry; Alpha Zeta, Xi Sigma Pi; Forestry Club; Campus Government, Chairman of the Promotions Committee.

Eugene Jeffords, New York, N. Y., Junior in Textiles; Sigma Chi social fraternity; Delta Kappa Phi; Thirty and Three; President of the Interdormitory Council; Vice-President of Owen Dormitory; Ex-Officio Member of the Campus Government; Greater University Student Council.

George Spain, Henderson, Junior in Agricultural Education; Scribe of Alpha Zeta; Kappa Phi Kappa; Ag Club; Future Farmers of America; Campus Government; winner of the Alpha Zeta Scholarship Club.

Jack McCormick, Raleigh, Junior in Mechanical Engineering; Theta Tau; Pi 'au Sigma; Tau Beta Pi; Phi Etr Sigma; President of Thirty and Three; Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

Henry Odom, Norfolk, Va., Senior in Industrial Engineering; Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity; Society of Industrial Engineers; Thirty and Three; Golden Chain; President of the Interfraternity Council; President of the Greater

The Monogram Club set a new precedent as far as worthwhile occasions are concerned. By having a group of boys as their guests for a Thanksgiving Banquet, from the County Welfare Society, the club displayed an interest in real life situations.

The program consisted of a Thanksgiving dinner at the school cafeteria followed by a series of motion pictures on football and basketball. John Tencick did the official job of narrating along with the films. Mr. Harry Stewart was responsible for providing the boys with a palatable dinner.

After dinner many of the athletes mingled with the boys, talked with them and presented their guests with autographs. Elmer Costa, Sammy Ranzino, Ed Mooney, Lee Terrill, Jim Smith and John Martin, just to mention a few, were some of the star athletes on hand to make sure the function would be a complete success.

President George Pickett announced that this would be an annual affair for the Monogram Club.

Knows His Chickens; Best Judge In World; State 2nd In Contest

State College's poultry judging team won second place in the principal poultry judging event of the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, Ill., officials of the college were notified yesterday.

Authorities said that the four-man student team competed with the nation's top-ranking student judges from the various colleges and universities and said that they regarded the squad's ranking as "a high honor."

The team's success in Chicago, authorities said, reflects credit upon both the students, who competed against contestants from America's great poultry-growing belts, and the faculty members in the College's Department of Poultry Science who trained the students.

College spokesmen also said that the development is an indication of North Carolina's progress toward a leading chicken and turkey producing area. The State's poultry industry now handles a great business volume of $80,000,000 annually.

Attempted Dorm Burglary May Solve Thefts; Culpit Posed As State College Student

By PAUL FOGHT

The solution to a series of thefts from dormitory rooms may result from the arrest of a 21-year-old youth who was caught while apparently burglarizing the room of Stanley Long in Alexander Dorm last Wednesday morning.

Ira Shore Brinkley, Jr., who has been living at 132 Woodburn Rd., and posing as a student, waived hearing on a burglary charge Monday in City Court and no bond was allowed. He will be held for the Wake County Superior Court.

Poses as Student

J. A. Burnette, campus law officer, reported that Raleigh police have discovered that Brinkley has been posing as a State College student. Dean Wood stated that Brinkley has never been enrolled here although he applied for admission for the fall term and was refused admission because he did not present acceptable high school credits.

Long said that he caught Brinkley searching his room at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday. He stated that he returned from studying at about 2 o'clock and then took a shower, retiring at 2:35. Shortly afterwards he saw his unlocked door opened quietly by a slim figure who entered the room.

University President Gordon Gray has promised State College students his support in getting their Student Union built as quickly as possible.

He sees little chance of the building falling under the recreational ban recently imposed by the National Production Authority.

PCS Back On Campus; CG To Reopen Idea

The Purchase Card System came back into the campus scene again at Tuesday's Campus Government meeting when Representative Hillary Daughtery urged the Council to take action on the question.

Previously it had been stated that the fate of PCS depended on the retention of NSA; now that the Council has voted to stay with NSA Daughtery demanded to know, "why we can't go ahead and get PCS."

May Go Ahead

President McCracken stated that he believed that it would be possible to go ahead with the program next term on the basis of the 13 contracts signed by Hoyle Adams last year. The contracts signed were to become effective within one year. According to McCracken most of the contracts are due to expire shortly.

The agreement under which the contracts were made entailed the sale of purchase cards to the students which would entitle them to receive a discount from the merchant on the sale of particular items.

Ex-officio Members

The deferred motion of last week (Continued on Page 12)

The former Army Department head told three students who visited him in his Chapel Hill office Wednesday morning that he would do everything within his power as head of the Greater University to facilitate the Union's construction.

Final drawings for the Student Union are progressing rapidly, reports Jerry Erdahl, Student Union Director.

The architect is going ahead faster than anticipated, he said, and there are strong possibilities that the final plans will be returned to the Budget Bureau by the "middle of the month."

The plans will then be given a final check by the Bureau and, upon the Bureau's approval, will advertise for bids from the contractors.

The three students, Jack McCracken, Jack McCormick and Charlie Hamilton, reported that their new President was "encouragingly" optimistic over getting constructional approval under the NPA's M-4 order banning construction of recreational buildings. (The NPA has questioned the proposed use of the building and wants assurances that it is not solely for recreational purposes.)

President Gray explained that he had received a letter from the Association of Land Grant Colleges explaining the governmental agency's specification for approved projects. The State College student center fell clearly within the bounds called for by the agency, he explained.

Educational Areas

The fact that the building contained assembly halls, eating facilities and areas devoted to educational programs lifted the center from the class of recreational structures, he said. Had the building contained bowling alley's, a swimming pool or strictly amusement facilities with no emphasis being placed on planned educational programs, the construction would be prohibited.

Letter to Washington

To obtain the authority's permission to build the $800,000 structure, Chancellor Harrelson's office is preparing a letter explaining its planned uses. The letter, which will be forwarded to Washington by the State Budget Bureau, will be dispatched "within the next two days." This is the procedure recommended by the NPA.

The visit to President Gray is the second step taken by the students here this fall in their efforts to hasten the building's construction. Previously they have talked with Governor Scott who assured them of his interest and support.

Register Now!

State College students planning to take creative writing and radio speaking courses during the forthcoming winter term were asked yesterday to pre-register for this instruction in Room 104 of Pullen Hall before the Christmas holidays.

In requesting the early registration of students for these courses, Dr. Lodwick Hartley, head of the College's English Department, said that the move is being made "to serve as an index to the demand for the courses." It will, he said, enable the department to arrange its winter schedule.

The creative writing course is listed in the college catalog as English 222 while the radio speaking course carries a catalog designation of English 334.

Both of these courses, Dr. Hartley explained, were instituted several years ago to meet student demand. Radio speaking is offered in connection with the operation of the campus radio station.

Plaid-Clad Foresters Hold Annual Rolleo Juniors, Sophs Fight to First Place Tie

Plaid shirts, blue-jeans, and boots were the uniform of the day recently as members of the Forestry Club made their way to Hill Forest for the annual Rolleo.

The Rolleo, sponsored each year by the Forestry Club, is a series of competitive events between the four classes in such woodsman arts as archery, tug-of-war, fire building, tree diameter estimation, and others. The competition this year was terrific with the juniors and sophomores ending in a tie for first place with 35 points. The freshmen were pressing them all the way, and took third with 33 points, while the seniors came in last with 28 points.

Frosh Take Early Lead

The freshmen took an early lead by taking two firsts in horseshoe pitching by Welch and Butler and rock throwing also by Butler. Sophomore Walt Jones sprayed tobacco juice far and wide to take a first in tobacco spitting, both for accuracy and distance. The seniors put in their bid for high honors by taking first in volley ball and the 100 yard dash, which Al Skarrup won for the third consecutive year.

Joe Hinshaw took first in archery to start the juniors rolling, and then junior Jack Cornette put on a one man show by taking a first in the broad jump and by tying senior Newt Hardin for first by chinning 25 times, one short of the record he set last year.

The freshmen again started pressing the upperclassmen with firsts in the rifle shoot by Ciliberti and bucking for speed with Mouthrop and Bailey handling the cross-cut. The sophomores powered their way to a win in the tug-of-war, and jumped into the lead when Doug Crutchfield also took a first in fire building. The Rolleo ended in a dead heat for first place as

Present day industrial concentration is causing premature roof destruction by discharge of excess quantities of corrosive fumes and acids into the atmosphere. Monel roofing installations are giving a high standard of performance as a replacement for the other types of roof construction.

Comer No Late Comer

Floyd Comer, Sophomore from Tryon, has an attendance record which can't be matched by many students.

Comer attended classes from the 7th to the 12th grades of high school with no absences or tardies on his record.

The Tryon lad has been at State four terms and his record still holds good.

Floyd says it runs in the family. he has a cousin who never missed a class in grammar school, high school, and four years in college!

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 9...THE MARSH HEN

"For a while they had me swamped!"

Seems like this confused fowl got mixed in a metaphor and was almost turned into a guinea pig. The story goes she got caught in a welter of quick-trick cigarette tests . . . one puff of this brand, then a puff of that . . . a sniff, a whiff — a fast inhale and exhale. And then she was supposed to know all about cigarette mildness! Is that the way to treat a lady?

And is that the way to judge a cigarette?

We think not. That's why we suggest:

The sensible test — The 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Snow, Byrd Flying High On Esso Scholarships

Jack Snow, 18, son of Mrs. Emma Frances Snow of Route 1, Mount Airy, and Glenn Byrd, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Byrd of Route 3, Burlington, have been awarded four-year scholarships to study agriculture at State College.

The scholarships, valued at $400 each, are awarded annually by the Esso Standard Oil Company to outstanding 4-H boys who plan to enter an agricultural college.

Both youths are now enrolled at State. Byrd, a freshman, plans to study agricultural education. Snow, who attended Pfeiffer Junior College at Misenheimer last year, is a sophomore. He plans to get a degree in animal industry.

dent, and president, and completed projects in catle, swine, poultry, and field crops, including field corn, popcorn, and tobacco. He was one of four Surry County boys who made up the 1949 State 4-H dairy judging team which placed eighth in the nation at the National Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, Iowa. Snow was third highest individual in judging Guernseys, fourth highest in Holsteins, and seventh highest in Jerseys.

Byrd was vice-president of the 4-H Club at Anderson High School in Caswell County. Later he was vice-president of the county 4-H council. He has completed projects in corn, dairy cattle, brood sows, and achievement. He received a registered Jersey calf for having the best brood sow project in the county, and later he placed second in the county 4-H corn contest, with a yield of 94 bushels per acre. This year he was county winner in boys' records.

Byrd is a graduate of Anderson High School, where he was class salutatorian and also received a trophy for being adjudged the best all-round student.

Clothing Drive Starts To Help Wake Needy

Don't give those old clothes to the junk man. They are needed and can be used right here in Wake County by some unfortunate person.

Each year the College Y sponsors a drive to gather old clothing which is distributed to needy Wake County families. The 1950 drive is underway now, with Bill Perry, Chairman of the Social Responsibility Commission, in charge of collections.

YMCA personnel will gather clothes from the dorms, and boxes have been placed in the fraternities and Vetsville Y and West Haven Social Room. Off-Campus students are requested to bring clothes to the Y or call and have them picked up.

After the dorm solicitations have been completed, boxes will be left on each floor for further contributions by students. All clothing will be turned over to the Wake County Welfare Department December 15.

Any students who don't feel that their clothes are old enough to be given away, may make a cash donation. Over $100 was collected last year.

With the goal of one every item from every student, clothing of any size and condition will be accepted.

Upholding the Law

Each fall when we troop back to school the good citizens of Raleigh are inclined to view our arrival with mixed feelings: delight over the money that we will drop into their coffers and an uneasy worry over the vandalism often attributed to our exuberance.

It would now appear that it is the students who are being preyed on by vandals and thieves. The intruder who was caught in Alexander Dorm last week was not a college student, but a resident of Raleigh. A non-student was also responsible for recent thefts of gasoline from cars parked on the campus.

J. A. Burnette is the college official charged with maintaining the law on the campus. As a Wake County deputy sheriff he has full authority to enforce the law.

In recent weeks he has investigated cases involving thefts, vandalism and speeding. For weeks he has been trying to apprehend the thief who has been robbing dormitory rooms. Several traps had been set, but the thief eluded them.

Burnette reports that the students, either through their ignorance or their carelessness, have hindered his efforts to stop the thieving in the dormitories. He cited several instances where thefts were not reported to him until long after the loss had occurred, thus making it almost impossible for him to trace either the thief or the stolen property.

The TECHNICIAN has discovered that the college itself could give Officer Burnette more assistance. Unlike his predecessor he has not been furnished a state car for his work and he has not been given a mileage allowance for the use of his own car.

We feel that the students and the college should make every effort to aid Burnette in his efforts to protect the property and safety of the school and the students.

Ten Percenters

At the first Sophomore Class meeting, less than 10 per cent of the class was present. It is a sad note that only 60 to 65 members out of approximately 900 attended the meeting.

Therefore, Sophomores, you have no room for complaining about the establishment of class dues and setting of the date for the class dance.

Attend the meetings—Support Your Class Activities—If all sophomores will do these two things, the present Sophomore Class will stand out as an example to all future classes.

All Over Now

The Fall Term, 1950 is water under the bridge now. We have had our headaches and laughs putting out THE TECHNICIAN for you.

We battled in vain against the National Students Association, and now that it is here for another year, we will be good little boys and help in any way we can to further the services of NSA on the State College campus.

We asked for, and got, Freshman Class elections earlier in the year. The newly-elected officers complained of the small attendance at the first called meeting of the freshmen.

We hope these men can create enough interest in class activities to get a large percentage of the students to attend meetings. But don't feel badly if you can't; the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors have the same trouble with only five or ten per cent of the class on hand at the meetings.

We have been fighting the worthless organizations which continue to coast along doing nothing but taking up time. Campus Government is studying charters and constitutions of all campus groups. Maybe next term we can get some livewire leaders to pep up these groups, or maybe we can get rid of the defunct ones.

All in all, it has been a hectic term, with too many classes cluttering up the social scene. Exams are staring us in the face, and we are all determined to come back next term and really get an education.

So it's a MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!

A Good Deed

During our heated discussions against all the useless organizations on the campus, we ran into one group which stacks up on the other side of the ledger.

The State College Monogram Club did a good deed last Tuesday night which makes them worthwhile even if they don't do another thing this year.

The husky athletes proved that there is a heart of gold under all the muscles when they entertained a large group of needy kids at a dinner in the college cafeteria.

It hits you where it hurts to see a bunch of hastily-polished kids cramming in a full meal like it was the first and last.

We say thanks to George Pickett and his monogram wearers for putting on this feast for the needy kids.

OPEN FORUM

To The Editor:

Since I was the ineligible player for the Verville football team, I feel I should explain my reasons for participating in the games we forfeited.

I was unaware of my being ineligible until we were ready to play the fifth game of our series. We only had eight men (including myself), so my teammates wanted me to complete that game as well as the remaining. In view of the five forfeits, I did not think one more forfeit would mater.

I am very sorry that my very capable teammates were disappointed because of me. I am sure they could have won every game regardless of my presence, and if I had known the rule existed, I would not have played. I realize that I was an insignificant part of a good touch football team, and my only desire now is that the team might receive due recognition for their efforts.

I want to congratulate Marshall Tatum on his splendid job as our athletic director and the other players for their wonderful spirit of playing the game well.

Gerald W. Naylor.

Dear Editor:

Most fellas use this column to moan and groan about the least little setback they might encounter, therefore, it undoubtedly comes as a surprise for someone to send in a word of praise for the fine job you are doing.

For the past couple years the TECHNICIAN was a room-messier which hung around until the janitors finally threw it out on Monday morning. Then again sometimes we took it to the "john" for lack of better comic strips. Too often the job was finished before the article was, and consequently left and forgotten.

This year we find your paper well presented with articles which, I firmly believe, are of interest to the students. I particular like the stand you take, one way or another, on major policies and interests pertaining to the student body. We're behind you 100 per cent for the firm position you take on any memoranda, instead of beating around the bush as your predecessors had the habit of doing, and for refusing to be "Yes men" to the "wheels" on the campus.

It's hats off to you, Bill, Jack, Paul, Charlie, and the rest of the staff. Keep up the good work; we're behind you.

Signed:

Joe Student

Ed. Note: The policy of THE TECHNICIAN is to refuse letters to the editor which aren't signed with at least a plausible name, but who could refuse such a pat on the back as this? Thanks, Joe. We do try to present problems which we think will be of general interest. We only wish more students would read the paper. Maybe they would get a pleasant surprise.

Christmas Season Opens With Carol Festival

Raleigh's fourth annual Christmas Carol Festival will be held in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum Saturday afternoon, December 9, starting at 3:30 o'clock.

All of the Coliseum's 12,000 seats will be available for the impressive event. There will be no admission charge or obligation of any kind.

Fourth Year

Starting in 1947 under the guidance of The Raleigh Times, the Yuletide program was first known as the Christmas Community Sing and was staged for three years in Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium. Since its founding, other groups have joined The Times in sponsoring the event.

It will be held in State College's Coliseum for the first time this year. Sponsors anticipate a record attendance. This year's program will run for 75 minutes and will be concluded in time for the audience to attend the Santa Claus program in downtown Raleigh which will continue after 5 p.m.

On the suggestion of Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, State superintendent of public instruction, school principals within a 10-mile radius of Raleigh were reminded of the educational and cultural values of the December 9 program. He urged both students and their parents to attend the unique event.

Free Songbook

For the first 10,000 persons arriving when the Coliseum doors open at 2:30 p.m., an attractive songbook will be presented free of charge. The songbook is to contain words and music of popular Christmas carols, some of them to be sung by the audience.

The 1950 Christmas Carol Festival is being arranged through joint cooperation of State College, the University of North Carolina Extension Division, the Raleigh Merchants Bureau, the Raleigh Recreation Department, the Chamber of Commerce and The Raleigh Times.

Again Norman Cordon, former basso of Metropolitan Opera fame, will serve as master of ceremonies. It is contemplated also that Cordon will sing a special number as he did on a similar program last year.

Seven Groups

Choral groups, under direction of Dr. Harry E. Cooper, are expected from Chapel Hill, Durham, Wake Forest College, Meredith College, Saint Mary's College, and Peace College. The Shaw University Glee Club, which scored a real hit last year, is also being invited to participate.

Another important feature is the Brass Choir, composed of State College students in the Red Coat Band under the leadership of Major C. D. Kutschinski, head of State College's Music Department.

Better Facilities In Textile Plant Augment Service

Facilities recently added to the School of Textiles at State College will enable the school to increase its services to the State and region.

That observation was made by Chancellor J. W. Harrelson of State College and Dean Malcolm E. Campbell of the College's School of Textiles, both of whom spoke at the opening session of a two-day Textile School alumni conclave.

200 Delegates

Chancellor Harrelson told more than 200 delegates attending the conclave that the expanded physical plant made possible at the School of Textiles by General Assembly appropriations is now "the greatest textile laboratory in the United States and perhaps in the world."

Funds allocated for the school's operation, he said, are "investments in the economic development of North Carolina."

"We at the State College," Chancellor Harrelson said, "are extremely proud of the School of Textiles and the great record it is making."

Advancement

He described the school's present physical facilities and its staff as "the realization of a dream by many" and said that the school has advanced from its original equipment of one loom, located in Holladay Hall, to the present modern plant.

In his address, Dean Campbell expressed appreciation for the "magnificent" support provided to the school by the General Assembly and the North Carolina Textile Foundation, Inc. The foundation is currently supplementing the State salary scale in attracting leading scientists and educators for assignments in the School of Textiles.

$1,000,000 Appropriation

The State legislature, Dean Campbell reported, has appropriated approximately $1,000,000 for permanent improvements at the School of Textiles during the last four years.

Furthermore, he said, the foundation now has resources of around $1,200,000.

Dean Campbell said that the school now has an enrollment of 612 full-time students, most of whom are natives of North Carolina. He said that the student body includes representatives from about 25 states in the United States and from 23 foreign countries.

Jobs A'Plenty

The 249 seniors who were graduated from the School of Textiles last June, Dean Campbell stated, have all found employment, and the demand for additional graduates in this field of study, he said, is still strong. He expressed the belief that another 100 graduates could find employment in a matter of hours.

A strong demand for graduates, the textile dean said, will continue with attractive economic opportunities open in all fields of the textile industry.

Constantan, an alloy of approximately 45% nickel and 55% copper, is so called because its electrical resistance remains constant over a wide range of temperature changes.

Diesel Award Goes To Local State Graduate

Charles Edwin Yarborough of Raleigh, a 1949 graduate of State College, has been awarded a $1,000 graduate fellowship by the Norfolk Southern Railway Company, Dean J. H. Lampe of the College's School of Engineering has announced. The fellowship, Dean Lampe reported, is for full-time graduate work in Diesel engineering, with the hope that the study will result in technical advances in this field of science.

Yarborough entered State College in 1945 after more than three years of service in the U. S. Navy. Recently he has been employed by the engine test division of the International Harvester Company.

The fellowship winner is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and is also a Mason. He is married and resides at 615 Aycock Street in Raleigh.

Living Religion Topic Of Frosh Y Fellowship

The Freshman YMCA Fellowship met Wednesday night in the Social Room of Tucker Dorm. The guest speaker was Dr. Clint Gardner, of the State College Religion and Philosophy Dept.

Dr. Gardner gave a brief outline of the living religions of the world, with the exception of Christianity and Judaism. He gave the basic beliefs of Buddhism, Hinduism, Mohammedanism, Confucianism, and others.

After the speaker's remarks, a question and answer period followed.

Charles Speegle, Freshman "Y" Treasurer, was in charge of opening devotions, and John Pruitt, Program Committee Chairman, introduced Dr. Gardner.

The next meeting of the Freshman YMCA, and the last for this term, will be held on Wednesday night, Dec. 6th at 7:30 p.m. in the YMCA Auditorium. A Christmas party with a special Christmas program is planned.

Refreshments will be served and all freshmen are invited to attend. After the social hour the Freshman YMCA Cabinet will collect old clothes for the benefit of the Wake County needy in Owen and Tucker Dormitories.

Literary Criticism

Dr. Keith McKean, Associate Professor in the Department of Social Studies of this institution, will give a lecture on LITERARY CRITICISM IN A SCIENTIFIC AGE Thursday, November 30, at 8:00 p.m. in the Auditorium of the State College Y.M.C.A. This is the second of a Literary Series arranged and sponsored on our program of public lectures by the Basic Division of the College.

Students, faculty and public are cordially invited to attend. There are no admission charges.

Yarns, Gals On Tap For Wildlife Shindig

The big fall shindig for the Wild-lifers is set to be reeled off Satur-day, December 2nd, at Johnson's Pond. Final plans were completed at the November 21 meeting.

A variety of events is on tap for the boys and their guests. Amid the laughter and prattle of the girls, and those fish and hunt yarns from their mates, a bait-casting contest and a 22 rifle match will be held.

For the die-hards, ten boats are on reserve for fishing purposes on the pond. Athletic equipment will be available for games in the cow pasture. It is reported that a crew with shovels will have policed up the area this time!

For those empty stomachs in the latter part of the afternoon, there will be steaks—not the mustard-coated, thin-skinned variety, but real steaks with all the trimmings. The festivities will wind up with a hearty song-fest.

The gang will gather at the Zoo-logy Building at 1:30 p.m. where transportation will be provided.

Sophomore Hop Set For The Spring Term

The first meeting of the 1950-51 Sophomore Class was called to order promptly at 12:10 November 16 by President Vincent Outland.

After introducing and recognizing last year's Freshman Class of-ficers and the present Sophomore Class officers, Outland called for a Treasurer's report.

This report showed a balance of $3.48 for the beginning of the year. After the Treasurer's report, the purpose of the meeting was pre-sented by the president, and the floor was opened for old and new business.

No old business remained, so the task of setting class dues and es-tablishing a tentative date for the class dance was opened to discus-sion.

Dues Set at $2.00

After discussion, a motion was presented and passed to set class dues at $2.00, such dues to be col-lected from all sophomores at the beginning of the Winter Term registration.

A motion to hold the Soph Hop during the Spring Term was pre-sented and approved. With the ap-proval of this motion, President Outland called for a volunteer com-mittee to work with the treasurer in handling all financial matters

YMCA Yule Program

The annual YMCA Christmas program will be held in the Audi-torium of the YMCA on Wednes-day night, Dec. 6th at 7:30 p.m. The program will feature a narra-tion and cantata by the West Cam-pus YMCA Choir and Rev. A. G. Courtenay.

Also on the program will be Mrs. C. G. Doak, well-known carol read-er and Christmas story-teller who will render several selections. Mrs. Josephine Kirk, of the Wake Coun-ty Welfare Dept. will also be pre-sent to tell the students and others attending about the need for old clothes.

Bill Perry, of Raleigh, will serve as chairman of the Old Clothes Drive and the student solicitors will canvass the campus dorms at the conclusion of the program and col-lect the clothing.

All students, faculty and staff members are cordially invited to at-tend the program.

pertaining to the class dance.

This ended discussion of all busi-ness and the motion to adjourn car-ried, with the calling of the next meeting to be at the discretion of the class officers.

Erdahl, a former administrative officer of the University of Wisconsin Student Union, was appointed to the faculty last fall.

Record Concert

The last record concert of the fall term will be presented Sunday afternoon, December 3, 1950 at two in the Faculty Room of Peele Hall. Highlighting the event will be refreshments and response to invitations extended to the students of Meredith College. Bob Greenberg will be in charge of the program which, in step with the seasonal holidays, will be Brahms' "Requiem."

Plans for next term's concerts have already been laid in form of specific program assignments to members of the group. A schedule of the concerts will be available at the beginning of the winter term.

The facilities of the Faculty Room have been made possible through the help of Dean Shirly and the Basic Division. Dean Kamp-hoefner has lent the records for this Sunday's concert. Students, faculty, and staff members are cordially invited.

Good Scouts

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity composed of Boy Scouts and former Boy Scouts, formally established a State College chapter last Tuesday night.

Frank Wood of Atlanta, Ga., national treasurer of the fraternity, presented the charter to the State College group in exercises held in Pullen Memorial Baptist Church.

The organization's chapter at Chapel Hill was the installing group.

Bob Knopp of Hendersonville is president of the new chapter.

BOB CURRAN, Sports Editor

The Wolfpack concluded their season with a startling reverse upset. Between the weather and the relentless drives of the Indians from William and Mary, the Pack went down to their worst defeat of the season. Despite this overwhelming defeat, Coach Beattie Feathers' Wolfpack ended the season with their best record since 1947, with a 5-4-1 record.

With the upset victory over the Terps from Maryland, and the tie with Wake Forest, Coach Feathers is almost assured of a renewal of his contract. Up until the William and Mary fiasco, the former Tennessee All-American was in strong contention for Coach-of-the-Year honors. I don't honestly think Coach Feathers will feel too sorry about not getting that honor, as long as they lay that new contract on him.

To stay on the football kick for a few more paragraphs, handsome Jim O'Rourke was elected Captain of next year's football team. Jim replaces Tony Romanowsky as team Captain, and it certainly is a fitting honor for O'Rourke after the brilliant season he had. Big Elmer Costa was elected most valuable player on the team, as well as the best defensive player. Ed Mooney was elected best offensive player to climax his record breaking year. Other honors went to Vitus Kaiser for best sportsmanship, and Ray Barkouskie as best blocker.

With all these men back next year, with the exception of Ed Mooney, the 1951 Wolfpack should enjoy a good season, providing that "Five Star Mac" doesn't give them all a free trip to the Pacific.

While most of the student body were off gorging their insides with turkey, Coach Everett Case's cagers were enjoying a little pre-season tune-up with Hanes Hosiery. When the rat race was over, Coach Case and the Pack were still the masters.

It certainly was a pleasure to see the Pack go over the century mark once again, even if it was against a hapless Furman team. Along with the sweet came the bitter, once more our old friend Mr. Hedrick was the whistle tooter. Even he looked pretty good for a change. Who knows, this might be a big year for everybody, except the student body. They're still getting the shaft on the seating arrangement. The only hope for the student body is to join the Pep Club, or become cheerleaders, and then everybody can sit on the side of the court.

While most of us will be watching the "Gary Galloper" and Company take on Loyola of Baltimore tomorrow night, Coach Al Crawford and his grunt and groaners are going to go up in to the hills of West Virginney to meet the West Virginia Mountaineers in wrestling. Having to replace such men as Poplin Troxler and Musser, Coach Al Crawford will be counting on newcomer Vitus Kaiser, fresh from the gridiron, provided that Vitus has thawed out from that weekend in Norfolk, Va. Doug Martin, Buie and Nobbs will be counted on heavily this season.

To close the last column of the year, I think it fitting that I give my Christmas wishes to the other three members of the Big 4. To our "cultured cuzzins" from the Hill I offer condolences on your not too good football season, and I suggest that you ask Santa Claus to bring you a better basketball team. Cometh Saturday, January 27 you all come over to West Raleigh to play us, and if you don't shape up, Uncle Everett's boys are going to lower the boom on you for the eleventh consecutive time!

To you our neighbors from Baptist Hollow, I personally will ask the long whiskered one to bring you a new movie camera to film your football games with, so that the next time there is a last minute touchdown scored against you; with two sets of films you can cry the blues to twice as many people!

Last but not least, to you my Blue Devil neighbors, I will ask that no more "scholastic difficulties" overtake your Mr. Groat, before the termination of the basketball season. You can make this task much easier, by doing away with examinations!

To all of Paul Hodul's faithful readers I will extend his heartiest greetings for the coming holidays and as for myself goes the same.

Pack Pulverizes Paladins; Wham Bam Thank You Sam

With one minute and six seconds left in the ball game, forward Bill Kukoy sank a free throw to give Coach Everett Case's Wolfpack their one hundredth point in their lopsided 102 to 41 victory over Furman University in the season's opener Tuesday night.

Sam Sets Record

From the very beginning when Bob Speight dropped in the Pack's first two pointer of the 1950-51 season, the outcome of the game was never in doubt. After the first few minutes, the crowd settled down to watch All-American Sam Ranzino break his own scoring record of 33 points, which he set against Rhode Island State in last year's Dixie Classic. Sammy got 35 points for the night, which was a new high for him as well as a new high for the Coliseum.

After a torrid first half in which he scored 21 points, the Gary Galloper cooled off in the second half and only managed 14 more points.

FORWARD BOB SPEIGHT
N. C. State

Runner-up scoring honors were claimed by sophomore Bob Speight, from Akron, Ohio, who scored 21 points for the night. Speight scored the majority of his points underneath the basket, where he was able to use his height to great advantage.

Ev Empties Bench

In an effort to keep the score down, Coach Everett Case used the whole State team, but each combination he sent in kept up the same scoring pace as the regulars. Regular center Paul Horvath was kept on the bench during the whole second half of the scoring marathon, but his pivot post was capably filled by sophomores Larry Lovington and Bobby Goss.

Furman's Purple Paladins were led by their high scoring center Eddie Edwards, who scored 12 points for the small team from South Carolina. Furman kept fighting till the very end, despite the stupendous proportions to which the score rose, and the final whistle was the only merciful gesture shown to them the whole evening.

Sammy's Campus Handball Champs; Beat Strong Alexander Dorm Team for Title

By BILL MARGOLIES

The season ended this week in handball, one of the all-campus sports. Sigma Alpha Mu winner in the fraternity division, assumed the champion's role for the entire campus by defeating Alexander 2's representatives. Loaded with some of the most talented handball players seen on this campus in many years, the S.A.M. team continued complete mastery over all opponents by winning two out of three matches played.

Starting off the tournament were the two doubles teams of Julie Lavner and Stan Cohen, representing the Sammies and Richardson and Allen, representing the dormitory. The wizardry of Cohen and Lavner, although unnerved after a zero to two deficit, rebounded with their usual skill to handily defeat Richardson and Allen by the impressive score of 21-5.

The second match brought together the singles team of S.A.M.'s Sam Filreis and Alexander's Jerry Strassler. These two boys exhibited a classy display of talent that had the rooster of the two teams constantly on their toes. The southpaw style of Strassler completely befuddled the usually reliable Filreis. It wasn't until the lopsided score of 16-4 was reached when Filreis started his comeback with a courageous showing of fortitude and perseverance. Within the next few minutes, the match found Filreis closing the gap, 18-17. The succeeding play was definitely a see-saw battle with both players playing their hearts out. Finally the break came when in the over time period Strassler amassed the needed two point margin to annex the victory 25-23.

With the outcome of this match resulting in 1-1 tie in the series, the championship of the campus was dumped into the laps of Bill Margolis and Arthur Ross, playing respectively for S.A.M. and Alexander 2. It was quite obvious at the start of this match that both players were under extreme pressure. Margolis, however, played his usual hard-hitting, fast style of handball and found little difficulty in overpowering Ross's southpaw style. The final score was 21-4.

Becton Nips Turlington

Becton No. 1 overpowered a fighting Turlington No. 2 team last Tuesday afternoon by a score of six to nothing. Warren Campbell and Doug Watts led a hard charging line which held the Turlington team to no first downs. Tailbacks Greenberger and Outland were the offensive threats of the Becton team with Greenberger going over for the winning tally.

Gain Much Needed Rest After Tough Season

The Wolfpack football team after losing their final game to a fighting William and Mary team, ended their season with a 5-4-1 record. The most notable of the five wins was over the highly rated Maryland Terps. Lost from the team next season will be Captain Tony Romanowsky, Ed Mooney, Norm Sloan, Ed Hart, Fred Davis, John Martin, John Harding, and John Tencick.

The Wolfpack reserve strength and height were too much for the visitors from South Carolina, and it was only a matter of time till they were counted out.

Tomorrow night the Pack will play host to their first inter-sectional foe of the season, when they meet the strong Loyola team from Baltimore, Md. The State Freshmen will meet Southern Tech of Atlanta, Ga. in a preliminary game at 6:30 p.m.

Strassler Picked For Athlete Of The Week

Resuming our campus activities after a much needed rest we find that a New York boy has been voted the outstanding Dormitory athlete of the week. The second person to receive this honor is Jerry Strassler of New York City, New York. He won his title by carrying Alexander No. 2 to their first handball championship. He is a sophomore and is studying M.E. He is 5'9" tall and weighs 165 lbs. He was a freshman football player for State last year.

Jerry rates his team best on campus with Syme No. 1 team running second. He thinks he has the best partner around for singles in Joe Allen. Getting back to Jerry, he is looking forward to doing a little swimming for his team along

Syme Wins on Downs Against Becton Team

Syme No. 1 drew a tough assignment in their opening game against Becton No. 1. It was a see-saw battle all the way with both teams making use of the breaks they received. One of Syme's representatives for all-campus, Stuart Gooden, caught a deflected pass and raced the rest of the way to the goal line for the initial score. A rush for the extra point failed and Syme led 6-0. A poor kick from the Syme goal line went out off bounds on the Syme fifteen yard line and Becton took over and scored a minute later on a pass to Barry Payne in the end zone. The extra point try was broken up by Syme's great tackle George Tucker. Syme went on to make three first downs and that was the margin of victory.

In the semi-finals, Syme had a much easier time of it romping over West Haven. With Goodin scoring three touchdowns, the Syme crew coasted to victory. West Haven scored on the final play of the game via a pass into the end zone. Final score 18-6.

with a little basketball and softball as they come in.

Westhaven Outplays Turlington 27 to 0

Outplayed but refusing to quit Turlington went down to defeat at the hands of an inspired Westhaven team by a score of 27 to 0.

Westhaven struck early in the first quarter taking advantage of an interference penalty leveled against Turlington. Three plays later Kohlbecker crashed over right tackle from the one yard line. Kohlbecker to Buff was good for the extra point. After three minutes Westhaven lead 7-0. In the second quarter Kohlbecker passed 40 yards to Calverley to set up the second T.D. Kohlbecker to Buff was good for the score.

In the fourth quarter, after Calverley had intercepted a Turlington pass, Kohlbecker passed to Glass who took the ball on the 10 and outran the secondary to the goal line. Kohlbecker to Buff was good for the extra point. In the final minutes Buff intercepted a pass on his own 10. On the next play Kohlbecker faded back and threw a long pass to Buff who took the ball behind the safety man and went 35 yards for the final score. This time Kohlbecker to Calverley was good for the extra point.

Elected Captain of 1951 Football Team

FULLBACK JIM O'ROURKE
N. C. State

Jim O'Rourke, junior from Pittsburgh, Pa. was elected Captain of the 1951 football team this week. O'Rourke has played three seasons for the Pack, and will long be remembered as the man that threw the scoring pass in the last few minutes of the Wake Forest game to give the Wolfpack a 6-6 tie. O'Rourke has been regular fullback for the Pack for the past two seasons, and he has won three monograms. He's an Army veteran and is studying Civil Engineering.

Turlington Upset By Strong Berry Team

Berry Dorm defeated Turlington No. 2 by the scores of 15-2 and 15-9. The tall Berry team proved too much for the Turlington men. The Berry team played their best game of the season in the first game but slacked up a bit in the second game with a few reserves in. Outstanding was the team play of Dick Jewitt and Jim Rodgers. The individual stars were Al Skaarup and Dick Kemper.

place Kansas State College. Kansas State scored 3,962 points while N. C. State's total amounted to 3,948.

Harvey L. Baumgardner of Kings Mountain, a member of the N. C. State team, took first-place individual honors in the international event. He scored 1,404 points out of a possible 1,500. Bumgardner also was high man in the market eggs division of the contest, ranked fifth in the production division, and was the high scorer in the breed selection division.

Bumgardner was awarded a $95 cash prize, a $50 watch and two medals for his achievements in the contest.

Zane Gray Futrell of Bethel, another member of the N. C. State squad, also won a cash award.

In addition to its over-all standing, the team placed fourth in breed selection and first in market products. An engraved gold trophy will be presented to the team.

Following their return to the campus, the students will receive several awards presented by the North Carolina Mutual Hatchery

Association in recognition of their achievements.

Other members of the team, in addition to Bumgardner and Futrell, are W. C. Chuber of Canton and Joe Kenneth Davis of Earl.

Professor T. T. Brown and N. W. Williams of the College's Poultry Science Department coached the team. Professor Brown accompanied the students to Chicago.

The students spent considerable time in preparation for the judging event, which was an extra-curricular activity for them. The faculty coaches worked with the students after class hours.

"looking for Johnson," that he had "been drinking and didn't know what he was doing," and that he had been "down stairs playing cards."

He further protested that a mistake had been made and that he had friends "on second floor Syme who would identify him."

Call Syme
Long took Brinkley to David Sides, building manager for the dormitory, and Sides made three calls to Syme in an effort to find someone to identify Brinkley. Unable to arouse anyone at Syme, Sides placed a call to the police.

While Sides was making his call to the police Brinkley began to pace the hall proclaiming to Long and M. J. Auger, Side's roommate, his desire to set things right. In the course of his pacing he walked past Long and ran out of the building.

He was pursued down behind Turlington Dorm and was finally run down between Owen and Turlington. After being recaptured he was turned over to the Raleigh police.

Campus officer Burnette has stated that an effort is being made to link Brinkley to the series of robberies which have taken place in Syme, Becton and Alexander Dorms. Another theft was reported to have occurred in Alexander shortly before Long discovered Brinkley in his room.

to require ex-officio members of the Council to attend at least 75 per cent of the meeting of the Council was reopened for discussion. The motion was passed after being amended to reduce the requirement to 50 per cent attendance.

McCracken announced that he had talked with Dean Campbell of the Textile School concerning the conflict of the scheduled textile lectures with the Council meetings. Dean Campbell said that he considered that there would be only four or five lectures which the Textile School representatives should attend, and that they would be excused from the others to attend Campus Government meetings.
