Local Cover Girl

Wielding a paint brush and flashing a charming smile is Joan Westfall, cover girl on the January issue of Ladies Home Journal. Mrs. Westfall proves the fact that an abundance of freckles won't keep a young lady off cover girl list. Joan is a local housewife. Her husband is Lt. Fred Westfall, student in Nuclear Physics at State College. (See page five for story).

Hillsboro Termed Death Valley; Six Die On Raleigh Streets

By PAUL FOGHT

Just before the start of the Christmas holiday TECHNICIAN reporter, Ted Jackson, was injured by an automobile which struck him as he crossed the parking lot beside the 1911 building. The car which struck Jackson had been struck as it attempted to make a left turn off of Hillsboro Street. After striking Jackson it plowed into two parked cars, completely out of control.

Fortunately Jackson was not seriously injured. That he was not can only be considered a minor miracle. The driver of the car which struck him, however, was cited by the Raleigh police for speeding and reckless driving.

Rat Race

Call it what you will: a rat race or a speedway, Hillsboro is anything but the quiet, tree-shaded lane which is generally pictured as passing a college campus.

The Raleigh Police Department reports that an unofficial survey indicates that Hillsboro carries a greater flow of traffic than any other street in North Carolina.

Possibly because college students are generally more alert physically and mentally than the general public, no pedestrian has been killed on the street in the vicinity of the college within recent years. However, police and college officials hold little hope of maintaining this record. Jackson's accident was not the first and it will not be the last or the most serious.

Six Die

Statistics from the Department of Motor Vehicles amplify the fears. The records show that six of the 139 pedestrians killed in the state during the first nine months of 1950 died on Raleigh's city streets.

Sixty-one of the 139 were killed crossing at non-intersections and 23 crossing at intersections. This is the most dangerous aspect of the situation of Hillsboro where students have to cross in the middle of the block to get to classes.

Danger Spot

The Raleigh police consider the Hillsboro area to be a particular trouble spot. From March to December police were called to three automobile accidents involving injuries to persons and 21 involving property damage in the seven blocks which pass State College.

Officer R. M. Lennon, police department statistician, has marked the intersections of Hillsboro with Ferndell Lane and with Enterprise Street as being particularly dangerous.

Cars moving into Hillsboro from Ferndell are blind to oncoming traffic from the west. Lennon believes that this factor contributed to several of the five collisions which occurred there.

Enterprise Street

Seven collisions were recorded at Enterprise during the period studied, including the now famous truck accident.

In spite of the heavy pedestrian traffic, and the busy side streets and dangerous intersections, Hillsboro is zoned for a 35-mile an hour speed in accordance with state law. The law provides for a reduction to a 20-mile limit only in com-

College Union O.K.'d Pic Exhibit In Library

Official permission for the construction of the College Union was received from the National Production Authority last Friday by the State Budget Bureau and forwarded to State College authorities.

Meanwhile, final drawings for the $800,000 structure are nearing completion by Architect William H. Deitrick and are due to reach the Budget Bureau the first of next week.

The letter to the Budget Bureau stipulated that the permission does not carry any priority for construction materials and expressed the "hope" that care would be taken to minimize the use of materials in short supply.

Union Photos

A college union photographic display will be set up in the D. H. Hill Library from January 20 to February 3, reports Jerry Erdahl, Director of the State College Union.

The exhibit will consist of pictures and descriptions of the interiors and exteriors of various unions across the country. Included in the display will be the blueprints of the new State College Union.

Erdahl states, that "through the photos the students should be able to focus on an inspirational picture of what our College Union will be like and do."

The photos recently were passed along from the University of Minnesota where they were displayed in a similar manner. After February 3 the material will be sent to the University of Miami.

An effort to conserve these materials has been a major problem to the architects since they started work on the final drawings late last November. Much time has been consumed ironing out minor details and finding suitable substitutes for materials in short supply.

The NPA first questioned the status of the College Union early last November at the same time it approved construction of a new 9,000 seat coliseum for the State Fair grounds. On the grounds that it must be assured that the Union was not a building devoted solely to amusement and recreation facilities, the agency withheld its approval until the Budget Bureau submitted plans and description of the functions of the building.

SUPPORT THE WSSF CAMPAIGN

WSSF Drive Opens Feb. 5; Aids 500,000

"Give-For Our Future" is the slogan of the 1951 drive for the World Student Service Fund which will be conducted on the campus from February 5th thru 10th. The slogan symbolizes the need of the 500,000 students in seventeen countries who will be aided by WSSF.

Shell, Foy, Wells

Concrete plans for the campaign were made last night at a dinner meeting in the Grill Room conducted by the three co-chairmen, Wade Foy, dormitories, Howard Shell, fraternities, and Howard Wells, general and off-campus. The chairmen were assisted by Bob Knoop and Hugh Sheppard who are, respectively, secretary and treasurer for the drive.

The representatives of the co-operating campus organizations were informed of the services fulfilled by WSSF in a talk given by WSSF's southern regional secretary, Jack Gleason of Atlanta, Ga. Gleason has recently completed a European tour to gain first hand information on the conditions in European schools.

Tenth Drive

This is the tenth anniversary of the drive on the State campus. In 1940 the donations totaled 240 dollars, in 1949 over 1800 dollars, and this year it is hoped to raise over 3,000 dollars.

Officials of the Fund are proud that only a small percentage of the money collected in the U. S. is spent for administrative expenses. $536,000 was collected in American schools last year and only 23,000 dollars went for administration.

Ag Eco Chapter Born; Heath Hinson Heads

A student chapter of the American Farm Economics Association has been organized here recently by students of the Agriculture Economics Department.

Heath Hinson, Senior from Marshville, N. C., is President of the new chapter, which will be known officially as the North Carolina State College Student Chapter, American Farm Economics Association.

The three official aims of the local group are (1) to familiarize students with current developments in their major field, (2) to stimulate interest in the profession of Agriculture Economics and closely related fields, and (3) to provide a means of contact between students and members of the national group.

Membership is open to any students interested enough in Agriculture Economics to join and meetings will be held the first and third Wednesdays of every month.

Treasurer Harvey Scheviak startled the year's first session of Campus Government Tuesday by submitting a motion to withdraw the Council's financial support of the Pep Club.

Scheviak maintained that the Council had first supported the Pep Club because its stated purpose was, "to boost the spirit of the campus." He then stated that, "the campus as a whole has not profited from the activities of the Pep Club. No dividends have been seen except for the members themselves."

Sit on Fifty

The Pep Club was allotted fifty 50-yard line seats for last fall's home football games with the sanction of the Council. Now, Scheviak alleges, the club is trying to make the same arrangement for the basketball games without the approval of the Campus Government.

Scheviak could not state the exact cost of the Pep Club activities, but he claimed that if the club had sufficient members to fill fifty seats at the football games, it had enough members to function without the support of the Council.

Scheviak's motion was tabled until Pep Club President Harold Strawbridge could have an opportunity to appear before the Council.

CG Financing

Scheviak earlier disturbed the Council with a financial report showing rising expenses in the face of declining revenues. Twenty percent of the year's estimated income has been spent to date, an amount which Scheviak indicated was excessive.

After reading a report which indicated an expenditure of 142 dollars for Campus Government keys, Scheviak issued a plea for economy.

Honor System

President McCracken reported that an informal meeting of Council officers, committee chairman, and faculty members was held last Tuesday night to discuss the Teacher Merit Rating System. He said that it was the feeling of those at the meeting that a rating each year was unnecessary and that it should be conducted every two years.

The Honor Committee chairmen will visit the deans of the schools to get their opinions on the conduct and frequency of teacher rating.

Revised Plan

McCracken informed the Council that a committee headed by Kenneth Hansen to revise the present Honor System has been at work recently. The committee plans to put a revised Honor System before the students by the spring term.

McCracken reported that day students would probably be able to secure a Day Student's Room in one of the barracks. This room is to be used as a cloak and lunch room by the town students. The exact plans for its operation have not yet been made.

BLUE KEY CALENDER

New Project

Recently a new project has been undertaken, The Blue Key Calendar. In cooperation with The Technician, this column is to be published weekly in paper in an attempt to give publicity to organizations with regard to meetings, new members, important events, etc. It will also print activities sponsored by the College and happenings going on in the city of Raleigh.

Wins Scholarship

RUFUS G. COULTER

Rufus G. Coulter of Arden, above, a junior in the Department of Landscape Architecture in State College's School of Design, has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the North Carolina State Garden Club. He was chosen on the basis of his academic achievements and his qualifications for success in his profession. The 26-year-old Buncombe County youth entered State College in September, 1948, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Coulter of Arden.

The Vanishing American, Or: No School Today

By T. E. RICKS

Total enrollment has fallen from 4,278 to 3,815 since the fall quarter, reports the college registration office.

This drop of 463, as shown by an enrollment summary compiled by the college, includes all students registered for classes on the State campus. Of the 3,815 students enrolled, 3,718 of them are regularly enrolled, undergraduate students.

On the co-ed side of the picture—fall enrollment for the fairer sex listed 96, while the winter summary lists only 76, a drop of 20 women.

During the fall term 1502 veterans, including two women, were enrolled in school. Winter term registration shows that 1,308 of these veterans are back.

Engineers Lead

The School of Engineering leads in registration by a large margin. 1606 students are regularly enrolled in some phase of the engineering curriculum.

The School of Agriculture follows in second place with 725 students. The School of Textiles has the third largest enrollment with 570 students.

Three Follow

The rest of the regular enrollment goes as follows: Education, 441; Design, 190; and Forestry, 186. The drop in enrollment was evenly distributed according to schools.

37 new Freshmen enrolled for the winter quarter; 66 new transfers completed registration. 140 former students are back in school after being out for one or more terms.

The elements most commonly used in the production of various alloy steels are iron, carbon, nickel, chromium, silicon, copper, manganese, molybdenum and vanadium.

Becton-Bagwell Open Winter Social Scene

A newly planned Winter social program for dormitory men opens tonight with the Becton-Bagwell dance in Frank Thompson Gym at 8:00 o'clock, reports Bob Long, Becton Social Chairman.

A parade of over 125 girls, representing the "cream-of-the-crop" of local girl's schools, will dance with dormitory men to the music of Gene Wallace and his orchestra.

Students of the Industrial Recreation Department have planned a program similar to the entertainment that proved so popular during the Fall Quarter.

Tickets, "stag or drag," may be picked up from any Floor Representative for fifty cents. Long advises students pick up their tickets early because there is only a limited number available.

Lasting until 11:30 o'clock, the dance will be attended by girls from Meredith and Peace colleges, Rex and State hospitals, and local business schools along with business girls.

The next big social event for the dormitories will be the Owen-Tucker party next Friday evening.

Flower Growers Meet In School Greenhouse

At its first meeting of the year, the Horticulture Club heard plans for the new $684,000 Forestry-Horticulture building last Thursday night in the greenhouse lecture room.

Mr. M. E. Gardner, department head and speaker of the evening, discussed plans for the new building which will be built in the near future.

The building, when completed, will include new greenhouses which will give students access to one of the largest and most modern school greenhouse ranges in the South.

Clubbing Around The Campus

Agronomy Club

The Agronomy Club held its monthly meeting in 8 South Patterson last Thursday night. President Harry Simmons presided.

Bob McCallam, program chairman, presented a motion picture and Dr. Klingman of the Agronomy Department urged students to participate in the student section essay contest sponsored by the American Society of Agronomy.

Ag Club

The January 16 meeting of the Ag Club was held in 118 Withers Hall with Bill Austin presiding. The program consisted of a movie, "Inside Story of Modern Milking." Dr. W. E. Caldwell, head of the Agronomy Department, will speak at the meeting next Tuesday night at 6:30.

Freshman "Y"

The first meeting of the Bible Study Group led by Rev. Lucius Hall was devoted to a discussion of the teachings of Amos.

The Bible Study Group will meet each Monday night from 9 to 9:30 a.m. in the lobby of Tucker Dormitory.

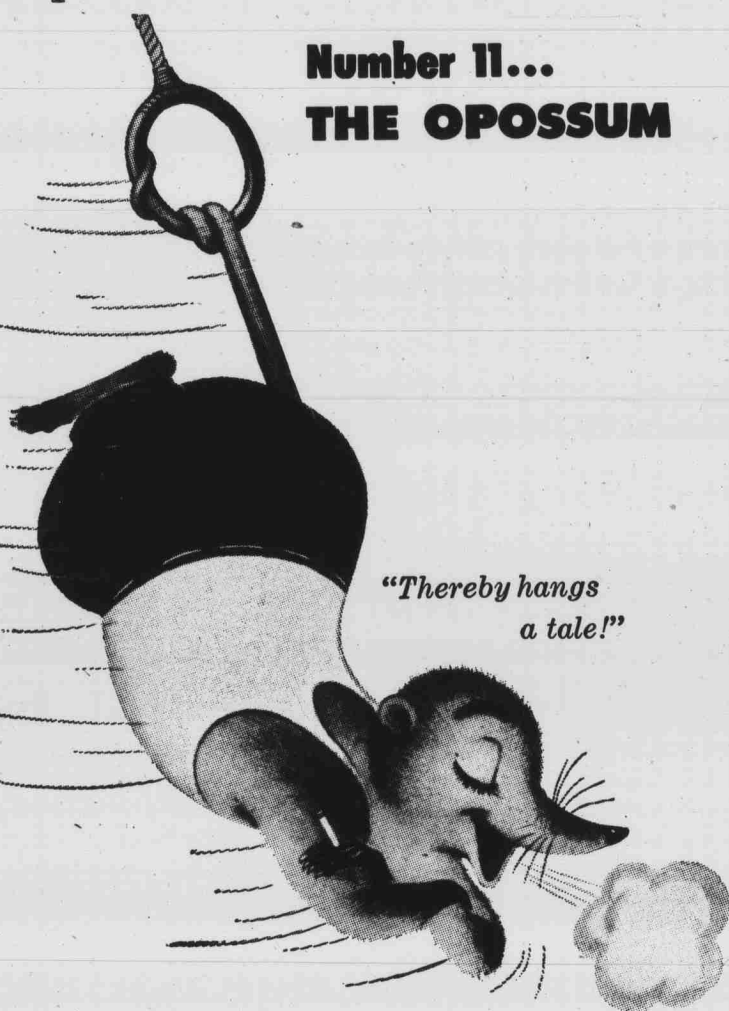

The Freshman "Y" also plans to have an old fashioned church service for the program Wednesday January 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Tucker social room.

Skating Party

There will be a general meeting of the Upper-Classmen YMCA at the "Y" Auditorium on January 24, at 7:30 p.m. There will be 125 Free tickets to Brook's Recreation Center for a Skating Party with girls from Meredith College. All of the Upper-Classmen YMCA Members are cordially invited.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 11... THE OPOSSUM

The class clown went out on a limb and tried to prove cigarette mildness by the quick-trick method! He tried the fast inhale, fast exhale test—a whiff, a sniff—and they still left him up in the air!

But then he got his feet on the ground. He learned that there is a reliable way to discover how mild a cigarette can be!

And that test is...

The sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

Keys, Economy and Scalps

On Tuesday the Campus Government heard a financial report which showed that its expenses were mounting while its income continues to decline. The Treasurer advised economy.

Just before hearing this report each member of the Council accepted a very attractive, gold plated key, emblematic of his service to the student body by serving on the Council of Campus Government. The total cost of these trinkets to the students was slightly more than 142 dollars.

What a paradox! First we give the boys a 142 bucks worth of jewelry and then we tell them that they're spending too much money for phone calls.

Let's not play games. If you need the money don't throw it away in handfulls just to buy keys. This whole business of presenting keys is outmoded and out worn, anyway. This was a splendid opportunity for the Council to demonstrate their ability by practicing some sensible economy and to demonstrate their leadership by abolishing the antiquated hobby of key collecting. An activity somewhat akin to the American Indian's practice of collecting scalps.

It appears that this is another year when the Council is able to distinguish itself only by the emblem which its members wear on their key chains.

PRF

Coliseum Study

Chancellor Harrelson recently announced the appointment of a committee to study the operation of the Coliseum.

The committee will make a study of the type of activities which should be held in the vast arena, scheduling of student events, and, probably of most interest to student organizations, a basis for rental fees.

Several of the student organizations which have tried recently to hold dances in the Coliseum have complained that the rental fee and incidental expenses are much too high.

We have seen a breakdown of all expenses incurred by the Coliseum for a student dance and feel that some are a little out of line.

But before we do any screaming, let's give the committee a chance to make its study. The group is composed of every possible interested party, and a fair study should be made.

If the committee finds that rental charges are too high, THE TECHNICIAN will be the first to make demands that reductions are in order.

On Honor

At a time like the present when astudents are beginning to "live to the hilt," we should stop to consider the value of honor. Morals become loose and logical thinking is tossed onto the junk heap when man is faced with the problems which confront today's students.

Now, more than ever, we must strive to maintain high moral standards.

The Campus Government is preparing an amendment to its constitution which will make the Honor System a living part of the State College campus.

Students will have the opportunity to vote on this amendment at Spring Term registration.

The honor system is not intended to be a police plan. Its main objective should be to cause students to think about honor and honesty within themselves.

At the Spring Term registration last year, the same amendment was thrown into the waste basket, not because the students didn't want it, but because not enough students voted to make it legal.

We feel that the honor system can be a success on our campus. We would like to see the amendment added to the constitution.

Think seriously about the amendment, discuss it with your student friends and profs. Whether you favor an honor system or not, vote at registration. Let the Campus Government know how you feel.

Follow your own convictions; not those of a buddy. Vote one way or another on the Honor System amendment in the Spring Term election.

Food for the Mind

The tenth annual fund drive on our campus by the World Student Service Fund merits the full support of the students and the faculty. It guarantees continuance of the far-reaching aid WSSF has in the past been able to bring to scholars and scientists abroad.

One of the most important aims of the WSSF campaign is to help the CARE-UNESCO Book Fund program in supplying the latest American scientific and technical literature to war-damaged universities, libraries and medical and scientific institutions.

The present joint effort on the part of the WSSF and CARE is made to raise additional funds for "Food for the Mind." Any amount thus raised may be earmarked for a school or scientific institution in any of the 24 CARE countries. Undesignated contributions will be allocated to such universities where CARE and UNESCO, after consultation with the ministries of education, find the need most urgent.

Mental and spiritual hunger may bite as hard as the pangs of physical malnutrition. The current WSSF campaign provides the means for students throughout the land to help satisfy that hunger through CARE. Such aid cannot fail to pay dividends in better understanding between nations and engender the trust and respect which are the best guarantees of lasting peace.

SOS: Save Our Students

Elsewhere in THE TECHNICIAN is a story on the deplorable traffic situation on Hillsboro Street.

The danger to pedestrians and motorists in the State College area has grown to the point where the students are in a position to demand protection.

A rezoning of the area is the first step that is needed to curb the racing along Hillsboro. But zoning for speed is not enough. Policemen must be put on the beat, and arrests must be made before the speeding ceases.

Student Playlet Satirizes Most Recent C. G. Doings

By PAUL FOGHT

Charles and Mary Lamb once turned out a rather successful little thing entitled Lamb's Shakespeare in which they presented the essential outlines of Mr. William Shakespeare's dramas. Naturally, their work was not altogether appreciated by the people who were fond of Will's prose, but their stuff did save weary students a lot of time.

We now propose to do a similar good deed for the weary State students who did not have an opportunity to witness a political playlet which was enacted on the campus Tuesday. So, with an appropriate fanfare, we present our synopsis of Much Ado About Next To Nothing, a muckraker in four acts.

Act I

Act I. Our drama begins to unfold as the worthy treasurer of the Campus Government asks the Council to withdraw all moral and financial support from the Pep Club, another campus group originally sponsored by the Council. To quote from the secretary's minutes, "Scheviak gave as the reason for his motion that the Pep Club was not living up to its purpose and that the only students deriving benefits from the Pep Club were the members themselves."

In a vigorous speech the treasurer mentions a phone bill, money for printing signs and money for a pep rally which he states the Pep Club obtained from the Campus Government. This, he intimates, is the financial support which must be stopped.

Act II

Act II. In this act a reporter for the campus newspaper speaks to the president of the Pep Club about the situation. This individual lists some activities, including one which the reporter's paper sparked, which he claims to have organized. In comparing his activities with those of the Campus Government he asks, "What have those idiots done?"

In reference to financial support from the Campus Government he states that the only funds given the Pep Club came from the Student Activity Fee. An appropriation of 200 dollars. He says that he knows nothing of any bills paid for his group by the Campus Government.

Act III

Act III. The reporter contacts the Campus Government treasurer for comment on the statements of the Pep Club prexy. The money man refuses to make any definite statements, but reaffirms his stand that the Pep Club has gotten "some money from Campus Government."

The telephone bill, he states, was run up by the Head Cheerleader, who, he "took for granted" was associated with the Pep Club.

Act IV

Act IV. In the closing scenes the Head Cheerleader explains to the reporter that the Pep Club is a separate group, which may, or may not, work for and with the Head Cheerleader and his squad.

Students Urged To Continue Work; Draft Jitters Cause Low Morale

The question of whether college men should or should not be deferred from military service has drawn a number of varied replies from the nation's educational leaders.

There are some, like the members of Gen. Lewis B. Hershey's advisory committees, who feel deferment should be granted to superior students. But the Association of American Universities recently issued a report urging enactment of a law to draft all men for two years of military service upon their reaching the age of 18. It was felt that the critical situation warranted such a measure.

Less Drastic Steps

There were others who proposed less drastic steps. The New York State Association of Colleges and Universities declared that while basic military training for American youth was needed, their call to training should await their finishing high school or college. The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame University, put it this way: "The experiences of World War II have proved the need, not only in time of war, but in the vital post-war period, of men trained in colleges and universities."

Meanwhile, college officials are considering the possibility of reestablishing the old wartime acceleration program, whereby a student can graduate in three years instead of the usual four. Officials frankly admit they don't like it; they feel it puts too much pressure on students and faculty alike.

On January 19, representatives of the American Council for Education will meet to discuss these emergency problems, along with the problem of expected drop in enrollment. Some college heads predict that the drop next year may exceed 50 per cent, in contrast to the 15 per cent drop predicted. Such a big dip would put national enrollment back to peacetime figures of 1940-41.

Question: What do you think of the Textile School's lecture series? Charles R. Read, Jr., Tex. Design

The lecture series is a very good idea. However, the time is rather inconvenient to a large percentage of students. The speakers as a whole seem to be good, but some do not speak on subjects that relate to the interests of the student body. Stanley Cohen, Senior, Tex.

To date I've been very impressed with 'Gossett Lecture Series except for the opening lecture. Oddly enough the speaker was Mr. Gossett himself. Instead of furthering the cause of the textile industry, the primary purpose of the series, Mr. Gossett chose to show how the South is so superior to the rest of the country. If you call that beneficial to Textiles then maybe I'm wrong; somehow, I feel though he is.

Franklin Soling, Soph., Tex.

Considering all the lectures I have attended at the textile school, I think I can honestly say that for the most part, they are beneficial to all concerned. However, I would like to express the opinion that the lectures would further interest to the students in the Textile School if they followed the line of Textiles a little more closely. I sincerely believe Mr. Gossett has enlightened us all with his clever selections of speakers, and I look forward to the remainders.

Martin Kallman, Soph., Tex.

I think the lecture series is, on the whole, a waste of time. Some of the lectures made some interesting points, but for the amount of time spent and the quality of most of the speakers, does not warrant the series. They may be big names in the industry, but they do not give

State Wife Cover Girl On Current Issue Of Mag

"You look just like a picture in magazine," wrote a West Point cadet to a charming young lady he met at a prom. And the Army was right—as usual. Joan Westfall's pretty face now smiles demurely on the cover of the January Ladies' Home Journal. Her photograph was chosen by the Journal editors for their current cover girls of "Undiscovered American beauties," whose models have never before posed professionally.

The cadet, now a Lieutenant, is her husband, Joan, who is 22, lives in Cameron Village with her husband. She was born and raised in New York City and attended Hunter College where she majored in English. One day a photographer acquainted with some of the professors inquired at the Dean's office at Hunter for beautiful student candidates to enter in the Journal Cover Girl contest. Joan, a frequent visitor to that office because of her tendency to cut classes, was suggested. She was photographed shortly after and the success of the pictures is indicated by the cover on the January Journal.

Joan was graduated from Hunter College with the class of January, 1950. One month later she married Lt. Fred Westfall in Florida where they lived until he finished his course at the Air Tactical School. In June the Westfalls were transferred to Raleigh where Joan is a busy Army wife and her husband is a student in Nuclear Physics at State College.

In addition to her appearance on the cover, the Journal also features a page of Joan modeling a

Some fast shooting on the part of the K.A.'s ended in an easy 39-10 win over the P.K.T.'s in their opening game of the season. High men were Smith of K.A. with 14, and Barr of P.K.T. with 3.

Basketball games slated for January 16 were called off because of dissention towards afternoon games. The games were scheduled in the afternoon to facilitate the fraternity players to attend the Wake Forest-State game. These games will be re-scheduled for the end of the season.

mercial districts. A commercial district is described as a 300 yard frontage, 70 per cent of which is occupied by commercial establishments. An official in the Department of Motor Vehicles has described this law as being ambiguous and unsatisfactory.

Business Area

Although the north side of Hillsboro from Oberlin Road to the Textile School boasts a business community large enough to support its own merchant's association, there is no single stretch that may be considered a business district for the purposes of the law.

However, it is possible that a concerted effort made by college officials and Hillsboro Street merchants would result in a 20-mile speed zone for the area. If this should happen, the number of automobile accidents can be expected to decrease and the probability of a fatal accident to a student will be reduced.

the world have resulted in poor morale and low grades on that campus. Forty-six per cent of the students came through with grades of "D" or "F" for the mid-semester. Even the girls are jittery, declared the university's Counselor of Women.

The student attitude on this subject can be summed up by the remark of a graduating senior: "It took me 22 years to grow this blood. I don't want to lose it in one hour in Korea."

On the whole, the lectures so far have been very mediocre, with the exception of Mr. Gossett's own lecture on the rise of Southern Industry. Most of them act as they were addressing the graduating class of a grammar school for backward children.

If the speakers would speak on matters with which they are familiar, and keep their time down to the allotted amount, the student would probably show more enthusiasm for this lecture series.

Dorms Start Season; Berry & Welch Win

By BILL GEILER

The intramurals got off to a fast start this quarter as all the dorms participated in at least one basketball game. All of the high point teams came out winners though two of them had close calls. Berry had to go into three overtime periods to defeat Becton No. 2. Syme No. 1 waited until the last minute before they decided they wanted to win.

Before we get into the basketball news of the week, I should like to report to you about a special event that came off last week. As you all know, Sym No. 1 and Sigma Nu Fraternity were champions in their respective leagues in football. It is the custom for the two champions to have a playoff and determine the campus champion. Because of the shortage of time it was not played. Mr. Perry of the Physical Education Department made arrangements for it to be played last Thursday. It was played, and the dormitory lads came out on top by the score of 13-0. Syme's attack was led by their two all campus choices, Paul Sweat and Stuart Gooden. No one man could be singled out for exceptional performances however. Two fine passes thrown by Ralph Jones resulted in the two Syme touchdowns. Harry Anderson caught one in the end zone in the first period and Lonnie Gaddy caught the other in the last period with two men guarding him. It was a hard fought game and each team received its share of bruises.

Berry 19 — Becton No. 2 16

Berry and Becton No. 2 played probably the most exciting game of all of them. Three overtime periods were necessary to decide the final winner. Dick Kemper, Berry's ace, sank the basket that decided the issue in that "sudden death" period. Kemper, with seven points and Frank Morgan with four were the outstanding offensive players for Berry. On the defensive side it was Dick Jewitt who paced the winners. For the losers it was Jim Ledbetter, George Pressley and Paul Avery that showed the way. The game started out very slowly with each team playing very cautious ball. As the game wore on, however, the tempo picked up and they settled down to a fine ball game. Allen Skarup, Berry's captain feels that his boys will improve as the season progresses but he refuses to make any sort of prediction for the future.

Tucker No. 2 36—Turlington No. 1 18

Tucker No. 1 looked exceptionally well handling the ball and in shooting. In winning the game Tucker used the famous State College press to stymie the Turlies. After the first quarter the boys from out yonder really started to hit and it ceased to be a close game. Scoring honors for the winners went to Joe "Red" Hamerich who garnered nine points. Jerry Johnson, with eight and Bud Castor with seven were close behind. Castor is also to be recommended for his fine floor game. For the losers it was R. Buckner who carried the load. The Tuckerites showed fine spirit and good ball handling. With this combination they are sure to be in the finals come the end of the term.

Becton No. 1 35—Alexander No. 1 15

After a slow first half, Becton led by the score of 14 to 11. However, led by a newcomer to the Becton ranks, Clifton Adam, Becton started to roll in the second half and scored twenty-one points while holding hapless Alexander to four. Addams, Knowles and Dobbins led the Becton attack with eight points each. Following them in the scoring column, was Watts with seven markers. Bobby Dobbins, Becton director, believes he has a fine team but this year will be a little rougher than last when the boys from Becton copped everything in sight. Welch 20—Vetville 18

Welch used a deliberate style of play in the first half with the give and go as their offensive weapon to build up a commanding 14 to 3 lead. In the second half, Vetville finally woke up and started to play smart basketball to almost pull the game out of the fire. However Welch's lead was just a little too large to cut down and the final bell rang with Welch holding a two point lead. For the winners it was Wyford showing the way with eight points. Hobart was second high for Welch with four points. Price and Nicks were the defensive stars for Welch. For Vetville it was Winstead who led both teams in scoring with nine points.

Turlington No. 2 39—Owen No. 1 19

After a close half the reserve strength of the more experienced boys from Turlington started to take an effect on the gang from Owen. Turlington used eleven players on its conquest of Tucker. That is a fine show of spirit from those boys from Turlington. Owen never did get started as Turlington led all the way. The highlight of the game was the tight defense set up by the Turlies in the second half. The most outstanding for Turlington were Manney, Wright and Kimmel. Turlington came out second in basketball last year and plan to better that this quarter.

Tucker No. 1 28—Syme No. 1 29

In probably the closest fought game of them all Syme No. 1 eked out a one point win over the other representative from Tucker. Tucker was leading up until the half when Syme took a one point lead. Tucker came back strong in the second half to almost steal the decision from a "lucky" Syme team. Maybe it was luck or was it spirit. High scorers for Tucker were Craig Barnhardt and John Yvars with eight points apiece. Several improvements were suggested by the Tuckerites for future games in the gym.

Tekes And PiKA's Win In Fraternity Games

By T. E. RICKS

Winter-term sports in the Greek corners started off with a "bang" last week. Sixteen of the seventeen chapters on campus started their basketball season. The Delta Sigs are back in the sports picture after a "lay-off" during the Fall quarter.

PIKA Bests AGR

The PiKA's met the A.G.R.'s on Tuesday night, and they came out on top 31-18. While the PiKA's did most of their scoring during the first half of the game, the A.G.R.'s racked up 12 of their 18 points in the second half. Knox was high man in the game with 10 points. Ward led the winners with 9.

The same night the S.A.E.'s topped the Sigma Nu's in a close game that ended 30-26. Four points behind at the half, the Nu's fought hard in the rest of the game, but it was still the S.A.E.'s game at the end by four points. Cotten racked up 9 for Sigma Nu, and Baker of S.A.E. stood at the head of his team with 8 points.

In the Chi corner, the score was different. The Sigma Chi's out rang the Theta Chi's by 20 points in a game that ended 34-14. Buie led the winners with 10 points, while Rein and Hux of Theta Chi had 4 each.

Spencer Leads TKE

Spencer, Pettinelli, and Curran led the T.K.E. team in their attack against the returned Delta Sig's with 6 points each. Moffitt made 5 points for the Delta Sig men. The T.K.E.'s started off their season with 34-15 victory.

On Thursday night, the S.A.M.'s out shot a hard-to-beat Kappa Sig squad by one basket to win their first game 18-16. Wiesberger added 9 points to the S.A.M. score, and Conger helped out the Kappa Sig's by hitting good for 5.

The S.P.E.'s and the P.K.P.'s met on the court for a close game that ended in P.K.P.'s favor 17-14. At the end of the game the score stood 12-12, but the P.K.P.'s went out ahead in the overtime period to win by a 3 point margin. Fox of P.K.P. led the scoring with 11 points, and Hay was high man for the S.P.E.'s with 4.

Ticket Info

The following information has been issued by the Coliseum ticket office for the issuing of student tickets to the home basketball games:

In order that all students will be given a fair chance at the better student seats, a priority division has been made.

In group one are all students with athletic books numbered from one to 999. These students receive the best seats for the Duke and VPI games.

Group two numbers range from 1000-1999, and seats in this group are for the Carolina and Temple games. Group three ranges from 2000 to 2999. Seats are reserved for the Georgetown and Wake Forest games.

In group four are the books numbered 3000-4000, with the best seats going for the LaSalle and Louisville games.

The issue schedule for tickets is as follows:

January 19, LaSalle; January 20 and 22, VPI; Jan 25 and 26, UNC; Feb. 3 and 5, Temple; Feb. 8 and 9, Duke; Feb. 10 and 12, Louisville; Feb. 17 and 19, Wake Forest; and Feb. 22 and 23, Georgetown.

All four windows in front of Coliseum will be open the first day of issue, and you will receive tickets according to your priority number on your Athletic Book. On the second day of issue everyone will be served on a first-come first-serve basis. The windows will be designated by a group number at top.

Casey Pessimistic About Swimmers Chances; Breaststroker Bill Despres Tanked Again

By GILBERT MAXWELL

With two meets already under their belts, Coach Willis Casey's Wolfpack swimmers are busily working out, and will meet Georgia Tech here tomorrow night in the Frank Thompson Pool.

Coach Casey is very pessimistic. He has just heard that Fred Stafford, sprint star of two years ago, will not be able to swim this year due to ear trouble. It had been hoped that Stafford would be able to help tremendously in the sprints, where the squad lacks depth. Casey lost three good men from last year's team and did not get much in the way of replacements from the sophomores. Over-all, Casey opined that the 'Pack would be weaker, the schedule stronger.

Fresh Strong

Assistant Coach Bicky Morris waxed ecstatic about the freshman team, his particular charges, proclaiming them as the best talent of any fresh team in the history of the school. Front-line men are Paul Arata, a threat to the American breaststroke record, and Donald Sonia, freestyle speedster. Other top men on the frosh squad are Bobby Kost, Jordan Ploch, and Allen Hull.

The Baby Wolves will have a chance to prove their mettle against the Baby Tar Heels tonight in Frank Thompson Pool. They have already taken measure of the Richmond Y team by a 55-20 score. Coach Morris termed the team as being talented, well-rounded, with sufficient depth.

Lettermen Back

There will be many familiar faces on the squad this year. Bill Despres, the old campaigner, will be back to swim the breaststroke, and Matt Lojko will be on hand for more sparkling backstroke performances. In addition to splashing in the breaststroke, Despres will coach the divers. His number one man will be letterman Snokey Nunis, who will team with Bobby Duke in the springboard events.

Grapplers Beat Cats; Lose to Strong VMI

By JOHN THOMPSON

North Carolina State's Wrestling Team turned in a dual performance this past weekend — losing to a highly regarded Virginia Military Team 21-11 on Friday night, and posting a win over Davidson College on Saturday night by a reversal of the same score.

In Friday night's match, Nobbs, Martin, and Rucker were the leaders for State. However, a strong V.M.I. team won five out of eight matches to go ahead in points 21-11.

Summary:

123—Jordan (VMI) decisioned Buie, 10-8.

130—Perry (VMI) decisioned Strange, 8-5.

137—Nobbs (S) won by fall over Moorman, 1:20 of the first period.

147—Brown (VMI) won by fall over Chamberlain, 2:30 of the second period.

157—Martin (S) decisioned Cheat-ham, 10-8.

167—Venable (VMI) won by fall over Thompson, 1:20 of the second period.

177—Rucker (S) decisioned Hudson 5-4.

won by fall over Kaiser, 2:40 of second period. Against Davidson College on Saturday, the Matmen from State College won five out of eight matches to clip the Wildcats from Davidson by 21-11. Martin, with a first period fall, backed up by decisions of Strange and Nobbs, and forfeits to Rucker and Kaiser, led the boys in their victory over Davidson.

Summary:

123—Craven (D) decisioned Buie, 4-2.

130—Strange (S) decisioned Ervin, 12-11.

137—Nobbs (S) decisioned Grisson, 8-7.

147—Guition (D) decisioned Chamberlain, 4-2.

BOB CURRAN, Sports Editor

Dear Coach Case,

When Philadelphia was named "The City of Brotherly Love" the good fathers of the town didn't know that some day Basketball Officials would be working there.

Sincerely,
Bob Curran

P. S. Are you sure those whistle tooters weren't firemen? They sure did give State a fine hosing.

Tuesday night at the Coliseum they had a replay of the State-Wake Forest football game of 1950. That's the game that they're still bleeding about over at Baptist Hollow. This time the basketball teams of the two institutions took part. Two or three more supposed basketball games like that, and Peahead Walker and Beattie Feathers will have plenty of material for the 1951 football season.

Everytime I see the Wake Forest student body in action, I get a large charge. They really do love those Demon Deacons, and I'm sure glad somebody does. They have a handkerchief waving routine that they go through, that looks like a woman's college Maypole dance. The Duke University student body does the same routine at athletic events. Maybe next year their "Hanky Waving" teams will schedule each other.

I happened to mention Duke University in the last paragraph, and it reminded me of a little piece that I read in the DUKE CHRONICLE. Sterling Smith, the sports columnist for the Duke weekly has come to the conclusion that either Dick Groat is an All-America, or Vic Bubas is a laugh as an All-Southern guard.

After witnessing Groat's exhibition against the Wolfpack, I'm firmly convinced that Groat is All-America, but I'm also firmly convinced that Vic Bubas is an All-Southern guard. If you really want to see a laugh Mr. Smith, check those other four guys on Duke's basketball team. Or even better yet, check Carolina's basketball team.

The other night at the Coliseum there were approximately 5,500 people witnessing the State-Wake Forest game. There was quite a shortage of State students there, in comparison to our home games. The biggest keeper away was the reduced rate of one dollar that was charged to State students. There were 6,500 empty seats in the Coliseum that could have been partially filled, if the students were given a decent break on the price.

I fully realize that it was Wake Forest's home game, and that they probably set the rate, but I'm sure if they could be talked into moving their game here, they could be talked into setting a lower rate. Some sort of an agreement could be reached, whereby the student body of both schools gets a reduced rate for each others home game. Two thousand students at fifty cents is much better than five hundred students at one dollar.

A new cheer was introduced by Harold Strawbridge, president of the State College Pep Club, at the William and Mary game the other night. Four days later a movement was started on campus to get rid of the Pep Club. I don't think the new cheer was the direct cause of the movement, but it probably helped. The new cheer was a complete bust, as is the Pep Club.

Rather than worry too much about organized cheering at the basketball games, why not provide more entertainment at halftime, as was provided at the Dixie Classic. Even better yet, why not have the teams from the Raleigh Midget League play at halftime. They'd certainly be more interesting than some of these teams that the Wolfpack has been playing lately.

My eyes are getting very tired, so best I knock this off for another week. I'm afraid that if I don't, I'll go completely blind, and then I'd have to become a basketball referee in Philadelphia.

BOB COOK SAM RANZINO BILL KUKOY
N. C. State Wolfpack Forwards

NEXT year Coach Everett Case will have to find a suitable replacement for All-America Sammy Ranzino who will be gone via graduation or the QM. Two of the possible replacements are Bob Cook and Bill Kukoy pictured above with Ranzino. Cook, a junior from Columbus, Ind. has been one of Coach Case's most valued substitutes for the past two seasons, and he is a consistent scorer. Bill Kukoy, another native of Indiana, was the leading scorer of last year's great freshman team. Last Saturday night against Villanova, Kukoy personally took charge of the scoring in the second half, and almost led the Pack to victory. He scored 10 points, before fouling out, and Coach Case credited him with being responsible for the second half comeback that was put on by the Wolfpack.

Pack Ready For Vengeance Against LaSalle Explorers

By PAUL HODUL

A brilliant sophomore studded aggregation of LaSalle Explorers will invade the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum tomorrow night for an important inter-sectional game with Coach Everett Case's Wolfpack.

Led by George

The Explorers are led by Johnny George, 6:2 sophomore guard. George, a transfer from Notre Dame, is averaging 18 per game, and promises to be a tough foe.

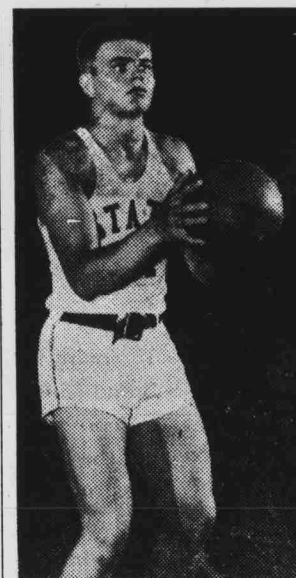

So far this season the Explorers have dropped two contests—one to Western Kentucky and the other to Duquesne.

Teaming up with George will be another steady guard, Jimmy Phelan. Phelan is the boy who held Ranzino to 5 points in last year's contest when LaSalle romped to a 66-51 victory.

Foust Missing

Missing from last year's great LaSalle team will be Larry Foust, the rugged pivot man. However, his place is being capably filled by another sophomore, 6:7 Jack French.

The Explorers, coached by Ken Loeffler, are another team that

GUARD LEE TERRELL
N. C. State

favor the hot potato type of passing combined with the fast break.

Terrell Gets Nod

The Pack will be at full strength for this game. Lee Terrell, the scrappy little guard from South Orange, N. J., will probably get the starting nod at one of the guard positions. Lee's hustling type of basketball has almost assured him of a starting berth for the remainder of the season. His steady playing has helped the Pack iron out the inexperience that hindered the squad in earlier games.

Other starters will be Vic Bubas at guard, Paul Horvath at center and Sam Ranzino at forward with the other forward positions being a toss up between Cook, Speight and Brandenburg.

All-American Sam Ranzino needs only 7 points to break Dick Dickey's all time scoring record of 1,644 points.

A preliminary game between the freshman teams of William & Mary and the Pack will precede the varsity contest. Tip off time for the freshman game will be at 6:30 P.M. while the varsity game will get underway at 8:15 P.M.

Fraternity and Dormitory Basketball Managers

Managers should apply in person to the P.E. office to get a note to reserve a court for basketball practices. Only four (4) teams can reserve a court at any one hour. Private basketballs will not be allowed on the courts. The P.E. department has all the balls necessary.

Teams should understand these restrictions. As many as fifteen (15) balls have been on the court at one time, and as many as ten (10) teams have been on the floor at the same time. Teams can not practice under these conditions, so please cooperate and make your reservations. In this way opportunities can be rotated to all.
