CG Votes To Delay Merit Rating For 51

Teacher Merit Rating and the Campus Government Constitution occupied the CG Council on Tuesday. Merit Rating will be postponed until next year by action of the Council and a committee has been appointed to study changes in the Constitution following the suggestions offered by Hal Brown.

The committee appointed to study the Merit Rating System reported that the rate of faculty changes was not great enough to require an annual rating. Treasurer Harvey Scheviak said that the budget was low and that conducting a rating would put a strain on the treasury. Jeff Brooks added that the rating sheets for last year were still in the dean's office in some schools and that these should be returned before a new rating is conducted.

Deferred for Year

Bob Scott's motion to defer the rating for a year was accepted.

Hal Brown explained his proposals to alter the CG Constitution to the Council and in the discussion following the motion to adopt these proposals Dr. E. T. York suggested that a committee be appointed to make a thorough restudy of the constitution.

He stated that other changes are necessary besides the ones proposed by Brown and his committee. Brown was then appointed chairman of a committee, which is to include one faculty member, to restudy the possibility of additional changes.

Pep Club Funds

President McCracken announced that in a recent meeting of the Student Activities Fee Committee, the Pep Club had asked for funds to further their work.

Last week the Council moved a unanimous vote of confidence for the Pep Club after the organization had been under fire at a previous meeting.

WSSF Funds Go To Indonesian Students

The University of Indonesia will receive the funds raised at State College for the World Student Service Fund, according to Wade Foy, drive co-chairman.

Both student and faculty committees adopted the project at the suggestion of W. L. Mayer, Registrar of the college. Indonesia, one of the world's newest nations was established by a commission that included Dr. Frank Graham, former president of the Greater University.

3,000 Students

The Indonesian university is composed of some 3,000 students studying in eight different localities. The physical plant, largely built during the period of Dutch rule, has suffered in the fighting against first the Japanese and then the Dutch.

WSSF reports that classes are held in the morning or the evening to enable students and professors to carry on outside jobs to support themselves and aid in building the new country. Books, equipment, and housing are lacking to a serious degree at the schools.

From the files of the Technician comes a story and a message which should inspire every State College (Continued on Page 5)

Honor System Faces Vote

Ed. Note: During the next week, a student referendum will be taken to determine whether State College students want an honor system. Ballots will be passed out in class rooms by Honor Council members. If the majority of students favor an honor system, the Campus Government will prepare an amendment to the constitution, which will be voted on at a later date by the students. The following is an open letter to State College students from Tom Ripley, Chief Justice of the Civilian Honor Court at VPI.

Dear Students of North Carolina State:

Kenneth W. Hansen, Chairman of your Honor System Committee, has requested that I comment on, "The good that can come from an Honor System."

Let it be understood that any comments I make will be directed to you, the students of North Carolina State, not to the faculty or to the administration, but to the people assuming full responsibility of any Honor System that may be inaugurated.

This is a point I cannot emphasize too strongly. Unless an Honor System, any Honor System, as the complete endorsement and unceasing support of the entire student body, it should not be considered, for it could not succeed. I am in no way trying to discourage your actions. On the contrary, if the movement has the complete support of the student body, it should be pressed forward with intense vigor.

Really, you have asked the question: What can we expect

Tarheel Wildlife Pic To Be Shown Tuesday

"Tarheel Wildlife," North Carolina's new experiment in wildlife education, will have one of its first showings at the Wildlifer's meeting, Tuesday, February 6, in Room 85, Patterson Hall. The film will begin at 7 p.m. sharp and end at 7:30 in order for the members and guests to attend the Temple basketball game.

The new, sound production was photographed in technicolor recently by a New York film company for the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission. It will be exhibited throughout the state in an attempt to get the people to co-operate with the commission in its fish and game program.

The subjects of the film are the fresh-water fish and game species that are present in this state from the coastal areas to the western mountain borders. For each species of fish and game under the commission's jurisdiction, there are individual problems of management and law enforcement. The solutions of these management and law enforcement problems are carefully illustrated from the standpoint of deriving the greatest amount of sport and game for the largest number of people.

Everyone is urged to come and bring his friends. You will have plenty of time to make the game later.

Juniors Need Money To Finish Dance Plans

The Ring Dance Committee has many plans made, but there is one thing holding them back. Money! We all know that the success of the dance depends to a great extent upon the quality of the music. Money and music today are synonymous.

We have made plans to engage Ray Anthony and his orchestra. He wants to come. In spite of the fact that his was one of the lowest bids received, we still do not have enough money to be able to sign the final contract.

Second in importance in the success of the dance is the building in which the dance is held. There is only one building in Raleigh large enough to hold the expected crowd without anyone being inconvenienced or uncomfortable. That building is the Coliseum. We have received conformation of our dance date, May 5, from the Coliseum management. We can use it, if we can pay for it. Right now, we cannot.

New Features

In conjunction with the Dance Committee's planning, there is an Entertainment Committee that is working on possible additional features for the Ring Dance week-end to supplement the dance itself. They have several excellent ideas, and they are busy working on all possible leads. One thing that is definite in the line of additional entertainment is a concert to be held in the afternoon, just before the dance.

The matter rests in the hands of the members of the Junior Class. It is entirely up to them to back up their class officers and committees in producing the highlight of the Junior year. With payment of your class dues, you will receive bids to the dances this year and next year. Members who have paid and are really interested in having a big "blowout" this year, help the cause by urging your friends who have not yet paid. There are a number of Seniors who did not pay their class dues last year who will undoubtedly want to go to the dance this year. They will not receive a dance bid until they have paid their five dollars.

Collection Spots

On Monday, February 5, there will be a collection drive. We have set up a number of collecting stations as listed below:

- Alexander, Turlington, Owen, and Tucker area. Pop's Canteen—Collecting hours 5:30 to 8:00
- Bagwell, Becton, Berry area. Canteen—Collecting hours 5:30-8:00
- East and West Entrances Cafeteria—Collecting hours 5:30 to 7:00

All of you that have not paid your dues yet, get out there to one of these places on Monday evening. To put on the best dance of the year, we have got to have the money. It is strictly up to you!

Balloting Underway In Dormitories

Elections are now underway in the dormitories and will continue until February 16. Floor representatives and building officers will be selected. By the end of the term the new presidents and vice-presidents will take their places on the Inter Dormitory Council.

The new council will meet with the retiring members for several times to become acquainted with each other and to learn their duties. Later they will elect their officers.

Candidates for office in the dormitories must have a "C" average to qualify for election. Those elected will serve for a year beginning with the spring term.

Musical Therapy Topic Of Mu Beta Psi Talk

The purpose of Mu Beta Psi is to strive for musical advancement on the State College campus and throughout the community. Meetings are held bi-monthly.

New members were initiated into the music fraternity January 24. Mu Beta Psi climaxes its year's activities with a banquet in the Spring Term.

HONOR SYSTEM

to gain from an Honor System if one is established here at North Carolina State? You can expect a great deal, but only as much as you are willing to give. First, and probably most important, you will be trusted. "To trust a man is to make him worthy of that trust." . . . (V.P.I. Honor Code). Your actions, and violators of your system will be judged by your standards, because you alone must control this system. You will find a new sense of pride in your school; you will become more a part of North Carolina State, and it will become more a part of you.

You will acquire an understanding attitude toward professional ethics, instead of being left morally unprepared in the professional world. When you leave North Carolina State you will realize that your efforts have been your own, and that your record will be a true picture of your honest accomplishments. Finally, you will realize that your Honor System has not destroyed, but stimulated, competition and placed it firmly on an honest basis.

To enumerate the tangible, physical assets derived from an Honor System is next to impossible; but honor, as it applies to the intangible substance of a person, is the essence of decent living. Honor, speaking in collegiate terms, will give each of you a new sense of pride in your social community, your college. It will add zeal to the attainment of your educational goals. By working together toward a common ideal, you will gain a pleasant sense of awareness of your fellow students, which situation would be difficult to attain through any other medium.

In closing let me say: Your desire for an Honor System indicates that you are striving to enrich your collegiate experience, and you are to be commended. One person cannot accomplish this end, nor can a group; the whole student body must assume this responsibility.

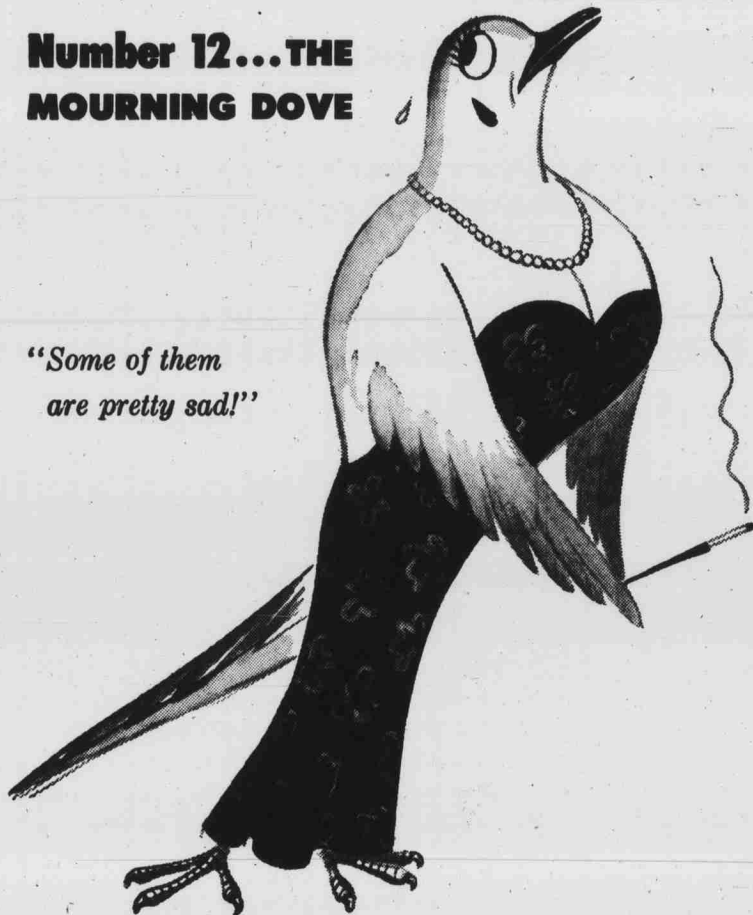

Working together, the student body can establish an Honor System as a natural course in a democratic society. It will require administration, faculty, and student cooperation; it will require work. Once placed in active operation, it will be your responsibility to see that your Honor Sys-

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 12...THE MOURNING DOVE

"Some of them are pretty sad!"

Melancholy and dejected, this gloomy miss found little to titillate her in the recent deluge of quick-trick cigarette tests! She was not enthralled by the idea of judging cigarette mildness with just a fast puff or a single sniff. But, joy of joys! . . . happiness came to her when she discovered one test that left no doubt in her mind.

It was the sensible test! . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Secret Weapon

The latest meeting of the Campus Government uncovered a secret weapon which the Council had not heretofore employed.

Instead of wasting enormous amounts of time by engaging in ferocious debates over trivia, the Council this week kept its collective mouth shut. Under most conditions this would have been commendable and decidedly refreshing, however, the Council had a matter of utmost importance to discuss. The matter of revising the constitution of the Campus Government so as to provide for a more effective and efficient administration should have brought every representative to his feet, eager to add his contribution to the excellent suggestions offered by Veep Brown.

The only discussion forthcoming from the Council was innocuous and trivial. For a while it appeared that the proposals would be placed before the students by the automatic "yea" vote of a disinterested group of "leaders." Fortunately the situation was rescued by a faculty representative, Dr. York, who commented that there might be a need for other changes in the constitution to produce a "more workable instrument."

After Tuesday's demonstration we have a suggestion to offer concerning a possible change in the constitution. A change which we believe might prevent disinterested individuals from taking seats on the Council solely to win another "honor."

Perhaps we could borrow an idea from one of the larger and more active campus organizations. This particular body requires that all candidates for political office present themselves at a series of lectures on parliamentary practice and related subjects before their names are placed on the ballot. Further qualifications such as the presentation of a platform a required of candidates for major posts.

This might not help the situation on our campus at all, but anything is worth a try after Tuesday's demonstration.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Last week a member of the Student Council complained about your negative criticism concerning their deed, so this week I decided to attend the Council meeting to see for myself.

Thanks to my eyes, I saw that your editorials have been directed in the right direction. Of the 23 voting members attending, only three or four said anything during the meeting. The other members just sat back and relaxed.

The question of whether or not to have a Teacher Merit Rating this year was discussed. It was explained by President McCracken that the Psychology and Sociology departments have volunteered their professional services, without cost, to develop a rating system that would take less time and have a greater degree of reliability. It was made to understand that they had already started on this project which would make it available for this school year. When the cost of printing was brought up, it was estimated on the basis of the old forms. Having spoken to a man who knows the science of rating systems, and who is undoubtedly connected with the committee developing the new system, I was told that the new rating sheet would probably have half the items it now contains. This would undoubtedly cut both printing and tabulating costs in half.

(Continued from Page 4) one of our student leaders suggested that we use some of the forms remaining from last year in conjunction with the entirely new form. Not one of our other great leaders realized the fact that if the rating was to be performed this year, an entirely new form was going to be used, making the use of last year's both inappropriate and costly because of the extra work involved in setting up the tabulating machines.

The lack of interest shown by the majority of the council can be seen by their not waiting for the new Teacher Merit Rating Form to be completed so that the actual costs can be determined; by several members leaving before the close of the meeting; and by the unanimous vote of not having such a vital thing as the Teacher Merit Rating this year. For a moment I thought I was attending a meeting of the Politburo in Russia.

Pack Plays W&M; Temple Here Next

By PAT DOWNEY

The Indians of William and Mary will get their second chance to stop the mighty Wolfpack tomorrow night at Norfolk.

The Pack boasts a 10-0 conference record, and in the first meeting of these two clubs State won by a score of 61-54.

William and Mary has high hopes of stopping the Wolves because it was in Norfolk that they eked out a 54-50 win over State last year, and they feel that they can do it again.

Lewis Key Man

Key man in the plans to stop State is 5' 11" guard Bitsy Lewis. The little man will have the Herculean task of guarding Sam Ranzino. Lewis held Sammy to nine points in the Coliseum earlier this year, and last year at Norfolk, the Wolfpack forward was held to four points for the night.

Lewis is regarded by many to be the best defensive player in collegiate basketball, and he will have to be in top form to put the damper on Ranzino again.

Strong Defensive Team

As a team, W. & M. has held their opponents to an average of 54.1 points per game. So it can be seen that Coach Barney Wilson puts a great deal of stress on defense.

The Indians have a well-rounded ball club with a great deal of bench strength, and they are not lacking in height. Forwards Bob Benjamin and Bill Chambers and Center Jerry Harris, Willy Clark, and Dick Forrest are all well over the 6' mark.

Harris, a sophomore, has just recently come into his own. He has scored 79 points in his last three outings, and William and Mary folk are already comparing him with the great Chet Giermak.

Short Men

Fuzzy McMillan, Fred Allen, Joe Aggie, and Lewis are the short men of the lineup, but they add great speed and scoring potential to the team.

Captain Sam Ranzino, Vic Bubas, Paul Horvath, Lee Terrill, and either Paul Brandenburg, Bob Cook, or Bob Speight will make up the State starting five.

Unblemished Record

The Pack is aiming for an unblemished Southern Conference record this season, and the game tomorrow will be the toughest of the four conference scraps remaining.

The next home game for State is against the Temple Owls next Tuesday night at the Coliseum. State fans will get the opportunity to view the nation's top scorer, Bill Milkvy.

"The Owl Without The Vowel" hit for 29 points against the Pack this season in Philly, but State won the game moving away by an 83-61 score.

Detective Story Opens At Little Theatre

Detective Story opened for its first run off Broadway last night at the Raleigh Little Theatre, and the audience seemed to get as many thrills out of Sidney Kingsley's melodrama as the New Yorkers got during the highly successful eighteen months that it played there.

Ainslie Pryor, the director of the theatre group, showed that he can act as well as produce in the lead part of Lieutenant McLeod, the hard-pressed New York detective who is finally shot in the excitement-packed last act. He is well supported by Betty Lokey, who has been in The Common Glory for three years, as Mrs. McLeod.

An impressive amount of talent from State College is on display in many of the important roles. Bill Goulding, an instructor in Economics, is Endicott Simms, a smooth lawyer; John Parnay, of the Ceramic Research Staff, plays the part of one of the crooks, and Dr. Adolf

Dorm Season Reaches Half Way Mark

By BILL GEILER

The mighty must fall. Yes, now there are but four teams in the select group of the undefeated. West Haven, Syme No. 1, Welch, and Bagwell No. 1 are the only remainders of that group.

Welch 36 Becton No. 2 25
An overpowering Welch five used the fast break to their advantage last Wednesday night to build up a comfortable half-time lead that was never relinquished. It was just too much Welch for the boys from Becton. J. Moore led all scorers with eleven points. Following closely behind him were C. Price, J. C. Chappell and E. Horbelt with 7, 6, and 6 points respectively. Welch looks like the strongest team in that section and it is going to take plenty of hustle to rout them out of the top notch.

Turlington No. 1 38 Alexander No. 1 19
Turlington No. 1 broke into the win column with an impressive win over an Alexander team that has tasted defeat three times. The Turlies started it and finished it. Two quick goals by Saville and Turlington was winging on its merry way, never to be threatened during the game. Special attention must be given to Reavis of Turlington for his exceptional rebound work. Frank Saville went on from his first four points in the opening minutes to score a total of sixteen points and be high man for the night. With Tucker No. 1 getting beat last week, the Turlies still have a chance to make a fight of it. Syme No. 1 30 Owen No. 2 21

After a hard fought and closely contested game Syme No. 1 outlasted Owens little giants for the victory that gives them undisputed possession of first place in their section. Leading the Syme attack were B. Barr with fifteen points and R. Jones with nine.

Syme No. 2 33 Turlington No. 2 29
The important factor in this game was Symes control of the backboards. It was superior height that was the difference in the two teams. As usual Wright and Franklin were standouts for the Turlies and for Syme it was Wadell, Baker, and Moose. Syme No. 2 has been coming along fine since their initial defeat and may be in there for the blue chips.

Tucker No. 1 40 Alexander No. 2 34
It was Tucker that finally caught on and pulled away to turn a close game into a six point victory. At the end of the first half it was still anybody's ball game. At the start of the half Tucker sank a few quick goals and matched Alexander all the rest of the way. For Tucker it was Laughter and Yvars with eight points and Barnhardt with seven. However, it was Tim Remensnyder of Alexander who was the scoring leader of the game. Tim, who is probably the tallest player in the intramurals tossed in a neat fourteen points. Alexander has improved their team somewhat and as soon as the new boys start playing together, Alexander might prove the best team in the section. Bagwell No. 1 25 Tucker No. 2 21

Despite a full court press by Tucker throughout the game, Bagwell came through the game to win their second section game. The victory put them on top in their loop and also preserved their perfect record. It was a tight game that saw Tucker tie the score in the early minutes of the second half, but with Bagwell "up" for the game Tucker could never quite grab the lead. Walter Basket was high scorer for the game and Bagwell as well with eight points. J. C. White was second with six. For the losers it was Don White who led the attack. He garnered seven points.

The S.P.E.'s came back after losing their first game to beat the undefeated S.A.E. team 23-18. The S.A.E.'s led at the half by 11-7, but the true shooting of Washburn in the second half of the contest made it possible for the S.P.E.'s to stay ahead of their opponents. Despite a full court press by Tucker throughout the game, Bagwell came through the game to win their second section game. The victory put them on top in their loop and also preserved their perfect record. Le Grand Leads Sigma Pi
The Sigma Pi cageman put a quick stop to their losing streak last week by tramping the Theta Chi men 31-12. Le Grand sparked the Pi victory with 13 points. Reim and Sharpe racked up three each for their squad.

An unbeaten K.A. team met defeat against a hard-fighting A.G.R. team that just couldn't be stopped last Thursday night. The A.G.R. boys racked up 19 of their 29 points in the second half, at the same time holding the K.A. team to 6 of their 12. Max James played a fine game for the winners. He was good for 11. Smith and Hardaway shared the K.A. honors with 4 each.

The Kappa Sig's had a change of luck when they dropped the Delta Sig's in a close fought game that ended 20-13 in the Kappa Sig's favor. The margin was contributed by Bizzell with his 7 points. Rhea added to the Delta Sig score with a count of 6.

Grapplers Whip UNC

By JOHN THOMPSON

North Carolina State's Wrestling Team, led by Gordon Nobbs and O. G. Rucker, won their third match of the season against Emory University of Atlanta last Saturday night in Reynolds Coliseum. The falls by Nobbs and Rucker and the decisions of Buie, Strange, and Martin gave the State Grapplers a decisive score which enabled the Wolfpack to go ahead in points 21-11.

Gordon Nobbs, a sophomore from New Jersey, has been a leader for State the entire season, losing only one match. O. G. Rucker, a senior from Kingston, North Carolina, made short work of his man, getting a fall early in the second period. Another outstanding wrest-Mehlich, Professor of Agronomy, gives a convincing performance as a harassed citizen.

State College students in Detective Story are Bill Hoffman, a senior in I.E., Mel Issen, a sophomore in Forestry, who plays Detective Dakis, George Steiner, a senior in Textiles, who takes the part of the newspaper reporter, supposedly Sidney Kingsley's prototype, Ed Upchurch, a senior in M.E., Ed Wagner, a junior in E.E., Joe Zak, a junior in Construction Engineering, and Hank Smith, a junior in Aeronautical Engineering.
