

NSA Scores 21 To 6 Victory

Empty Chair Awaits . . .

An empty chair waits at the speaker's table for Al Lowenstein, president of the National Student Association as President McCracken leads the proceedings of the year's largest meeting of the Campus Government. Treasurer Scheviak and Secretary Scott are also seated at the table where McCracken stands. Lowenstein was expected at the beginning of the meeting, but he had scheduled three appearances for the same hour.

. . . Late Arrival

In the right hand picture Lowenstein makes his belated appearance, followed by Charlie Culp, a delegate to last year's national NSA congress. Entering the meeting after having been greeted by Hal Brown, Culp and McCracken, Lowenstein spoke for twenty minutes. By the time he reached the meeting, local NSA supporters had won a 21-6 vote to retain State's membership. After leaving the meeting, Lowenstein met with student leaders at St. Augustine's College and was interviewed over a local radio station.

President's Visit Follows Local Vote

Campus Government granted the National Student Association a two year extension when a motion to withdraw from membership in the group was defeated by a 21 to 6 vote Tuesday.

The Council also passed a motion accepting the recommendations of the Promotions Committee concerning the policy of CG toward NSA. The major recommendations were that State retain its membership for the next two years, but that only two delegates should be sent to the annual national congress.

Out of Order

Hal Brown, Campus Government veep, protested that this action was out of order. Brown claimed that the proposals represented a change in the constitution and should, therefore, be brought to a vote of the student body. No action was taken on his objection when he appeared unable to substantiate his arguments.

Shortly after the final vote on NSA, the national president of that group appeared and made a brief speech to the members of the Council.

Union Resolution

The Council adopted by unanimous vote a resolution requesting of the "college, the Greater University, and the Governor immediate and earnest action to provide long delayed College Union building. . . ." This resolution is to be a part of the campus-wide drive to obtain action on the Union building plans now in the State Budget Bureau.

The Council also unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the mass motorcade to Wake Forest tomorrow.

President McCracken administered the oath of office to three chairmen of school honor committees. These men now become voting members of the Council. The men were: George Ferrell, agriculture; Jack Jenkins, education; and Robert Hardaway, textiles.

Union Plans Move; No Fear Of NPA Seen

By CHARLIE HAMILTON

Assurances that the preliminary plans for State's College Union would be turned over to the architect Thursday afternoon for final drafting were given to a student delegation by Governor Scott and Assistant Budget Director D. S. Coltrane yesterday morning.

Coltrane also told the group that he was confident that the building would pass the government's new building restrictions.

Present Petitions

The three students presented the Governor with petitions containing the names of some 1,500 students requesting that "the College, the Greater University and the Governor do everything within their power to facilitate its (the College Union) construction."

The students who visited the Governor were Jack McCracken, President of the Campus Government, Gene Jeffords, President of IDC, and Jack McCormick who represented the Student Planning Board of the Union.

Scott Favors

Scott, a member of the class of '17, told reporters at a press conference that he was highly in favor of the project and that the Union would be a "tremendous help to the institution." He said "no institution needs anything more" than a place for students to relax.

He added that the building would be a valuable asset to the campus

NSA Prexy on Campus; No Free Eggs Allotted

Al Lowenstein, president of the National Student Association, made a brief appearance at the Campus Government Tuesday to speak on the activities of his organization.

CG President McCracken had expected that Lowenstein would be present for the entire meeting, but he did not arrive until after 1 o'clock, when the final vote on NSA had been completed.

A UNC student, Lowenstein is now devoting his full time to NSA affairs. He has been in North Carolina all week, touring NSA member and non-member schools.

No Free Eggs

In his talk Lowenstein reiterated previous statements by NSA supporters that the worth of NSA is not to be found in its material assistance to the individual student. He quipped that NSA does not intend to give the students "three free eggs every second day," but will provide training in democratic living.

The NSA prexy pointed to the growing importance of the organization as the voice of the entire American student body. He stated that several government agencies and officials have sought the students' opinion on several controversial issues such as communism and the draft.

Influenced Congress

Lowenstein claims to have influenced one Congressman to change his ideas on the draft of college students.

Greeks Plan Gala Weekend To Welcome New Pledges

By FRANK PERKINS
The week that everyone has been waiting for has finally arrived—Pledge Dances. No doubt Friday night's dance will be looked forward to by many Greeks. This one usually proves to be the better of the two however, you have a larger crowd at the Saturday night performance.

Most of the fraternities will have small parties following the Friday night affair and then they plan to attend the Wake Forest game en masse. Others who do not attend the game will travel to the textile auditorium to hear the concert presented by Johnny Long. Only three of the fraternities are planning parties for places other than the house.

Kappa Sigs

Kappa Sigma starts by having a party out at Webb's cabin followed by a barbecue supper. Saturday night after the dance they are going out to the Cabin by the Lake. This will be followed by breakfast in the wee hours of the morning.

Sigma Alpha Mu gets their weekend into full swing by having an old-fashioned hay ride Friday night out to Sunset Lake where they will continue with a weiner roast. Then, after the dance Saturday night, they will have a cold plate "snack" for the members and their dates.

Late Hours

Along with the other fraternities Sigma Chi plans a small party after the Friday night dance. Saturday evening following the dance they will venture to Stewart's to continue their social. They plan to have a small band to furnish music for the major part of the evening.

All the Greeks who plan to attend the Wake Forest game should take their dates over to the big pep rally which will be held on Doak Field. I feel sure that your date would thoroughly enjoy the rally and you could help boost the spirit of the student body. At the game let's all get behind the head cheerleader and show him that we really have the spirit.

Don't forget the motorcade to the game.

Lewis Speaks

Dr. Frank Bell Lewis, president of Mary Baldwin College of Staunton, Va., began a three-day series of addresses at a faculty luncheon in the Grill Room of the cafeteria Tuesday, November 14th.

Dr. Lewis spoke on the subject, "Education Is Not Necessarily a Good Thing," at the faculty luncheon on Tuesday.

The series is a continuation of the college's annual observance of "Religion in Life Week" which began last week. The general theme of the talks by Dr. Lewis was "The Other Side of the Truth."

Chi Epsilon Inducts

A formal initiation and banquet for the induction of ten outstanding students of civil engineering into Chi Epsilon, national honorary civil engineering fraternity, was held November 10 at the Woman's Club building.

Those honored in this induction were: Morris Clifton Adams, High Point, N. C.; Joe Aldridge Foss, major U.S.A.F., Florence, S. C.; Douglas Stuart Gooden, Elizabethtown, N. C.; James Royce Hatch, Mount Olive, N. C.; Boone Anderson Keiger, Jr., Winston-Salem, N. C.; John Monroe Moore, Mount Holly, N. C.; William Otto Crabtree, Raleigh, N. C.; John Richard Hay, Jr., Hickory, N. C.; George Baxton Pruden, Jr., Raleigh, N. C.; and David Womble Sharpe, Chapel Hill, N. C.

The selection of active members of Chi Epsilon is based upon scholarship, character, practicability, and sociability, the four requirements of the successful engineer. New initiates will be given the opportunity to exhibit their sociability and their ingenuity as they present the entertainment for the banquet.

Athletic Ducats Cause Gripes, Grumblings

By BOB HORN

Although it constitutes a major reversal of policy, and borders on literary heresy, each and every student who is capable of so doing is urged to read H. B. Greene, Jr.'s "A Day at the Races," in the January, 1950 issue of the Wataugan. Its message, even though strewn with satire (an especially good variety), is as pertinent today as the article which follows.

There has come by the grapevine, as a new sports season gets underway, a recurrent series of grumblings, groans and gripes aimed at the athletic department chiefs. Most of the complaints are based on solid foundations, and therefore cannot be continually ignored. First and foremost is football.

The Stalking Monster

In answer to the question, "To what extent has the 'Football Monster' in its grasp?" there are these important considerations. For the same exorbitant price that must be handed over for a regular football ticket, one can purchase; a season ticket to the Raleigh Little Theater (almost) entitling the holder to attend five very fine shows of the highest amateur standing; a Civic music season ticket enabling the holder to attend several performances of the best in contemporary music; seven movies, a concert season ticket, and the list could go on for pages.

Expenditure Soared

A few weeks ago the writer paid, grudgingly of course, $3.50, to watch Maryland take Duke 28-13. Granted, it was a good game. As it progressed, one could not fail to realize that a great deal of time, effort and hard cash had gone into the preparation for the big event; however, the game might have been ten times more enjoyable if the admission price were only half as much. A recent issue of Life noted that Army spent upwards of $3,000 a year for adhesive tape. While here is no way of finding out exactly how much either team expends for that commodity, it is fairly certain that after that particular game, the expenditure soared to a new high.

Back Home

At State's homecoming, date tickets went on sale in the least desirable seating sections at a blazing $3.00. Not only does the athletic department flagrantly ignore its steadiest financial supporters, but actually caters to the out-of-school trade for the sole purpose of capturing as many almighty dollars as can be raked in. Why should a State College student, merely because he wants to bring a date, be subjected to this type of monetary discrimination? Why isn't the welfare of the general student body of the most important consideration, not only in regard to the seating at football, but basketball games as well? In fact, the misuse of seating accommodations goes even beyond that for games.

At Gordon Gray's inauguration, care was taken to seat all the students in the bow of the horseshoe of the Coliseum, with the result that there were gaps of empty seats along the entire length of the balcony when the ceremony finally got underway. There is absolutely no reason in the world why the public could not have mingled with the students on a general admission basis for that highly publicized occasion. Once again the students took a back seat, oddly enough at a time when money was not the deciding factor.

No Sense at All

At the basketball games last year where did one find a majority of the students? In the antipodes of the very structure which was allegedly built to accommodate them and their needs. On this subject we have already been pointedly informed that we should consider ourselves lucky to have it so good. At the pro games which have been played, ushers at the foot of the balcony stairs prevented students from going upstairs even as late as halftime when no one else was coming in. They steadfastly refused to allow the students to fill the empty balcony seats. No sense to it at all.

Whose Interests

One of the most reputable organizations on the campus recently approached the Coliseum commandants for the purpose of securing the facilities of the gargantuan brick and steel edifice for an important dance . . . to the students at least. The tidy little sum of $800 was all that was required—in comparison to a much easier-to-take figure of $200 for the Memorial Auditorium. And yet, the Coliseum was dedicated as a structure which would go a long way toward serving the interests of State College students. Just exactly whose interests are being served is the question of the year. The situation has become laughable.

THE GREATEST SHOW OF THE YEAR!

Four Percenters

Unlike the Washington "five percenters," who deserve a swift boot in the appropriate spot, the State College Four Percenters deserve a vote of thanks from the 96 percenters.

At last Tuesday's Senior Class meeting, there were 40 members present out of over 1,100 seniors!! This doesn't even tally four per cent of the class, but we will use the larger round number for convenience.

The only business of the meeting was the election of Jim Baker to the vacated secretary's seat and the setting of class dues at $1.00, but four per cent of any group certainly isn't a large enough number to carry on any business.

Too many students complain of all the poor policies of various groups on the campus, but these complainers are the ones who never show at any meeting to have their say when it might do some good.

There was no reason why the attendance figures couldn't have been reversed for that meeting Tuesday, with 96 per cent present.

True, there were three other called meetings at noon Tuesday, but we made all three of them and didn't miss any of the important business at either one.

We must make a plea to the Freshman Class.

You are young and energetic. Work hard and make your class a successful one at State College for ALL the students. You have the opportunity to start next Tuesday at Freshman class elections.

Turn out 100 per cent and put the men in office who will do a good job for you. Then follow it up each year. Don't have any "96 percenters" in your class like the Seniors now have!

Paddle Pushers

We notice a profusion of paddles, assorted neck ornaments, and other accouterments of the 105 organizations on the campus lately.

Pledging is in full swing, and many a horse laugh is being enjoyed by both the pledgees and the old members.

With a quick wink, most of the old members will admit that the new pledge is bringing in his initiation fee and dues for no good purpose whatsoever.

The dues and other fees will pay for an additional key to hang on the chain, the opportunity of attending an interesting (???) meeting once in a while and enjoying a beer bust in the spring.

As far as accomplishing something worthwhile on the campus, a sad majority of these organizations will fall short.

You men who are carrying those paddles and getting soundly spanked across the behind should think seriously of the group you are entering. Is it really any good? If it is not, can you help to make it any good? If you can, that's fine. If you can't, why are you joining?

Politics and NSA

NSA will be with us for another two years, whether we like it or not, so it seems necessary to evaluate its problems on this campus.

The national president of NSA told the Campus Government that the local NSA is not intended to become a second student government, and that it must operate as an independent organization.

We believe that it will be impossible to meet those qualifications on this campus. We further believe that NSA should not continue if it cannot comply and operate independently.

The authority, the financing, and the leadership for instigating and retaining NSA here has come from the Campus Government. Without Campus Government to shield it, NSA will soon wither away.

The problems which arise from the establishment of NSA as an autonomous group are overshadowed by these which will confront us if it is not divorced from Campus Government.

Al Lowenstein claims that NSA has been active in presenting a student viewpoint on national and international questions. We do not doubt this, and we approve of his stand on most issues. Further, we expect that NSA might continue to command a greater voice in political affairs.

What worries us is the fact that our campus leaders, who have been participating and may continue to participate in NSA congresses, were not elected on the basis of their views on national or international issues. In the past they have been elected on the basis of the student body's confidence in their ability and interest in administering to the problems of the students.

If, in the future, the treasurer of the Campus Government is going to represent our views on Federal aid to education, we must know of his political acumen and sympathies as well as his ability to keep books.

It's quite a situation. Perhaps the Campus Government should have voted to establish a new lecture bureau or something less complicated.

A Guest Jest

It appears that concern over the lack of feminine charm at institutions of higher learning has become universal. State men have long felt the need for a greater emphasis on co-education, and it now appears that the Soviet Writers Union has plenty to say on the same subject.

The following item appeared in the University of Pennsylvania's DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN, where the boys probably got a hot tip from their prexy, Harold Stassen, famed composer of letters to Uncle Joe.

Today Russia faces one of the gravest problems since the Reds took over the government. The Literary Gazette, organ of the Soviet Writers Union, is leading a crusade against the Ministry of Education to bring co-education to the schools of the large cities.

The Gazette argues that in a socialist society women work beside men all their lives whether in office or factory, and that preparation for getting along together should begin right in school. Also brought out by the paper were the facts that the present system wastes funds by maintaining separate institutions for each sex and that 98 per cent of the people were for co-education.

However the U.S.S.R. is governed by intelligent men, in this case Minister of Education Kairov, who has evidently visited our fair campus. Minister Kairov simply refuses to discuss such a foolish issue.

UNION PLANS—

because it has so many classroom buildings now that it looks "too much like an overgrown factory." Coltrane stated that the Bureau had been held up in its action while waiting for a letter from State College authorities.

Explains Action

Coltrane stated the Bureau has been holding the plans back pending a letter from Chancellor Harrelson assuring them that all groups concerned with its planning were in complete agreement. He saw the letter Thursday and said that his men would turn the blueprints over to the architect that afternoon.

G. E. Crampton of the William Deitrich architectural firm told the TECHNICIAN that they would "rush" work on the final drawings and try to push them through in four weeks.

College Union plans are in the "twilight zone" so far as the National Production Authority is concerned, states Coltrane.

This means that the agency questions the purpose of the building and must have an explanation before it will pass on its construction permit. This explanation will have to come from college authorities who must go to Washington for a conference.

Students Get Discount On Horace Heidt Show

W. Z. Betts, Director of William Neal Reynolds Coliseum announced today the appearance of Horace Heidt's "Original Youth Opportunity Program" with Horace Heidt in person. The show, presented as a vaudeville variety revue, will be in Raleigh at the Coliseum on Thursday, December 7, 1950.

Horace Heidt, who bears the title of "America's Starmaker," will present a two and one-half hour show with the stars of the Original Youth Opportunity Program who have appeared on the Philip Morris coast-coast broadcast on CBS every Sunday night.

Local talent will have an opportunity to try out for an appearance with the Heidt show when it plays at the Coliseum in Raleigh and also be considered for an appearance on the regular Sunday night broadcast.

Mr. Bill Belcher, advance manager of the Horace Heidt Show, recommended a discount of 50 cents on 1.50 tickets for students of State College. Students will have to present their athletic books in order to receive tickets for one dollar.

Arch Angels by The Arch Angel

By The Arch Angel
Since the recent discovery that 61 per cent of Meredith angels place State College as number one on their dating list, it has been thought that State men should have a little more inside dope (such as it is) on the average angel's collegiate life. This begins a series of articles on the haunts and habits of the six hundred girls down the road.
Number I—Our Conventional Life
You State men are right if you think we lead a sheltered life here at Angel Farm—not only are there shelters leading from one building to another, but we also have the added warmth of nine bright spotlights out in front. (So yall can find your way here—yak-yak.) Of course there are a few regulations attached to our going and coming, too.

Most of you know about the amount of dating allowed around here, but is case you're wondering why a good-looking frosh keeps refusing your amorous invitations maybe you'll understand better when you realize that freshmen can go out only two nights weekly, sophomores—three nights, and juniors and seniors—any night (that is, IF they can pass their work, too and if they get the chance).

Frustrated Frosh

Freshmen have the added privilege of being chaperoned by a junior or senior, while sophomores double-date with another couple. Juniors and seniors are considered capable of dating alone—hmm.

This year we're lucky enough to have an extended curfew hour—11:00 on week-nights and 12:00 on Saturday (so's we kin see the bright lights of downtown Raleigh), and 1:00 after dances. Remember, if you don't get your girl in on time she pays the penalty of one call down. (six of these puts her "on campus"—for a week—no dates, no phone calls, no flirting, no fun).

New Phones

One of your chief complaints about Meredith is the number of nickels wasted in trying to get a date by phoning. You'll be glad to hear that more pay phones are being put in on the upperclassmen halls this week. (Second Faircloth—4-9209). The main switchboard is still on from 8:00 a.m. till 7:30 p.m. and from 10:00 p.m. to 10:45 p.m.

That's enough about our CONVENTIONAL life. No doubt you're weeping for our sad plight now—or maybe you're thinking about your last blind date out here. Now how were WE supposed to know that you were 5'4" and a freshman! So you DIDN'T enjoy your date with a 6'1" senior! Don't give up—be brave and remember to give the height and age statistics to the girl who's getting you the next blind date. If you still aren't satisfied, a drastic measure will be taken! (No comment).

Whose Goat?

Speaking of being dissatisfied—we angels really appreciate State men, but there are some things that make us wonder why. For instance—whoever put the goat in our dormitory this week can call for him at the police station . . . and whoever let the white mice out in the parlor may come over and TRY to find them . . . and whoever left his cigar under the parlor hostess's chair may find it buried beneath the second oak tree along the drive.

Dissatisfied or not—the one thing that makes up for our sheltered life is the knowledge that there are around five thousand of you men across the way—half probably married, one-fourth probably engaged, and the remaining fourth probably "already spoken for." Nevertheless it's a pleasant thought—for didn't the majority of our mothers come to Meredith and manage to snare a State man—and next year is LEAP YEAR!

Some of the jingles accepted (and students can send in as many as they like) have already appeared in the Lucky Strike ads in 275 college newspaper. Jo Levy, a Northwestern University coed has already seen her name in advertising copy with:

In learning words and what they mean
Semantics is the key
How sad that ancient Greeks knew aught.
Of L.S./M.F.T.

No hallowed halls or professors idiosyncrasies are free from mention when it comes to rhyming words of praise about smoking pleasure. Every conceivable campus situation is depicted in the four-line jingles. Sports-minded James J. Jordan, Jr., Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts received $25.00 for:

As long as football games are played
Those winning streaks they'll sever
Except, of course, for Lucky Strike
And that goes on, forever!

As part of the national advertising campaign which has set commuters, bellboys and children to humming the catch "Be Happy-Go Lucky" tunes, thousands of students have submitted jingles, many of which have been chosen to appear in college newspaper advertisements. Any student from any college or university in the United States is eligible, and plenty of cash awards are still waiting to be paid out. Send the four-liners to "Happy-Go-Lucky," P.O. What campus improvements do you think are most needed at State College?

Jim Scull
Sophomore, Textile Chemistry
First, the barracks should be given back to the Army. Pullen Hall should be given back to the horses. The railroad cut should be filled and made a subway. And a few street lights wouldn't hurt either.

Sophomore, Forestry
With all the construction now in progress at NCS, it seems that some one would take notice to what is already being built. One of these days the agriculture and forestry departments will wake up to the fact that their own offices and classrooms are being washed out from under them by the "powerful forces of erosion"—an ironic blow, to say the least.

In short, the entire campus is in dire need of a little landscaping for the conservation purposes as well as beautification.

C. C. Aught

I think that a good start in beautifying our campus would be to give Pullen Hall back to the Confederate Army.

How many years has it been condemned?
Second, the railroad tracks should surely be moved. Lack of sleep at State is as large a factor in the

The sidewalks at State are sadly lacking both in condition and appearance. The muddy and crooked paths that are used by the students going to and from classes reminds one of those used in the backwoods between dilapidated shacks to ranshacked out-houses.

The mud walks here are strangely like the mud of a pigsty. These conditions are ruinous to the morale of the students and degenerate in the eyes of the public. The pride of the students and the faculty should bring about their immediate repair.

Garrison Sets Record

Views and Previews

BY PAUL HODUL

In game featured by more debates than the United Nations could possibly present in one day, the flaming five of State downed the Grand Rapid pro club from Michigan.

All-American Sammy Ranzino led the Wolfpack in its struggle for victory with a scoring total of 34 points. The clever bambino from Gary, Ind. was once again displaying his uncanny shooting ability. Using his feinting talent throughout the game, Sammy made many of the pros look like amateurs rather than professionals.

Another standout was Lee Terrell, the solidly built guard from South Orange, N. J. Lee's exhibition of blind passing kept the fans on the edge of their seats most of the game. Working as a unit with Sammy and Bob Cook, the deceptive little guard maneuvered one play that almost faked the whole Grand Rapids squad out to the parking lot beside the Coliseum.

Coach Case was substituting freely trying to find a smooth working aggregation. The majority of the game saw Vic Bubas and Lee Terrell at guards, Paul Horvath at the pivot and Ranzino and Cook at the forwards.

The game proved that the Wolfpack will once again be a top contender for National honors. With a team on the court that can match anything in college circles and a bench full of reserves who could probably take second position in the Southern Conference, the Wolfpack will spell grief for all of its foes this coming season.

The "Big Red" made it four consecutive victories over a surprisingly stubborn Davidson eleven. Little Ed Mooney and Jim O'Rourke provided the offensive punch that was needed to subdue the Wildcats. The mud covered field and near freezing temperatures prevented both teams from displaying any real offense.

The Wolfpack is now sporting a 5-3 record for the year. The results thus far have made many so called football experts eat their own words. A great bulk of the forecasters could not visualize the Wolfpack winning more than two or three games.

Next Saturday the Wolfpack plays a powerful Deacon eleven at Wake Forest. If the Pack is in good form they should provide the Baptists with an interesting afternoon of football. The boys should be up for this game as they go in quest of an upset victory.

If Alex Webster and Tom Tofaute are available next Saturday it will raise the Wolfpack chances considerably. Tom has been nursing an injured knee for the last two or three weeks while Alex has an injured back that he sustained in the V.P.I. game. With the team up to full strength the chances of an upset victory are very promising.

For the umpteenth consecutive week, Bowers leads the "so-called" predictors, and for the same number of weeks Bob Curran is at the tail end. Bowers now has a .821 pct. Heim is second with .813. Your columnist has a sad .773 and Curran has a .743. Here we go again:

Terp Runners Retain Cross Country Crown

By MAYNARD SHIELDS

A favored University of Maryland team successfully defended their title in the annual Southern Conference Cross-country Meet held at State College's course last Monday.

Garrison First

N. C. State's Clyde Garrison, of High Point, continued his winning ways by trimming 13 seconds from the old course record. He previously had set the record of 20:56 in the North Carolina State Championship Meet last week. Garrison also captured the individual title in the event, won last year by Maryland's Bob Palmer. At one time in the meet, the blond-headed Garrison held a 250 yd. lead over Tyson Creamer of Maryland.

Behind Garrison came Tyson Creamer of Maryland, with an excellent time of 21:07. Lindy Kehoe, also of Maryland, placed third with a time of 21:08. Gordon Hamrick of Carolina and Russell Thoburn of West Va. won fourth and fifth places respectively, and Al Beasley of West Va. placed sixth.

State Third

Team scores in the event placed Maryland first with a score of 40 points, West Va. second with 60 points, N. C. State third with 70 points, Carolina with 90 points, Duke 142 points, Davidson 144 points, W & M 164 points, Virginia Tech 178 points, and Richmond 240 points. Virginia Military withdrew at the last moment because of team injuries.

A total of some 62 runners representing 10 different conference teams participated in the event. Individual trophies were awarded to the top 15 runners, and Maryland was awarded the Southern Conference plaque.

Smith Named Dorm Athlete Of The Week

The initial winner of this honor is an old hand at receiving awards. He is Bob Smith of Turlington No. 2. All the baseball followers of State will recognize this name as one that has appeared many times in the Wolfpack box score. Standing six feet one inch and weighing 180 lbs., Bob has led his mates to their section championship. If Bob has instilled into his players that will to win that he has shown so many times on the diamond, they will be hard to beat. Bob is a junior and is majoring in engineering.

Bob is no newcomer to this honor winning business. Two years ago he won the honor of being the outstanding campus athlete. He already has three medals in his possession. He received one for softball and two for basketball. He is a natural born leader and his players all play for keeps when Bob is directing them.

As all exceptional athletes do, Bob places this honor as a team honor. He is very proud of his team, as who wouldn't be as they are sporting a five and one record, and he believes they are going to take the campus title in football. Our hat's off to you Bob, and we wish you all the luck in the world.

Peahead Praying For Demon Deacs

By BOB CURRAN

Hot on a four game winning kick, the Wolfpack will invade the woods of Wake Forest tomorrow afternoon to battle Coach Peahead Walker's Demon Deacons.

The Pack will be a definite underdog in tomorrow's game because of the Deacons' impressive record this season, but if past performance is any indication of the outcome, the Deacs are in for a long, hard afternoon.

Long Injury List

Coach Feathers' team will be in its worst physical shape of the year, with six first stringers on the ailing list. Big Tom Tofaute, Alex Webster, Walt Schacht, Jim Hillman, John Tencick, and Elmer Costa are all out with sickness or injuries, and it is doubtful if many of them will see much action. Bill Cox, 180 lb. guard, from Knoxville, Tenn. was also put on the not available roster, when he left for a job in Uncle Sam's service.

Peahead's Preachers with victories over Carolina and Duke will be out to make a clean sweep of the Big 4. A victory over the Pack will give the Deacons a 6-1-1 record, and a possible chance at a post-season bowl game. The only blemishes on Wake Forest's record are a tie with Boston College, and a one point loss to mighty Clemson.

Deacons Strong on Defense

Wake Forest will throw one of the best defensive teams in the country against the Pack. Led by Jim Staton, giant tackle from Greensboro, the Deacs will field a line that will be hard to go through. Other standout defenders are Jack Lewis, a former All-America High School end and Ed Listopad, a former All-America High School tackle Bob Gaona, sophomore center will hold up the center of the Deacon line.

Leading the Wake Forest backfield will be Ed Kissell and Bill Miller, along with halfback "Nub" Smith, from Fayetteville by way of Georgia.

The Wolfpack will be relying on record breaker Ed Mooney, to head the offensive, and the "Smiling Irishman" Jim O'Rourke will be counted on to buck the big Deac line.

Harvey Yeates will probably fill in at center on the defense if Tom Tofaute is not ready for action by tomorrow. Captain Tony Romanowsky will be at end flank along with either Bernie Allman or Dave Butler at the other flank.

The kick-off is set for Grove Stadium at 2:00 P.M. The giant cavalcade of State rooters will leave the campus at 12:15.

The probable starting line-ups:

State	Pos.	Wake Forest
Butler	LE	McClure
Beaver	LT	Staton
Britt	LG	Pickard
Martin	C	Gaona
Bagonis	RG	Auffarth
Costa	RT	Listopad
Romanowsky	RE	Lewis
Barkouskie	BB	Kissell
Smith	WB	Scarton
Mooney	TB	Jones
O'Rourke	FB	Miller

Tekes Beat Pikas; Lumley Scores Twice

TKE ended the long football supremacy of the PiKAs Tuesday as they won the playoff game for section I championship in one of the hardest fought games of the season.

PIKA opened with a blistering running attack that moved the ball quickly downfield and set up their touchdown. The score came on a pass from Tom Lassiter to Pete DeWitt. The same combination of Lassiter to DeWitt was also good for the extra point.

Lumley Runs 60 Yards

After the kick-off, TKE was forced to punt. The PiKAs again started on the march with their running plays intermingled with passes. They seemed on their way to another touchdown when "Poss" Lumley appeared out of nowhere to intercept a Lassiter pass and race sixty yards for the touchdown. The key block was thrown by end Dick Sly on the last man between Lumley and the goal-line. The try for the extra point on a quarterback sneak by Charlie Moore was not good, and the half ended with the score PIKA 7-TKE 6.

In the second half, the Pika attack was slowed down considerably as the TKE defense stiffened. The hard line play of both squads seemed to be taking its toll. TKE's second touchdown was set up late in the fourth quarter on a pass play from Gene Pettinelli to Dick Sly who had raced past the secondary to haul in the pass and carry it down to the five yard line before being caught from behind. From there "Poss" Lumley faked a pass to end Jack Bowers and then cut off tackle to score his second TD of the day. The try for extra point was no good, and the score read TKE 12-PiKA 7.

With less than five minutes remaining, the PiKA's put on another bid to pull the game out of the fire, but was stalled by the TKE defense. On fourth down an attempted TKE punt was blocked, and the PiKA's recovered on the one foot line. A five yard penalty for delaying the game moved the ball back to the five yard line. With time running out the PiKA's tried desperately to score, but the TKE line rose up and held them. On four downs the PiKA's were unable to score, and the game ended with TKE still leading 12 to 7.

Standouts in the PiKA line were Tucker, Johnson and "Fat" Hobbs. The TKE line was led by Sly, Bowers, Miller, Haas and Bennett. "Poss" Lumley was easily the outstanding back for the Tekes.

Sigma Chi's To Play KA In Football Game

Two undefeated fraternity football teams square off in the opening game of the semi-finals on Monday. The undefeated, unscored upon Sigs meet the Kappa Alpha boys in what should be a thriller all the way.

Paced by halfbacks "Ugly" Ammons and "Snooky" Nunis, the Sigs will try to defend their championship crown of last year.

On defense, the "blue & gold" will rely upon all-campus prospect, Jim Sartin, whose spirit and drive has so far stalled the enemy's offensive attack.

Wrestling

On Monday night, the Sigs lost two wrestling matches. Ammons lost to Armstrong of Sigma Nu by Decision, Barnes lost by decision. The Sigs have three men who will enter the finals. These men stand a good chance of winning their matches.

Volleyball

In volleyball, the S.P.E.'s and the Sigs are still deadlocked for first place in their section; however, next week's game will decide as to whom will play in the final games.

Basketball

In a pre-season workout with SAM, the Sigs unveiled their basketball prospects for the '51 season. The score wasn't kept, but the Sigs came away in a happy mood. Basketball this year should be a hard fought contest and the Sigs will have to really "get on the ball" if they are to retain their championship.

TKE and Sigma Nu are two teams that will give the Sigs a hard battle, but from the looks of last Sunday's game, the Sigs are out to win.

Are You A Ben Hogan?

Any golfers interested in trying out for the school team may get a free pass to try out at the Carolina Country Club, by contacting Coach Milton E. Hobbs in the Industrial Engineering Department.

Positions Still Open

With last years veterans Maurice Bracket, Palmer Maples, Pete Smith, Dave Zauber, Jim Baker, Harver Mattox, Ed Green and Bobby Holt returning, Coach Hobbs has the nucleus of a good team, but more players are urgently needed. All positions are still open, and the best will get to play.

The schedule for the coming season has not been completed, but so far matches have been arranged with Holy Cross, Cornell, Ohio University, William and Mary, Catawba, Wake Forest, Carolina, and Duke. Other matches are going to be added.

The golf team is going to take a trip out west during the Spring holidays to play some teams, before they tackle their Southern Conference schedule.

As an added incentive, bright new uniforms have been purchased for the team, so if you enjoy good competitive golf get in touch with Coach Milton Hobbs at your earliest opportunity.

Sigma Nu Beats Sigma Pi To Gain Playoff Post

Sigma Nu won a place in the Fraternity playoffs Wednesday afternoon when they downed the Sigma Pi's 14-7 in a suspense filled football battle.

After a quiet first quarter the fireworks broke loose early in the second period with a strong Pi aerial offensive. From their own ten yard line they began their march to their only touchdown when LeGrand connected with Tolan on 45 yd. line for 35 yards. On the next play LeGrand again connected with his man, as Fuscoe snared the ball on the Sigma Nu 25 yard marker.

The LeGrand-Fuscoe combination clicked again to score the first TD of the game. The score became 7-0 when the Pi's added the extra point.

The third quarter found the Pi machine cornered on its seven yard stripe. A charging Nu line, led by Schirf, blocked the Pi's punt. Schirf pounced on the rolling ball in the end zone for his team's first score. A quick pass from Cauble to Armstrong tied the game 7-7.

With both teams being equal in first downs, the last of the third quarter found them trying desperately to make the valuable first downs. The mounting tension was carried over into the fourth period as the Nu's pressed the weakening Pi's on the Pi 20.

After a seesaw battle in which the ball rapidly changed hands through pass interceptions, the Nu's opened a scoring offensive from the Pi twenty. A quick pass from Cauble to Armstrong yielded the winning touchdown to the Sigma Nu's. They turned to another pass play for the extra point as Cauble fired to Pickett.

Turlington Tops Berry

Berry lost its last football game to Turlington No. 1 on first downs, 3-2. This was a great game with Berry showing great strength in its ground defense. Berry suffered a great loss of yardage for numerous mistakes, such as too much time in huddle.

Al Skaarup had a defense set up to stop the running attack of Turlington but his team failed to capitalize on this. Outstanding players for Berry were Bill Hall, George Cathey and Brad Morton.

Berry continued on its winning ways on the volleyball court on a forfeit by Tucker No. 2.

Syme Blasts Bagwell

Thursday afternoon Syme No. 1 defeated a game but outclassed Bagwell No. 1 team on the grid-iron by the score of 25-0. Syme scored early in the game after intercepting a Bagwell pass and was never in trouble. The extra point was good but was nullified by an off-side penalty.

SPE's Defeat PKT

The SPE's added another victory to their volleyball record last week, when they defeated the PKT team 15 to 2 and 15 to 4.

With the SPE back court men doing a fine job of setting up the ball, John Hay sent the ball spinning back with such force that the PKT's could not return it.

The only team that stands in the way of the SPE's are the Sigma Chi's, and they will meet in a game next week.

Welch defeated Tucker No. 1 in their last game by the score of nine to six. Welch scored early and held on during a determined drive by the boys from Tucker. Welch had three pretty touchdown runs called back because of penalties and Tucker also had one called back for the same reason.

"Yardbird" Bazemore was the standout for Welch on defense. Gene Cathey sparked the Welch offense with a brilliant touchdown run on a handoff from Carl Price.

Welch finished the season with a 3-1 record with the only loss coming at the hands of West Haven.

LOWENSTEIN SPEAKS—

According to Lowenstein, NSA is "carrying the whole fight against communism for the student community." NSA, he stated, was counter attacking the inroads of communism by presenting the American system to the students of the world. This effort is particularly vital, he stated, in "colonial nations" such as Indo China.

As for communists in American colleges and universities, he stated that "communists cannot teach." The stand of such leaders as Dr. Graham, President Gray and the American Association of University Professors is the stand which NSA will support, according to Lowenstein.

When asked why no answer had been made by NSA's national headquarters to the critical comments made by the TECHNICIAN, Lowenstein said that he "does not intend to become a party to any local campus fight." Had he been invited to present an answer, he said, he would have done so.

Lowenstein left Raleigh Tuesday afternoon to speak in Greensboro after meeting student leaders at St. Augustine's.

Thinkers Join Hands At WC Science Forum

Dear Students:

Like Thanksgiving, the Social Science Forum at Woman's College is an annual event. As the former motivates us to give thanks, the latter inspires us to think.

Unfortunately, our annual celebrations and events are of a relatively short duration as is our response to them. We reserve our "Thank You, God" for the last Thursday in November and we remain blissfully unaware of our individual and group responsibilities of thinking in a democracy until we are taken by surprise with a question like, "Are you aware of the interests represented by the news commentators you regularly listen to?" or "What are the policies of the newspapers you read daily?"

In questioning one hundred local college girls recently as to the magazines they regularly read, a majority reported "Life," "Readers Digest," and "Time" as the only sources for news. This report seems to indicate a lack of incentive on the part of the students questioned to read a sound basis for opinion and thus lessens the possibility of arriving at a satisfactory understanding of any conflict. Simply stated, these people are probably not well-informed on many vital issues. Why? . . . because the three magazines, while possibly giving an adequate coverage of news, are too similar in policy . . . "Life" and "Time" are edited by the same party.

The Fourth Annual Social Science Forum topic is especially significant at this time. When fear prevails among a group of people, as the present fear of Communism, we are limiting ourselves in personal freedom of expression. We are, today, in danger of allowing ourselves to relinquish our rights to free thought, or what is worse, allowing the pressure of individuals and groups to limit this freedom. Are we aware of the limitations of free thought to which we willingly submit ourselves through our many channels of communication? If not, perhaps the Social Science Forum at WC the 16, 17, 18, of November will bring about this awareness and motivate us to THINK, not once a year, but at all times . . . and critically. Let's not just "Make Democracy Live" but function effectively . . .

Music Lovers Spin Discs at Weekly Concerts

Now that at least a nucleus has been formed from the weekly record concert attendance every Sunday afternoon at 2, the fourth concert will be presented on November 19, 1950 at the Faculty Room of Peele Hall. Major C. D. Kutschinski of the Music Department will direct the program with an emphasis upon "Form in Music."

Gradually growing in interest the group has extended invitations to Meredith College to share the music appreciation. Refreshments, while not yet being served, will shape into reality in the near future.

Selections for the Sunday concerts are taken from students' private records, the Basic Division, and faculty members, thus affording a versatile and all-round appreciated program. The concerts are conducted by interested members of the group, mostly students and some faculty members, who give introductions and remark on the more important parts of the program.

Cosmo's Give Show; Hailed As Year's Best

The Cosmopolitan Club on our campus, consisting mainly of students from foreign countries, presents its biggest program of the term at 8:00 p.m. tonight at the College Y.M.C.A. auditorium.

Twelve performances are scheduled for the night, presenting colorful folk music, folk dances, and other acts of many different countries. More than 40 members will take part in the Great Night, either individually or in groups. Among these will be Hubert Ghosn of Egypt singing "Caro Mio Ben" and "La Chanson du Toreador" accompanied by Mrs. Nurvey, who will also play a piano solo.

Samir Ibrahim of Egypt will be master of ceremonies, and President Charlie Kim will be host. The Woman's Club of State College made this program possible by accepting the responsibility of providing refreshments to the guests.

President Charlie Kim extended an invitation to Governor and Mrs. Scott, and it is hoped that they can attend.
