110 Attend "Y" Retreat

By BEN KIRKLAND

One hundred and ten Freshmen attended the annual Pre-College Freshman Retreat held by the N. C. State College Y.M.C.A. on Sept. 11 and 12, 1951. Registration and campus tours were conducted Tuesday afternoon.

The retreat was officially opened with an invocation by the Rev. H. W. Stroup. Following words of welcome by Gerald Mann, President of the YMCA, introductions were made of the guests present. Greetings were extended by the new men by Chancellor J. W. Harrelson and George Pruden, President of the Campus Government. Robert Jeter, Treasurer of the "Y," introduced Miss May McClellan, Dean of Women at Peace College, who presented the address of the evening.

Miss McClellan's topic was "The Place of Social and Cultural Development in college Life." Refreshments were served in the North End of the "Y" after which humorous readings were given by Dean E. L. Cloyd.

A morning devotional service was presented by Rev. Arthur G. Courtenay of West Raleigh Presbyterian Church and Bill Fulcher, Chairman of the YMCA Worship Committee. Dr. J. Bryant Kirkland, Dean of the School of Education, discussed "Intellectual and Scholastic Development of College Students." "Dormitory Organization" was presented by Mr. J. J. Stewart, Director of Housing at the College, and H. W. "Pop" Taylor, Alumni Secretary, told some humorous highlights of college history.

The afternoon feature was a talk by Prof. John Miller, Head of the Department of Physical Education at State College who spoke briefly on the idea of "The Physical Development and Recreation of College Men." The last presentation of the afternoon was on the "Purpose and Work of the YMCA," by Gerald Mann, President of the "Y."

Scholarships For 15 Announced By Schools

Fifteen scholarships for the coming year have now been announced by the registrar's office. Fourteen of the scholarships are paid by Sears Roebuck and the fifteenth by the government.

Thirteen North Carolina farm boys have been awarded scholarships offered by the Sears Roebuck Foundation in the School of Agriculture.

Announcement of the list of scholarship winners was made here today by Dr. C. H. Bostian, director of instruction in the School of Agriculture.

The scholarships are valued at $150 each and will be effective during the forthcoming academic year.

The list of award winners: Billy Ray Allen, Route 1, Farmville; Dan Edison Baucom, Route 1, Watha; Grover R. Boyd, Route 1, Bath; Charles J. Dutton, Route 1, Pageland, S. C. (Anson County, N. C.); Marion D. Dutton, Route 1, Pageland, S. C. (Anson County, N. C.); William S. Enloe, Route 1, Hendersonville.

State Produces Top College Heads

North Carolina State College is rapidly gaining a nation-wide reputation as a training ground for college and university presidents.

When Dr. William G. Van Note becomes president of Clarkson College of Technology in Potsdam, N. Y., on October 1, he will be the fifth faculty member from State College to assume the presidency of a major educational institution since 1939.

Dr. Van Note is now head of the Department of Engineering Research at State.

Other college presidents who formerly worked on the State faculty include Dr. Blake R. Van Leer, former dean of engineering, now president of Georgia Tech; Dr. Robert F. Poole, former Graduate School dean, now president of Clemson College; Dr. Carlyle Campbell, former English Department head, now president of Meredith College; and Dr. David A. Lockmiller, former head of the Department of History and Political Science, now president of the University of Chattanooga.

1951 Ticket Information

The following plans for the football season have been worked out by the Athletic Council and the Campus Government:

1. Catawba-here-15 September, 1951-2:45 P. M. Student box office on West Side of Stadium behind Warehouse opens at 12:00 Noon. Upon identification at Window I, students will be given their Spring Term Y.M.C.A. personal data card. This will be turned in at Window II for a ticket.

Guest tickets ($2.50) and wives' books ($5.00) may also be picked up at Window II. Those not having personal data cards will pay $2.50 for their tickets. They will be given a receipt which may be turned in with their athletic book after registration for a refund. Come early to avoid the rush.

2. Wives' books ($5.00) may be picked up at the Coliseum box office starting Monday, 10 September 1951. These books are good for the following: Catawba, Wake Forest, Clemson, William and Mary and 6 High School games.

3. Carolina-there-22 September, 1951-2:30 P. M. This is our home game. This is Greater University Day, and there will be a dance there that night. More information when school starts. 5,200 seats have been set aside for State College (no end zone they say) with an unlimited number of guest tickets ($3.00) per student.

Wives' tickets are $3.00. Student and guest cards may be picked up at the Coliseum box office until 5:00 P. M., Thursday, 20 September, 1951. These cards will be turned in at Carolina for tickets on a first-come first-serve basis. This is our game.

4. Duke-there-13 October, 1951-2:30 P. M. Students $1.00; Guests $3.50. Cards may be picked up first-come first-serve at Coliseum Box Office from 9:00 A. M. 8 October to 5:00 P. M. 11 October, 1951. They will be turned in at Duke for tickets.

5. Last year's system of seating and ticket issuance has been ten- (Continued on Page 4)

Three Attend Meet

Three members of the State College faculty will participate in the annual meeting of the Rural Sociological Society of America at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Wis., September 2-4.

Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, head of the Department of Rural Sociology, will preside over one of the society's principal sessions. He has been a leader in the organization's affairs for many years.

The society's official publication, The Journal of Rural Sociology, is published at State. Dr. Selz, C. Mayo, a professor of rural sociology at State College, is the journal's managing editor and will (Continued on Page 8)

Civic Music Offers Student Memberships

State College students will have three mornings during which to obtain membership in the Raleigh Civic Music Association for the coming season. Representatives of the Association, Mrs. Fred B. Wheeler and Mrs. Gertrude Myatt, will have membership cards available at student prices on the campus today (Friday, Sept. 14), Tuesday and Wednesday (18 and 19) between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Their desk will be located on the porch of the YMCA building.

Student memberships are $3.60, including tax; adult memberships, $6.00, also including tax. Students' wives who are not enrolled in any Wake County school will be admitted to membership at adult rates. Membership entitles the holder of a membership card to attendance at all six musical concerts of the 1951-52 season, all of which will be held between this October and June of next year.

The Raleigh Association's quota of memberships allotted to students is limited; therefore the sale of membership cards will be handled on a "first come—first served" basis while the State College quota lasts. A certain number have been set aside for freshmen during the Friday hours; the remainder for upperclassmen on their registration days, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ex-Sports Editor Enters New Career

Pvt. Clyde A. Dillon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Dillon, Sr., 1603 Hillsboro St., Raleigh, N. C., is assigned to the Post Public Information Section here. He handles general news writing assignments and is primarily responsible for coverage of the Fort Meade sports program.

Private Dillon was inducted into the Army Sept. 25, 1950, at Raleigh. He was sent to the 43rd Infantry Division, Camp Pickett, Va., for Army basic training and was later transferred to Headquarters, VII Corps, at Fort Meade.

Before entering the Army, Private Dillon was employed in the Personnel Department of the Dillon Supply Company. He also assisted Ray Reeve as a sports announcer for radio station WRAL in Raleigh.

After graduating from Needham Broughton High School in Raleigh, Private Dillon entered North Carolina State College. He graduated from there in 1947, receiving a

Textile School Starts Government Research

A new research project, designed to improve the utilization of cotton, has been initiated in the School of Textiles by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under Research and Marketing Act contracts.

In announcing the development today, Dean Malcolm E. Campbell of the School of Textiles said the scientific investigations will be conducted under the general administration of the Southern Regional Research Laboratory, a unit of the USDA's Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry at New Orleans, La.

The research contract with the School of Textiles, Dean Campbell said, is a part of the USDA's overall program to improve the efficiency of cotton processing operations and to enhance the fiber's usefulness.

The project at the college, Dean Campbell explained, will include studies aimed at the development of an apparatus using small samples for predicting the number of neps that are formed during the processing of cottons of various nepping characteristics.

A nep is a cluster of fibers occurring in finished textile fabrics. The School of Textiles at North Carolina State College, under Dean Campbell's direction, has completed a study on neps, which has greatly expanded the existing information on these manufacturing problems.

Sliderule Jockeys All Find Employment

All of the 1951 engineering graduates of State College who desired employment have found jobs.

That announcement was made yesterday by Dean J. H. Lampe of the college's School of Engineering and William R. Parks, head of the school's placement service.

Dean Lampe and Parks said that starting salaries offered the graduates "were high and working conditions excellent." They pointed out, however, what they called "an alarming trend"—the decrease of graduate employment in North Carolina.

Approximately 30 per cent of the graduates took jobs in North Carolina as compared with 60 per cent of last year's graduating class.

Dean Lampe and Parks stated that the majority of the seniors preferred to remain in North Carolina but were offered higher salaries and better employment opportunities elsewhere. They expressed the hope that "more of our Tar Heel industries will compete favorably with respect to salary and opportunity in the future."

A total of 387 student engineers received degrees from State College on June 10. A breakdown of that number shows 71 per cent accepted industrial employment, 16 per cent received orders to report to active duty with the armed services, eight per cent expect calls from the military services, and five per cent now are considering one or more job offers.

Commenting on the employment status of the graduates, Dean Lampe and Parks said:

"The Engineering School's placement service has encouraged industrial representatives, particularly those from North Carolina, to visit the campus and interview students. Ninety organizations, more than twice last year's total, sent representatives to conduct personal interviews. Eighteen of those were from North Carolina.

"Part of the great increase in campus visits was caused by a large number of aircraft industries and government agencies, most of which were here this year for the first time. A total of 2,091 individual interviews were scheduled. This number included 158 conducted by North Carolina industries.

"In addition to scheduling personal interviews, the School of Engineering furnished, upon request, personal data of students and graduates applying to companies for employment.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 22...THE WOODPECKER

Woodrow almost bit off more than he could chew when he tackled the cigarette tests! But he pecked away 'til he smoked out the truth: Such an important item as mildness can't be tossed off in a fleeting second! A "swift sniff" or a "perfunctory puff" proves practically nothing! He, like millions of smokers, found one test that doesn't leave you up a tree.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

For the past week the college's bright red carpet has been rolled out for the incoming freshmen. For this one week people have been doing things for them, but now it is probably time to point out that there are some things that will be expected from them in return.

State has some institutions and some traditions that must be supported. That is the price that is asked of every student who enters any college. At State there is an honor system which will be just as effective, just as real as the students make it through their understanding and cooperation. In past years the student body decided that it would have an honor system; now the new freshmen must decide to continue its life. An honor system must be re-born in every class.

State College Keep Fighting Along

Words by H. M. RAY
 Music "Caisson Song" by COL. E. L. GRUBER
 Play the game, fight like men,
 We're behind you lose or win—
 State College Keep fighting along!
 Scrap 'em men; hold 'em fast;
 You'll reach victory at last—
 State College Keep fighting along!
 Rise men, to the fray, and let your banners wave,
 Shout our our chorus loud and strong;
 And were'er we go we'll let the whole wide world know,
 Old State College keeps fighting along!

A Challenge

The most important class at N. C. State is the Freshman Class. The freshmen are so important because they are the foundation. They are the new and fresh men from whom come new ideas, new leaders, and new workers that have the energy to outdo their predecessors. From these freshmen comes the school spirit and the actual support of all campus activities.

A freshman looks ahead to four years of college life; therefore, he is not content to let the college activities remain in the doldrums. He does all in his power to improve them for the future generations of freshmen.

There is a challenge. That challenge is to convince the upperclassmen that the present freshman class is the best one yet. The lowly freshman is not so low after all, for he has the responsibility of introducing new life into an old institution.

N. C. State's Alma Mater . . .

Words by A. M. FOUNTAIN, '23
 Music by B. F. NORRIS, '23

Where the winds of Dixie softly blow
 O'er the fields of Caroline;
 Where the tall pine tree sentinels stand
 As a guardian at thy shrine;
 Where the bravest hearts of men are found,
 That are loyal through and through,
 There stands, ever cherished, N. C. State,
 Firmly, strong and true.

Chorus.

Then lift your voices! Loudly sing
 Our Alma Mater's praise!
 Over all the earth her song shall ring,
 Whose notes we proudly raise;
 Her glories we shall sound afar
 From hill to ocean side;
 Our hearts ever hold you, N. C. State,
 In the folds of their love and pride.
 Shout afar our tribute loud and strong,
 That the whole wide world may hear,
 Tell the story to all the land, ye,
 Her sons, and have no fear.
 As she grows the greater ev'ry hour,
 As she scales the topmost height,
 Our voices will blend in triumph songs
 For the Red and White.
 Though the years come and go their way
 Down the path where ages trod;
 Though the workings of men may lead,
 As we leave our native sod;
 Yet no time or cline can e'er dispel
 Any love that holds thee near,
 Nor keep from our hearts thy memory,
 Alma Mater, dear.

Clogston Starts Fourth Year As Athletic Head

After three years at the helm of N. C. State's athletic program, Roy Bennett Clogston has shown that he knows his way around. His popularity has grown by leaps and bounds and everywhere he has made additional friends for the school's athletic teams.

Taking over the reins at State on August 1, 1948 Clogston found many problems confronting the program, but with a systematic effort he set about the task of building Wolfpack teams and facilities to the point where today they are considered among the best in the Southern Conference.

Under Clogston's administration the huge William Neal Reynolds Coliseum was completed and readied for the 1949-50 season. It was largely through his personal efforts that the first contest was staged in the structure on December 1, 1949.

Clogston has untiringly devoted his time to the progress of athletics at State. He has been instrumental in helping round out the schedule of inter-collegiate contests for State teams and through his efforts a full-time tennis and soccer coach was added to the Wolfpack staff.

Not only is Clogston vitally interested in the major sports on the campus, but he is also a close follower of the so-called minor sports of swimming, tennis, golf, soccer, and wrestling.

A graduate of Springfield College at Springfield, Mass., Clogston is a native of Ballston Lake, N. Y. He holds a degree in physical education from Springfield and a Master's degree in physical education from New York University.

THE GRISTMILL

Teetering and Tottering

By PAUL FOGHT

Greetings to the Class of '56! You're always welcome in this little corner where we hold forth with our store of harmless, idle chatter. This is the third time that we have operated this gossip mill and as yet only one story has caused an offended party to speak to a lawyer.

Last week we read that many of the old Carolina grads are requesting football tickets for seats near the 50-yard line and high up in the stadium. It seems that the aged alumni claim that their health might be damaged if they were forced to climb out to the cheaper seats. Some of the boys have requested permission to drive automobiles close to the main gates, fearing that they will be unable to stagger all the way in from the parking lots.

As new State College men I feel that you should know the facts behind these requests. The simple fact is that the Carolina men cannot hold their liquor. The undergraduates are bad enough, but the graduates are absolutely pathetic. By game time on a football Saturday hardly a one of them is in condition to walk unaided into the stadium. Thus the requests for seats and parking places within easy staggering distance. Now aren't you glad that you came to State where you'll learn to be a man.

Sport note: since tomorrow's game with Catawba precedes registration why didn't we sign up some better known school and then beef up the squad with some outside talent? Then come Tuesday and registration and the boys could just get lost. Seriously, I do wonder how the team can represent a school when that school is not yet in session.

It's a long way off now, but some of you will be enrolling in next year's summer session. Then some of you will wonder about the summer weather in Raleigh. Now we didn't think that it was too hot here until the following statement appeared on the marquee of the Varsity Theater in July: "First Faleigh Showing—Blueblood, in Technicolor."

Must have been pretty hot out on the Coast too... anyway two Seattle University students now claim a world teetertotter record. These kids teetered and tottered for 51 hours and 31 minutes... to best the claim of two Washington State College sophomores by one hour and 21 minutes. Nice work! Goldfish, anyone?

Wolfpack Meets Catawba In Season Opener

the Technician SPORTS

JOE BENNETT, Sports Editor

X-Country Men Look Forward To Big Season

State college's potent cross country team should be a hard contender for the conference title this year. Led by a third year man, Captain Bobby Leonard, and paced by conference champion of last year, Clyde Garrison, the Wolfpack should have what it takes this year to push Maryland for the title. Maryland has been the conference champion for the past five years.

Besides Leonard, a Raleigh boy, and Garrison of High Point, N. C., the Staters will be blessed with a depth of power never before seen on the West Raleigh Campus. "Buz" Sawyer, a new member of the team, is a transfer student from Norfolk Division of V.P.I. "Buz" is the Virginia State Mile A.A.U. Champion, with a time of 4:25. He hails from Bay Side, just outside Norfolk, Virginia. Morrison Clements, a letter winner from New Town, Conn., is back for a second year on the varsity. From last year's State Championship Freshman team are Joe Shockley a Raleigh boy, Darrall Winslow, another High Pointer, Eddie Beall from Alexandria, Virginia, Dewey Adams of Bunn Level, N. C., and William Maready of Jacksonville, N. C. Coming in as a freshman is John Bryant Smith, a 4:38 miler from Monticello, N. Y.

With this group of runners on hand, Coach Tom Fitzgibbons feels that his Stater's can run with anyone when he gets them ready. A very imposing schedule has been arranged with the season getting underway on Friday, October 4, with Davidson at Davidson; then Wednesday, October 10, with our old rival Carolina at Chapel Hill; Saturday, October 20, Duke University, here; Friday, October 26, William and Mary at Williamsburg, Va. October 31, Richmond University, here; November 5, State Meet, here; and Monday, November 12, the Southern Conference Meet at Duke University.

This year freshmen will be eligible for the varsity team and Coach Fitzgibbons urges any freshmen that want to run and try out for the cross country team to report to him at the Coliseum. No previous experience is necessary.

Coach Fitzgibbons varsity has the enviable record of having won 13, lost 1, and tied 1, in dual meets and finished second in the conference in 1949 and third last year. Both of these teams and Fitzgibbons freshman teams have been State Champions for the past two years. "Fitz" feels that his third Wolfpack team will be by far the best.

Wolfpack Workouts With Camp Lejeune Gridders

This season the Wolfpack will benefit from two weeks pre-season work-outs and scrimmage with the marine gridders at Camp Lejeune. At the invitation of the Camp Lejeune football squad, the Pack journeyed down to Jacksonville, N. C. This has proved valuable to both teams, as the daily scrimmaging has helped both teams round into shape faster than the usual work-outs and intra-squad scrimmages.

Last Saturday State impressed observers with a 26-13 victory over the marines in an exhibition game. Alex Webster, 200-pound tailback from Kearny, N. J., personally gained 217 yards from scrimmage. Both Webster and Costa, All-America Tackle from Paterson, N. J. reported slight ankle injuries, but are back in heavy equipment and in good shape for the Catawba game Saturday.

Indians Have Tomahawks Sharpened To Revenge Last Year's Scalping By Pack

Saturday afternoon in Riddick Stadium Coach Beattie Feathers' Wolfpack will formally open the 1951 season against the Catawba Indians of the North State Conference. This will mark the third meeting between the two teams, and if previous scores mean anything, it should be a thriller. In 1944, State was the victor by the narrow margin of 12-7, and last year barely eked out a 7-6 win. The Indians had a 6-4 record last year, including a 14-13 win over V.M.I. The Salisbury club will be seeking to continue their record of having whipped at least one Southern Conference team each season since 1939. No one need remind the Wolfpack boss that his opponent comes out of one of the toughest little football leagues in the country—the North State Conference. Feathers, himself formerly coached at Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone, N. C. and he knows first-hand that the loop is a tough one.

"We have all the respect in the world for Catawba. Coach Spangler has always turned out good teams and they're capable of beating us. We're certainly not selling Catawba short. They'll be ready for us, and we've got to be ready for them," Feathers asserted today.

State will bank strongly on an all veteran line-up with Alex Webster, 210-pounder from Kearny, N. J., slated to carry the offensive burden at tailback. Other backfield starters probably will include Captain Jim O'Rourke at fullback, Jimmy Smith at wingback, and Ray Barkouskie at blocking back.

In the line, led by All-America Tackle Elmer Costa, will be Guards Vince Bagonis and Walter Schacht, Tackle J. C. Britt, Ends Bernie Allen and Steve Kosilla, and Center Tom Tofaute.

State has 22 lettermen back from the 1950 squad, plus several outstanding sophomores up from last year's freshman team, and several freshman candidates, frosh being eligible for varsity competition this year. This all adds up to the best balanced club since the '46 Wolfpack won 8 of 10 games. It is a far cry from last September when only 37 turned out for practice.

Coach Bob Spangler, an ex-Duke star, in his sophomore year as head coach at Catawba, will field a starting lineup dominated by veteran lettermen. Catawba has never beaten a Big Four team, and tomorrow they will be gunning for an upset over what many observers consider as the "aleeper" club in the Southern Conference.

Kickoff time at Riddick Stadium is set for 2:45 p.m.

Clogston Starts Fourth Year As Athletic Head

Clogston's background in college athletics is extensive. For nearly 20 years he was director of athletics at St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y. and during his tenure there established St. Lawrence as one of the leading small colleges in athletic circles. At St. Lawrence he served as head football coach as well as golf and wrestling mentor.

During World War II Clogston saw extensive service with the Navy. He served as administrative officer under Commander Tom Hamilton in the far-famed Hamilton-program which brought recreation facilities to the far corners of the world. He also served as rehabilitation officer on Guam and several other bases in the South Pacific. Clogston left the service with the rank of commander and is still active in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

"Roy" as Clogston is known by all his friends lends a personal interest in all of the school's athletic teams. He participates in tennis, swimming, and golf in his spare moments and shoots in the low 80's on the golf course. Clogston is a keen judge of athletic talent and has recommended several top stars to State coaches.

Clogston is also active in the civic life of the community. He is a member of the Lions and Elks Clubs, serves as a member of the Southern Conference Basketball Committee and is on the National Collegiate Athletic Association's committee for Physical Education, Health, and Recreation. During the past summer Clogston took a course in Animal Husbandry in the School of Agriculture.

During the past year Clogston joined the ranks of the benedicts as he married the former Ruby Garrison. The Clogstons make their home in Raleigh on Glenwood Avenue Extension.

"Far-sighted industries presented their opportunities to seniors well in advance of graduation. February was the peak load for interviews this year as well as last. The peak for North Carolina interviews was later, occurring in March and April."

Lulong Queen of Rally Last Night

A band was on hand to furnish music, and Walley Ausley, sports director of radio station WNAO served as Master of ceremonies. Raymond Clark and Louis Hine, of the College YMCA, were co-chairmen of the rally.

Al Parker, 1950 head cheerleader, led the parade and was in charge of the stadium events. The entire program was recorded by WNAO and will be re-broadcast on Saturday at 2:15, thirty minutes before State takes the field against Catawba.
