Win Lends Luster To Homecoming Picture

SOCIAL DIRECTOR

Carolyn Speight Jessup, above, a native of Gates County, has been appointed social director of the North Carolina State College Union, Jerry Erdahl, union director, announced yesterday. Miss Jessup received her B.S. degree from East Carolina College in 1949 and earned a master of education degree from the University of North Carolina in 1952. She formerly taught physical education at Great Bridge High School, Norfolk, Va.

VA Cuts Corners To Reduce Costs

Veterans Administration announced it has taken five steps necessary to reduce the costs of its Department of Medicine and Surgery, to bring the operations within the limits of funds appropriated by Congress for the fiscal year 1953.

First of the steps is a reduction of 2,250 employees in VA hospitals. Doctors, nurses, dentists and dietitians are exempted from the cut, since there is a national shortage of trained personnel in these four

Union Movie ...

The Maltese Falcon, director John Huston's first major work and a suspenseful thriller of dramatic intensity, will be the College Union's cinema attraction for this week.

Based on a fast moving mystery story by Dashiell Hammett, the picture maintains the pace of the novel combined with the masterful technique of Huston who wrote the screenplay and directed the movie.

Buy A Mag Mister

A limited number of recent issues of the Student Publication of the School of Design have become available for general purchase for the first time. Anyone interested in obtaining individual copies for $1.00, or four issues for $3.00 may do so by contacting the distributor, Russell Uzzle, at Uzzle's Soda Shop on Hillsboro St.

Service Test Dec. 4

Applications for the December 4, 1952, and the April 23, 1953, administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to offer this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information. This notice applies particularly to sophomores.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided. Applications for the December 4 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, November 1, 1952.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

Whittlers Try Winning Kaywoodie Contest

Designed to encourage exciting new and artistic designs for tobacco pipes, a national sculptor competition among American and Canadian amateur and professional sculptors is being sponsored by the Kaywoodie Company, makers of Kaywoodie pipes, according to an announcement this week by Morris L. Levinson, president.

Cash prizes totaling $2,500 are being offered to winning sculptors, with the first, second, and third prizes amounting to $1,000.00, $500.00, and $250.00 respectively. Five Honorable Mentions of $100.00 each are also included.

Among the judges serving on the Kaywoodie Jury of Awards Committee are: Wheeler Williams, President of the National Sculpture Society; Nathaniel Choate, Fellow, National Sculpture Society; and Associate of the National Academy; Cecil Howard, internationally renowned sculpture; Michael Lantz, leading American sculptor and medalist; and Mr. Levinson. The first three men are members of the editorial board of the National Sculpture Review.

The competition was formally announced to sculptors in a full page in the September issue of the National Sculpture Review. This advertisement listed, among other requirements, the following:

(1) Competition begins October 16th, 1952.

Students whose names begin with the letters A through M who have changed their address since Oct. 8 are requested to notify the YMCA to insure that the correct information will appear in the new Student Directory which is being compiled.

"Happy Time" Ahead

The Raleigh Little Theater's presentation of "The Happy Time," will continue through Sunday, Oct. 19. This fresh, appealing comedy enjoyed a long and successful Broadway run during the past two seasons and is now available to students at a special price of $1.20. Season tickets, enabling the purchaser to see five shows for $4.50, are also on sale at the box office on Pogue Street from 12-6, including Sunday.

The management of the Little Theater is especially anxious to note the presence of a formidable number of State students when the tryouts for the forthcoming production of "Remains to Be Seen" are held on the nights of Oct. 22 and 23 at 7:30 p.m. A "hot" Gene Krupa-type drummer is being sought at the moment, particularly one who can act.

The news of State's victory over Davidson has boasted the moral of sports lovers, and for that matter, the entire student body. Downhearted spirits have started to rise to the occasion of Homecoming on October 25 when State meets Florida State in Riddick Stadium.

The Monogram Club, under the noteworthy direction of "Shep" Griswald, has succeeded in coordinating the efforts of the Blue Key and Thirty and Three as they prepare to sponsor a "Maximum Effort" Homecoming celebration. Campus Government has already approved the allocation of funds for dormitory floats and visiting band accommodations. A parade of floats, a long-time aspiration of the Monogram Club, will be an original this year under the auspices of Thirty and Three.

Miss Wolfpack will reign supreme during the festivities, and will ride in the parade on the float of her sponsor. Social and honorary fraternities will also participate in this event, although only dormitory and social fraternity entries will be eligible for prizes.

Election Poop At Library

A display in the D. H. Hill Library has been arranged to supply complete and comprehensive information to voters, old and new. The following notice was transcribed for our readers.

IF YOU ARE NOT ALREADY REGISTERED REMEMBER you have to register IN PERSON at the regular polling place in your home precinct Saturday October 11 or Saturday October 18 or Saturday October 25 or at the home of the registrar on OTHER days from October 12 through October 24.

If you were registered last spring you ARE safely registered now; however, it is a good idea to check with your registrar. If you are registered but must be absent from your home precinct on November 4, you may apply to your County Board of Elections in person or by mail for an absentee ballot. If you apply by mail do so promptly because the board will have to send you a formal application. Absentee ballots will not be distributed after November 1.

Check by the library for further information.

Pictured here is a section of the new lobby of the State College YMCA showing the radio, window box, the entrance to the North Parlor, and a plaque in memory of Raleigh women who volunteered their services to nurse college students during the influenza epidemic of World War II.

In it, he cast Humphrey Bogart in the title role as a hard boiled private eye who is as tough with his clients as he is with the underworld, and Bogart responded with a top-notch performance.

Making things rough for the detective along the way are Sydney Greenstreet, a sinister master criminal, and Peter Lorre who lends the drama a touch of the macabre.

Walter Huston, famous late father of the director, makes a brief appearance in the movie as a corpse falling from a closet.

College students prefer Luckies in nation-wide survey!

A nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals that more smokers in these colleges prefer Luckies than any other cigarette—and by a wide margin. The No. 1 reason given for smoking Luckies? Luckies' better taste. What's more, this same survey shows that Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

classes. However, VA said, in order to maintain balanced staffs between the hospitals, a few doctors, dentists, nurses and dietitians may be offered transfers from one VA hospital to another.

Separation notices were delivered early in October to the employees who must be cut from the VA service. In the reductions the procedures of the Civil Service Commission are followed. The employees affected received 30-day notices which will take effect November 4.

The second step taken by VA was a reduction of five per cent in the number of medical employees in the Central Office, Washington, D. C. Step number three was to reduce VA's contracts with other Federal agencies for hospitalizing a daily average of 385 veteran patients.

The fourth step was to reduce by $1,000,000 the amount allotted to pay hospital consultants and attending physicians for VA hospitals.

The final step was to reduce by $5,700,000 the amount allotted for fees for physicians giving outpatient medical and dental examinations and treatment of veterans. VA said it anticipates a reduction in the daily average number of patients in its hospitals, being an overall reduction of more than 2,000 patients.

"Y" Renovation

The lobby of the Y.M.C.A. was completely overhauled during the summer at a total cost of $8,500. The shining new room which presents itself to visitors now is a far cry from the shabby cave of last year.

The furniture is new throughout, replacing the old furniture which had been in continuous use since 1913. Among the new pieces are full size sofas and easy chairs, comfortable as well as attractive. In addition there are numerous study or game tables dotting the new lobby.

A free-standing wall is placed opposite the main doorway which hides the stairs leading to the second and ground floors. The front of the wall is fitted with adjustable lamps which make reading easy and pleasant. The back of the wall is used as a bulletin board.

In addition to the lamps on the standing wall there are several floor lamps and ceiling lights all designed for maximum eye ease.

Three of the lobby walls are painted pastel blue while the fourth is covered with acoustical tile. The ceiling is white.

A large window box has also been placed in the lobby. The window box was planted by Hugh G. Vann of the State College Department of Horticulture.

The project designers were Duncan Stuart and George Matsumoto, faculty members in the State College School of Design. Prof. T. C. Brown, a faculty member in the Department of Mechanical Engineering and a veteran member of the "Y" Board of Directors, supervised the project.

Student officers during the current school year are William E. Fulcher, Leaksville, president; Howard A. Wells, Winston-Salem, vice-president; Charles A. Fulp, Winston-Salem, secretary; and Roy E. Congleton, Chadbourn, treasurer.

The staff of the College Y.M.C.A. is composed of Edward S. King, general secretary; N. B. Watts, associate secretary; E. W. Rogers, assistant secretary; Mrs. L. W. Bishop, office secretary; and Mrs. Nancy Frazier, assistant office secretary.

Freshman Tryouts

Freshman students who are interested in trying out for the freshman basketball team are to report to Coach Vic Bubas in Room 120 of the Coliseum between October 20 and October 29.

After signing to participate in the try-outs, details will be given on place, time, and method of trying out.

Dramatist Will Appear In Pullen

Blanche Yurka, acclaimed by Robert Garland as the most justly celebrated actress, will appear in Pullen Hall Friday October 17 at eight o'clock p.m.

Miss Yurka has distinguished herself in the dramatic world by her unusually varied range of acting.

Blessed with a rich voice and easy grace, Miss Yurka can do wonders with a variety of roles. She makes Sophocles' "Electra" a tortured creature whose suffering seems real and deeply tragic. Her masterful demonstration of voice projection heightened the torment besitting Lady Macbeth in the sleep-walking scene.

In lighter moments Miss Yurka presents a striking dramatic cameo of the "Queen of Emptiness and Death."

"In dramatic recital of outstanding characters from plays she has done more to create a live interest in classical drama than any other person. Her program before college groups will do a great deal to build discerning audiences for a better theatre of the future.

Duke's highest football score came in 1891 when Trinity defeated Furman, 96-0. Every man on the Trinity team scored a touchdown including the center. Touchdowns were four points in those days.

The Draft....

Like It Or Lump It

College students are meeting the draft situation with a minimum of protest and even less enthusiasm, according to a poll taken on 11 campuses by Cornell University.

The poll compares the draft-vulnerable student with the income tax-paying adult. He meets his obligation, but he doesn't necessarily like it.

Ninety per cent of the students, says the report, would return to college if inducted before they finished, and only one in four thought military service would be a major disruption in his life.

Most students seem to be taking their deferment status seriously and are concerned with maintaining good grades; but there were some who felt they wanted to get in as much fun as possible before being drafted.

The report concludes that should the government drop the student deferment plan, without supplying a substitute, there is little doubt that restlessness and anxiety would return to the campuses.

In an ACP Student Opinion Poll taken last year it was learned that more than half the nation's students feel that "only the better students should be deferred," while 22 per cent think all students should be deferred.

Perhaps some of the questions concerning the draft will be answered by The Technician's presentation of an article by Howard Whitman which appeared in September 13 issue of Collier's. Reprinted by special permission of the publishers and the author, here is:

Why The Draft Makes Our Young Men Angry

Under the present system, marriages are disrupted, careers are wrecked, lives damaged. There's a solution, which is liked by both the Army and its draftees. But what's being done about it?

In figuring out the best way to raise an armed force to keep America safe, Washington has asked everybody's opinion except that of the people most concerned: the young men themselves. As a result we have a hodge-podge. It doesn't please the Army. It definitely doesn't please the young men. It is pulling young lives apart, disrupting careers, playing favorites and wrecking marriages.

The draft of men eighteen-and-a-half to twenty-six years old for a two-year hitch, with the oldest taken first, stems from the thinking of Congressmen, politicians, educators and others who themselves are far above draft age. Why not ask the young men who must serve? It's their lives we are tinkering with.

At reception centers and replacement training centers, where young men fresh from civilian life are funneled into the Army, I talked with hundreds of draftees from every corner of America. There wasn't one who didn't want to serve his country. That wasn't the gripe. The big gripe, as one soldier summed it up was, "Can't we serve our country without getting our lives messed up? Why can't the draft make sense?"

The young men didn't stop at that. With surprising unanimity, they suggested a simple, logical system by which America could have its defense force and still give a better deal both to the Army and to those who go into it.

At Fort Meade, Maryland, James Brown was rolling up his civvies after getting into a uniform. He was twenty-five. Just two more months and he would have turned twenty-six and been undraftable. Brown had been married for six years. He had made a nice start in aircraft engine mechanics, in fact had just gone to work for North American Aviation after spending 16 months in Inglewood, California, schooling himself for a special license at a cost of $735. "I just got my license, I just got my job—now I'm drafted," said he. "It fouls up your whole life, after you work so hard to get everything set."

Brown wriggled his feet in their new Army

boots. "I don't mind it too much. You know what I mean—a fellow serves his country," he said. "But I'd sure rather have gone before I got married. A man wants to settle down and feel secure."

In Bremer, Iowa, Harold Pries was drafted at twenty-four, after four years of marriage and eight years of employment in a machine shop. "In 1946, when I really was the right age—and I wasn't married yet—they gave me an occupational deferment. I wish they had taken me then," Pries said. Because of the forced separation, Pries's wife, Doris, has gone to work in a cannery in Waverly, Iowa.

A Good Start with a Produce Route

In Louisville, Kentucky, the days of the uneasy peace saw Norbert Rehm get a start in the produce business. At only twenty, he had worked up a route, put out $3,700 for a truck and was talking to a young lady named Joyce Mercer about marriage. Well, I met Rehm in an Army camp. The draft had put an end to the produce route, the truck and—at least for a while—the marriage.

"I never expected to be drafted, because I was essential to the business," he said, a bit bewildered. "When I left, the business folded. I've got a mother and two younger brothers dependent on me. I was the only breadwinner."

"I had to sell the truck—and I couldn't get more than $1,700 for it. I had figured to keep it eight years to make it pay out—and now look."

Rehm concluded, "What I say is, you take a boy who's just out of high school and he's got nothing to lose. He's not doing anything anyway. Take me—if they drafted me at eighteen instead of now, I'd be out already."

I heard story after story like Rehm's: young men who finally, and often after great exertions, had got their start up the ladder, only to be yanked off. But even worse than messed-up careers were the disrupted marriages. In a time when marriage is unstable enough as it is, we should be doing our utmost to shore it up. Instead—

"We just got our furniture paid for three days before I got my induction papers," said Gerard Vetter, of Louisville, Kentucky. "We had to turn right around and put it in storage."

"I never expected to be drafted. We were married on June 4, 1950—that was before Korea," said Frederick Love, of Thornville, Ohio.

"I've been in the sportswear business seven years and been married for two years," said Marvin Wachnin, of Brooklyn, New York. "With this off-again, on-again picture in the world, my wife and I didn't know what to do. Finally we bought furniture and took an apartment. Then—I got drafted."

The draft had not been taking fathers (though a resurvey of dependency deferments had been suggested by Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey), yet I did meet several fathers and prospective fathers who were draftees. A technicality was involved. If a man could prove to the draft board that his wife was pregnant before he got his induction notice, he was deferred. If he couldn't prove it, or if his wife became pregnant later, the child was not grounds for deferment.

In the reception mess hall at Fort Meade, twenty-two-year-old Robert Stoletz, of Spring City, Pennsylvania, sat down to his first Army meal. He had arrived late at night, was still in his civvies. In his pocket he carried a doctor's certificate indicating that his wife was two months pregnant. Just 60 days ago he had been sent to take his preinduction examination. The exactitude of Selective Service had run up against the inexactitude of Mother Nature and, since Stoletz had been unable to nail down the matter before getting

HOMECOMING—

The usual dormitory and fraternity house decorations have been forsaken in order to concentrate all efforts on the production of some really outstanding floats. Thus far, this idea has met with wide-spread approval and the enthusiasm shown has been more than rewarding for the sponsors.
The annual Homecoming Dance will be held in Frank Thompson Gymnasium, music by the Duke Ambassadors from 8-12 p.m.

Miss Wolfpack will be crowned during the intermission period at the dance. Tickets at $2.00 per couple can be obtained from any Monogram Club member or from Lanier-Womble's, Johnson Lambe, Lewis' Sporting Goods Store, and the Field House.

Penned Opinions

To The Editor:

Is the power of the press too feeble to do anything about water standing on the bridge on Pullen Road? Can't the long arm of justice ever catch up with the person or persons responsible for keeping the bridge drained?

What makes a student riot? Doesn't wetting him and his best clothes help put him in a rebellious mood? What does one thing about after being deliberately splashed with liquid mud? Wouldn't keeping the bridge dry boost student morale, even more than a winning football team? Isn't it bad for one's health to be soaked with muddy water on a freezing day?

Why don't we get an effective student government?

Can't anything be done to the villain in the cream-colored Nash Rambler who just deliberately soaked me (and four others)?

A Student
Editor's Note: The preceding letter was referred to the College Engineer, J. McCrea Smith on Monday morning. Said he, "There has been a long-delayed work order out on this which calls for a trench to be dug across the road and a drain pipe to be laid." The remark was followed by a query addressed to Mr. Morris, standing nearby, concerning immediate action on the project. Both gentlemen intend to go over the plans as soon as possible, with an eye to speeding the work.

In the meantime, there is first aid treatment, of sorts, available. We offer this irate (a justly so) student all of our back issues for what they are worth. These could be laid down in the puddles mentioned and might prove, among other things, that THE TECHNICIAN is full of absorbing material, or that every story will hold water. It's worth a try anyway.

No Putters Allowed

The IDC tees off its social drive for the year with a semi-formal ball to be in the Coliseum on November 1. Nothing has been held back in planning what promises to be one of the most successful dances of the year according to IDC Social Chairman Roy Congleton, head of all the committees for the event. Furnishing the music for the ball, scheduled to be held in the Coliseum, is Reg Marshall and his twelve-piece ensemble from Winston-Salem. Marshall features the "Music You Love to Dance To," and brings with him both a male and female vocalist. The colored lights of the Coliseum will be used in the decorative scheme, and a figure formed at the intermission by the sponsors will add active beauty to the spacious dance floor.

In planning the semi-formal ball this year, the Inter-dormitory Council is endeavoring to set a precedent for the years to come. After much consideration the Councils of last year and this year concluded that one big dance of this type each year would be more satisfactory to

UN Dinner Soon

One of the most significant achievements in recent years has been adoption of the United Nations Charter by most of the civilized nations of the world, and the work that has been carried on by this organization in the fields of Agriculture, Labor, Health, Rehabilitation, and many other fields as well as the efforts made through it to find a solution for international disputes without recourse to armed combat. The United Nations buildings, which are among the most modern in the world, are located in New York City not far from Grand Central Station.

To celebrate the founding of the United Nations and its accomplishments, the N. C. State College will hold a banquet in the Grill Room of the College Cafeteria Wednesday, October 22, at 6:30 p.m. The cost will be one dollar a plate, and Harry E. Stewart is preparing an excellent dinner with chicken for all (except Dean Cloyd, who prefers meat from the hind quarter of a pig).

The tickets are printed, so go to the Y.M.C.A. desk, put your name on the list, and lay one dollar down for a ticket.

IDC BALL—

Views and Previews

FRANK DUNAGAN, Sports Editor

Pack Played "Real" Football and Won!

Hendrickson's boys came through in fine style Saturday in beating Davidson. The team almost looked as good as they do in practice. State does have good football material and will have a good football team before the year is out. The Pack showed power in the Davidson game but with some rough games approaching, more power will be needed.

Alex Webster looks like he might have a good season yet. He showed determination and spirit Saturday in picking up 88 yards in 19 carries. He caught two passes for a touchdown and 67 yards and personally accounted for seven first downs.

The entire team is to be congratulated for the fine play. The defensive unit did exceptionally well and rushed hard and fast. Davidson's Quarterback Jack Ruth was forced to hurry his passing and as a result only completed four of 14 attempts for a poor 38 yards. Two of his passes were intercepted.

Wyles and Newcomer Shine

Quarterback Carl Wyles completed seven of 13 passes for 126 yards and a touchdown for a very good average. Two of his throws were intercepted. Eddie West pitched three times, completed one for 22 yards and had one intercepted. The pass-slugging Eddie Frantz did not see action.

A man by the name of Harold Brown decided to go out for football week before last. Hendrickson let the ex-serviceman play defensive halfback against Davidson Saturday and as a result Brown, not even listed on the roster, played some of the best football ever seen in State's defensive backfield for some time. He not only stopped Davidson runners but intercepted two passes. If there are any other boys like Brown at State that might want to play some football, I feel sure that Hendrickson will welcome you.

Duke in for Rough Time

By the record books the Duke Blue Devils can expect a rough game tomorrow. During the past six years the Duke-State games have not been decided by more than one touchdown. Of these six games Duke has won four, lost once and tied once. The last State win was 13-6 in 1946 and the teams fought to a scoreless tie in 1948. The closest game was a 14-13 Duke win in 1949. Looking further back in the books Duke gave State its worse licking in the history of State football in 1943, 75-0.

The game tomorrow is expected to be a sure loss, but it should give Coach Hendrickson's boys some mighty good experience. Duke has a powerhouse and has one of the best running attacks in the country. If the young State players live through the game they are bound to pick up some valuable experience for future games. Maybe by Wake Forest time, November 1, the Pack will be ready to pull some surprises. A Big-Four win would make this season a great success.

I have been predicting games over the past two weeks and have a .756 batting average. I picked 16 out of 23 for .696 the first week and then improved with 34 out of 43 last week for .795. This week Jerry Armstrong and L. S. Rdee are trying their luck. Here goes:

Mazgaj Returns

Pack Face Undeclared Blue Devils

State plays host to the nationally rated powerful Duke Blue Devils tomorrow in Riddick Stadium. The kickoff will be at 2 p.m.

The Blue Devils are undefeated with four wins over Washington and Lee, Southern Methodist, Tennessee and South Carolina. This record places Duke among the top ten teams nationally—something that hasn't happened to a Big-Four member since Carolina featured Charlie Justice and Art Weiner in 1949.

The Pack won their first game Saturday over Davidson, 28-6, after losing by big margins to George Washington and Georgia. Great improvements were shown in the Davidson win over the previous weeks and the Pack might prove troublesome to the winning Blue Devils.

Duke has proven strong in every department. Its running game is one that usually plows through the middle of the line and picks up yardage plus. In four games the Dukes have accumulated 1,082 rushing yardage, over 270 per game. Jack Kistler, Charlie Smith, Red Smith and Quarterback Worth Lutz are a few of the reasons for Duke's power.

The Blue Devils offer one of the strongest lines the Pack will face all season. The defensive unit held the strong Tennessee eleven to a total offensive yardage of 34. Four strong opponents have been held to a total of 14 points this season while the offensive team of Duke rolled for 88 points.

The Blue Devils usually stick to the running game but have proven highly destructible in the air. Lutz handles the passing chores for the Devils and has completed 16 of 27 attempts for five touchdowns. End Howard Pitt leads the receivers by tagging nine passes for 131 yards and all five scores.

Pitt caught one pass against Washington and Lee in a warm up game and then was on the receiving end for both scores in the close win over Southern Methodist, 14-7. He also scored twice against South Carolina.

Offense Finally Rolls

Fullback Joe Barringer (31) is shown ripping off 15 yards against Davidson Saturday. Barringer was stopped on the 6 and Quarterback Carl Wyles scored three plays later for State's final score. State won 28-6. Others are Chris Frauenhofer (23) and Davidson's Arnold Whisnant (52). (Photo taken by Stephens, News and Observer staff member and former State College student.)

Tommy O'Connell of Illinois was chosen United Press backfield-of-the-week. He netted 262 air yards and five touchdown passes against the Washington Huskies. Illinois won 48-14.

Pack Wins, 28-6

Power Revealed In Win Over Wildcats

State's power was unveiled for the first time this season as the Pack scored an impressive 28-6 win over the Davidson Wildcats in Riddick Stadium Saturday before 5,500 surprised fans.

Carl Wyles, Alex Webster and Don Langston were the offensive leaders in the early minutes as the Pack scored the first two times they had their hands on the ball. Webster crossed from the one foot line for a TD drive that went 45 yards. Four minutes later Langston crashed the Davidson line from the one yard line after End Dick Tyler recovered a Davidson fumble on the 20.

Late in the second period a Wyles to Webster pass went 42 yards for the third Pack touchdown of the game and season.

The Pack took the kickoff opening the third period and drove down the field for their final score. Joe Barringer and Webster did most of the running but it was Carl Wyles who carried over from the one foot line. Captain Ray Barkouski's true toe made the four placements good.

The lone Davidson touchdown came midway in the third period when Johnny Gray took a hand-off from Quarterback Jack Ruth and out-ran everyone 64 yards into pay dirt. Guard Dickie Davis's secondary blocking was all that Gray needed in the sprint.

State's defense played its best game of the season. The Davidson offense was held to one first down in the first half and that came on a pass play that covered 10 yards. End Dave Butler, Barkouskie, End Harry Lodge and Guard John Bagonis were a few of the stand-outs.

Davidson won the toss and elected to receive. Barkouskie kicked to Bobby Renn who fumbled and finally fell on the ball on the 15. Three running plays carried to the 18 where Renn got off a bad punt to the Davidson 45.

Four carries by Langston and Webster moved the ball to the 33 for a first down. Langston went through the middle for 9 and Webster picked up a second first down on the 20. A pitch-out to William Teer around left end carried for 14 to the 6. Webster and Langston moved the ball to the one foot line where Webster crashed over center for the score. Barkouskie's placement was good and State led 7-0 after six minutes.

Renn took Barkouskie's kick on the 6 and returned to the 28. Full-back Leroy Fargason went off tackle for 4 but a second run by the big fullback lost 6 yards. Half-back Roy White took a pitchout from Ruth on the next play but White fumbled and End Dick Tyler recovered for State on Davidson's 21.

Teer carried for 2 and two plunges by Langston moved the ball to the 5. Wyles was thrown for a loss to the 14 while looking for a pass receiver. Teer went around left end for 13 to the 1 and Langston scored standing up. Barkouskie kicked the point and State led 14-0.

Late in the second period a bad punt by Renn went out of bounds 10 yards from the line of scrimmage on the Davidson 47. Quarterback Eddie West faded to pass but was trapped and ran for 4. Langston carried through the middle to the 42 and this set the stage for the Wyles to Webster touchdown pass. Barkouskie's true toe gave the

Injuries

State will be near top strength tomorrow when it meets Duke. Tackle John Szuchan, a 220-pound freshman from Blairsville, Pa., is the only State player definitely out of action.

It was announced early this week that Guard Ed Maszaj, a sophomore from Lackawanna, N. Y., will be ready for action for the first time this season. Maszaj suffered a broken shoulder in pre-season practice.

Frat Intramurals

By ED STRICKLAND

Intramural sports are just arriving on the scene this week and it looks like a good year. The first day's play gave the SAE's a 6-0 win over Sigma Chi. The PKA took the KA group down the line for a 19-0 ride while the descending foot-balls champions at the TKE house lost a 6-0 game to Theta Chi.

Most of the houses are planning a party this weekend for their new pledges. All of this of course after State plays Duke Saturday afternoon.

Get your boys together and leave early for the game. If you can sit as a group you are more likely to give the cheerleaders a hand when they start the old chant of Beat Dook, Beat Dook, Beat Dook.

Officers

The Wolfpack Club last week had one of its first meetings of the year and the main purpose of the meeting was the election of their new members.

The officers were as follows: Sheppard Griswald, president; Clyde Garrison, vice-president; Jim Hillman, treasurer; Dick McGillis, recorder; Paul O'Hara, secretary; Moe Zollagari, publicity chairman; Harvey Yeates, sergeant at arms.

Harriers Defending Conference Champs

By JERRY ARMSTRONG

Someone once said, "victories aren't won by an individual but by a team" and this seems to sum up our versatile Wolfpack Cross-Country Team to the minute detail.

Last Friday this fact was proven in an impressive way as the harriers scored a 15-40 win over Duke's Blue Devils on a wet, soggy track. State's Southern Conference champions, led by Captain Clyde Garrison and "Buzzy" Sawyer, continued to set a very hot pace in the Southern Conference standing by completely monopolizing the first five places.

The win was the first for the Wolfpack on the Duke course in five years. During Coach Fitzgibbons stay at State he has a record of 21 wins, one tie, and one defeat and out of these wins he has only taken one meet on Duke's home course.

The first mile of the four mile grind saw two Duke men, Tate and Raimonda, holding a commanding 20 yard lead; but going up to the first hill State's two big wolves, Garrison and Sawyer, ate up the distance to take a big lead which proved to be the deciding margin in the meet. Coming into the home stretch Garrison and Sawyer were neck and neck and finished in a tie for first place with a time of 20:39.

State placed a man in each of the first five positions to take a perfect low score of 15. The runners as they placed in the meet are as follows:

Name	School	Time
1st place Garrison	State	20:39
Sawyer	State	20:39
3rd place Shockley	State	21:14
4th place Miller	State	21:19

Pack Improving

The Pack got off to a slow start this season and have only shown offense in their last game. The young players are improving but it is doubtful that they'll be able to stop the powerful Dukes.

The passing attack will be State's most deadly weapon. The ground gainers were impressive against Davidson last week but the Duke defense will probably be too much for many runs. Carl Wyles and Eddie West will be counted on heavily to pass the Pack into paydirt. Eddie Frantz and Webster are also capable passers.

Top receivers on the Pack roster are Webster, Steve Kosilla, Don Davidson and John Thompson. Webster caught two passes against Davidson for 67 yards and a touchdown. Eight of 16 passes were caught for 149 yards.

The defensive unit from West Raleigh played its best ball against Davidson Saturday after a slow start. Four strong defensive teams have failed to stop the Blue Devils this season and the Pack will have their hands full tomorrow. Dave Butler, Bob Paroli and Henry Brown will lead the improving defensive team.

BABY PACK MEETS DUKE

State College junior varsity football team will meet the Duke Jayvees in Duke Stadium this afternoon at three o'clock.

Both teams have played the Wake Forest Deacons in thrilling games. The Pack beat the Deacs four weeks ago, 19-13, with the winning touchdown coming in the last two minutes. Last week the Duke Deacs came from behind in the fourth period to defeat the Duke Jayvees, 20-12. The Pack will be a slight favorite.

TIM TEMERARIO

End Coach

The appointment of C. A. (Tim) Temerario, former end coach and chief scout with the Cleveland Browns as football end coach and defensive coach at State College was announced last April by Dr. H. A. Fisher, chairman of the college athletic council.

Temerario, a native of Lorraine, Ohio, has an extensive background in both collegiate and professional football circles. A graduate of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, Temerario holds a Master's degree in Education from Indiana University and has completed a major portion of his work toward a doctorate in Physical Education.

Following his collegiate gridiron career at Geneva College and his graduation in 1931, Temerario played one season of professional football before entering the coaching ranks of East Liverpool, Ohio High School. In 1934 Temerario accepted an appointment as freshman line coach at the University of Indiana and remained until 1938 when he moved to Denison University as football line coach and head basketball coach.

At Denison Temerario served as assistant professor of Physical Education and worked in both football and baseball. In 1941 Temerario left Denison to become a physical education instructor at Indiana University and football end coach under Coach Bo McMillian.

Temerario entered the Navy in 1942 and served in the V-5 program under Captain Tom Hamilton. His first assignment was at the Iowa Pre-Flight School at Iowa City, Iowa, where he worked with Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota coach as head of athletic department and assistant football coach.

During his Navy service Temerario saw overseas duty in both the Philippines and during the invasion of Normandy. He was twice commended during the invasion of France.

Temerario was released from the Navy in September of 1945 and immediately took over as head line coach at Indiana University. He remained at Indiana through 1947 when he joined Coach Bo McMillian in a move to the professional Detroit Lions. Temerario remained with the Lions through 1949 when (Continued on Page 10)

DAVIDSON—

Dan McCall kicked off for Davidson to open the second half and Langston returned to the 42. Webster went through center for 18 to the Davidson 41. Three plays later Wyles completed a pass to End Steve Kosilla on the 30 but State accepted a penalty that put the ball on the 25. Webster carried to the 20 in two plays, Teer to the 19 and then Barringer went off-tackle for 13 to the Davidson 6. Webster moved the ball to the one foot marker in two carries and a quarterback sneak by Wyles gave State its final touchdown. Barkowski kicked true and State led 28-0 after five minutes of the third period.

The rest of the game was played on fairly even terms. State drove to the Davidson 9 late in the third period but lost the ball on downs. Davidson drove to the State 35 twice in the final period but a fumble and a pass interception stopped both drives. The game ended with State in possession of the ball on the Davidson 49.

COACH—

In his two seasons with the Cleveland Browns, Temerario gained a wide reputation for his ability as defensive coach. This year his services were sought by several professional teams but Temerario turned down one particularly attractive offer from the Dallas Texans, formerly the New York Yankees, to become end coach; in order to take the position at State.

Commenting on Temerario's appointment, Head Coach Horace Hendrickson said, "We are very fortunate in securing the service of Temerario as our end and defensive coach. I have admired his work for many years while he was with Bo McMillian at Indiana and later with the Detroit Lions and Cleveland Browns. Tim turned down a very good offer with the professional league to be here with us and I know he'll mean a tremendous lot to our ball club."

Mazgaj was a starter on the offensive unit at the time of his injury. Last year he sustained a broken wrist in pre-season drills and could not play.

Fullback Don Langston injured a knee in the Davidson game but is expected to be ready for tomorrow's battle. Szuchan also suffered a knee injury and will be sidelined for at least two weeks.

Reports from Durham stated four key men were on the Duke Blue Devil injury list early this week. Fullback Jack Kistler and End Bill Keziah missed the South Carolina game Saturday but will probably be ready tomorrow. Halfback Nick McKeithan and offensive Tackle Carl Holben received ankle injuries in Saturday's game but McKeithan is the only one expected to miss the State game.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
