No Lost Time To Result From Change To Semesters

Chancellor Carey H. Bostian announced this week that no student enrolled at North Carolina State College will be penalized by the change to the semester system. The Deans and Directors of Instructions have been authorized by the Faculty Council to make adjustments in requirements for graduation so that no student will be required to be in residence longer than is necessary at the present time to secure his degree.

Chancellor Bostian said that there may be a few instances where a student may be required to be in residence a semester to complete requirements when one-quarter might be sufficient.

The chancellor wants every student to know that they will not be penalized in any other way because of the transition to the semester system.

Barrett Makes Further Statement

Last week I presented to you my platform which set forth the general principals by which I would be guided next year. Now I would like to point out some particular ideas in which I believe, and for which I will work next year.

1) Students Supply Stores:
a. A complete study of the terms of Mr. Ivey's contract which expires in January, 1955, preferably by an administration-student committee is necessary.

b. Mr. Ivey's present 20% of net profits bonus should be reduced considerably or his position should be strictly a salaried one.

c. A part of the profits from the Stores should be set aside in a fund for the physical improvement of the campus. This has been done in the past and should never have been discontinued.

d. Students should have a direct hand in setting the policy of the Stores. I propose a Board of Directors to set this policy, the Board to be composed of students and faculty members.

e. Higher prices should be paid by the Stores for used books, and lower prices should be charged by Board recognizes two years experience on student publications when accepting nominees. I have been approved by the Publications Board and have had three years experience in responsible positions on the Agromeck staff. During my freshman and sophomore years I was chief photographer for the Agromeck, and this year I was the photography editor. Because of my work in this capacity, I have been intimately associated with all of the various editors; and I know the qualities that are necessary for the making of a good editor. I know also the little things that can make for success or failure of the Agromeck."

"If given the opportunity to use this valuable knowledge that I have gained during the last three years, I feel that I can guide the staff that will give you a yearbook of which you will be proud."

Wynn Seeks Post On Judicial Board

Willard Wynn, a candidate for the Judicial Board from the rising senior class, is trying to nail his platform together with a few last-minute strokes.

Willard is a junior in Agronomy from Raleigh. He has served on the honor committee from that department.

He expressed his viewpoint in a statement to the TECHNICIAN: "The Judicial Board ought to develop into one of the strongest functions of the Student Government. The way it has been drawn up is ideal. It stands for the best because it stands for justice, and justice is the best of anything anywhere. Justice is what we need at State College."

"More than anything else I want to see a strong Judicial Board. It doesn't make any difference to me who is elected as long as ten good men are chosen to handle the job. more interested in working with. But I would like to say that I am this Board next year with any other organization on the campus.

"I have tried to fight for what I thought was right through my departmental honor committee through editorials in the Agriculturist, and through decisions on the campus jury. I would greatly like to have the opportunity to follow through next year.

"I really have no platform. I want to see only one thing, and that's fairness straight down the line and for everyone on the campus."

business staff of the Agromeck. In addition he is now advertising manager of the Agromeck, Vice-president of the Scabbard and Blade, member of the campus government, member of the IDC, member of the Tompkins Textile Council, member of Phi Psi Textile Fraternity, and temporary member of the Judicial Board and hold-over member for next year.

In a statement released to the TECHNICIAN John stated:

"During the past two years as a member of the Agromeck staff, I have had the opportunity to gain valuable experience in the publishing of a year book. During this time I have made what I consider important contacts in both the publishing as well as in the business end. My main interest in the Agromeck is to give the students a good book, one which they will be proud of having and one that will represent the students. I feel that this book should be what the students want and not what an editor wants, and I plan to give the students just that."

"I realize that the editorship will be a full time job if done properly. Therefore I'm planning to devote my full time to this job. I feel that the experience gained through my dorm work as well as other activities will be a great asset to me in organizing and publishing the 1955 Agromeck. I appreciate the confidence that the students have given me in past elections and hope that I can continue to serve them next year as editor."

Talk At "Y" On Life On A Cattle Boat

On Thursday, April 22, Mr. John Wesley Clay will come to State College campus to recount an interesting narrative concerning life at sea on board a cattle boat.

Appearing under the auspices of the YMCA, Mr. Clay will relate the true story of his adventures and unusual experiences in conveying horses and sugar to needy European countries during the reconstruction period immediately following the second World War. The subject of Mr. Clay's account is "High Adventure."

Plan now to hear this interesting speaker at 7:00 p.m. in the YMCA auditorium on Thursday, April 22.

Under the new constitution of the student government a provision for the increase in the number of representatives to the Council has been made. Heretofore each of the six schools on the campus has been equally represented to the government irrespective of the number of students enrolled. The new provision facilitates for a more equal representation according to population. A minimum of one representative will be chosen from each class in each school, with one additional representative for each 200 students (or 50 per cent fraction thereof) within that class.

The total number of representatives, by population, to be chosen from each school by classes during the coming elections is as shown below.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

Chaplin Hounding Comes To N.C.

Officers of the Kinston American Legion Post recently opposed the showing of four of Charlie Chaplin's old comedies in that city. We don't know just what reason they gave for their opposition but assume that it was because Chaplin, even though he lived in this country for many years, chose never to become an American citizen and because his personal life, while probably as savory as that of tens of thousands of other people living in this country including some members of the Kinston Legion, has not been what they thought it should be. He has also been accused of having Communist sympathies.

Chaplin comedies have been shown on this campus several times recently and will, we hope, be shown again for the simple reason that they are funny. We have always thought comedies were supposed to be funny, that the object in making them was to induce people to laugh and that if they did not achieve this goal they failed. But we have never heard that they needed also to be made by men tolerated by such groups of self-appointed arbiters of morals and americanism as the American Legion.

Chaplin is considered a great artist in many countries of the western world and as such is treated with respect. What he produces as an artist should be judged solely on the basis of its quality as a movie.

It is unfortunate that the sponsors of the film in Kinston felt it necessary to explain to the Legion that they would cancel the showings but for the fact that it was too late to do so. They should have told the Legionnaires to go on back to their uniforms, their poker, their slot machines, their drinking or whatever activities they engage in when not passing judgment on films they probably haven't seen made by men they know nothing first-hand about.

On Friday evening, April 9, a series of Student One-Act Plays were put on by three State fraternities. The plays were under the auspices of the College Union Theater Committee. The productions presented were: HEAT LIGHTNING by Robert F. Carroll, Pi Kappa Phi; MOON UP by Robert Arthur, Alpha Gamma Rho; and THE BYRONIC by Carl E. Varney, Sigma Chi.

The plays were well received by an enthusiastic audience and considering the lack of time for practice and the presentation by amateurs, they were well performed. Except for a few scattered flat lines and a few miscues, everything came off well. Some of the miscues such as "You won't need your sheriff, Gun" proved highly amusing and were carried off by the actors like star, veteran performers. Perhaps something would have

Parker To Run For Technician Editor

John Parker, a junior in Textiles has announced his candidacy for Editor of the TECHNICIAN. He is from Goldsboro, North Carolina and is majoring in weaving and design.

Parker has been Cartoonist and is now Feature Editor of the TECHNICIAN. He is a member of the executive honor council, Arnold Air Society, Secretary of the Junior Class and Decorations Committee Chairman of the Ring Dance. He is also a pledge of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

In a statement to be released, he said, "Rather than make any rash promises as to what I will do if I am elected, I'd just like to say that it is my intent to print a paper which will be a credit to the college, remembering that the TECHNICIAN is a STUDENT newspaper."

Veterans Association Makes Social Plans

The Veterans Association held their first meeting of the spring term on April 7 in the "Y" auditorium. During the meeting nominations were held for the new officers of the 54-55 year. These men will be voted upon by secret ballot at the next meeting of the association.

For quite some time now the group has been discussing plans for a social. The club chose a stag party to be held at Crabtree Creek State Park on the night of April 30. At that time the new officers for the 54-55 year will be installed. Veterans are urged to go to next meeting on Wednesday night, April 21 at 7:00 in the "Y" auditorium in order to get an accurate list for the party.

The following communication has been given to the TECHNICIAN by Mr. Bert Kalet of the State College Veterans Association:

"The Veterans' Association of North Carolina State College has begun a program urging the students not to walk on the grass. Numerous signs have been placed about the campus which inform the students that new grass has been planted. Our purpose is to keep the students from trampling these newly seeded sections, which if left to grow will beautify our campus. The college engineering personnel is helping us in our efforts by sowing new grass; and after the seeds have been planted, members of the Association are placing these signs at places where they will be most appropriate. This project needs the cooperation of all students. If one person cuts across a newly seeded section of lawn, then our whole program is defeated. Please keep off the grass!"

"This is the time of year when plants begin to grow. This is the time of year when all lawns and

State To See Play By Barter Theater

By Pete Guthmann
This year, April 23 at 8:00 P.M. to be exact, The Barter Theater of Virginia will present "Mr. Pim Passes By"—a play by A. A. Milne in Pullen Hall.

In past years, Barter has been very well received on campus, and there is no doubt that it will again be this year: The cast has improved, if that was even possible, and the play is refreshingly delightful. As an aftermath, the College Union Social Committee will sponsor a coffee hour in Peele Hall Lounge for us to see old friends on the cast, and also to meet new ones.

Barter Theater is sponsored by the College Union Theater Committee, and admission will be as usual—Student Registration Card, dates free; C. U. Membership card; or $1.50 per head otherwise.

"Collegians" To Play For Jr.-Sr. Ring Dance

The annual Junior-Senior Ring Dance is to be held in Reynolds Coliseum on Saturday, April 24 at 8:00 p.m. The dance is formal but as is custom at State College, flowers will not be sent to dates. The popular "Collegians" of E.C.C. who have quickly built themselves a reputation for smooth music are playing for the dance.

Considerable effort is being made to make this dance one of the most successful ring dances in several years. A new note in decorations should add considerably. Tradition will be carried on by having the ring ceremony as the feature of the evening with all Juniors participating in the formal acceptance of Class Rings.

The class officials are making an appeal for cooperation from classmates in putting on the dance. Class members able to help should see any of the following: Gene Warren, president; Dick Reed, vice-president; John Parker, secretary and decorations committee chairman; David Bagwell, treasurer and finance committee chairman; Frank Clinard, ceremony committee chairman; Banks Leonard, building committee chairman; John Gregg, music committee.

Lennon Manager To Speak Here

John Rodman, Campaign Manager of Senator Lennon, will be the principal speaker of the Young Democrats Club Wednesday night April 21 at 8:00 in Room 242 Riddick.

Mr. Rodman will present to the members and the public the qualifications of Senator Lennon, and his record in the United States Senate.

All students, faculty, and anyone interested should attend and listen to Mr. Rodman give the position his candidate takes on important matters relating to the welfare of the United States.

"HASTY HEART"

tenpol, substituting for Bob Mims, the cast successfully exploited all of the possibilities of pathos and humor in this play about a young Scotch soldier whose fatal illness is known to his buddies in a tropical hospital ward, but not to himself.

The nine roles were uniformly well cast. Dick Dabney gave an understanding and convincing interpretation to the lead role of Lachie, displaying genuine character development as the young Scotch soldier changed from an unfriendly and taciturn individual into a kindly, lovable person. In addition, Dabney showed a mastery of the difficult Scotch accent. With regard to accents, Fred Summers also gave an accurate rendering of the Cockney accent in the role of the obese but irrepressible Tommy. Martha Magill as Margaret, the nurse, played the part with spirit and won the hearts of all her patients.

The set for the play was sufficiently drab and realistic for a ward in a temporary tropical hospital; the costuming was simple and uncomplicated, since it consisted mainly of GI pajamas; and since lighting was well handled.

been lacking without these little incidences.

The Pi Kappa Phi presentation was awarded the "Best Play" plaque. The play was a murder story taking place in a country bus station. An outstanding lighting and sound system and a memorable performance by the heroine, Vicki Shedan, made HEAT LIGHTNING deserve the award it received.

Alpha Gamma Rho received the cups for both the "Best Actress" and "Best Actor." These awards went to Jackie Culler and Jack Daughtry, respectively. MOON UP concerned itself with two brothers, the hero and the villain; one, a model son and the other, an escaped convict. The performers gave a good account of themselves.

THE BYRONIC was a story about hero-worship. Clarence Bostian played the part of a man obsessed with the idea that he had every trait of the poet, Lord Byron. Perhaps, except for a streak of forgetfulness on one line, Bostian's performance was one of the better of the evening.

In all three productions, the supporting actors put body into the plays and they have reason to be proud of the part they contributed. All in all, the evening proved exceptionally entertaining. Had there been a comedy or a musical, the program would have been one of well-varied theatre. With fifteen other fraternities on campus, these could easily have been produced.

yards are green. This is the time of year to see beautiful, well-kept lawns, but it is not the time of year to see a beautiful lawn marred by a narrow, barren path through the midst of greenness. Please keep off the grass!

"Anyone who has ever seen the campus of Duke University or of the University of North Carolina is naturally impressed with the neatness and cleanness of their lawns. This impression is accomplished only by the full cooperation of their students. Those who would mar the appearance of those campuses are frowned upon. Our campus too could be beautiful enough to create attention. Please keep off the grass!"

"We all agree that a beautiful lawn adds much beauty to a home, and the same is true of a college campus. Beautiful lawns are no longer beautiful if a path is seen cutting through the middle. These paths are only the product of laziness. It takes but a minute longer to keep on the paved walks, thus allowing a newly planted lawn to take hold and last for many years to come. Please keep off the grass!

It is said that students here at State College lack pride in their school. By launching this program, the Veterans' Association hopes to create that missing pride. Alumni from other schools boast of their beautiful grounds, but at the present, we here at State College have nothing to say. However, if we all cooperate in this program, we can soon boast of a beautiful campus too.

Please keep off the grass!

George Lourigan of Kenosha, Wis., a senior at the college, presented a technical paper in a student contest in competition with students from Clemson College. Lourigan's paper was entitled "Factors Affecting the Florescent Characteristics of Cotton."

Other representatives from the School of Textiles at N. C. State who attended the meeting were Kenneth S. Campbell, professor of textile chemistry, and G. Meares Randolph, research associate in chemical research.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

Late for your date? She hates to wait?
Need something nice to soothe her?
Give her a round, firm Lucky Strike—
They're cleaner, fresher, smoother!

W. T. Donoghue

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

The Wolfpack of N. C. State was supposed to play a game of baseball against the Citadel this past Tuesday, but due to an odd mixup the game had to be called off. It seems that the powers that be at the Citadel were under the assumption that the game with the Wolfpack was supposed to be played in Raleigh the afternoon of the 13 of May instead of its rightful date of the 13 of April. This schedule difficulty was, of course, unknown to both the players and the coaches at State; and until almost one hour after scheduled game time, the Wolfpack was still taking their pre game warmups. However the situation was finally cleared up, and the game will be replayed at a later date in the season.

In a track meet held in Durham last week, the State track team lost its initial dual meet of the season to Joe Shankle and Co. This outstanding junior scored more points for Duke than the whole State team was able to rack up against the home team. Shankle, if he keeps on improving in all phases of his track and field specialties, will almost certainly be in a very good position to qualify for the 1956 Olympic Games.

This past weekend, the University of North Carolina lost its first dual tennis match in many a moon to the Tigers of Princeton University. The men of Old Nassau, having tasted defeat at the hands of the classy Carolina squad the day before, bunched back to beat the Tar Heels and thus gave the men from Chapel Hill their first net defeat in over two years of inter-collegiate play. In all fairness to Carolina, it must be reported that after they had bested the Tigers on the opening day, both coaches got together and decided to juggle their lineups for the second day's play. Thus, the Princetonians were aided by this change and went on to win.

Blue Devils Rout Wolfpack In Track As Shankle Stars

Coach Bob Chambers' Duke track team won its first dual meet of the season defeating North Carolina State, 109½-15½.

As usual it was the brilliant junior Joel Shankle leading the Blue Devils with 16½ points, one more than the entire State team could tally. He garnered firsts in the low and high hurdles and the pole vault, and tied for third in the high jump.

The outstanding performances were Shankle's times in the hurdles events. His 14.5 seconds over the high timbers was just two-tenths of a second off the Duke record, which Shankle already has tied this year in the Florida Relays.

Blue Devil Durham Lawshe and Chuck Novak scored two firsts each. Lawshe's came in his specialties, the shot put and discus, while Novak captured both dashes. Camp Lejeune comes to Durham Saturday in the next meet for the Blue Devils.

The summary:
Mile run—1. Reese, Duke. 2. Spearman, Duke. 3. Miller, State. 4:36.1.

THE Dorm Corner

By Jerry Armstrong

The game with the "birdie" and the only sport where close is good enough to win started this week in Thompson Gym and on Doak Field with the entrance of badminton and "the sport of the ringers," horseshoes, respectively. Softball is going along in a fast pace and will be joined very soon by an even faster sport, intramural track. Softball

Welch bounced back this week after taking a defeat last week to top the nine lads from Tucker No. 1 by the score of 11-7. The boys from Welch-Gold-Fourth started with a blast by scoring nine of their eleven runs in the first inning on five hits and five walks. These nine runs proved to be the decisive margin against Tucker, as they tried desperately to tie the game with three runs in each of the last two frames. Fore was the "big gun" for Welch with his three hits for as many times at bat and Vargo led the losers with two hits for three times at bat.

Bagwell was out for "blood" in their game with Turlington No. 1, but they were foxed, as the Turlis faked them out, by donating a forfeit. The leading hitter for Bagwell was Sanderson, "he felt hot."

The Berry "Sportsmen" took their second straight game in fairly easy fashion by downing Syme No. 1-Stadium, 8-3. Bert Weeks was impressive again this week for Berry with his hurling as he allowed only three hits and fanned seven men. Hair, Weeks, Armstrong, Hartis, Green, Corbitt collected hits and Mayhew added a homer for the "Sportsmen" with Moody, Bullard, and Wilkins handling the "lumber" for the losers.

In a close battle that went right down to the wire with both teams collecting five hits, the Alexander (Continued on page 7)

Bevo Gets Hevo From Rio Grande

Scoring wizard Clarence (Bevo) Francis, who put little Rio Grande College on the nation's basketball map, was out of school because of "non-attendance at classes."

Dean W. A. Lewis said that the committee on instruction met and decided to drop Francis because of too many absences and failure to make up some examinations. The action meant that Francis was out of school for the remainder of the semester.

It was believed, however, that Francis, who holds the nation's small college season scoring mark at 1,255 points, was through for good at Rio Grande. He said last week that he was considering quitting school for "financial reason," although he had two more years of eligibility remaining.

The college said Bevo had not attended a class in two weeks and that he had made up only one of his missed examinations.

Rio Grande Coach Newt Oliver was apparently on his way out too, because he said in an announcement following Francis' that "if Bevo goes, I go too."

Oliver said the college had not informed him of the decision to drop Francis from school, but added, "nothing around here surprises me anymore."

Batting-Barbee Leads A.C.C.

Virginia sophomore outfielder Allen Barbee took over first place in the official batting race with a lusty .487 in eight games through Saturday.

Competition was keen for the No. 1 spot, with players on three other teams batting over .400. These included Clemson shortstop Barry Crocker (.444), Maryland outfielder Chester Hanulak (.437) and North Carolina State second baseman Jack Turney (.427).

Clemson's Roy Coker and Wyman Morris are still high in the individual departments. Coker's 19 hits and three triples and Morris' four home runs and 13 runs batted in are leading the circuit, now in its first baseball season.

North Carolina's Connie Gravitte a .350 hitter, took over the lead in runs scored with 14. His three two base hits ties him with Clemson's Coker, Wake Forest's Dickie Harris and Duke's Al Spangler.

Spangler took undisputed lead in the stolen base department with a total of nine in nine games.

Last week's hitting leader, Wake Forest's Frank McRae (.467), ran into some hard luck. After going zero for six trips at bat, he broke his foot in the second contest with South Carolina to finish the season with .333.

It is also quite remarkable to note the frequency with which the Globetrotters have beaten the All Stars in their nation-wide basketball world series tour. The Stars probably have at their disposal the finest basketball personnel ever to wear the All Star livery. However, the Trotters still manage to take the Stars to the cleaners almost every time they take the court. Perhaps a logical explanation for this fact may be found by remembering that the Trotters have, for the most part, played together for many years. In this time they come to learn every movement that each of their teammates is capable of making. This knowledge cannot help but give them a tremendous advantage over any opponent that steps on the court against them. This advantage should not be overlooked when judging the relative merits of both of these fine teams.

The major league pennant races have already opened, and this season promises to be quite a year for baseball. Since there no longer is any professional ball being played in this immediate area, the fans around the Carolinas will probably be looking more and more to the big leagues for their baseball entertainment. The races in both major leagues will most probably be close right down to the final days of the season. The Yankees and the Dodgers were the winter book choices by most of the so called experts. However, teams like the White Sox, Indians, Braves, and Giants could very well come on to take it all in their respective leagues this year.

No. 1 team out-lasted the Owen No. 2 nine and took the 7-5 victory. Alexander jumped off to a fast 7-0 lead in the second inning, but Owen rallied in the third frame for five big runs and almost tied the game. Owen tried with earnest in the last inning to tie the game by loading the bases, but fell short when the second baseman, Davis, made the last out retiring the sides. Lyda and Ramsey collected two hits for Owen and Mitchel and Gray each collected one hit and scored two runs for the winners.

Ferguson pitched two-hit ball for Syme No. 2, but lost his four run lead when his team made several consecutive errors and gave the game, "which was in the bag," to the team from Becton No. 1, 8-7. Caudle collected two hits for Syme.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

"I didn't know there was such a job"

EMMETT SMITH, E. E., '50, never heard of telephone traffic work, but what he saw of the job intrigued him. He explains how it worked out.

(Reading time: 40 seconds)

Emmett Smith supervises operation of this training switchboard, which he originally helped to design.

"Communications have always been one of my main interests—in the Navy and at the University of Michigan. So I was very happy when the Michigan Bell Telephone Company invited me to visit their headquarters to talk about a job.

"In Detroit I had a chance to look at a number of departments, including one I'd never heard of before, the Traffic Department. I found that, in addition to the engineering of switchboards, its work involved the supervision and the actual handling of customer calls. It struck me like a wonderful opportunity to combine staff engineering and field management.

"My first impression was right, too, because my work covered both. First, I had on-the-job training assignments in several different kinds of offices—local, Long Distance, dial and manual. Then

I worked in engineering, translating estimates of future growth into the actual number of circuits and switchboard positions required.

"Now I'm supervising the operation of one of the boards I helped engineer. Briefly, my job is to see that my district gets the kind of equipment it needs and that what we have is functioning properly. Working with people is another major part of my job, too, because I serve in an advisory capacity to the supervisors of the Long Distance operators.

"Needless to say, I'm happy with my job. A job I didn't even know existed."

Emmett Smith's job is with a Bell Telephone Company. There are similar opportunities for college people with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

CHEEK—

is a good one. The combination of the two can and will greatly improve Alumni-Student relationship. I'm for this all the way.

CUTS—Work is now well under way for a revised cut system. I promise to push a new and better system in any way possible. With hard work on this point we might get unlimited cuts for Juniors and Seniors like they have in other colleges. I vote a definite YES for this.

INTRAMURALS—One of the best places to promote sportsmanship and fair play (honor) is in our campus athletics. Let's all take part and push our program as it's now set up, while trying to make improvements. With any luck at all we can get the new field beside Tucker dorm lighted for night games. This idea is a few years old, but I feel a needed project.

COLLEGIATE ATHLETICS—The student body now has the chance to back a fine football coach in Earle Edwards. Let's give the players our support during the practice and playing seasons as we have given the basketball and baseball teams. Don't sell the minor sports short though. They need cheering sections too. I'm for them.

THE MOP UP—I think a board of directors, which would include students, could keep this campus monopoly well in hand. They would be in the know. The old Mop Up contract runs out next year. I would make sure that the students would be on the new board. By the last contract we could have been represented, but we weren't. Enough said. We must get our views in on this matter. I will be glad to talk to you about this and my definite ideas at any time.

ORIENTATION WEEK—Remember your first week at State as a Freshman? Plans are now under way for a better program for new students. I will gladly support and work for a completely new set up which will make the new State men feel at home from the first.

MARRIED COUPLES HOUSING—The barracks won't stand forever in Verville. Since marriage is here to stay, let's get to work right now for a permanent housing project.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION AND STUDENT GOVERNMENT—Naturally I will whole-heartedly back this new system of government and Judicial Board. But the new constitution clearly states that the Judicial Board will interpret the constitution when an interpretation is needed. This is NOT the job of the president. Also the Vice President will completely carry on the meetings of Student Government. This allows the president more time for public relations work outside the school, student body gripes such as mud, etc., and other work within the school. Please think about the above paragraph. Thanks.

Just a few final comments. As in the past, I will always act in accordance with the majority vote or view in any matter which might come up. I promise to work for any movement which will further the student in Raleigh, North Carolina, and here on the campus. I always did like a square deal.

If elected, I will write a weekly article for the TECHNICIAN, which poop that is important back to the would help to get information and student body.

BARRETT—

them for used books they are selling.

2) Cafeteria:
The biggest problem here is the lack of variety in meals. Through the Welfare Committee, I will work to improve this situation.

3) The Wataugan:
I will work in every way I can to get this magazine reinstated and a good staff working on it. The idea is already off to a good start, and I believe that the movement will continue. However, we must all do our part to see that the Wataugan never again becomes a stolen-joke book. If handled in the right way as a humor magazine, the Wataugan can be a powerful force in developing school spirit and in bringing our alumni closer to the school.

These are some of the things that I will work for next year. There are many others, but space is too limited to write about them all.

The Student Government President will meet many new problems under the new constitution next year. I believe that my three years experience in this work will help me and enable me to meet these problems successfully. Having seen at close hand the problems met by the past three Presidents, I believe I am in a better position to meet them next year.

In all my work with the Student Government and other organizations I have tried to do what I sincerely thought was the best thing for the students. I have also kept an open mind on all matters and have tried to find out what the students really thought and wanted. I pledge to do the same next year.
