SG Store Committee Makes Suggestions To Ivey's Mop-Up

President of the Student Body, "Doc" Cheek, the student members of the Campus Stores Advisory Committee and several interested students met last week and came up with the first concrete recommendations on the stores situation to be made public. These recommendations have not gone through the whole committee as yet and have not been presented to the Legislature, but they are an indication of the type of action which may be taken in the next few weeks.

President Cheek speaking for the group, said that first of all Mr. Ivey manager of the stores, should publish his operating policy for the stores so that misunderstandings could be avoided as later recommendations are formed.

The four recommendations made at this time, read as follows: 1) A definite percentage of new book prices should be paid by the bookstore to students for used books. Suggested minimum—50%. 2) A definite store percentage markup for resale of the books to students should be established. Suggested markup—20%. 3) A definite percentage markup should be stated for campus published texts and manuals. Suggested—20% above cost. 4) A fixed salary should be established for the Manager. At the present $6,000 plus 20% of the profit is earned by the manager.

"The new salary should be good enough to keep a competent manager. We didn't want to suggest a fixed amount, however, as that should be up to the administration."

President Cheek commented that there is no mention of new books in the above recommendations. He stated that the reason for this was that he and Tom Creasy, president of the UNC Student Body are still discussing the bearing of the Umstead Act on the fair trade price of books on the campus with Mr. John Umstead. Cheek also noted that these recommendations are more or less identical with those of the corresponding group at Carolina.

Trustees' Visiting

The Trustees' Visiting Committee will be at State College, Tuesday, November 23, from 10:30 a.m. until approximately 4:30 p.m. Any individual or organization desiring to confer with this committee should arrange with the Chancellor's office for an appointment by Friday, November 19, or by writing to Mr. Victor Bryant, Chairman of the Trustees' Visiting Committee, 111 Corcoran Street, Durham, North Carolina.

Cameramen Wanted

A French professor who is at State studying Nuclear Engineering wants some fellows with 16-mm movie cameras to assist him in the making of a 1000-ft. color movie of the college. All film and supplies will be furnished. If you are interested, and have a good 16-mm movie camera, see Jim Smathers, Chairman of the College Union Photography Committee.

Homecoming

Miss Lynda Plowe of Charlotte (center), was chosen by Blue Key Honorary Fraternity as Miss Wolfpack to reign over the homecoming festivities here Saturday. She is sponsored by Tommy Hoose. Her attendants are (left) Miss Mary Lib Delbridge of Spring Hope, sponsored by Sanders Blalock; and Miss Peggy Eakes of Raleigh, sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. Miss Wolfpack and her attendants will be presented during the half-time ceremonies of the Richmond game.

Homecoming Day

Old grads will return to State College for a big Homecoming celebration next Saturday when the Wolfpack collides with the University of Richmond's Spiders in Riddick Stadium at 2 p.m.

The State students are busy this week making preparations for the big event, which will be featured by a colorful parade through downtown Raleigh to the campus.

The Homecoming parade, made up of floats, decorated automobiles, bands, and other marching units, will begin at Memorial Auditorium

Tucker Open House Acquaints Students

Over 400 students attended the Tucker Open-House held by Coach and Mrs. Jim Edwards, the faculty couple living in the dorm. Last Wednesday, November 3rd, all Tuckerites had a chance to meet their new host and hostess and to see their new apartment. The fellows also had a chance to meet each other and become better acquainted.

Refreshments for the occasion, consisting of cookies and punch, were served by Miss Barbara Denning, Miss Priscilla Nowell, and Miss Bonnie Williams. The flowers which were worn by the Hostess and which decorated the apartment and lounge were donated by Holloway's Florists.

Judging from the comments heard from various students living in the dorm, all seem to be in favor of the arrangement of a faculty couple living in the dorm to help make Tucker Dormitory a better place in which to live.

The officers of Tucker are planning another big Open-House to be held this coming Saturday after the Homecoming game. This will give the Dads, the Grads, and all students a chance to see the new facilities in Tucker Dormitory this year and an opportunity to meet the new host and hostess. All dads, students, and visitors are cordially invited to come down to Tucker Dorm after the football game.

Saturday at 11:30 a.m., will move up Fayetteville Street to the Capitol, will proceed around Capitol Square to Hillsboro Street, and will move out Hillsboro Street to the campus.

Thirty and Three, sophomore leadership society at the college, is the sponsor of the Homecoming parade.

Carl Ipock of Route 1, Cove City, is parade chairman. He is being assisted by a number of other students who are planning to make the parade one of the biggest in the history of the school.

Among the units making up the parade will be the University of Richmond Band, the State College

Red Coat Band, the State Drum and Bugle Corps, the Raleigh High School Band, and other high school bands.

"Miss Wolfpack of 1954" will be presented during the half-time program at the football game.

The Raleigh Merchants Bureau will award three prizes to the leading fraternity floats in the parade, three to the winning dormitory floats, three to the best floats of other student organizations, and a cup to "Miss Wolfpack." The awards will be presented during the half-time festivities at the game.

Dormitories will enter 10 floats in the parade, and the fraternities and other organizations will enter approximately 25 floats.

Homecoming festivities will conclude with a homecoming dance Saturday night at the College Union. Music will be furnished by Jimmy Johnson.

Student Radio Survey Set For Nov. 15-20

Student radio station WVWP will conduct a survey during the week of November 15-20. The survey is being conducted in order for the radio station to give better service, determine what areas are not receiving the station, make suggested improvements, and to give the students the programs they desire.

During the survey, questionnaires will be placed in every dormitory room on the campus. Students are asked to fill in the desired information immediately and on the following day these sheets will be collected by station personnel.

In announcing the survey to the student body, WVWP station manager Sam Harrell said, "This is your station and we wish to operate it to meet your approval. To do this we must have this information. We, therefore, solicit your co-operation in order that service to you can be the best possible."

Found Guilty

The Student Judicial Board held a trial on Wednesday, November 3, 1954. The defendant was found guilty of drinking on the State College campus and was reprimanded in that if he should ever be found guilty of breaking any drinking rules by the Judicial Board again, he would be automatically suspended for at least one year.

AFROTC Professors

Professors of Air Science from nine college and university AFROTC Units, and a representative from Headquarters, AFROTC, Montgomery Alabama, will meet at the Department of Air Science, on the Campus of N. C. State College, Saturday, 13 November, for their annual AF-ROTC Liaison Conference.

Colonel William J. Jowdy, Professor of Air Science at State, is the host officer and will monitor the Conference as Chairman. Representing Headquarters, AFROTC will be Colonel Franklin G. Pruyn, who is the Chief of the Liaison Group in the area represented by the attending personnel. Also attending from AF-ROTC Headquarters will be Colonel N. S.

Requests For Money Stir SG Legislators From Legal Lethargy

The first requests for appropriations from Student Government Funds brought the first heated discussion on the floor of the Student Legislature last Monday. The group, which has otherwise been rather tepid this fall, came to life over several of the requests.

The first, from the fencing team, brought immediate opposition in form of Sen. John Gregg (Sr.-Tex.). He made the point that the Athletic Department should handle this financing from the fees allotted them. The request was held over for investigation and later consideration.

The Inter-Dormitory Council received its full request of $1,384 by a good majority. There was little comment as the motion went through. The legislators seemed to be of the opinion that the request was sensible and well-itemized.

The additional appropriation for the band was the next item considered. Sen. Gregg bounced back to his feet and recommended a table. Several members joined him in this. The request was tabled and will come up again in two or three weeks when the band's needs have been more clearly ascertained.

The final request considered Monday was for the Golden Chain. The initial request of $450 brought considerable comment. Several of the members questioned their need for this amount. Sen. John Gregg spoke again moving that the appropriation be halved. This was defeated. However, a substitute motion by Sen. Jim Arthur (Sr.-Tex.) lowering the request to $375 was passed though there was still some hesitancy on the part of the legislators.

Theta Tau Booklet

In the interest of promoting professionalism among engineers, Rho Chapter of Theta Tau will soon publish a booklet concerning professional registration in each of the states. Members are now writing to all registration officials concerned and expect to have all necessary information required for printing in the very near future.

In its final form, the booklet will be an abridged edition with all pertinent material being included to give all regulations for registration in an easy to read form. The booklet will be available to any engineer or engineering student in one or more of the college engineering lounges at a date to be announced later.

Frosh Candidates

Radio station WVWP director Sam Harrell has announced a special 15-minute program at 7:30 tomorrow night, featuring freshmen candidates for class office.

Purpose of the program is to give candidates opportunity to give pertinent points of their campaign platform to the freshman class.

Among office-seekers scheduled to appear is Henry "Hank" Wilson, School of Design freshman from Greensboro, who is running for the class presidency.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

A Real Surprise!

Would you believe it? State may yet become a campus where a student may travel after dark and have a reasonable amount of light with which to see. The money is available to rewire the old lamps and if students are willing to tolerate the mess made, work can begin soon. If students aren't willing to tolerate the inconvenience, work will be delayed until next summer.

The rewiring of the lamps will involve the digging of a two-foot trench from post to post to bury the wire. This will cause the campus to be cut-up and will possibly cause considerable inconvenience to everybody on campus. Streets will be torn up at places and a considerable lag, as is customary between the ditch digging and the repaving, will be the rule. The campus scourge, mud, will again appear but this time it'll be worth the trouble.

State men generally feel that almost anything will be worth seeing lights again. Anyway, what's another ditch here or there? The campus stays torn up anyway. The completion of a lighting program would be a real pleasure (and a surprise) to students here.

Lights put up recently in the Owen area are indicative of progress being made on campus. The parking lots both in front and in back of all the dorms are getting lights. This, plus the scheduled rewiring, should be a big improvement.

The rewiring is going to be a mess but it'll be the realization of a dream. If the Student Government approves the project and the digging begins, have a little patience and see into the future a little. This pet gripe is due a little satisfaction. It sure would be fine to see those posts in operation.

Campus Improvements

Students who have come to enroll at State College may have expected a campus with the traditional "collegiate look" complete with ivy. No doubt they were disappointed when they found the ivy but not the "look." It takes a senior or a faculty member to appreciate the campus because they have seen it literally grow around them. To these people tremendous improvement is quite evident.

The buildings between Patterson Hall and the "Mill" were only in the process of being surveyed when present seniors first made their appearance on campus. The tunnel under the street across the railroad from Turlington dorm and the underpass on Dunn Avenue are comparatively new. The reactor is new too. Another notable improvement occurred in the fall of 1951 when the area in front of Leazar Hall was landscaped, developing the area into one of the prettiest spots on campus.

These improvements have caused State College to nearly double in size. Alumni here for homecoming this weekend will spot the changes with no trouble at all, remembering how the campus used to look.

Improving the campus has been an administrative aim over the years but during the past six years there seems to have been the greatest change. This work has been brought about under the leadership of several men who have been behind State. Chancellors Harrelson and Bostian have been instrumental in many of the improvements but the trustees and the chairman of the Board of Trustees have been extremely sympathetic and helpful. The Chairman of the Board of Trustees is the governor and so governors Scott and Umstead have been the men most students have known in the position. Certainly a greater state and State College was the hope of both governors. Umstead saw improvements develop but not to the extent that did Kerr Scott during his administration.

What the next two years would have brought under Umstead can only be guessed and what the administration of Governor Hodges will mean can only be wondered. The continuance of a progressive program would be a fitting tribute to a man who endangered his health by working for North Carolina and by doing so, no doubt hastened his own death, never having the satisfaction of accomplishing quite what he had intended.

All too often students take for granted the improvements which represent the efforts of several devoted men. All too often the improvements are abused.

It is not an uncommon occurrence to see men taking shortcuts across the newly grassed area in front of the new D. H. Hill Library, crawling under the wire strung to keep everyone out to allow the grass to grow. Other similar abuses of the campus and its buildings are hardly an appropriate expression of appreciation for the improvements. Granted that these improvements leave a lot to be desired. Nevertheless, they are a real start toward the overall goal and without student cooperation the goal will never be realized. The goal: A bigger, better, and better looking State College

Entered as second class matter, February 10, 1920, at the post office at Raleigh, North Carolina, under the act of March 3, 1879.

World War II deprived the musical field of many great personalities. These men gave their lives for their country by traveling overseas to entertain the troops and also to engage in the actual fighting. Although it is hard to pick the greatest loss to the musical world, it will certainly be fitting to say that Glenn Miller was one of the greatest, if not the greatest.

Like many great musicians, Miller started his career early in his life, witnessing many years of hardships and repeated disappointments but continuing his struggle for success.

Although he made his first recording "Deed I Do" while playing with the Ben Pollock Band in California in 1926, he did not become a success at that time. It was only after thirteen more years of seemingly unending failures that he finally became recognized.

The four tunes that first brought the Miller Orchestra success and caused their popularity are "Community Swing," "I Got Rhythm," "Time On My Hands," and "Sleepy Time Gal." All were recorded during the same session on June 9, 1937.

During the peak of his success, Miller volunteered for service in World War II. He traveled in Europe playing for the service men and doing much toward increasing the esprit de corps of the troops. It was while flying from England to Paris in December of 1944 that his airplane was lost without a trace.

The Miller Band recorded many numbers during its career. Among them is "Sunrise Serenade," which reflects a feeling of freshness and newness as is evidenced in all Miller recordings. Another is "In The Mood" which, with its winning melody, is a challenge in tonal quality.

The Miller formula is composed of a well-rounded repertoire of spirit, perfect blend of smoothness, and unending musical enthusiasm. The universality of approach and treatment made his music equally great and enduring.

"Glenn Miller was a superb musician who was adept at every branch of his art: an instrumental virtuoso, as arranger, as composer, as conductor. . . ." "The affection that everyone had for Glenn Miller and his music was quite remarkable. He was a really fine teacher and leader. . . ." "The Glenn Miller Band owed its excellence almost entirely to the rare combination of quality embodied in its leader." These are only a few comments made by other "musical greats" on Glenn Miller and his Orchestra.

Because of the comparatively short time Miller was popular during his life, it might be said that his reputation was built solely on memories cherished by his followers and the fabulous recordings which he left as his legacy to the popular musical world.

The North Carolina State College Band will honor the name of Glenn Miller this weekend during the half-time ceremonies by playing several of his tunes. Among them will be "Pennsylvania 65000," "Tuxedo Junction," "Moonlight Serenade," and "Little Brown Jug." If you have never done so before, see if you can catch that Miller style by paying particular attention to the numbers played by the College Band.

When police arrived at the college haberdashery, they shook their heads in disbelief. Instead of being gagged and bound, the salesman was actually glued to the floor. They took quick stock of the clues . . . an empty glue pot, several odd-shaped pieces of cloth scattered about, an empty show-case, an empty cash drawer. Ingenious shirt-robbery!

"Ugg glub," said the salesman, still all "stuck-up . . . stuck down, rather.

When they finally got him extricated with hot water and chisels, he thanked them nicely and said, "What's the matter with you jerks? I haven't been robbed."

"No," he explained, "I was simply making a demonstration of the Van Heusen Century shirt for some of the boys. Showed them why the revolutionary one-piece Century collar just won't wrinkle ever. Told 'em how regular collars are made of three layers of cloth, "glued" and stitched together. I glued a set, just for emphasis . . . learned to demonstrate in Woolworth's."

"Get on with it," said the detective.

"Well, I showed 'em how these 3-piece jobs wrinkle and wilt quickly even with starch or stays. I said the Van Heusen Century collar would stay neat always—without starch or stays—or their money back. When I told 'em that Van Heusen Centurys gave 'em lots more wear than ordinary shirts, yet cost the same price (just $3.95 for whites and $4.50 for colors) they bought me out. I was so overjoyed, I did a little jig and tripped over the glue pot. Got stuck up."

"Oh, yeah?" yeaehed the detective. "Well, where's all the dough?"

"Oh, college men never pay. They just charge everything to Dad."

poll of the band members was taken to determine their preferences. The music department has new and larger offices in the 1911 building which have greatly facilitated their work. Col. W. J. Jowdy and Col. R. R. Middlebrooks, of the Air and Military Science Departments, have extended their cooperation in integrating the activities of the R.O.T.C. Band and the Red Coat Band. Formerly these were two separate organizations with volunteers from the R.O.T.C. Band making up the Red Coat Band. Now, under the new setup, they are one unit. Drill time is given for band practice in addition to the regular Thursday night period and credit is given freshmen and sophomores for R.O.T.C. Drill. Juniors and Seniors receive a semester credit for their work. This additional practice results in much better performance according to Major Kutchinski. Also the athletic dept. is donating free tickets for the games to the band members for their dates. Tentative plans have also been made for a banquet for the members at the end of the football season. Under this "new deal," there has been a tremendous improvement in the spirit of the band members. Interest in performance and a willingness to work have appeared. Richard Wimbish, president of the band, has done much to promote this spirit and has done a fine job in his position.

The third shot in the arm the band has received this year is additional faculty aid in the form of its new assistant conductor. Mr. Herbert Fred, whom the Major describes as "my very capable assistant," is doing his work for a Ph.D. in music at Chapel Hill and is employed as an Assistant Band Dir. at both Carolina and State. He is a graduate of Northwestern, having obtained his degree in music there, and came to the Greater University from Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana where he was band director. Previous to that he held the same position at the Evanston, Illinois high school. He is married and lives in Chapel Hill, commuting to Raleigh.

State College Band Homecoming Feature

By Terry Lathrop

North Carolina State College Band is one essential element of this homecoming that we can all be particularly proud of. This fall has seen a rejuvenation of the band that should be noticed and recognized. This can be attributed to several things but according to Major C. D. Kutchinski, the band director, there are three items which have been the biggest help.

The first of these has come from the Administration of the college. The accelerated football program and "Operation Spirit" demand a fine band to help put them over and as these two things have been emphasized the band has received new attention. New uniforms have been purchased for the first time in fifteen years at a price of over $5,000. They were chosen after a

N. C. State vs Richmond

The Wolfpack of State College will close out their home schedule when they play host to the twice-beaten Spiders of Richmond University in a homecoming battle Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in Riddick Stadium.

Many of the old grads will be returning to the Raleigh campus in hopes of seeing a victory for the Pack, who were crushed last week by powerful Maryland 42-14. On the other hand the Spiders from Richmond will be seeking their first win in history over N. C. State, but this time the charges of Coach Ed Merrick are strong favorites to snap the streak.

The series between the two clubs dates back to 1902, have met twelve times since with State taking eleven wins, with the 1906 game ending in a tie.

The clash will be one of the many highlights of Homecoming Day on campus. The annual parade will begin in town about 11:30, followed by the game, and then the big dance that night sponsored by the State Monogram Club featuring Jimmy Johnson and his dance band in the College Union Ball Room from 8 until 12. Tickets can be purchased from any member of the club or at the door.

Pre-season Basketball

Although football is not yet over, basketball has already entered the spotlight at the Reynolds Coliseum. On Friday, November 12, the Minneapolis Lakers, world champions in professional basketball, and led by towering George Mikan will meet the Baltimore Bullets with former All-American from Furman University, Frank Selvy.

On Thursday November 25, Coach Everett Case will unveil his '54-'55 squad when the State varsity will meet the State Freshman squad in the Coliseum at 8 p.m. That Saturday night, November 27, the world famous Harlem Globetrotters will make their annual appearance in Raleigh against the New York "Celtics." The Globetrotters will again feature the great "Goose" Tatem. Tickets to any of these games can be picked up at the box office.

Frat Intramurals

Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, SAE, PKA Gain Volleyball Play-offs—With the volleyball season ending next week, defending champion Sigma Chi along with Sigma Nu, PKA, and SAE have already sewed up berths in the volleyball playoffs scheduled to start the week of November 21st. All four teams swept through their respective divisions without a loss, which should make the playoffs fast and tough.

Track

Also heading the list of frat, in intramurals this week is the track and field finals scheduled for tonight on the track field beginning at 6:30. The Kappa Sig's, last year's champs, are strong favorites to win again but are expected to receive some very strong opposition from Sigma Nu, SAE, Sigma Chi, SPE and the Pika's.

Football

SPE defeated SAE—A small but determined SPE football squad knocked the SAE's from the undefeated ranks last week as they won a hard-fought overtime battle by a few yards. The regular game ended in a 6-6 tie and in the over time both teams scored again and gained 3 yds., however since the ball was resting a few feet in SAE territory as the gun sounded the SPE's were credited with the win and the upset. Both teams played outstanding ball throughout the entire game.

The Dorm Corner

BECTON No. 1 Takes SYME No. 2 with a score of 56-0. This puts Becton No. 1 into the sectional playoffs.

The Becton team was once again led by the outstanding work of Whitley. Whitley scored 18 points while Peterson scored 13 pts. Overton, Deans, and Armstrong scored one TD apiece. Gay and Murray likewise each scored a safety. The Syme team was led by Wilkins.

This was the last sectional football game for the Becton team. They had a total of 244 pts. in six games while their opponents didn't score.

All Other Football Games Won By Forfeit—Syme No. 1 beat Turlington No. 1, Bagwell No. 1 beat Alexander No. 1, Syme No. 2 beat Owen No. 1 and Becton No. 1 beat Alexander No. 2 all these being won by virtue of forfeit. Tucker No. 1 with Owen No. 2 and Vetville with Turlington No. 2 were both double forfeits.

Volleyball, Track and Bowling—No volleyball games were played this last week because of the Track tryouts. The games were postponed until Monday. The Track finals will be held on Thursday night November 11. The teams which have entered in the preliminaries are Tucker No. 1, Tucker No. 2, Becton No. 1, Becton No. 2, Bagwell No. 1, Turlington No. 1, Turlington No. 2, Owen No. 2 and Syme No. 2. The results will be given next week.

No complete bowling scores have been turned into the Intramural Office by the Bowling Alley so no official results are on hand at this time.

The Students are Thanked by Eddie Criner, the Interdormitory Council Social Director, for their support by attending the IDC BALL.

State Meets Spiders In Homecoming

Maryland Mauls Pack 42-14; Spiders Down Wake Forest 13-10

Coach Earle Edwards N. C. State Wolfpack will be seeking its first victory before a home audience Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. when they face the strong University of Richmond Spiders in Riddick Stadium. State's Homecoming Day.

The Wolfpack lone win of the '54 season was achieved by 26-0 over William and Mary at Norfolk, Va. on Oct. 9 and in three other chances at home State has bowed to Florida State, Duke and Furman, but made good showings on each occasion.

Richmond, rated fifth in the nation on defense, has scored five shutouts in winning its five games and only one other team, Alabama, can boast such a record over this season. The Spiders have won over Randolph Macon, 40-0, Hampden-Sydney, 46-0, The Citadel, 27-0, George Washington, 7-0 and Wake Forest, 13-0. Losses were to Virginia Military, 19-6 and to Virginia Tech's unbeaten Gobblers, 19-12.

Richmond's present team is being called the "best in the last decade" and last week's convincing win over Wake Forest, a team which shelled State by 26-0, has made the Spiders a solid choice over Coach Earle Edwards charges.

This week's game is a do-or-die attempt for State in its hopes of bettering the 1953 record. Last year State dropped nine of 10 games and with a current mark of seven losses and one win and next week's opponent West Virginia, this Saturday's battle with Richmond falls in the 'must' category for State.

Standouts for the Richmond team are four great backfield men, all rated among the fastest in the Southern Conference. Tom Theodose is the quarterback and outstanding passer with Halfbacks George Riggs and Ed Santoro and Fullback Frank Pajaczkowski as the top runners of the Spider offense.

The scrap will be State's only afternoon appearance at home this year with the kickoff billed for 2 p.m. State has lost its three other night game appearances in Riddick Stadium.

Bob Smith Recipient Leadership Award

Bobby Smith has been selected to receive the 1954 national youth Leadership award which is given annually to one High Schol graduate who has enrolled as a college freshman, by the National Delaware Foundation. He becomes the first North Carolina boy to ever capture the national award.

A 1954 graduate of Perquimans County High School in Hertford, he served as president of the North Carolina State Youth Speakers Club, Chairman of the Eastern District Press Association, and was an officer of his high school Student Government and Music Club. He was president of his county 4-H Club and Youth Fellowship Program, and was editor of his high school paper, and vice-president of his F.F.A. Federation.

A freshman at State College, Smith is already an outstanding member of his class. He has been nominated for president of his class.

CU EVENTS—

The Committee will continue to sponsor this program as long as there is an attendance that warrants this.

Model Plane Club

The College Union Airplane Club will meet in the C.U. Hobby Shop on Thursday November 11, at 7:30 p.m. and will present the new model which will be used for teaching beginners. Anyone interested is urged to attend. Free flying lessons will start soon.

"White Christmas" Musical Previewed

The Technician staff, the staff of WVWP, and a selected group reviewed Irvin Berlin's White Christmas at the Colony Theater Monday night. The picture was a delightful and gay holiday musical with the songs of Berlin being sung by Bing Crosby and a supporting cast of Vera Ellen, Rosemary Clooney, and Danny Kaye. The movie proved to be one of the better musicals released in 1954, and its numbers will certainly make a hit with the men at the College.

Leatherneck Movie

A film entitled "Leatherneck Lieutenants" will be shown at the Student Union Theatre at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 18, 1954. Anyone interested in learning about earning a commission in the United States Marine Corps is invited to attend.

Irate father: "Why were you kissing my daughter in that dark corner last night?"

Dubious youth: "Now that I've seen her in daylight I sort of wonder myself."

Soccer Squad Ties Virginia; Gain Win Over Frostburg, 2-0

State College's soccer team added one more win to their record and another tie this past week as they defeated a strong Frostburg, from Western Maryland, squad 2-0 and tied the University of Virginia 1-1.

State holds wins over Duke and Frostburg, ties with Washington & Lee, Maryland, and Virginia and their only loss to Carolina.

Bud Yarber and Walkey Escobar have been the offensive standouts for coach Eric DeGroat's team along with Carlos. The Pack's final home game is Tuesday the 16th with Carolina.

Her lips quivered as they approached mine. My whole frame trembled as I looked into her eyes. Her body shook with intensity as our lips met, and my chin vibrated and by body shuddered as I held her, pulsating, close to me.

The moral: "Never kiss them in a car with the engine running."

PKA-20, Kap Sig-0—The Pika's added another win to their record as they defeated the Kap Sig's 20-0. The Pika's took to the air to score all three touchdowns, while Turney and Thomas led the efforts of the Kappa Sig's.

Three other games scheduled to be played resulted in forfeits with Sigma Nu remaining undefeated with a win over Sigma Pi, the KA's kept their league championship hopes alive with a forfeit from Farm House, and the Lambda Chi's forfeited to the SAM's to improve their championship hopes.

Volleyball

Sigma Nu over Kappa Sig—Sigma Nu wrapped up the Section 3 championship with a win over the Kappa Sig's 15-4, 15-7. Mowery and Honeycutt led the undefeated Sigma Nu's and Peirson the Kappa Sig's.

SAE over PEP—Section 4 crown fell to the SAE's as they downed the PEP's 13-15, 15-3 and 15-7 behind Briley.

Sigma Chi over SPE—Defending champs Sigma Chi will be out to defend their title as they defeated the SPE's 15-3, 15-10 to take Section 1 and remain unbeaten.

PKA over PKT—PKA's took Section 2 as they handed the PKT's a set back 15-2 and 15-9. The Pika's were led by Backman.

PKP over Farm House—Led by line and Karma the Y Cline and Karam the PKP's swept to a win over Farm House 15-8, 14-16 and 15-3. Weatherly stood out for the F. H.

Sigma Pi over Lambda Chi—The Pi's handed the Lambda Chi's a 15-6 and 15-6 setback to win the match.

SAM over AGR—The SAM's took another match, this time from the AGR's by 15-4 & 15-3 scores. With Cooper leading the winners and Lambert the AGR's.

The KA's gained a forfeit.

Special Dinner

Have you ever wondered what you would do at a big dinner with your prospective boss or your best girl? There is a lot to know about table manners! When there is a group of people watching you, it's nice to have confidence in yourself and your actions. The Hospitality committee at the College Union plans to have someone to teach you what is proper and why at their Table Manners Dinner, on November 16. After your lessons, you will have a chance to put them to use when you are served a complete dinner. This five-course dinner will be served in Catering Room B, at the College Union at 6:00 o'clock. After the dinner, a skit will be presented to show you just the right thing to do at a restaurant. Remember the place—College Union Catering Room B; the time is 6:00; the date November 16. The charge will be $1.25 per person for the dinner. Please sign up by November 13 at the Main Desk in the Union Building.

Homecoming!! is the main topic around which this weeks fraternity social activities will be centered. Float building, alumni, buffet suppers and just a good old party around the house will highlight the big homecoming day with the schedule looking something like this:

The SAE's are going all out after the game as they have a supper and dance at Raleigh's Tar Heel club for the members and alumni. Friday evening will find a hayride and party at the SAM house followed by a buffet supper and combo on Saturday and then a brunch on Sunday morning. The Sigma Chi's also are planning a supper after the game followed by a combo that night and open house all day Sunday.

The TKE's will hold an informal party Saturday along with a graduate chapter meeting at the house. The members of Sigma Pi are going all out to try and win first place in the floats for the fourth time in a row as they plan to work all Friday and Saturday morning. AGR will have a general open house for alumni, members, and guests.

Farm House will also be host to their alumni with an informal open house. The members of PKP have planned a supper and party after the homecoming game. PKT's plan a get-together at the S&W after the game followed by a party that night at the house.

The PEP chapter have scheduled a cocktail party for alumni, and guests after the game and a cabin party that night at Beacon Lake. Open House will be observed all day Saturday by the Lambda Chi's for parents, guests, etc. with a combo that night. The KA's will hold an informal open house Saturday after the game with a combo that night. The Pika's will have a supper at the house after the game and the usual party that night. The members of Kappa Sig fraternity will be host to a party Friday night to Chi Omega followed by open house Saturday.

Sigma Nu chapter will have a steak supper at the house Friday evening with a "build a float" party that night, followed by a cocktail party after the game Saturday and climaxing with a combo that night.

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER Luckies—and by a wide margin—according to the largest and latest coast-to-coast college survey. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. The pleasure you'll get from Luckies' better taste is vividly depicted in the Doodle above, titled: Modern artist enjoying Lucky while glancing in mirror. See the ecstatic smile? Wake Forest Prof Speaks at NCS

A series of four lectures on the general theme, "Religion in America Today," is being delivered at North Carolina State College this week by Dr. Olin T. Binkley, professor of Christian sociology and ethics at the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest. Dr. Binkley spoke at faculty sessions in the grill room of Leazar Dining Hall at State College Tuesday through today at 12:30 p.m. each day and will conclude his appearances at the college with an address at a student dinner in the dining hall tonight at 6:15 p.m. A nationally-known Baptist minister and former head of the Wake Forest College's Department of Religion, Dr. Binkley spoke at the student dinner on the subject, "Religious Faith in a Community of Learning." Dr. Binkley's topics at the faculty luncheons were "The Meaning of Religion" on Tuesday, "The Vitality of Religion in the United States" on Wednesday, and "The Task of Religious Leaders in the South" today. The series of lectures by the noted Baptist leader and author were sponsored by the Baptist Student Union, the Wesley Foundation, the Westminster Fellowship, the Lutheran Student Association, and the Young Men's Christian Association, all of State College. A native of Harmony, Dr. Binkley is a member of Wake Forest College's Class of 1928 and later studied at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and at Yale University's Divinity School. He is the author of "Frontiers for Christian Youth" and "The Churches and the Social Conscience" and is a member of learned societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and the American Sociological Society.

- FINER FILTER!
- FINER FLAVOR!
- KING SIZE, TOO!

Winston tastes good—like a cigarette should!

Winston brings flavor back to filter smoking—full, rich, tobacco flavor! No wonder college smokers are flocking to Winston—on campuses across the country! Along with real flavor—the kind you've been missing in filter smokes—Winston brings you a finer filter. This exclusive Winston filter is unique, different, truly superior! It works so effectively, yet doesn't "thin" the taste or flatten the flavor. Winstons are king-size, too, for extra filtering action—and easy-drawing for extra good taste. Try a pack of Winstons!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Miller

"O.K. men, the next play is DX-83.—Now, Bolivar, when you hear me yell 'four,' I'll give you the ball, then you try to get through th' men wearin' the yellow sweaters and then head for th' posts painted red and white."

WE'D LIKE YOU TO MEET -

our hard driving fullback and captain of the '54-'55 football team, Don Langston. A senior in Industrial and Rural Recreation, Langston is a consistent ground gainer and the backbone of the squad. A two-year letterman, he is rated as one of the best fullbacks in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Not only does Don shine on defense but he also does a fine job on defensive work. He is a hard tackler and can back the line or play left half-back for pass defense. Although he was hampered by injuries last year he still led the squad in rushing. Don gives the team the extra push that they need to go through the middle for consistent ground gains.

Don is probably the best all-around player on the squad and has a great team spirit while picking up the T-formation style of play brilliantly. A hard hitter and a brilliant open field runner, he has a two year rushing of nearly 4,000 yards per try and is the top rushing back on the squad.

Langston works just as hard in the class room as he does on the field. He is a good student who is interested in his work and who plans to cash in on his valuable experience while at school.

Watch Langston Saturday and pay particular attention to his high team spirit and his ability to find that hole in the middle. He is a great guy and he deserves the best.

Head football coach Earle Edwards. The choice of Earle Edwards as head coach at State has been hailed in all quarters as an outstanding selection. Edwards, former end coach at Michigan State and for 15 years line coach at Penn State, is under a three year contract.

Edwards 46 year old native of Greensburg, Pa., has an extensive background both as player and coach. After three outstanding years in high school, he enrolled in Penn State where he starred for three years at end. After he received his degree in Industrial Engineering, Edwards worked at his profession for two years and then he entered the coaching field.

For the next 14 years he tutored the Penn State line working particularly with the ends. Then he was appointed end coach under Biggie Munn at Michigan State. While he was coaching at Michigan the Spartans made two trips to Pasadena to appear in the Rose Bowl.

Edwards came to State with very high recommendations. Besides his degree in Industrial Engineering, Edwards holds a Masters Degree in Education and has served on the Physical Education staff at both Penn State and Michigan State.

This year at State he has started the tremendous job of reorganization. A completely new system of play has been introduced using the "multiple offense." The system operates from an unbalanced line utilizing the basic T-formation with both single and double wing variations.

Although he has been at State for only a few months, he has won innumerable friends through his sparkling personality and his winning smile. He has a grim determination to give his best to get the job done and to do it successfully. This can be proven by the remarkable improvement in the football squad and also the improvement in the spirit of the students at the ball games. If students give him all the support they can, they can be sure that he will continue to produce the best football squad that is possible. The prospects for the future look right!

STATE COLLEGE BAND -

(Continued from page 3) situation saying; "The band has shown great improvement. However, there are still several musicians on campus who ought to be in the band. There are at present seventy active members and we are sure that we could easily have a 100-piece band if all those qualified would come out. It is gratifying to note that there are more than last year. With the school as large as it is, there should be more and probably will be when they see the improvements made in the band."

'58 Prexy Nominee Announces Platform

Henry "Hank" Wilson, 23-year-old School of Design freshman from Greensboro and one of 12 candidates for the post of freshman class president, came forward today with a vigorous four-point program in announcing his platform for the coming campaign. Planks in the platform include traffic, students supply store, freshman orientation, and class morale.

In an early morning interview at his Vetville residence the Purple Heart veteran of the war in Korea said, "I am deeply grateful for the confidence members of the freshman class have shown in nominating me as one of their choices for the office of class president. I shall strive to show my appreciation by making a strong fight for the position."

Outlining his campaign platform, the crew-cut, red haired, Wilson said, "Campus traffic conditions, the student's supply store, freshman orientation, and class morale are the four most pressing problems facing the class of 1958 as I see them."

Traffic

Asked why he considered campus traffic conditions a problem of special interest to the present freshman class, Wilson explained that, "the longer the campus traffic problem is permitted to grow, the more drastic will be the solution to that problem when it comes. In other words, it is up to the class of 1958 to act now in helping the school find a workable answer to this problem in order that next year or the year after we shall not pay the penalty for inaction today."

Supply Store

Elaborating on the second point of his campaign program, the School of Design's nominee for freshman class president said, "Badly maligned as is the students supply store, more than 1,300 freshmen cannot be wrong. I shall do everything within my power to see that members of the class of 1958 understand the function and operation of this establishment, and furthermore, I shall equally endeavor to see that all criticisms, complaints and gripes of all freshmen are promptly relayed through proper channels to appropriate individuals and groups."

Orientation

Freshman orientation was included in his platform, Wilson iterated, because "most of the freshmen I've talked to expressed the feeling that orientation is something they must attend when it should be something they want to attend. I sincerely believe that much can be done to make freshman orientation more worthwhile for students and faculty alike."

Morale

Discussing the fourth and final plank in his platform, candidate Wilson stated that, "Every freshman class sets out to be the best ever to enter State College, but, because of the lack of a definite program to inspire and instill class spirit in its members, most classes fail. I frankly feel that freshman student welfare is the keystone of class spirit and when that welfare is recognized and served only the finest class and school spirit can result."

Summarizing his program for the freshman class of 1958, Wilson said, "If elected I shall give my wholehearted efforts to these problems. I do not believe anyone could be more enthused than I about the possibilities State College offers the class of 1958."

A lifelong resident of North Carolina, the soft spoken freshman candidate was graduated from Bessemer High School in 1953, following three and one-half years military service.

Overheard in the Shuttle Inn: "Mr. Whittier is the only professor who gives green stamps."

Phys-ed instructor Jim Edwards was telling his sophomore bowling class how to find their new lab, the Mannur Bowling Alley. "It's just across the street from the library," he explained. Discerning a dark cloud of uncertainty settling on the group, he added, "Better still, it's just a few doors down from the Top Hat."

Couple of old-timers were spinning Wolfpack sports stories the other night, when one recalled a Monday - after - the - game chewing Coach "Doc" Newton gave the team following a very listless Saturday contest. Picking up a football he held it above his head and drawled quietly, "This, gentlemen, is a football." Before he could get in another word, a voice from the outside of the circle of players piped up with, "wait a minute coach, you're going too fast!"

Branch Commissions Board Set Up

Dean J. J. Stewart and Professor Perry E. Moose met Monday with Col. Richard R. Middlebrooks, Lt. Col. Bane, Maj. Mishtowt, and Maj. Whitmore to serve on a board to submit recommendations to the Department of the Army for MS IV branch commissions.

With the student's complete college records, the board considered curriculum, class standing, military grades, leadership ratings, and the individual's preference in making the recommendations. These recommendations will count much in the final decision by the Department of the Army, but the existing needs of the army will be considered before the final decision is reached.

"Why don't you stop associating with jerks?"
"I'd miss you."
