Dublin Players

Two of the Dublin Players who will be at the College Union tomorrow night are shown above. The Players will present George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion." The production will be given in Pullen Hall at 8 p.m. and admission is free to all State students and their dates.

"Greek Week" Ends Good Work All

State College's social fraternities and its Interfraternity Council will end "Greek Week" tomorrow night with a banquet in Leazar Hall.

The week's observance included a clothing drive for the needy families of Raleigh and Wake County, exchange suppers at the various fraternity houses, a concert by Dave Brubeck and his Quartet, an open forum session on fraternity rules and rushing, and the annual "Greek Week" banquet.

The clothing collected in the drive was turned over to the Wake County Department of Public Welfare for distribution to the city's and county's needy families.

L. L. Ray, assistant to the chancellor and director of foundations at State College, will be the main speaker at the banquet to be held in the college dining hall tomorrow at 6 p.m. Andrew Hinton, Jr., of Raleigh, president of the Interfraternity Council, will be the banquet toastmaster.

The Brubeck concert was presented in Pullen Hall Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Gene Cocke of Asheville is chairman of arrangements for the week-long observance, which is a highlight of the school year for the fraternities at the college.

Magazine Orders To Be Completed

During the Fall Semester, a representative of the National Literary Association took a number of magazine orders on the campus. For several months the students that paid him for the magazines have heard nothing. The receipts for the magazines were gathered and some correspondence with the company regarding making the orders good was carried on.

A written explanation was received this week which told that the agent, A. W. Gilmore, was killed in an automobile accident early in December. Since there is no record of the orders in the office it is presumed that they were with him at the time of his death and were lost.

The orders have now been entered and State men who are to receive the magazines should begin to get them in the near future.

S. Gov't. Votes Down Basketball Proposal

The College Union summer school fee was set at five dollars by the Student Government Monday. The action was necessary in order to equalize the C. U. fee paid by students in the regular term and the C. U. fee paid by summer school students.

Jim Frazier (Eng.) proposed that the Student Government contribute one-hundred dollars to the basketball team to help defray expenses incurred in their trip to the A. A. U. tournament. The purpose of the resolution was to show that the student body is behind them 100 per cent, and to commend the team for a fine 1954-55 basketball season.

The consensus was that the student body is showing their appreciation by their turnout to basketball games. There was doubt whether or not the Student Government has the funds to make

Now At The Mop-Up Ten Minute Parking

The Student Government has requested a 10 minute parking zone at the Student Supply Store. This request has been granted by the Faculty Traffic Committee and proper signs have been erected. This need for temporary parking has been seen and remedied but it will be used only so long as the use of the area is not abused. The parking limit is for 10 minutes only.

Honor System Talk Golden Chain Banquet

Golden Chain Society is again sponsoring the Honor Banquet for faculty and students. The banquet will be held in the west side of the cafeteria at 7:00 p.m. on Friday, 15 of March. The purpose of the banquet is to explain and discuss various features of the Honor System here at State. Members of the student Judicial Board will make orientation talks and will also lead a discussion or question-answer period.

Three faculty members from each department are invited to this banquet by Golden Chain. Owing to the limited budget of Golden Chain, it is not able to invite the general Student Body to the Banquet. However, any student wishing to come may obtain a ticket for $1.00 by contacting Dave H. Barrett at 108 Gold Dormitory, telephone 9263. Tickets must be ordered by 16 March in order to allow time for planning. All interested students are urged to attend.

State Of The Univ. Annual Conference

The third annual "Conference on the State of the University of North Carolina" is being held at State College today and tomorrow.

Approximately 180 key faculty members representing the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, Woman's College in Greensboro, and State College in Raleigh are attending the two-day assembly.

Dr. Preston W. Edsall, head of the Department of History and Political Science at State College, will serve as the general conference chairman. The conference headquarters will be at the College Union Building.

"Planning for the Foreseeable Future" will be the theme. Among the conference highlights will be addresses by Governor Hodges, President Gordon Gray of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, and Dr. J. Harris Purks, vice president and provost of the Consolidated University.

President Gray appointed Dr. Edsall as the general conference chairman and named six other faculty members to serve on the planning committee. They are Professors Edna Arundel and W. R. Muller, Woman's College; E. A. Cameron and Sterling A. Stouder, the University in Chapel Hill; and William D. Stevenson, Jr., and T. L. Quay, State College.

Consolidated Univ. College Problems

The following paragraphs are released from the University of North Carolina's News Bureau. There is some question as to the paragraphs on student owned cars at State College. The Visiting Committee's report will be gone over this week with a member of the student Traffic Committee and its advisor and next week's editorial will concern this subject.

"Every reasonable effort should be made to avoid an increase in dormitory room rents and tuition and other student fees at the three-fold University of North Carolina."

Such is the recommendation in an annual report just released by the 12-member Visiting Committee of the University Board of Trustees, headed by Victor S. Bryant of Durham.

Some restriction in the use of automobiles by students on the campuses of the University at Chapel Hill and State College in Raleigh—there is no automobile problem so far at Woman's College—is also recommended by the Visiting Committee.

Pointing out that student-owned automobiles present difficult problems to both State College and the University at Chapel Hill, the Visiting Committee recommends that "the administration attempt to improve the regulation of the use of cars and that it consider seriously the question of possession of cars by undergraduates, particularly by those living on or near the campus."

"There are 1,932 student-owned autos at Raleigh; 1,492 at Chapel Hill. At State College 42.8 per cent of the freshmen and sophomores have automobiles; at Chapel Hill 17.8 per cent." The visiting Committee concludes that "a hard and fast prohibition of automobiles is unlikely to be effective. Equitable enforcement would be almost impossible. Nor does it seem reasonable to deny some married students and graduate and professional students the right to have automobiles. In addition, many students of all classes use their cars in commuting."

The Committee's report was based on hearings held during visits to each of the three units of the

Duke Ambassadors; Junior-Senior Dance

Plans for the Junior Senior Ring dance to be held March 26 are near completion. The Housing committee, headed by Mose Kiser has secured the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum for the occasion. Arrangements for music by the Duke Ambassadors have been made by Grey Egerton, chairman of the Music committee. Special entertainment for the intermission will be furnished by Joe Regan, a comical piano player. Bill Garrabrant and his committee are making final arrangements for the decoration of the Coliseum.

Bids for the dance may be picked up on Monday and Tues., March 14 and 15. They will be available from 4 to 8 p.m. in the South Lobby of the College Union Building.

Since the old ring used in the Ring Ceremony is in bad condition a new one will be built. The new ring is being designed and constructed by Joe Hall.

In the past years the Junior Senior has been the largest dance on campus. In keeping with tradition this year's dance has been planned to highlight the social schedule for the Juniors and Seniors of State College.

O. M. Gardner Gift

The seventh annual Oliver Max Gardner Award Dinner will be held in the main ballroom of the North Carolina State College Union Building Friday, March 11, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner meeting will be featured by the presentation of the 1955 Oliver Max Gardner Award to the member of the faculties of the three institutions of the Consolidated University of North Carolina who, in the judgment of the Board of Trustees, has made "the greatest contribution to the human race during the past year."

For the first time this year, the dinner will be held in connection with "the State of the University" Conference, which will conclude its two-day series of meetings during the dinner. The reading of the reports of the Conference will also be given during the dinner.

President Gordon Gray of the Consolidated University will preside. Governor Hodges, chairman of the Board of Trustees, will attend and will speak during the dinner program.

The presentation of the award will be made by George Stevens, Jr., of Asheville, chairman of the Trustees' Committee on the Gardner Award.

Mrs. O. Max Gardner, widow of the late Governor and Ambassador to the Court of St. James, will attend the dinner. Other members of the Gardner family who plan to

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

This and That

Memorial Chimes

Have you heard the Memorial Tower Chimes? They are being played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 6 until 6:15. They are being played on the suggestion of several groups and students are invited to drop by the control room and request songs. Major Kutschinski is at the keyboard and is adding something to campus life through the concerts.

Many campuses that are so fortunate as to have carilons play them so often that they become a nuisance while other campuses rarely hear their chimes. State College is taking a position somewhere between the extremes and this is as it should be. The chimes are there so they might as well be played but shouldn't be overdone and probably won't be.

The M & O

Last week a student parked behind the Frank Thompson Gymnasium and just happened to park in the space usually occupied by one of the Dempster-Dumsters. The place wasn't marked, the container was gone and there seemed to be no reason for not parking.

However, when the student returned to his car the Dempster-Dumster had been returned and left behind the car, blocking the car between the over-grown trash can and gym. Naturally the student couldn't move it and when he called the M. & O. and asked them if they'd move it, he was refused. In a spirit typical of fraternities, though, he got help from "the brothers and pledges" and the Dempster-Dumster was shortly removed to another area with the help of brawn, chains and another car.

Such a spirit seems to be one prevalent in the M. & O. Another case serves as an example. When the big snow of 11 inches came the workers busily got out and started clearing the snow with water. It seemed rather senseless as it soon froze but anyway there they were washing snow from the street with firehoses. In the meantime the bell for class changes sounded and one of the men stopped work, giving the reason that he'd wait until "10 after" when the students had passed and, then he wouldn't splatter them with the cold water. He got a rather curt answer and was told to forget the students. Another unpleasant experience occurred this past week when a cat died under Gold Dormitory. The occupants complained of the odor last Monday to the M. & O. and it was Thursday when the carcass was removed.

Does this typify the M. & O.'s attitude toward students? The men certainly did do a good job during the snow. They worked all night keeping the streets cleared on the campus and there are other occasions when the M. & O. has made contributions of which they may be proud. But when you get down to it the M. & O.'s attitude toward beautifying the campus and college is fine but toward the students, "damn the students." With a little more courtesy from the department, a lot more could be accomplished. The M. & O. is a part of State College but the college wasn't created for the pleasure of its workers.

Agromeck Election

The Agromeck is asking for an early election of its editor and business manager. The plea stems from the fact that the rising leaders could gain considerably through association with the present officers and also with the engravers, printers, etc., who are on campus during the spring. The present editor has said that an incoming editor would have an easier time if he could know ahead of time of the rising situation and prepare for it.

The present ruling states that the elections will be held in the third week of April. Previously it would have been impossible to hold elections earlier because of exams and the set-up of the quarter system. Now it should be possible to get elections in earlier. If there is no desire to move the general campus elections up then provisions should be made for the AGROMECK elections to be held separately. The present editor thinks that this will make it easier to put out a good book. State has seen enough of a poor year book that whatever, within reason, is necessary to get out a good Agromeck must be faced and met.

Library Dedication

Saturday will mark a memorable occasion on the campus. The new D. H. Hill Library will be dedicated. In the fall it was rather disappointing to find the new library's services so limited but since that time the personnel has made an all-out effort to improve service.

One of the best improvements that has come about is the extension of library hours until 11 o'clock. The stacks service closes at 10 o'clock as before but the extra hour allows students to put some good cram time in a comfortable and quiet place. This is a service new to the college and is a service which is an accomplishment that the library can be proud of.

The extension of library hours will certainly benefit the campus as much as any one other recent development. Not only has the service been extended, the new library extends a better place to work. Comfortable chairs and better lighting are terrific improvements. Yet without the recent change in hours all of these added comforts would have been useless.

The new D. H. Hill Library is another step forward for State College.

Represented for National Advertising by NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC., College Publishers. Representative, 420, Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Entered as second class matter, February 10, 1920, at the post office at Raleigh, North Carolina, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Mr. Parker,

Two weeks ago in your Editorial Comment you voiced your opinion that this year's Jr.-Sr. "doesn't sound too good." There seemed to be two serious complaints—time and place.

I am only sorry that you did not contact us just before you wrote your article, since at the time the Technician came out the Coliseum had been reserved for the dance. This change was made after finding that a majority of the students preferred the Coliseum although the College Union Ballroom was designed for such dances and is $400 cheaper.

There is not enough room here to compare March 26 with the rest of the week-ends this year, and explain why we feel it to be the best date, but if you check the calendar I believe you will choose this date too. Concerning the very minor points of white dinner jackets—March 26 is just after the first of spring, therefore either the "winter tux" or the white dinner jackets will be appropriate.

So far this year I believe we have been very successful. Rings have been ordered and will arrive around March 19. Through the efforts of our treasurer enough dues were collected that we will be able to have special entertainment during the intermission. We are also building a much needed new ring for the Ring Ceremony to replace the old one. If all goes well we will also be able to serve refreshments.

We are looking forward to a very good Jr.-Sr. Ring Dance this year and hope that your views will be changed by your attendance.

Sincerely yours, Franklin Elliott, President, Jr. Class

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Coliseum was secured before the Technician involved appeared but not before the editorial was written. It was a wise move to get the Coliseum for the dance as the students certainly wanted it had enough, about the date—perhaps it was the best available but a choice would have been offered if the date had been set last spring. Anyway, things are looking up.

Judicial Board Cases

The Student Judicial Board tried two cases on Thursday night, March 3.

The first trial was a carry-over from the previous Wednesday night. The defendant was charged with being dishonest on an examination. He pleaded not guilty, but an eyewitness's report and several strong discrepancies were brought out in the trial. The Board found him guilty by a unanimous vote. He received a penalty, also by unanimous vote, of suspension from State College until the beginning of the fall semester of 1955.

The second case concerned disorderly conduct. The accused had been previously arrested and fined $100.00 by the city court for drunken driving. The Board found him guilty of behavior unbecoming a gentleman and gave him a reprimand stating that if he is ever convicted again on a similar drinking charge more drastic measures are to be taken.

In addition to attending the conference games this past weekend, the majority of the fraternities had parties in and around Raleigh.

The KA's had a party at the house Friday night, followed by open house Saturday afternoon and a party the same night. Their main feature was a combo at the Saturday party. The Kappa Sigs had an out of town party this past weekend. Monday they installed their new officers.

The Lambda Chi's highlighted last weekend with a rushing function. This weekend they will attend their National Conclave at the Sir Walter. A formal banquet and dance will keep them busy at the conclave. The Phi Tau's had a "possum" party this past Saturday night at the house. Maybe they know what it is, but it's news to me. How about a little hint? Monday night they had installation of officers after which they had a banquet. Their plans for this weekend include attending the Lintdodgers Ball and Engineers Ball and then back to the house.

The Phi Ep's had a joint party with a professional sorority at their house last Friday night. They had a party after the games Saturday. Also this past Saturday and Monday they had initiations. They plan to live it up after the dances this weekend. The SAE men initiated twelve pledges this past Saturday afternoon. They celebrated by having a dance and banquet Saturday night at the Tar Heel Club. Music was furnished by the Three Deuces Combo.

The AGR's had "help week" last week. Sunday night they initiated five new members. Also, during last weekend, they had a pledge party after which they returned to the house for refreshments and dancing.

The PIKA's had an all day picnic at Truby's last Saturday. During the course of the evening, they serenaded the two lovely young ladies who received pins during the week. After the girls were serenaded, the boys were given the usual dunking in the near-by pond.

The Sammies had a party to celebrate State's victory this past weekend. They were pleased to have visitors from other schools as their guests. Monday night they celebrated their victory over the Sigma Chi's in the first basketball playoffs.

The Sigma Chi's entertained several alumni who came up for last weekend's festivities. The TKE's had a buffet Friday night followed by their regular party Saturday night. Monday night they had initiation. Their plans for this weekend include painting the outside of the house and attending the big dances. The Sig Ep's celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the establishing of their chapter this past Friday. Saturday they had their annual Sig Ep Ball.

The Theta Chi's had their annual Mason-Dixon Jubilee this past

L C A Convention

The Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity of the Colonial Conclave, which includes chapters from Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, made up of eleven chapters, are holding a convention at the Sir Walter Hotel here in Raleigh Friday through Sunday.

The activities include a buffet supper at the North Carolina State chapter house, followed by ceremonies at the Sir Walter. Saturday's program will consist of group discussions in the afternoon, followed by a formal banquet and dance in the Sir Walter ballroom. Other activities will include the selection of a conclave queen, with Miss Constance McGee of High Point representing the North Carolina State chapter. Miss Betty Jo Ring, "Miss North Carolina," will select the queen for the event. Rev. Lee F. Tuttle of Charlotte, North Carolina will be guest speaker, along with other officials from the national headquarters. Sunday a breakfast is planned at the local chapter followed by a picnic in the afternoon at Wake Forest.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"This is what I did yesterday"

"I like a job that keeps me jumping," says Bill Jermain, C.E. from Marquette, '52. "And my first management assignment with Wisconsin Telephone Company does just that. I'm Service Foreman at Sheboygan, with nine installers, and that means variety of responsibility. But judge for yourself. Here's a quick run-down of what I did yesterday, on a typical day—

8:10—"Checked day's work schedule. One of my new men was putting in a buried service wire, and I went over the job specs with him to be sure he had things straight.

8:30—"Answered mail while my clerk checked time sheets from previous day.

9:30—"Out to supervise installation of the first aluminum Outdoor Telephone Booth in my exchange. Reviewed the assembly instructions with the installers, then arranged for special tools and bolts to be delivered to the job.

11:30—"Drove across town. Made a complete 'quality inspection' on a telephone we installed last week. Everything checked O.K.

12:00—"Lunch.

1:00—"Picked up film for next day's safety meeting. Watched the film, made notes for discussion.

2:00—"Met with moving company manager to estimate cost of telephone cable lifting for a house, moving job. Drove the route he had planned and worked out schedule for construction crews.

3:30—"Returned to aluminum booth installation. Went over wiring specs with the electrician.

4:00—"Stopped at Central Office to pick up next day's orders. Met installers at garage as they checked in and assigned next day's work."

Bill has been in his present job about a year, and is looking forward to new responsibilities as his experience increases . . . as are the many young college men who have chosen telephone careers. If you'd be interested in a similar opportunity with a Bell telephone company . . . or with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric or Sandia Corporation . . . see your Placement Officer for full details.

State has won two ACC crowns, six out of seven Southern Conference championships, five Dixie Classics, went to the National Invitational Tournament three times and to the NCAA four times. Plus the fact they would have gone again this year. The Pack has played in two tournaments so far this year and have come out on top in both of them. No. 3 is coming up next week in Denver lets hope the string won't be broken!

Swimming—State's AAU all-American swimmer DICK FADGEN has accepted an invitation to represent the United States on its 17-man swimming team that will take part in the Pan American Games at Mexico City on March 17-25. ATHELETIC AND SCHOLAR—At the first of the year State College granted 28 "Talent for Service Scholarships" to a selected group of North Carolina boys.

BOB KENNEL, freshman football, basketball, and baseball player, was the only boy out of the 28 who had a perfect "A" average last semester. Bob's enrolled in Nuclear Engineering. Did someone say sports and books don't mix—!

Pack Beats Duke For 2nd ACC Crown; Run Winning Streak To 11-in-Row; Win Makes 8 of 9 Championships For Case:

N. C. State, unbeaten in their last 11 games, rolled to their eight conference crown last week as they crushed Duke University 87-77 in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship tournaments. For Coach Everett Case it was the second ACC crown in a row to go along with six Southern Conference first place trophies.

State advanced to the finals by crushing Clemson in the opening round, then stopping the Deacons of Wake Forest 85-70 in the semi-finals before finally meeting the Blue Devils in the finals.

Duke beat South Carolina on opening day, then downed Virginia in a thriller before meeting the Wolfpack.

However Duke, although runner-up in the tournament, still carried the ACC banner into the NCAA regionals play-offs because of State's probation placed on them by the NCAA earlier in the year. Duke was scheduled to meet Villanova in the first round Tuesday night. This is the same club that handed the Pack two losses during the year.

Ron Shavlik Heads AP's ACC Stars

North Carolina's powerful Big Four, spearheaded by virtually unanimous choice Ronnie Shavlik of North Carolina State, dominates the Associated Press all-Atlantic Coast Conference basketball team.

A vote of 47 writers and sportscasters in the conference area resulted in this lineup (voting points included):

First Team
Ronnie Shavlik, North Carolina State (233)
Richard (Buzz) Wilkinson, Virginia (229)
Dick Hemric, Wake Forest (223)
Ronnie Mayer, Duke (195)
Lennie Rosenbluth, North Carolina (185)

Second Team
Bob Kessler, Maryland; Bill Yarborough, Clemson; Vic Molodet, North Carolina State; Joe Belmont, Duke; Lowell (Lefty) Davis, Wake Forest.

Honorable Mention

Cliff Dwyer and Dave Gotkin, North Carolina State; Jerry Vayda and Al Lifson, North Carolina; Bob McCarty and Bill Miller, Virginia and Bob Everett, Maryland.

A first team vote was given five points and three were given for a second team ballot in the voting. The top five in the voting, regardless of positions, were named to the first team.

FRAT INTRAMURALS—

Lambda Chi's 50-27 to end their season. Duffett led the Chi's with 14.

PKA—47, AGR—41 — PKA handed the AGR's a 47-41 defeat behind Woolard's 17 points and Goodman's 14. Rogers of AGR was high man for the night with 18.

PEP—46, PKP—38 — The PEP's closed out their season with a 46-38 win over the PKP's. Greenburg led the winners with 17, while Stephenson's 23 for the PKP's was high for both teams.

Table Tennis

The PEP's swept two straight matches from the previously unbeaten Sigma Chi's to win the table tennis championship. The scores were 3-0 and 2-1. Sigma Nu took third and the SAE's fourth.

Also scoring high on the Tucker team were Hapward (13) and Hurst (10). Casteen and Emmart were the outstanding defensive and offensive players according to the officials.

Becton No. 1 Beat Bagwell No. 1—The second game in the championship series with Bagwell and Becton. At the halftime the score was 26 to 22 in favor of Becton, they retained this lead to finally win 48 to 43. Adams (16) and Whitehurst (10) were the outstanding players for the Bagwell team. Horace Heidt Show Variety Program

Horace Heidt and his Musical Knights will present their new "Swift Show Wagon," a 2½-hour variety show, in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum at North Carolina State College Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m., Coliseum Director W. Z. Betts announced.

A cast of 50 stars, including the famous "Ink Spots" whose recordings include many of the nation's hit tunes, will perform during the show. The performance will consist of music, dancing numbers, and comedy.

The Heidt Steppers, a chorus of young show girls, will give the dancing numbers. Among the vocal artists will be Ralph Sigwald, and Bud Massenie, trumpet playing formerly of Charleston, S. C., who has been dubbed "The Caruso of the South."

Comedians in the cast include Johnny (In the Book) Stanley; clown. Other stars are Reita Green, 18-year-old dancing star; and Mark Durbin, romantic baritone.

Heidt, a 30-year veteran of the stage, radio, and movies, is famous for his "Youth Opportunity Programs" now seen weekly on the NBC-TV network. He also organized a national talent search which is an integral part of both his TV and stage shows.

Three local performers, selected in preliminary auditions by Heidt talent scouts, will be featured in the Coliseum show as a part of Heidt's nation-wide quest for talent.

A father invited all his sons and daughters-in-law to dinner. As they were seated around the table he expressed his disappointment in the fact that he had no grandchildren, and offered a prize of $10,000 to the first grandchild. He bowed his head to say grace—when he looked up he was the only person at the table.

Graduation rubbed off: Technician Editor John Parker recently got the word via his home town high school newspaper that he is now a "former" graduate of that distinguished institution.

Duplication of education in consolidation: Freshman Nancy Moody claims she was incorrectly tabbed in last week's paper which described her as a "pre-vet" student. Insists that she is a "pre-med" scholar. Just wait'll Chapel Hill hears about this.

How come department: Student body still doesn't read Coliseum front office explanation why Wolfpack basketball team must publicly beg funds to finance trip to Denver. AAU tournament is supposed to be oldest hardwood clambake in existence. Still, no dough to go was set aside when box office cash registers were singing songs of sixpence. How come invitation was accepted when necessary funds were not available is another unanswered sixty-four dollar puzzler.

CAMPUS HEADLINES

University of Maryland's Diamondback had this interesting bit of information on the back side of a recent edition: "Tatum compiles football player grade scores." Wonder if a 65-yard punt return would push a D in English up to a low C?

A two-column head on the front page of the University of Virginia's Cavalier Daily reveals that: "Paint-splashing vandals visit lawn statues during night." If they're sure it's paint they can't say the campus is going to the dogs.

A recent edition of Carolina's Daily Tar Heel announced rather proudly that: "WC girls invite boys from UNC to party." Just another way of saying they served pink tea.

The Furman Hornet from Furman University carried this subtle starter on the inside of a last month's issue: "She fails as scholar, but she makes money." Bet she didn't have to put her mind to it.

Not too long ago the Reflector down at Mississippi State College reflected across three columns that: "Elevated streets, underground dorms, part of plan for campus improvement." In other words, the paths of learning will lead to higher planes while the mode of living sinks to a lower level.

From the Carolinian up at Woman's College comes this cheerful little item: "Women buyers club sponsors program in graduate retail study." If the programs were soap operas they shoulda' clubbed the sponsors, too.

MAX GARDNER—

attend are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. O. Max Gardner, Jr. Also attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrison of Washington, D. C., the late Governor Gardner's law partner.

Arrangements for the program, which will bring together the faculties of the three institutions comprising the Consolidated University, are being made by William C. Friday, secretary of the University.

Previous winners of the Gardner Award include Louis Brevard Alexander, Woman's College, 1949; Robert Erwin Coker, University of North Carolina, 1950; Donald Benton Anderson, State College, 1951; Albert Coates, University of North Carolina, 1952; Howard Washington Odom, 1953; and Franklin Holbrook McNutt, Woman's College, 1954.

The dinner is usually held on March 22, the anniversary of the birth of the late Governor. This year, however, it was decided to combine the Gardner Award and "State of the University" Conference dinner meetings in order that a maximum number of faculty members and trustees would be able to participate in these two principal consolidated University functions.

In line with Governor Gardner's will, the award is made each year "to that member of the faculty of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, who, during the current scholastic year, has made the greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race. . . ."

STATE OF THE UNIV.—

General chairmen of the conference during the two previous years that it has been held have been the late Dr. Howard Odom, head of the Sociology Department at UNC; and Prof. William M. Whyburn, head of the University's Mathematics Department.

The conference theme, "Planning for the Foreseeable Future," will be divided into three main topics —"Planning for the Students;" "Planning for the Faculty and Staff;" and "Planning for Extended Services to the State." Each topic will be considered by a group of about 60 delegates, headed by a chairman who will be assisted by three sub-chairmen.

The topic, "Planning for the Student," will be considered by a group, headed by Prof. Richard Bardolph, Woman's College, who will be assisted by Professors Elizabeth Cowling, Woman's College; W. L. Wiley, UNC; and Leonard W. Long, State College.

The group of delegates discussing the topic, "Planning for the Faculty and Staff," will have as its chairman Prof. George Hoadley, State College. The sub-chairmen will be Professors Leonard B. Hurley, Woman's College; Floyd Stovall, UNC; and C. Addison Hickman, State College.

Dr. W. P. Richardson, UNC, will be chairman of the group considering the topic, "Planning for Extended Services to the State." The sub-chairmen will be Professors Katherine E. Roberts, Woman's College; S. H. Hobbs, Jr., UNC; and J. W. Pou, N. C. State.

In commenting on the conference theme, Dr. Edsall said he regards the theme especially timely inasmuch as the report of the Commission on Higher Education cited planning as one of the major needs of higher education in North Carolina at the present time.

COLLEGE PROBLEMS—

University. All students and staff members interested were given an opportunity to be heard.

The housing situation at State College in Raleigh and the University at Chapel Hill is critical, the Committee reports. Many dormitory students are housed three to a room in "unsatisfactory" conditions. To accommodate satisfactorily even present enrollments, some 400 added rooms are needed at State College, 200 at Chapel Hill. The Division of Health Affairs at Chapel Hill especially needs a dormitory, the report says.

Strengthening of complementary graduate programs and increasing the financial support for research are recommended by the committee, who note "wholesome development of graduate programs at the three institutions which should be continued with special effort to insure that the activities within each institution are appropriate to its approved functions and to limit new undertakings to those which give clear promise of distinction."

Building addition needs at Woman's College, the Committee reports, are headed by "new classroom facilities for the Department of Art, and replacements for Woman's Hall and Kirkland Hall by fireproof dormitories."

Cadet Colonel James Tapp, Army ROTC Regimental Commander at State College, congratulates Cadet Earl Pope of Charlotte after being selected Outstanding Cadet of the Month. Cadet Pope was selected from some 900 students. Pope, a sophomore in Architecture, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Pope of Charlotte.

Study should be made at State College, the Committee says, toward providing a central fraternity housing development, and improving telephone services to the students.

The Committee also recommends that "efforts should be continued" to make possible the completion of the building program at Chapel Hill, including a new home for the School of Pharmacy; the remodeling of the present pharmacy building as a new home for the School of Journalism; and additions to Phillips Hall and Peabody Hall.

An increase in salaries of the President and the Chancellors, to levels comparable to those of top officials in other institutions, is recommended. A jump from the present $15,000 to $20,000 for the Presidency is suggested, along with a hike from the current $12,000 to $15,000 for each Chancellor.

WELCOME STUDENTS

WE'D LIKE YOU TO MEET -

Willard Kendall Wynn, Jr., one of the most outstanding Seniors at State College.

Willard is in the School of Agriculture and is majoring in Agronomy. He entered State in the Fall of 1951 from Needham Broughton High School here in Raleigh. He has made a very outstanding record while here at State. He has been a member of the Agronomy Club and has served as Reporter and Secretary in his Sophomore year and as Vice-President of the group last year. He is a member of Alpha Zeta, the honorary Agricultural Fraternity, and is serving as President of that organization this year. He also belongs to the Ag Club and held the job of reporter for them several years ago.

Because of his outstanding work in the Agricultural School and on the campus at large, Willard has been honored by election to Blue Key and Golden Chain, the Junior and Senior Honorary Fraternities. This year he holds the post of Vice-President of Golden Chain. Also, this year, he has been an elected member of the Judicial Board of Student Government. He was also Chairman of the Ag Fair this year in conjunction with the State Fair.

Willard is a resident of Raleigh. He lives at 2701 Barmettler St. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Wynn, Sr. As noted above he attended the Raleigh City schools and Needham Broughton High School.

He hopes to find some sort of journalistic work when he gets out of the Army following college. He served as Editor of the Ag School magazine, The Agriculturist, last year. He is a member of the active Army Reserve here in Raleigh and expects to serve a tour of active (Continued column 4)

Dean Dean Wallace Colvard of the State College School of Agriculture. Dean Colvard (who's first name really is Dean) has been a member of the State faculty since 1947 when he came here as the head of the Dairy Husbandry Section of the Department of Animal Industry. Before he took that post he had served as Assistant Director in Charge at three of the highly important Experiment Stations in Asheville and Waynesville. He also taught for a short period at Brevard College before going to the University of Missouri as a graduate assistant in 1937. In addition to his degree from Missouri he also holds a B.S. from Berea College and a Ph.D. from Purdue in Agricultural Economics.

Dean Colvard is originally from a small community near the Virginia line in Ashe County, N. C. He attended Virginia-Carolina High, which he explains was split right down the middle by the state line. He was very active in extra-curricular activities at Berea, having worked on the student newspaper there and participated in many of the college organizations.

He has also been extremely active since he came to State. He was advisor for the Animal Industry Club during the years of its inception and has been honored by election to Alpha Zeta, Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Kappa Phi during his years here and served on the first committee investigating the feasibility of a College Union at State.

Outside the realm of College activities he holds a number of positions, such as membership of several national committees and has received a number of honors for his work at State. The honor he is proudest of came to him last year when he was elected "Man of the Year" in Agriculture in North Carolina by "The Progressive Farmer." This was a signal honor indeed and speaks for his work here and throughout the state.

Dean Colvard is married to the former Miss Martha Lampkin, a native of Missouri, and has three children, two daughters, Linda and Carol, and a son, Wallace, Jr.

Dean Colvard has a difficult job here at State. His work not only includes the usual duties of the Dean of a School, but in addition he must correlate and oversee the work of the Extension Service and of the Experimental Stations. He has many responsibilities, but he is doing a wonderful job and deserves the congratulations and respect of every State College student.

Willard has done a fine job in the School of Agriculture in the past four years as well as on the campus as a whole. He deserves the commendations of all the students for his excellent job. Fine work!

Dr. Beach Speaks Duke Divinity School

"Christian faith is terribly appropriate in any field of learning," Dr. Waldo Beach, professor of Christian ethics in Duke University's Divinity School, said in an address at a faculty luncheon meeting at N. C. State College.

Continuing a three-day lecture series, Dr. Beach used as his topic, "God, Man and Technics," and declared faith provides "the third dimension" to the field of knowledge. It gives knowledge "a rhyme and a reason," he stated.

Dr. Beach delivered the final in his series of lectures in the grill room of Leazer Dining Hall. His topic was "The Leverage of Teaching."

The lecture series was sponsored by the Baptist Student Union, the Wesley Foundation, the Westminster Fellowship, the Lutheran Student Association, and the Young Men's Christian Association, all of State College.

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

YOU'LL GET A BANG out of the Doodle above. The title is: Daredevil enjoying better-tasting Lucky just before being shot from cannon. Luckies are going great guns everywhere. The reason for their booming popularity is simply this: Luckies give you better taste. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. Enjoy yourself when you smoke. Have a little fun. Light up the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

The music lounge of the College Union Building was really "jumping" last Sunday afternoon as Dave Hostetler, Chairman of the Music Committee, gave the students their first record concert in Dixieland jazz. The concert lasted for 1 1/2 hours, consisting of "Satchmo" and lots of "Bourbon Street Beat," and is considered the most successful Sunday afternoon record concert ever given.

Hostetler stated that he felt it was very seldom that the State men and their girls had the opportunity to hear such classics in Dixieland and he was glad everyone enjoyed the event so much. At present, the Music Committee is working towards scheduling live jazz programs put on by State amateur artists.

The Annual Spring Photography Contest is now in progress. The contest has been expanded to include a color division. There are four classifications in the black and white division: portrait, landscape, still life and human interest. The two divisions in color are portrait and landscape. With the Greeks—Page 3 . . . (Continued from page 3) weekend. Saturday afternoon they had a luncheon at the Carolina Inn at Chapel Hill, and Saturday night they journeyed to Durham for a banquet and dance. Their plans for next weekend include a rush party. The Pi Kappa Phi men entertained several alumni this past weekend after the games. This week they plan to attend the functions of Greek Week along with the other sixteen fraternities on campus. All the fraternities will join forces for a banquet tomorrow night at the College Cafeteria. The IFC key presentation will highlight the festivities and end Greek Week for another year. From all reports, the community work being done by the Greeks this week is very successful. Another highlight during Greek Week was the Dave Brubeck concert Tuesday night.

Did you hear about the girl who was so thin that when she swallowed an olive, twelve men left town?
