Spring Elections

Nomination Book Open Tomorrow

Now is the time for all good students who wish to run for a campus office to sign the nominations book in Dean Talley's office.

The books will be open from Friday, March 25, until April 6. The candidate as well as one other person must sign the book although they are not required to do so at the same time.

Nominations will be open for Student Government officers: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. Thirty-three seats will have to be filled in the Student Legislature.

To be eligible for any candidacy a C average is required and the student cannot be on probation.

A head cheerleader, senior, junior, and sophomore class officers will also be open for nominations.

Primary elections will be April 20 and the run off will be April 27. Two seniors, one junior and three sophomores are to be elected to the Judicial Board. Two seniors and one junior who are on the board this year will be elected by the Judicial Board to be hold over members next year as is provided for in the constitution.

Ray Eberle And Orch. For '55 Military Ball

The Junior-Senior this weekend will afford an excellent opportunity to line up your dates for the Military Ball, April 16.

The Military Ball committee has gone all out this year in securing Ray Eberle and his orchestra to play for the event. Jimmy "Our Best to You" Capps will be master of ceremonies at intermission time and will introduce the Military Ball sponsors and the honorary cadet colonels.

Under the auspices of the Arnold Air Society, the Scabbard and Blade, and the Pershing Rifles, the Military Ball is one of the largest and most colorful dances of the year.

Experiment Station Gets Tobacco Grant

Dr. Dean W. Colvard, head of the School of Agriculture, accepted a check for $25,000 from Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company on behalf of the Tobacco Research Fund of the Experiment Station early this month.

Purpose of the grant, according to college officials, is to continue the Experiment Station's extensive tobacco studies, covering most areas of the Tarheel State's leading money crop.

Dr. F. R. Darkis, Liggett and Myers research director, made the presentation.

For the convenience of those Juniors and Seniors who were not able to pick up their bids for the Jr.-Sr. Dance on the assigned dates, bids will be distributed at the door the night of the dance.

College Concert Band At Pullen Hall Tonight

Two concert performances by the College Concert Band are planned for this week end, Major Christian D. Kutschinski, band conductor, announced.

Sponsored by the State College chapter of Mu Beta Psi, honorary music fraternity, the first program is scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight in Pullen Hall and the second presentation will be given Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m., also in Pullen Hall.

Included on tonight's program are selections representing the early classical and romantic periods and music from contemporary films. Original compositions by assistant conductor Herbert Fred will also be offered tonight.

Sunday's performance will feature Mendelssohn's overture "Ruy Blas," Mozart's symphony number 38, "The Attonement of Pan" suite, and the popular "Jamaican Rumba," by Arthur Benjamin.

Both concerts will be open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Illustrated Lecture On Life In Japan

Miss Margaret Lee Stevens, Goldsboro, home economics major at Woman's College, will be guest speaker on the "Y" program next Thursday night at 7 p.m., YMCA secretary Ed S. King announced today.

Recently returned from Japan where she lived for several months as an International Youth Exchange delegate, Miss Stevens will speak upon her experiences as an adopted member of a Japanese farm family.

Miss Stevens' talk will be illustrated by colored slides.

Athletic Scholarships Bulk of Grant-in-Aid

Proportioning of grant-in-aid funds and "free" elections was the agenda at the 12 noon meeting of the Student Legislature Monday.

The resolution which called for athletic grant-in-aid scholarships to receive sixty per cent of the Student Supply Store profits and the other forty per cent to go for grant-in-aid scholarships (non-athletic scholarships) had been previously tabled until more facts could be obtained.

Football will get the bulk of the scholarships with a total of sixty-eight, twenty-two more than last year, at a cost of $67,000, reported Sen. Hap Welch (Sen-Eng). Basketball will give eight more than last year to make a total of 20 which will cost $21,000. Track and swimming are asking for $4,200 for scholarships.

The Wolfpack Club will provide 55 per cent of the athletic scholarship. (Continued on page 10)

Technician Unfair Says M&O Staff

Editor of THE TECHNICIAN, John Parker, met with Maintenance and Operations Division (M & O) Tuesday afternoon to discuss several differences in opinion between some of the editorials and the division. Meeting with Parker and J. McCree Smith, head of the division, were members of the M & O staff J. S. Rories, M. R. Rowland, L. I. Parrish, R. W. Mayton, J. G. Duncan.

The main problem that was discussed and that has plagued the M & O this year has been the contracting budget which is expected to cover expanding services. In addition to a contracting budget the division has had trouble with campus property depreciating at a more rapid rate than expected. An example of this is the pavement which is rapidly wearing out on Dan Allen Drive because of heavy traffic of both cars and trucks which use the street as a short cut between Western Boulevard and Hillsboro Street. Smith said that "although most streets and roads are paid for through gasoline taxes campus streets are paid for by money from the educational fund."

Smith and his staff gave a quick rundown on developments that have occurred in organization since January 1, 1953, when Smith took over his present job. Since that time J. S. Rorie has revamped the janitorial service and has changed the set-up on campus mail delivery. In addition, a roofer, plaster, brick mason and a pest controller have been added to the payroll of the staff.

The staff members of the M & O felt that THE TECHNICIAN had been unfair to the division since it had published editorials on only one side of the story. The case of Dempster-Dumpster was used as an example. M. R. Rowland said that the call to move the Dumpster came during the lunch hour when no one other than the secretary was working. He said that the boy was rather "nasty" when he called and as soon as he returned to work he called the boy to hear his complaint. He said that he could get nothing but stubborn hot-headedness. When he got up with the truck to have the container removed it had already been removed. He added that the men driving the Dempster-Dumpster carriers are on a very tight schedule and

AF Cadet Gene Coor Gets Bracelet Award

Harry Eugene Coor, school of Agriculture junior from Goldsboro, has been declared winner of the 1954-55 Republic Aviation Corporation silver bracelet award.

Open to all air science III cadets, this year's competition was centered around an oral presentation of an air power theme. Final competition was held in conjunction with Arnold Air Society's educational meeting last week.

Cadet George Burdick was runner-up to Coor for the award.

Horace Heidt Show At The Coliseum Fri.

Horace Heidt and his famed Musical Knights will present a 2½-hour variety show in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum at North Carolina State College Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m.

Three young North Carolina artists, chosen in talent auditions held here last Sunday, will appear on the program and will be considered, on the basis of the performances they give, for possible spots on Heidt's regular show.

Campus Lighting Project Underway; Student Government Applies Torch

State College is well underway toward being well lighted. The contract was awarded February 24 and work was begun shortly thereafter. The contract includes the conventional type lights which are seen on the older part of the campus as well as street lights for the main thoroughfares. No additional flood lights are called for in the contract.

Because of limitation of funds the area south of the railroad cannot be completed fully in the immediate future. However, Dunn Avenue will be lighted as far as the vehicular underpass and will be extended as soon as funds become available. Future plans hope to see Dan Allen Drive lighted from the campus to Western Boulevard.

When the project was first planned it was to be delayed until summer when all the students are away from the campus. However at the insistence of the Student Government the project was begun immediately. Student opinion seemed to be that it would be worth the inconvenience caused by burying the cables and erecting the lights if it would light the campus. The project should be completed before the semester ends.

Just Checking Up

Brigadier General Joseph Horridge, Commanding General Ordnance Training Command at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md. came to the State College campus Tuesday on a liaison visit to the Army ROTC. While here General Horridge had conferences with Dean Lampe and Chancellor Bostian, inspected classrooms and facilities, and met the Senior ROTC students receiving commissions in the Ordnance Corps. General Horridge's visit was part of an overall plan of the Ordnance Corps to maintain contacts with colleges and universities which train ROTC students for the Ordnance Corps.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

Running for an Office

With the election time nearing, have you considered running for a campus office? Elections will be held in the third week of April and it is not too early to start planning for it. You are the one person who knows whether you should hold an office or not. Stop to consider that for just a few minutes.

Consider that a campus office can be very demanding. There are times when several things pile up at one time and you'll have to choose what to do. Will you be inclined to push your elected duties aside to do something else? Will you be willing to accept some of the other things that go along with holding an office? More than one campus office has several sideline duties that are demanding but which aren't apparent at first. Consider also, are you really capable of holding office. Are you considering running just because someone or a group put you up to it or do you really think that you can contribute something to State College and its student life?

The student body needs strong leaders. When men are elected on popularity and aren't really capable of leading or just don't care, then the campus suffers for a whole year. A weak leader is dead weight. It takes a determined leader to accomplish anything and even if the campus offices are dominated by good men, a few poor leaders can hinder and even destroy whatever goal at which a better college life is aimed.

Finally, consider perseverance. A person who starts a job and who doesn't finish it, lets down the students who elected him. It won't be any satisfaction to see things listed in the yearbook in your senior year if you know that while you held the office listed that you failed to accomplish anything but had you been willing to stick with it you would have made a real contribution.

It will be encouraging if when election time comes there are several men competing for each office; several qualified men who are conscientious. If you are qualified and don't run for an office you are denying State students your talents and service. On the other hand if you know you won't do a good job it would be best if you forget the idea now. Seriously, will you make a good leader? If so, there are many organizations which need you.

Not twice, Please!

Several times in the past it has been suggested that THE TECHNICIAN be published twice a week. In fact the suggestion has come up every spring and several people have already mentioned it this year. Sounds pretty good doesn't it? You'd be able to get the news a little quicker and it would mean something to look over twice a week instead of once. Why then doesn't THE TECHNICIAN publish twice a week? A pretty good question.

The March 28, 1952 issue of THE TECHNICIAN carried a news story which told how Editor Paul Fought had won the approval of a twice-a-week paper from the Board of Publication. It was proposed that one edition be issued on Monday to carry weekend sports and general news with another edition on Thursday devoted primarily to campus news. The estimated additional cost per student was to be 55 cents per year. Nothing more was done to get a twice-a-week publication date because of lack of interest although the editorials were strongly in favor of the move.

The editor of 1951-52 may have been in favor of two papers a week but not this agent. Had he been going to edit two papers a week he might have had a different tune but he was campaigning for something to be brought into effect after he had left the campus. Certainly there are some advantages but there are also some disadvantages.

The first problem to consider when discussing two publication dates is the staff. The staff has trouble enough finding time to get out a paper once a week. In order to get out a paper on Thursday the staff must work both Monday and Tuesday nights. That's a lot of time to spend on extracurricular work and go to school under a full load too. In addition, trips have to be made to the Print Shop several times a day on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Staff members work as much as 15 hours per week on the paper as it is. This is time that could be spent studying. Yet, these men enjoy working on the paper and don't begrudge the time. The story could be different, however, if the time required was doubled or even half again as long.

This brings up a second problem to look into. Do students want two inferior papers or one good paper each week? With a shorter staff it would certainly amount to this. Two papers would no doubt add up to the same thing in size, each being a little smaller than that of the present setup. However, the time required for laying out the papers wouldn't correspond similarly.

Before anyone gets seriously concerned about a twice-a-week paper consider how much better a weekly can be. A better staff will work and even though some of the news is older than it would be in a twice weekly it's the same copy. An effort was made this year to increase the size of the paper from a five column to a six column spread but the contract had already been made for the smaller size paper. Another difficulty that was run into was the fact that the Print Shop is not equipped to handle the larger size.

Of course, the ideal set-up would be added revenue from an outside source so that THE TECHNICIAN could run a smaller percentage of advertisement and still remain in the black. At any rate it should be kept on a weekly basis.

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Sir:

It is a known fact that a lack of school spirit at State College has been a matter of some little concern to a few interested parties on campus, as was evidenced last year by the project undertaken by Student Government to increase school spirit. We believe this was known officially as "Operation Spirit," or some similar name. However, is "Operation Spirit," or whatever you choose to call loyalty to one's college a "sometimes thing"?

This morning (March 19) we witnessed one of the most disappointing displays of a complete lack of school spirit we have seen since becoming a part of North Carolina State College. One of the school's finest basketball teams left from the Coliseum a little after ten forty-five with no note taken of the fact by the student body or anyone else. The weather was cold and misty, and the players boarded a city bus for the brief trip to the Raleigh-Durham airport as unnoticed as a group of big-city commuters boarding the 5:30 special for the suburbs.

To be sure, the weather was not particularly conducive to a large turnout of fans, but was it really so severe as to deter all students from making an appearance for fifteen or twenty minutes to cheer off their team—fellow students off to seek even greater national recognition and, possibly, international fame as members of an Olympic team? Is this too much to ask for a group of boys who have made North Carolina State College more well-known throughout the nation than even the college's superior academic curricula have been able to do?

We talk in derogatory terms of our brother institution, Carolina, but how does our school spirit compare with theirs? Do you think for a minute that such a situation as this would have occurred "on the Hill"? We can hear the scoffs and guffaws now—"Who wants to be like Carolina?" But wait—their school spirit goes much further than pep rallies and cheering off a football team headed for the Sugar Bowl. It's manifested in active alumni support after graduation, as is very clearly seen in the large number of gifts and monies contributed to that institution by alumni. Without meaning to sound mercenary, we'd like to point out that often it's just such tangible evidences of support from alumni that make the going easier for a college, especially when the North Carolina General Assembly is interested in cutting down costs—and at the expense of its own institutions of learning.

Coach Everett Case and his boys must surely have experienced some degree of disappointment at the poor response received from the "Dollars for Denver" campaign, and this morning's departure, unnoticed, from "the basketball capital of the South" is certainly another black eye for Student Government's "Operation Spirit", if such a thing is now even in existence on this campus.

Perhaps you think we're overdramatizing and overemphasizing athletics, when the primary purpose of every college should be the production of educated men rather than Olympic athletes. However, we think you'll agree that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy", and it is a known fact that a winning athletic team of any sort is the greatest single instrument a college can possess to stimulate school spirit. One can hardly achieve any degree of school spirit from academic courses.

Where does the blame lie for this miserable failure? Some, perhaps, with you, for neglecting to publicize the departure properly and to encourage students to turn out for the event; more, even, with the Monogram Club, whose member organizations are supported solely by the basketball team's profits, for failing to think of all this even before you; but most of all, with

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

BECAUSE ONLY VICEROY GIVES YOU A PURE, NON-MINERAL, NON-TOXIC FILTER WITH 20,000 FILTER TRAPS IN EVERY FILTER TIP!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. Besides being non-mineral and non-toxic, this cellulose-acetate filter never shreds or crumbles.
3. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
4. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroys have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
5. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroys cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

EDITOR'S NOTE: You're right! This is dramatic. More so when you stop to consider that supporting the basketball team is only one phase of school spirit. The Student Government, Campus publications, and organizations need support too. Perhaps if you offer your talent and service to "Operation Spirit" this won't happen again.

If you'll turn to page four of last week's paper you'll see that the departure was mentioned but it is not the Technician's policy to start spontaneous rallies. There are elected cheerleaders for this job. Incidentally, relatively few people think that the "Dollars for Denver" campaign was in very good taste.

Perhaps the editor it at fault along with 4,200 other students. But, attendance at games is actually an amusement, not service, which is just as important when you rate School Spirit.

Red-White Game

If the recent Red-White football game is a real pre-view of next year's grid squad, State should more than hold its own against the majority of the opposition. . . . The sophomore-star-studded teams scored no less than 11 touchdowns. . . . On the last extra point try the ball sailed through an open window in the field house. It went into the Monogram Club room and members soon became worried about their T-V set until word was received that it escaped damage . . .

State Opens Baseball Season Sat. Against Wake Forest—There

Coach Vic Sorrell's State Wolfpack baseball squad will open its 1950 schedule Saturday when they journey to Wake Forest to meet the Deamon Deacons.

Seventeen of 19 contests are against Atlantic Coast Conference teams, but the final series between Duke, Wake Forest and North Carolina will not count in the league standings, but will be counted in the North Carolina Big Four race.

In addition to the scheduled games State will also participate in the first annual North Carolina Invitational Baseball Tournament, April 7-8-9 at Durham. Other participants are Wake Forest, Duke, North Carolina, Rollings, Notre Dame, Ohio University and Yale.

Last year the State team finished with an 8-8 record in 16 games, and tied for the Big Four League championship with Wake Forest.

Seven lettermen will see action this year, including Second Baseman Jack Turney, who was named to the 2nd team NCAA All-America. Graduated is All-America Johnny Yvars, who made the first-team selection. Other letter winners are First Baseman Bill Peed, Shortstop Dudley Whitley, who lettered two years ago, but was out last season with a knee injury, Third Baseman Joe Barringer, Centerfielder Sonny Santoli, Rightfielder Norman Norris and Pitcher Tommy Hargrove.

Two intersectional teams on the regular schedule are Michigan

State Scheduled To Meet Hope, Kan. In National AAU Tournament Wed.

N. C. State's nationally ranked basketball squad, second seeded behind defending champions Peoria Caterpillars, were scheduled to meet Hope, Kansas last night in the second round of the 48th annual National AAU basketball tournament in Denver.

Eight games were reeled off yesterday which cut the field down to eight teams to set the stage for tonight's quarterfinals. The semifinals will be Friday night and the finals Saturday.

Twenty-five teams started out gunning for the crown won the last three years by the Peoria Cats. Also seeded behind the Cats and State are the Denver Bankers and Phillips 66 Oilers. The entire tournament, as long as the Wolfpack is still in it, will be broadcast over several local stations.

State vs Cats

Back in 1953 State's basketball squad defeated the Peoria Caterpillars in the coliseum 63-60. This was just before they went on to win their third AAU crown. The Wolfpack may meet this same Peoria team before the week is out. The defeat at the hands of State was the first time a Peoria team had ever lost to college opposition.

ROTC Rifle Team Cop State Championship

N. C. State's crack Army ROTC rifle team walked off with first place honors in the North Carolina ROTC Invitational Rifle Match last week in Greensboro.

State's TOM WEST was the high individual marksman for the tournament with a total of 736 points, followed by George Treadaway of State's A. F. ROTC team.

The match consisted of two legs. The Army ROTC won the first leg with a total points of 1784 and George Simonson with 369 was high man. The crack Army team also captured the second leg with a 1778 total and West was high marksman with 372.

West and Treadaway were voted to the all-tournament team.

Members of the championship team besides West and Simonson include John Archer, Charles Summers and Henry Conder.

A drunk climbed on a bus the other day and sat down next to a clergyman. Wanting to start something, he said, "I ain't goin' to heaven; there ain't no heaven." No answer. "I said I ain't goin' to heaven." Still no answer. "I said there ain't no heaven." The clergyman finally turned to the rowdy and said calmly, "Well, go to hell, then; but be quiet about it."

Her lips quivered as they approached mine. My whole frame trembled as I looked into her eyes. Her body shook with intensity and our lips met, and my chin vibrated and my body shuddered as I held her to me. Moral: Never kiss with the engine running.

Mr. Formal Contest

N. C. State College will (again) participate in the nation-wide "Mr. Formal" contest to be held this Spring, it was announced today.

Conducted in association with The Technician, the contest will be sponsored by Huneycutt's, Inc. and S. Rudofker's Sons, Inc., manufacturers of "After Six" formal wear, to find the male student on campus who makes the best appearance in a dinner jacket.

"Mr. Formal" will win a jackpot of prizes including a complete "After Six" summer formal outfit and many other valuable gifts. The contest at State is one of more than one hundred similar contests to be held on campuses throughout the country.

Arnold Air Society Affiliates With A. F.

The Arnold Air Society recently became affiliated with the Air Force Association. The organizations had worked closely ever since the AAS began national operations as an honorary fraternity in 1949.

The Air Force Association is an organization of former and present members of the United States Air Force, members of the Air Force Reserve, and the Air National Guard. It is an independent, non-profit air power organization founded in 1946 with Lt. General Jimmy Doolittle as its first president. Among its objectives are those of obtaining and maintaining adequate air power for national security and the preservation of the spirit of fellowship among former and present members of the Air Force.

As a result of this affiliation, the AAS members have much closer contact with the Air Force. They receive AIR FORCE, the official magazine, containing complete coverage of Air Force activities and receive benefits from the stronger administrative and communications arrangement of the larger senior organization. The Arnold Society is at present the fastest growing Air Force honorary organization in the world. The State College, James J. England Squadron, was organized in 1951. Col. James J. England was the PWS at the time the movement was started.

A half-page feature in Wake Forest College's Old Gold And Black heralded one old-timer's campus career this way: "Old doctor served college for many years: built rock wall." Sounds more like he was the college finance officer instead of its physician.

From a recent issue of Duke University's Chronicle comes this bit of juvenile journalism: "East elects Newland, Herr to lead YMCA." Her is?

The Reflector down at Mississippi State College had this little one-column false alarm on the back of last week's edition: "Coed honor society to tell about State College." Keep cool men. It doesn't mean NORTH-CAROLINA State College.

A two-column head from the Daily Tar Heel announced that: "Frost touches many subjects in lecture." Maybe he was just trying to snow 'em.

11 TD'S SCORED

Offensive football was featured by both sides Monday night as the State off-season football practice ended with the Whites coming from behind for a 40-35 victory in a spirited intra-squad game.

In the air and over the muddy turf Coach Earle Edward's Wolfpack marched goalward in a display of scoring seldom seen at Riddick Stadium.

The Whites charged through the last period with three touchdowns to snatch the victory away from the Reds. John Zubaty, a veteran halfback who was outstanding in the contest, drove across from a yard out with only a minute and a half remaining to give the Whites the decision.

Fourth-Down Pass

This winning score came after a 70-yard drive that was featured by a 40-yard fourth down pass from quarterback Colbert Micklem to end Bob Turner.

The game was played before a crowd of about 500. It had been postponed from Saturday because of weather conditions. There was mud but it didn't bother the fleet backs States will throw against its opposition next season.

The Reds tried some real razzle

Early in the game one Red pass was good for 56 yards when Marinkov made a great catch to get under an Eddie West heave that covered about 60 yards in the air.

It seems that the old saying "In spring, a young man's fancy turns..." has come true at most of the fraternities during the last week. Outdoor parties, beach trips, hamburger fries, and picnics filled the agenda during the last weekend.

The AGR's have planned a picnic at Crabtree before the Jr.-Sr. next Saturday, followed by a social at the house afterwards. The KA's are also having an "outside party" this week (at least their pledges are). Several pledges are going through the all familiar "Help Week" this week.

The Kappa Sigs had a cabin party at the Mohawk Club last weekend. This weekend they plan the regular party at the house. The Lambda Chi's had a rushing function last Thursday. This past Tuesday they went to Carolina to participate in a basketball tournament between their chapters at Wake Forest, Duke, High Point, and Carolina. (Haven't heard the finals yet).

The Phi Tau's had a party at the house last Friday and Saturday. During the week they pledged two men. This weekend they have planned a banquet before the Jr.-Sr. and a party after. The PiKa's traveled to Morehead last weekend for a beach party. I hear it was cold Saturday but warmed up a little Sunday (thermometer rise?)

The SAE's had a regular party last weekend at the house. Tomorrow night they plan to have a masquerade party. The Sammie's had a party at the house last weekend although several of the brothers went to Charlotte for a dance. This weekend they plan to have their usual party after the Jr.-Sr.

The Sigma Chi's initiated 16 new men last Saturday. They celebrated afterwards with a regular party. Their Assistant Executive Secretary visited them from last Friday 'till Tuesday. Last Saturday the Sigma Nu's had a picnic at Truby's followed by a party with a combo. This weekend they plan to have the usual party at the house.

The Theta Chi's are having a rush party at Pullen Park tomorrow night, hamburger fry, combo, et al. The Phi Ep's gained a new pledge last week. Monday night they had elections with Don Calderon elected president. This Saturday night they plan to have a party after the Jr.-Sr.

The Pi Kappa Phi troops had a Pledge-Brother basketball game Saturday afternoon. (Why are the pledges moaning this week?) Saturday (Continued on page 6)

"I used to think accountants wore green eye shades and sat on high stools," John Merrick will tell you. "That's before I started working in a modern accounting department.

"I trained for about a year and a half in different phases of telephone accounting. Then I was placed in charge of the section which maintains telephone service records. I have more than 60 people in my group with four supervisors reporting to me. Our job is to keep a running record of monthly charges for 140 exchanges in Central Massachusetts. That comes to 440,000 different customers.

"Customers expect their bills on time and they want their charges to be right. So on my job my primary concern is to maintain constant and rapid production and at the same time keep our work accurate and reliable. One of the best ways to do this is to be sure that 'the right person is on the right job at the right time,' an old cliché. But I found it works and it gives me a chance to use my Sociology training since it means handling all sorts of personnel situations."

John finished Bates College in 1952 with a degree in Sociology, and started with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. His work is typical of many assignments in the Bell telephone companies. The opportunities open for college graduates with other operating companies of the Bell Telephone System are many and varied—also with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Honor At State Big Controversy

By Sam Blount,
Chairman, Student Judicial Board

Honor is a matter lately in question at State College. The subject is controversial indeed as honor is personal and individual; however, certain prevalent ideas of honor and integrity are coming to light here and should be more thoroughly understood. We, as students, are charged to conduct ourselves honestly at all times. Most of us are basically honest anyway, but at State College it is a responsibility which all must shoulder. We must also be responsible for our fellow students. If one of us becomes weak enough to rationalize dishonesty, then it is the duty of all students to help that person back up on the high plane of honesty that we strive to maintain.

This help may be given in a number of ways. We do not tolerate "informers", "squealers", or anyone else who seeks to do harm to others. Reporting is not dishonest or underhanded; it is an act of goodness to preserve the integrity and honor of the student involved. We report students to get them "out of the rut", which, if left unchecked, may evolve into serious consequences for the one who violates the law. Honor among men involves ethics of the highest caliber. Simply to report a person to the Judicial Board accomplishes little more than clarification of the situation. The individual who is dishonest should be consulted in every case. Would you not admire and respect the person who came to you and told you that you were doing wrong and that everyone knows it? Certainly you would.

The honor code charges us to right a dishonest act, but integrity and decency require that we consult the person in question and give him the opportunity of reporting himself. Honor is pride in our Honor System and our fellow men, and we must always view it that way. There are no dogmatic rules for honesty. Each violation requires that students be honest with themselves as well as the offender. Honor demands courage and responsibility. Each matter of honor is personal and must be attended personally. Students must demand that all be honest, and in cases where some are not, they must inform the student that he is wrong and require that he do better. If the situation goes unheeded, it is the absolute duty of each student to demand that the offender report himself as a violator of our Honor Code.

If men can believe in Honor in this light, then we at State College will have an Honor System that we can be proud to be operating under. If honor resides at State under these conditions, there will never be criticism on the part of others. Honesty must be displayed and demonstrated instead of being "a virtue to which all men may be assumed to be dedicated."

If you have read this article and if you can find truth in it, then put it into practice and watch State College men place State College in the ranks of schools having good honor systems and graduating men instead of just students.

James DeWitt Tapp, Jr., this year's Cadet Regimental Commander for the Army ROTC Detachment here at State.

Jim is a native of Hoke County and has lived in Raeford all his life, attending public schools and Hoke County High School there before coming to State. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tapp, Sr., maintain their home there at 414 Edinborough St.

Tapp entered State in the Fall of 1951 in the School of Engineering as a Civil major. He has been a member of the A.S.C.E. and has been elected to Chi Epsilon and Tau Beta Pi. These are the honorary Civil Engineering and general engineering fraternities respectively.

In line with his fine work in the Military Science Department Jim has been designated this year as a Distinguished Military Student. He also received a Merit Award as an Outstanding Military Cadet at summer camp and is a member, and secretary, of Scabbard and Blade, the honorary Military society.

Jim hopes to have his Commission deferred long enough for him to come back to school next year and get his Professional Degree in Structural Engineering. He is hoping for a job in some type of consulting work after he finishes school.

Jim has made an outstanding record while here at State, not only with his Military work, but also scholastically and he deserves a great deal of praise for his fine work. He is sure to have a successful career in both the Army and in his chosen field in civilian life.

Colonel Richard R. Middlebrooks, of the PMST Army ROTC.

Colonel Middlebrooks came to State College in January 1953 to begin his assignment as PMST. As Colonel Middlebrooks sees his duty here, it is one of training in the development of leadership complementing training and instruction given in various schools of the College as each school wants its graduates to be a leader, he feels that ROTC's training a cross section of the college can be a highly effective means for the college to achieve its highest ideals.

Colonel Middlebrooks was born at Fort Stevens, Oregon, and went through high school in Portland. After graduation he was appointed to the United States Military Academy at West Point where he received his commission in the Regular Army and a BS degree. Throughout his career he has continued study having attended the Infantry School at Fort Benning, completed the Command and General Staff Course at Fort Leavenworth, and studied at the Armed Forces Staff College, Norfolk, and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Washington. This last college, with the National War College, is at the top of the Armed Forces educational system. In addition to the above formal courses Col. Middlebrooks has studied various technical subjects, including one course in horseshoeing.

During World War II Colonel Middlebrooks was Executive Officer of the G-1 Section of the Sixth Army commanded by General Walter Krueger. You will remember that it was the Sixth Army that led the way in the Pacific from ships; $25,000 is estimated to come from Student Supply profits; and $25,000 will come from the University reported Welch.

Sen. John Lane (Soph-Tex) moved that the possibility of having "free" elections be investigated.

Sen. Jim Frazier (Jr-Eng) pointed out that it was to late to change this year's election. The matter was referred to the Investigations Committee.

WHO ARE THE "TOP-FLITE" GOLFERS ON YOUR CAMPUS?

If you've watched them on the course, you've probably thought: "Boy, if I could just get my game down like that!"

Constant practice is the answer, of course, but getting the best from your equipment is just as important, too.

That's where Spalding TOP-FLITE® clubs have the edge. They have more to offer in precision balance that gives an absolutely uniform swing-feel with every club in the matched set.

That's the secret of Spalding SYNCHRO-DYNED® clubs. And, it will pay off for you from the first round. You'll make the same shots with new uniformity. The perfect balance of these clubs lets you swing through the ball with confidence. Without "choking-up" or "compensating." You get the ball away cleaner, longer, and with more shot control.

These are the clubs that have lowered handicaps by as much as 1/2; Spalding SYNCHRO-DYNED TOP-FLITE clubs. Your Golf pro has them now. And, now's the time for you to start playing better golf.
