Textile Conference Opens Here Today

A 10-state conference on electrical equipment for the textile industry opened here today with approximately 200 delegates in attendance.

Sponsored by the North Carolina section and textile sub-committee of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the State College electrical engineering department, and the School of Textiles, the two-day conference features representatives of the nation's key electrical and textile industries.

Presiding at today's afternoon session was V. F. Sepavich of the Crompton and Knowles Loom Works, Worcester, Mass. Following an address of welcome by Dean J. H. Lampe of the State College School of Engineering, Dr. George B. Hoadley, head of electrical engineering at the college, spoke on basic industrial electronics.

Grover Gaskin of J. E. Sivvine and Company, Greenville, S. C. will preside during the Friday morning session, getting underway at 9:30 o'clock. Russell Ranson of the Edwin L. Wiegand Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., will open the technical session with a report on the application of electric heat to textile process drying. His talk will be followed by a paper on how designing can reduce maintenance costs presented by A. W. Frankensfield of the E. I. duPont de Nemours Company, Wilmington, Del.

H. S. Colbath of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, Macon, Ga., is scheduled to speak on trouble shooting on motors and control equipment. A report of the conference committee, presented by W. H. Hammond of the Okonite Company, Charlotte and a report on textile mill enclosures by Swaffield Cowan of the Factory Insurance Association, Charlotte, will conclude the morning session.

Dr. Clifford Beck, head of Physics Department at State College, will speak on the atomic reactor at the college during a luncheon for the delegates in the ballroom of the College Union Building Friday at 12:30 p.m. H. W. Oetinger of the Duke Power Company, Charlotte, will preside.

Tomorrow afternoon's session will begin at 2 o'clock with J. Dan McConnell of Cone Mills Corporation, Greensboro, presiding. C. R. Hyder of the May Hosiery Plant, Burlington, and H. A. Dameron, Jr., of J. P. Stevens Company, Inc., Greensboro, will give papers on the maintenance of electronic control equipment in knitting and weaving mills, after which a panel discussion on electrical problems and their remedies is scheduled.

A tour of the Atomic Reactor Building at 5 p.m. will conclude the meeting.

Campus Chest Drive Very Poor to Date

To date $441.45 has been collected by the Campus Chest Drive. The report is far from being complete, however, and it is hoped that when a final report is made the drive this year will top that of last year. Ninety percent of the total collections will go to the World University Fund, of which the Frank P. Graham Fund for Indonesia is a part, while the remaining 10 percent will go to the local united fund drive.

Organizations that have not yet completed their solicitations are requested to do so as soon as possible and to complete their reports. Reports may be turned in at the desk of the Y.M.C.A.

Research Contest Renewed At NCS

The National Science Foundation has renewed a $7,000 per year research contract awarded last year to the Civil Engineering Department at N. C. State College, which calls for continued experimentation concerning oxidation of complex organic industrial waste materials, college officials have announced.

Faced with the difficult task of treating multi-varied organic wastes separately before discharge into rivers because domestic sewage systems, which formerly only had to handle household wastes, many industrial plants are not equipped to take care of the increasing proportion of industrial waste materials.

During the past five years laboratory experiments have shown aeration in the presence of properly adapted micro-organisms to be an effective method of treating many of the highly soluble organic wastes. However, the basic mechanisms of aerobic oxidation must be determined before the process can be effectively operated, reported Dr. Nelson Nemerow, of the Civil Engineering Department, who is a specialist in waste problems and technical director of the project.

Student Variety Show Friday Nite

The annual "Student Variety Show" will be presented tomorrow night in Pullen Hall at 8 p.m. by the College Union Theater Committee. The show is composed of a dozen acts put on by students representing dormitories, fraternities, clubs, and Vetville.

A first and second prize will be given to two of the following acts: A Dorm Skit (Becton Dorm.); "I Need Your Loving" (Fourth Dorm.); a skit and singing by Cobert Micklem (Tucker Dorm.); Dan Moffatt playing the piano and the accordion (Tucker Dorm.); singing by Darrell Spencer (Tucker Dorm.); Piano playing by Bob Query (Alexander Dorm.); harmonica playing by C. F. Yuen (Alexander Dorm.); bone playing by R. B. Goforth; "The Ridge Runners" with Charley Webb (Forestry Club); playing the uke will be Wane Handy, last year's winner of the show; The SAE Chorus; Charlie Helms will present a pantomime (SPE); and Henry Wilson playing the guitar and singing (Vetville).

Freshmen

Last week's freshman orientation program saw State's freshman class make a name for itself not to be envied by any group. While the speaker tried to get his point across to the class, a number of the members made paper "airplanes" out of handouts and sailed them about and in front of the guest. The speaker?—J. W. Shirley, Dean of the Basic Division.

The surprisingly immature conduct of the class greatly embarrassed the speaker and the Student Body president. Observing the group it would not have been hard to separate the men from the kids.

The general opinion of upperclassmen is that the class as a whole owes an apology to the speaker, to the college and to its more mature members who necessarily have to be grouped in the Class of '58.

Dr. Maurice Valet At French-Canadian Meeting In Quebec

Dr. Maurice Valet, visiting scholar in the electrical engineering department at State College, left Raleigh earlier this week to attend a meeting of the French-Canadian Society for the Advancement of Science at the University of Laval in Quebec, Canada. Dr. Valet is presently on leave from the Faculte Catholique des Sciences in Lyon, France.

Although his primary field of work is industrial application of electronics, Dr. Valet will also visit the Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester, N. Y., before returning to State College late next week. Dr. Valet has done experimental work with photographic emulsions.

Government Problems

By TERRY LATHROP
Last Saturday afternoon, Doc Cheek and Tom Creasy, the Presidents of the Student Bodies of State and Carolina met for over two hours in the Student Government offices here on campus to discuss the problems common to both campuses.

The two biggest problems shared by the two units of the University are the same two which are such headaches here at State — the Student Supply Stores and the traffic and parking situation.

The problem of the stores is not identical, but the basic troubles are so nearly alike with only a few minor differences that it is possible that they can be treated together.

The main purpose of the conference Saturday was to try to correlate the approaches to the stores' situation and to make the goals of both groups, Carolina and State, near enough the same so that a solid case can be presented to the administration. There was considerable progress Saturday, most of it along the line of plans of action which are still being formulated.

The Stores Advisory Committee met here on campus this week to study and evaluate complaints and recommendations submitted by students. They will continue to do this until they know exactly what the sentiment on the problem is at State. They are considering only written and signed gripes. Students having complaints are asked to pass them along to the Student

Editor J. A. Park Honored By PIKA's

In observance of its 50th anniversary, Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at State College held a special celebration Saturday, October 30.

Highlight of the observance was the presentation of a plaque to Editor-Publisher John A. Park of The Raleigh Times, a State College graduate, who is commemorating his golden anniversary with Pi Kappa Alpha.

The presentation took place at a banquet in the main ballroom of the N. C. State College Union Building Saturday night. Following the banquet, the members attended the Furman-N. C. State football game in Riddick Stadium.

Dairy Products Team Wins National Honors

The State College dairy products judging team ranked first in the milk division, eighth in the cheese section, and 18th in all products in the International Dairy Products Judging Contest held in Atlantic City, N. J., last week, it has been announced.

Teams representing 26 colleges and universities competed in the event, which was held as a part of the Dairy Industries Exposition under the auspices of the Dairy Industry Supply Association.

The State College team is composed of George W. Ellis, Durham; Alva E. Williams, Jr., Durham; Carol N. Yarborough, Sanford; and Banks L. Leonard, Lexington, all seniors in dairy manufacturing at State College.

Williams and Yarborough ranked first and third, respectively, in the milk division of the contest. Ellis ranked ninth in milk and 16th in all products.

Movie: John Wesley

The motion picture "John Wesley" will be shown at the Fairmont Methodist Church, sponsored by the Wesley Foundation, on Saturday and Sunday, November 6 and 7, at 7:30 p.m. according to the Director of the Wesley Foundation, the Reverend J. H. Overton, Jr.

The feature-length film is in Eastman color and was produced by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church in cooperation with J. Arthur Rank.

Freshman Class Nominations

The response of the freshman class to the forthcoming elections on November 17 has been very outstanding. A total of thirty-four men have signed up for the four major class offices.

A total of twelve have been nominated for class president. These men are: George Kalogannides, Michael Eric Bernholz, Darrin D. Yager, Bobby Smith, William A. Graham, Raymond J. Sparrow, Robert A. Jackson, Charles Williams, Henry J. T. Wilson, Richard Webster, Eric Smart, and Charles Mateer.

Eleven freshmen are seeking the office of vice president. This list includes: Sidney Fox, David Weinstein, Joseph Howard Williams, Donald Cox, Chris Saparilas, James M. Chambers, George M.

The Fraternity observed "open house" at its home, 1720 Hillsboro Street, throughout Saturday afternoon.

Zeb David Hargett of Charlotte, a senior in civil engineering, is president of Pi Kappa Alpha this year. Other chapter members assisting in arrangements included Dow Perry of Louisville, alumni secretary; and Allen Hull of Richmond, Va., social chairman.

Wataugan Returning After Long Absence

After several years' absence from our campus, the first issue of the new Wataugan will be out approximately November 15. Willard Wynn and Leo Robinson, acting co-editors, and George Wallace, acting business manager have been working diligently for the past several months on the first issue.

Probably the only students that will remember the Wataugan of the past are seniors. The Wataugan was eliminated from the campus publications in 1951 by cutting off its funds. The first issue of the Wataugan is being financed by contributions from several student organizations and advertising. Financing for subsequent issues this school year is a problem that has not yet been worked out. Approval has only been given for one issue and it must be approved by the Faculty Senate. If the first issue is approved it is planned to produce three more issues this year.

An initial success will not be sufficient if State College is to have a humor magazine that will be a distinction to our school. To be able to produce a good magazine and to continue putting one out, the now very small Wataugan staff will need the active support of students who are literary minded as well as members for the business staff. George Wallace emphasized, "Whether or not the Wataugan lives, if approved by the Faculty Senate, after the first issue will depend on the participation and support of students. Material has been difficult to obtain for our first issue and if more are put out we will need considerable material.

Colton, Robert H. Tucker, Gene Knoefel, Warren Sparrow, and George Howard.

Donald Rose, William G. Robinson, Cecil C. Brooks, F. Carlyer Teague, Yancy C. Elliot, Jr., and Bachman Doar are the six candidates for Secretary.

The five candidates for Treasurer are Bob Chapman, Ervin Thompson, Robert R. Stephenson, Johnny Goodman, and David A. Tousignant.

In the individual school senatorial races the School of Engineering leads with a total of 19 men running for its five places on the student government legislature. These candidates are Joe E. Eagler, Jr., Walter R. Lane, George W. Goolsbey, Jr., William

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

Elected --- For What?

It was only last spring when the campus was in the midst of elections and it was only last spring when students heard pledges of support to the Student Government. No democratically governed body can attend to the pressing needs entrusted to it if there is not a quorum present. Only at two out of four Student Government Legislative meetings have there been enough members present to constitute a quorum. Those pledges of support seem to have been misplaced.

Men who accept the responsibility of helping govern the State College campus are expected to do just that. They are not expected to become student legislators unless they are willing to devote a little of their time to legislative work and to honestly give a little thought to effective government.

Sure, some of the men who have been consistently absent have good excuses. Some are even elaborate. Excuses aren't needed but rather, results. Men who are going to be absent should send an alternate and then be counted present, allowing the government to function as well as give representation to their respective school. If some of these men are not planning to improve their attendance record they should resign.

When a representative from a school misses a meeting, representation is thrown out of balance. His school no longer has representation on an equal level with that of other schools. Soon, cries of "that school runs the campus" are heard. Whose fault is it? Perhaps it is a result of not carefully looking over the ballot but usually such as this could not have been foreseen by the voters. The men who get out and fulfill their obligations are to be commended. The others—their election was a waste of time.

Maybe if these men were responsible to a particular group and had to report to that group, a more effective method of representation and coordination would evolve. For instance, if the School of Engineering representative had to report to the Engineer's Council, he'd be in a better position to feel-out the opinion of his school and would be able to express it better. What's more, if he failed to attend a meeting or send an alternate, he would have to explain his action to the council. Most schools could easily adopt a board or council or even use what they have in directing their representative in voting in order to give a more studied opinion.

In colleges and universities having political parties, representatives rarely miss a meeting because this gives their opponent the upper-hand. They no longer represent the party which was voted into power. Students can show their disapproval by voting-in a new power with the men who have neglected their duty losing favor in the party as well as in the school.

Such a system has its merits but would political parties at State be very effective? Possibly, but it hardly seems likely. The problem at the present is getting the men already elected to fulfill their duties. By allowing themselves to be nominated and by running for the office, they gave their tacit word of honor to give their support to the State College Student Government.

It is high time elected officers take their positions a little more seriously and get down to business. Students have a right to expect these representatives to do their best and represent them as this is the way students reach their government and voice their opinion.

To get these men on the ball will mean that every student will have to give them a push and make them realize the importance of their job. How else can this campus progress?

Look over the list of absences from legislature meetings. Note the men who are doing their job and compliment them. Note also the men who are shirking their duties and "give 'em hell!" State College should not have to bear the record of a quorum for only 2 out of 4 meetings.

Letters To The Editor:

The Technician welcomes letters or comments, whether on editorials or of other campus interests. They do not necessarily represent the opinion of any staff member and each must be signed in ink.

Dear ED:

From your editorials I can see that you are very observant as to how things are done around the campus. There is something that is happening that I think warrants note in your column and I am taking this opportunity to call it to your attention.

From the time that the new addition between Daniels Hall and the CE Building has been built, I have noticed that the toilets in Daniels have been the filthiest places on State College Campus. Even on Monday morning when the place should be sparkling clean, the floors are so dirty the grid grinds under your feet and the wash basins look like all of Sander's Motor Company's mechanics lined up in the place at quitting time. The waste basket is full and over-flowing and paper towels are all over the floor.

As for the commodes, the seats look as if they have never been cleaned. This, I'll grant you, isn't all the janitors fault, some of the students here are still poorly instructed children.

As for the lack of water on the fourth floor, I understand that the college knows about it and is thinking about it.

If you don't get this in this week's paper, don't worry, the toilets in Daniels will still be filthy next week.

Very truly yours,
Howard F. Stearns
Senior, EE

Former Ag School Dean Visits College

Dr. L. D. Bayer of Honolulu, Hawaii, director of research for the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association and former dean of the School of Agriculture at State College, visited Dr. Carey H. Bostian, chancellor of State College, and others of his former associates last Thursday.

Dr. Bayer left Raleigh Friday after his brief visit here. He resigned his position as dean of agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at State College January 1, 1948, to accept the post in Honolulu.

While on the campus Dr. Bayer visited Dr. D. W. Colvard, present dean of agriculture, and other officials of the School of Agriculture.

Widely known in North Carolina, Dr. Bayer joined the State College faculty in 1940 as head of the Agronomy Department and associate director of the Experiment Station. He was promoted to the post as station director in 1941 and was made dean of agriculture in Sept., 1945, succeeding Dean I. O. Schaub.

N. C. State vs. Maryland

The Wolfpack of State College, still licking their wounds from last week's surprise one-point loss to the Purple Hurricanes of Furman University, travel northward to College Park, Md. for a conference battle with Jim Tatum's powerful Terrapins of the University of Maryland.

State goes into the contest with a not too impressive mark of one win in seven starts while Maryland, the nation's No. 1 team last year, sports a 4-2 record, its losses coming at the hands of two of the country's remaining undefeated teams, Miami and U.C.L.A.

It will mark the 12th meeting of the two teams dating back to 1909 and surprisingly enough the series stands all tied up at 4-4 with three ending in ties. The Wolfpack's last win was a big upset in 1950, 16-13, however, the Terrapins came back the following year to crush the Pack 53-0. Anything can happen in football and when the Pack is right they can upset anyone, but it's homecoming time in College Park, the Terrapins still have one eye on the Orange Bowl bid, and Maryland is just plain tough—you take it from there!

Kickoff is slated for 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the 33,000 seat Byrd Stadium.

Homecoming Dance

After State's battle with Maryland, the Pack will return home for their Homecoming game with the Spiders of the University of Richmond. Each year, as is the custom, the Monogram Club of State College sponsors the annual Homecoming Dance after the game. According to reports, the Monogram Club is going all out to make this year's dance the best in years. The dance has been set for Saturday night after the game in the spacious ball room of the College Union Building where you can dance to Jimmy Johnson and his orchestra from 8 until 12.

The cost for the semi-formal affair is $2.00 per couple or stag and students, alumni, and their friends and guests may purchase their tickets in advance from any member of the Monogram Club or at Norman's. Tickets may also be purchased prior to the dance at the door.

Football

KA-12, Sigma Pi-0—Led by the scoring of Hall and Roberts the KA's tallied two quick TD's in the 1st and 2nd quarters and then fought off a determined Sigma Pi squad for the rest of the game to grind out a 12-0 win.

SAM-18, Kappa Sig-7—Bob Giddens and Gaier combined talents to lead the SAM's to an important 18-7 victory over the Kappa Sig's. Gaier scored on an end run, passed to Giddens for another TD and then Giddens hauled in a stray Kappa Sig pass and crossed the goal to complete the scoring. Osborn scored the lone Kap Sig TD.

PKP-20, PEP-6—The PKP's through the touchdown efforts of Bagwell, Barnette, and Collier rolled to a 20-6 win over the PEP's. Rosenbaum scored and along with Gahan led the offensive for the PEP's.

Sigma Chi-40, PKT-6—A strong and undefeated Sigma Chi squad just had too much power for the outmanned PKT's as they chalked up an easy 40-6 victory. Cocke was the main gun as he scored twenty points followed by Dehertog's seven, Johnson six and Reynolds six to complete the impressive and powerful touchdown spree of the Chi's. Hawkins broke through the Chi's stout defense to tally the PKT's only score.

PKA-26, Lambda Chi-0—The Pikas kept their championship hopes alive as they rolled to a 26-0 victory at the expense of the Lambda Chi's. Woolard crossed the goal twice and Vaughn and Scot once for the all-important win in Section 3. Taylor, Hester, and Edwards were standouts for the Lambda Chi's.

AGR gained a forfeit from the TKE's.

STATE MEETS MARYLAND

Job Tough For Pack!

Terrapins Roll Over South Caro. 20-6; Pack Edged by Furman 7-6

Earle Edwards hasn't made much use of the coaches crying towel this season, but the N. C. State mentor admits that the job facing his squad in Saturday's meeting with the University of Maryland is just about as rough as they come.

Edwards' State team has one victory to its credit in seven starts, a 26-0 upset win over William and Mary, but in other contests the Wolfpack has been both up and down. Best performances in losing were against Virginia Tech, 30-21 and against Duke, 21-7, but on three other occasions State was favored to win and was beaten by Wake Forest 26-0, Florida State, 13-7 and Furman last week, 7-6. The other loss was to North Carolina 20-6.

Edwards isn't conceding the victory to Maryland this week, but he admits the job is providing plenty of problems.

"We are capable of giving Maryland an interesting ball game, but they have us out-manned. Our problem is to figure out how we can make yardage against Maryland's great defensive line and then to hope we can stop those outstanding backs that Coach Tatum seems to have in such abundance" Edwards says.

"I wouldn't be surprised if Maryland doesn't have the best team we'll meet this year" Edwards says, "and unless we play much better than we did last week against Furman we're in for a rather bad afternoon."

The Terrapins haven't achieved the national spotlight they did a year ago when they were the nation's No. 1 team, but their only two losses have come at the hands of U.C.L.A. and Miami, two of the best teams in the country, and State scouts say that Maryland is just as tough as ever.

To add to Edwards' problem Saturday, Maryland will be celebrating (Continued on Page 5)

 The SAE's and SAM's gained forfeits over the AGR's and PEP's, respectfully.

Track

The run-offs for the annual fraternity intramural track and field finals to be staged Friday night, November 12th were held last week on the track field under the lights. The Kappa Sig's who all but ran away with the finals last year, served notice that they were out to do it again as they placed nine men in the finals. Close behind came Sigma Nu with six and SPE, SAE, PKA, and Sigma Chi with five each and these teams are expected to go out to try and unseat last year's champs.

Tucker No. 2 Beats Becton No. 2 to tie the two teams in section 3 football. Tucker No. 2 scored twice in the first quarter and again in the second. The Becton No. 2 team scored in the second quarter also but the line of Ledbetter and the Farley twins of Tucker was able to hold them for the rest of the game. The strong passing offense of Tucker was highlighted by Vargo, and Taylor with Freeman and Dye receiving. Yvars was a strong offensive player also. The Becton No. 2 team was led by Barnhart and Reeves in the backfield and Stancel in the line. The final score was 19-7 in favor of Tucker No. 2.
Becton No. 1 Over Owen No. 1 with Becton using the two platoon system. The Becton team used twenty men in their victory over Owen. Whitley continued to be the outstanding player for Becton, while Warren and Powell were also very important. The Owen team was led by Davis and Tripp. The final score was 28-0 and gives Becton a total of 186 points for the season while their opponents have not been able to score.
Berry Beats Bagwell No. 2 For The Second Time The Bagwell team has come a long way since the beginning of the season but it wasn't able to beat Berry, although the score was closer than their first game. Santoli intercepted a pass for the first Berry TD and later he received a pass from Jones for the second. The Berry team used most of their substitutes. The outstanding player both offensive and defensive for Bagwell No. 2 was Peatross.
Tucker No. 2, Bagwell No. 1 and Syme No. 2 all win over their opponents by virtue of forfeits. Turlington No. 1 and Alexander No. 2 were dropped off the list of competing teams in football because of two forfeits.
Stadium "Studs" Win One and Lose One—The Stadium "studs" lost their game with Berry 15-10 and 16-14 when Stanfield and Jones from Berry started rolling. But the "studs" were more fortunate against the players from Alexander No. 1 when they won with 15-10 and 15-7 in the last two games after losing the first 15-4. Prescott was the outstanding player for Alexander No. 1 and Syme 1—Stadium had the combined forces of Wilkins, Williams and Walker.
Turlington No. 2 Beats Berry But Bows to Alexander No. 1—The combination of Hafer and Maglio from Turlington No. 2 was too much for the boys from Berry, and the Turlington players won 15-11 and 15-8. The Alexander No. 1 team beat Turlington 15-8 and 15-8 and they were led by Prescott but it was a team victory all the way.
Becton No. 2 Over Bagwell No. 1—After losing the first game 15-11, the boys from Becton came back with 15-3 and 15-5 victories in the next two games. Keen and Pearson

Cross Country Teams Host To State Meet Monday; Beat Va. & W-F For AC

State College's undefeated cross country team, fresh from a sweeping victory over conference foes Virginia and Wake Forest, will be host to the annual state cross country meet next Monday afternoon at 3:30. State, who has a current string of eighteen dual and triangular meet victories in a row, will lay its perfect record on the line against the cross country squads of Duke, Wake Forest, Carolina, and Davidson. The Pack will be a strong favorite to cop the state meet as they have yet to lose to any of the other four teams entered.
 The Wolfpack strengthened its hold on first place in the ACC as they downed Virginia and Wake Forest with ease last Saturday morning. The scores: State-15, Virginia-44 and Wake Forest-80. Low score wins.
 State's freshman squad remained in the ranks of the undefeated as they copped three more wins this past week. The baby harriers stopped Carolina's Frosh 25-32, rolled over Wake Forest Frosh 15-54 and crushed the Burlington Running Club 15-51.

 homecoming and the old grads will be returning to the Terrapin campus in hopes of seeing a big victory. The last such venture by a State team to Maryland on homecoming resulted in a 53-0 slaughter of the Wolfpack. Some observers figure Maryland is just about that much better than State this year and can just about name the score.

Carbide Scholarship Won by Hagler

William N. Hagler, industrial engineering senior from Raleigh, has been awarded a $500 scholarship for the current year by Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, according to an announcement just made by Dean J. H. Lampe.

An annual award to the School of Engineering, the scholarship is sponsored by the National Carbon Company of Charlotte.

Hagler was selected to receive the scholarship on the bases of scholastic achievement, personal characteristics, and potential executive ability. The award is applied for textbook expenses, tuition, and other fees.

were the outstanding players for the Bagwell team, Becton was led by Sherrill Jones and Heath. The first time these two teams met Bagwell team won 15-5 and 15-12.

Tucker No. 2 and Verville—Also won their games when Turlington No. 1 and Alexander No. 2 forfeited their games.

Prof. W. W. Kriegel Named To Ceramic Research Committee

Dr. W. W. Kriegel, professor of ceramic engineering in the department of mineral industries at State College, has been appointed the representative of the Structural Clay Products Division of the American Ceramic Society on the Society's Research Committee.

The committee, which is made up of representatives of the seven divisions of the ACS, makes periodic surveys of research work in progress in the ceramic field, promoting and coordinating such activities.

Dr. Kriegel will serve for a one-year term, effective immediately. Current chairman of the committee is H. F. McMurdie of the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.

Mid-term reports are due November 15. Need we say more?

Dr. Binkley To Speak at CU Building

Dr. Olin T. Binkley, Professor of Christian Sociology and Ethics in the Southeastern Theological Seminary at Wake Forest, will speak at a dinner meeting in the Grill Room of the College Cafeteria Thursday, November 11, at 6:15. Dr. Binkley's appearance is being sponsored by The Baptist Student Union, The Lutheran Student Association, The Wesley Foundation, The Westminster Fellowship and the YMCA. The subject of Dr. Binkley's talk is "Religious Faith in a Community of Learning." Harry E. Stewart, head of the Cafeteria, will serve dinner consisting of fried chicken, string beans, creamed potatoes, rolls and butter, jello fruit salad, coconut pie, coffee or milk.

Dr. Binkley is a man of pleasing personality, is well known as a scholar and is an accomplished public speaker. The dinner is open to any State College student who wishes to come and who will secure a ticket from one of the sponsoring organizations or at the YMCA desk.

In addition to the student dinner, there will be three faculty luncheons November 9-11, at which Dr. Binkley will speak, using as his topics "The Meaning of Religion," "The Vitality of Religion in the United States," and "The Task of Religious Leaders in the South."

What makes a Lucky taste better? "IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

What cigarette do college students go for? According to the latest, biggest coast-to-coast survey, students prefer Luckies to all other brands. And once again, the No. 1 reason is better taste. Of course Luckies taste better. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Try a pack. Maybe you'll be as fortunate as the student in the Droodle to the right, titled: Lucky smoker . . . faulty cigarette vending machine. Even if you're not, you'll enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

"WHAT'S THIS?" asks ROGER PRICE

GOVERNMENT PROBLEM—

Government office so they will be brought up for consideration. The traffic muddle also came into the discussion. It seems that State is in better shape than Carolina. UNC is facing the same problem as State but with less cooperation. The parking here is still critically crowded but with better registration and more cooperation in following the prescribed rules, there will be more car-room and little inconvenience. The threat of drastic administration action is an ever-present concern.

Appropriations for campus organizations financed by the Student Government through the activity fees turned over to them for this purpose comes up in the Legislature the 15th. This has been postponed to allow various groups to prepare their budgets and requests, but the 10th has been set as the final day for these to be turned in. If they are not in by then they will receive no appropriation.

The candidate registration books for the freshman class elections closed last Friday at sundown. There was an extremely large turnout which would seem to indicate interest among the freshmen. President Doc Cheek commented on this by saying, "I was mighty pleased with the group nominated. I remember many of them from Orientation and they are a fine group. The interest so far has also been pretty good."

C. A. DILLON

C. A. Dillon of Raleigh, president of the Dillon Supply Company, has been appointed chairman of the Development Council of State College, Dr. Carey H. Bostian announced.

A well known civic, religious, and business leader, Dillon succeeds E. Y. Floyd of Raleigh, executive director of the Plant Food Institute of North Carolina and Virginia, who has headed the council since its formation May 8, 1952, and whose term of office ended this year.

The council is dedicated to the long-range and continuing advancement of State College and currently is sponsoring a wide range of projects and programs aimed at the further progress of the college and the promotion of the institution's teaching, research, and extension functions.

The council's membership is composed of 22 educational, business, industrial, and agricultural representatives, including the presidents of the foundations supporting State College, the deans of the seven major schools at the college, alumni officials, and other friends of the institution.

Happiest spectator at the recent Tar Heel-Deacon set-to was an ag engineering sophomore who came back to Raleigh sporting a shinér and a fat lip. Got that way because he crashed their "little party after the game." Said it was the best time he's had since he celebrated October 22. "It made no difference who I hit," he beamed, "every-time I swung I knew I was getting in a lick against Wake or Chapel College."

Disgruntled and unpaid veteran's thumbnail description: "A clerical cesspool designed to keep inefficient office personnel out of other branches of the government."

The Minneapolis Lakers, managed by the great George Mikan, and the Baltimore Bullets, starring Frank Selvy, will meet in a regulation National Basketball Association game Friday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m.

A preview of N. C. State's basketball season will be staged on Thursday, Nov. 25, at 8:15 p.m. when State's freshman and varsity squads will clash in a regulation game.

Rounding out the three-game series will be a four-team double-header on Saturday, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m. when the famed Harlem Globetrotters will return to the Coliseum with their fancy ball handling and program of entertainment.

Appearing with the Globetrotters will be the New York Celtics who will oppose the Globetrotters in the feature game. Also meeting in a regulation game will be the Philadelphia Warriors and the Toledo Mercurys.

In announcing the schedule of special cage events, Director Betts said the Coliseum management felt that it is fortunate in arranging the appearance of such noted players and outstanding teams in the series.

Tickets already have been placed on sale, and special forms were mailed this weekend to Coliseum patrons.

Three big basketball games have been scheduled for the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum, North Carolina State College in November, Coliseum Director W. Z. Betts announced.

CAMPUS HEADLINES

The University of Maryland Diamondback tells us that: "'Look' Looks At Terps." After those jaunts to Los Angeles and Miami, a double take, no doubt.

Carolina's Daily Tar Heel recently proclaimed rather proudly: "'Beat Dook' Parade Scheduled Nov. 23 Down The Main Drag." Duke's 'Beat Carolina' parade is scheduled for November 27 in Kenan Stadium.

The Flat Hat of the College of William and Mary just announced: "Church Groups Plan Religious Activities; Speakers, Retreats." Just in case anybody can't back up what he says?

From Woman's College Carolynian we learn: "Library, Soph Lecture Bring Writer Chaucer To Student Spotlight." Always thought it was the miller's tale."

Duquense University's Duke says: "Cadet Posts Set For Fall." Maybe the corps' excavation detail isn't delving deeply enough into its work.

Again from the Diamondback comes a story headed: "Birth Of Child Featured On University TV Show." Darn good timing, to say the least.

The Daily Tar Heel also bragged recently that: "UNC Has Psychiatrist." Undoubtedly the busiest man on the campus.

From the Charlotte Observer comes this classic: "UNC Coeds Are Tapped." No comment.

Nat'l Magazine Runs Prof's Novel Feature

Sam Rosenberg, associate professor of design in the School of Design at State has a two-page feature in the October 29 issue of Collier's.

"Anybody Here You Know?" is the subject of his novel feature, which consists of 12 pictures of fire hydrants of different shapes, colors, and sizes. Rosenberg has labeled each hydrant for various professional people and other characters, including a nosy neighbor, hobo, and a professor.

In its Nov. 12 issue, Collier's published another picture of Rosenberg—one he made on a trip to France.

Rosenberg joined the School of Design faculty at State College in Sept. He was the State Department's official photographer at the Yalta Conference and was the photographer for the Marshall Plan from 1949-52 in Europe. His work has been published by a member of the nation's leading magazines.

Model Plane Club

The College Union Model Airplane Club will meet in the C.U. Hobby Shop on Thursday, November 4, at 7:00 p.m. Points of interest on the program will include a model building demonstration, and discussion of model problems. The Club also plans to sponsor flying lessons for the inexperienced.

Discussion

The College Union Forum Committee presents a lecture and discussion in the College Union Theatre Monday evening, November 8 at 8:00 p.m. "Behind Dixon-Yates" will be the subject of Professor Mason Gaffney, guest speaker from the Economics Department. There will be a coffee hour following the discussion.

"Five Fingers"

Showing this week in the Union Theatre will be the melodramatic true life story of Albanian spy Ulysses Diello—"Five Fingers." Diello, who spies for the Germans on the British Ambassador in Turkey, is played by James Mason. Mason's accomplice in spying and smooching is lovely Danielle Darriex.

NOW UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Filmom's Diana Lynn: "I think the Miracle Tip is the most modern filter... and L&M the best-tasting filter cigarette."

David Wayne, Stage & Screen: "L&Ms have the best filter of them all. Miracle Tip is right! There's nothing like it."

Mrs. Laddie Sanford, Socialite Sportswoman: "I love L&Ms. Wonderful filter—exceptional taste!"

No filter compares with

for Quality or Effectiveness

Isn't it time you tried the cigarette that is sweeping the country... breaking record after record... winning more smokers in less time than any cigarette ever did! Why such success for L&M? It's the filter that counts, and L&M has the best. You get much more flavor, much less nicotine... a light and mild smoke... because only L&M's Miracle Tip gives you the effective filtration you need. Enjoy L&M's king size or regular... both at the same low price. Like thousands, you'll say—"They're just what the doctor ordered."
