THE GYMNASIUM MUST BE NEXT

We Must Also Have a Library, Say the Alumni

In view of the great need of a modern gymnasium building here on the campus, the General Alumni Association has begun steps toward its erection. At the last meeting of that body this matter was presented, and was greeted enthusiastically by the members of the Association. No man who is loyal to State can fail to be very much interested in the plans of the Association, and it is the duty of every student to see to it that these plans, as far as possible, are made to materialize. The resolutions drawn up that body are self-explanatory, and are as follows:

Resolution 1

Whereas, the library building and equipment at North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering is not only totally inadequate to care for the growing needs of the College, but is literally a disgrace to an institution of our proportions.

Whereas, adequate library building, equipment and facilities, is absolutely necessary to any modern educational institution of whatsoever type;

Whereas, the central library equipment of any college is the best index to its whole educational outlay, program and vision;

Whereas, graduate work is being encouraged and ought to become a much greater feature of the College in the future and all students of the College should come in contact with the minds of the world through collateral study, and,

Whereas, a bigger and better library at North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering cannot be left unprovided for longer, Be it therefore resolved:

Resolved, by the Alumni of North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering that the Board of Trustees be asked to include in their recommendations to the Legislature of 1923 a request for an appropriation of $250,000 to build and equip a library capable of serving the needs of a greater and better North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering.

Resolution 2

Whereas, North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering is growing and expanding in every way and is destined to more and more take a place of dominance among the colleges of its type in the South.

Whereas, the equipment of the College is totally inadequate to promote the legitimately expanding athletic and physical education program of the College, much less is capable of offer-

JUNIORS DEFEAT SENIORS IN LEAZAR'S FIRST ANNUAL INTRA-SOCIETY DEBATE

Debate Between Upper Classmen is to be Made a Permanent Feature

Leazar's Literary Society's first annual debate between the Senior and Junior Classes occurred Friday night, October 6, in the Society Hall. The debate was very much enlivened by the timeliness of the question that was discussed, which was, Resolved: That the British should seize Constantinople, and should control the Straits of Bosphorus and the Dardanelles. The Seniors defended the affirmative side of the question, while the Juniors argued against this granting of power to Great Britain.

Considering the extremely short time in which the contestants had to prepare their addresses, and the difficulty added because of the constantly changing conditions in the coun-ing suitable accommodations for our own and visiting athletic teams, and,

Whereas, there is no phase of college life and endeavor which is so frequently and constantly before the eyes of the public as is its athletic activities, and no activity which offers a better opportunity to build up the young manhood of the State and legitimately advertise the College than does a well equipped athletic plant; therefore be it resolved, by the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering Alumni,

Resolved, That the Board of Trustees be requested to place in its legislative program of 1923 an item of tries about which question arose, the individual debates were of an extremely high order. A large map of the territory in question aided greatly in the various detailed discussions. The negative carried their point by proving conclusively that it would be detrimental to all commerce entering the straits, if England was allowed to control the travel. The Strait of Gibraltar was presented as evidence of the proportions this control could reach. The best individual speech was made by Crater, of the negative.

The contestants were: Seniors, A. M. Fountain, M. E. King, and D. E. Stewart, for the affirmative; Juniors, Carl Bridges, J. B. Crater, and G. F. Seymore for the negative.

$300,000 to build and equip a gymnasium for the State College of Agriculture and Engineering.

A Pedigreed Kiss

She: George, dear, what is a kiss?

He: A kiss is that which is absolutely useless to one, but seems to be absolutely indispensable to two. The baby's right, the lover's privilege, and the mother's joy. The little boy gets it for nothing, the young man steals it, and the old man buys it. To the young girl faith, to the old married woman hope, and to the old maid charity. Now let's have one.

DR. TAYLOR SPEAKS TO POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB

Doors of Club Always Open to Visitors

At the semi-monthly meeting of the Poultry Science Club at North Carolina State College last night in the Poultry Department rooms more than 75 students heard talks on the egg industry of the State and country and were also given an interesting sidelight on the co-operative marketing of poultry and eggs.

Dr. C. C. Taylor, head of the Economic Department of State College, was the principal speaker of the evening. He explained the general idea of co-operative marketing to the students and then applied it to the technical production, marketing and consumption of poultry and eggs. Calling attention to the universality of the production and use of poultry and eggs as compared with the comparatively restricted production of cotton and tobacco, he drove home with great emphasis the importance of efficiency in the handling and marketing of these commodities.

"A co-operative movement in the marketing of poultry and eggs would mean one million dollars in the pockets of North Carolina farmers," he asserted.

Listing the advantage of co-operation between the farmers he described how it would make, for more careful handling of the fragile eggs, with subsequent less loss to the farmers through breakage, and how the farmers, by standing together in a body on the question of the prices they were to receive from the retailers and jobbers, could increase their profits.

Following Dr. Taylor, C. F. Parrish talked to the students and advocated the candling of eggs before sending them to the market as a means of guaranteeing that the producer received the price for which his grade of eggs called.

In a talk on "What the Market Demands from Poultry Breeders," J. D. Sykes reported that following an inquiry he had learned from the commission men in the larger cities that the best prices for poultry and poultry products are obtained from the larger yellow-shinned breeds, such as Rocks, Wyandottes and Reds.

MONOGRAM CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Monogram Club held September 27th the following officers were elected: Jule Baum, president; "Big Dick" Bostian, vice-president; George Redfearn, secretary and treasurer; E. A. Randolph, student president of the Athletic Association.

Poor Yale! What a scare!

Canst thou minister to a mind deceased?

Oh, well, nothing was wrong, except our boys somehow couldn't get on to that Washington and Lee swing.

The Giants have been playing some gigantic ball, to say the least.

As the "Twig" is bent, the "Technician" is inclined.

Psychologists say that greater happiness results when opposites marry. Perhaps that is why we all want girls with brains and money.

We have no definite information concerning the line-up of Meredith's football team, but we know of a Junior over there who is playing Senter.

We can't give all the ladies seats in the Senate, but we can at least give them a seat in the street car. Try it, men.

As North Carolinians, we are proud of the showing made by the Carolina football team against Yale last Saturday. We may have our own little differences, athletically speaking, but when it is a case of South against North, we're all North Carolinians, and proud of it.

The freshmen are doing fine, as a whole, but we notice that some of them are still a little slow about their being the first one to speak when they meet an upper classman on the campus. This is the spirit of the thing, new men, and you might as well learn it now. We are all here together, as one family, and will be here four years, so why not make our stay here as enjoyable as possible. There is no way to do that quite as well as to act the part of friends to everyone.

Trinity is to be congratulated on the recent enormous endowment that was given her by James Buchanan Duke. Trinity holds a unique place among the colleges of North Carolina, because of the support given her by the Duke family. And we might add that her football team is coming to be almost as remarkable as are her benefactors.

Coach Taylor has already begun arousing interest in the coming track season, and it is no unusual occurrence to hear it announced that all men interested in the track should meet in Hall so-and-so at such-and-such a time, for the laying of definite plans for next spring's work. Coach Taylor has made a great place for himself here as a track instructor by the wonder team that he turned out last year from practically no material that was trained. From the men that he developed last spring, he should be able to get the track team that we have been due to have all the time.

The Raleigh Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Civitans clubs are doing a great work here among the freshmen in their newly made custom of taking the new men for a ride on Sunday afternoon. The work was started largely through the efforts of Professor Heck, of the Physics Department. The freshmen are divided up into groups and one group taken for its outing each Sunday. The first group was taken last Sunday, and it was such a great success that all the upper classmen were wishing that they were freshmen. The people of Raleigh are to be congratulated upon having such organizations as these in her borders, and State is lucky to be placed in such congenial company.

The North Carolina Collegiate Press Association holds its next meeting at Meredith College, October 26, 27 and 28. Of course The Technician staff will be represented by one or more members of the staff of their respective publications. The Technician will have the responsibility of looking after the representatives of the men's colleges while they are here in town, and needless to say, we are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to this opportunity of knowing these men better. It seems that the final plans for the meeting are not arranged as yet, but it is certain that our Meredith hosts will provide for interesting and instructive programs. The medium of exchange is inadequate for the fullest exchange of ideas, and for this purpose the association was formed, as well as to provide a means of getting outside information and instruction.

WHAT IS THE PINE BURR SOCIETY?

Many have asked just what kind of organization the Pine Burr Society is, and what does it stand for on the campus? Briefly, the Pine Burr Society is an organization of the honor students of the College, whose records show a high standard of work for two and one half years, and who have distinguished themselves in some college activity. To use the words of one of its founders, it is N. C. State's own Phi Beta Kappa.

"AND IREDELL SHALL LEAD THEM"

We of The Technician staff humbly bow to the men of Iredell County. In the publicity work of our college, carried on by means of The Technician, they rank highest in the State up to the present time, having subscribed to no less than six copies weekly of The Technician for the high schools of the home county. This excellent showing made by the men of Iredell was caused largely by the initiative of the president of the club, Mr. J. C. Harwell, of Troutman. Mr. Harwell is a Senior electrical student and has the reputation among the fellows of being one of the most diligent members of the class. Mr. E. L. Cloyd, Dean of Men, has recently returned from a trip to the home county, and says that there is a genuine N. C. State spirit over the whole community.

Although Iredell is in the lead, we do not for a moment mean that the others are idle. Several of the larger clubs have subscribed to two or more copies for their high schools. Prominent among these is the Mecklenburg County Club, The Alamance Club, and the Onslow County Club. We expect more of the clubs to join this procession, and give old State the publicity she is due.

THE FRESHMAN FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL

The Freshmen Friendship Council held its weekly meeting last Thursday night. The speaker of the evening, Dr. W. W. Peele, pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church, made a talk that could be applied as well to high school students as to college men.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the class, Mr. E. C. York, and he introduced the speaker. The topic was "The Functions of a College." He said that a college will do what the student will let it do. A man ought to have the right conception of life before he enters college and keep enlarging on it. It is no place for a loafer, because he is keeping the ones who want to learn from studying. It is also no place for men to come to just to say that he has been to college or to get a "college stamp." Neither is it a place for a man to come to have a good time, for a man will only get out of college just what he puts into it.

When a man goes into a store to buy a yard of cloth he wants 36 inches, not 34 or 33 inches, and it is the same when he enters a grocery store, but in college he is willing for the college to miss a day. He would repel at short measure in a store, but he will rejoice at short measure in school.

The time is coming, Dr. Peele said, when a man will be disgraced in after life if he fails after coming to college. Therefore, if you are not willing to do some studying and get full value for your money, it will be better for you and for the college for you not to come as you may keep some one who is willing to study from coming.

A man, he said, should also learn to care for his body and make it stronger by proper exercise. However, athletics is not the most essential education. A college should be composed of the mental and intellectual aristocrats of high schools.

A man after graduating from college should be able to tackle big problems, instead of just being able to quote dates and facts. The donor of the library at Trinity when asked by the speaker what he wished to have said about the gift said tell them to think for themselves.

This is to be a weekly event for the Freshmen and some of the State's foremost men are to speak before the Freshmen class. The Freshmen are to be congratulated for this organization.

The Freshmen football team played the scrubs of the varsity team Saturday afternoon here and won 11 to 6. The game reminded one more of a high school game than of a college game. During the first quarter the scrubs were forced to fall on the ball behind their goal for a safety. The members of the Freshmen squad then

FRESHMAN FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL

The Freshman Friendship Council had another successful meeting last Thursday evening. The Council's first president, Mr. Buck" Morris, was present, and gave some valuable points to the members about the organization, and told them what was expected of each member.

At this meeting it was definitely decided that the Council should have two distinct meetings, one on Sunday immediately after dinner, and one on Thursday evening from 6:30 to 7:15.

The Sunday meeting will be for those who are in sympathy with the cause and who are willing to work for it. The Thursday evening meeting is for freshmen, promoted by freshmen, and only freshmen allowed.

An interesting program has been arranged, providing for speeches from well known North Carolina business men. Some of the subjects and speakers are:

1. Purpose of a College Education—Dr. W. W. Peele.
2. True Sportsmanship—S. L. Homewood and A. G. Floyd.
3. The Student and the Church.
4. World's Citizenship—Dr. C. C. Taylor.
5. Principles on Which a Man Should Base His Life's Decision.
6. A College Man and His Money.
7. A Budget of Time.
8. Student Honor.

Freshmen, please notice that on October 12, S. L. Homewood and A. G. Floyd will speak on "True Sportsmanship." These are two of N. C. State's graduate athletes and will speak on a subject that every freshman should hear. Remember, October 12th, for freshmen only.—Reporter.

began yelling, "Give up, scrubs!" In the second quarter the scrubs scored one touchdown, but failed to kick goal. In the third quarter the Freshmen scored a touchdown and kicked goal. Then the Freshmen began to yell again, "Give up, scrubs! Give up, scrubs!" The Freshmen team was a plucky bunch playing, gaining steadily by line plunges. In the last quarter the Freshmen punted and caused the scrubs to fall again on the ball for a safety, giving the Freshmen a score of 11 to 6.

The first varsity team, or the Wolfpack as it is called here, lost 14 to 6 to Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va., Saturday. Washington and Lee is a stronger college than State and the Wolfpack is congratulated on not letting them pile up a bigger score. R. G. C.

PINE BURR SOCIETY MEETS

The Pine Burr Society, the honorary scholarship society of State College, held its first meeting of the year Thursday night, in room 21 Holladay. Most of the time of the meeting was taken up in getting things straightened out for the year's series of meetings. It was decided that the Society should meet on the second and fourth Wednesday nights each month. The meeting place chosen was the office room of Mr. E. La Cloyd, Dean of Men.

Which Type of Research is of Greatest Value?

A stove burns too much coal. A man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation makes experiments which indicate desirable changes in design. That is research.

You want to make a ruby in a factory, a real ruby, indistinguishable by any test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you make rubies just as nature did. Your rubies are the result of research—another type of research.

While melting up your chemicals and experimenting with high temperatures, you begin to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. Your investigation leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type.

Research of all three types is conducted in the laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type—pioneering into the unknown—that means most in the long run, even though undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

For example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. This work may enable scientists to answer more definitely the question: Why is iron magnetic? Then the electrical industry will take a greater step forward than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus.

You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

Splinters From The North Carolina Pine

FAST HEREDITY

Prof: It has been proved that we can develop bald heads in a few generations.

Holloman: Yes, sir, but last night the sophomores proved they could be produced in a very much shorter time.

AN ENTHUSIAST

Freshman: Say, Tom, do you play basketball?

Tom Powell: Playing basketball is one thing I don't never do nothing else but.

EXPECTED

"Did you see my sunburst last night?" inquired the pompous Mrs. Newrich of her poorer neighbor.

"No, I didn't," said the neighbor, caustically; "but I certainly thought he would if he ate another bite."

MORE AGED

Raleigh business man: Aren't you the same fellow that was here a week ago looking for a job?

Freshman: Yes, sir.

Business man: Well, didn't I tell you I needed an older man than you?

Freshman: That is why I am back. I am older now than I was then.

ON WITH THE DANCE

Bus Lentz: You're the stuff when it comes to dancing.

Girl: Yes, toddling with you is jess' nachelly the fondest thing I is of.

INFORMATION, PLEASE

Freshman Sawyer was standing in front of The News and Observer's playograph, watching the results of the game between the Nationals and Americans, when he innocently asked, "Which is the Raleigh team, the Nationals or the Americans?"

POOR MATHEMATICS

A little boy was talking to his pet rabbit. "What is two and two?" he asked the rabbit. No answer. "I said what is two and two?" continued the boy angrily, and when there was no answer he proceeded to give the rabbit a sharp blow.

"What are you doing to that rabbit?" sharply asked his mother, appearing in the doorway.

"Well, my teacher told me that rabbits multiplied rapidly, but this sorry thing can't even add!"

A MISFIT

They sat on the steps at midnight,

But her love was not to his taste.

His reach was 36 inches,

While hers was a 46 waist.

—Yale Record.

HARD LUCK

Anderson: They tell us that they are going to make us wear pistols on our belts.

Yarboro: Just my luck. I wear suspenders.

CONVENIENT

The lecturer had been describing some of the sights he had seen abroad. There are some spectacles," he said, "that one never forgets."

"I wish you would tell me where I can get a pair," exclaimed an old lady in the audience. "I am always forgetting mine."

A youth wants to know how long girls should be courted.

Answer: Same as short ones.

—Charlotte Observer.

EASY

"Pray, let me kiss your hand," said he, with looks of burning love.

"I can remove my veil," said she, "much easier than my glove."

'T WAS EVER THUS

"Say, whatever became of that watch you used to have, the one with the fine gold case?"

"Well, you know circumstances alter cases."

SAYINGS OF GREAT MEN

Dr. Riddick: Now, gentlemen, don't you think—?

Prof. Heck: All right, men, take up our work. Men, mankind has been doing this for thousands and thousands of years.

Prof. Browne: Why?

Captain Price: Explain fully—.

Prof. Hart: All right, you freshmen answer this roll.

Dr. Derieux: Pass the papers to the center aisle, in alphabetical order, please. Zero for today's grade.

Captain Cox: All right, lets grind.

Prof. Metcalf: Please bear in mind—.

Prof. McIntyre: The algebraic sum of all the currents at any point is equal to zero.

Prof. Vaughan: There is a slight discrepancy here, so to speak.

Captain Lee: Give me your attention, please, gentlemen.

Prof. Yates: Now that's simple. Just a simple Calculus formula and a little Algebra.

Prof. Foster: Now, if you will close your books, I'll ask you some questions.

Mr. King: Now, fellows, there was just one other thing, and I'm through.

Captain Simmonds: You'll find the camp life enjoyable.

Sergeant Hammond: Now, men, when you git lined up that "a" away—.

Sergeant Baker: Step out! Step out! Count aloud. One, two, three, four.

Rehab. Instructor Taylor: Now, up home, they—.

Dr. Cook: YES, yes.

Dr. Withers: I'm going to tell a little story that happened some years ago.

Prof. Anderson: Now, the way that they grow weat in Iowa—.

Prof. Dana: Let's see your calculations.

Prof. Shumaker: Don't call me professor.

Prof. Mann: Now, men, you'll have to get this.

Dr. Harrison: Allright! Allright! Hurry up, hurry!

Prof. Tucker: Now, there it is, right there in the book.

Prof. Hinkle: It's easy to pass my examination, if you can GIT on it, but the trouble is GITTIN on it!

Prof. Wooten: Now, this is important. You'd better get it.

Prof. Wilson: Doggone it— you've got to study this Spanish!

STATE FRESHMEN WIN FROM SCRUBS, 11 TO 6

Sammy Homewood's Yearlings Have Best of Scrubs All the Way

Sammy Homewood's State College freshmen won from the scrubs 11-6 Saturday.

The freshmen had the advantage throughout the game except in the second period when the scrubs marched down the field by line plunges and forward passes for their only tally, O'Brien failing in an attempt to drop kick for the extra point.

In the first period when the scrubs had the ball on their own 5-yard line, the freshmen broke through and forced O'Brien to fall on the ball for a safety. In the third period, a short pass, Rackley to Osborne gave Osborne the ball on the 25-yard line from which he gave a pretty exhibition of broken field running for a touchdown. Rackley successfully drop kicked for the extra point. In the fourth period the scrubs were again forced down behind their own goal line, giving the freshmen an additional two points.

Red Johnson and Turnage were the outstanding players for the scrubs. R. Logan, Seawell, Summerell, McAdoo, and Osborne, were the outstanding figures for the freshmen. They promise to make excellent varsity material for Coach Hartsell on the Wolfpack next fall.

Scrubs	Position	Freshmen
Beasley	Center	Logan
Wilson	Right Guard	Donnell
Abernathy	Left Guard	White
Eller	Right Tackle	R. Logan
Haywood	Right End	Elms
McPherson	Left End	Mayo
O'Brien	Fullback	Summerell
Johnson	Right Halfback	Johnson
Williams	Left Halfback	Sprague
Strong	Quarterback	Rackley

Substitutions: Scrubbs, Turnage for Williams; Coffee for Jimeson.

Freshmen: Murphy for Logan; McAdoo for Donnell; Herring for Elms; Miller for Johnson; Shipp for Sprague; Ansell for Miller; Lattimore for Summerell; Osborne for Shipp.

Score by periods:

WOLFPACK FALLS BEFORE GENERALS

Cox is the Outstanding Star of the Game

Showing a decided improvement over last Saturday's playing, the Wolfpack had the edge on the Generals in the first half. The pace, however, slackened in the second half. Washington and Lee kicked off to State. In the first three minutes of play State carried the ball down the field by a series of line plunges and short end runs for a touchdown, Park making the final end run that counted. Randolph failed in an attempted dropkick for the extra point. The Generals were able to make only one first down in the first period, and that by means of a lateral pass which netted them about 12 yards. They could gain no ground by line plunges and end runs. State made five first downs in that period, and it looked as if the game might be a complete walk-away. The quarter ended with State in possession of the ball on her 20-yard line.

The second period showed a more evenly matched game, both teams punting frequently, in which department State had a slight advantage. In the last few minutes of the second period Mattox got away for what looked like a sure touchdown; but after going twenty yards, was downed by Jeannette on State's 1-yard line. The defense stiffened and held the Generals for downs, throwing them for a 15-yard loss on the fourth down. After running one play the half ended with State holding the ball on her 5-yard line.

The General kicked off in the second half and forced State to punt. The Virginians then marched down the field against stiff opposition for a touchdown. After the next kick-off, State, and especially Cox came back strong. Three times in succession he broke through the Generals line and threw them for losses. Randolph then broke loose for a 15-yard run, which looked as if State might score again, but the Generals' defense stiffened and forced State to punt.

The first part of the final period consisted of exchanges of punts. The Generals then worked the ball to States 25-yard line, from which point Frew got away from an off-tackle play that gave them the final touchdown. The game ended with State in possession of the ball on Washington and Lee's 30-yard line.

Throughout the game Cox showed the fight and ability that is characteristic of only the best football players. Not being satisfied with holding them to a standstill, he broke through their line and threw the Generals for losses. Park, Randolph and Baum were also credited with doing excellent work.

Line-up:

W. L. (14)	N. C. State (6)
Lemis	Baum
Tilson	Cox
Vogel	Baker
Terry	Bostian
Walters	Beatty

Betts	Floyd
Arbogast	Holland
Frew	Randolph
Mattox	Park

PARADE ARMISTICE DAY

Call for Volunteers

Colonel Gregory desires a company of 100 men to volunteer to parade on Armistice Day, November 11. Any student here who feels they would like to take part in this parade please hand in their name to Colonel Gregory at once.

Of course participation in this parade is purely voluntary, but each man should not let his inclination to loaf on that day overshadow his patriotic duty. Remember it is your patriotic duty to honor the heroes of the late War and your personal duty to help bring State College to the forefront at every opportunity.

TRACK GETS FLYING START

Dr. Taylor to Coach, Assisted by Homewood

About seventy-five eager, prospective track men met in Pullen Hall Monday after dinner. Dr. Taylor made a short talk, outlining plans for the fall track schedule.

The annual cross country run will be held Wednesday, October 18th, at 3:00 p. m. The winner of this race will be awarded a $25 silver loving cup, given by the Fair association. Besides this there will be six or eight other valuable prizes for the runners up. Freshmen are eligible for this run.

Following this run several more cross country races will be held preliminary to the annual cross country meet which is to be staged at Carolina, December 2nd. State will send a team of picked men to this meet.

All men are urged to begin training at once so they will be in good condition for the races. Freshmen as well as upper classmen are requested to try out for these runs.

THE NATIONAL RESERVE OFFICERS' CONVENTION

The 81st "Wildcat" Division To Be Represented

"Probably the biggest single event in the history of our Officers' Reserve Corps will take place in Washington, D. C. on October 2d, 3d and 4th, 1922; this event is the first meeting of the National Reserve Officers' Convention. It is firmly believed that the future of our Reserve Corps is largely tied up in the outcome of this Convention.

Our Division is going to be heard from, for some of the strongest men in it have expressed their willingness to accept designations as members of our delegation. All members of the 81st should feel indebted to these officers and should assist them by sending them ideas upon questions that should be considered at this Convention. The officers who have accepted invitations to be representatives are: Brig. General Cary F. Spence, Tenn., Brig. General John Van B. Metts, N. C., Colonel Albert L. Cox, N. C., Lt. Col. G. G. Reiniger, N. C., Major James B. Bullitt, N. C., Major Sidney S. Alderman, N. C., Major Warren E. Hall, N. C., Major Richard D. Hildebrand, N. C., Major Adam Fisher, N. C., Major George E. Campbell, Tenn."

—81st Division Bulletin.
Most of the men graduating from this College who accept commissions in the O. R. C. are assigned to duty with the 81st or "Wildcat" Division. This division has a skeleton organization at present with headquarters at Knoxville, Tenn. The officers and men who make up this reserve organization are taken from the states of Tennessee and North Carolina.

SENIOR "LINT DODGERS" DOWN SENIOR "STAKE DRIVERS"

Score 7 to 0; "Shag" Johnson Stars for Textiles

Captain "Shorty" Wray's fast Senior Textile aggregation defeated the Civil Engineering Seniors last Friday afternoon on Riddick Field in the opening game of the intramural football season at State. Unfortunately Coach Hartsell was out of town with the Varsity.

In the first quarter "Shag" Johnson by a brilliant end run made the only touchdown of the game. In the single play that followed "Bob" Broom's trusty toe sent the pigskin squarely over the goal for an additional point. In spite of the beautiful aerial attacks of the Civils they failed to score. "Country" Clarke and "Tarzan" Leeper of the "Stake Drivers" and Harry Curtis of the "Lint Dodgers" did some good work with passes.

The Civils when interviewed by the writer after the game attributed their defeat to lack of signal practice. It is believed they were using two different sets of signals, and never did get together on the same set.

All the players did well considering their experience and practice, and most of them recovered in a few days after the game.

The Textile team follows: "Shorty" Wray, Joe Skeen, Mason Thomas, "Shorty" Cornwell, "Shag" Johnson, "Grip" Dixon, Claude Williams, Bob Broom, Willie Ware, "Squirt" Lucas (who thought about going out for football at Clemson), Harry Curtis, "Skin" Rea, and "Strawberry" Stockton. Shipman was ruled out at the last minute because he had taken part in Senior Textile games for four years. Someone else had to be detailed to bring the water.

The Civil Team: Captain "Country" Clark, "Margarette" Clarke, Charlie White, Duncan Memory, "Tarzan" Leeper, Lawrence Bell, "Shorty" Williams (a ringer), "Solomon" Carpenter, Bruce Lancaster, William Corkill, Albert Gay.

Referee and Umpire: McPherson, Headlinesman, Bostic. Time of game — 2 quarters of ten minutes each. (Game called to allow the Freshman to practice). Attendance: Approximately 5,000.

Anyone desiring pictures of the game be sure to buy next Sunday's "New York Times."

MEN NEVER QUIT

What matter if trouble does pass your way
And fill your soul with pain;
Into each life some rain must fall,
Some rancor and some gall.
Each must have his own affliction,
Troubles with his joys;
Life here is a testing ground
Where only the strong survive.

What if your struggles are many to-day,
Why son, they're neyer few!
What if your hopes seem fading away
And chances are never new.
Don't say there's not a beggar's chance
For me this awful day;
Folding your hands with a sorrowful look
And breathing a cursed NAY.

Brace up, my lad, and face the fight!
Away with the weakling's cry!
Your manhood is the thing at stake;
You will not let it die!
Up with your head! Out with your chin!
You're gauged by what you do.
Face the struggle in a manlike way!
Be brave, be bold, be true!
—Sidney Pureblood.

STICK BY YOUR OLD GIRL, BOY!

She's been your pal for quite a while,
And there's none more loyal than she!
She's cheered you up with many a smile
She's just what a pal should be.
You've loved her, too, with a right true love,
A love that's actual joy,
So take my advice, shun the Loreleis,
And stick by your old girl, Boy!

That damsel dear whose dance divine
Just made you lose your head,—
(Whose vampish line is just the kind
On which all fish are fed)—
She feign would play with a loving heart
By winsome ways, and coy,
But if you'd dodge and do your part,
You'll stick by your old girl, Boy!

That cooing dove who invites your love,—
She'd melt a wooden heart—
She starts to coo, and folks like you
Let reason quite depart!
Beware the coo might be cuckoo
You're simply then a toy;
And if you would be fair to two
Just stick by your old girl, Boy!

Oh, the coo is fine, and the dance divine,—
It's true beyond a doubt—
But if you're fair to the girl that's square
You'll right soon find this out:
That the best in you will stick to the true,
To the gold without alloy,—
And you'll not regret if you don't forget
To stick by your old girl, Boy!
Guess.

THIS REALLY HAPPENED

Here I be on bended knee,
Begging your pardon so humble.
The wonderful date I could not make,
Because I could barely stumble.

The truth of the matter, on a silver platter,
I was drunk as drunk could be.
But that's no excuse, I deserve abuse,
And I'm sorry as sorry can be.

Now really, old dear, please do hear,
The pleading I have to offer.
The regrets of this sonney rival millions of money
In the old Roman empire's coffer.

Oh! won't you forgive? Don't let me live
A life of utter exile.
I'll always endeavor to be ever and ever
A remorseful and Loving
Tim Mial.

FORGOTTEN

In Autumn breeze, so bracing sweet and fresh;
In golden moonbeams, so soft and quiet,
And thought of bygone eves remember,
When by your side all was delight.

The golden foliage of the maple tree
Outshines the bluish silver-bordered skies.
But they seem darker than the blackest cloud
When I glance at thy pure mystic eyes.

Oh! human instinct, with thy bonds so strong,
For earthly treasures doth pursue;
What greater things could we acquire,
While I am I and you are you?

Bright days of youth I plainly do recall,
And playmates promises, I hope, are true;
While far and wide friends I have found,
But, pal of mine, I long for you.

Why burden with unnecessary care,
While the world contains us both?
'Twas meant for us good friends to be,
Me the loving and you the loth.

Life's treasures all in time are held,
Concealed in years of strenuous toil;
But if my purpose here I fail,
Would tears or laughter mark my fall?

Now gaze upon ambition's highest peak,
Open the future and look within;
And if this scene is never real,
Only mutter, "It might have been."
—CLINE.

TIT BITS AND RANDOM WITS

By Britt

C. D. (on M. E. Lab.): "I'll declare that is a pretty little coffee mill you are crushing coal with. Don't it grind it fine? Say, Champ, reckon if you would turn that mill backwards that the coal would go back to lumps?"—Britt.

WANTED TO KNOW.—Why Tarzan Leeper left Heat Engines recitation in such a hurry last Tuesday. Any information will be gladly received by Prof. Vaughan.

Fair Customer: "I'd like to try on that one over there."

Salesman: "Sorry, madam, but that is the lamp shade."—Passing Show.

The Beast: "You used to say that there was something about me that you liked."

Beauty: "Yes, but you have spent it, now."—The Bulletin.

"No, sir," cried the irate parent, "my daughter can never be yours."
"I don't want her to be my daughter," interrupted the young man; "I want her to be my wife."

Prof.: "Now, I will put the number seven on the board. What number immediately comes into your mind?"

Class (in unison): "Eleven."—Burr.

He told the shy maid of his love,
The color left her cheeks,
But on the shoulder of his coat
It showed for several weeks.

—Scalper.

"I had to kill my dog this morning."

"Was he mad?"

"He didn't seem any too well pleased."

Prof.: "Nobody ever heard of a sentence without a predicate."

Bright Soph.: "I have."

Prof.: "What is it?"

B. S.: "Thirty days."—Punch Bowl.
