BLUE KEY

There will be a Blue Key meeting Friday at 12 noon in the College Cafeteria. All members are urged to be present.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Editorial and Business staffs of the TECHNICIAN Monday night, November 20 at 9:30. All students who are interested in working on the TECHNICIAN, either as members of the Business or Editorial staffs, are invited to attend the meeting also.

ELECTION RESULTS

For the freshman election results see page 6.

HOMECOMING DANCE

Saturday night, November 19, after the State-William & Mary homecoming football game, there will be an informal record dance in the College Union Ballroom.

All State supporters (students, alumni, wives, and dates) are invited to attend. Visitors from William and Mary will be welcomed.

TRUSTEES VISITING COMMITTEE

The entire Trustees Visiting Committee will be at State College on November 21. Any student interested in talking with the Visiting Committee should make an appointment with Jim Nolan or Banks Talley in room 13, Holladay Hall.

THANKSGIVING BREAKFAST

The protestant Workers Council is sponsoring its annual breakfast for students from other countries, November 24 at 9:00 a.m. in the Fairmont Methodist Fellowship Center. Members of the Cosmopolitan Club and all other students from other countries are cordially invited to attend.

KAMPHOEFLNER

Dean Henry L. Kamphoefner of the School of Design was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Whiteville Civitan Club in Whiteville last Monday night. His topic was "The Modern House in Contemporary America."

BEAT AND BLOW

RIFLE

The U. S. Rifle, Cal. .30, M-1903 is now being used by the State College Pershing Rifle Drill Platoon of the Army ROTC. In previous years, the Pershing Rifles have carried the M1 Rifle, the weapon carried by the ROTC Regiment. Because the '03 is considered to be a better "precision drill" rifle than the M1, the Pershing Rifles will use the '03 exclusively in the future.

Early Date Set For Commencement

Select exam exemption and an early graduation were among the Senior Class proposals approved for the '56 Commencement by the Faculty Senate and Administrative Council last week.

Among the requests made by the Senior Class officers was one for exam exemption for those having passing averages. This was amended to exempt only those having "B" averages on an individual course basis. Those seniors ineligible for exam exemption will be allowed to take early exams.

The graduation has been moved forward to May 27; because, as was demonstrated last year, a more successful program can be carried out before everybody leaves for the summer.

A general exercise beginning at 10:30 a.m. Sunday in the Coliseum for all graduating will include the Baccalaureate Sermon and remarks by the President of the Senior Class, the Chancellor and the President of the Greater University. A chime concert will be presented following the morning exercises and in the afternoon the music will be provided by the college band.

(See DATE, Page 10)

Big Day Saturday

State's annual Homecoming will be held this Saturday, November 19.

The football games with the Indians of William and Mary highlights the day's activities. The game is to be preceded in the afternoon by the Big Homecoming Parade through downtown Raleigh and the beauty contest to choose Miss Wolfpack, the Homecoming Queen, from the group of four Coed finalists.

Parade

The parade will feature colorful floats, prepared by the dormitories, campus organizations and fraternities, the State Band and other marching units from the College, and a number of outstanding high school bands including those from Raleigh, Henderson, Elizabeth City, Garner and Plymouth. The high school bands will also be guests of the College at the football game.

The parade is being sponsored by Thirty and Three, the sophomore leadership fraternity, which is headed by Joel Parker of Charlotte.

Beauty Contest

The beauty contest winner is to be announced following the Stan Freeman show in Pullen Hall, Friday night. The finalists are Nancy Moody of Raleigh, Mary Pledge of Richmond, Va., Betty Brown of Raleigh, and Marilyn Collins of Raleigh. Miss Pat Cowden, Maid of Cotton for North Carolina last year, George Hall, Program Director for WRAL, and Mrs. Lyman Dixon, representing the State College Woman's Club will be judges for the contest. The new Miss Wolfpack will be presented, with her court, to the student body Saturday night at the football game. Blue Key, Junior leadership society, and its President, John Wiles, have charge of the Miss Wolfpack contest. Ed Yancey, secretary of Student Government, is chairman of the queen selection committee.

The football game Saturday night is the highlight of the day. State's vastly improved Wolfpack faces the Indians of William & Mary in what promises to be a fine ball game. This is to be State's first home appearance in four weeks and it will give the State students their first chance to see the team in action since they started their three out of four win streak. The half-time ceremonies will feature the State band in a depiction of the day-by-day activities of the State student. Christian D.

Frosh-Soph Dance Ticket Sale Boosted

The Freshman - Sophomore Dance Committee announced this week that Billy May's Band has definitely been contracted for the dance, which is to take place next April 7 in the Coliseum. David Weinstein, President of the Sophomore Class, said, "We are looking forward to one of the finest dances ever held for the Freshmen and Sophomores. The May band ought to be real good and should help us draw a good crowd." Weinstein stated that, in addition to the dance, there is to be an afternoon concert.

Tickets for the dance will be on sale starting tomorrow and continuing through next Wednesday, November 23. Cost will be $2.00.

Weinstein said that the money which had already been collected and used toward the dance was only the amount taken up at registration. "Many of the Freshmen and Sophomores have not paid their dues as yet," he stated, "and if they are to receive their bids for the dance at registration next semester, they must have their dues in by that time." Several of the officers are handling the collection

(See FROSH, Page 10)

A resolution authorizing the advertising of bids for a dormitory area paving project was unanimously passed last Thursday night by the Student Government Legislature. Also, an investigation of the Cafeteria was authorized.

Other action involved a report by the Investigations Committee on the securing of maps of the campus in order to determine where new sidewalks should be placed. John Lane, president of this committee, was granted $60 by the Student Government to facilitate an experiment with three different types of trash receptacles before beginning his campus clean-up campaign.

N.S.A. Convention

Jim Peden, newly appointed National Students Legislature co-ordinator at State College, revealed that the school's Student Government is eligible to send delegates to the regional N. S. A. (See S. G., Page 10)

Tighter Policy Set On Unregistered Veh.

Frank Pethel, Chairman of the Traffic Committee, announced today that the leniency of the Committee with those students who appear before the Traffic Committee for unregistered vehicles is ending. In stating the stricter policy, Pethel said, "We have been extremely easy on the majority of the students who have been caught with unregistered vehicles, but this policy is obviously getting no results, so we feel we must crack down."

"The fine for this offense at the present time is ten dollars," Pethel continued, "and it would behoove all students who have not done so to register their cars immediately." "This naturally, includes motor-scooters or any other type of powered vehicle also."

Miss Wolfpack '55 To Be A Coed

A State College coed will be chosen Miss Wolfpack, from a field of four coeds, Friday night.

Vying for the Miss Wolfpack title will be Miss Nancy Moody, sponsored by Owen Dorm; Miss Marilyn Collins, sponsored by Turlington Dorm; Miss Betty Brown, sponsored by Phi Kappa Tau; and Miss Mary Pledge, sponsored by the State College

Veterans association.

These are the coeds that had been entered up to Tuesday afternoon. The deadline for entries was Wednesday at 5 p.m.

Selecting this year's Miss Wolfpack will be Mrs. Lyman Dixon, State College Woman's Club; Miss Pat Cowden, North Carolina Maid of Cotton of '54; and George Hall, WRAL program director.

Miss Wolfpack will be presented immediately following the Stan Freeman show in Pullen Hall Friday night, and she will be presented a cup during the half-time ceremonies at the Homecoming game.

Blue Key, the organization conducting the Miss Wolfpack selection, voted to limit contestants to coeds after complaints by many students that it was unfair to State's coeds for Miss Wolfpack to not be a coed.

Pictured below are three of the four coeds competing. Miss Marilyn Collins had not been entered when the pictures were taken.

The judging will not be open to the public.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

Student Legislature

The '55-56 Student Legislature deserves to be commended on its record so far this year. It has not been plagued by the "absentism" that student legislatures in the past have been known for. It is also blessed with many members who are sincerely interested in the betterment of the campus and the school and the welfare of the students.

Dick Moser and the Campus Welfare Committee have put a great deal of time and effort in attempting to determine how the $5,700 collected from traffic fees can best be spent. They have presented recommendations to the Legislature and action has been taken to further the project along.

Furthermore the Legislature has not shied away from any issues. At its last meeting, the Legislature mandated the Investigations Committee to make a study of the Cafeteria situation and to make recommendations to the Legislature. John Lane, chairman of the Investigations Committee, promises that his committee will leave no stone unturned in order to provide a complete report.

A thorough investigation of the Cafeteria by the Legislature is past due. It should have been done years ago.

To the members of the Legislature, congratulations on a good start. Keep it up.

Look Ahead

State College is now experiencing another burst of building expansion. The addition to the Alumni building, the addition to Polk Hall, the new Pulp Lab., and the Agri. Engineering Building are already under construction. A 400 man dorm has been authorized (but no appropriation) by the last State Legislature, and a fraternity row will soon be under construction if no unforeseen snag arises.

Ample parking areas—paved with curb and gutter—should certainly be provided for the building on Western Boulevard in particular, and in general an attempt should be made to provide as much parking area as possible for any and all new construction on campus.

To build a new dormitory in this automotive age and not provide adequate parking for the occupants of the dormitory would certainly be foolish.

In addition, please let's not build any more one-way streets. Narrow one-way streets that were constructed before Henry Ford's mass production of automobiles is understandable, but streets constructed now should certainly, except in extreme cases, be wide enough for parking on both sides and also be able to handle two-way traffic.

Let's not fumble the ball on providing adequate parking areas and streets sufficiently wide in any new construction on campus as it was when the College Union Building was constructed.

What's The Scoop On Homecoming . . .

What has happened to Homecoming at State College this year? From what we have heard we don't know whether there is going to be one or not. We would like to know whether there is going to be a dance or not, and if so, when and where? I myself have heard rumors that the only music will be on records.

We thought Homecoming was supposed to be one of the big events of the year at State College. We haven't heard anything about a parade either. I thought the parade last year was a success myself.

How about a little information on the subject or is this supposed to be one of those secret "hush-hush" projects? Bob Shipman
Robert E. Clarke

"I'd limp, too," cracked a frosh.

Hear At State

by Sidney Pureblood, Jr.

The views and opinions of this column do not necessarily represent those of THE TECHNICIAN.

What a week-end? It was a real winner. The concert Saturday afternoon, the Pledge Dance that night, and the individual parties held by the various social fraternities certainly contributed to making last week-end the best one yet this year. I just wish the Wolfpack could have pulled through with another win last week.

This coming week-end is another big one — Homecoming. I'm sure that everyone will enjoy the Homecoming Parade, Norman's concert, and the dance Saturday night. After two week-ends like these, we'll surely need those Thanksgiving Holidays.

Paved Parking Areas
After all the recent discussion, debate, and talk in general about paving the parking areas around State, some definite steps have been taken. After much work by Dick Moser and his committee, a plan was accepted by the Student Legislature last week to start work on the parking area behind Owen, Tucker, Alexander, and Turlington Dormitories as soon as the weather permits. This is certainly a positive step forward and we should all appreciate Moser's work on this project.

More Cross-Ties
The recently "beautified" grounds behind Tompkins, though it caused much commotion at first, does look very nice. But why, why, why are they sticking more cross-ties up to hold up new fences? There are adequate paths across this plot of ground and I just can't see the reason that more unsightly fences and cross-ties are being erected at a place where they will surely be new eye-sores and where they are not needed to keep people off the recently planted grass. I thought that we were trying to get rid of the cross-ties that we have—that alone would be a big problem, even if M & O didn't keep putting more of them in.

Sound System
With the recent appropriation by the Student Government to the Cheerleaders to buy a new sound system the Cheerleaders were supposed to have bought the new equipment and also to have looked into the possibility of mounting this system on a truck. We hope they have done at least the first, and that we will hear it in operation this Saturday night at the football game. We certainly do need this equipment.

A New Chapel at State?
I have very recently come across a letter written by Oscar B. Woodridge, Jr. concerning the building of a new chapel here at State College. I was very happy to learn of this building program and hope that not too much time will elapse before we do have the chapel which Woodridge is working towards so faithfully. In the near future I expect there will be some more publicity about this program.

Very briefly, I would like to mention that pencil sharpeners have been installed in the classrooms of the Textile Building. The Editor of The Technician, Bill Fisher, the Tompkins Textile Council, Mr. Dunlap and anyone else concerned should be thanked.

The 'Pureblood Plot'
Thank you for your letter of last week concerning my identity, Hart Gates—or should I thank you personally, Mr. Pickett? I'm sorry you missed on one of the four guesses. I realize, however, that that was "just a little error." I hope that your interest in "Hear At State" will remain even after you have completed your list of weekly hints.

Of Interest
In last week's edition of the Duke Chronicle there appeared an article which should be of some interest to State students. Don't anyone get the idea that we're complaining—we're just envious. Duke University is going to build on a 200-acre site in the Duke Forest, an 18-hole golf course costing $200,000. Construction is expected to begin next spring. The funds are being secured "from sources that normally would not contribute to the university's educational program." I wonder why State doesn't have any such sources.

"Three Men On A Horse" To Be Presented Dec. 3-8 At Raleigh Little Theater

Two students and an instructor from North Carolina State College will appear in "Three Men on a Horse," which will be given at the Raleigh Little Theater on December 3 through December 8.

Hubert S. Ghosn of Alexandria, Egypt, and Stuart W. Bedell of Greensboro have been cast in the show. The play is a racy comedy by John Cecil Holm and George Abbott. It scored an overnight success when it opened on Broadway some years ago and has since become a great favorite with theatre audiences.

Ghosn, who is president of the Cosmopolitan Club at State, played Antonio in the RLT production of "The Girl on the Via Flaminia" during the summer.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer decides what colors are best for G-E reflector lamps

Which color of light makes people look natural? Should a blue light be used more often than a red? What kind of effect does a violet light have on merchandise?

In recent years, color lighting has become so important in stores, restaurants, theaters, and displays that General Electric developed a line of new easy-to-use color-reflector lamps for this market.

The man responsible for deciding which colors are most effective for users of these lamps is 29-year-old Charles N. Clark, Application Engineering Color Specialist for General Electric's large lamp department.

Clark's Work Is Interesting, Important

In a recent series of tests, Clark made a critical appraisal of literally hundreds of color-filter materials to find the ones that produced maximum results but were still suitable to high-production techniques, practical stocking and simplified selling. This experimental work also had to take into account all the information on human perception of color.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Clark came to General Electric in 1949, he already knew the work he wanted to do. Like each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh, young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

CHARLES N. CLARK joined G.E. in 1949 after receiving his B.S. and M.S. (in E.E.) from the University of Wisconsin. He served two years with the Navy during World War II.

Carolina Wins State Cross Coun. Crown

Jim Beatty led the University of North Carolina to the State cross country championship here today for the second straight year. The little speedster ran the 3.9 mile course in 20:30.6 to pace the defending champions.

North Carolina won the meet with 25 points. North Carolina State was second with 35 points, Davidson third with 78 and Wake Forest fourth with 125. Duke failed to score.

Beatty gained revenge for his only loss of the season to State's Mike Shea, who ran third behind Carolina's Barden.

The Tar Heels made a clean sweep of the tournament by copying the freshman division also. The Carolina lads took the first five places to mass a total of 15 points. State was second with 49, Duke third with 64 and Wake Forest fourth with 105.

It was the seventh annual North Carolina State cross country championship. State College won the first five and UNC has taken the last two.

Nov. 7-Nov. 11 FOOTBALL
Only five games were played last week but one of these contests could prove a major factor in the championship race. Sigma Pi-13, SAE 6, Sigma Pi came up with the major upset of the season as they defeated previously unbeaten SAE's 13-6. Thus forcing Division No. 1 into a two-way tie for the present. The regulation game ended in a 6-6 deadlock and in the overtime saw the Sigma Pi's tally the all important TD and rack up the victory.

Sigma Nu over PKP—Sigma Nu was forced to win by a few scant yards in an overtime period against the PKP's, thus keeping their championship hope alive. Sigma Nu and PKP fought to a 0-0 deadlock in regulation play with Sigma Nu coming out on top in the overtime. Hitchcock led the PKP's while Reed and Harmon were tops for the victors.

AGR 12, PKT 6—With Ipeck and Strickland talling TD's, the AGR's remained on top of their division with a 12-6 victory over the PKT's. Hawkins crossed the goal for the PKT's lone score.

KA 13, PEP 2—The KA's racked up their first win of the season last week 13-2 over the PEP's. Jerry Young tallied one TD and added an extra point to lead the KA's scoring while Joe Clement picked up the other score. The PEP's only scoring came on a safety.

The PKA's remained undefeated with a forfeit win over Lambda Chi.

The Dorm Corner

Cole Passes to Farley
Cole passed to D. Farley and Taylor for the Tucker No. 2 team and both scored. While earlier Cole intercepted a pass from one of the Alexander No. 2 players and went on to score off that. The Alexander team scored off a pass from Martin to Williams. But the late comeback of the Alexander team was not enough and Tucker won 19 to 7.

Ree and Flinchan Outstanding
Ree and Flinchan were the outstanding players for the Stadium Studs. While Costmer and Russell played good ball for Bagwell No. 2. The Studs scored in the first half on interception and later passed another TD play. The final score was 12 to 0 in favor of the Studs.

Little to Scott for TD
Little was outstanding as passer for Bagwell No. 1 once again, as he passed the TD to Scott and the extra point to Barnhardt. Becton No. 2 did not get a chance to score but Wilson and Clark played excellent ball. The final was 9 to 0.

Whitley and Warren Score 43 Points
In a high scoring game where one team is scoring all the points it is hard to say who did the best job. But we must hand it to Whitley for 24 pts. and Warren for 19 although there were many others involved. Frazier of Alexander No. 1 did outstanding work in the line but there just wasn't enough of him. The final score was 67 to 0!

Thrower and Bowman Break 320
In this week's bowling the top three game averages were: Thrower, 325; Bowman, 321; Vargo, 316; and Atkinson and Weir, 310. Only one game was forfeited and the rest were played with good representation. Tucker No. 1 and 2 had high total pins with 1182 and 1171 respectively.

Santoli and Whitley Star at Track Meet

In the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, and in the broad jump Santoli and Whitley placed either first, second or third. Santoli established a new record for the 220. Neals of Tucker No. 2 set the record for the 120 yard low hurdles and Bass also of Tucker No. 2 set the record for the 65 yard high hurdles and the pole vault. Clark of Tucker No. 2 was the only one to break an old record, and he did this in the 3-4 mile run, with 3:51.3. Phillips of Becton No. 2 won the high jump. Birch of Bagwell No. 1 set the new record for the javelin at 155 feet 6 inches. Palandram of Turlington No 1 and Elliott of Turlington No. 2 won the shot put and the discus, respectively. Abernathy of Tucker No. 2 won the 440 yard dash.

Duke & Va. Beat State Soccer Squad

State's varsity soccer squad closed their season with two contests last week and they came out on the short end in each game. Virginia handed the Wolfpack a 3-1 setback on Saturday and Duke turned the trick by the same score Tuesday.

State ended up with a 3-5-1 season record. Wins came over Duke, Pitt, and Washington and Lee, while losses were to Duke, U.N.C., Maryland, Navy and Virginia. The tie was against Carolina.

EDWARDS AND TEAM SAY THANKS FOR SUPPORT: Coach Earle Edwards and State's varsity football team were very much impressed over the following of fans to Bluefield last Saturday. A good number of students journeyed to the VPI-State clash and more than made themselves known. A parade was staged down the streets of Bluefield to the stadium. Edwards also received a telegram with over 250 students' names on it prior to kick-off. Coach Edwards has commented several times how much he and the squad appreciates the support they have been getting. It makes the job a lot easier when you know the students are behind you all the way. Let's keep it up!!!!

Frosh Football Team Meets Wake Forest

North Carolina State's freshman football squad will close out its 1955 season Friday afternoon against Wake Forest's Baby Deacons in Grove Stadium at Wake Forest. The kickoff is at 2 p.m.

Coach Bill Smaltz's yearlings will be seeking their second win of the season against two defeats. The 'Pack has lost to Clemson's powerful freshmen 14-0 and to South Carolina 21-19.

State's win was a convincing 32-19 victory over Duke.

In their last outing, the Baby Wolfpack dropped a heart breaking 21-19 decision to South Carolina as the Gamecocks held for four downs inside the three as the game ended.

Halfback Ron Podwika, quarterback Frank Cackovic and end Bob Pepe have been the big factors in the 'Pack's scoring parade and are expected to provide plenty of fireworks for the Deacons Friday.

'Pack Returns Home After Successful Trip Meet W&M In Homecoming Battle Sat.

It will be Homecoming at North Carolina State Saturday night and the Wolfpack hopes to get back into the win column against William and Mary.

With a 3-4-1 record, State is anxious to win its fourth game and thereby chalk up the best record since the 1950 eleven finished the year with 5-4-1.

"We could have won our fourth straight game last week," Coach Earle Edwards declared, "but we let our mistakes run away with us." State lost to Virginia Tech 34-26 after taking a 20-0 lead in the first half. The Wolfpack fumbled seven times.

Assistant freshman coach Owen Hale, who scouted William and Mary, warned the Pack that the Indians would be big and tough. He pointed out the close games William and Mary had with Wake Forest and VPI and told the team to look for a "rugged game with an always-tough opponent."

Coach Edwards, meanwhile,

State will start Pepe and Bobby Pope at ends, Frank Palandram and Larry Dixon at tackles, Joe Rodri and Frank Marocco at guards, and either Ronald Savage or George Scott at center.

was hoping that State could come up with the type of offensive showing it made against the Indians last year. The Wolfpack blanked the Indians 26-0 at Williamsburg.

Coach Edwards will use the same lineup which has started State's last five games.

Virginia Tech Halts 'Packs Win Streak By 34-26 Margin

Quarterback Billy Cranwell led a second half comeback for Virginia Tech here today that netted the Southern Conference power a 34-26 victory over the State Wolfpack.

Behind 20-0 early in the third period, the Bobblers passed the burden to their junior quarterback and he was the fair-haired boy who passed for two touchdowns and ran over another, much to the delight of some 6,000 Coal Bowl fans who turned out in perfect football weather.

Fumbles hurt the Wolfpack for the first time since early in the season. State committed seven bobbles and lost the ball five times. Besides the final touchdown fumble, another State miscue halted a Wolfpack drive just two yards short of a TD. And still another set up Tech's second score, 25-yards from pay dirt.

The field was in fine shape despite the fact that four inches of snow fell here Thursday. It was melted by yesterday and a warm sun shown over the playing field at game time.

State roared off to a three touchdown lead before Tech knew what hit them, but from

State Host To ACC Cross Country Meet

North Carolina State will be host to the Atlantic Coast Conference cross country championships Monday, November 21st. The University of Maryland and North Carolina have been established as co-favorites to cop the coveted crown. State's Wolfpack are rated strong to finish high among the leaders, and are given an outside chance to come out on top. Maryland is defending champions.

Carolina's title hopes will rest on the performance of their ace Jim Beatty while State's chances ride with Mike Shea, who is still recovering from a foot injury.

Duke, Wake Forest, Virginia, and South Carolina will also compete. The tournament is divided into two divisions, freshman and varsity. The frosh meet is on tap for 11:00 a.m. with the varsity following.

FACULTY AND STAFF BASKETBALL TICKET INFORMATION

1. Faculty and Staff basketball season tickets will go on sale at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, November 17th, at the Coliseum. Tickets will be placed on sale in the corridors of the balcony.

2. Faculty or Staff members may purchase two season tickets for $12.00 each. Additional tickets purchased above two, will cost the regular established price of $25.00.

3. An employee may purchase two tickets for another employee providing he has certification from the Head of the Department that he or she is an employee of that Department.

Dave Johnson asks:

What's involved in production work at Du Pont?

DAVID L. JOHNSON, JR., expects to receive his B.S.Ch.E. from the University of Kansas in 1956. He is very active in campus affairs, president of Alpha Chi Sigma and a member of several honorary engineering fraternities. Dave is interested in learning more about production work in the chemical industry.

Jim Hamilton answers:

JAMES L. HAMILTON is one of the many young engineers who have been employed by Du Pont since the end of the war. After service in the Navy, Jim got his B.S.Ch.E. from the University of West Virginia in June 1948, and immediately joined Du Pont's Repauno Plant at Gibbstown, N. J. Today, he is Assistant Superintendent of the dimethyl terephthalate area at this plant.

Well, Dave, I've been doing production work at Du Pont for about seven years now, and I'm still getting involved in new things. That's what makes the work so interesting—new and challenging problems arise all the time.

To generalize, though, the duties are largely administrative. That's why effectiveness in working with others is one of the prime requirements. Teamwork is important in research and development work, for sure. But it's even more important in production, because you work each day with people having widely different skills and backgrounds.

A production supervisor needs a good understanding of engineering and scientific principles, too. He has to have that to get the best results from complicated equipment—but he doesn't necessarily need the specialized training that goes with research and development work. A real interest in engineering economics and administration is usually more helpful to him here than advanced technical training. The dollar sign's especially important in production work.

It all adds up to this, Dave. If you enjoy teamwork, and have a flair for large-scale, technical equipment, then you'll find production work mighty rewarding.

A MORE COMPLETE ANSWER to Dave Johnson's question about production work is given in "The Du Pont Company and the College Graduate." This booklet describes in detail the training, opportunities and responsibilities of engineers who take up this kind of work at Du Pont. Write for your free copy to E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), 2521 Nemours Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

The Engineer A Parable

By D. E. STEINMAN
Consulting Engineer,
New York City

One day three men—a Lawyer, a Doctor, and an Engineer—appeared before St. Peter as he stood guarding the Pearly Gates.

The Lawyer stepped forward first. With confidence and assurance, he delivered a glib and eloquent address which left the Saint dazed and bewildered. Before Peter could recover, the Lawyer slipped him a writ of mandamus, pushed him aside, and strode through the portals.

Next came the Doctor. With impressive bearing, he introduced himself: "I am Dr. Brown," he announced. St. Peter received him cordially. "I feel I know you, Dr. Brown. Many who preceded you said you sent them here. Welcome to our City!"

The Engineer, shy and retiring, had been standing in the background. He now stepped forward modestly. "I am looking for a job," he said. St. Peter wearily shook his head. "I am sorry," he replied; "we have no work here for you. If you want a job you can try the other place."

This response sounded familiar to the Engineer, and made him feel more at home. "Very well," he said, "I have had Hell all my life and I guess I can stand it better than the others."

Peter was puzzled. "Look here, young man, what are you?" "I am an Engineer," was the reply. "Oh yes," said the Saint, "a member, no doubt of the Locomotive Brotherhood."

"No, I am sorry," the Engineer responded apologetically, "I am a different kind of Engineer." "I do not understand," said

St. Peter. "What on Earth do you do?"

The Engineer recalled a definition and calmly replied: "I apply mathematical principles to the control of natural forces."

This sounded meaningless to St. Peter, whose temper was always a bit uncertain. "Young man," he said; "you can go to Hell with your mathematical principles and try your hand on some of the natural forces there!"

"That suits me," responded the Engineer. "I am always glad to go where there is a tough job to tackle." Whereupon he departed for the Nether Regions.

Soon thereafter strange reports began to reach St. Peter. The Celestial denizens, who had amused themselves in the past by looking down upon the less fortunate creatures in the Inferno, commenced asking for transfers to that other domain. The sounds of agony and suffering were stilled. Many new arrivals, after inspecting both places, selected the Nether Regions for their permanent abode. Puzzled St. Peter sent messengers to visit the place below and to report back to him. They returned, their wings afutter with excitement.

"That Engineer you sent down there," reported the messengers, "has completely transformed the place so that you would not know it now. He has harnessed the Fiery Furnaces for light and power. He has cooled the entire place with artificial refrigeration. He has drained the Lakes of Brimstone and has filled the air with cool, perfumed breezes. He has bored tunnels through the Obsidian Cliffs and he has flung bridges across the Bottomless Abyss. He has created paved streets, gardens, parks and playgrounds, lakes, rivers, and beautiful waterfalls. That engineer has gone through Hell and has made it a realm of industry, peace, and happiness.

Publication Board Honors Marshall

Last week the Student Publication Board passed a resolution thanking Mr. Roger P. Marshall for his continued interest in and loyalty to the Board of Student Publications.

The resolution mentioned the "wisdom and humor" of Mr. Marshall, which have "contributed immeasurably to the Board and to the success of the publications," and stated that "throughout his period of service he has offered sage counsel and warm friendship for the student publications at North Carolina State College." Therefore, the Board of Student Publications, in the form of an official resolution, "tendered their warm appreciation and grateful thanks to Mr. Marshall for his inspiring loyalty and integrity and for his friendship for student publications at North Carolina State College."

HERE'S A HIT - LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

YOU ALWAYS COME OUT ON TOP when you light up a Lucky, because Luckies are tops for taste. Luckies taste better because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . mild, mellow tobacco that's toasted to taste even better. The men in the Doodle above have come out on top, too—in more ways than one. The Doodle is titled: Convention of baldheaded men smoking Luckies. Follow their shining example: light up a Lucky yourself. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

Vetville Council Secures Vaccine

In April of this year, shortly after the release of the Salk vaccine to the public, Carl Freeman, then Alderman of Ward 3, proposed that the Vetville Council secure the vaccine for the children in Vetville. Jim Nolan, Mayor at that time, stated that he would investigate the matter and report to the council at the next meeting.

Due to the shortage of the vaccine and the nation-wide controversy over the polio cases among those who had received the vaccine, the polio clinic in Vetville was postponed.

Soon after taking office as Mayor of Vetville, Charles Hannah set out to secure the vaccine for the children of all North Carolina State College students. Through the efforts of Dean J. J. Stewart and N. B. Watts, the polio vaccine was secured free of charge to children from one to fourteen years of age and to expectant mothers.

Friday, November 4, 1955, the first polio shots in a series of three were given in the West Campus YMCA. Dr. Jos. J. Combs from the State College Infirmary and Dr. Robert F. Poole, Jr. of Cameron Village, gave the shots. Nurses assisting the doctors were: Mrs. Jeanette Swan, Mrs. John Radford, and Mrs. James A. Williams. Others helping with the registration and various odd jobs were: Mrs. Frances Yager, Marie Smith, Libby Tenant, and Marlene Thompson. One hundred and twenty-six received the vaccine—115 children and 11 adults.

The next shots will be given December 2, 1955 in the West Campus "Y".

Campus Spirit Depends on Stu.

By BILLY BYRD

Do you ever see a student walking about the State College campus looking as if he is lacking that sensibility of belonging to a great institution, or do you ever hear your friends complain about the monotony of campus life? If so, you can be sure that that individual has not yet been properly introduced to college living.

One cannot determine whether the fault lies with the individual or with his student friends; however, the fact remains that we have students at State College who have not yet adjusted themselves to college living. One cannot say that there is a definite cure for such a condition, but one can conclude that a mandatory factor is found in campus spirit.

When campus spirit is mentioned, thoughts are immediately channeled toward athletic contests and consequently football. In the autumn there is no better place for athletic enthusiasm to be tested. On Saturdays hundreds of students can be heard roaring their approval of every first down and every touchdown. But what about the times when there aren't any first downs and there aren't any TD's except those scored by our opponents? Then we can really measure the enthusiasm and support of our student body. We will all agree that when our team needs our support most is when the opponents appear to be dominant. It is feared that students tend to become lax and weary when the going gets tough; but this is the time that the cheering section should be the loudest; this is when the autumn air should echo with the cheers and yells of hundreds of boisterous voices plastering their support of the team all over the brisk, chilly sky.

22 Pledges Named By Pershing Rifles

Company "L" of the Fourth Regiment of the National Society of Pershing Rifles at State College has chosen a new "pledge" class of 22 outstanding Army ROTC cadets.

Blue and white pledge ribbons have been presented to each cadet in the class in recognition of the honor.

Students in the group are:

David B. Auld, Vernon G. Avery, William H. Blankenship, Leard B. Bledsoe, James W. Braswell, John Q. Britt, Jr., John D. Bullock, Donald C. Cherry, William C. Cooper, Edward M. Denbo, Jr., Olin S. Elliott.

William B. Kay, Fred B. Leggett, Ned E. Lowder, James S. Meatyard, John Newlin, Joe Pemberton, William F. Robertson, Jr., Titus O. Sills, Rice S. Strange, Jack B. Taylor, Thomas C. Wallace.

In making the announcement of the selection of the students for the honor, the college's Military Department said:

"These cadets were chosen for pledgship in the Pershing Rifles because they have demonstrated outstanding leadership potential and military bearing as basic cadets in the Army ROTC. Those pledges that meet the highest standards will be selected as active members of the Pershing Rifle Company."

The National Society of Pershing Rifles is the oldest and largest Military Fraternity in the United States. A chapter was formed at State College in 1952.

Legislature Passes Resolution Aimed At Better Attendance

The Student Legislature has recently passed by unanimous vote a resolution on attendance presented by the Rules Committee.

The resolution cites the fact that the functioning of the Legislature of State College is dependent on faithful attendance to all meetings by the elected senators. Due to the high number of absences last year, it was deemed necessary by the Rules Committee to present a resolution setting up a definite penalty for consistent offenders.

The recently passed resolution states that "any senator who misses two consecutive meetings or four meetings at random without having his alternate present shall present a written excuse for each absence to the Secretary at the first meeting following his second consecutive absence or his fourth random absence or he will be declared delinquent and his seat will be declared vacant. If the seat be declared vacant, the senator and his school shall be so informed by the Secretary within one week's time."

This resolution insures the immediate expulsion of any senator who misses (unexcused) two meetings in a row or any four at random.

Senators should notice that no provision is made for being excused from a single meeting. To clarify this point, it should be noted that an excuse may be submitted at the meeting following his absence. This excuse will be either accepted or rejected by the Rules Committee.

There is no rule which restricts school spirit to the football field; it should be present in all of our activities. By spreading this spirit around, we don't feel that we are stooping in tradition or lowering any standards. We cannot determine whether this helps or hinders school unity. There are arguments in both directions. However one can be sure that campus spirit is important, and nobody can help the situation except the students themselves.

IDC Takes Action On Ball And Laundry

James McCormick, the social director of the IDC announced that the Collegians from East Carolina College will play for the IDC Ball which will be held at the CU Building on the 7th of January. The dance will be semi-formal.

The IDC voted to investigate the laundry situation in the dormitories. This action was taken due to numerous complaints by the dormitory that the College Laundry was operating a monopoly and that the students felt better service could be obtained from different sources. Representatives of various dorms showed agreement with the forming of the investigating committee. Ted Jones, president of Alexander dormitory, was appointed chairman of the Committee by Craig Barnhardt, president of the IDC.

The author of a famous book on economics received a phone call one night. The voice said: "I question your statistics on the high cost of living today. My wife and I get everything our hearts desire and we get it for exactly 68 cents a week."

"Did you say 68 cents a week?" echoed the economist. "Could you speak a little louder?"

"Yes," said the voice. "I did say 68 cents a week, but I can't speak any louder. I'm a goldfish."

On January 15, 1956 at 3:00 p.m., more than $100.00 in prizes will be given away to talented photographers.

This photography contest is open to all students and College Union members. Entries must be turned in at the College Union main desk before December 20, 1955.

The entries will be divided into two categories: Black and White, and Color. In the Black and White category, there will be four divisions: portrait, landscape, still life, and human interest. The Color category has two divisions: landscape and miscellaneous.

All pictures entered in the contest must be mounted vertically on a 15" or 16" by 20" mounting board. Information about these mounts may be obtained at the College Union Hobby Shop. On the back of each entry, the entrant must put his name and address, and the classification of the picture.

The Black and White photographs must be a minimum of 5 x 7 in size. The Color pictures must meet the minimum size of 4 x 5. In all fairness to the entrants of this contest, no previous winning photographs will be accepted.

The prizes will be $10 for first prize and $5 for second prize in both divisions.

All pictures entered will be exhibited in the College Union Gallery from January 1 until January 20.

All members of the College Union Photography and Gallery committees urge anyone who has an interest in photography to enter this contest.

Two of the nation's finest jazz trombonists have gotten together in the past year to produce what is probably the best trombone solo and duet work ever done by a jazz group.

I speak, of course, of Kai Winding and J. J. Johnson, whose two recordings on the Savoy and Bethlehem labels have been tremendously popular among the jazz fans of the country.

Winding is a native of Denmark originally. He came to the United States in 1934 with his parents and launched his professional career with name bands in 1941 with Sonny Dunham's group. He played for Alvin Rey for a short period before he entered the service in 1942. His service time was devoted to the U. S. Coast Guard Band at Curtis Point, Maryland. After his discharge in 1945 he was in the Benny Goodman Band for a short stay and then went with Stan Kenton. It was this short year and a half, beginning in 1946, that got him well started in modern jazz. He made several fine solo spots with the Kenton Band before leaving them in late 1947 to stay in the New York vicinity. Kai played small combo and group jobs around the city for the next three years, concentrating on the jazz meccas such as Birdland and Basin Street.

Since 1950, Winding has played primarily for the TV, radio and recording studios in the New York area. That is, until last year when he began the work with J. J.

J. J. is a native of Indianapolis, where he started his professional work at about the same time as Kai. He joined Snookums Russel's Band in 1941 and played along side such greats as Fats Navarro. From 1942 to 1944 he was with Benny Carter and he then joined Count Basie for a two year stint. In 1946, he too went in for small combo work, playing at the Three Deuces Club on 52nd Street in New York with men like Bud Powell, Max Roach and Navarro. In 1948 big bands beckoned again and he joined Illinois Jacquet's band. He left Jacquet in 1949, free-lancing for three years, drifting in and out of Dizzy Gillespie's, Woody Herman's and the late Charlie Parker's bands. He also taught at the Music Center Conservatory in the Bronx. In 1952 Oscar Pettiford called him to join a USO tour in the Far East. Following his return, he took a job at Sperry Gyroscope, but kept up his jazz work at night. His new work with Winding and their quartet marks his return to jazz full-time.

They are backed on the two records by excellent men, though the quintet's personnel has been varied. Several prominent names have been with them, but the majority have been newcomers to the jazz field.

Rumor hath it that they are coming out with a new release on one of the major labels in the near future. It should be a cracker-jack if their past work is an indication.

They have brought an instrument, which has been little used for solo work or at the front of small combos, to the fore with pleasing results to say the least.

Kindergarten Teacher: Let's all draw what we'd like to be when we grow up.

At the end of twenty minutes every kid handed in a paper except little Butch.

"Why, Butch," remonstrated his teacher, "isn't there anything you want to be when you grow up?"

"Sure, Teacher," replied Butch, "I want to be married, but I don't know how to draw it."

Glee Club To Present Concert

The State College Glee Club and Orchestra will present a concert in Pullen Hall Sunday afternoon at four o'clock for the entertainment of State College personnel, homecoming week-end visitors, and the general public.

The orchestra will play Henry Purcell's "Trumpet Tune and Air" (Leon Jordan doing solo trumpet passages); Beethoven's "Egmont Overture"; the first movement of Schumann's Symphony No. 2; and "Procession of the Mastersingers", from Wagner's opera "Die Meistersinger."

The glee club will present a variety of numbers representative of 17th Century Bach through the realm of modern musical comedies of Rogers and Hammerstein.

"No, that's just the perfume she's wearing."

Ashace "Trees" Will Speak Here

Members of the local Student Branch of the American Society of Heating and Air-Conditioning Engineers are to be honored with a visit by the Society's treasurer, Prof. Elmer R. Queer, on Tuesday, November 22.

In making this announcement Ray E. Crawford, president of the State College Student Branch, said that Prof. Queer will address the members in Broughton Hall at seven o'clock that evening and his subject will be Air Conditioning Caves For Storage.

In addition to discussing the air conditioning of storage caves he also will acquaint the members with some of the recent activities of the Society.

Convention at Lynchburg College in December.

Bob Tanen's report from the Election Committee showed that a total of 38 candidates (out of 40 who signed up) turned out for a meeting of the candidates for freshman offices. Tanen asked for volunteers to assist in keeping the polls at the Coliseum on Wednesday, November 16, election day.

A motion was passed that the Student Government committee investigate the rule that no privately owned cars could be washed on the State College campus. This was turned over to the Campus Welfare Committee. Cafeteria Investigation In view of the recently publicized situation concerning the Cafeteria's operation under the direction of Harry Stewart, the Investigations Committee was called upon to conduct a thorough investigation of the Cafeteria. It is hoped that improvements will be suggested.

J. W. Smith, of Maintenance & Operations, was authorized to advertise for bids for paving the area behind Owen, Tucker, Turlington, and Alexander dormitories, and the area behind Becton, Bagwell, and Berry. If the total does not exceed the present funds for paving, which have been collected for traffic violations, both areas will be paved. However, if the cost exceeds the available funds, the Tucker and Owen area has priority.

Pulp and Paper Lab To Be Ready In Jan.

The new $225,000 Pulp and Paper Laboratory, now under construction at the intersection of Dan Allen Drive and Western Boulevard, will be completed in January and will serve as a regional teaching and research center for North Carolina State College's School of Forestry.

This was reported yesterday by Dean Richard J. Preston in a summary of activities at a series of regional forestry advisory committee meetings which ended at the College Friday night.

Dean Preston said the laboratory, first of its kind in the South, will help the State College School of Forestry to supply needed personnel for the South's expanding pulp and paper industries. The Southern Regional Education Board of Atlanta, Ga., has designated the N. C. State pulp and paper technology curriculum as the South's number one project of its type.

Dr. Preston told delegates to the advisory committee meetings that despite a jump in enrollment, the School of Forestry is still unable to fill the demands for its graduates but said a move is underway to increase the number of scholarship awards now open to needy and worthy students wishing to enter the school.

Over 80 per cent of the college's 600 forestry graduates, he said, are employed in the South.

Through cooperative arrangements with the TVA and the Southeastern Forest Experiment Station, Dean Preston explained, the college's School of Forestry plans to broaden its research operations in an effort to boost the State's and the region's burgeoning forest industries.

Presentation of diplomas to individual candidates will be made at the school meetings by the Deans or Dept. Heads.

The Chancellor will have a reception at his residence for the candidates and their friends late Saturday afternoon preceding the graduation. On Sat. night an informal Senior Dance will be held at the College Union.

All graduating students will have a voice in planning their diploma presentation programs for the afternoon school exercises.

Stan Freeman At CU Friday Nite

Stan Freeman, piano satirist and noted musical comedy star of stage, radio, and TV, will present a program of music and comedy in Pullen Hall at State College Friday, November 18, at 8 p.m.

A native of Waterbury, Conn., Freeman formerly was the pianist with the orchestras of Percy Faith and Andre Kostelanetz and later was one of the stars on the ABC radio network's "Piano Playhouse." He also has conducted record shows for NBC radio and has been a guest star on the Gary Moore and Steve Allen TV Shows.

He once was a soloist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and with Hartford and Buffalo Symphony Orchestras. His piano recordings have been nation-wide hits. Freeman gained his first big recognition with his harpsicord recording of "Delicado," which was a follow-up to "Come On A My House," with Rosemary Clooney.

During a stint with Army Air Corps, Freeman was a jazz pianist with the Glenn Miller Band.

His program at State College will be sponsored by the College Union's theater committee, headed by David Hostetler of Raleigh. Charlie Sessoms of Ahsokie is assisting Hostetler in making arrangements for the show, which will be open to all N. C. State students and to staff members who are members of the College Union free of charge. There will be an admission charge for all others.

The College Union's social committee, of which Bob Strother of Cary is chairman, will sponsor a coffee hour following the performance. During this period, the audience will have a chance to meet and chat with the pianist.

Nolan Announces Seating Change

President of Student Government Jim Nolan said earlier this week that there will be no block seating at the game Saturday night. Nolan stated, "I have received an unusually large number of requests for a blocked-off section at the game. In order not to be partial to any one group, I feel that it would be best to leave the seating on a 'first come-first served' basis, and encourage any group that wishes to sit together to come early in a body and occupy adjacent seats. I think the motives behind my decision should be fairly clear, as reserving a large number of sections would bar many other students from their chance at good seats."

A Russian spent a year in America and returned to tell his friend, "Boris," he said, "If you like it here, you should see America. You drive about in a limousine—for free. You stay in beautiful rooms—for free."

"All this happened to you?" asked the amazed Boris.

"To me no; but to my sister, yes."

Glee Club and Orchestra Concert—Sunday afternoon, Nov. 20, 4:00 p.m., Pullen Hall. The public is cordially invited to hear a concert by the State College Glee Club and Orchestra. Admission—free!

Dormitory Keys—Some dormitory keys appear to be worn to a degree where they will open rooms other than the room for which the key was issued. Some of these keys may have been altered by former or present occupants. If losses occur in dormitories, students possessing keys which open rooms other than their own are placed under suspicion. In order to protect yourself, if you know that your key will open rooms other than your own, you should bring this to the attention of the dormitory rentals office so that a new key may be issued to you. This will relieve you of any suspicion in the case of loss.—N. B. Watts, Coor. Student Housing.

Trustees Visiting Committee—The entire Trustees Visiting Committee will be at State College on Nov. 21. Any student interested in talking with the Visiting Committee should make an appointment with Jim Nolan or Banks Talley in Room 13, Holladay Hall.

An Alabama farmer passed away and the preacher came to his wife to get some information about the unfortunate to use in his eulogy at the church service. "Was he an Elk, a Mason, a Woodsman? Did he belong to the Chamber of Commerce, the Ku Klux Klan?" asked the preacher.

"What is the Ku Klux Klan?" asked the bereaved wife.

"Well, you might say that's the devil under a sheet," explained the preacher.

"That he was!" she replied with a timid smile.

A visitor to State, after being conducted on a tour of the various points of interest, was asked what he thought of our campus.

"It certainly is a well laid out campus," he answered, "How long has it been dead?"
