Little Theatre

"Uncle Harry" a suspense-full murder drama, will be presented by the Raleigh Little Theatre on Friday, March 16, through Thursday, March 22, Director Dick Snively announces.

The play, written by Thomas Job, is a thriller in the best "Angel Street" and "Dial M for Murder" tradition. Technical Director George Bireline, who also appears onstage, has devised an interesting and most unusual setting for this show.

George Hall as Uncle Harry and Ann Seltman and Kathy Wagner as his two sisters have been cast as the belligerent family circle. It is the sisters' spinstery love which upsets Harry's marriage and ruins his life.

Army Rifle Team

The Army ROTC rifle team of N. C. State College is in the process of defending the trophy it won last year in the Annual Conference of the N. C. Invitational Rifle Tournament by firing on February 25 and March 10 in a five man meet in Greensboro, N. C. This meet is a two part shoulder to shoulder match. The team members competing in this tournament are: team captain George K. Simonson, Ronald C. Pitts, James M. Nolan, Paul G. Braxton, and Richard V. Welch. Dave A. Thorpe is alternate.

Off-Campus Students

Any off-campus student who is not receiving the Technician may get their name on the mailing list by either dropping a postcard with their name and address on it to Box 5698, State College Station, or leaving it on the door of the Technician office, 138 1911 building. Any off-campus student who has changed address should send their old address and new address so that it can be changed.

Physics Speaker

Daniel I. Cooper of Washington, D. C., assistant editor of Nucleonics Magazine, will visit North Carolina State College Thursday and will speak at a meeting of the college chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma, national honorary physics society, in the Riddick Engineering Laboratories Building Thursday at 8 p.m.

His talk, which will be open to the public without charge, will be entitled "The Role of Nucleonics and the Advance of Science." Chuck Terrell of Raleigh, president of the Sigma Pi Sigma chapter, will introduce Cooper and will preside over the meeting.

Engineering Visit

The work of the metallurgical engineer will be explained on "Engineering Visit" on WUNC-TV, channel 4, Friday at 2 p.m. Dr. William W. Austin, head of the Department of Mineral Industries at North Carolina State College, will discuss the field of metallurgical engineering. The weekly series is sponsored by the State College School of Engineering to acquaint high school students with the engineering profession.

Norman's Quintet Plays One . . .

Norman's Quintet Presents CU Jazz Concert Saturday

The College Union Ballroom will be the scene of a College Jazz Concert Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. On hand at that time will be Norman's Quintet, local exponents of Jazz, under the leadership of J. Norman DeLancy.

The College Union Music Committee, Harry England, Chairman, is sponsoring the concert. Based on the success of the Jazz Concert sponsored last Fall by the Monogram Club and the College Union, which featured the DeLancy group, the Union decided to present a sequel featuring not only the Quintet, but also vocalist Bernie Ham, whose short appearance at the last concert was a highlight of the program. In addition, Kenny Joles, versatile young vibraphonist, will be featured.

The Quintet is gaining prestige as the "pioneering Modern Jazz group" in this area and they have mustered quite a following of Jazz lovers to prove it. "Norm" informs us that the Quintet has worked hard preparing new sounds for the forthcoming concert, with special concentration on creating an appreciation of Jazz on a college level. To quote Norman, "We hope they dig it, man!"

The members of the Quintet are: Pat McCoy, piano, a junior in Forestry from Cincinnati, Ohio; Bill Hobbs, bass, a senior in Music at ECC from Raleigh, Ted Simmons, sax, a former Carolina student and reporter for the Raleigh Times, from Columbia; Sonny Carr, drums, a sophomore in ME from Dunn; and J. Norman DeLancy, who runs Norman's emporium of (See NORMAN, page 9)

Military Ball

Big Weekend Is March 10

Since last spring when plans were begun for the Military Ball week-end, The Military Ball Association has had many problems. "Now the association can say that the plans are definite," announced Don Keats.

"After we were notified that Flanagan would not be able to play because he had received a 15 week TV contract, we tried in vain to get a name band that could be justified in playing for the ball. There were very few choices left because most of the 'big name' bands had been booked previously and after calling New York constantly for a week, we finally decided on Elliot Lawrence," explained Henry Pickett.

Lawrence is not to widely known since his band has not made many records and as a result his band has not been before the public eye too much. The Lawrence band plays most-

Hickman Named As New Dean Of School of General Studies

Dr. C. Addison Hickman, head of the Department of Economics at State College since July 1, 1953, will become dean of the college's School of General Studies Tuesday.

Appointment of Dr. Hickman to the post—one of the key positions in the institution's administrative staff — was announced yesterday by Dr. Carey H. Bostian, chancellor of State College, following approval of the promotion at the last meeting of the Consolidated University's Board of Trustees here.

Dr. Hickman, a nationally-known scholar and author, succeeds Dr. John W. Shirley, who relinquished the position as dean of the School of General Studies last November 15 when he was appointed dean of the faculty at State College. Since that time, Dr. Hickman has been chairman of a faculty executive committee in charge of administering the school's affairs.

Before joining the State College faculty in 1953, Dr. Hickman was research professor and professor of economics at the University of Illinois, a post he held for three years.

State College's School of General Studies, of which Dr. Hickman will be dean, provides training in the liberal arts and humanities for all of the college's nearly 5,000 students. It is com-

Student Government Backs Nolan; Also Recommends Bell

By David Barnhardt

At the meeting of the Student Legislature last Thursday night Student Government President Jim Nolan asked for and received a vote of confidence from the Legislature on the stand that he had taken on the NYA-Vetville dispute. He said that the Student Government had carried the issue as far as it could.

Other business included reports on the Cafeteria, Coliseum, a bell on the west end of the campus, and the trash cans.

'Hot Potato'

Commenting on the NYA-Vetville dispute, Nolan said the Student Government had been given a "hot potato" by the Administration. He continued to say that the decision to move the six students from NYA had been made at higher levels before it ever reached the Legisla-

Election Books Open On March 5

Nomination books for the spring student government offices will be opened for registration starting Monday, March 5, in Dean Talley's office according to an announcement made today by the student government election committee.

All offices are open for nomination and any student with an over all "C" average is eligible to run for office. His nomination must be countersigned by an interested friend.

The election committee listed the following positions open for nominations: 33 student government senators from each class of each degree granting school; class officers for each rising class—3 sophomores, 2 juniors, 2 senior members of the judicial board—2 senior members and 1 junior member of the athletic council—1 two year and 1 one year membership on college union board of directors—1 head cheerleader.

The books will remain open until the end of March. Dean Talley's office is located in the basement of Holladay Hall.

All students interested in taking part in student government and its activities are encouraged to register.

Valuable experience as well as a great deal of satisfaction can be gained by entering into campus politics.

Legislature Appoints Cafeteria Committee

The Student Legislature appointed a Committee to look into the Cafeteria problem at their regular meeting last week. Members of the new committee, entitled the Student Government Cafeteria Improvement Committee, are George M. Smart, Chairman, Malcolm McCormick and Worth Gurkin.

In announcing the appointment of the Committee, a definition of its purposes were released as follows:

- 1) To investigate, stimulate and suggest policies which could improve the taste of the food served at the Cafeteria.
- 2) To consult and instill in the Cafeteria management the necessity for a better

Dublin Players Appear March 9, 10

The Dublin Players will come to Pullen Hall on March 9 and 10, at 8:00 p.m. under the auspices of the College Union Theater Committee.

Returning here from Ireland, the Dublin Players are now making their fifth coast-to-coast tour of the United States and Canada. More than 70% of last years sponsors have asked the group to return, and the current tour is completely subscribed.

Primarily drawn from the Abbey and Gate Theaters of Dublin, they perform with the great skill and style characteristic of those two classic theaters. There is a spirit and smartness about their playing which comes from years of training and discipline under the high standards required by the Irish and British repertory system. Accordingly, they give a new meaning to the great plays of George Bernard Shaw, Oscar Wilde, Sean O'Casey, William Butler Yeats, and J. M. Synge.

For their fifth tour, the Company has changed their repertoire, retaining only "Pygmalion," which they presented at State last Spring. Three excellent full-length plays have been added: "Money Doesn't Matter," by Louis D'Alton; "An Ideal Husband," by Oscar Wilde; and "Arms and the Man," by George (See DUBLIN, page 9)

Help Needed On Engineers' Fair

Departments Need Help On The Engineers' Fair

The Engineers' Fair is fast approaching. Each student in the school of Engineering has an interest in this event. If your friends ask what you are studying, you will reply proudly, as would we all, that you are studying some phase of engineering. In the majority of cases when you say that you are studying Industrial, Mechanical, Ceramic, or other specialized branches, the person with whom you are

Student Directory Editor Selected

The College Union Board of Directors has chosen Charles Johnson to be editor of the 1956-57 Student Directory. His assistant will be Cecil Brooks.

Charles and Cecil are representing the Kappa Phi Kappa honorary fraternity, who applied to take the directory as a fraternity project. The editorship of the directory is subject to the approval of the Student Board of Publications on Thursday, February 29.

Correction

The article in last week's Technician on the Traffic Committee stated that "A proposal was put before the committee to open the Textile parking lot to students, faculty and staff on a first come first served basis. This proposal was unanimously defeated on the grounds that it was impractical."

This motion was not unanimously defeated; it was defeated by a vote of 6-4.

A second motion was put on the floor to open the textile lot to faculty and staff only. This motion was declared defeated by Chairman Brown since there was not a vote cast either for or against the motion.

Election Dates

On Tuesday, February 21, State students approved, through a referendum, a change in the Constitution of The Student Government to allow the Legislature to set the date for elections anytime in the spring semester as long as the elections are held before April 31. The Constitution had previously provided that "General campus elections shall be held on the fourth (4th) Wednesday in the month of April."

One reason behind the Constitutional change was that it is generally felt that campus elections should be held earlier than the last of April—a reason that we wholeheartedly agree with. We presumed, along with others, that another basis for the change in election policy was to enable the Legislature to set the election date so that spring holidays would not be between the sign-up period and the actual elections.

The Legislature went along on the first reason and the Legislature has moved the primary and elections back slightly. But as far as eliminating the interruption caused by spring holidays nothing was done. As a result, the deadline for copy for the last issue of The Technician before the primary is 22 calendar days before the primary (as a result of spring holidays). Twenty-two days is a long time before an election for most students to be thinking about publicity. The schedule for sign-up, the primary, and the election date are, to us, very unfortunate. The choice of dates practically eliminates a candidate from being able to put his platform and policies before the students through the pages of The Technician. The Technician is the STUDENT newspaper. Election dates that eliminate it as part of the campaign is unfair to those running. Maybe Dr. Anderson, whose office publishes the "Green Bulletin", might possibly be convinced to run candidates' platforms in the "Green Bulletin".

Why a primary?—unless it is going to be a real primary that will only cut the number running down so there will be no question of who wins in the election unless there is a tie.

Since the political system at State College is one that does not have political parties, a primary seems useless. Why not place everyone running for every office on the first ballot. Then, if for a particular office no one person (person or persons depending on the number to be elected to fill a certain position—example is that only one person is elected SG President while 3 or 4 persons are elected for the Legislature from a particular class of a School) received a majority the runner-up would have the option of calling for a run-off. For offices that more than one person is elected to, a policy would have to be formulated as to whether one or two runners-up could call for a run-off.

We'll admit that this editorial is like "closing the barn door after the mule has gone." But we hope that next year's Legislature will work out better election dates.

"By The Way, What Fraternity Do You Belong To?"

Hear At State

by Sidney Pureblood, Jr.

The views and opinions of this column do not necessarily represent those of THE TECHNICIAN.

The resolution concerning the need for a bell on the west end of the campus, which this column said would be presented was passed unanimously at the last Student Government meeting. It was reported in the meeting that Dean Stewart would, most likely, carry the issue when it came before the Administration. If all goes well, we may be hearing the tolling of a new bell on the other end of the campus this semester.

Housing Issue

The outcome of the Verville-NYA dispute is now a matter of record; the Student Government and the Verville town council were both told that their suggestions could not be followed in this matter. The six NYA students have been accorded the right to live in Verville.

Since it would do no good to reiterate the feelings of this writer and those who opposed the move, let us look at the positive side of what is now a fact. From the dispute emerged two points which bear repeating; first the consigning of housing to students by individual departments has been discontinued, and second, the Student Government has been asked to set up a system for assigning space and priorities in the new housing project when it is built. Such a system will most likely be devised by a Student Housing Committee, which would be a regular committee of the Student Legislature.

Positive Attitude

Also, because of the dispute this writer had an opportunity to talk with the Director of Student Housing, N. B. Watts, and to get an idea of what is being done by the Administration in the way of housing for married as well as single students. I am glad to report that the attitude of the Administration is not opposed to the construction of additional housing (as many people now feel), but is actually very strongly in favor of any practical and practicable plan.

As with any project of such size, many problems must be ironed out. Nevertheless, the need for additional housing on this campus is felt just as strongly in the office of Student Housing as it is on many parts of the campus. Plans for the construction of 300 housing units are now ready. When several other problems have been solved, it is estimated that actual construction will only require approximately 18 months. So . . . with a little luck and possibly some outside help we could have a new housing project at State by fall of 1957. . . . $160,000

The Student Activities Fee, officially termed "Non-academic Fees," amounts to approximately $160,000 per year. In the meeting of the Student Government last Thursday night an issue came up which is going to be very "hot" in the very near future. The issue is the distribution of the Activities Fee.

Each student pays $35 per year for various student activities. These funds are turned over in full to ten organizations on the campus. The amount which each organization gets now was voted upon by students several years ago. Sid Briley, who proposed the suggestion, feels that the Student Government, which represents the students, should be in charge of allocating the funds according to the need of the organization. He recommended that a standing committee of the Student Government, namely the Budgetary and Finance Committee, be set up to take charge of collecting and studying budgets submitted by the organizations and to recommend to the Student Government how the funds be allocated.

Letters To The Editor:

Letters to the Editor must be signed. If it is requested that the name be withheld for a good reason, the letter will be printed and the name withheld. Letters WILL NOT be printed unless they are signed.

Committee Gives Views . . .

In view of the position as reported in the Raleigh Times of February 21, 1956, which has been taken by Jim Nolan, President of Student Government, Charles Hanna, Mayor of Verville, and Bob Lane, President of the Veteran's Association, on the present housing issue, The Verville Legal Committee, as duly sanctioned by the Verville Council, has decided to discontinue further action until its aforementioned sanction is either affirmed or denied. The committee takes this stand in view of the fact that it has apparently lost the support which prompted its initial action, that support being, action of the Student Government, action of the Verville Government, and action of the Veteran's Association, whose presidents and/or mayor are respectively, Jim Nolan, Charles Hanna, and Bob Lane.

Since the committee has been functioning on behalf of the Verville Council, its intent is to request a meeting of that council as soon as possible, to outline the events that have taken place since its authorization, and to seek its further advice.

Cosmopolitan Club Plans Spring Dance

The Cosmopolitan Club of the North Carolina State College, a foreign student organization—the College has over 150 foreign students from 48 different countries—has, after careful planning, fixed a date for its annual dance: March 9, 1956. The dance (semi-formal) is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. and last until mid-night.

The Dance Committee, after thoughtful consideration, has decided to make this function a unique one. Aside from request made to all interested foreign students, provision has been made for American students to participate. The latter step has been taken to create better understanding between the American students and those from foreign countries here at State. We earnestly think that the function promises to carry an air, international in nature and "Cosmopolitan" in manner.

Incidentally, for those who are unable to arrange for their dates, invitations have been extended to Peace, St. Mary's, and Meredith Colleges, and the State and Rex Hospitals. So, if you let us know early about your plans, maybe we can be of some help to you.

The dance will start as scheduled, and around 10 o'clock a Variety Show will be presented, the participants to include students from Pakistan and Latin American Countries. Refreshments will also be served.

Inquiries can be made at 156 Owen and 323 Turlington. Postal inquiries to be addressed to The Chairman, Dance Committee, The Cosmopolitan Club, Box 4447, State College, Raleigh, N. C. Well, we hope to see you on the 9th then.

Shackelford Relates Tour Experience

Hope Shackelford, a student in Agronomy, recently returned from a 4-H International Exchange Tour of the Middle East Countries. The tour began in the spring of 1955 and lasted until February 1956. He had as his traveling companion a student from the University of Tennessee.

Hope showed the club slides of interesting land marks seen while on the tour and explained very nicely some of the customs of the people he saw and met.

Hope also presented the Agronomy Club with a beautifully carved gavel inlaid with ivory.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The Agronomy Club always has an interesting program and students in Agronomy are invited to attend.

Molodet Sparks State to 80-78 Win Over Wake Forest; Wolfpack Ends Regular Season With 21-3 Record

Vic Molodet sank a field goal with but three seconds remaining to give North Carolina State a thrilling 80-78 victory over arch-rival Wake Forest Saturday night before 13,000 fans.

The win gave the Wolfpack a 21-3 record, the best since 1948 and assured them of the No. 1 seeding in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

The score remained close throughout the first half with State commanding a 37-33 lead at halftime.

But the Deacons stormed back early in the second half and with 7 minutes remaining took a 62-61 lead.

The visitors from Wake Forest soon held the upper hand with a 4-point spread and only 30 seconds remaining. But pint-sized Vic Molodet took over from here and personally added four-points within twenty seconds to force the contest into a overtime.

Reynolds Coliseum, March 1—Some 73,000 fans will pack their way into the spacious Coliseum this week-end to view what is being billed the best Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament ever.

The Big Four, all ranked nationally, are being given the favorites role in the first round of action. Out of these power-houses will emerge one survivor to represent the conference in the NCAA tournament later this month.

North Carolina State, defending champions have been given a back seat due to the big loss of All-American Ron Shavlik and his broken wrist. . . . The favorites role seems to lie with Wake Forest and Carolina but anything can happen and usually does at tournament time.

State Has Problem

The problem that faces North Carolina State is not a new one. With All-America center Ron Shavlik out of the starting line-up because of a broken wrist, Wolfpack hopes for a third straight conference championship look dim, but Coach Everett Case's legions have seen darker days.

Back in 1951 State was rolling along with a 29-4 record after wrapping up the Southern Conference championship by beating Duke. The Wolfpack was selected to represent the league in the NCAA Tournament.

Everything seemed rosy until it was learned that three of the Wolfpack stars would not be eligible for NCAA competition since they had played as freshmen. The three were All-American Sammy Ranzino, guard Vic Bugas, and center Paul Horvath.

Just to make matters worse State's first-round foe would be Villanova, and old jinx that had defeated the Pack twice during the regular season when Bugas, Ranzino, and Horvath were in the lineup.

State faced the challenge and was determined to win. The final score was 67-62 in favor of the North Carolinians. The following day Case's crew gave a highly-favored Illinois five all it could handle before losing, 84-70.

State is now making plans to defend its ACC championship without Shavlik, the teams leading scorer with a 19.4 average and the top rebounder with a 20.2 mark. To say that his loss is a big blow would be the understatement of the year.

Case Still Undecided

Case, at this point, has not selected Shavlik's replacement. Big Bob Seitz, the 6-11, 260-pounder, may get the nod, although he is handicapped against a zone defense or a pressing game. He is scoring 4.4 points per game but has played only briefly.

Another possibility is sophomore George Stepanovich, an untested rookie who has scored only 14 points all season. But 'Steppe' is a good shooter and jumps like a big man. He is 6-4.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young manager handles finances for $40,000,000 business

General Electric is made up of more than 90 product departments that operate as individual "businesses" — each conducting its own legal, financial, manufacturing, engineering, marketing and research activities.

One of the most important of these businesses is the Technical Products Department that makes broadcasting and communications equipment and semi-conductor devices. Responsible for managing the finances of this $40 million business is Robert H. Platt.

Platt's Work Is Important, Responsible

In the next ten years, the Technical Products Department is expected to reach the $100 million mark — more than doubling its present size. This is a big job. And it requires Platt to keep tabs on everything from tax, cost, and general accounting to payrolls, budgets and measurements, credits and collections, and internal auditing.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

Experience gained in the Business Training Course and as a traveling auditor gave Platt a variety of financial experience. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, the country.

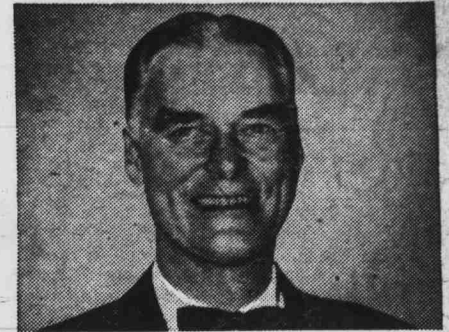

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

ROBERT H. PLATT joined G.E. in 1941 after receiving his B.A. at Colgate University. He served 2 years in the Navy, attaining the rank of Lieutenant (J.G.). He is also a graduate of G.E.'s Business Training Course.

SOCCER: Earl Baxter, right fullback on State's soccer team, made the first team All-ACC... Norm Norris and Ernest Sherrill were ranked on the second squad... All-Southern: Sherrill, Baxter, and Norris were selected to the All-Southern soccer team which is picked by the coaches in the area...

NEW SCORING RECORD: Shavlik set a new three-year scoring record Saturday against Wake Forest... His total to date is 1,718 or seven over Sammy Ranzino's old mark set several years ago...

ACC TOURNAMENT: State will be seeking its 3rd conference crown in a row... the Pack copped six out of seven Southern Conference championships with Wake Forest being the only team to break Case's string of crowns... It's a shame tho, that all the trophies can't be displayed at the coliseum... most of them are lying around collecting dust in several of the offices... maybe the administration can find a home for them, they seem to be pretty good in that capacity...

It's a thought: Wonder if the ACC powers made a mistake in turning down the proposal to let a conference team play in the NIT? If the winner of the ACC Tournament doesn't make a good showing in the NCAA tourney it will be hard to convince people that we have a tough league. And regardless of who wins the tournament, the NCAA representative probably will have tough going, since so many good players will be ineligible.

WHERE ARE ALL THE GOOD WRITERS HIDING?

We've looked in all the Hillsboro Street bistros and queried all the pros., but the only thing we've come up with is an ugly rumor to the effect that the really good scribes in this business have become completely extinct.

Frankly, we don't believe it. Our own staff is proof to the contrary.

We're not looking for a "specialist." (An engineer who writes only 'hot' technical copy). We are looking for a solid, top-flight, State student who is willing to jockey back and forth from the CU to 13 Holladay—from food to pigeons, and still manage to make selling sense.

As far as salary is concerned, there is little if any. If you have the will to try, we'll supply the necessary to go with it.

In all seriousness, we're justifiably proud of our creative staff—and somewhere in hiding is that really "good" writer we know would enjoy being part of it. In fact, just to prove how serious we are, we're going to defy that old adage about never signing a want-ad!

Do as many Droodles as you want. Send them, complete with titles, to Lucky Droodle, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Include your name, address, college, and class—and the name and address of the dealer in your college town from whom you most often buy cigarettes.

If we select your Droodle, we'll pay $25 for the right to use it, with your name, in our advertising. And we pay for a lot of Droodles that never appear in print! Talk about easy money! This is it!

4,679 Enroll For Spring Semester

North Carolina State College's spring semester enrollment stands at 4,679 students, the college's Office of Registration reported yesterday.

The enrollment figure represents a drop of 137 from the winter semester when the student body consisted of 4,816. Over 100 students were graduated at the end of the last semester, and others dropped out of school for various other reasons.

A breakdown of the enrollment by classes shows 1,550 freshmen, 1,063 sophomores, 811 juniors, 678 seniors, 57 seeking professional degrees, and 404 graduate students. In addition, there are 116 special or non-classified students.

During the current academic year, State College's student body including representatives from all of the State's 100 counties, 44 other states, the District of Columbia, three United States possessions, and 39 foreign countries.

went about his daily tasks. In addition to working and eating with their escort officers, the visiting cadets observed the planning and detailed work that precedes a parachute jump. A part of the tour included the observation of all phases of an airborne infantry battalion's tactical exercise from packing the parachutes to jumping from the planes and through the action on the ground. Needless to say, the ROTC cadets did not make any parachute jumps.

Those cadets who made the trip are Sidney E. Briley, Jr., James M. McCormick, Creighton L. Calhoun, Jr., Joseph A. Riggs, Jr., Joseph R. Warlick, Jr., Teddy R. Jones, Robert E. Bedford, Ausby J. Treece, Lawrence W. Sherrill, Jr., and William R. Jessup.

Parking Lots set up for Motorcycles And Scooters; Inspection Required

"Parking lots for scooters, motorcycles, and bicycles have been set up on campus," according to Frank Pethal, chairman of the Student Traffic Committee.

The location of these lots are: behind the Textile building, behind Riddick, behind Peele Hall, and near the north entrance to the pedestrian tunnel in front of the Country House.

"Scooters and motorcycles must pass an inspection before they can legally be parked in these special lots.

Scooters and motorcycles that are found parked in these lots that do not display inspection stickers will be given a ticket," stressed Pethal.

The first inspection will be held Saturday between 1 and 3 p.m. behind Riddick. A 25c fee will be charged for the inspection.

Brakes and mufflers will be inspected. Brakes must be safe and mufflers quiet to pass the inspection. "These are the conditions under which the lots were granted", said Pethal.

Scooters that pass the inspection will be given a sticker certifying that it has passed the inspection. This sticker must be displayed at all times.

"Permission for these lots was granted on a temporary basis. Cycle riders must, by proper use of the lots and consideration for their fellow students, show that they merit the use of the lots," said Pethal.

Bridge Lessons Sponsored By College Union

The College Union Games Committee is sponsoring, again this semester, a series of bridge lessons for beginners.

The lessons will be taught by Mrs. Herbert Whitener, wife of a State College student.

All students, their wives, or members of the Union who do not know how to play bridge are invited. The lessons will be at 7:30 p.m., March 6, in Room 254 of the College Union Building.

This is a record season, without a single lay-off, involving more than 30,000 miles of travel, for these excellent Players.

speaking would not understand the distinction between the curriculums.

This is where the fair offers a ripe opportunity to publicize your school, department, and your chosen field of study. Each of the engineering departments have chosen a chairman to begin work on the Fair. These chairmen can only represent your department as you help them to. This is the only event of State College where adults, teachers, and school children of all ages can see each of the different engineering professions as we feel that they should be shown. If you are as proud to be an engineer, then you should want to write your family and your friends to attend the fair.

If you feel that there are those in your hometown now attending high school who might be interested in the branches of engineering offered at State as a profession; then write the principal a personal letter and invite him and as many of the students as care to come to the fair.

ly concerts and college dances.

The Lawrence band is the type that plays because they love music and like for people to know how good, rather than commercialized, music sounds.

There will be a concert at 2 p.m. and the formal dance in the Coliseum at 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 10. These functions are not limited to members of the military only. It seems that this has been the basis of a misunderstanding about who can go to the ball. The association wants this to be the biggest event of the year for State College and in this light, anyone can go that purchases a ticket.

By the way, these tickets are only four dollars and can be obtained from members of the Arnold Air Society, Scabbard and Blade or Pershing Rifles.

The members of the new committee also released a statement of the intended scope and policy of the Committee.

"This Committee represents the opinion of the entire student body as well as the staff and administration. Its effectiveness in carrying out its purpose will be determined by the positive recommendation of the students and staff members. Any such suggestions or criticism should be submitted to any of the members on or before Wednesday of each week, at which time a report will be given to Mr. Stewart, Cafeteria Manager, and the Student Government."

The Committee has suggested that the Cafeteria management consult with the School of Design about possibilities of a School project of redesigning or renovating the cafeteria interior.

The addresses of the members of the Committee are listed below for the benefit of those who wish to contact them at any time. They are:

ture and that the reason the issue had been passed to the Legislature was an attempt by the Administration to receive student approval of a decision which had already been made.

President Nolan read a letter from Raleigh Chief of Police Tom Davis which commended and thanked the students of State for their behavior at the Carolina-State basketball game.

It was announced at the meeting that the College Union will take care of printing and distributing the Student Directory each year. It was also brought to the attention of the legislators that The Tower will, henceforth, be restricted to freshmen. Cafeteria, Coliseum

George Smart reported that the Cafeteria Committee is now functioning and that a report is forthcoming. John Lane stated that the clean-up campaign is now underway and gave a few facts to prove that students were using the cans which have been put out at various places on the campus.

Harry Rosenberg reported on the progress of the Coliseum investigation and said that a report from the Board of Trustees is forthcoming.

New Bell

A resolution was presented and passed unanimously on the need for a bell on the west end of the campus. The resolution recommended to the Administration "that a bell be installed atop either the Textile Building or the Agricultural Engineering Building."

A very brief report was given on the student health program at State. The report was somewhat suggestive that major changes are contemplated for next year with regard to the Infirmary.

Bob Tanen made a resolution that the forthcoming elections be held on April 10 and 17 for the primary and final, respectively. The resolution passed unanimously.

New Drama Club Presents John Brown's Body, March 6

The State Drama Club will enact the dramatic reading of Stephen Vincent Benet's John Brown's Body, in the College Union Theater at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, March 6. The program will be sponsored by the College Union Library Committee; there will be no admission charge, and everyone is welcome to attend.

The play reading will be preceded by a short talk on the poet Benet and on the Civil War material and history of John Brown's Body, which will be given by Dr. Harvey Bumgardner, of the State faculty. Dr. Bumgardner, who is director of the reading production, joined the college faculty at the beginning of the school year, and has been very active in Raleigh Little Theater work. Already this year he has had important roles in "Death of a Salesman," "Picnic," and is cast in the current RLT production, "A Shout and a Cry," a play which was written by Dr. Lodwick Hartley and Mr. Jack Suberman, of the State English Department.

The performance will mark the first play production from an organized campus-wide group, since the State Red Masquers play group was conducted by Mr. Edwin Paget in 1935. The Drama Club is sponsored by the College Union Theater Committee; and the following cast was selected to read the parts for John Brown's Body: Male narrator: John Schultheis, of Smithfield; Female narrator: Charlene Whisnant; Jack Ellyat-Clay Wingate, Bob Gray, of Gastonia; Melora Vilas-Sally Dupre, Penny McCrary.

Sound, lights, and set will be done by J. B. Pemberton, of Goldsboro; Bill Greene, of Gastonia; and Jay Peterson, of Wilmington. A coffee hour will follow the program, sponsored by the College Union Social Committee.

FUNNY EXPERIENCES

by CARL GOERCH

This is a reprint of an article that appeared in the February 18, issue of the State magazine. It is reprinted with permission. Editor.

Harry Stewart and HARRY STEWART were in the same ward in Rex Hospital. The attending nurse was Miss Stewart. You can readily understand how this would cause a lot of confusion.

I don't exactly know Harry Stewart's connection with State College. I believe, however, that he manages the cafeteria out there and, unless I'm mistaken, he's also head of the Wolfpack Club. However, his vocation doesn't make so very much difference because this little tale has nothing to do with it.

Harry had a kidney stone. Doctor said it would have to come out; that an operation was necessary.

So Harry went to Rex Hospital and was put to bed in a ward.

Nice looking guy in the bed next to him, Harry looked over and asked: "What's your name?"

Other guy said: "Harry Stewart."

"Yes," said Harry, "that's me. Now what's your name?"

"Harry Stewart."

Well, we could drag that out a while longer but there's no need to do so. They discovered that they were both named Harry Stewart. The other guy is with the Reserve Officers Training Corps. In order to distinguish them, one from the other, we'll refer to him as HARRY STEWART, and we'll refer to the other one—the one mentioned in the first paragraph, as Harry Stewart. One in caps, the other in caps and lower case.

The Nurse Enters
Nurse came in, looked at HARRY STEWART, consulted the chart at the foot of his bed and said: "All right, Mr. Stewart: time for your enema. The orderly will be here in just a moment."

"For the love of Pete!" exclaimed HARRY STEWART, "I've already had one enema this morning. It's the other guy you want."

"No, it ain't," said Harry Stewart hurriedly.

Nurse looked puzzled. She examined both scoreboards and discovered, sure enough, that both men had the same name.

"Now ain't that something!" she exclaimed. Turning to Harry

Stewart: "Your name is Stewart?" Harry nodded. Turning to HARRY STEWART she said: "And your name is Stewart, too?" HARRY nodded and said: "Now that we've progressed this far, tell us what your name is."

"Stewart," said the nurse. (All right; don't believe it if you don't want to, but it's the truth.)

The orderly entered and announced: "Enema for Mr. Stewart."

"That's him," said Harry. "Over in that bed," said HARRY pointing.

"Are you sure the enema isn't for Miss Stewart?" asked Harry.

Miss Stewart didn't like that. She made another examination and discovered that Harry Stewart was the victim.

A little while later: "What are you here for?" inquired HARRY. "Kidney stone operation," said Harry. "What's the matter with you?"

"Appendectomy."
"Hope you get along all right."
"Same to you."

A young intern came in, glanced at the scoreboard, smiled and said: "We'll operate in a little while, Mr. Stewart. And don't let it worry you: an appendectomy is nothing very serious."

"I'm here for a kidney stone operation," protested Harry. "Don't you try to take out my appendix."

The intern laughed gaily. "Don't let it worry you," he said with an ingratiating smile.

"Bet they take out your appendix," gleefully remarked HARRY.

"If they do, they'll give you a kidney-stone operation," said Harry.

"Oh, my gosh! Call the nurse: call the superintendent!"

Mr. Barnes, hospital superintendent, came into the ward and the two gentlemen hurriedly explained the situation to him. "If you're not careful, we'll be having each other's operations," said HARRY.

"Oh, my goodness!" said Mr. Barnes. "That would never do."

"They're getting us mixed up with enemas and in other ways," said Harry.

"I believe," said Mr. Barnes, "that we had better move one of you gentlemen into another ward. Nurse!"

"Yes, Mr. Barnes."

"What is your name?"

"Stewart," she said simply. He looked at her suspiciously. "So's mine!" jubilantly shouted an orderly who was attending to one of the other patients in the ward. "Joe Stewart."

Nobody paid any attention to him.

"Move one of these patients as quickly as possible," Mr. Barnes instructed Miss Stewart. "Yes, sir."

Mr. Barnes left, mopping his brow.

Harry Stewart was moved into another ward and everybody felt greatly relieved over developments.

Still More Complications

But there was still plenty of trouble ahead. Harry began to get flowers that were intended for HARRY. The latter received get-well cards from people he never had heard of before. Telephone messages got all balled up. Visitors came to see HARRY, took one look at Harry and bowed themselves out. The same thing happened in reverse.

Both operations were highly successful but complications, due to the similarity in names, continued to pester everybody.

Harry got a letter the day before he left the hospital. It was a government pay check intended for HARRY and was made out in the amount of $300.

There also was a little confusion when it came time for both of them to pay their bills on leaving the hospital. Taking everything into consideration, I don't believe there ever was such a mix-up in identities since the hospital first opened.

Conversations After Game

L. C. Draughon

Wake Forest fans were heard saying, "If Wiggins had gotten hot, we could have given State a hard time." (Wiggins made 12 out of 13 field goals.) If Carolina had beat us (Wake Forest) this way, I would have been the first one on the court. . . . Man, I wonder how many pigs it took to root out this tunnel (pedestrian underpass).

State fans were heard saying, "(with 110 sec. left) ooooh, God! We haven't got a chance! (Students on Row A, Sec. M and L. "How unusual. No row AAAA tonight."

Announcement over the PA system at the CU: "This is Saturday night. There is no breaking on the dance floor". Boys date asked just what the announcement meant. He explained to her that on Friday night there were many unescorted girls at the CU "Platter Party" and it was a mixer with breaking allowed; whereas on Saturday night most of the boys have dates. "You mean", she said, "that most of the girls have dates."

Cashier at the Union Snack Bar commented, as a student purchased a third cup of coffee for the evening, "You must live off coffee." "I do!" the student replied, "but I could live live a lot better if I had better coffee than this."

But evidently not and for that our most humble apologies.

For those in doubt, we quote from the Catalogue: "The satisfactory completion of the basic course (2 years) in either the Army or Air Force ROTC is required of all physical fit male freshmen and sophomores unless they are excused by the College Administration". Those excused under current college policy are: Veterans of six months or more of active service in the Army Navy, Marine Corps or Air Force; students transferred from other colleges, non-citizens, and those whose physical condition is such that ROTC training would further impair their physical condition. Any others and those who have failed an ROTC basic course are the ones to whom last week's item was addressed.

ROTC Requirements Clarified More Fully

The article "Seniors Beware" in last week's Technician evidently startled some students who were not certain of their status. From all the inquiries that have been made of various departments of the college, it is obvious that clarification is necessary.

It was not the intent of last week's item to imply that all students had to have two years of ROTC before they could graduate. The item was to call to the attention of those who had to have it that they must have it before graduating. Your correspondent felt sure that all who did not have to have two years ROTC knew they didn't.

Sportsmanship

Chief Commends Students Behavior

On the day after the hotly contested State-Carolina basketball game, Student Government President Jim Nolan received a letter from the Chief of Police in Raleigh, Tom Davis, commending the Student Body of State College on their "excellent display of good manners and sportsmanship."

Police Chief Davis said he was "extremely proud of the behavior exhibited" at this important game. He attended the game and was happy to say that he "only saw one paper cup thrown upon the playing floor."

Davis concluded his letter by saying that the students "certainly deserve the plaudits and admiration of the citizens of this community for their excellent behavior on this occasion."

Ed. Note: It is gratifying to be able to report that a letter commending the student's behavior has been received from a person in such an office. It is hoped that each student will remember that he is representing State at all college functions and that he will act as if he would have our college judged by his individual conduct upon such occasions.

For Deferment

Selective Service Deadline March 5

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, announces the Selective Service College Qualification Tests to be given on Thursday, April 19, 1956, in the Textile Building, State College Campus, and at approximately 1,000 other examination centers.

To be eligible to apply for the Selective Service tests, a student must: (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test.

An application for the test, a mailing envelope, and a Bulletin of Information may be obtained from the Selective Service Local Board, 212 Odd Fellows Building, 15 West Hargett Street. Applications for the April 19th test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Monday, March 5, 1956. Applications postmarked after midnight of that date will not be accepted for that test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student or either a score of 70 on the qualification test or specified rank among the male members of the class (upper half of freshman class, upper two-thirds of sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of junior class). In addition to meeting one of these two requirements, the student must, at the end of each academic year, progress to the next higher class.

General Hershey has emphasized many times that local boards are not required to defer students meeting the criteria. Meeting the criteria merely makes a student eligible to be considered for a student deferment. If a local board refuses to defer a student meeting the criteria, he, of course, has the right to appeal his case, Hershey pointed out.

Colonel Thomas H. Upton, North Carolina State Director of Selective Service, urges that eligible students avail themselves of the opportunity to take the test.
