Platoon Competition

In the final Platoon Drill Competition held by the Army ROTC Regiment of N C State College on May 3, the Second Platoon of Company "F" representing the Second Cadet Battalion out-pointed the competing platoons from the First and Third Battalions of the Regiment for the coveted designation of "Best Drilled Platoon" in the Regiment.

This platoon was commanded during the competition by Cadet Lieutenant Elijah T. Holt the son of Thelma Holt Mattox of Gretna, Virginia. The platoon won the competition by demonstrating their proficiency in the execution of drill movements.

Horticulture

Annual elections were held by the Horticulture Club, Thursday night, May 3. Those elected to serve next year are: President, Charles A. Jackson; Vice President, Harvey Morris; Secretary, Julia Benton; Treasurer, Marshall Sheppard; and Reporter, Frank Johnson. Dr. James Dietz was elected club adviser.

On Sunday afternoon, May 6, there was a big turn out for the student-staff "Spring Fling" at the State Fairgrounds. After volleyball, horseshoes, and conversation, everyone sat down to enjoy a delicious supper.

Best Drilled

In a competition held by the Army ROTC Regiment of N. C. State College on May 3, Cadet R. L. Henderson, the son of Mrs. Jessie McKay Henderson, of West Oak Forest, Charleston, S. C. won the designation of "Best Drilled Cadet" in the Regiment for this school year. The competing cadets were judged on proficiency in execution of drill movements.

The ASCE will hold a meeting on May 15 in the C. E. Auditorium at 7:00 p.m. featuring Prof. McCullough of the C. E. Dept. in a speech describing the recent expedition to Panama. All Engineering students are invited as the speech will be of interest to those in all curricula. (See CAMPUS, page 8)

Sum. Session Rooms

- There will be two Summer Sessions: (1) June 4-July 13; (2) July 16-August 23. ROOM RENT for each session will be $24 payable when room application is submitted to the Dormitory Office, Room 4, Holladay Hall.
- Watauga, Fourth, Gold, Welch, Stadium and Syme dormitories will be used for the first summer session. Residents of these dormitories will have priority on their present rooms provided they apply in person during the week of May 14th. Rooms not reserved will be reassigned to other students beginning May 21st.
- Residents of dormitories other than those listed above and students now living off-campus may apply beginning May 21st.

Harrell Named Outstanding Senior

Harrell is also this year's recipient of the annual Publication award which is presented to the person who has made the most outstanding contribution to State College publications.

Harrell, besides being WVWP station manager for the last two years, is Regional President of Blue Key, Arch Regent of Golden Chain, a member of Theta Tau, on the Southern Engineer Editorial staff, member of the Board of Publications, and a member of the Consolidated University Student Council.

Sam is a senior in Electrical Engineering from Portsmouth, Virginia.

Consolidated University Council Elects Rose President; Law, Sec.

The Consolidated University Student Council met last Sunday, April 29, in the College Union of State College here in Raleigh.

Ed Rose of State was elected President of the group for the coming year and Charles Law, also of State, was elected Secretary.

The group formulated a list of qualifications which they felt were desirable in the man chosen as the new permanent President of the Consolidated University.

They listed them as follows:

1. An Educator . . . and Administrator or businessman in a University.
2. A man with an active association with the Consolidated University . . . who would be given time to familiarize himself with it if necessary.

3. Young enough to grow with the University.

4. Liberally educated enough to understand problems of all the departments of the University.

5. Should know something of the economic and sociological problems of the state.

6. A leader . . . one who demonstrates an enthusiastic attitude toward development of the University.

7. One who would not emphasize research before re-emphasizing education.

8. A person who can, by the force of his personality, provide leadership for the University.

9. A person who will devote himself fully to the University's business . . . whose associates or activities will be made primarily for the improvement and benefit of the University.

Changes Approved In Attendance Rules

W. N. Hicks, Chairman of the Faculty Senate, announced a new set of recommendations regarding class attendance regulations last week. They received immediate approval from the Chancellor and will go into effect next Fall.

The recommendations and changes in policy are as follows:

1. That no change be made in the present rules in regard to attendance requirements.
2. That the penalty for exceeding 15 unexcused absences be changed to the following: "Any freshman or sophomore who incurs more than 15 unexcused absences during a semester shall not be permitted to register for courses at North Carolina State College for the immediately succeeding regular semester."
3. That the Office of Dean of Students be urged to provide a more suitable form to be used by professors in making weekly absence reports.

Cafeteria Committee

George Smart Makes Report on Cafeteria Complaints

George Smart, Chairman of the Student Government Committee charged with the investigation of complaints concerning the Cafeteria, presented a report to the Editor of the Technician this week in the form of a letter to the Editor.

Smart stated, "The main criticism from the students was that the food did not taste good. This remains the major criticism. Harry Stewart says that the food tastes better than that at any eating establishment in Raleigh."

"This," he continued, "may be true for Mr. Stewart. But for us, the students, the cafeteria will remain a second class eating establishment to be frequented only when one is broke or has no means to go anywhere else."

Smart concluded his letter, "Because this opinion of the food has been expressed repeatedly by Stewart, this committee feels that the cafeteria will not become a first rate eating establishment until better supervision is provided. All detailed criticism will serve no purpose until the major ailment is cured."

Smart submitted a list of his Committee's recommendations to Stewart with his letter. They were as follows:

1. Turn heat enough to warm food and especially the bread.
2. Do not put raw vegetables on steam tables.
3. Use flowers more liberally to decorate drab areas.
4. Purchase neater signs to mark the foods.
5. Purchase new chairs and tables for the backroom.
6. Purchase new utensil containers and make entrance counters neater looking.
7. Clean linens each day for the help.

8. Larger servings of ice cream.

9. Continue serving quarts of milk.

10. Keep a closer supervision of food served and the condition it is in when it is served.

11. Hire a cook who is interested in his work. The taste and arrangement will show the results.

12. Do not allow sweat clothes in the cafeteria.

13. Silverware is often dirty. A closer check should be made to eliminate such incidents.

14. Cook sausage in the morning instead of boiling it.

The Committee also suggested three long term projects for future consideration of the Cafeteria administration. They included a redesign of the interior, food wagons at the dorm at 11:15 p.m. and allowing the athletes to eat where they please.

YMCA Sponsors Old Clothes Drive

The annual North Carolina State College YMCA drive for old clothes will be conducted during the month of May, "Y" President Charles Law of Pelham has announced.

Law urged students to remember the clothing drive as they are packing for home and requested the citizens of Raleigh "to make donations of any outgrown or worn clothes when discarding warmer clothes for summer fashions."

A box will be placed in the YMCA Building at State College to receive the clothing. Persons having a donation to make also may call the "Y", and the clothes will be picked up by volunteer workers.

Golden Chain, Blue Key Tap New Members

Twelve new student links and two faculty links were tapped into Golden Chain honorary society Tuesday at noon on the lawn behind the College Union.

Student leaders tapped were: Jim Nolan, Terry Lathrop, Jim Smathers, Bob Strother, Bob Gunn, Baxter Williams, Charles Law, Paul Pickenheim, Bill Wilkinson, Ed Rose, John Lomax, and Bert Kalet.

A. C. (Pop) Hayes from the Textile School and Rev. Bob Lassiter (BSU), who is visiting professor in the Religion Department were tapped as honorary members of Golden Chain.

The purpose of Golden Chain is to promote the activities which go to make up a high standard of character and citizenship at State College, with the principal aim to foster all worthwhile traditions of the college.

State and W. C. Plan Camping Trip Sat.

Saturday, May 12, at 1:00 p.m. all students who wish to go on the outing trip to Hanging Rock State Park are asked to meet at the College Union.

The College Union Outing Committee is planning the overnight trip in conjunction with a group of girls from the Woman's College in Greensboro.

Hanging Rock State Park is North-West of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Special features of the park include cascade waterfalls, cliffs, "Hanging Rock", beautiful scenery, and ideal camp sites.

If you go, you will need sleeping equipment (sleeping bag or blankets), comfortable shoes, and clothing for roughing it.

Come and join the fun. Bring your date or come stag. It should be a great week-end.

Joseph Elected IDC President

Fred Joseph, president of Owen dorm for the second term, was elected president of the Interdormitory Council at the election banquet on Monday night at the S & W Cafeteria.

The newly elected Vice-President is James D. Myrick, president of Gold dorm. The secretary is Richard F. Jessup, president of Alexander.

After the welcome and introductions of guests by former president Craig L. Barnhardt, Malcolm McCormick, the social director of the IDC, introduced the guest speaker, H. W. "Pop" Taylor, the Executive Director of the Alumni Association.

Sixteen top-ranking students at North Carolina State College have been tapped as new members of Blue Key, national honorary leadership society.

John Wiles of Asheboro, chapter president, was in charge of the tapping. The new members, all of whom have made outstanding academic records and have been highly active in extra-curricular affairs, are:

- John Arnold, Lexington; Dick Goldenberg, New York, N. Y.; Bill Greene, Greensboro; Charles W. Hannah, Clyde; Roger Hill, Pink Hill; Fred I. Joseph, Greenville; Bert Kalet, Winston-Salem; Terry Lathrop, Asheville; Max I. Loyd, Statesville; Dick Moser, Asheville; Paul J. Pickenheim, Tampa, Fla.; Henry W. Pickett, Jr., Durham; Frank C. Pethel, Jr., Kannapolis; Jerry L. Rasor, Raleigh; James B. Smathers, Deland, Fla.; Bill D. Wilkinson, Los Angeles, Calif.

"Ag Day" Contest Winners Announced

Winners of various events in the annual "Ag School Day" which was held last Saturday by students in North Carolina State College's School of Agriculture were announced recently.

The program, dedicated to Prof. F. M. Haig of the college's Animal Industry Department, was held at the State Fair Arena and was attended by over 200 high school students, FFA members, and 4-H club members from throughout the State plus scores of college students.

Winners of the various contests were champion sheep showman—Michael House, Champion hog showman—Bob Milan, champion beef showman—Bill Knights, champion dairy showman—Douglas Clawson, winner of the tractor driving contest—Ed Yancey, winner of the greasy pig chase—Don Tucker, winner of the hog calling contest—Don Tucker, winner of the milk maid contest—Miss Ann Yelverton, sponsored by the Agricultural Economics Department.

Music was furnished by Homer Briarhopper and his band. The master of ceremonies was Eugene Carroll.

Animal Industry Tour Begins Today

The annual Animal Industry tour, sponsored by the A.I. Club, will be held May 10th, 11th, and 12th. The tour will be of the western part of the state.

The tour is conducted annually in order that students will have the opportunity of seeing various points of interest relating to their curriculum. These curriculums are Animal Husbandry, Dairy Husbandry, and Dairy Manufacturing.

Important livestock farms, processing plants, and packing plants will be visited. Students deciding to go will leave early Thursday morning and return Saturday evening.

Congratulations To Harrell

To Sam Harrell, recipient of both the publications annual award and the outstanding senior award, The Technician extends its congratulations.

Sam has done an excellent job in Theta Tau, Blue Key, and many other campus organizations and honor societies. But probably his most outstanding achievement is the terrific job he has done as manager of the student radio station WVWP for two years in a row.

Sam has certainly shown himself to be a leader and a worker.

Again, we say, "Congratulations."

"The Inconsiderate"

Over at Carolina a commission composed of leading students has recommended that freshmen, beginning with the school year '56-'57, not be allowed to bring cars on the Carolina campus.

The "gentlemen" who composed this commission evidently forgot that time in their life—several years ago—when they were freshmen. The typical thinking on their part is evidenced very emphatically in The Daily Tarheel in a quote to a roving reporter. When asked what his opinion was on the commission's recommendation, this particular student, who incidentally, is a freshman car owner, replied, "If I was (a) freshman entering the University I wouldn't like it, but since I'm a rising sophomore, I'm for it." He wouldn't be too happy if he were a second year freshman next year.

We hope that the students at State will never take such an inconsiderate attitude towards others by forgetting the time when they were the little dogs on campus or, in other words, freshmen.

"We're No Angels"

Last Friday night the State College Drama Club presented a three act play "We're No Angels". It was very successful and the people who attended it had nothing but praise for the presentation and acting.

Last month the Drama Club won first place in the Drama Festival in Chapel Hill in competition with twenty-one other drama groups. Certainly an achievement to be proud of.

Another distinction that this group has acquired is the fact that "We're No Angels" was the first student production given at State College in more than twenty years.

"Keep up the good work."

ASCE Meet Is Tomorrow

The North Carolina Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, together with the student chapters of Duke University and State College, will meet in the North Carolina State College Union Building tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

W. H. Wisely, executive secretary of ASCE, will make the principal address of the meeting at the luncheon session in the main ballroom of the building.

Two students from Duke and two from State College will receive awards for winning papers. Five awards will also be

Letters To The Editor

To Teachers Who Are Deficient In Teaching . . .

TO The Editor:

(This letter is dedicated to the teachers who are deficient in the mechanics of teaching)

The faculty and students should strive to obtain better teaching methods and better training aids at North Carolina State College. Many schools have good techniques and procedures; for example, there is The Southeastern Signal School at Camp Gordon, Georgia.

The Southeastern Signal School (TSESS) is a military school where technical subjects are taught. Each instructor at this school has to complete a two weeks instructor training course before he can teach. At the instructor training school they teach the following items: Classroom poise, speech, correct delivery of the lesson from a standard lesson plan, correct use of the pointer, how to hold the attention of the class and how to write on the blackboard and talk at the same time. The instructors have many requirements to fulfill after completing the two weeks course.

Some of the requirements for a military teacher are neatness in appearance, a thorough knowledge of the subject and capability of writing neat, clear, complete and legible notes on the blackboard. One of the most important items that is stressed is to keep the class going without interruptions of any kind. Asking the students questions is a good way to hold their attention. It also helps keep them awake during a boring class. Telling a joke at the beginning of the class is permissible if it relates to the subject to be taught during that period. The departmental level of instruction has a lot to do with the quality in teaching at TSESS. TSESS is subdivided into given to outstanding seniors in the student chapters.

A movie "The Texas Towers" will be shown to the engineers. G. F. Fletcher, project manager for Raymond Concrete Pile Company, will lead a discussion on the construction of these radar towers.

functional departments, similar to the departmental system at State College. They utilize training films and all kinds of training aids to help teach the students. They have inspecting officers to inspect the instructors on techniques of teaching. This is a method of improving efficiency in teaching. Comparing TSESS to North Carolina State College, one can, no doubt, find many differences.

The departments at State College as a means of improvement can schedule training films. In the chemistry department, there are some good films on the atomic structure of an atom that they can use, as well as many other training films. The departments can place pointers and other training aids in each class room throughout the school. In Room No. 118, Withers Hall, the teachers have to use a meter stick for a pointer and the stick is so dingy that the students in the rear can hardly see it.

A four foot white pointer should be placed in Room No. 118 and a two or three foot pointer should be placed in all small class rooms.

The faculty and students at State College should remember there is more to teaching than one thinks. The faculty can cooperate by developing proper teaching techniques. The main gripe among students is how the teachers use the blackboard. Some teachers write complete notes that are not legible and some write incomplete notes that are legible. There is a great deal of room for improvement in this area. The students can cooperate by getting to class regularly and promptly. Show courtesy to the teacher during class by keeping quiet and paying attention. If everyone will cooperate, North Carolina State College will improve considerably in teaching techniques and quality.

New officers for the North Carolina State College chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honor society, has been elected, chapter officials announced recently.

Hugh Van Landingham, a rising senior, was elected president of the chapter.

Other officers named to posts were William D. Wilkinson, vice president; Jack Pritchard, corresponding secretary; Calvin Belote, recording secretary; Sam McGeiver, treasurer; and Philip Pruns, bridge secretary.

Prof. A. J. Costee of the Department of Electrical Engineering was chosen faculty sponsor for the group.

Stu. Wins Annual Paper Competition

An engineering student at North Carolina State College won first place in student paper competition at the Southeast regional American Institute of Chemical Engineers meeting held recently at the University of Alabama.

Fred S. Whisenhunt, a senior in chemical engineering was named winner for a paper, entitled "Heat Transfer from Finned Tubes to Humid Air." He competed against students from the nine colleges and universities in the Southeastern region.

The paper was written jointly by Whisenhunt and another chemical engineering senior, George Hartis.

IDGAD

By Bob Kirkland

This week's picture is of my favorite nuclear engineer and was taken on the tennis courts back of Owen dorm by our efficient and exceedingly talented photographer, Austin Cooley. Naturally, you guys recognized "Miss Wolfpack;" I realize that I didn't have to mention her at all. However, there are a few things that Betty told me that I thought you would be interested in hearing. I was sure that one of the questions most often asked of this intriguing little blond was "How do you like being in a boy's school?" She smiled and tossed her head (she has a habit of doing that). "I like it! The boys are all very nice, and I enjoy the work pretty well." I was somewhat amazed at this girl, whose scholastic average at State makes most of us green with envy, when she confided that she likes to cook and sew. Not that she has the time to (time . . . time . . . What's that?), being an engineer isn't so easy. Betty Brown will be the first to agree with that, but she will also tell you that anyone can do it if they only try.

Now, because Betty was so kind in letting The Technician have a picture for this column and in giving me the permission to quote here in part, I will beg her forgiveness for writing about her. Among her enviable traits is her modesty.

A telephone call from an irate student last week informed me that the Technician was going to the dogs. (Going?) I gathered my waning courage and asked what he meant: "I have read this damn paper from cover to cover, and not one single joke could I find!" Being a true-blue reporter, I asked my editor. He informs me that jokes are used only as "fillers" in this paper. Whereupon some bright boy suggested that we print less stuff and more fillers.

A certain chemistry professor was supposedly teaching a 103 class Monday morning when one of the college pigeons landed on the window sill of the room. According to an observing student, the bird took one look at the instructor and left for parts unknown. "What does that prove?" I asked. "That his lecture was for the birds!" screamed my gleeful friend. Since it was Monday, I said nothing repeatable and hung up.

Engi. Students Receive Awards

Top scholarship awards have been made to two engineering students at North Carolina State College, college officials announced recently.

John L. Freeman, a junior in ceramic engineering, is the winner of the J. C. Steel Scholarship Cup for the coming year. Freeman received the award on the basis of his scholastic average.

The J. C. Steel and Sons Company of Statesville presents this cup each year to the sophomore, junior or senior in ceramic engineering with the highest average for the two previous semesters. Freeman who won the award last year also holds a Brick and Tile Service Scholarship.

The Moland-Drysdale Freshman Cup Award has been presented to Richard H. Redwine who is a freshman in ceramic engineering. The cup is presented annually by the Moland-Drysdale Corporation of Hendersonville to the freshman ceramic engineer having the highest scholastic average.

Redwine also won the award on the basis of his scholastic average. In addition, he holds a "Talent for Service" Scholarship at State College.

As I have said before, this school is woefully lacking in spirit. I am speaking to those lazy slobs who were going to write me a limerick and "just didn't get around to it." Surely, as much complaining as you guys do you should jump at the chance to express yourselves poetically. Just drop IDGAD a limerick, and if it's printable, we'll print it. See ya when exams are another week closer! B. K.

And Then There Were Four . . .

If the present rate of decline of basketball players continues on the West Raleigh campus, many Wolfpack fans will begin (if they haven't already) to wonder just what kind of team the O'1 Grey Fox is going to field come next winter. . . . Pack Still Leads ACC Race Despite 7-5 Loss To Duke Defeat S. C. 6-3 and Clemson 5-1 for 10-2 Record, Meet UNC Fri.; Maybe Rained Out Date With Va.

Going into the final week of action, North Carolina State's varsity diamond squad is still perched on top the ACC race with a 10-2 mark.

Last Saturday afternoon Duke's second place Blue Devils handed the local lads a 7-5 setback, but the Wolfpack bounced back to take a 6-3 victory over South Carolina and a 5-1 decision from Clemson.

The key to the championship rests with third place Carolina who has important remaining contests with both Duke and State. Duke's lone game is with the Tar Heels and the Wolfpack is scheduled to meet them tomorrow afternoon in Chapel Hill.

If State beats Carolina and the Tar Heels down Duke Monday, the Wolfpack would have the crown. But reverse the situation and it would be all tied up. In that event State would have to reschedule its rained-out contest with Virginia. (Confusing isn't it.)

State's over-all record is 13-3-1.

Bagwell No. 2 Beat Syme No. 2

The Bagwell team got off to a fast start when Odom knocked in two runs on a triple. Then McGrady and Daskal singled followed by doubles by Zimmerman and Costner. Still in the first inning Basinger scored for Syme No. 2. Then in the third Zimmerman and Cothran scored off a double and single, respectively, for Bagwell. Syme tried one last desperate chance in the third with Williams singling and Kimbra hitting a home run, but that was all. Bagwell won 8 to 3.

Berry Beat Turlington

Turlington No. 1 started the game with two hits by Huskey and Kiser, but they were unable to score. Alexander was the only one who scored for Turlington in the third. Berry apparently did O.K. from the score of 8 to 1, but due to the new method developed by the scorekeeper (possibly hieroglyphics) it is impossible to give credit where credit is due.

Third Annual ACC Tennis Tourney Starts Today

The third annual Atlantic Coast Conference tennis tournament began here this morning with a University of North Carolina senior established as the singles favorite.

Tommy Bradford of Washington, D. C., a steady southpaw stroker, drew the top seeded position when tournament officials announced the seedings last night.

Last year Bradford won the singles title by defeating Tar Heel teammate Herb Browne. Then Bradford and Browne joined forces to win the doubles crown from Pete Green and Bobby Payne in an all-UNC finals.

Browne and Payne have since graduated and will not compete in this year's tournament. Bradford is expected to team with Johnny Foster in the doubles. Top competition in that division probably will come from Duke's potent duo of Bobby Green and John Kopf.

In singles play, others who drew seeded positions were Don Thompson of Carolina, Bobby Green of Duke and Dave Fresh-tat of Maryland.

Play began at 9 a.m. this morning and will continue through Saturday on the State College courts, located behind Reynolds Coliseum. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

Tournament manager John Kenfield, Jr., tennis coach at North Carolina State, said that all eight ACC schools are represented.

The tournament is single elimination.

Herschel Loomis asks:

What are my chances for advancement in a large company like Du Pont?

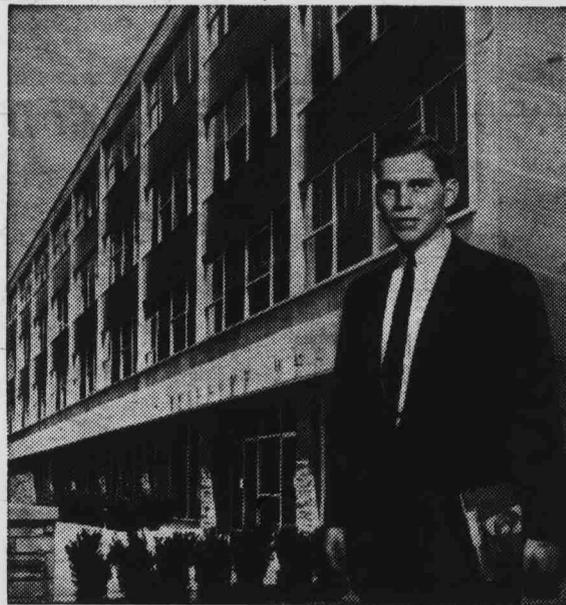

Peter J. Meshkoff joined Du Pont at the Jackson Laboratory in 1941, after obtaining a B.S.Ch.E. from the University of Detroit and an M.S. from the University of Michigan. He has had a wide range of Du Pont experience, from chemist in the Dye Works to chief supervisor and works engineer at several plants, with many opportunities to observe Du Pont personnel policies. Today Pete Meshkoff is works engineer at Du Pont's new Film Plant at Circleville, Ohio.

WANT TO KNOW MORE about the opportunities for growth touched on by Pete Meshkoff? Send for a free copy of "The Du Pont Company and the College Graduate," which discusses many of the employment policies and activities of DuPont in detail. Write to E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), 2521 Nemours Building, Wilmington 98, Delaware.

BETTER THINGS FOR BETTER LIVING... THROUGH CHEMISTRY
WATCH "DU PONT CAVALCADE THEATER" ON TV

Herschel H. Loomis, Jr., will receive his B.S. degree in electrical engineering from Cornell University June 1937. Herschel is a member of the freshman and varsity rifle teams, an associate member of Octagon, a dramatic group, and belongs to Theta Chi Fraternity. Like many other students, he's making employment plans early.

Peter Meshkoff answers:

Your question is a natural one, Herschel—one we hear quite often. Du Pont is unquestionably a large company in total number of employees and in all its operations. But, actually, Du Pont is made up of ten independent departments, almost as if it were ten companies under one management. And it is a fundamental policy at Du Pont to promote from within and on merit only.

That produces many opportunities for new men, but in addition there are proportionately more promotions at Du Pont each year—by reason of expansion and retirement—than you would find in most smaller companies. I say "proportionately more" because Du Pont has grown at an average rate of seven per cent a year for the past 153 years—a record that few companies can match.

And Du Pont is still growing rapidly. Take your field, electrical engineering. A host of novel and challenging problems have to be faced, both in new construction and in maintenance. There are plants to design with features that have never been applied before; there are new equipment-control problems to work out, and new engineering processes to pioneer. So, to answer your question in a word, Herschel, I'd say your chances of promotion on merit are extremely good at Du Pont!

YMCA Holds Annual Banquet

Newly-elected officers and directors of the North Carolina State College YMCA assumed their duties at the annual "Y" banquet at the college recently. The banquet speaker was Francis Pickens Miller, attorney and political leader who served as a State Department consultant from 1950 to 1952. He was introduced by Dr. John W. Shirley, dean of the college faculty.

Ralph Siewers, newly-elected vice president of the "Y", presided.

Several retiring members of the "Y" board of directors were honored at the meeting.

Among the retiring members are Mayor Fred B. Wheeler, Dean Henry L. Kamphoefner of the School of Design, Dr. W. D. Miller of the School of Forestry faculty, and Dr. C. C. Scarborough, head of the Department of Agricultural Education.

Special recognition was given Prof. L. Hall Swain of the English Department who has been elected chairman of the "Y" Board of Directors, succeeding Dr. Scarborough.

Other new board officers include Dr. J. W. Pou, head of the Animal Industry Department, vice chairman; and Dr. Forrest W. Lancaster of the Physics Department, secretary.

New members of the board are Adrian Newton, clerk of the State Supreme Court; Dr. Gerald B. James of the College's Department of Agricultural Education, Dr. Arthur Kelman of the Division of Biological Sciences, and Prof. E. G. Thurlow of the School of Design faculty.

14 Initiated into Epsilon Pi Tau

Fourteen top-ranking students at North Carolina State College have been initiated into the membership of the college chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, national honorary fraternity in industrial arts and industrial vocational education.

Announcement of the list of new members was made today by chapter officials who said membership in the organization is regarded as one of the highest honors open to students of industrial arts and industrial education.

The list of new members follows:

Charles D. Bates, Stuart W. Bedell, James R. Boyer, Thomas E. Carpenter, Donovan L. Darnell, Raymond E. Gilbert, Thomas V. Hollowell, Curtis A.

Student "Y" officers who have been elected to serve during the next year are Charles J. Law, president; Siewers, vice president; Bill Turner, secretary; and Dick Westmoreland, treasurer.

Oscar B. Wooldridge, Jr., coordinator of religious affairs at State College, is the chief administrator of the "Y".

Leonard, Jr., James T. Maddrey, Jr., William E. Parkerson, Lynnwood G. Satterfield, Wyatt R. Stallings, Alton P. Stephenson, Jr., and Benjamin D. Webb.

Mayor Archie S. Daniels was the main speaker at the initiation banquet.

Officers of the Epsilon Pi Tau Chapter at State College this school year are John K. Lancaster, president; Bobby J. Stephenson, vice president; Dr. Ivan Hostetler, head of the College's Industrial Arts Department, trustee; and Dr. Marshall Schmitt, also of the college faculty, co-trustee.

Spring Dance To Be Held On Saturday

The Spring Dance, the final presentation of the College Union Dance Committee, will be held this Saturday, May 12, in the College Union Ballroom. This is an informal dance (coat and tie required). Come stag or bring your date. We are expecting girls from the schools in Raleigh to attend, and many have been invited from out-of-town.

Unfortunately, Dave Brown will not be able to play for the occasion; but he assures us that he will produce a band that

Friday Says This is a Great College

In summarizing "67 years of progress" at North Carolina State College yesterday, Acting President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University of North Carolina declared, "This is truly a great college."

Friday, a 1941 honor graduate of N. C. State, was the main speaker at the annual luncheon program, highlight of the two-day Alumni Week-end program at State College. He was introduced by Chancellor Carey H. Bostian of State College, who described Friday as "a distinguished alumnus" of his alma mater.

The acting UNC President said alumni of N. C. State have "a deep feeling of pride" in the achievements of their institution and lauded "the genuine leadership" and the "unity purpose" among the faculty, administration, alumni, and students of State College.

Reviewing the principles undergirding the foundation of N. C. State, Friday said the college with its 32 million-dollar physical plant, its training programs, and its staffs are now confronted with "challenges that lie ahead."

Friday's talk was the concluding feature of the alumni luncheon, which also was marked by the presentation of the three top alumni awards of the year. Chelcie B. Ellar of North Wilkesboro, president of the Alumni Association, presided over the luncheon.

Recipients of the awards were Raymond A. Bryandof, who received the "1956 Meritorious Service Award"; C. A. Dillon, who was presented the "1956 Award of Merit" as the non-alumnus who has done the most for the college during the past year; and Ronnie Shavlik, All-American basketball player at N. C. State, who received the annual "Alumni Athletic Trophy."

Weeks, who is also chairman of the Alumni Fund Council, reported on the progress being made on the $140,000 Alumni Memorial Building, which is scheduled for completion next fall; and the Alumni Annual Giving Program, which received total contributions of $22,471 plays the music you like to hear.

Jim Newman and his subcommittee have been hard at work on planning decorations and publicity. Their handiwork should lend an air of festive springlike beauty to the occasion.

Since this is the final dance of the year, the members of the Dance Committee will be introduced; so that the campus may know who is responsible for the dances presented in the Union this year.

Remember the date... May 12, for the Spring Dance. We, the dance committee, would like to see you there.

from 2,430 alumni last year. In his presidential report, President Ellar listed the achievements of the association during the past year. Among these, he said, were the beginning of the construction of the Alumni Memorial Building; the sponsorship of "High School Day" at the college; and assistance with the "Talent for Service" scholarship program.

A baseball game between Duke University and N. C. State concluded the Alumni Week-end program yesterday.

Glee Club Concert By Saint Mary's And State Friday

The Girl's Glee Club of Saint Mary's and the Men's Glee Club of State College will join hands and voices in the presentation of a unique concert in Pullen Hall at half past eight Friday night (May 11). Besides the mixed chorus offerings by the combined glee clubs, each club will present a separate group of selections. Added to this element of contrast, representation of such composers as di Lasso (1532-1594), Mozart (1756-1791), 19th century Brahms, Grieg and Mussorgsky, and a number of contemporary composers of music in the lighter or popular vein promises a program of such variety as to please about every kind of musical taste. The conducting assignments will be shared by the directors, Geraldine Cate of Saint Mary's and Christian Kutshinski of State College.

Mu Beta Psi, honorary music fraternity, will sponsor the concert. The general public as well as State College personnel will be admitted free as long as there are seats available.

Attention Veterans Under Public Law 550—All Public Law 550 (Korean Veterans) planning to attend the 1956 summer sessions should go to the ground floor lobby of the College Union May 22 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Forms (which are necessary for VA benefits) will be filled out at this time.

Summer School Attendance—Students who are planning to attend summer school are asked to fill out a card at a table on the second floor landing (either end) of Holladay Hall. Providing this information now will save much delay later. There is no penalty for filling out the card and not attending.

Combined Glee Clubs Concert—The State College Men's Glee Club and the St. Mary's Girl's Glee Club will be heard both separately and in combination in a concert Friday night, 8:30 p.m., in Pullen Hall. There is no admission fee. Everybody is invited.

Notice to Students Concerning Selective Service—All students who are registered with local boards and who do not have ROTC deferments based on their enrollment or contemplated enrollment in ROTC should come to the Registration Office with their Selective Service cards in order to furnish data necessary for us to report their ranking to their local boards. This should be done prior to May 25 as we will not have time to take care of this matter after that time. If a student neglects to do this during this time, he should write us a letter furnishing from his Selective Service card the following data; 1. Full Name; 2. Selective Service Number; 3. Date of Birth; 4. Mailing Address; 5. Number and Address of Local Board.

Rock 'N' Roll Fever Sweeps the Nation

What's this? A strange virus! No indeed, it's the most exciting music beat of the century . . . the music trend that has quickly been adopted by the American public as the greatest.

And no wonder. Here in one big show are all the greats of Rock 'N' Roll . . . including Bill Haley and his great Comets . . . The Platters . . . LaVern Baker . . . Big Joe Turner . . . The Drifters . . . Bo Diddley and his combo . . . Red Frysock and his big Rock 'N' Roll Orchestra. The Biggest Rock 'N' Roll Show of '56 scouted the business by getting Clyde McPhatter for his first personal appearance since he entered Uncle Sam's Army.

The Biggest Rock 'N' Roll Show of '56 will give two (2) shows at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, May 23rd at 7:45 and 10:15. Tickets priced at $2.00-$2.50-$2.75-$3.00

National Scholastic Honor Society Announces Selection of Members

The North Carolina State College Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society, recently announced the selection of 64 new members, the presentation of its top academic awards for 1955-56, and the election of a new slate of officers.

Phi Kappa Phi, which maintains chapters at America's major technological colleges and universities, is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa in the liberal arts colleges.

Election to membership in Phi Kappa Phi is regarded as one of the highest honors open to students attending State College. The current list of new members is composed of seven outstanding alumni, three faculty members, 16 graduate students, and 38 undergraduates.

Dr. R. C. Bullock of the Mathematics Department is the new president of the society for the next school year, succeeding Dr. W. E. Colwell of the School of Agriculture.

Other officers for 1956-57 include George B. Cline, Jr., a student at the college; Dr. Ivan D. Jones of the Horticulture Department, president-elect; Dr. N. T. Coleman of the Soils Department, secretary; Prof. E. J. Brown of the Physics Department, treasurer; and Frances Thompson of the Alumni Office, Journal correspondent.

Winners of the top scholastic awards are Donald A. Gardiner, graduate student who made the highest scholastic average last year among candidates for the Ph.D. degree; Pen-Min Lin, graduate student who made the highest average last year among master's degree candidates; Charles F. Mauney, senior who made the highest average as a junior last year; Winfield H.

Farthing, junior with the highest average as a sophomore last year; and Robert P. Kennel and Lennart K. Peterson, sophomores with the highest ranking as freshmen last year.

Graduate students who are new members:

Arthur Williams Banister, Gene Allen Baraff, Charles Madry Freeman, John Broadus Funderburg, Jr., Donald Andrew Gardiner, Lorin Ronald Krusbert, Pen-Min Lin, Robert Dean Morrison, Jose Antonio Ramos, George Paul Redman, Robert Rozatt, Robert Edmond Strother, Roger Dean Stuck, Henry Tucker, Wesley Keitt Wannamaker, Herbert Bernard Wyndham, Jr.

Seniors on the list:
