... The Contestants

... The Winners—Mary Pledge & Nancy Moody

Consolidated University Day To Be Held Sat.

Moody And Pledge To Represent State In Beauty Contest

Nancy Moody and Mary Pledge will represent State College Saturday when they vie against five girls from WC and three coeds from UNC for the title of Miss Consolidated University.

The two were chosen at a beauty contest Sunday night in the Union Theater by a panel of judges composed of the Consolidated University Student Council Committee.

Contestants were scored on poise, speech, personality, and beauty. There were twelve coeds competing for the honors.

Coeds competing for the Miss Consolidated University title will be presented during halftime ceremonies at the State-Carolina football game.

Judging for Miss Consolidated University will be Saturday following the football game. Miss Consolidated University will be presented during the Monogram Club dance in the Union Ballroom Saturday night.

State coeds who competed in the contest were Carole Cofer, Nancy Moody, Anne Maxwell, Barbara Burkett, Dorothy Murreau, Bobby Whitley, Martha Sanders, Julia Benton, Sue Beckstoffer, Dott Morton, Mary Pledge, Patsy Truitt, and Louise Cross.

"It was certainly a hard decision for the judges to make," said SG Vice-president Bob Gunn.

Notices

States Mates

The first meeting of the States Mates will be held Wednesday night, October 5, 1955 at 8 o'clock in the Vetville YMCA. A "get-acquainted" party is the theme of the program. There will be games, door prizes, and refreshments.

All State College student wives are invited to attend.

S. G. Meeting

Student Legislature meets tonight at 8 in Room 256 of the College Union. Jim Nolan, president will deliver his State of the Campus address at that time. The meeting is open to all students and they are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to become better acquainted with their student government.

Improvement In Registration Recognized

Registration was a much improved process this year, according to the general consensus of student opinion, on the campus this past week.

In statements to the Technician, favorable comments have shortened and although long lines developed for the required Freshman and Sophomore courses in Engineering and been heard on many aspects of the registration problem. The chief reason for the improved attitude seemed to be the new pre-payment plan instituted by the State College Business Office for clearing tuition and fees before the physical process of registration and the shortening of waiting lines also met with approval.

Some items came in for criticism, however. The Military Department was the object of quite a bit of comment. A sample comment was overheard following registration that "I spent thirty minutes signing up all my classes and two hours getting through the Army line." A few other departments, notably the Industrial Engineering Department, also backed up large numbers of students into the Coliseum.

The usually lengthy process of signing up with the Chemistry Department was considerably

Army ROTC Makes Top Appointments

The temporary appointments of Company Commanders and Company Executive Officers for the 1955-56 Army ROTC Cadet Regiment at State College were announced last week by Col. Richard R. Middlebrooks, Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Twelve top-ranking Army ROTC cadets were appointed to the rank of Cadet Major and will carry the responsibility of Company Commanders. These men are: J. M. Stewart, Company A; J. R. Hall, Company B; W. B. Troutman, Company C; W. R. Jessup, Company D; C. T. Klutz, Company E; C. F. Elliott, Company F; S. B. Cooke, Company G; L. W. Sherrill, Company H; J. M. McCormick, Company I; R. S. Rogers, Company K; R. E. Bedford, Company L; H. H. Simon, Company M.

Twelve other top-ranking cadets were appointed to the rank of Captain and will be Company Executive Officers. These men are: D. V. Perry, Company A; F. C. Abernethy, Company B; A. J. Treece, Company C; H. C. Kaplan, Company D; W. A. Wilder, Company E; A. L. Mar. (See ROTC, Page 8)

Important

There will be a meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the Technician office for anyone interested in working with the Technician as a reporter, writer, layout man, or with the sports editor.

Experience is not necessary. The Technician offices are located in room 138 of the 1911 Building.

It is very important that you be present if you are interested in working on the paper in any of these capacities.

Agriculture, they soon cleared after the early morning crowds had registered.

W. M. Murray, Assistant Business Manager, said that the pre-payment plan was an even greater success than the Business Office had hoped. He stated that response was excellent, but said that the large number of students who appeared before school in person to pay their bills greatly complicated the work of the Business Office. He said that he hoped that next year more students would reply by mail and check. He further pointed out that he hoped to work out a system for billing incoming freshmen. One of the bottlenecks will be eliminated after this semester by notifying the Registration Office of payment so that students will not have to retain the receipts as they did this year. He also urged that students reply to the bills as they come out about the 1st of January to keep the situation under control at registration next semester.

Dean of Student Affairs J. J. Stewart said that he hoped that in the near future I.B.M. cards could be prepared for registration as well as records and ease the problem even more. He observed that perhaps his hopes were a bit premature, but added that the Registration Office has serious hopes for a solution along these lines sometime in the next few years.

Joe Hatcher Commander Of Arnold Air Society

The James J. England Squadron of the Arnold Air Society held its first meeting of the current semester on Thursday night, September 22. The Society, this year, is under the leadership of Joe Hatcher, Com. (See HATCHER, Page 8)

S. G. Pres. To Give Annual 'State Of the Campus Address' 8:00 Thur.

President of the Student Government Jim Nolan said today that he plans to make the President's annual "State of the Campus" address to the meeting of the Student Legislature tonight at 8:00. Nolan has just recuperated from an emergency appendectomy he underwent a week ago today.

He is expected to reveal a good bit of information concerning his plans for the various projects and problems that the Student Government will consider this year. It is also expected that a large amount of emphasis will be placed upon the progress made on the projects already under consideration.

These latter statements should concern the student housing problem from the standpoint of (See NOLAN, Page 8)

25 Bus Loads of W. C. Students Expected Consolidated Univ. Queen to Be Crowned Monogram Club Dance in C. U.—8 to 12

Twenty-five bus loads of girls from WC will unload at the CU Saturday at 1 p.m. to officially begin Consolidated University Day.

WC girls, hundreds of Carolina students, and virtually all of our 4,600 student population will attend the football game and the dance Saturday night in the Union sponsored by the Monogram Club.

Halftime

Bands from Carolina and State will give a combined performance during the halftime intermission at the game. The band program will feature the various curricula at the University and at State and will end with a formation depicting the geographical boundaries of North Carolina.

Student body presidents of Woman's College, Carolina, and State will be introduced at halftime. They are Martha Fulcher, WC; Don Fowler, Carolina; and Jim Nolan, State.

Following the game, an informal reception will be held in the main ballroom of the College Union, and Ed Rose, chairman of the State CUSC delegation, indicated that refreshments will be served at the reception.

Dance

Climax of the "Consolidated University Day" program will be a dance which will be presented in the ballroom of the College Union Building from 8 p.m. until midnight under the auspices of the State College Monogram Club, headed by Jim Frazier. Music will be provided by the Duke Ambassadors. John Sherrill, chairman of the dance committee and vice-president of the Monogram Club, is in charge of arrangements for the dance. Attire for the dance will be informal.

During the dance, Miss Consolidated University will be introduced and presented with gifts from a Chapel Hill merchant.

Arrangements for CU day are being made by the State College CUSC Committee in cooperation with Luther Hodges, Jr., president of the Consolidated University Student Council.

Luther Hodges Named Prexy Of C. U. Group

Luther Hodges, Jr., senior at the University of North Carolina, has been named president of the Consolidated University Student Council.

Hodges succeeds Larry Ford, who resigned to take a place within the council.

Hodges is from Leaksville, and a member of Phi Eta Sigma—honorary scholastic fraternity—the Order of the Grail, and is the immediate past chairman of the Chapel Hill delegation to the CUSC.

He is the son of the present governor of North Carolina.

N. C. State Grads Form G. E. Club

A North Carolina State Club has recently been formed for State graduates at the General Electric Plant in Evendale, Ohio, so that old school buddies and their families might enjoy social activities, fellowship and welcome new NCS men and their families.

The present members of the club hope to get all State men working at the Evendale Plant in the club. As the G. E. Plant News states, you are eligible for membership in the club "if you ever went to class dreary-eyed from being awakened by a 'Loud-Mouthed' diesel, or melted under the icy stare of Dean Cloyd."

At the next meeting of the club, the members plan to have a picnic to include their wives and children. No officers have yet been elected since other engagements prevented more of the State men from attending the last meeting.

An incomplete list of the members follows. You may recognize some of these as old friends. From Condor, N. C., is Bill (See GRADS, Page 8)

Sharpeners

What happened to the pencil trimmers at State College? They haven't disappeared suddenly; since as far back as we can remember (three years incidentally), there have been very few pencil trimmers to be seen on the walls of class rooms.

In fact, one of the first things that we noticed when we were freshmen, was the lack of pencil trimmers.

Perhaps it is thought that everyone at State is so highly mechanized that all of us use mechanical pencils, but it isn't so. The age of the lowly wooden pencil is still with us.

We haven't the least idea who is responsible for such things, but we suggest that they look into the matter. We hope that before long State College can boast of a pencil trimmer in every class room.

GUEST EDITORIAL:

Monograms

In previous years the wearing of sweaters with high school monograms on them has become of great concern to the athletes on the State campus. Athletics of any kind are a wonderful type of recreation and relaxation. Monograms won in high school competition were won with great effort and should be worn with pride—when in high school!

The State Monogram represents an award presented for outstanding achievement in the field of athletics. It is an award which should be respected and worn with honor.

It is only a matter of courtesy to the athletes of State College who have won college monograms to allow them to be recognized as participants in intercollegiate sports without being distracted from, in any way, by high school monogrammed sweaters or jackets.

As students on the State campus your interest in supporting athletics has been wonderful in the past and we're sure this will be surpassed this year by an all out effort to back our team and raise our school spirit. We're sure you will also cooperate with the Monogram Club in enforcing this issue.

cooperation between the administration and the students, to the drive and push of people like Dean Jack Stewart, to the foresight of the Student Government, and to M & O and the electrical company for moving the work along as fast as possible.

John Parker said in an editorial last year "the lamp posts that look so collegiate during the day serve no purpose at all at night." Well things have changed since 'old' John was holding the reins of the Technician.

The campus lighting system had long been a grievance of students and it is very gratifying to know that one grievance has been cleared away. It shows that it can be done.

It is impossible to pick any one person or group of people or even several groups to bestow laurels on for this accomplishment. Many, many people had a hand in it and we are sincerely grateful to them for the part that they did.

For the past few years, the Technician has run this column as a regular feature. Last year's author has left the paper and as of this week a new author takes over with the hope of writing about music of interest to State College students as well as his predecessors have.

There are, of course, countless facets to the world of music. But as long as material worthy of inclusion is obvious to the author, he hopes to limit himself to the fields of popular and semi-popular music, including some light classics.

One field which has opened itself to the average music enjoyer in the past two or three years and has in fact become a dominant factor in the recorded music put on wax, has been the controversial music known as JAZZ.

Some refuse to go so far as to even recognize jazz as music, but the majority have either become enthusiastic or resigned about the recently popularized music. The large recording companies such as Victor, Columbia, Capitol and Decca have come out in the last year with recordings of the jazz greats ranging from Leadbelly of the old New Orleans School through the jazz of the 20's and Benny Goodman's fine work of the 30's right on up to the moderns such as Kenton, Herman, Brubeck and Mulligan.

We hope you will enjoy the column and we'll see you again in two weeks.

If you are caught in hot water—be nonchalant—take a bath.

A Farewell To Pullen

In the Year 1955

Dear, damn'd, distracting town farewell!
Thy fools no more I'll tease:
This year in peace, ye critics dwell,
Ye harlots, sleep at ease.

"A Farewell to London: In the Year 1715"
by A. Pope

Dear, dimn'd, distracting hall farewell,
Thy fools no more I'll tease,
This year in peace ye pigeons dwell,
Ye freshmen sleep at ease.
Farewell, magnolias, columns white,
Adieu to cracking plaster,
Farewell to rodent and termite
And eminent disaster.
Farewell steam pipes that hiss and knock
To make the summer bonnie,
The creaking step, the rusty lock,
The ever-flooding johnnie.
No more will Fountain's gentle flow
With verdure deck your darkling plain,
No echoes from the blushing Rowe,
Will give new ardors to the Swain.
And Whichard's wit and Donald's glee
And Walsler's never-ceasing pen
Will all be stilled in Pullen Three—
Departed, lost, and gone with Wynne.
O, lost: a stone, a leaf, a door;
Lost Williams' Dylan Thomas fad,

And Marshall's courtley grace and lore,
And something more than Shropshire
Ladd.
Where Paget's vehemence was dread
Where taught the confidential Clark.
The love of arts lies cold and dead
With none to strike reviving spark.
O Attic shape with brede o'erwrought,
O dome of many colored glass
Where Shelley and Ladu one taught
The splendid comma and the Leaves of Grass.
Thought out of Harmon's way we slip,
However smooth our path and simple,
O gone that fine, immortal quip
That dubbed our hall dear Shirley Temple.
Farewell! We twitch our mantles blue,
We're off to brand-new buddies,
To shrimp-pink walls and fixtures new—
With History and Social Studies.

This poem which was brought to the editor's attention recently is certainly a tribute to Pullen Hall. Although the author is anonymous, we feel that it is our duty to all the students who have trod into, through, and out of Pullen Hall to print the poem for their enjoyment.—Ed.

BSU Supper

Dr. Ralph McLean, head of the Religion Department at Meredith College, will lead State BSU's first in a series of fall supper discussions, Wednesday, October 5 at 6:00 p.m. in the

"If you mean to imply my husband..."
"No, it was the chauffeur."

Football Sidelines—North Carolina State's football fans saw their hopes of crushing Duke's mighty warriors fade early Saturday night. . . . Before the game Duke's practice camp was complaining about a virus bug that had hit the squad and greatly hindered Coach Murray's efforts in preparing for the State battle. . . . well it seems that a bug of a different nature hit the local boys a bit later in the week. . . . a half minute after the kickoff to be exact! Medical officials from the infirmary at State have labeled it as Fumbleiest. A look at the statistics show the Wolfpack fumbled no less than eight times and five of these were recovered by Duke, and three turned into touchdowns. . . . Local supporters are hoping that Coach Edwards and his crew have taken measures this week to prevent the spread of this disease to the epidemic stage!!!

Despite the Wolfpack's mistakes Saturday night, most sports observers feel that Duke's 1955 grid team is stronger than last year's Orange Bowl Championship team and still would have come out on top even if the Pack had played the brand of ball they are capable of playing. . . . The boss of the Raleigh Red Shirts, Earle Edwards, added this comment with a bit of humor, "I don't know how Duke will make out with the rest of its schedule, but I'll guarantee nobody will be as generous to them as we were."

Edwards also added that you can't spot a power house like Duke three touchdowns then expect to come back. . . . Sophomores Shine . . . with every dark moment there is a bright spot and Coach Edwards found that spot Saturday night in his sophomore backfield. . . . State's soph unit directed an 80-yard march that resulted in State's only touchdown. . . . Edwards singled out quarterback Tom Katich, halfbacks Dick Christy and Dick Hunter plus fullback Tony Guerrieri and this could be his starting backfield before too long. . . .

Carolina this week—Well the Duke game is over now so our attention shifts to Saturday afternoon's scrap with the Tar Heels and here's one person who thinks the West Raleigh boys are far from being through and will be heard from soon by someone—and I think it will be this week-end against Carolina!!!

Edwards Pleased By Sophs. Improvement

It's a big step from the freshman team to the varsity but several of last year's crack North Carolina State frosh team appear to be making the jump in stride.

Last week State scored only one touchdown against a powerful Duke eleven. That marker was scored on an 80-yard march by a team of reserves which included eight sophomores.

Coach Earle Edwards was pleased with the play of his rookies. "I thought they looked good," he remarked, "and they'll have plenty of chances to prove themselves before the season is over."

Edwards gives the impression that State's sophomore backfield will see plenty of action Saturday afternoon against the University of North Carolina. "They won't start," he said, "but they'll be counted upon to help us beat Carolina."

The rookie backfield is the same that sparked the 'Pack yearlings to a 4-1 record last year including a thrilling 14-13 win over highly regarded Miami. Tom Katich, a 5-9, 171-pounder from Pittsburgh, Pa., is the quarterback while Dick Christy and Dick Hunter man the halfback posts. The fullback is Tony Guerrieri of South Orange, N. J.

Both Christy and Hunter are flashy runners with plenty of speed to help send them on their way. Hunter carried the ball eight times against Duke and gained 44 yards. He leads the Wolfpack passing with three completions in as many attempts.

Hunter, from Leechburg, Pa., is 5-7 and weighs 155.

Christy is the "big" boy in the backfield at 5-10, 183. He scored the touchdown against the Blue Devils on a one-yard smash at the middle. Dick was an All-America high school star at Chester, Pa.

Guerrieri, the power runner, is another "pony" back at 5-6, (See SOPHOMORES, Page 5)

Athlete of Week

TOM KATICH, 5-9, 171 lbs., soph., quarterback, Pittsburgh, Pa., engineered the only touchdown against Duke last Saturday night. . . . turned in fine job at quarterback slot. . . . led last year's freshman team to 4-1 record. . . . also kicked extra point. . . . good gain starting role before season is over. . . . bright future ahead at quarterback for State. . . . # Tar Heels Invade State For Annual Grid Classic

After a lapse of 13 years, the North Carolina State-University of North Carolina football game is returning to Riddick Stadium.

The teams meet here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with a near-capacity crowd expected for Consolidated University Day.

State's last grid victory over the Tar Heels was in 1942 in Riddick Stadium. Following that game, the series was shifted to Chapel Hill and the Wolfpack has gone winless in the eight games since then.

State and Carolina have been playing each other since 1894 and Saturday's game will be the 45th meeting of the sister institutions. The Tar Heels hold a one-sided lead in the series, 33-5, with six ties.

It's no secret that this is the game State has been pointing for. The Wolfpack has been beaten twice thus far in the young season and the players were disappointed over the showing in both games. State pushed Florida State all over the field but couldn't score and dropped a 7-0 affair. The Wolfpack fumbled away a 33-7 tilt to Duke last Saturday night.

Carolina, on the other hand, is anxious to make up for its loss last week to Oklahoma in the season's opener. The Tar Heels led 6-0 at the half but couldn't keep up the pace and lost 13-6 to the nationally ranked Sooners.

That should make both teams fired up for Saturday's game, but neither school needs priming for this game, which is considered a "must" long before the season gets underway.

Both coaches, Earle Edwards of State and George Barclay of Carolina, will be depending upon sophomores. State's only touchdown against the Blue Devils came on an 80-yard march sparked by a reserve which included eight rookies. Halfbacks Dick Hunter and Dick Christy,

Frat Intramurals

The 1955 fraternity intramural program is scheduled to get underway next week as the battle for the football championship begins Monday afternoon.

The 16 fraternities have been divided into four sections. The winner of each section will meet in the final play-offs to decide the championship. Section No. 1—SAE, defending champions, PEP, Sigma Pi and KA; Section No. 2—SAM, 2nd last year, Farm House, Lambda Chi, and PKA; Section No. 3—Sigma Nu, 3rd last year, AGR, PKP, and PKT and Section No. 4—Sigma Chi, 4th last year, Theta Chi, Kappa Sigma, and SPE.

Again SAE looms as the team to beat this year, with the SAM's, Sigma Nu, PKA and Sigma Chi all reported to be strong, however some feel that several dark-horses may string up this season and knock off several of these pre-season favorites.

Art Hoek, instructor in the P.E. department, has assumed the duties of the intramural department this year replacing J. F. Miller who resigned his post after 31 years of service.

Clemson Beat Frosh Grid Team 14-0

CLEMSON, S. C.—North Carolina's freshman football team opened its season last Saturday by dropping a 14-0 loss to Clemson College's Baby Tigers before 2,000 rain-dampened fans in Memorial Stadium.

The Cubs scored first midway in the second quarter when their right halfback slashed off tackle for 14 yards. The final touchdown was in the fourth quarter. It was a 51-yard drive with a 12-yard dash over the goal for the 14-0 victory.

State's only scoring chance came early in the game when they drove to Clemson's ten but failed to cross the goal.

Duke University's Blue Devils, defending ACC and Orange Bowl champions, opened their 1955 season in High Fashion Saturday night as they whipped North Carolina State 33-7 before a near-sell out crowd of 20,000.

Coach Bill Murray's forces, co-favorites with Maryland to take ACC honors again this year, took complete command of the situation in the early minutes of the game as they took advantage of several State miscues.

State's quarterback Eddie West fumbled the opening kickoff and Duke recovered on State's 35-yard line. From here the Blue Devils marched for their first TD. The score stood 6-0 with nine minutes left in the first half. Again in the same quarter the Pack made another costly mistake. With it fourth down and eight to go, State

News From Seminole Country

(Editor's note: The following reached my desk from the propaganda bureau at Florida State University, you can take it for what its worth.)

SEMINOLE RESERVATION, Tallahassee, Fla.—Ugh! Plenty big wind coming from land of out-cast Seminole in lower Florida. Big wind called "Hurricane," but Seminole Chief Tom Nugent, him not afraid.

Big Chief Nugent has braves doing heap big war dance. Each evening as sun hides behind clouds, Chief Nugent and his assistant chiefs (called by white man, coaches) hold many pow-wows around cool camp-fire. (Editor's note: Air conditioner.)

From pow-wows come plans for war party. Chiefs go into huddle with white sticks and black birch bark (editor's note again: chalk and eraser) and many war plans made.

Chief Nugent and assistants plan frontal attack on home grounds of the Big Wind, called in the land of the out-cast Seminoles the container of the fruit of gold. (Editor's third note: The Orange Bowl)

Chief Nugent's braves dance crazy war dance. (The editor again: scrimmage). Seminole braves bash into each other, but the spirits of the gods are everywhere, as Seminole braves bash heads and then shake hands.

Ugh! Big pile-up in middle of war dance, but Chief Nugent smile and nod head in approval.

went into punt formation, however the snap from center was wild and Duke took over on State's eight. Seconds later it was Duke 13-0.

The second period saw little improvement as the Blue Devils came up with another State fumble and streaked 16-yards on the next play for their third tally and a 19-0 lead. The Pack took to the air but a Duke half-back hauled in a stray pass and raced 12-yards for the score. Duke 26, State 0.

However mid-way in the quarter State's sophomore backfield caught fire and marched 80-yards up field for the touchdown and added an extra point to make it 26-7 in favor of the visitors at half time. Sophs Tom Katich, Dick Christy, Dick Hunter, Tony Guerrieri, and Julius Compton turned in fine performances for the Pack.

Duke added another touchdown in the third period on a 51-yard drive to make the final score 33-7.

The Dorm Corner

by Terry Lee Hershey

Except for football practice on the dorm gridiron, all was quiet on the dormitory front. The athletic directors are in the midst of forming their eligibility list — this should be notice enough for those students interested. At this weeks athletic directors meeting the possibility of an open ten-pin bowling league was discussed if there is enough interest in this sport, the league might start after the duck-pin league ends. This would be after the Christmas vacation. The football and volleyball schedules were also discussed, and they will be similar to that of last year.

Shavlik Awarded Pepsi Scholarship

All-America basketball center Ronnie Shavlik, a senior from Denver, Col., will be awarded the first annual Pepsi Cola Bottling Company scholarship at half-time ceremonies of the State-Duke game Saturday night.

Tom Gaddy, president of the Raleigh Pepsi Cola Bottling Company, made the announcement in conjunction with athletic director Roy Clogston. The scholarship is valued at $1,000. The scholarship will be given annually to a senior athlete picked by a four-man committee of State College and Pepsi Cola officials.

Before being considered for the award, an athlete must meet the College's academic and scholarship requirements; must have received aid from the Student Aid Association previously; and must have demonstrated high qualities of courage, leadership and sportsmanship.

Shavlik averaged 22.1 points per game last year in leading State to the Atlantic Coast Conference and Dixie Classic championships.

at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Working engineers of P & W A. waiting for classes to begin at R.P.I.'s new graduate center. Courses include Aeronautical Engineering, Physics, Mathematics, Nuclear Technology, Management Training.

Here's something unique in education.

Near the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft plant in East Hartford, Conn., a full-fledged graduate center was established this fall by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Located 115 miles from R.P.I.'s home campus in upper New York State, the new graduate facilities will enable working engineers from Pratt & Whitney Aircraft and other companies in the Hartford area to continue their studies. Without interrupting normal employment, it will be possible for students to obtain advanced degrees in specialized fields from the nation's oldest engineering college.

Designed to raise the level of knowledge and to broaden the base from which advanced research can be approached, this entire program will simultaneously lead enrolled engineers to greater achievement in their careers.

First 702 Computer in East. Just installed, this advanced I.B.M. computer joins earlier electronic marvels that played a vital role in the development of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's famed J-57 jet engine.

Newest Supersonic Fighter. The Chance Vought F8U, latest in a growing group of military aircraft to fly faster than sound. Like most other record-breakers, it is powered by a P & W A J-57 turbojet.

Lane Appointed Company Representative

John H. Lane, Jr. has been appointed Chesterfield campus representative at State College, it was announced here today by Campus Merchandising Bureau, Inc. He was chosen from applicants throughout the country to represent Chesterfield cigarettes, first choice with America's college men and women. The position will mean valuable experience in merchandising, advertising, and public relations, as the student representative gets on-the-job training in conducting a sales promotion program.

John is a member of Student Government business manager of The Technician, and State College's representative to CU NC Council. He is a member of the class of '57 and is from Wilson, N. C.

Dean Henry L. Kamphoefner of the School of Design at North Carolina State College addressed the Wilmington Rotary Club at its weekly meeting Tuesday at 1 p.m. He discussed modern architecture.

Mrs. James McQuere, secretary and librarian for the Gaston Technical Institute in Gastonia announced a record-breaking enrollment for the school this year. Sixty-eight students registered on the opening day, but the total was expected to reach a 100 capacity enrollment by last Friday, September 23. The Institute is operated by North Carolina State College's School of Engineering and Extension Division.

Prof. Charles C. Stott of the Department of Industrial and Rural Recreation at North Carolina State College has returned to Raleigh after delivering an address at the national convention of the American Institute of Park Executives in Louisville, Ky. He spoke on the subject, "Training Park and Recreational Personnel," and outlined State College's educational functions in this field.

"Just tell the jury why you shot your husband," said the D. A. "We couldn't afford a divorce."

Metallurgical Curriculum Established

The School of Engineering, which each year produces engineers for a variety of technical fields, is adding another degree to its educational program—that of Bachelor of Metallurgical Engineering.

The new curriculum, recently announced by Dean J. H. Lampe, will complement the other degrees of ceramic and geological engineering offered by the Department of Mineral Industries. Head of this department is Dr. William W. Austin.

Since present and future developments in jet engines, steam and gas turbines for power generation, and materials for nuclear reactors are largely dependant upon metallic materials, the future for metallurgical engineers is practically unlimited. At present the demand far exceeds the supply and the shortage of trained men is becoming progressively more critical as new technological advances are made.

Therefore, the appearance of the metallurgical engineer at the School of Engineering will seek to answer this need and will make possible a carefully integrated program of engineering training in the vital areas concerned with the location, evaluation and utilization of North Carolina's wealth of mineral resources.

Although these three degrees within the Department of Mineral Industries are closely related, they each have a specialized field of interest. As explained by Dr. Austin, the metallurgical engineer studies the production of metals and alloys from numerous ores located by the geological engineer. Geological engineers are trained in exploration, mapping and the economic evaluation of mineral deposits.

The conversion of non-metallic minerals into useful products through processing at extremely high temperatures is the concern of the ceramic engineer. Many familiar materials such as glass, brick, tile, porcelain, and Portland cement are products of ceramic technology.

The new curriculum which has gone into effect for the new school year should attract both freshmen and students transferring from other fields of study. In the future it is expected that graduate instruction will be offered.

Army Honors 12 Fourth Year Cadets

Twelve top-ranking cadets in the Army ROTC at North Carolina State College have been designated as "Distinguished Military Students" in recognition of the outstanding ROTC records which they have made.

This was announced last week by Col. Richard R. Middlebrooks, professor of military science and tactics and commander of the Army ROTC at State College, who said all of the honor students are beginning their fourth year of ROTC training.

"These students," Colonel Middlebrooks said, "have achieved this distinction by demonstrated leadership ability, a three-year record of high grades in military sciences, overall academic record, performance during summer camp, and the high regard held of them by the Army ROTC staff at North Carolina State College and their fellow cadets."

Following are the honor cadets and their home towns: Robert E. Bedford, Goldsboro; Sidney E. Briley, Jr., Greenville; Creighton L. Calhoun, Jr., Raleigh; Sidney B. Cooke, Kannapolis; Teddy R. Jones, Lake Junaluska; Joseph A. Riggs, Jr., Hinsdale, Ill.; Richard S. Rogers, Jr., Wilmington; Ernest K. Sherrill, Hudson; Lawrence W. Sherrill, Jr., Asheville; Howard H. Simon, Chicago, Ill.; Andrew C. Vastano, Winston-Salem; and Joseph R. Warlick, Jr., Concord.

Law School Test Scheduled Jan. 21

Dr. Roy N. Anderson announced today that he had received announcements from the Educational Testing Service pertaining to the Graduate Record Examinations.

Director of Test Administration, J. E. Terral, noted in a memorandum with the releases that last year more than 19,000 pre-law and prospective graduate students were directed by their respective professional schools of choice to take one of these tests in partial fulfillment of admission requirements.

It was noted by Dr. Anderson that the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) will be given on the State College campus on January 21, 1956 and that all other examinations will be given at Chapel Hill.

GRE Test

The Graduate Record Examinations, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times in the coming year.

This fall candidates may take the GRE on Saturday, November 19. In 1956, the dates are January 21, April 28, and July 7. ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should take and on which dates. Applicants for graduate school fellowships should ordinarily take the designated examinations in the fall administration.

The GRE tests offered in these nationwide programs include a test of general scholastic ability and advanced level tests of achievement in sixteen different subject matter fields. According to ETS, candidates are permitted to take the Aptitude Test and/or one of the Advanced Tests.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which provides details of registration and administration as well as sample questions, may be obtained from college advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, N. J., or P. O. Box 27896, Los Angeles 27, California. A completed application must reach the ETS office at least fifteen days before the date of the administration for which the candidate is applying.

The Law School Admission Test required of applicants for admission to a number of leading American law schools, will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United

McCrary & Durette New CU Staff Mem.

The College Union announces the addition of three new staff members in the Activities office.

Miss Penny McCrary, from Lexington, N. C., returns this year to assume the duties of College Union Social Director. She was employed as Assistant Social Director of the College Union during 1953-1954. Union officials stated that her former experience will prove a valuable asset to the activities of the Union. Miss McCrary received her B.A. and M.A. degrees at Duke University. She will make her home in Raleigh at 1911 Clark Avenue.

Mr. Paul Durette will join the staff as Assistant Social Director. He formerly made his home in Waco, Texas. Mr. Durette received B.A. and M.A. degrees in personnel and guidance from East Texas State Teachers College. He served there in the Student Union four years as student assistant and one year as graduate assistant. During the summer months, Paul has been camp director and dispatcher at Philmont Scout Ranch in Texas. He has served two years in the Army at Camp Rucker, Alabama. As Raleigh residents, he, and his wife, Jeanne, will make their home at 600 Stacy Street.

Miss Alice Young, Assistant Social Director, is a native of Raleigh. She received a B.F.A. degree at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. Alice joins the Union staff with two years experience in advertising summer camps.

mander; Johnny Johnson, Executive Officer; Jasper Hardison, Adjutant Recorder; Don Keyt, Finance Officer, and Harry Coor, Public Information Officer. Major Mack White, of the State College AFROTC Air Force Detachment, is serving as faculty advisor of the group again this year.

Tentative plans were discussed at the meeting for the activities in which the Squadron will take part this year. Among the highlights are plans for two field trips to air bases in various parts of the country by members of the Squadron, a banquet, a dance and the Military Ball. It was revealed by Henry Pickett, Chairman of the Military Ball Committee, that plans are well underway for one of the best balls in the Society's history. He stated that he hoped, at this time, that it would be possible to engage Ralph Flanagan's band for the occasion.

The next meeting of the Society will be held Thursday, October 6, at 7:00 p.m. in the College Union Ballroom. The meeting will be a smoker for the purpose of selecting a new pledge class from among qualified Advanced AFROTC Cadets. In order to be qualified to become a member of the group, PIO Harry Coor stated that the Cadet must have entered the Advanced AFROTC course and be in good standing with both the Military Department and the general College. All qualified cadets were urged by Coor to attend the meeting and smoker to become acquainted with the members of the Society and the activities and benefits that can be derived from being a member of the group.

Upon completion of this fourth year of ROTC training, they will receive commissions as second lieutenants in the army reserve.

AG Club Plans Barnwarming

The Agriculture Club made final plans for the selection of its Barnwarming Queen at its first meeting in the College Union, Tuesday night. Dr. C. B. James welcomed the large attendance of Freshmen at the first meeting. Following the meeting, a smoker was held to help the upperclassmen get acquainted with the new members of the club.

In outlining the program for selection of the Barnwarming Queen, Bobby Smith, Chairman of the Queens Committee, stated that the crowning of the Barnwarming Queen will be during the Barnwarming Dance on October 8.

The contestants will undergo two rounds of judging—one in the afternoon on the basis of personality and another during the dance on beauty and dancing ability.

Smith urged members of the club to enter their favorite girl in the contest. Contestants may be entered by contacting Smith at the Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity or by calling 3-4545.

He will also mention the condition of the unpaved cinder and clay walkways on various parts of the campus, the paving of parking lots and roads around the Owen-Tucker Dormitory area, and the removal of such campus eye-sores as cross-ties.

The Student Government stressed that the session would be an open meeting, as all student legislature meetings are, and President Nolan said that "all interested persons, both students and faculty, are invited to attend." The meeting is to be held at the College Union.
