CORRECTION

The story on the Editorial page of the February 1 issue of The Technician entitled "For the University Trustees: A Division in Time" should have been attributed to Raleigh Times Editor Herbert O'Keefe. The editorial appeared in the February 4 issue of the Times. Jim Johnson, Verville mayor, asked that a correction be noted concerning the amount of money requested of the student legislature by Verville. He said that they requested and received $200.

Atlantic Coast Conference Hears Weaver's Report on Moreland Case

The Atlantic Coast Conference heard Commissioner Jim Weaver's report on his investigation into the Jackie Moreland recruiting case at a meeting yesterday in Greensboro. The report, however, was not made public immediately.

The report will be forwarded to State College by mail; thus the results were not known by press time today.

Weaver made his report yesterday on an investigation made by him a week ago. He visited Louisiana and talked with the witnesses whose testimony had much to do with the recent four-year probation State received from the NCAA.

Short History

The conference investigation was asked by State after Weaver fined the college $5,000, ruled Moreland ineligible, and placed a ban on the basketball coaching staff at State on contacting prospective athletes.

On Dec. 21, at a called meeting, the ACC agreed to conduct a separate investigation. However another request from State on Jan. 25 that the investigation to be in the form of an open hearing was turned down by the conference.

Weaver then began his investigation. He also took part in the conference's investigation into two of the NCAA's charges when the State people involved were interviewed in Greensboro in December. After this hearing the conference found State guilty on the charges of offering $80 in transportation money and offering a five-year scholarship.

State then appealed the conference findings and penalties imposed by the commissioner. Whether the meeting yesterday acted finally in State's appeal will not be known until the report is made public.

Now that this investigation is complete (on the two charges mentioned above) there is still the possibility of an attempt at an open hearing later.

State Security Officer Arrested

William Thurman Owens, 46 year old State College Security Officer, was found to have a previous police record in his home state of Oklahoma by Raleigh city police yesterday.

Owens, detected in a break-in in Ricks Hall Friday night, admitted to some twenty-five thefts at the college over the last few months. His previous conviction, five years ago, was for forgery. He returned to Oklahoma to stand trial, paid a fine and came back to North Carolina.

He has enjoyed a good reputation since his return to North Carolina, and was well thought of by neighbors and associates.

Owens, a distinguished looking, greying man, readily admitted the thefts and break-ins, and police believe that he may have been involved in even others. He has used his pass-keys to commit the crimes which have plagued State College authorities and Raleigh police for some time. He was instrumental in cracking the ring of students

Other Charges

The conference has been asked to investigate all of the charges against State. The others involved an alleged promise to Moreland of $1,000 a year above the legal scholarship plus a $200 allowance a year for clothing. There also was a charge that Moreland's girl friend, Betty Rhea, had been offered a seven-year medical scholarship. In all, seven charges of recruiting irregularities were charged by the NCAA.

State has denied all charges. Vic Bubas, Harry Stewart, and Willis Casey—the ones accused of making the offers—all have signed affidavits denying the charges.

Military Ball Features Billy May

Billy May's Orchestra will provide the music for this year's Military Ball. The Ball, traditionally one of the biggest and best dances of the year, will be held in the Coliseum on March 23.

No concert will be given this year due to the Cadet Hop of December 1 taking its place in the Military Ball Association's yearly agenda. Beginning at 8 p.m., the Ball will be formal with either military uniforms or formal dress suitable for the occasion.

Membership in the Association, which entitles a couple to admittance to the Ball, may be purchased by any member of the College; membership in the R.O.T.C. is not required. Memberships may be secured from any member of Scabbard and Blade, Arnold Air Society, Pershing Rifles; Army or Air Force detachment headquarters; any company or squadron commander; and the main desk at the College Union.

who committed the thefts at the College and city several weeks ago.

In interviews with News and Observer reporter Jack Crosswell, Owens said, "I knew it was wrong . . . I admitted it to the police . . . But I wasn't doing it all . . . There was a lot taken I didn't know anything about."

Owens suggested that "financial difficulties" may have been responsible for some of his actions, but added he would rather take his punishment like a man than make up a false excuse.

Owens had worked at State for about eighteen months as a Security Officer. He was apprehended by Det. Sgt. James M. Stell about 11:30 Friday night when he was found stealing "planted money" in the Ricks Hall office which he entered with his pass key.

Formal charges have been filed against him and he is being held on $5000 bond.

Unsatisfactory Grades

Hafer and Maglio Declared Ineligible

On Saturday, February 9, Chancellor Carey H. Bostian announced that Cliff Hafer and John Maglio, co-captains of the State Wolfpack, have been declared ineligible for further competition with the team this season. As they are seniors, this announcement, in effect, concludes their participation at State.

Bostian said that the athletic scholarships of the pair had been revoked, but that each could remain in school at their own expense. However, they would not be allowed to represent the college in inter-collegiate athletics.

The statement made by Bostian reads as follows:

"On Friday morning, February 8, the Chancellor received a report from the Committee on Scholarships and Student Aid which included a recommendation that the athletic grants-in-aid held by Clifford Hafer and John Maglio be cancelled because of unsatisfactory grades and class attendance for the first semester. Later in the day, the Faculty Athletic Committee considered this report and adopted the following resolution:

"After careful consideration of the academic performance and class attendance of John Maglio and Clifford Hafer, it is the opinion of the N. C. State College Athletic Committee that Maglio and Hafer should be placed on probation. The Committee recommends to the Chancellor that Maglio and Hafer be placed on probation."

"Recommendations from both Committees have been approved by Chancellor Bostian, effective immediately. Under the terms of probation, Maglio and Hafer may remain in school by paying their own tuition, fees, and other expenses, but will not be eligible to represent the college in any form of intercollegiate competition."

"During the past three and one-half years State College has not required the earning of a minimum number of credits semester by semester but has had high scholastic requirements for continuation at the end of each year.

"Effective at once and applying to students enrolled for this semester the former rules requiring the earning of at least six credits by entering students and eight credits by all other students in each semester have been restored. The other scholastic rules remain in effect. The Faculty Senate is being requested to review all scholastic regulations during this semester.

"Maglio and Hafer are eligible to remain in school under regulations which were in effect during the fall semester. Changes in academic regulations applying to this semester are not retroactive. The Chancellor concurs in the opinion of the Faculty Athletic Committee that they have not fulfilled requirements to represent the college because of their academic performance and class attendance during the first semester."

Proposed Plan

Parking Violators Face Probation

By David Barnhardt

A plan was introduced in the Student Legislature last Thursday night by Al Potts, Chairman of the Welfare Committee, concerned with parking tickets on the campus.

The resolution, which contained two parts, stated first that any student receiving three unsustained tickets in any one semester be put on scholastic probation for the remainder of that semester. The second part, which would place an even stricter penalty on the student, stated that a student receiving more than three unsustained traffic tickets be dropped from school for the remainder of that semester plus being suspended from school for the following semester.

Too Many Tickets

Frank Pethal, head of the Campus Traffic Committee, in speaking for the resolution, said that "State College officials, including the Chancellor, want to see the number of parking tickets given to students limited." Complaints have been made, he said, by many faculty members that students are parking their cars anywhere they desire on the campus and, consequently, they are receiving innumerable tickets.

The concert is being sponsored by the Interfraternity Council here at State. WVWP has been running a contest in connection with the concert, by giving away two reserved seat tickets to the person who guesses a mystery melody.

Armstrong's concert in Raleigh will be the only public appearance of the famed jazz master in this area this year.

Millions of TV fans saw Armstrong at his best last Sunday on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town show, and since he started his Southern tour last week, he has appeared before near-capacity crowds in each city.

Satchmo Appears Here Wednesday

Plenty of good seats still remain for the Louis Armstrong Concert scheduled for Wednesday evening, February 13, here at State College in the coliseum. The two-and-a-half-hour concert is set to start at 8 p.m.

Reserved seats are $2.50 and general admission is $1.50. Tickets are available at the coliseum box office and will also be on sale at the door Wednesday night. State's fraternity men will visit the dormitories again tonight for the convenience of any student who might like to buy a ticket.

Pethal told The Technician last night that the reason behind the resolution was merely that the Traffic Committee wanted "some way of enforcing the campus traffic regulations." He continued to say that they (the Traffic Committee and Jim Nolan) were expecting the Chancellor to do something like this soon and they wanted the students to initiate the action rather than the Chancellor.

The resolution was discussed on the floor of the Legislature at some length before it was referred back to the Welfare Committee. It will be discussed further at the next Student Government meeting.

"Sermon-in-Song" By Hobart Mitchell

Hobart Mitchell, noted New York baritone, presented his unique sacred program, "Sermon-in-Song," in the Danforth Chapel at North Carolina State College Sunday night at 8:15 o'clock.

The program, sponsored by the State College YMCA was open to the public without charge.

Mitchell, internationally known for his singing and public speaking, was accompanied at the organ by Richard Stallings of Pinetops, a student at State College.

Mitchell's "Sermon-in-Song" is described by him as "a synthesis of sacred music and the spoken word." Well-known sacred songs, oratorios, arias, and spirituals were integrated into the sermon text in a unique presentation. Transitions from speaking to singing throughout the program were accomplished without break in the continuity.

String Runs Out

There are those who will weep and wail and gnash their teeth over the fact that Cliff Hafer and John Maglio are no longer eligible to play basketball at State. However, we can't count ourselves among those who consider the decision wrong . . . frankly we understand the feelings of the administration in the matter and have no quarrel with their action.

Our understanding of the matter is that the action was taken because the two committees of the college and the Chancellor felt that the pair were no longer suitable to represent State College on the basketball court.

The information we have is that neither of the boys attended any of their classes last semester after Thanksgiving and that they failed every course they were taking. Certainly this is not commendable behavior on their part.

One question appeared in our minds after the announcement was made . . . was this not "special" treatment of athletes, the very thing the administration said they were trying to get away from?

To a certain extent it was. The rule which existed here three and one-half years ago provided that unless a student passed a minimum number of hours each semester he would not be allowed to re-enroll. This has been set now at 6 hours for entering students and eight hours thereafter.

Hafer and Maglio, by existing college and conference rules, were eligible to remain in school and continue to play. The withdrawal of their eligibility came on a decision by the Chancellor and his committees. In a sense

Parking Tickets

One of the most controversial issues of State involves the "awarding" of parking tickets. That traffic officer seems to get his kicks from writing tickets, and some of the time these tickets are completely unwarranted. For example, between semesters tickets were presented just as if school were in session—sure, many people parked in restricted areas during the semester break, but it is our understanding that these certain areas are restricted only while school is in session.

The parking problem is serious and anybody violating the rules naturally should be ticketed. But all we ask is that these tickets be given for a fair reason, not just to get more money.

Another thing—one of the strangest and illogical proposals heard yet came before student government last Thursday. It was suggested that any student who is given three parking tickets be put on probation from State College! The main reason offered for this crusading proposal was that it would stop "chronic violations" and would relieve State from the bad publicity it received recently concerning huge unpaid parking-ticket bills (on the contrary, the realistic action taken by the administration probably resulted in good publicity).

Now really—isn't this going too far? The parking problem is not that serious; if some fools want to collect a bunch of tickets, let them—they have to pay eventually and it will just mean more revenue for State. And it might be well to remember that State is an institution, but not a reformatory. Sounds like a few student legislators are getting a little drunk with a little power.

"Satchmo—Jazzman of the Age" This Wednesday, we will have the great privilege of seeing and hearing one of the greatest showmen and jazz musicians ever to hit the world stage, Louis Armstrong, who has only recently had such a smashing success in Europe, will appear in the Coliseum at 8:00 P.M.—and from all indications he will have a large, enthusiastic audience. Even those (a minority) who don't particularly like Satchmo's brand of music will not want to miss the experience of seeing such an outstanding performer. For here will be a man whose whole personality radiates rhythm and fun and showmanship. We hope most of you will be there Wednesday night—if this show goes over big, and it probably will, it will pave the way for other big entertainment features here at State. If you don't go, it's because you don't know any better—and you never will know any better by sitting on your xxx chair back at the room.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

it was special. But the new rule was not made retroactive, nor was it enforced in their case. They will remain eligible to attend school . . . something they and many other students could not have done if the rule had been in force.

It is a regrettable situation to say the least. Perhaps the best has not been made of it. But we think the action that was taken was justified. Perhaps it will never be necessary again . . . at least let's hope not.

Letters To The Editor:

Letters to the Editor must be signed. If it is requested that the name be withheld for a good reason, the letter will be printed and the name withheld. Letters WILL NOT be printed unless they are signed.

The Editor of a college newspaper is defined as an unbiased, democratic type individual who is unduly concerned with the betterment of college life for the college student. He is the "voice" of the student body.

The Editor should at all times be fighting with and not against his fellow students.

Effacing the strict parking fines that students are "forced" to pay is a job that can well be done with a Student Newspaper. But, as it seems, the paper condemns his fellow student for being fined. Why? Apparently, our editor has never driven onto the campus after 11:00 p.m. when, in the opinions of many, parking spaces are literally impossible to find. The outcome? Of course, you all know, a $2 or $10 parking violation ticket.

Mr. Editor, it would be appreciated very much by the so called "Privileged Classes" if you would give a helping hand instead of a push.

HOW WAS THE CROOK TOOK?

QUIMBY, WISC. (March 3). Police today arrested the foul felon who heisted the cash register at Jones' Gas Station. When arrested, the base servant of the devil kept muttering, "Drat the shirt, drat the shirt."

Let's look at the events leading up to this story. After the holdup, the police quizzed Victim Jones. Jones couldn't identify the yegg. "The wanton jackdaw who cabbaged my cash wore a mask," said Jones. "The only distinguishing feature about him was his shirt. A beauty! The collar was absolutely free of wrinkles. Oh, he was a neat one!"

Meanwhile, the scoundrel, knowing that his wrinkle-free and enviably-neat collar was a dead giveaway, tried desperately to slip some wrinkles into it. He stamped on it with hobnail boots. He slugged away at it with a club. But not a wrinkle! So later, as he skulked down Main Street, his shirt was noticed, admirably, by a detective and he was arrested lickety-split. Good work, copper!

By now you will have guessed that the miscreant wore a Van Heusen Century Shirt. But of course! It's the only shirt in the world with the soft collar that won't wrinkle ever. It never needs starch so it's always comfortable. The Van Heusen Century also lasts up to twice as long as ordinary shirts, yet costs no more. $4.00.

Pack Dumps S.C. 98-85; Meet Duke Tomorrow Nite: Sophs. Hold Key

North Carolina State's Wolfpack, riding a 5-game winning streak, will be seeking to improve their conference standings tomorrow night when they run head-on against the Blue Devils of Duke University in the Coliseum.

Case's men, fresh from an impressive 98-85 win over South Carolina, is expected to field a sophomore dominated crew against the Duke lads. Paced by sophs. John Richter, Ken Clark, and Lou Pucillo, State completely outclassed South Carolina despite a 45-point out-put by Grady Wallace.

Duke Tough

Tomorrow night's assignment will be a good bit tougher. The Duke's came within seconds and two points of upsetting the undefeated Tar Heels over the weekend. This plus the fact that Coach Hal Bradley would like nothing better than to "repay" the local lads for a rather embarrassing Dixie Classic rout handed him by State last December.

All-Stars Play In Raleigh, Feb. 28

The State All-Stars, who do all their winning on the road, will play a home game Feb. 28.

Arrangements have been completed for a Thursday night game with Darrell Floyd's All-Stars at the State Fair Arena in Raleigh, and the contest should be a top attraction.

Playing without their "big" men (Ronnie Shavlik and Bob Speight) the State All-Stars dropped a 55-49 decision to the Floyd troupe in the first game of this year's barnstorming tour.

Nuckolls Elected Y R C Treasurer

Edward W. Nuckolls, both an Industrial Engineering and Physics major, was elected Saturday to the office of Treasurer of the North Carolina Federation of Young Republicans at the state convention in Winston-Salem.

Ed, who reactivated the Young Republican Club here at State, went to the convention as a new-comer to state-level politics. He left with one of the highest offices the Young Republican Club had to offer.

He is president of both the State College Y.R.C. and Alpha Pi Mu, Secretary of the A.I.E., and Treasurer of the Engineers' Council. An Air Force veteran from Hendersonville, Ed lives with his wife in Verville.

Theodore (Ted) Walker, Treasurer of the campus Young Republican Club, was elected as Treasurer of the college council within the state organization. The council coordinates the activities of all the college chapters throughout the State of North Carolina.

The college council will hold its spring meeting here on the campus in early April.

Other State students attending the convention were Allen Williams, Vice-president of the campus Young Republican Club, Robert Cornwell and William Farner.

stripe of paint!*

The '57 Chevy can give lessons on taking curves and holding the road to just about any car going. Few cars at any price are so beautifully balanced and so smooth, sure and solid in action.

A car has to have a special kind of build and balance to keep curves under control. And nobody outdoes Chevrolet in that department! It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

And if the road should turn upward, Chevy can take care of that nicely, too—with up to 245 h.p.*

Come on in and take a turn at the wheel of a new Chevrolet.
