On The Carolina Court . . .

Action was fast and furious last Tuesday night at Carolina despite the resounding defeat the Wolfpack suffered at the hands of the Tarheels. The final score was 86 to 57, but it was only the second time Carolina has beaten State on the Woolen Gym floor since Everett Case came here in 1947.

Tickets

Tickets will be on sale until 30 Friday at the Coliseum box Office for the Villanova and Wake Forest games.

"Go To Church Sunday"

Sunday is I. D. C. Go To Church Sunday. The Inter-mormitory Council urges everyone to go to the church of his choice.

Reading Classes

The last available class in the reading improvement classes starts Friday at 1 p.m. in Compkins 111-B.

Water Safety Course

The Wake County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be in a Water Safety Instructor's course Monday night, Feb. 25 at the YMCA on East Edenton Street. The class will meet at 7:30 on Monday nights and 6:30 on Wednesday nights until the week of March 18, when it will meet each night. A 25c fee will be charged by the Y for the use of the pool. Enrollment will be limited to 15. For enrollment or further information call the local chapter, TE 3-3015.

Concert Band

A concert is being planned by the State College Concert Band to be given on March 17. Other activities of the Concert Band include the participation of several members in a pep band which furnishes music at the basketball games and a brass choir has been organized and has been rehearsing after band practice on Thursday nights.

Monogram Club Lists New Members

Fifteen new members have been initiated into the Monogram Club with the football squad contributing eight of the number.

Fulfilling the necessary qualifications to become members were Scotty Hurst, Derris Bradshaw, and Bubba Creekmore, baseball; Max Pruzan and John N. Agnos, soccer; Herman Walker and Tom Hayworth, cross country; Wally Prince, Bill Rearick, Fran Palandrani, Frank Cackovic, Tom Katich, Mike Miller, Don Miketa, and Joe Rodri, football. The newcomers will be feted to a party early this Spring.

Earlier this year John Richter, of the varsity basketball team, received a trophy from the Monogram Club for the outstanding Freshman Award.

During the intermissions of the remaining basketball games at the Coliseum the club will have cake sales. The cakes are being donated by the wives of the club members and also by the wives of the coaches at State College. Proceeds will be used to finance the Club's activities.

Sophomores Receive Alpha Zeta Awards

Alpha Zeta, honorary Ag fraternity, has announced the presentation of three awards to outstanding sophomores in the Agriculture, Ag Education and Forestry Schools.

The recipients, William Hal Johnson, Wildlife Management major from Taylorsville, Christopher Alan Tabor, Forest Management major from Baltimore, Md., and Fred William Manley, Ag Education major from Reidsville, each received awards of $100 for outstanding work done during their sophomore year, last year.

Selection of the three was made by Dean Rice of the Ag School, Dean Preston of Forestry and John Harris of the Horticulture Extension Division on the basis of scholastic achievement, extra-curricular participation, character, leadership ability and interest in their field of study.

The award was presented to Manly and Johnson at the Ag Club meeting last Tuesday, while Tabor received his at the meeting of the Forestry Club on the same night. Chancellor Williams of Alpha Zeta made the awards.

Chorale Presents Concert Friday

On its second American tour, the Roger Wagner Chorale will present a concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium under the auspices of the North Carolina State College Union's music committee.

The program will be open to all members of the College Union free of charge, but there will be an admission charge of $1.50 for all others.

Celebrating its 11th anniversary by touring the United States coast to coast, the noted Chorale will perform in 75 cities

State's Reactor to Be Repaired; Begin Operation About March 15

Upon authorization from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, State College will rebuild its nuclear reactor and will again begin operating the facility around March 15.

In announcing this Tuesday, Dr. Arthur C. Menius, Jr., head of the college's Physics Department, said the institution will install a newly-constructed core in its reactor as soon as approval comes from Washington.

When the permit is issued, Dr. Menius said, the college will immediately install the reactor core. Upon completion of the rebuilding job, the AEC will be requested to inspect the project. Following the inspection, State College will be ready to refill the reactor chambers with nuclear fuel and will again begin operating the atomic facility.

State College's nuclear reactor—first of its kind to be built and operated by an American college or university—developed a leak in its central radiation chambers in the spring of 1955 and has not been used for radiation work since that time.

The nuclear training program, however, has continued without interruption. Over 300 students have been trained in nuclear science at State, which was the first institution in the United States to offer instruction leading to B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees in nuclear engineering.

The college is now one of two institutions of higher learning in the United States to conduct a reactor training program for the education of foreign students under President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" program. Thirty students are currently assigned to the campus by the Federal government under the latter program.

Initiated were: K. E. (Gene) Bostian, from Raleigh; Paul G. Braxton, of Siler City; Cecil C. Brooks, Sparta; David Barnhardt, Charlotte; Robert P. Kennel, New Bern; James M. Peden, Jr., Raleigh; Alvin L. Potts, Goldsboro; and David F. Weinstein, from Lumberton.

These men are selected for membership in Blue Key on the basis of leadership in campus activities, participation, scholarship, and character.

Dr. C. C. Scarborough addressed the members of the honor fraternity at the Initiation Banquet. Also present at the banquet were honorary members Col. Richard R. Middlebrooks and his wife, Dean J. J. Stewart and his wife, and Mr. Lindsay Whichard.

IFC Reports Concert Profit

It was announced at the Interfraternity Council meeting yesterday by Dick Jordan that the IFC was "in the black" on the Louis Armstrong concert which they sponsored last week.

Jordan, who headed the committee which worked on the concert, announced that a total of approximately $293 had been made by the IFC on the show. All of the bills have not yet been received, however, so the figure of $293 may not be exact. "It is within $25 of being right, though," Jordan said.

The Armstrong concert, it was pointed out to the IFC, is the first concert ever held at the Coliseum that has not lost money. Bill Greene, IFC President, said that they (the IFC) had been a little too optimistic at first, hoping that over $1,000 would be made. But he continued to say that he was glad that they had made as much as they did, in view of the fact that no other concert at the Coliseum has ever been a financial success.

Decorating The Campus

"We Cant Help It"

"Why don't you put some news in that rag instead of making it an ad sheet?" "All those ads, you guys must be making a slew of money . . . how about cuttin' down a little?"

We've heard the cry from all sorts of sources this year . . . the dirty accusation . . . "ad-sheet" . . . now we hear the English department has their freshman classes writing themes on the Technician's ads. We can't help it . . . honest. Its one of lifes little burdens.

We try to run a business over here. And when you run a business, you try to stay in the black. We aren't supposed to make a profit, and believe us, we don't. But we aren't losing either.

Now in order to maintain this delicate balance, figures tell us that we must average about 50 per cent ads each issue. This is so because we have low ad rates. Why? Because our space isn't too much in demand because the people we reach don't respond to the ads (that's you) and merchants aren't eager to spend a lot of money for charity. They like to see a return.

How much is 50 per cent? In four pages, it's two pages. That means, since we don't put ads on the front page, and try to hold them to a minimum on the Ed-page, that the back pages bear the burden and are nearly solid ads. When we have six, eight or ten pages, we can do better because three pages of ads spread over four, four over six or five over eight looks a lot better than two on two.

Remember, we're publishing two issues a week now too. That is quite a bit more expensive and we couldn't change a lot of things in our budget in the middle of the year. Next year, we hope to increase some of our ad rates a little and have some hope of lowering other costs. So, in the meantime, bear with us. . . .

Letters To The Editor:

Letters to the Editor must be signed. If it is requested that the name be withheld for a good reason, the letter will be printed and the name withheld. Letters WILL NOT be printed unless they are signed.

To the Editor:

In the past years it has been by nature to keep most of my personal gripes to myself, especially when I thought I was getting a deal that was as fair to me as it was to anyone else. Even last year at the basketball games when "Row AA" was put in front of Row A, and then the Carolina freshman team and some staunch UNC rooters came in and sat in front of the Wolfpack fans, the question came to mind, "What letter comes before (Row) A? In that case those of us who fought the chill morning winds thought we had been "rooked", but said nothing openly.

Monday morning of this week the Coliseum (mis-) management again tried to hoodwink the early risers who like to see the Wolfpack in action. This time the incident was too good to pass over as a mistake.

To begin at the beginning, which was 5:05 a.m., when I "happened" to stroll down to the Coliseum to get in line (the time will be verified by the Security Officer who made the early morning rounds), I was lucky enough to be first in line. Shortly after that time, another student who lives in Chapel Hill drove up and got in line. By 9:00 a.m. there was quite a line.

Then the fireworks started! The ticket seller opened the window and I asked for two student tickets and two date tickets in

"Eddie! Eddie Boy!—ya jus' set a record! Where are ya Eddie?"

Section M, Row A, Nos. 14 and 16, and Section L, Row A, Nos. 13 and 15, which happen to be in the middle. She said she was giving out tickets, as her boss ordered her, in Sections D and E. I tried to explain the rules on the back of the ticket book, which state, "ALL TICKETS (student and dates) for the reserve seat games will be issued on a first-come first-serve basis." After bickering for awhile, I asked to see the "boss". The lady shut the window and came back later with another woman, who I assumed was the boss.

After some more of the same type of argument, the "boss" exclaimed in a voice that could be heard by the student wives just behind me, "TO HELL WITH YOU!" These are her exact words, as will be verified by the students standing around. Once more the window was closed, with a statement to the effect that we could take the tickets she gave us or not get any at all.

With that two of the boys went inside to see Mr. Casey or Mr. Clogston. They came back with the report that someone said we had a legitimate gripe. The window reopened and I let the boy behind me get the tickets he wanted. Again I asked for the tickets mentioned above. This time I got the seats in Section M, however, the other boy had bought all the other seats on the front row. She tried to give me seats on the second row, which I did not care to have, after having waited four hours. Finally she said she would let me have the seats in Section L "just to get rid of me". I thought the battle was won.

Not yet! I looked at the tickets she had deftly slid into an envelope. There for all the world to see, I had tickets on Row E, with the other specifications being the same. Again I asked for Row A, and the seller asked me to pardon her "mistake", which I did. After some ten minutes of wrangling, I finally got the seats on a "first-come, first-serve" basis, a matter which should have taken only a few seconds.

At this time I would like to thank the patient students who were not so early-rising for their cheers (literally) when the argument became violent.

See you at the Wake Forest State game,

Jimmie Eckard

To The Robinson Group

If the Robinson group (E. J. Robinson, president) can tear itself away from its throng of cheering admirers and stop spouting phrases of righteous indignation, it will read my answer to the poorly written, unthinking, "champion-of-the-students" letter which was received by The Technician in the last issue.

In the letter, Mr. Robinson agrees with my views on the parking-ticket issue; he then proceeds to hotly condemn my mentioning that State has with in its ranks a group that I called a "bunch of dumb future-flunkies" . . . and he condemns it in a manner that you would expect from a spoiled child going into a tantrum because somebody has dared hurt its feelings. He draws a long line of conclusions that are perhaps the most illogical assortment of whines ever seen in a college newspaper.

I'm not going to answer your letter, Mr. Robinson, in the same manner and mood yours contained—because most of us here at State don't like to read that type of childish writing. You chose, Mr. Robinson, to twist my words into meaning that almost everybody at State is dumb, and that I am claiming to be smart and sit in judgment, and that my attitude was snobbish. But there is where you messed up—let people read the article which fired you up; then let them read your letter in the last issue. The words will speak for themselves—no explanations or apologies are needed in this column.

But this instance points out a situation of which we have become increasingly aware in regard to student response. There is a group, we don't know how large, of students who can only see one side of college life . . . their side. And their response and judgment of what The Technician has to say is favorable only when this newspaper says "nice" things about the students, only when it backs their every wish, only when it condemns what the majority condemns. Well, guess what—sometimes the students, or a certain group of them, are wrong—dead wrong; and sometimes the majority is not right because it is misinformed. That may be a bitter pill for some of you to swallow, but that is an opinion which has been expressed by people far brighter and far more informed and far wiser than any of us students—many of us will accept that opinion because it makes sense.

So don't ever expect this column to be either a propaganda organ for the administration or, on the other hand, a medium through which to express any and every student gripe—you'll be disappointed if you do; if this column were a puppet for a certain group, it might satisfy that group but it would serve nobody.

We appreciate sincerely the response to the various articles and opinions which have appeared in "Idgad"—the favorable response tells us that point or thought was well-taken; the unfavorable response is equally appreciated when it is written by individuals who are honestly and constructively criticizing something we say.

Write more letters—then we will know you are interested and you can give us a lot of ideas. 5500 heads are a whole lot better than one.

LOUIE,
THE LOUSE

He strolled through a keyhole into my house,
A dignified, well-bred upper-class louse;
He smiled in a most superior way
And said, "Man has just about seen his day.
If you'll take my advice for what it's worth
Treat insects nice, they'll inherit the earth!
Try to be beyond reproach
In your dealings with the roach . . .
Bedbugs, ants and spiders, too.

WHAT'S NEW WITH THE C. U.

Roger Wagner Choral. 8:00 p.m. in the Raleigh Memorial auditorium. This unique choral group, acclaimed by critics as a finest mixed chorus in America, pauses on its second nationwide tour to give you an unforgettable evening of fine music. Included in the program will be excerpts from "Porgy and Bess". This is a program you can not afford to miss.

FREE TO COLLEGE UNION MEMBERS AND THEIR GUESTS. Friday, Feb. 22.

Mardi Gras Dance. College Union Ballroom. 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 23. The gay atmosphere of the Mardi Gras will prevail, complete with balloons and confetti. The dance will be semi-formal and masks will be required to get into the dance. Masks will be on sale at the door. Dave Brown, whose band is well-known as one of the best local dance bands, will supply the music. This is a dance that you and your guests cannot exclude from your plans.

Weekend Movie. This week's movie is "Tap Roots," starring Susan Hayward, Van Heflin, and Boris Karloff. "Tap Roots" is a Civil War drama about a man who tried to stand alone as his nation prepared to go to war around. His fight to keep his valley at peace is a story that you should not miss.

Starlight Club. 8 p.m. in the College Union. Saturday. State's own nightclub will open again this weekend. The Starlight Club offers an inexpensive yet entertaining evening for you and your date. Soft music is supplied by Dan Xavier, of WRAL, who broadcasts his show "Dancing with Dan" directly from the Starlight Room.

Hi-Fi Demonstration. Monday Feb. 25 in Rooms 256-8 in the College Union. This demonstration should be of interest to people who are new at hi-fi as well as the more experienced. The exhibits are supplied through the courtesy of Allied Electronics, of 415 Hillsboro Street. The demonstration is sponsored by the College Union Hobby Committee.

Platter Party. Friday 8:00 p.m. in the College Union Snack Bar. State College students can dance with girls from the surrounding schools until midnight. Free music is supplied by the jukebox.

Everybody had their eye on the Applause-meter at the Coliseum last Saturday night. Everybody except those with their eyes on the cheerleaders. Seems to be a major diversion.

Player's Inc. Here For Two-Night Stand

Players Incorporated, a product of Catholic University in Washington, D. C. and an internationally famed classical repertory company, will be at Pullen Hall for a two-night stand March 1 and March 2. Under the sponsorship of the College Union Theatre Committee, they will present the English farce, Charley's Aunt, at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 1, and Henry IV

(part I), Shakespeare's great adventure play, at 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 2.

Now in their eighth tour of the United States, Players Incorporated was organized in 1949 by Father Gilbert V. Hartke, a Dominican priest and head of the Catholic University Drama Department. He assembled a group of the most able and talented graduates of his Drama Department and with a great deal of sweat and optimism and no capital, Players Incorporated managed to get out on the road in what might have seemed a hopeless pioneering task.

In addition to the touring company, Players now operated year-round with two summer theaters, one at Olney, Maryland, and one at Winoski Park, Vt.

In seven seasons the Players have given more than 800 performances of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing, King Lear, Macbeth, Twelfth Night, Love's Labour's Lost, Othello, Julius Caesar, Shaw's Arms and The Man, Moliere's School For Wives, The Miser and The Would-Be Gentleman.

The productions of Charley's Aunt and Henry IV (Part I) are free to College Union members.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Ken Boekeloo (center foreground) at the scene of a cable installation project in Detroit.

Ten years along in his telephone career

After graduation in 1947 from Kalamazoo College with a B.A. in Physics and Mathematics, Ken Boekeloo joined Michigan Bell Telephone Company as a trainee.

Today, ten years later, Ken is a Division Plant Superintendent in Detroit. Eight district supervisors report to him, and they supervise some 1700 people. Ken is responsible for the installation and maintenance of plant facilities valued at $135,000,000 including more than 500,000 telephones.

A big jump in ten years? Here's what Ken Boekeloo says about it:

"The way the telephone business is growing, you can advance just as fast, and just as far, as you're able. ... And all along the way, from the student period through each assignment, the training and experience you get really prepare you for advancement.

"If you like to make contributions and take responsibility, and if you value the opportunities a growing business can offer, then the telephone company's the place to look for a career."

Ken Boekeloo is one of many young men who are finding rewarding careers in Bell Telephone Companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer can give you more information about all Bell System Companies.

Air Arena Scene of ACC Indoor Games Saturday; Sime to Run

The Atlantic Coast Conference Indoor Games will be held at the State Fair Arena here Saturday with all eight conference schools participating.

Some of the top names in track will be on hand for the dual attraction which also will draw 10 non-conference colleges competing in a special division.

Dave Sime of Duke, Jim Beaty and Dave Scurlock of North Carolina, Burr Grim of Maryland and Henry Davenport of Virginia will be the top performers in the conference division.

Sime, one of the nation's top track stars, will compete in the 100-yard dash and the 70-yard hurdles. He won both events easily last year. Beatty and Scurlock will duel in the mile and 10-mile runs, with Scurlock taking part in the 880.

A three-way battle for team honors is in the making between Maryland, Duke and Carolina. The Terps won last year with 52½ points, beating out Duke with 28 and UNC with 26.

The preliminaries will be held at 10 A.M. and the finals will be run off at 2 o'clock that afternoon. Tickets for the event are on sale at the Reynolds Coliseum box office and the State Fair Arena. The big "Cow Palace" seats over 5,000.

In the freshman division, State, Duke, Carolina, Maryland and Virginia will field strong squads capable of winning top honors. About 120 boys have entered from the eight schools.

Colleges entered in the non-conference division are Davidson, East Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, EMI, Florida State, Roanoke, Presbyterian and Mitchell.

Caro. Bumps Pack 86-57 for 21st Win

Carolina's undefeated Tar Heels continued on their way with a rather easy 86-57 victory over State's Wolfpack. It was Carolina's 21st win and left the Pack with a 12-9 over-all mark.

State's "Sophomores" just couldn't do anything right in Woolen Gym and ended up the evening with a sub-par 35.4% from the floor. Junior Guard Whitey Bell was the only thing that resembled a ball-player as he collected 17 points for top honors.

Rosenbluth, Brennen, and Kearns were just too much for the Pack this time but every dog has his day and with the ACC merry-go-round set for next month, who knows whose day will be next!!!!

REACTOR BEGINS OPERATION

Dr. J. H. Lampe, dean of engineering at State College, announced on January 5 that the college is designing a high-powered reactor — perhaps 10 times more powerful and versatile than the present facility—which will be used for both training and research and will be activated during 1957.

The present reactor, when rebuilt, will operate at a power of less than 500 watts.

GROWTH IN YOUR CAREER

There's no question about the importance of engineering at The Babcock & Wilcox Company. In whatever activity you choose, you'll work with engineers at B&W. Engineering is emphasized throughout the company, from Management through the diversified activities of Sales, Manufacturing, Quality Control, Field Erection, Service, Research, Development, and Design.

Engineers at B&W are the key men—or those who will become key men. And your progress is not restricted to a special phase of engineering because of the very nature of the company and its integrated products, services, and activities. There is much to choose from—enough to give you every opportunity to make sure you're doing what you want to do, and to grow in your job.

Ask any member of your faculty about B&W's engineering, business, and financial reputation. And for details about what the future can hold for you at B&W, our booklet "Opportunities with Babcock & Wilcox," details our training plan. Your college placement officer will give you a copy when you talk to him about an interview with B&W representatives, who will be on your campus on:

Pack Hopes to Overcome "Slump" Saturday as They Host Villanova

North Carolina State, beaten in its last two starts, plays host to Villanova in an inter-sectional contest beginning at 8:15. The State freshmen will meet Norfolk Navy Air Station in the 6 o'clock preliminary.

Coach Al Severance's Wildcats, a Dixie Classic participant in 1955, have experienced an up-and-down season and will bring an 8-12 record to Raleigh. But Villanova owns upsets over Indiana and Seton Hall and can be tough.

"I saw Villanova beat Indiana," Coach Everett Case said, "and I thought they were sensational. I just don't understand how any team can push them around."

The Wildcats have been hit hard by injuries and graduation, the same as the Wolfpack, and both teams will be relying heavily upon sophomores.

Then there's this matter of the jinx. Villanova is one of the few teams which holds a series edge over the Wolfpack. In 13 games, the Wildcats have won eight. They were the first team ever to score 100 points on State, running up a 107-96 win in 1954-55.
