Proposed Plan Sets Price of Dollar On Date Tickets

By Terry Lathrop
Coliseum-Athletic Director Roy Clogston met with a group from Student Government yesterday afternoon to discuss the student ticket and parking problems.

Although only eight members of S.G. showed for the meeting, several important points were discussed and conclusions were reached about what type of ticket plan would be proposed for official adoption next year.

ID Card

An identification card with the photograph of the student will be used for both identification and admission to non-reserved seat athletic events. Date tickets, if the proposal is adopted, will be one dollar for both football and basketball non-reserved games. Tickets for reserved seat games for students will be one dollar also. This would apply at all times.

Clogston said that if the new plan is put into effect, the Athletic Department will help the college pay the costs of the new cards, which will replace the athletic books.

Clogston also announced that he would specify dates for pick-up of reserved game tickets at the beginning of the season so that present confusion could be alleviated.

Parking

When questioned by the group about the parking lot, Clogston said that the lot had only been closed three times for regular season games; on Tuesdays each time. He also said that the lots had never been closed at 8:00 a.m. as alleged by The Technician last week. Approximately 11:00 or 12:00 were said to be the earliest hours which the Coliseum management had ever closed the lot.

John Lane, S.G. Vice-President said that he expected the material would pass student government and go to the Athletic Council in approximately the form decided on by the group today.

Student Government Passes Two Resolutions About Riot Coverage

By George Thomason

Two resolutions concerning the "riot" during the ACC tournament were adopted by the Student Government at a meeting on Thursday, March 14. The first resolution, which censured the local newspapers for printing unsubstantiated, sensational news-items, was introduced by Senator William B. Kay, and was passed unanimously. On the other side of the picture, Senator Cecil C. Brooks, introduced a resolution which commended radio station WRAL for presenting an interview with campus leaders and a spokesman from the Raleigh Police Department.

The question as to whether money should be allocated for ballot boxes and the Air Force ROTC Drill Team were discussed at considerable length. Senator Brooks reported on the cost of constructing ten additional ballot boxes which would facilitate earlier counting of

Food Drive Collects 6600 Pounds of Food

One of the most successful "Greek Week" programs ever staged by the college's Interfraternity Council came to a close last Friday night as over 800 fraternity men and their guests gathered at the cafeteria for a banquet and presentation of awards.

The highlight of the week's program was a canned food drive for the Wake County Welfare Association. Around 6,600 pounds of food were collected by the fraternity men of State College, and turned over to the association.

For the second straight year Sigma Nu fraternity took first place amount the 17 fraternities as they turned in 1,079 lbs. of food. They received the IFC's Service Trophy which is presented each year to the winner.

The Farm House Fraternity walked off with the IFC's Scholarship award for the third consecutive year. The award is given to the fraternity that has the highest average during the past year. The Farm House scholarship requirements for membership are the same as the other social fraternities—a "C," or 2,000.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's pledge class was awarded the freshman scholarship cup given each year by Sigma Pi Fraternity to the pledge class with the highest over-all average for the first semester. The class's average was 2.950.

Lindsay R. Wichard, professor of English at State, was the principal speaker and gave an enlightening talk on the "Role of the Fraternity Man at State College."

IFC President Bill Greene recognized the individuals who served on the Council during the past year with the presentation keys.

Judicial Board Dismisses Charges Against Students

The State College Judicial Board met last Thursday night to consider charges brought against the twenty-six students involved in the riot of March 7. All charges against the students were dismissed, according to a representative of the Board.

The charge brought against the students was for ungentlemanly conduct. They had been tried previously by the Raleigh City Police Court.

In announcing the results of the trial, Judicial Board Chairman Bob Lyne announced that the Board would follow a new and definite policy henceforth on penalties for "mob action" incidents on the campus.

The policy, simply stated, says that the apprehension of any dent on the scene of any type of mob violence will be considered prima facie evidence of the student's participation in the mob violence, unless circumstances or subsequent testimony clearly indicate otherwise.

According to Lyne, this will mean that students must exercise extremely good judgment with regard to any type of mob violence; that is, they will not be able to remain on the scene of mob violence even if they have been previously minding their own business, and will not be able to observe the mob in action on the scene, even if they are prompted to do so solely by curiosity.

Lyne said that by following this policy, students will eliminate all possibilities of being arrested by local police. "The consequences of such arrests," he said, "are painfully familiar to many of us at this time."

"Violations," Lyne continued, "will, of course, come under the jurisdiction of the Campus Code, and will accordingly be tried by the Judicial Board. Panty raids will definitely come under the heading of mob violence."

C U Plans Robert Frost Appearance

Robert Frost, one of America's greatest poets, will be the guest of the College Union Library Committee as he reads from his own works on Friday, March 22, at 8 p.m. in the Textile Auditorium. The event is free to all College Union members.

A four time winner of the Pulitzer Prize for the best poetry of the year, Frost has also worked as a farmer, a hobbler in a Massachusetts mill, a shoemaker, and a teacher in country schools.

Frost was first recognized abroad and his first two books were published while he was living in England. These were A Boy's Will, published when he was 38, and North of Boston, which came off the press a year later.

The most characteristic feature of his work, according to Mark Van Doren, is the conversational tone he builds into verse. "Whether in dialogue or in lyric, his poems are people talking."

The March 22 date replaces the March 19 date listed on the College Union calendar for a "Book Talk."

C.U. Is Scene of Lintdodger's Ball

Students from State's School of Textiles danced at their annual "Lintdodgers Ball" in the College Union Saturday night. Music was furnished by the Duke Ambassadors as the "Lintdodgers" and their dates danced from eight 'til midnight.

Townsend Enters Race for Senior Class President

It was announced yesterday that Guy Townsend has entered his name in the race for President of the Senior Class. Following is a statement made by Townsend to The Technician last night.

"As a candidate for president of the Senior Class, I will at this time endeavor to explain and give to you, the Class of 1958, a true picture of the responsibilities that I as Senior Class President feel are desired by the members of our class, I believe that an efficient but simple

No Tape For Posters?

At the last meeting of the Student Government, a committee was appointed to discuss with President Jim Nolan and Chancellor Bostian the recent decision by J. McCree Smith that no tape could be used in posting election posters.

We urge this committee to press hard for the students' right in this matter.

Smith has said that students could use string to put their posters up—just string. He suggested that the politicians tie their posters to lamp posts and tack them to bulletin boards—but not to tape them on anything.

We agree with M & O on one point. Tape should not be used inside buildings, since the removal of the tape might deface the wall by removing some of the paint. But we disagree on the point that tape should be prohibited in all places—such as on brick walls or in tunnels. How can tape possibly deface the side of a brick wall or hurt cement?

Smith said that what he disliked most about the tape was that the students often left the four corners of their posters on the wall when the posters were removed. We sympathize with him on this and think that students must be made responsible for the removal of all of their posters. If they violate this, they should be penalized just as if they violated any of the other election rules.

But for Mr. Smith to rule out tape in all cases is, to say the least, entirely unnecessary.

It is a familiar scene at election time at State to see posters taped to the front of the Cafeteria, the tunnel entrances, and other oft-frequented places. Not merely because it always has been done, but mainly because there is no reason for it not to be done, we say that students should not be prohibited from using tape to put up their election posters.

We would like to see the expression on Smith's face when he finds that some bright politician has driven a nail into the side of a building or tunnel so that he might have something from which to "string" his poster.

Again we urge the Student Government committee to work for the removal of this ruling.

Campaign Publicity

We haven't had many seekers after free publicity for the coming campaigns over to see us yet.

We, as always, will be delighted to handle as much of the material submitted to us as we can. We reserve the right to use what we want to, but we will promise unqualifiedly to use it impartially and give everyone as good a "break" as possible.

If you want to save on printing your own placards etc., drop in and talk to us some night, (Wednesday preferably) and we'll do what we can.

By the way, we also have ad space available. (Yes there is some left).

To the Editor:

I would like to make a few impersonal comments pertaining to the forthcoming S.G. elections. In the past few years I have been rather unenthusiastic about elections, mainly because candidates tend to make quite a few promises which cannot, and will not, be kept.

This year, however, I have developed a keen interest in the presidential race because I firmly believe that there is finally a man running with the student's interests in mind.

As a member of the S.G. I attended what was in my estimation one of the most important meetings of the year. We met with Roy Clogston, Director of Athletics, and during the course of our discussion many misconceptions concerning the Athletic Department were cleared up. It was easy to see why the misconceptions were present—students were in the dark again.

Many issues were discussed and invariably we got around to student books. Mr. Clogston finally agreed that one dollar date tickets were a definite possibility and that he was all for them.

The thing which impressed me most was the attendance of George Cochran and his campaign manager, Bob Kennel. In the last issue of The Technician I remember reading his platform. In it the possibility of lowering date ticket prices to one dollar was discussed. By attending the meeting, I feel that this man showed he is sincere in his platform, and that he is working for the betterment of the school, not himself.

Another fact that has impressed me is that as President of the Junior Class, George has helped lower the base rent of the Coliseum. This took much work and cooperation from and with the administration. An S.G. president must be able to do this.

In my estimation his platform is great and completely feasible. I, for one, am glad to see somebody finally run that has the interests of all students at heart.

Soft Ground...

We are in agreement with the Judicial Board for their action regarding the students brought before them for their part in the riot last week. Dismissal of charges was about the only course open to the Board, though it might be construed by some as letting the people off with a very light penalty. Be that as it may, it is now past history.

We are much more concerned with the Board's ruling about mob action in the future.

They have said that anyone caught in the vicinity of a "mob" action will be assumed to be part of that action until facts are presented to prove otherwise.

We think their statement is unfortunate in two ways . . . and both are basic American rights which are part of the foundation of our country.

The first of these is the freedom of assembly. They have not said "no assembly," but they have put students in a rather unfortunate position. Granted that this is fine for panty raids and riots such as occurred two weeks ago, but what about, for instance, pep rallies? Suppose the local police said a spontaneous pep rally was disturbing the peace . . . the J-Board would be bound to act by their new policy. Suppose a group got together for some other reason and got a little large . . . someone could say "mob action" and the J-Board would be out on a limb created by their own policy. Restrictions on group gatherings are one thing as compared to the restrictions on the behavior of group gatherings.

Our other objection to the new policy lies in pre-judgment of those found in the area of a riot or "mob." This is one of the very points on which the Raleigh police were criticized. It would be too easy to turn this into a "guilty without trial" deal . . . another rather basic violation of American privileges. The student would be guilty until proved innocent rather than vice-versa.

Actually the Judicial Board ruling contains no real threat to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. But it has dangerous leanings in deciding action to be taken in case of an eventuality. It really does not change present policy, because certainly a man might now be charged rightfully of being involved in a riot if he were nearby . . . until he cleared himself. We object primarily to the wording which we were supplied . . . it could lead to trouble. Let us hope that the ruling is wisely interpreted . . . its ideas are basically sound and should deter such actions as those the night of March 7.

dollars was authorized for this construction. A motion, by secretary Joel Parker, also was passed to allot the Air Force Drill Team one hundred and twenty dollars to help finance their trip to the Azalea Festival the last of March.

Senator Tom Davis reported that Dempsey Dumpsters are supposed to be steam cleaned when emptied, and that the M & O Department plans more careful checks in the future to insure proper cleaning. In regard to the investigation as to the criteria for hiring security officers, Student Government was informed the M & O hires security officers, and Mr. J. McCree Smith investigates their background. Discussion of this matter closed when the fact that M & O is authorized only forty to forty-five dollars per week to pay such personnel was brought out.

Other items, which were discussed more briefly, included the traffic bill, which having been declared unconstitutional by the judicial board, was again referred to a committee for revision. Two matters in regard to the coming election received attention: a committee was appointed. Two hundred and fifty pointed to discuss with President Jim Nolan and Chancellor Boston the recent decision by Mr. J. McCree Smith that no tape could be used in posting election posters; and a motion was passed to use a pre-registration system of voting this year to insure only one vote per student.

Much interest was expressed in the major resolution of Senator Kay concerning the "riot" publicity. The resolution adopted by SG asserts that the local newspaper coverage contained a number of mis-truths, and denounces these papers for using such sensation creating statements as "tires slashed," "cars overturned," and for attributing "riot" action to the "majority" of the student body.

The other major item of consideration, that of money allocations, was thoroughly reported upon by Senator Brooks in the request for an allotment for additional ballot boxes to supplement each present box. The Senator's proposal was that first ballot boxes be taken to the YMCA by twelve o'clock noon—plan will be more effective by concentrating on several distinct problems rather than numerous secondary points. As president, so that ballot counting could begin immediately. These first boxes would be replaced by the additional boxes requested in the motion. Prices for pine and plywood boxes were quoted; no action was taken upon an offer by a member of the group to provide the wood.

A motion was passed authorizing the allocation of two hundred and fifty dollars for the construction of the boxes, with no restrictions being made as to the procedure of the expenditure.

The second item in the money allocation group, that of helping finance the Air Force Drill Team in a trip to the Azalea Festival, met with a small degree of opposition. Some members of the legislature, however, felt that the school or the Air Force should meet the expenses which the Drill Team would incur, and that such should not come under the jurisdiction of the Student Government.

I would act in that capacity to further the work done by Roger Hill on the Diplomas and Invitations.

Diplomas

"The decision made this year was only tentative. This means that next year's Senior Class must finish the excellent work already started. After discussing the situation with Roger, I am sure that next year, we as Seniors will have not only a permanent solution, but diplomas of which we can be proud. I will at all times try to keep the Senior Class informed of developments concerning the diploma and any other problems that may arise. I pledge to work diligently with the other officers of the class and make 1958 a successful year.

Asks Support

"As a candidate in the coming election, I would like your support. I realize that this job is a responsible one, but I feel that my interest, knowledge and background concerning such responsibilities are adequate to perform a good job as president of the Senior Class."

Red - White Grid Game Saturday

A sneak preview of next year's North Carolina State football team will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Riddick Stadium.

Coach Eare Edwards, will unveil his fourth edition of the Wolfpack in the annual Red-White intrasquad game, sponsored by the State College Monogram Club.

The game is open to the public and $1.00 admission will be charged. The Monogram Club announced that high school players will be admitted free if accompanied by their coach.

Coach Edwards has been optimistic during spring practice. "We have accomplished quite a bit," he said, "but I'm anxious to see the boys in action under game conditions. I think we will be improved from last year."

Twenty lettermen have been on hand for spring practice, which got underway Feb. 16, including one at each position on the tentative starting team. Only one starter—tackle John Szuchan—was lost by graduation.

"We should have a good running attack, good passing, and more experience than usual," Edwards declared. "Furthermore, our bench will be stronger since several newcomers figure prominently in our plans. I can't help but be optimistic."

Halfbacks Dick Christy and Dick Hunter, ends John Collar and Bob Pepe and guard Francis Tokar are the Wolfpack's top stars.

-Notes-

Students are reminded the qualification rounds for the C. U.'s Bowling tournament can now be rolled at the Man-Mu Alleys. (March 18-30)

Jack Kramer's pro tennis tour comes to the Coliseum within the next few weeks as do the Harlem Globetrotters vs the College All-Stars in the World Series of Basketball. Tickets for both events are available at the box office.

Many fans watching Saturday night's Carolina-Canisius game on TV were reminded of last year's four-overtime thriller in which the Wolfpack saw their NCAA title hopes killed by the same team.

Tennis

Coach John Kenfield, Jr. has issued a call to all students interested in trying out for the varsity and freshman tennis teams. Students may contact coach Kenfield either at the gym or on the tennis courts each afternoon after 4:00.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Professors practice what they preach... and vice versa

Following a practice of twenty years, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft will again welcome a group of college professors as members of the engineering staff during the coming summer months.

Last year our "summer professors" represented colleges from coast to coast. They tackled important projects in such diverse fields as instrumentation and vibration, combustion, compressible flow, and materials development. Despite the limited time available to these men, they made significant contributions to our overall effort.

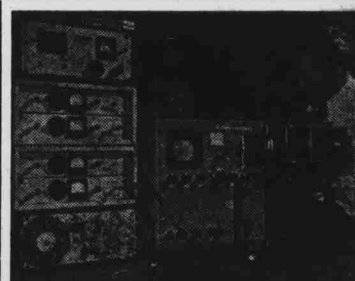

Though it was to be expected that both the company and the participating professors might benefit directly from such a program, the sphere of influence has been much broader.
