Houtz Discusses Married Housing

Fred Houtz, presidential candidate for the student body, said today, "many students helped in getting the married housing bill before the State Legislature." He was speaking of his job as Chairman of the Student Housing Committee appointed by the Student Government. As only one example, Houtz mentioned the States Mates sending of letters and making of telephone calls to all married students. According to Houtz, the bill, right now, is in New York being checked by bond attorneys and should come before the General Assembly next Wednesday, March 27. He says it is too early to tell how the bill will fare, but as yet "there has been no organized opposition to the bill."

When asked about the car registration fee, Houtz's comment was: "I don't like it but from the looks of things I am afraid we will have to keep it."

"Traffic fines seem to be decreasing, and the students need parking areas." "The state is having difficulty providing parking for the faculty, so I don't think the students are going to get much help." "After checking the cost of the parking lots, I feel the fee should be continued, and I would like to see the strip by Dunn Avenue paved right away."

Houtz also stated that he did not want to make a lot of promises to the students. "I believe the thing to do is to tell the students the type of government I would like to have, and my feelings on particular matters." "I would have a strong executive policy and a lot of coordination between committees so that the large amount of hard work done by the Student Government would not be lost." "For example, the committee investigating student stores recently proposed to move the main store under the YMCA to the site of the old zoology building, yet at the beginning of the school term, the Traffic Committee passed a recommendation that

Candidates Listed For Publications Posts

Candidates for publications posts at State next year were announced last week at a regular meeting of the campus publications board.

At the time of the meeting, Wednesday night, only a single candidate had placed his name in nomination in the "sign-up" book in the Student Affairs office. Apparently all posts will be uncontested.

David Barnhardt, present Managing Editor of The Technician, has placed his name in the running for editor of the campus paper next year, and Loyd Kirk, present Assistant Business Manager, will run for Business Manager.

Candidates for Editor and Business Manager of the Agromeck are Dick Chalmers and Alex Hall respectively. Both are members of the staff at present.

Bill Bradley has announced his candidacy for Manager of the campus radio station, WVWP, while Bill Kincheloe has placed his name on the ballot for Business Manager of the station.

All the names of the men will appear on the ballot in the primary election on April 3, but, as they are unopposed, will not be on the ballot for the general election on April 10.

Nominees for posts on departmental publications, which are not subject to campus election, include Jim Hunt and Charles Brinkley for Editor and Business Manager of the Agriculturist, Ted Hilbourne and Ken Summerville for the respective posts on the Pine-tum and Bob Deans and Stanley Berman for the corresponding staff positions on the Teatle Forum. No information was available concerning candidates for offices on the Southern Engineer.

Billy May's band, under the capable direction of Sam Donahue, played a fine dance for State's military men Saturday night. Pictured here are the bandstand and some of the dancers.

Ralph Marterie Featured at Dance

Ralph Marterie and His Down Beat Orchestra will furnish the music for the Freshman-Sophomore Dance Saturday in the Coliseum beginning at 8 o'clock.

Music for the concert, which begins at 3 in the Rose Garden of the Raleigh Little Theater will also be presented by the Marterie ensemble.

Television station WUNC-TV will televise a portion of the proceedings over Channel 4. It will be the first time that a dance at State College has been televised.

Bids can be picked up at the College Union daily from 12 to 2 and from 6 to 9 through Friday. No bids will be distributed after Friday.

The formal dance will be for Freshmen and Sophomores only. However, the afternoon concert will be open to the general public at one dollar per couple.

Invitations Can Be Ordered Fri. In College Union

Roger Post Hill, Senior Class President, announced Sunday night that invitations will be ordered on Friday, March 29, for Seniors who have not previously ordered.

Orders may be made in the basement of the College Union from one to six in the afternoon only Friday.

Invitation Change
Several changes have been made in the previously announced design for the invitations. The tower and seal on the front will be omitted since they are not available at the present time at the campus print shop.

Four hundred and seventy four Seniors out of approximately eight hundred have signed up for the old style diploma, said Hill. Seniors who did not sign up for the old style diploma will automatically receive the new version, the Class President stated.

Hutchins Runs for Judicial Board Office

Charles R. (Bob) Hutchins announced today his candidacy for the Judicial Board from the Senior class.

In his announcement Bob stated, "I consider the Judicial Board to be one of the most important student offices on campus. The Judicial Board is a challenge to any man seeking a position, to bring justice and equality before the entire school without allowing bias or prejudice to control the outcome."

I feel that I am capable of maintaining the high standards upon which our Judicial Board operates."

Bob is a Junior in Nuclear Engineering, and is a member of several honorary societies including Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi. He has been very active in the technical societies and their activities, serving this year as secretary of AIP. He has also served as a delegate to

Denton Announces Candidacy for Post

Donald Denton has announced his candidacy for President of the Senior Class. A statement of his platform follows:

"By virtue of working with this year's Senior Class officers, I feel that there is only one issue of major significance for the rising senior class, and that is the diploma issue which has largely been cleared up this year. It is only a matter of a short time until a permanent diploma is established. The Chancellor will appoint a committee next year to settle the issue once and for all, and the senior class president will probably be on this committee.

If elected president I will work diligently towards securing the diploma that the senior class wants.

As far as other promises are concerned, I will not make any radical statements of sweeping reforms or sensational innovations which would come if I were elected, rather I promise that if other projects beneficial to the senior class are suggested or present themselves otherwise, I along with the other senior class officers will pursue them vigorously.

As far as my qualifications are concerned, I have had experience as class officer twice before, and therefore I am familiar with class problems. Other activities which I have engaged in include: CU Board of Chairmen; CU Board of Directors; Baptist Student Union Council; Technician Staff; Varsity tennis, and Arnold Air Society Secretary."

Hunt Is Candidate For S. G. Veep

Jimmy Hunt, rising junior in Agricultural Education, today announced his candidacy for Vice President of the Student Government.

"The office of Vice President calls for experience and ability in presiding over the meetings of the Student Government Legislature," said Hunt. "It also necessitates a thorough knowledge of the intricacies of Legislative committee work."

Directing his statement to State College students, Hunt said, "The Legislature is your governing body." "It is made up of your representatives." "If elected to this office, I promise to do everything within my power to see that the works of the Legislature are carried on fairly and with your best interests in mind."

Hunt has been very active in student activities since coming to State College. He has served in various capacities in YDC, Ag Club, Ag Ed Club, and other organizations. Friends of Hunt point especially to his service as State FFA President last year and as a Student Government Senator for the past two years. Hunt is presently Chairman of the Student Government Rules Committee.

"I am not running on a platform."

Elections:

With this issue, The Technician presents the second in a series of three articles by its staff on the major candidates for Student Government, the Presidential candidates. Other material has appeared in the paper about each of the men, but it has been unsolicited and largely the product of their campaign managers and interested students.

We have two remaining issues before the primary on April 3. Due to press time limitations, we can never run over four pages in our Monday paper and will be rather short on space. We would like to take this opportunity to urge all candidates to submit the majority of their campaign material this week, before tomorrow night if possible, so that we may be able to use as much of it as possible.

We would also like to take this opportunity to state again that the paper and its editorial and news staff have taken every measure possible to be fair and impartial to all candidates. In the case of the major offices we have endeavored to give as equal space and coverage as possible and we have endeavored to use all material submitted to us by candidates for the minor offices.

We think the stories on the three candidates for President, written by George Thomason in collaboration with each man's campaign manager, have given a solid account of their platform and intentions. We cannot urge too strongly that students express their opinions on various issues on which their platforms are opposed by carefully reading the articles and considering their vote.

Don't let popularity, records, campaign tricks or endorsements decide your vote . . . look carefully at all statements and decide what you want done next year. You are the voters and your votes will express your opinions . . . don't waste them. . .

Old Friend!

Raleigh Times Reporter Charlie Hamilton, an old State grad himself, had a real interesting article on State's Wolfpack Club the other night in the Times.

Duplication here would be rather useless, but if any of the students are interested in getting a few more facts about the why's and wherefore's of the ticket and parking situation, our old friend, "genial, happy-talking" Harry Stewart, director of the Club had some right straight answers.

Congratulations are in order, too, for Charlie. We have filed the story for posterity. It sure did have some interesting facts.

WVWP Manager Announces

WVWP has made free air time available to all candidates for student office who wish to use this time to further their campaigns. A total of five minutes will be given to any candidate for President or Vice-President of the Student Government and three minutes will be allowed all other candidates. This time may be used by the candidates as he sees fit, either using the entire time for one talk or dividing the time between no more than three separate periods.

This shall constitute notice to all candidates and no further notice will be given.

All talks must be made live or by tape recording by the candidate or by someone not on the staff of WVWP. No WVWP announcer will speak on behalf of any candidate. Typewritten copy for live talks or tape recordings must be available to the station at least 48 hours before the scheduled broadcast time. All time will be scheduled on a first-come-first-serve basis as time permits.

To the Editor:

Unlike a previous writer to this column, who is now serving as a senior representative in our Student Legislature but states that he has been unconcerned with student elections, I, to the contrary, have been vitally interested in all the past developments that have taken place in our student elections.

As I am a rising sophomore here at State College I, along with my class mates, will probably be affected by the forthcoming student government elections as much as any group of people here. For this reason I would like to express my opinion about one of the candidates that is running for President of the Student Government.

I have known Dan Yager since the day I arrived on this campus. Since making his acquaintance at freshman orientation, I have found that he is one of the most straight forward, sincere, and deep thinking students at State College. I have been particularly impressed with the skill and clarity with which he has prepared himself through his three years for the position he now seeks. I do not think that any student on this campus is better prepared or more desirous to do a good job in representing the Student Body.

As to Dan Yager's platform, I would like to say that I am particularly impressed with his approach to the economic position of all the students here. In my opinion, we could enjoy substantial savings with the student discount program, which he advocates. As many articles of clothing, gallons of gasoline and other commodities as we purchase from the merchants here in Raleigh, I certainly think it only fair that we should receive a discount on these articles. Since Dan Yager is the only candidate proposing such a system I think that we would be very wise to take advantage of his approach.

Dan is opposed to the new cut system that is being pushed by his opposition. It will be a bad day at State when this system is adopted. No freshman or sophomore will be able to get excused from class cuts exceeding a certain number regardless of extenuating circumstances. Dan Yager is directly opposed to this legislation and for this reason I think most of our freshmen and sophomores should seek to protect themselves and their predecessors from such injustices by voting for Dan Yager on April 3rd.

Eddie Knox
Vice-President
Freshman Class

To the Editor:

I have heard many students at State say that the elections we hold each year depend more on the amount of work done by the campaign managers than the qualifications of the candidates, because the large majority of the students never get to meet the candidates, to check their records, or to judge their characters, first hand. It is unfortunate that many of us have voted in the past for a candidate merely because of an attractive poster or a tricky catchline. It was all we could do! We had nothing else to go on.

The Technician has done a fine job remedying that situation this year by presenting the platforms of the different candidates for president of the Student Government. However, none of the candidates has much of a chance to get up and make a speech "off the stump" to a large group of students. Feeling that such speeches would help make our elections fairer Thirty and Three Honor Society and the College Union Forum Committee are giving the Presidential candidates an opportunity to outline their platforms and to answer all questions we students might have. The program will be held tomorrow night at eight o'clock in the College Union Ballroom.

There are many important issues that must be determined by the student government next year, and most of these will be campaign issues. There are questions in many students' minds about campus parking, car registration, the paving of our mud paths, our honor system policy, etc. I hope that those students will be on hand in the ballroom tomorrow night when the Presidential candidates explain their positions on these and other issues, and not just for the glory of the organizations presenting the program. If there are enough students present, then whoever is elected will know that there is a nucleus of men on the campus who expect quite a lot of him while he is in office and he will feel a stronger sense of responsibility, knowing that the students elected him and not his posters.

readers to regard my remarks as those coming from a mere child. After hearing so much about the forthcoming elections, however, I am prompted to make a few observations.

I have had the opportunity to serve in the student government here at State this year. This has given me an opportunity to become more acquainted with student government work and its leaders here on campus. It has made me more cognizant of the fact that State College must have an exceptionally good leader at the head of its fine student government. We here at State should be proud of the fact that our student government is rated second best in the entire United States. This should further cause us to want the best possible leadership.

Serving in the legislature this year has provided me with a wonderful opportunity to observe some of our finest campus leaders. Among these has been one of the candidates for student government president. I have watched George Cochran about his duties in the student government with great enthusiasm and ability. His leadership and fine work on campus impressed me to the point that I feel that he is the man we need to head our student government next year. Though one candidate, I notice, see to regard the dollar date tie as almost a certainty, perhaps it would be wise for us to consider that George Cochran is one of the leaders in this movement. Not only the dollar date ticket problem, but the Coliseum rental problem as well.

The functioning of the State College community is becoming more complicated and complex each year. We students here at State need a man at the head of our community who will sponsor our rights when the occasion arises. This is the reason I would like to see George Cochran brought to the head of N. C. State Student Government.

A touchdown by halfback Dave Meloni with only 1:39 left to play gave the Whites a thrilling 21-17 win over the Reds as North Carolina State brought to a close its spring grid drills.

Halfback Dick Christy turned in the afternoons best performance, as he tallied two touchdowns for the Reds, kicked a field goal, several extra points, and was just all over Riddick Stadium.

Edwards singled out along with Christy the performance of halfback Jay Mangerum who passed for the winning TD, scored one himself and sparked the White's offensive all afternoon.

"A big company works for me..."

JOHN D. EVANS, University of Pennsylvania, 1952

"I began working on a training program for General Electric in the summer of '52. Right now, I'm 'Employee and Plant Community Relations Manager' of my company's new plant in Burlington, Iowa. One of the advantages I found in working for a big company such as General Electric is that, because of its size, it is able to give me, and other college-graduate employees like me, a wide variety of training and experience in any one of 159 plants all over the country. Through an extensive on-the-job training program, it is providing me with the opportunity to become one of the top men in my field, and I know that as long as I apply myself to each job, I'll keep moving up. The way I look at it, General Electric is helping me help myself. That's why I say I'm working for a big company, but a big company works for me, too."

size. 27-year-old John Evans is just one example of the thousands of college graduates at General Electric, each being given the opportunity for self-development so that he may grow and realize his full potential.

As our nation's economy continues to expand in the years ahead, thousands of young people of leadership caliber will be needed to fill new positions of responsibility in American industry. General Electric feels that by assisting young people like John Evans in a planned program of personal growth, we have found one way of meeting this need.

A Manager of Employee and Plant Community Relations at General Electric holds a responsible position: he handles employee benefits, health and safety, training, wage and salary administration, and community relations.
