Friday and Saturday offers the Engineers' Exposition, Saturday night will be spotlighted by Carnival night at the College Union, and Sunday will feature the annual Inter-Fraternal Sing, sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. Also invitations during this event are extended by the Deans of each School for visitation with faculty members for discussion and information.

Yager Commends Azalea Paraders

In a statement released to the Technician Dan Yager, Presidential Candidate for Student Government, stated that he had just returned from the Azalea Festival where the marching units of State College made a wonderful impression on the thousands of people watching the parade. The members of these units and all State students who were in Wilmington for the week-end are to be congratulated for the fine showing they made.

Dan re-emphasized the major points in his platform which includes a Student Discount Program which is emphasized by the National Students Association, and continuing work on the traffic problem with a goal of continuing the privilege of non restricted use of cars. He also stated that a full time physician was a necessity. He emphasized fraternity row, pledging 100 per cent support of this proposal.

Dan also emphasized that the issues were before the students and he felt confident that the

Houtz Supports Clogston On Date Tickets

Presidential candidate Fred Houtz elaborated today on his ideas toward student athletic tickets. Houtz stated:

"I strongly support Coliseum Athletic Director Roy Clogston's recommendation for $1.00 date tickets, and pledge my support to see that this proposal is approved."

"With regard to reserved seat basketball games, however, I recommend the Coliseum have a proportionate number of ticket windows to hand out student tickets as windows selling tickets to the public. I sympathize with the students who waited in lines up to 300 for reserved seats this season, while windows selling tickets to the public were relatively unbusy. I believe just as many windows should be open to the students as open to the public."

"With this arrangement, I would also suggest that each window hand out tickets for a particular section. In this way students may select the section they wish to sit in and get into that line. This procedure would eliminate the unfairness in the present system whereby a student at the end of the line may receive better tickets than the students in the middle of the line because of the section seating arrangement."

With regard to the recent removal of the base rental fee for the Coliseum, Houtz continued:

"There is an unfair stipulation in the present plan that student organizations pay only the costs of preparing the Coliseum for an event, and the cost of keeping the Coliseum open. For example, one organization (See HOUTZ, page 4)

Interfraternity Sing Planned for April 14

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity announced final plans for the Interfraternity Sing last week. For the sixth consecutive year Pi Kappa Phi will sponsor the Interfraternity Sing with a bronze plaque to be presented to the winners on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., April 14 at the College Union. Ham Morton, in charge of arrangements, said, "Each Fraternity could enter two songs or Choral arrangements. The rules do not restrict any group to a certain size. Participation may range from solo to the entire Fraternity."

Jimmy Capps, announcer for WPTF, will be Master of Ceremonies for the program. Banks Talley, Dean of Student Activities, will present the awards to the winners. Past champions include Sigma Chi, 1952-53, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 1954-55, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, 1956. The coveted award is a bronze plaque which may be displayed in the Winning Fraternity's house for a period of one year.

Parents' Weekend

In the midst of all the campus elections hubub, the members of Golden Chain, with the aid of several other organizations on campus, are busily making plans for the annual Parent's Weekend to be held April 13 and 14.

The event will be well-publicized in the homes of all parents, as copies of the program and of this Technician have gone to them.

Plans have been made to open nearly every activity of the college to the parents so that they may see, appreciate, and understand what State and her students are doing. Classes will permit visiting, the Engineers' Fair will be in full swing, Alpha Phi Omega will conduct tours of the other schools, numerous social functions will be presented for and in honor of the parents . . . in short it will open the college to the parents.

We can't urge too strongly that each student contact his parents and urge to them to come to State for the Saturday and Sunday of that weekend.

And since the Technician is going to all the parents through the mails this week, we would like to invite every parent to come and enjoy the weekend. We offer not only State College, but the city of Raleigh with all its attractions.

See you a week from Saturday.

Don't Be An April Fool

Don't let the date get you.
Don't be an April fool.

Follow the advice of the old sage who said, "Don't believe anything you hear and only half of what you see."

As we said last week, a lot of things have been said and will be said and are being said by office-seekers that are either flagrant promises or out and out lies.

Don't let smart publicity take you in on this voting business Wednesday.

Balance all the things that have been said, study the manner in which they have been said, wipe off the blood and mud, and vote conscientiously for the man whose program appears most feasible and reasonable to you.

Don't be an April Fool . . . or an April sucker either!

A Yardstick!

Fred Powledge, able editor of The Daily Tar Heel listed the qualifications of office-seekers at Chapel Hill in the DTH this week.

We found the list as applicable at State as it is at Chapel College and we would like to borrow them if we may do so without offending our counterpart.

1. He must know how to construct a parking lot.
2. He must have, at his fingertips, lists of sources within the College where money supposedly could be obtained. It is preferable that those places be somewhat obscure, so no one can contradict the candidate.
3. He must have a working knowledge of traffic and traffic engineering and must have a majority of the traffic committee behind him.
4. He must have access to all future physical plans of the College as well as those of the city and he must exercise the veto power over all policy-making groups of both organizations, as well as dictatorial power over the same groups.
5. He must know intimately the problems of dormitory men, fraternity men, veterans, wives, coeds, athletes, transfer students, freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors and foreign students. Also grad students.

The Biggest, Saddest Mistake

Until the beginning of last week, the campus campaign had been running fairly smooth and clean. But now we have seen some of the most sorry type of campaign tactics . . . mudslinging. If any candidate for any office only could realize that mudslinging hurts his own chances ten times worse than it hurts the person whom he is trying to smear, then we would never see this type of last-ditch tactics again. Mud-slinging is actually a direct insult to the students' common sense . . . any man here can usually see right through thin accusations. It seems that any candidate who uses false rumors and accusations to hurt another candidate is getting desperate . . . he really doesn't have much to stand on himself so he tries to run the other guy down any way he can. So when Wednesday comes around all of us will know who has honestly tried to present a good, workable platform that is intended to best serve the students; we will also know who has been low enough to lie and cheat on his opponents. And when we mark our ballots, these things won't be forgotten.

Decorating the Cavern

Saturday night, every couple who walked into the Coliseum for the Freshman-Sophomore spring dance was impressed with the decorations. At last the Cavern Coliseum looked good. The decorations looked professional and were professional—a company from Charlotte had been hired to do the job at a cost of $400; the cost was well worth the effect. It takes a professional hand to decorate a place as big as the Coliseum—few of us here have the time, experience, or materials to really make that place look good. The officers of the two classes and all those who worked on the dance committee deserve a lot of credit for making the Freshman-Sophomore one of the most successful and beautiful dances this year.

the two classes, a dance which THEY would long remember.

Mac is very active in various organizations and has contributed to campus publications. In all of his activities, including Student Government, Sophomore Class Treasurer, and Chairman of the Dance Committee, Mac has proven himself an excellent leader.

I earnestly believe that Mac Lupold is the best candidate to lead OUR class next year.

Chris Tabor

To the Editor:

I have been a student here for the past three years, and during this time it seems that we athletes are not well represented by our student government. While we are on the playing field we seem to have the school behind us, but off the field we have a pretty rough go of it sometimes.

It appears to me we have a chance to improve our lot if George Cochran is elected president of the Student Government. I have been knowing George since my freshman year, in fact, George and I played freshman football together. George is an athlete and knows most of us personally. I am sure that he is interested in us not only as athletes but also as students. I firmly believe that George is the man who will help us as well as the rest of the student body and definitely make this college the best president.

Francis Tokar

To the Editor:

Do you know how it feels to be a hero on Saturday afternoon (if you win) and an undesirable for the rest of the week? This is the situation that the athletes of State College find themselves in, and it is a situation which has gotten steadily worse during the present year.

If you will think back to your high school days, I think you will find that your athletes were in many cases good students, held student offices, and were respected by all. The athletes at State College are a representative group of these same boys a few years later. What have they done in such a short time that has changed them from friends and fellow-students to outcasts?

I feel that the boys have not changed, but rather that examples are made of them for

To the Editor:

As a member of the Freshman-Sophomore Dance Committee and as a co-worker in many organizations with Mac Lupold, I would like to point out a few of his already proven capabilities to serve as President of next year's Junior Class.

If you were one of the students who attended Saturday's Freshman-Sophomore Dance you know what a big success the event was. Dean Stewart indicated that the dance was the finest event that he has ever seen at State College. Mac Lupold has spent much of his time during the past month making arrangements for the band and directing the activities of committee members. To say that he was enthusiastic is not enough to express his attitude in preparing for the dance. He was sincere in his efforts to make the dance one which would be highly prized by members of

Letters To The Editor:

Letters to the Editor must be signed. If it is requested that the name be withheld for a good reason, the letter will be printed and the name withheld. Letters WILL NOT be printed unless they are signed.

To the Editor:

This letter should be regarded as a protest against a letter dated March 27, 1957, to members of the Veteran's Association from Jim Warlick, President, and Bob Lane, PAST PRESIDENT, concerning the list of candidates for Student Government Offices endorsed by the Vet's Association.

We, the undersigned, believe that this endorsement was misused in the letter and that it did not represent the feelings of the vets present at the meeting at which the vote was taken. We expected the letter to list the candidates endorsed and to state the qualifications for which they were selected. Much to our disgust, however, the letter referred mainly to one candidate and degraded one of this candidate's opponents. This is the type of mud-slinging that we feel the Vet's Association should have no part of. The responsibility of this breach of confidence rests with the signers of the letter.

We wish to extend our apologies to the candidate degraded, who is also a member of the Association, and to point out that this letter is NOT a revocation of our endorsement of the list of candidates sent to the veterans.

We would also like to mention that the letter to the editor of this paper, appearing in the last edition, signed by Jim Warlick, does not necessarily reflect the opinion of the Vet's Association.

RALPH WILLIAMS, Executive Committee Member, Vet's Association
TOM LONG, Vice-president, Vet's Association
ED LACKEY, Social Director, Vet's Association

6. He must have control of a simple majority of the North Carolina General Assembly.

7. He must have a friend in the federal government finance corporation, a large stock of mink coats, and he must be an expert on student housing.

8. Above all he must be able to talk a great deal and say little. He must have three hands . . . one for shaking, one for patting, and one for painting posters when not slinging mud or stabbing.

9. Some lists include a platform as a last requirement, but we feel that this may be too much to ask of the candidates. But it at least might be optional.

every slight mistake that made. The only change that has occurred in the athletes is the loss of initiative to take part in student activities because they are not accepted as students by their fellow students, and in some cases, the faculty. In many cases, if an athlete makes a better grade than a non-athlete it is felt that the grade must have been made dishonestly. Does this give an athlete any initiative to work harder at his studies?

The worsening of this situation in the past year can be blamed a great deal on the silence and lack of action on the part of many of the present student government office holders. This situation is just one of the things which needs to be straightened out. I think to correct this, we need a man at the head of government who has the courage to "step on a few toes" if it becomes necessary, to see that equality is observed at our school. I feel that Dan Yager is the man who can give us the proper leadership to make our school a place where a student will want to come, whether he be an athlete or nonathlete.

The athletes at N. C. State do not desire to be a privileged class; all we want is a chance to be judged fairly and individually as to our merits. I think Dan Yager is our chance.

Dick Christy

To the Editor:

This letter concerns every man living in a dormitory. Of the three candidates running for President of the Student Government, only one to my knowledge has made it a prominent part of his campaign to actually come to many of the dormitory officials to find out the needs of the dormitories. This candidate is George Cochran and George is definitely supporting the dormitories. To my knowledge this is the first time in many years a candidate has ever been interested in helping the dormitories.

I think that every resident of every dormitory should realize that for the first time we, the dormitory residents, have a candidate who is actually backing us. We deserve more recognition from our student government and this year for the first time we have a chance to give this recognition. There are over

Spring Sports In Full Swing—Baseball, Golf, Tennis, Track Squads Set for Action this Week—

North Carolina State's baseball, golf and tennis teams each have two games scheduled for this week while the Wolfpack track team will see action one. Coach Vic Sorrell's baseball team gets down to Atlantic Coast Conference play in short order by taking on North Carolina Wednesday afternoon and traveling to Winston-Salem Saturday for a game with Wake Forest.

The Wolfpack opened its season last Thursday against Delaware and has played only one game. Both Carolina and Wake Forest have been on Southern schedules and have played at least four games.

Coach Al Michaels' golfers take to the road for both their matches this week. The State linksmen are at Elon Thursday afternoon and at Clemson Saturday.

The golf team dropped two matches to Davidson at the beginning of the season before topping Elon last Thursday.

The tennis team, coached by John Kenfield, Jr., plays host to East Carolina Thursday and journeys to Winston-Salem Saturday for a match with Wake Forest.

The netters were rained out in their opener against Kalamazoo and darkness halted the match with M. I. T. with State leading 4-3.

One meet is on tap for the track team, coached by Paul Derr. The Wolfpack thinclads will be at Clemson Saturday afternoon for a dual meet with the Tigers.

The schedules:
 Wednesday—North Carolina, here (baseball).
 Thursday—East Carolina, here (tennis); Elon, away (golf).
 Saturday—Wake Forest, away (baseball); Clemson, away (golf); Wake Forest, away (tennis); and Clemson, away (track).

Globetrotters vs All-Stars

Some of basketball's top stars will be seen in action Thursday night, April 4, when the College-Americans meet the Harlem Globetrotters here in the fifth game of the World Series tour. The teams will play at 8 o'clock in Reynolds Coliseum.

Joe Saperstein, owner-coach of the touring "Trotters, also has led up several topnotch acts in half-time entertainment.

Definitely signed for the tour are John Smyth of Notre Dame, Tom Maglio of State, Dick Hixson of DePaul, Hank Nowak of Canisius, George Ferguson of Michigan State, Jack Sullivan of Mount St. Mary's, and Sam Jones of North Carolina College.

Playing for the Globetrotters will be Meadowlark Lemon, the successor to Goose Tatum, who is a native of Wilmington. Wee Willie Gardner, Leon Hilliard, Ermer Robinson, Clarence Wilcox, Andy Johnson, Charlie Hoxie and Tom (Tarzan) Spencer round out the squad.

Last year the Globetrotters were pushed to win the series by one game 11-10. The tour opens in Madison Square Garden Sunday, March 31. The teams play in Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo before coming to Raleigh.

Saperstein said recently, "we'll open our full bag of tricks against the Collegians this year. In previous tours we have stuck to straight basketball in an all-out effort to win, but this proved disappointing to fans who like our comical routines. This year we will try to combine good basketball with comedy."

The complete College All-America roster will be announced this week.

Track Drops Opener To Delaware 8-4

Delaware's touring Blue Hens scored a big second inning to defeat North Carolina State 8-4 in the Wolfpack's opening game of the season here Thursday afternoon.

The Hens scored five runs in the second on two singles, a pair of walks and three triples. The Wolfpack pecked away at the lead with single runs in the third, fourth, sixth and ninth but couldn't muster enough power for a rally.

Lefty Bill Patterson went all the way for Delaware, giving up ten hits. He walked three and struck out one. His own wildness in being charged with five wild pitches figured in three of State's runs.

Jim Walch and Rodger Hagwood shared the mound chores for the Wolfpack with Walch getting the loss.

Joe Thorp, Gene Watson and Jim Smith led the Delaware attack with two hits each. Bob Kennel and Eddie Wyant each had two for State.

Chancellor Bostian And Academic Heads Offer Welcome To Visiting Parents

Chancellor Bostian commended Golden Chain for its "Parents' Weekend" activities and extended a "sincere personal invitation to all parents of students to visit our campus" April 12, 13, 14. Dr. Bostian added that "our school is perhaps characterized by two main features, a high spirit among our students, and an informal, wholesome relationship between students and our faculty". He felt that the parents could realize much from a visit here and that this would be very beneficial to students.

Agriculture

Dean D. W. Colvard of the School of Agriculture along with the Departmental Heads in the Ag School "expressed their very great pleasure in inviting parents to sit in on classes which they wish to attend with their sons during the week of April 12-14". Dean Colvard commented, "If we measure the importance of agriculture by its contribution to the economy and welfare of its people, North Carolina is one of the two leading agriculture states in the nation. With this importance of agriculture to the state's economy in mind, the School of Agriculture is organized to serve all segments of our rural population through its three divisions . . . teaching, Research, and Extension Work.

Textiles

The School of Textiles was glad to add its word of greeting to the parents of all N. C. State College students on the occasion of "Parents' Weekend". Dean Malcolm E. Campbell modestly admitted, "We have the finest school of its kind in existence either in the United States or abroad."

Engineering

Dr. J. H. Lampe, Dean of the School of Engineering, said "we want the parents to know that we are proud to be a part of N. C. State College, one of the greatest technological institutions in the country. We sincerely feel that every branch of this great college, Agriculture, Education, Engineering, Design, and Forestry, is a truly outstanding leader in its special field." Lampe further indicated that the Engineers' Exposition will be a timely feature of our facilities and student ingenuity during "Parents' Weekend". He extended his "personal invitation to all parents to visit our Engineering School facilities" and wished "each parents an enjoyable weekend with his son".

Design

The highest international award in architecture . . . the 44th Paris Prize in Architecture . . . was awarded recently to a student in the School of Design at North Carolina State College. This marked the second time that a State College student has won the world's highest award in Architecture. Dean Henry L. Kamphoefner voiced his admiration for the student's ability and achievements and added that his capabilities were representative of all of the students in the Design School. Dean Kamphoefner expressed his enthusiasm for the "Parents' Weekend" program, saying, "I commend Golden Chain for their project and urge the parents to avail themselves of this opportunity to unite with their sons here at State College."

He extended "a cordial invitation to all of the parents to visit "The Mill and get acquainted with our people". Dean Campbell added a word to the parents who will not be able to attend "Parents' Weekend", ". . . may we say that we are pleased to have your sons with us and will do our best for them while they are here."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

three thousand of us who live in dormitories and certainly the majority of the State College student body should be recognized.

I honestly believe that if we stick behind George Cochran for Prseident of the Student Government the dormitories will at long last receive the recognition and support we deserve.

James T. Rose,

President of Becton Dormitory To the Editor:

At last I am glad to know who we have to thank for all the nice parking that we have here on the campus. Since I read a certain letter that Mr. Yager's campaign manager wrote on March 28, it is good to know that one man is responsible for getting us all these privileges. It is also nice to know that anyone, regardless of his qualifications and interest, can serve on committees which will guide and enforce the work of the S. G. as long as they will support Mr. Yager's platform.

As for Mr. Yager's platform, well, the boards seem to be very, very flexible and broad. Why, Mr. Yager is for everything that will help the student. Why, we might be able to go uptown next year and buy 15¢ shoelaces for 14¢. Also we can look back on past records and see the definite contributions that the candidates have made to the betterment of the student government and student welfare. But I guess some people are just modest and don't want to take credit for "all" the good work that they have done, instead they just show us the weaknesses of others.

And of course Colonel Yager and his staff will not enter or embark upon a campaign of dirty politics or mud slinging. This shouldn't be necessary among high caliber candidates, so I guess his accusations about tearing down signs and posters and other misquotes are based on concrete facts. For everyone knows the caliber of Mr. Cochran's campaign manager, Bob Kennel. He of all people would surely condone action of this type.

I don't believe that Cochran or Kennel will even try to answer Col. Yager's charge, for they do not believe that the students will fall for such bunk. They have faith in the judgment and caliber of State College men, and know that they cannot be fooled by such hogwash. I also feel that the students will put their trust in a man who has their interests at heart and not selfish desire to gain position for position's sake. I believe that this is why the students will come out Wednesday and vote wisely and choose the worker instead of the politician to carry on the good work here at State. Every vote for George Cochran will be a vote for advancement and bigger and even better student voice and NOT FOR S & H GREEN STAMPS.

Fred Joseph, Pres., I.D.C.

from sign stealing to opposition of autos on campus. This is absurd (but possibly not if you consider the source). Yager indicates that paving problems can only be solved by him. Stay here and glance back three years and realize the fine job that the student leaders have accomplished with respect to the parking situation. This has been done without the help of Yager.

Please consider the statements and promises that are being wildly scattered by the one person. Past records will reveal Yager's negative attitude against almost everything.

I strongly believe that George Cochran will serve the interests of all students in every manner that he possibly can. A vote for Cochran is a vote for progress and progress is what we need. All of Yager's promises put together could never match the honest effort that the student government will get from Cochran, if he is elected.

John Loma

To the Editor:

In his open letter to the students, Dan Yager's campaign manager Bob Lane begins with I as Vice-President of Student Government and as a student at State College had sincerely and honestly hoped to prevent. In organizational meetings I have deplored it and urged candidates not to engage in any type of mud slinging.

A president of the student body is going to do his best for the students, to promote their interests and welfare, and he certainly is not going to do anything detrimental of Freshman, Sophomore, Junior or Senior. Presidential candidate George Cochran will continue to promote the interests of the majority of the students. He believes that the car registration fee is higher than necessary and that it may be lowered without hurting but in actually promoting the student welfare. I know the work that Cochran has done for the S. G. Legislature and Junior class president this year and by this I know that he has a deep and personal feeling for the students.

George Cochran's campaign has been conducted upon a high level without stooping to any type of mud slinging or dirty politics. The President of our S. G. should be above such tactics. Therefore, I urge each and every student to go to the poll Wednesday and elect the best man and not a person who must rely upon unfounded accusation and statements to win.

John H. Lane, Jr. Vice President of S. G.

sharing the cost.

"I would support a plan to have a fee, based upon estimates of past years, so that each organization using the Coliseum will pay equal costs, rather than have one bear it all."

Houtz further stated:

"If elected President of the student body, I will make every effort to see that students are fairly represented in these and others matters as they arise."
