Houtz and Cochran Release Final Election Statements

Houtz to Promote Student Interests

In his last statement to The Technician before elections, presidential candidate Fred Houtz said:

"I think it superfluous to say that I am for a better student government and for the promotion of student interests. Of course I am for better student government, as I know you all are. Our problem is not what we want, but how we go about getting what we want. It is upon this idea, the idea that we achieve better student government only through better representation, that I have based my campaign.

"While I have elaborated in detail on my platform during the past two weeks, I would like to state in resume my ideas for better student government, and my views on pertinent issues in-

Election to membership in Phi Kappa Phi is regarded as the highest academic honor open to students attending State College.

Cochran Against Spoils System

Bob Kennel turned in a final statement from George C. Cochran concerning the coming election.

"I would like to again stress 3 important parts of my platform that I believe to be of interest to the student body as a whole.

The first pertains to the spoil system. As everyone should now realize, I am not being supported by a minority faction that seeks just to promote its own interests. If I am elected it will be only because of the efforts of you the student body. I am running on the point of view that the majority should rule and the minority should have a voice. Thus the plan is to have a good percentage of the men on committees constituted by those living in the dormitories.

The second point pertains to the lowering of the vehicle registration fee to a $2 maximum. The point has been stressed that this lowering will not delay the building of new parking areas and will not mean that freshmen and sophomores will lose their automobiles.

The policy of many departments on campus, on such things as grading, class scheduling, testing, etc., needs definite attention from Student Government. If you will give me the opportunity to do so, we can perhaps work with various departments to determine the best policies to follow in the fair interests of the students. We can accomplish this so that both the faculty and students will be satisfied that the best system will be the one where the students are given a fair chance to be tested and graded on an equal basis with every other student, and that the grades will be a valid indication of what we know.

I would again like to express my appreciation to those who supported me in the primary election and only ask that you do the same Wednesday."

High Men To Win In Senate Race

Senators from the various schools on campus will be up for election this Wednesday on a "high man wins" basis.

Charles Jackson, Chairman of the elections committee, said last Wednesday night, "We are extremely sorry this happened, but we think it will work out all right next week. I hope none of the candidates feel they have been wronged, but I felt this was the only thing to do under the circumstances."

Alma Mater

A little less than three months ago the N. C. State Alma Mater was abridged. That is, it was shortened from the original thirty-two lines to eight lines.

When Dr. Fountain, Major Kutschinski, and Mr. Barnes announced that the Alma Mater had been shortened, The Technician, speaking for the majority of the students, was elated. We thought to ourselves at the time . . . now we have an Alma Mater which is short enough to be remembered and sung by all. We still feel the same way and hope to see our point proved next fall at the first football game.

Even though the Alma Mater is now "singable," the only people who will know the words next year will be the freshmen—to whom the new version will be taught. That leaves about three thousand others who "know" only the old version.

A bill is to be introduced in the Student Legislature this Thursday which calls for an appropriation from Student Government to print the Abridged Alma Mater on a wallet-sized card. On the reverse side of the card would be the football schedules of both the Freshman and Varsity teams.

These cards could be distributed to the Freshmen and upperclassmen during registration. Since they would have the football schedule on them and be wallet sized, most people would have them at football games when it came time to sing the Alma Mater.

It seems that here is a chance for Student Government to do another service for the students. We ask, in the interest of school spirit, that the Student Legislature appropriate the amount necessary to print these cards. The appropriation, we feel, would be a good investment—an investment in school spirit.

Last Minute Suggestion

The turnout, as we intended to say Thursday, was 60 percent for the primary election last week. By national standards that's remarkable, and by previous State College standards it's doing pretty well.

But that's about like saying stealing three dollars isn't bad because somebody else just finished stealing three million dollars.

Participation was low in the primary, and indications are that it will be lower in the final election Wednesday.

Remember that these men are going to be your voice and your representation next year. Don't let them be elected by one-third of the student body, who will constitute a majority of only 55 to 60% vote.

SO VOTE!!!!!!

One more thing. There will be a lot of people on our campus this weekend for Parent's weekend and the Engineer's Fair. We are sure that there will be no further use for the posters, placards and signs that are hung all over campus now. Elections rules state that this material shall be removed by the candidate or his campaign manager. We certainly hope that they will.

Letters To The Editor:

Letters to the Editor must be signed. If it is requested that the name be withheld for a good reason, the letter will be printed and the name withheld. Letters WILL NOT be printed unless they are signed.

To the Editor:

Fred Houtz has impressed me with the soundness of his platform, in his favor and his personal dignity and ability. One of the biggest factors is that he intends to represent all of us here at State College. He has refrained from playing fraternity men against Dorm men, athletes vs. non-athletes, off-campus vs. on campus students, etc.

Fred's strength lies in the soundness of his policies and his true feeling for all the various groups which comprise student life at State College.

I am firmly convinced that if we are to have sound student government we must have Fred Houtz as our President.

Bill Wilkinson

President Engineers Council

TO the Editor:

I am what may be said to be an ordinary student at State College.

For the past few weeks I have read the "Letters to the Editor" column and have found leaders of organizations coming out for this candidate and that one.

I am not president of any organization or someone that might be called a campus leader. But nevertheless I would like to take this opportunity to express my views concerning the upcoming presidential runoff.

First of all I would like to state that platforms don't mean anything to me. They are only reasons to sway votes. What I am interested in is the experience and work that a candidate has behind him which would prove the quality and quantity of work that we could expect from him in a new and higher office. The reason I say higher office is because a good leader won't be content to remain where he is, but will strive to attain the highest and most responsible job open to him.

I believe sincerely that George Cochran, due to his past record as a leader here at State, will make this college a fine and devoted president.

I say a fine record . . . from what I have read and heard in the past year, and after being a member of the Junior Class of which George is president, his record as a campus leader is impressive. I would like to enumerate some of George's past achievements in case some of your readers are not as yet aware of the work George has done since he has been here at State.

1. President of the Junior Class
- a. Got class rings cheaper
- b. Planned biggest Junior-Senior Dance ever.
2. Member of student government for several years
3. Speaker Pro-Tem of the Senate at North Carolina Student Legislature
5. Instrumental in lowering the base rent on the Coliseum from $300 to nothing

These are some of George's major accomplishments and there are many minor ones that are not mentioned here.

Positions that George has held in the past will constitute a strong background of experience for meeting and dealing with the problems of the Student Government.

Jay Beacon

To the Editor:

Having been a personal friend of Fred Houtz since he has been in college, I would like to state some of the qualities that I believe make Fred the man for president of our student body.

First, I have had the opportunity the past two years to observe Fred's administrative abilities. The thoroughness in which he approaches a problem assures complete results. Fred has a knack for organizing student efforts that is most beneficial to us when we are represented by student government.

Second, Fred has the earnest and honest desire to drive for the promotion of student interest. Fred is the first man to admit he is wrong when he makes a mistake, and the last man to back down when he knows he is right.

This is why I believe Fred has the qualities of leadership to represent us as Student Government President.

Joel Parker
 Treasurer, Student Government

To the Editor:

I heartily recommend Fred Houtz to the students at State College as the man to fill the office of the President of Student Government. Fred's platform is by far the most practical the most progressive, and certainly the most sound when compared with that of his opponent.

Fred has many personal characteristics which each voter should consider. He has shown his willingness to place student welfare above his personal ambitions as is evidenced by his tremendous work he did for married student housing during "Exam Week."

He has the maturity and

Well Said
 Before reading this, it might be a good idea to read the Letter to the Editor in the last issue, written by Darrell Spencer.

In the letter, a point has been made that really struck home to anybody who is writing material that is designed to serve the students here at State. The letter says, and says well, that perhaps too much emphasis is placed on those things here at State that are maybe not "right" instead of tempering this writing by pointing out those things which are good or have improved.

"Negative" writing is often typical of news publications—one reason may be that the staff unconsciously believes that there is so much to be changed or improved that there isn't space left over for recognition of those things which are due for some praise instead of criticism; that idea is admittedly wrong. A good comparison would be the seeping policy of the Raleigh News and Observer—to front-page anything that State or its students does wrong, while at the same time seem to overlook or give minimum recognition for accomplishments here. At times, unfortunately, people seem to be more interested in criticism than praise; however, that may be because that is what they are used to!

Darrell, your idea is one that maybe lots of us have thought of before but have just pushed to the back of our minds . . . thanks for bringing it to the front again. When members of the student body are interested enough to write us about something like this, it is time we set up and take notice. We scream so much about some of the policies here at State—maybe we should make some policy shifts of our own so that the students will not have cause and good reason to scream little on their own.

Thanks again Darrell—we're sorry you are a senior since we could use men like you around here for a few more years.

Jim Nolan
 President Student Government

To the Editor:

In my opinion, the students of the rising Sophomore Class have a right to know what the Freshman Class President has done during the past two semesters. Before I elaborate on this, I would like to explain that the officers of the Freshman Class were at a disadvantage in not having the experience that the higher class officers had. Never-the-less, we have worked enthusiastically in our positions and have never ceased to cooperate with the members of our class. When I first became President of the Freshman Class, I endeavored to fulfill every campaign promise, pushing better relations with the girl's schools in Raleigh, student specials in the cafeteria, and more representation of freshmen in campus affairs. It has been my belief that close contact with the students is essential, and I have tried to visit as many of the members of our class as possible in their rooms for informal chats. During these talks, the members of our class have expressed many complaints that we are now working on. An example of this is the high price of milk in the cafeteria which will get an investigation in view of the fact that the college has its own dairy.

However, the most important aspect of my office has been to work with the sophomores on the Freshman-Sophomore Dance, which needs no further comment except that next year a more appropriate date should be chosen for this event. In working on this dance, I enjoyed splendid cooperation from all the Freshman Class officers. Eddie Knox, candidate for Sophomore Class President, worked especially hard on the dance. He was present at all the meetings of the Freshman-Sophomore Dance Committee, and at the dance itself, while the other candidate for top office of the Sophomore Class was not. For these reasons, I wish Eddie Knox the best of luck in his bid for Sophomore Class President.

For those who gave me their vote of confidence in the recent election, I, along with my competitor, Reid Hinson, promise to work diligently at the treasury job of the Sophomore Class.

Charles Tanner
 President of Freshman Class

To the Editor:

All of the ballyhoo in the last couple of weeks has generally been about campaigning for the major campus offices. I would like to say something about one of the seemingly minor duties on campus. We can't call a seat on the Judicial Board an office; for usually election to an office is accompanied by prestige and publicity. The Judicial Board usually entails a lot of hard work with very little favorable publicity. I think the Judicial Board needs to be strongly commended for their fine job this year.

Several times I thought they may have been too harsh, but maybe it was needed to impress upon the campus the strictness of the honor code.

Naturally here at election time there are vacancies to be filled on the Board. There was an outstanding slate of candidates for the Judicial Board during the primaries, and some very fine men "bit the dust." I think this merely emphasizes State College's wealth of capable and willing men. Men who are willing to work without receiving great personal gain.

I have been particularly impressed with a very close associate of mine this year. To me he is known as "Charlie" Hutchins; to many others as "Bob" Hutchins. Charles is running for senior representative to the Judicial Board. I honestly know of no one on campus who could fill that post better than Charles Hutchins. At times we have disagreed, several times on major matters, but Charlie has always impressed me with his broadmindedness. He has had previous experience on the Board, serving in that capacity during last summer school. He is not a man to be dictated to either by faculty groups, by student groups, or by the kangingly, people seem to be more interested in criticism than praise; however, that may be because that is what they are used to!

Final Candidates Seek Votes

Birch, Allen Remain In Senior Veep Race

Barnette, Houtz Are Senior Nominees For Judicial Board

Neil Birch

Neil Birch, candidate for vice-president of the Senior Class, released a statement this week thanking seniors for their support in the primary election last week.

"Your support was encouraging and stimulating," said Birch, "I wish I could personally thank each of my supporters and I sincerely hope I can count on your votes in the final election."

Birch is from Raleigh, and is a Electrical Engineering major. He continued saying, "I am extremely interested in the office of Vice-president, and it is my desire to do a good job in the coming year."

Tom Gilmore In Race For Junior Student Gov. Representative

Tom Gilmore, a sophomore in Agriculture, has announced his candidacy for Student Government Representative from the Junior Class. He has been active in YDC, Horticulture and the Ag Club.

Gilmore has told The Technician that, "If elected I shall endeavor to do my best in the Student Government for the benefit of the whole student body. My promise to the boys in Agriculture is that I shall do my best to make our Student Government number one in the nation and to help pass bills that would be beneficial to them."

Teddy Allen

Teddy Allen is a candidate for the vice presidency of the Senior Class. The following statement emphasizes his platform for the election.

"If elected I will help my fellow officers and fellow students in every way. I will push what the majority of the Seniors want.

"I will fulfill the duties of this office to the best of my ability. If elected I will go beyond the call of duty and do everything in my power to fulfill the wishes of you, as Seniors at State College. You are all mature young men and should know what is best for you and the school. I feel that I am capable of doing a good job as Vice President.

"I would like to quote a famous author: 'Conceit is to the human soul as salt is to the ocean; but you do not have to be pickled in brine.'"

Barnette

B. H. Barnette, Jr. has announced his candidacy for the Judicial Board from the rising Senior class.

In announcing his candidacy earlier, B. H. stated, "Since from its midst must come justice and equality for the entire college, the Judicial Board is possibly the most important student group on campus. Over the past years, this Board has effectively filled its position in this institution's life, and I am willing to give of myself freely toward furthering such effectiveness. If elected, I will endeavor to approach all matters with an open mind and consider every situation judiciously without allowing bias or prejudice to influence the decision. Also, I will be glad to assist students at any time with their interpretation of campus laws."

B. H. is a Junior in Soils and is a member of several honorary societies including Alpha Zeta, Thirty and Three, and Phi Eta Sigma. He has served as Vice President of the Ag Club in which he has been very active. Also, he has been a Representative to the Student Government Legislature for the past three years and has served in the North Carolina Student Legislature.

"I believe that my contact with the various aspects of campus life in addition to the three terms in the Student Government Legislature will prove invaluable in helping me to arrive at a correct decision. Any support which you will give me in the coming election will certainly be appreciated. Also, I'm very grateful for your support in the primaries."

Capel Thanks Voters For Their Support

Arron Capel, candidate for Vice-president of the Junior Class released a statement following the primary which is as follows:

"I wish to extend my sincere appreciation for the support given to me during the primary election."

"I feel that if I am elected," he continued, "I can obtain a closer relationship between the Junior Class and its officers. This relationship can be secured in two ways. First, ditto sheets can be circulated which would explain and analyze the situations and problems that confront the Junior Class. Second, open class meetings can be held to obtain the ideas of all active juniors."

"It is extremely important," Capel concluded, "for you to select your Junior Class officers carefully. They will effect you economically among many other ways. I hope you will consider this matter seriously. It will be to your advantage."

Houtz to Promote Student Interests

Heywood B. Houtz, candidate for Senior Representative to the Judicial Board, yesterday expressed his appreciation for the support given him in the primary elections.

In an interview Heywood commended the work of the Judicial Board this year and stated, "I have been very interested in the functions of the Board and feel that with their good work they have made many improvements this year. It is my hope that I may have the opportunity to help maintain the high standards of our judicial system here at State. It is a hard and serious job requiring honest and unprejudiced judgment. Realizing this, the job is a challenge to me and I believe myself capable of the job."

In closing, Heywood, who is a junior in Electrical Engineering, added, "I will, if elected, do all I can to further the standards of our Honor Code and Campus Code. Belief in this code by the entire student body, and especially by the student leaders on campus, is a necessity for its success, and I would certainly help the Board to work for its success."

Gregg Running for Soph. Senator

Rodger Gregg, a rising sophomore in civil engineering, has announced his candidacy for senator from the school of engineering.

Gregg, a native of Lenoir, received a "Talent of Service" scholarship last year and was recently elected to Phi Eta Sigma, national scholarship fraternity. He is also a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

He feels that the underclassman here at State should take a more active role in campus affairs, especially student government.

Junior President Is Yow's Goal

Sammy Yow

Sammy Yow, in announcing his candidacy for President of the Junior Class, released the following statement:

"In announcing my candidacy for President of the Junior Class, I am not making any promises that I am not positive I will be able to keep. Of course there are the old issues of class rings, a better Junior - Senior Dance, keeping students informed as to class activities, etc., but the main plank in my platform is honesty and hard work. I feel now, and always have felt, that if an officer gives you these two things he is doing a good job. With these two assets behind me, I am certain that I will give you everything you want in a Junior Class President.

"I will appreciate very much your support in the coming elections, and also in the work of the year ahead."

Jim Peden In Race For Senior Prexy

Jim Peden, candidate for President of the Senior Class, made the following announcement concerning the primary election as he concluded his campaign for the office.

"I sincerely appreciate the support that I received during the primary. An extra 'Thank You' is due to those who were generous enough with their time to assist in my campaign. I hope that each of you will continue the fine support that was shown during the primary."

Peden concluded, "The interests of the class will be my prime objection if I am elected to the office. I pledge my wholehearted interest and work to the interests of the Seniors and student body next year."

Waring Boys Seeking Re-election As Soph. Textile Representative

Waring Boys announced three weeks ago his candidacy for re-election as Textile Senator from this year's Freshman Class.

This year he has served as a Senator on the Student Government Legislature, without being absent from a single meeting. He is a member of the Promotions Committee, where he has worked with the rest of the group to promote a better solution to the traffic problem and a sounder student insurance policy among many other things. Boys said, "One of the main purposes of Student Government at State College is to encourage the development of honor, scholarship, and responsibility in every person who registers here."

Waring Boys is also a Junior IFC Representative and a member of Tompkins Textile Council.

State's "improved" varsity baseball team took advantage of seven Wake Forest errors to whip the Deacons 9-4 Saturday afternoon in Winston-Salem.

It was the Wolfpack's second straight conference win against no losses and put the Pack in the No. 1 spot in the league standings.

Dick Hunter sparked the West Raleigh lads with a sixth inning homer with two-on to send the Pack ahead to stay.

State diamond squad is idle until Friday when they journey to Clemson for an ACC scrap and then over to South Carolina Saturday for another conference get together.

Past fairs have been presented especially to interest North Carolina high school students in engineering. This year a special effort is being made to assemble exhibits which will attract the general public as well.

Student engineers from each degree-granting department of the School of Engineering will arrange exhibits explaining the various fields of engineering. Among those represented will be mechanical, aeronautical, nuclear, geological, electrical, chemical, civil, industrial, metallurgical, construction and ceramic engineering, as well as engineering physics, furniture manufacturing and management and heating and air conditioning.

Visitors to the campus during the Fair will find students available to guide them through the engineering buildings where displays will be set up. Last year's Fair attracted spectators from all parts of North Carolina.

What's doing
at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Cutaway model of P & W A J-57 engine. This twin-spool, axial-flow gas turbine powers the country's newest fighters and bombers and is slated for Douglas DC-8 and Boeing 707 jet airliners. Engine was the first to be rated at more than 10,000 pounds thrust.

at the record,

From its founding in 1925, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft has been essentially an engineering company. Its primary objective has been the design and development of new aircraft engines of superior performance and dependability. The guiding policy has always been, simply, that technical excellence must be the paramount objective, attained through constant effort to improve upon the best.

As early as 1928 Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's Wasp engines powered Navy seaplanes which brought back world records in altitude, range and speed from competitions in Switzerland, Germany and France. The following year, Wasp-powered Army Air Corps airplanes were flying combat formations at 30,000 feet.

All through the 1930s the power, range and fuel economy of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Wasp and Hornet engines were developed, and the engines seasoned with experience. Wiley Post, the Lindberghs, Martin and Osa Johnson, Amelia Earhart, Admiral Byrd and Roscoe Turner were among the host of famous pilots who made aviation history with Wasp power.

During World War II, 50 percent of the aircraft powerplants for the American air arms were engineered by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Three of the five key fighter airplanes, a host of medium and heavy bombers, and 98 percent of all the military transports used Pratt & Whitney Aircraft engines.

The postwar development of the J-57 gained the company a position of engineering leadership in the jet field. It powered the first jet aircraft to fly faster than sound in level flight, and is now used in six supersonic fighters, three bombers and the first two American commercial jet transports.

Broadly diversified engineering careers at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft offer truly fine opportunity for young men equipped to deal with challenging assignments. You will find many answers to important questions about careers at P & W A in our informative booklet, Jet Engineering. For a copy, write to Mr. F. W. Powers, Engineering Department.

FREE! INVISIBLE SHIRTS!

It is a little known fact that Van Heusen, in addition to its regular merchandise, also makes a grand line of invisible shirts. Alas, they have never proved very popular. People lose them easily. Laundries are confused by them. And people wearing these invisible shirts are not just walked over, they're sometimes walked through.

So, we're stuck with thousands of them, and we've just decided to give them away. To you! Just write Van Heusen. We will send you free a complete wardrobe of invisible shirts. Not just one or two! Not us. We'll send you hundreds of them. In every style. Every size! Every collar fashion! All handsome. All invisible. Probably the finest you never seen.

As for visible shirts — shorts, sport shirts, sweatshirts, pajamas, handkerchiefs and — well, you know Van Heusen. We have most of the new styles before anybody else. And handle traditional favorites a way that explains why certain styles last a long, long time. Your local haberdashery carries a large Van Heusen selection. See him soon.
