Nominations Open For Golden Chain

John Y. Lomax, President of Golden Chain, Senior Honorary Fraternity, has announced the opening of nominations for members from this year's junior class.

Final voting by the members of Golden Chain will select the twelve men judged to be the outstanding rising seniors. Taping will take place during May. Lomax requested that all members of the student body and faculty place their nominations for the honor in the book reserved for the purpose in the Student Affairs office in Coladay Hall. Nominations will remain open for several more days. (See GOLDEN CHAIN, page 4)

IFC 'Spring Greeks' Concert and Dance To Be On April 27

"Spring Greeks," the Interfraternity Council's spring dance, will be held April 27. Richard Maltby and his band will be featured at both the concert and dance.

The concert will be from 3:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. on Saturday at the Raleigh Amphitheater. The formal dance will begin at 8:00 p.m. at the Coliseum and last until 12:00 p.m.

For the first time, the Interfraternity Council will present the "Goddess of the Greeks" and her court this year. This presentation will be made immediately following the figure—in which the dates of Council members will be introduced. The figure will begin at 10:00 p.m.

Guest bids for the concert and dance can be purchased from fraternity men for $7.50.

Chaperons

Chaperons for the dance will be Dean and Mrs. J. J. Stewart, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Fadum.

IFC Vice-President, David Barnhardt, has said that "several hundred dollars are being spent on the dance decorations this year in an attempt to make 'Spring Greeks' a spectacular, long-to-be-remembered evening of dancing. Richard Maltby was in Raleigh for the Debutante Ball two years ago and was thoroughly enjoyed, judging from the favorable comment which was heard for weeks after the Ball. The IFC Social Committee has been working on the dance for several weeks, and we believe that we have a 'top' band and some exciting decorations for the dance. Browder Displays, Inc., from Charlotte, is working with the Social Committee on the decorations. We guarantee fraternity men a fabulous week-end."

Engineers' Fair and Parent's Weekend Attract Visitors

C. E. Wins Honors For Fair Exhibits

State's Civil Engineering Department copped honors for individual exhibitions in the weekend's Engineers' Fair, according to Bill Wilkinson, President of the Engineers Council. Wilkinson, who made the announcement of the winner this afternoon at a meeting of all the departments, revealed that the C.E.'s had won handsily over the other departments, but that the E.E.'s in second and the M.E.'s in third had been extremely close. There was a tie for fourth place between the Chemical, Ceramic, Geological and Aeronautical departments.

Wilkinson said Sunday, "I think it was the best fair we've had since I've been at State."

He said that many of the spectators had commented on the quality and interest of the exhibitions and that one group had said how much better they thought State's fair was than the Duke fair several weeks ago.

Dean J. H. Lampe of the School of Engineering, commented on the quality of the Fair saying that he thought it was one of the best he had seen.

The winning Civil Engineering Exhibit was headed by Bill Garrison. It featured the work of the department and the profession, breaking it roughly into four fields of Civil, Structures, Transportation, Soils and Sanitation. Exhibits included structural models, demonstrations of materials testing, the hydraulic and soils laboratories and models and charts of transportation facilities.

New Game Tried

New game!!! Old props! Young and old alike tried to ring the young lassie's leg with the hoop—some succeeded and won a prize—it all added up to Carnival Night at the College Union Saturday night.

Sigma Chi's Win Fraternity Sing Will Be Broadcast On "Monitor"

Sigma Chi Fraternity walked off with top honors and a handsome winner's plaque yesterday afternoon when they won over Farm House Fraternity by a close one point margin in the annual Interfraternity Sing. The Sing, which is sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi, was held in the College Union yesterday as the concluding event of "Parents' Day" week-end.

To Be on "Monitor"

Jimmy Capps, from radio station WPTF, who was the announcer, told the audience that the entire program was being tape recorded and that the winning fraternity would be broadcast this week-end over the nationwide facilities of "Monitor." He was unable to give the exact time of the broadcast but such information will be available on Thursday.

The selections by Sigma Chi included "Coney Island Baby" and "Foggy, Foggy Dew."

Between 175 and 200 parents attended State's Golden Chain Parent's Weekend, which concluded yesterday.

John Y. Lomax, President of Golden Chain, said that although the crowd was somewhat smaller than had been hoped for, he was pleased with the attendance and events of the weekend.

The program, tailored to allow the Parents to take part in the festivities of Engineers' Fair, featured tours of the campus, a Blue Key sponsored tea, a welcome speech by Chancellor Carey H. Bostian, movies of the State-Carolina football game, the College Union Carnival night and a closing buffet luncheon in the College Union.

Lomax voiced satisfaction with the overall program and expressed the thanks of Golden Chain to the many people who had taken part in and helped with the weekend. He said that he hoped for both better attendance and a better program next year.

"We feel," he said, "that we have given the weekend a rejuvenated start and that there can be a great deal of improvement in the future."

"Most of the parents," Lomax went on, "seemed pleased with the program and expressed their pleasure at visiting the college and seeing the facilities and atmosphere in which their sons are studying."

"We do hope," he concluded, "for greater participation and a better program next year."

(These two selection will be the ones which will be "on the Monitor beacon" this week-end.)

Dean Banks C. Talley, Coordinator of Student Affairs, presented the plaque to the winning fraternity.

Fair Crowd Pleasers Include Opening, Still, and Robot

(Left) Consolidated University President William C. Friday talked over plans for the coming Engineers' Fair with Bill Wilkinson, President of the Engineers' Council and outstanding senior engineer and Dean J. H. Lampe of the College's School of Engineering. Friday was the principal speaker at the opening ceremonies. (Center) The Chemical Engineering Department illustrated one of the basic Chem Engineering processes with their model (and operating) still in front of their departmental display in Riddick Hall. The Chem E's tied for fourth place in the inter-departmental competition that was won by the Civil Engineers. (Right) The Electrical Engineers featured a robot in their exhibit over the weekend. Some of the visitors were disappointed to find that in the midst of the electronic wonders of the E.E. exhibit, the robot was actually a one-student-power model not available on the market at this time. The E.E.'s were runners-up to the C.E.'s in the competition.

Parents' Weekend

Members of many organizations and groups on the State campus deserve a hearty "thank you" for the activities of the past weekend.

In the first attempt made to coordinate activities such as Parents' Weekend, the Engineers' Fair and the Interfraternity Sing, a seemingly outstanding success was obtained in producing a varied and interesting program for both the parents, the public and the students.

Many of the fraternities cooperated with Golden Chain by scheduling their annual Parents observances at the same time, and the cross-reference between the Engineers' Fair and Parents' Weekend provided an excellent and interesting program.

The guides from Alpha Phi Omega made a major contribution in leading groups and individuals through other parts of the school in addition to the engineering departments.

Blue Key and Thirty and Three made invaluable contributions with their help during the weekend.

Our point is this: Since this cooperation has netted such great benefit this weekend, wouldn't it be advantageous to try to take advantage of similar occasions in the future? For example, Alumni weekend is coming up the first weekend in May . . . many alumni of State organizations which sponsor their own alumni weekends will be here on campus. Why not attempt coordination here too? It would be far better to have one weekend of concentrated activities rather than several spread out dribbles. North Carolina is too big to ask people to make long drives or trips often. And more will come and have a good time if more things are scheduled.

Again, congratulations to everyone for a successful weekend. We hope it is a sign of better things to come.

Retrogression

The activities of North Carolina's General Assembly during the past week have been notable for several things, but one of the most disturbing was the introduction of a bill raising out-of-state students' tuition some $200.

Senator L. H. Ross of Beaufort introduced the measure on the floor of the Senate. It comes on the heels of a measure passed two years ago that raised the out-of-state tuition from $350 to $500. The new increase would jump the cost to $700.

Apparently there is little reason behind this measure. The officers of the University, including Chancellor Bostian and President Friday, have gone on record as opposing the increase. Presumably the people who handle the University's money feel the same way, so additional revenue cannot be the reason, and it is, as far as we know, the only cogent one that could be presented.

Possibly Senator Ross had in mind relieving the crowding by cutting the out-of-state enrollment. This might be fine, in one sense, but it seems like a poor policy to try to educate people at a college or university and then turn around and price it out of reach. Certainly State, Carolina and W.C. are here for North Carolinians primarily, and a look at the figures will reveal that North Carolinians are in a large majority, but we feel that the colleges cannot grow if limitations such as these are to be placed on the admission.

We cannot urge too strongly that the bill be defeated. Many out-of-state students have made great contributions to State and it would be a crying shame to lose the potential that any may have to offer in the future.

Progress is built on many things, but exclusion of groups of people is not one of them.

"NO CLASS HERE 'TIL NINE."

Help To Honor...

Golden Chain and Blue Key are currently engaged in projects designed to recognize outstanding members of the Junior and Senior classes.

Golden Chain is seeking nominations from the students and faculty for new members from the Junior Class. Blue Key is asking for suggestions for their annual selection of the outstanding senior at State.

Traditionally both of these organizations have the final say-so as to who is to be elected or chosen. But, as in the past, they are calling for nominations from all members of the campus community in order to have a better feeling of the cross-section of the campus.

Think the matter over and if you have someone in mind that you feel is worthy for the honors, don't fail to place his name in nomination in the Student Affairs office.

Golden Chain and Blue Key will welcome your help. Don't withhold it.

J. McCree Smith

To The Editor

Many people have probably had a few gripes about the ROTC program here at State, but the general opinion among those who are looking to the future is that the ROTC is probably the lesser of two evils, the other evil being the draft. Don't get the idea that I'm calling ROTC a real evil, because I'm not; it has probably done everybody who has participated a lot of good.

However, from what I've heard and observed myself the tendency seems to be for the ROTC to go a little overboard at times, especially the army. The schedule for this week is a fine example when the army ROTC has gone completely overboard and is, as they say, "out to lunch".

Monday is the annual inspection which lasts two hours; Tuesday is a continuance of this inspection, lasting one hour. Well, that is not so bad since we have known about it for quite awhile. But now comes the real mistake; Wednesday, the day we get out for holidays, we have been told to attend a meeting in the Textile Auditorium to hear an address which could have been scheduled almost any other time. Why? Heaven and the brass at the military department only know! Maybe they think we have not had enough meetings because bad weather (which is hard on our fault, rain dances not withstanding), but I know of very few times we have not met anyway. Or maybe they want N. State College to turn in another Citadel.

Well, guess what? All of these are not quite that gung ho. We don't want to plan our college lives around the wishes of the military department. We MS 2's and the advanced course cadets both think we have been given a rotten deal this time. The Military Department can control itself, then it seems high time that the administration of State College do a little investigating and maybe put some brakes on a too eager army. Many of us were planning to go home early for jobs and other reasons. Some of us live so far away from State that we want to get away as soon as possible so that we will have some time at home instead of attending lectures sponsored by ROTC.

I, as an undergraduate, plan to think twice before applying for the advanced course if the sort of low thing happens very often. Without morale how any military group going to be successful. And if you want to see some low morale, just come to the Textile Auditorium Wednesday at noon. Sirs, you have really put your foot in it this time.

It should be fairly evident why I am having my name withheld by request. I'll see all you army-lovers Wednesday.

Name withheld by request

To the Editor:

I wish to express my deep and sincere appreciation to a that supported me in the past elections. Although we did not "win" I feel that this campaign has done more for campus politics than has ever been done in the years previous.

Highest among the things accomplished is the fact that the general campus has a more complete knowledge of student government policies, and through this a higher respect for its leaders.

Many new and interesting points have been brought out by the three presidential candidates, and I hope that the coming legislature will take them all into consideration.

I extend my heartiest congratulations to all the newly elected senators and officers of student government. With comes the hope that when your term is up you will be able to look back and be proud of the various things that you have accomplished for the college as a whole.

Many thanks again to those who have been active for the past four weeks. I am sure all of your work has not been in vain.

George C. Cochran

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone who voted for me in the election just past. Although I cannot promise you anything wonderful in the coming year, I would like to say that I will do my darndest to make next year the best one ever for the Junior Class. But in order for me to do this, I, as well as my fellow officers, are going to need your help in a countless number of situations that might arise. At the same time applies to you as students. Whenever you have a problem or are dissatisfied about something, please feel free to let us know as soon as possible. Working together this way, I am sure that we can make next year a very successful one.

Notes from the Wolfpack

Entry blanks have been sent out for the Carolinas AAU track meet which will be held at State College May 18. Teams or individuals who didn't receive entry blanks and would like to participate are asked to write Jim Little, assistant track coach. Last year the AAU event was a big success with Dave Sime, Lee Calhoun, Joel Shtankle and Jim Beatty on hand. It is hoped at Sime will run in this year's meet.

Next athletic event for Reynolds Coliseum will be April 30 when promoter Jack Kramer's professional tennis troupe is here. Feature of the net show is the Pancho Gonzales-Ken Rosewall match. Pancho Segura and Dinny Pails meet in the opening round, then Gonzales and Segura team up against Rosewall and Pails in a doubles exhibition.

Vic Sorrell is thanking Earle Edwards for State's recent baseball success. Sparking the Wolfpack attack to date have been three football stars—Bob Kennel, Dick Hunter and Don Hafer.

Coach Everett Case has joined the speech-making circuit and will make appearances at The Citadel in Charleston, S. C., April 2, in Charlotte April 29, and in Burgaw May 1.

Vic Sorrell and Woody Upchurch, Jr., sports writer for the Raleigh Times, have something in common. The two were talking baseball recently and discovered that Sorrell once beat Woody's father in a mound duel during the early 30s. Vic was with Detroit at the time and Upchurch Sr. was pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics. Sorrell won 5-4 in a thriller.

Dick Christy, State's all-conference halfback, went home to Chester, Pa., last week, according to the athletic department. Christy, contacted at his home, said his reasons for leaving State are strictly personal and had nothing to do with the football team or anyone at State. Local officials said he could return to school this summer and remain eligible to play in the fall.

NCS Athletic Squads At Home This Week

North Carolina State's spring sports teams are a bunch of "homers" this week.

Out of seven events scheduled for the baseball, golf, tennis and track teams, six will be played at home as the spring sports begin the fifth weeks of the season.

Coach Vic Sorrell's diamond crew plays host to Virginia Thursday and Maryland Friday in two important Atlantic Coast Conference games. Both contests will begin at 3:30.

In golf, the State linksmen have two home contests slated for the Raleigh Golf Association course. South Carolina comes to town Monday and Virginia is here Wednesday. It is the first appearance for both teams.

The tennis team has only one match scheduled this week. Coach John Kenfield's netters entertain Cincinnati Wednesday afternoon in a non-conference affair.

The State track team has a varsity and freshman meet with Duke Tuesday night at 7:30.

S.C.-5, NCS-0

South Carolina's Gamecocks brought to an end State's three-game winning streak as they shutout the Pack, 5-0, last week to throw State into a first place deadlock with Wake Forest.

The day before, State rallied behind the grand-slam home run of outfielder Don Hafer to edge Clemson College 6-5 and stretch their streak to three. Hafer batted in five of the Pack's runs during the afternoon.

South Carolina called on its ace right-hander, Jim Craig, to throw a neat three-hitter at the local lads and wrap up a 5-0 win. Dick Hunter collected two of the hits and Dennis Bradshaw added the third. Only one man reached third.

Plans Announced For Junior-Senior

Final plans were received this week concerning the annual Junior-Senior Ring Dance.

Dean Cloyd To Retire After 39 Years At NCS

Dean of Students Edward L. Cloyd of North Carolina State College, who will retire from his post July 1 after 39 years of service on the institution's faculty, was honored at a banquet meeting at the college last Tuesday night.

Approximately 325 delegates to the 39th annual meeting of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators joined in the tribute to Dean Cloyd at a dinner in the College Union.

Dean Beaty, of the University of Florida and an old friend of Dean Cloyd's, read a citation commending Dean Cloyd and reviewing his record as a church, civic, and college leader. The Florida educator also presented to Dean Cloyd a bound volume of letters from his colleagues across the country.

Among those present for the exercises were Mrs. Cloyd; President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, who at one time was an assistant to Dean Cloyd; and Chancellor Carey H. Boston of North Carolina State College.

Also honored at the meeting was another retiring college official, Dean Joe Summerville of Ohio Wesleyan University.

A special musical program was presented by the Triple Trio of Meredith College.

Dean Emeritus Scott H. Goodnight of the University of Wisconsin also addressed the delegates.

He joined the faculty of State College in 1918, as instructor in drawing and descriptive drawing in the Mechanical Engineering Department.

In 1923 he was selected as full-time Dean of Students, a position which he is filling at present.

But this is not the full extent of Dean Cloyd's career. During the summer of 1916 he was connected with the Newman Machine Co., in Greensboro, and two summers later he worked for the Newport News Ship Building and Dry Dock Company. In the summer of 1920 he was with the Westinghouse Electric Company in Philadelphia, and attended the Teachers College of Columbia University in the summer of 1929.

Dean and Mrs. Cloyd live at 2224 Hillsboro Street, and have two children—E. L. Cloyd, Jr., of Wilson and Mrs. Michael D. Caffey of Raleigh. Mrs. Caffey's husband is a member of the State College faculty.
Dean Cloyd is a life-long Presbyterian. He was a member of the First Presbyterian
