Covering Campus...

Pi Kappa Phi

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity is now located in its new house at 7 Enterprise Street instead of 407 Horne Street as shown on the fraternity map in last week's Technician. The correction to the map was given below the map. Rushes should make sure to note the new address for Pi Kappa Phi.

Presbyterians

The Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship is sponsoring missionary speakers who will present the programs in Room B of the cafeteria next Monday and Tuesday nights. The cafeteria presentations will begin at 6:30 after a thru-the-line meal at 6:00.

The speakers will be Dr. Alex McCutchen, a medical missionary to the Belgian Congo; Dr. E. H. Hamilton, of Formosa; and Rev. "Hap" Neville, of Brazil.

Insurance Talk

Scabbard and Blade is sponsoring an insurance talk which will be held in the College Union on October 11 at 7:30 p.m. Executives from several insurance companies will take part in the panel discussion which will include insurance needs, types of insurance and how to plan an insurance plan.

Army Honors 16 Senior Cadets

Sixteen top-ranking cadets in the Army ROTC at North Carolina State College have been designated as "Distinguished Military Students" in recognition of the outstanding ROTC records which they have made, it was announced by Colonel Richard R. Middlebrooks, Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

These students, just entering their fourth year of ROTC training, have achieved this distinction by demonstrated leadership ability, a three year record of high grades in Military Science, overall academic record, performance during summer camp, and the high regard held of them by the Army ROTC Staff at North Carolina State College and their fellow cadets.

Receiving the coveted awards were Cadets Paul G. Braxton, New Army ROTC Regimental Commander, of Siler City, North Carolina, John W. Copeland, Durham, N. C., Charles S. Davis, Jr., Charlotte, N. C., August A. DeHertogh, Lemont, Illinois, Wilbur K. Greer, Old Fort, N. C., John M. Lowe, Delmar, Delaware, Willie A. Mayo, Jr., Charlotte, N. C., Joel R. Parker, Charlotte, N. C., Paul J. Pickenheim, Tamaqua, Pennsylvania, Nathan J. Pond, Jr., Montclair, N. J., Joe W. Reets, Booneville, N. C., George M. Robertson, Asheville, N. C., Joseph E. Settle, Castalia, N. C., Ronald V. Sharpe, Burlington, N. C., James B. Smathers, Deland, Florida, and Richard C. White, Danville, Virginia.

Lory Wubbena

'Danny Grad' Now Living AT State

By David Barnhardt

This year, for the first time, we have on our campus a "Danny Grad." Her name is Lory Wubbena (Woo-bena) and she is from Foreston, Illinois.

A "Danny Grad?" From the photograph one can readily see that a "Danny Grad" is an attractive young female. But there is a great deal more than this to a "Danny Grad." The term is a familiar, abbreviated form of Danforth Graduate.

A College Graduate

A Danforth Graduate is a college graduate who has received a year's award from the Danforth Foundation to enable her to live on a college campus a long way from her home. On the campus to which she is assigned she seeks to assist students and groups in any way possible, and will participate in and cooperate with the resident religious forces of the campus and of the community.

Twenty young women are selected from colleges across the nation. The program offers these women an opportunity to strengthen and enrich their own lives. They are encouraged to set aside a definite period of each day for reading, and may sit in on a limited number of classes each semester. The main purpose, then, of the program is to give each of these young women an opportunity to develop and broaden themselves.

Other Purposes

Another purpose of the program is to strengthen informal student and faculty-student relationships through entertaining, informal counseling, and other services to help students get the most from their college experience. Finally, the program strives to deepen student appreciation for, and experience in, those dimensions of religion which are to be found only through the fine arts, worship, and involvement in extra-curricular activities.

The Danforth Foundation is a family trust fund concerned with the needs of higher Christian education. This is foundation which donated a major portion of the funds for the construction of our new college chapel, the Danforth Chapel.

Office In YMCA

Lory has an office on the second floor of the YMCA Building. Her office is always open to any student who wants to go and discuss a personal problem, who is curious about some phase of college life, or who just wants to drop in for an informal "Chat."

Lory makes frequent infirmary visits, helps Mr. Woodridge at the YMCA, at-

First Use of Veto

Vetville Parking Bill Vetoes By Nolan

Jim Nolan, President of Student Government, exercised his veto for the first time this week to kill a student government resolution providing for suspension of parking violations and registration check in the Vetville area of West Campus.

The traffic problem, the sorest on the State campus for the past several years, came to a head earlier this fall when the State Student Government levied a new three dollar registration fee for all student owned vehicles. The fee was imposed to facilitate construction, maintenance, and supervision of campus student parking so that the privilege could be maintained for and by the students.

Nolan cited three reasons for his veto:

"1. By declaring Vetville a nonrestricted area, any student in the nearby area could park his car in Vetville with no fear of ticketing.

2. With plans afoot for a new dorm, the situation of adjacent areas with different parking rules could easily arise, causing hard feelings and further conflict.

3. It would establish an area as an exception and would open the doors to other groups to ask for special rules based on this precedent (new fraternity row, etc.)."

Nolan stated that his main reason for vetoing the bill was the unfair situation in which it placed the other students with regard to Vetville. He said, "I don't feel that an exemption, or for that matter, any type of motion, for any particular group is fair. I am in a position where I must think of the entire campus and must consider all matters in relation to their bearing on the entire student body, not just one group."

WRAL Broadcasts Daily Tech.

Mon. Through Fri. at 6:30 p.m.

The Daily Technician, radio counterpart of State's weekly published Technician, went on the air for the Fall last Monday over station WRAL at 6:30 each evening.

Under a new setup inaugurated by the staffs of the Technician and campus radio station WVWP, a full-time editor has been appointed to supervise the broadcasts and news content of the program. John Lomax, former Business Manager of WVWP, has assumed the duties for the coming year.

The first week's shows have been prepared and presented by Lomax, but he stated, "I hope to have four other people soon to aid me with the work and share the announcing. Eventually I would like to have a different person doing the broadcast each day."

He continued, "At present we have two definite commitments for the staff, with one third person as a possibility. Spec Hawkins, Sports Editor of the Technician, is doing the Friday shows with a special slant toward State College sports news. Tom Moore has taken on the Thursday night show and I have a possibility for one other night, but I need one more regular and a couple of stand-bys."

When questioned about any differences in content on the program this year, Lomax hastily pointed out that he intended for it to be aimed at the College audience with news of college events. He noted that he hoped this would attract a number of in-town listeners, too, who would be interested in happenings at the College Union or other campus activities.

Drive Underway to Aid Key With Funds

News trickled out Tuesday afternoon concerning a quiet drive on the State College campus to raise funds for State College student Jack Key, charged with the rape of a Biscoe school teacher last spring.

Several students on the campus, with Bob Dane as spokesman, have launched a non-sponsored, private endeavor to raise funds for Key and his trial expenses. Lane explained, "I hardly knew Jack, but I feel, as do many others, that Jack is innocent of the charges preferred against him. We feel that we would like to give him a hand, since we understand that he and his family are having trouble bearing the expenses of lawyers, etc. We are not asking the support of any organization or of the college. We simply want those who feel interested in the case to contribute if they so desire."

The Key trial, first held early in August, received wide publicity throughout the State because of the conflicting testimony at the trial and due to the apparent high caliber of both the girl and Key. Key is an ex-Marine and was enrolled in Civil Engineering while at State. He is a resident of Robbins.

Lane added that he could be reached at his home in Vetville or through his phone, TE 4-0216. He emphasized that, "this is an exceptional case in my mind. We don't think it would be fitting or proper to do this with every State man charged in court, but we did feel that Key needed help, and we believe that he is innocent of the charge."

Changes Being Made on South Side of Tracks

Last week we mentioned some of the more obvious campus improvements that had been made on the north side of the railroad tracks. But it seems like the other side of the tracks is where future expansion will take place and where the most striking changes are being noticed now.

Classes are being held for the first time this semester in the new Pulp and Paper Technology Laboratory and the Agriculture Engineering buildings. These buildings, facing directly on Western Boulevard, are equipped with the most up-to-date equipment for advancing studies in their respective fields and are valued at a total of $625,000.

The two terraced fields behind the tennis courts are to be developed for dormitory and fraternity intramural sports. They will be sodded during the fall or winter and ought to be ready for use in the spring. These fields are appropriately located

(See CHANGES, Page 8)

Roger Morrow of the SAE Fraternity, discusses his fraternity magazine with two rushes during IFC sponsored rush week, currently in progress in the seventeen national fraternities represented at State.

We Approve!

It is with great interest that we note the story on the front page of The Technician concerning the fate of last week's Student Legislature passed motion that registration and parking checking be abandoned in Vetville.

As the story explains, Jim Nolan, President of Student Government, exercised his veto power for the first time in several years to reject the decision of the legislature.

We admire Jim for his position, for certainly, as one of the Vetville community and as its former mayor, there is no one on campus with a deeper interest in the group than Jim. He faced a difficult quandry, and though we do not know his reasons for the veto as yet, (he will present them at Student Legislature tonight) we would like to offer some of our own.

We were not in thorough agreement with the $3.00 registration fee, but we felt we could see the need for it with the reservation that it might be removed at some time in the future. And we are sure of the fact that it will be removed much sooner and the new facilities built much more quickly if all students will cooperate. We understand the feelings of the Vets and those who passed the resolution, too. It does not seem fair that a car seldom used on the campus be registered. But! We also feel that Vetville is a part of the State campus, just as much as the dorm lots are. Many dorm dwellers don't drive their cars to class or use them regularly on the North side of the tracks, yet they pay the fee.

In addition, we can recall a time not too far in the past when Vetville residents were standing on their rights as students and campus residents to receive garbage collection service, and we are sure they would yell rather loudly if their roads received no maintenance from the college.

No, we don't sympathize. And we're proud of Jim. We think that when the residents of Vetville and the proponents of the resolution rationalize a bit about what they proposed, they too will realize the wisdom of Nolan's veto and the injustice which would have been done the other students.

Something New

The College Union's new "Apple-Polishing" hours sponsored each Tuesday afternoon, seem to us to be an answer to a problem which has long existed on the State College campus; how do you get to know your professors as human beings? And are they human beings?

State has often been criticized, as have many large schools, for its lack of personality, its aloofness toward the student and its lack of personal interest on the part of the professors. We are sure that many of State's profs would be delighted to get to know the faces in their classes better; surely they would be among the first to

Y's Words

It was an ordinary dorm room. There were books on the desk where someone had done some studying, there were shoes on the floor and socks drying in the window. The fellows were just an ordinary bunch of Freshmen. There were some who were shy and there were some busy talking. They were sitting on the desk, some were piled up in the sack and one or two were perched on the trunk. The discussion just naturally started like any bull session. The boys began to talk of some of the problems that had confronted them here as Freshmen. They talked of books, profs, grades, military, sports and anything that came to mind.

All of a sudden, someone asked, "Why did you come to school?" That was a logical question for Freshmen to ask each other, but they found that they really didn't know. They had vague ideas but no real purpose for being here. The discussion ran on and on and after it was all over, the boys had had a good time, but when they really stopped to think about it, they had grown up a little bit. True, this was a bull session, but all who had participated felt that much had been gained and that maybe here was a group to which he belonged.

There are bull sessions like this being conducted in eleven different locations in the dorms, sponsored and led by the YMCA. Find one in your dorm and get in on it.

There will be a flag flying in front of the Y Wednesday morning. This will be the flag of the Christian Church. It is being flown to remind you of the Chapel Services in the Danforth Chapel from 12:40 until 1:00. The Carillon will be played from 12:00 until 12:10 each Wednesday too, as a further reminder of the chapel services. We hope you will be there.

Student Affairs Bulletin

Freshman Assembly—There will be a freshman assembly on Wed. evening, Oct. 3, 7 p.m., Coliseum. Students uncertain of seat assignments should come early for assistance in finding their places. Roll will be taken and cuts recorded. Students may check their seat assignments in advance at 201 Holladay Hall, Student Personnel Office.

Magazine and Book Salesmen—Students are cautioned about unauthorized magazine and book salesmen. Some have already been reported as canvassing dormitory, fraternity, and married student housing areas. Only students are authorized to solicit for any purpose on the campus and they are identified by a badge which they should be wearing whenever soliciting. Please report unauthorized solicitors in dormitories to a dormitory manager or to the Office of Student Housing, 207 Holladay Hall. Every year students complain of being bilked or oversold by high-pressure salespeople. This warning is intended to help prevent such happenings.

All New Foreign Students—There will be an orientation meeting for all new foreign students, Thurs., Oct. 4, College Union Theatre, 8:00 p.m.

Pre-Veterinary Students—Meeting, Williams Hall Auditorium, 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 1.

ASME—All Mechanical Engineers are urged to attend an ASME meeting, Tues., Oct. 2, 7:00 p.m., 111 Broughton. Movie will be shown. Door prize!

AIME—Student Chapter of AIME will hold its first meeting Oct. 2, 201 Page, 7:30 p.m. Geological Engineering students and majors are invited to attend.

ASHAE—First meeting, Tues., Oct. 2, 7:30 p.m., 217 Broughton. All Heating and Air Conditioning students are invited.

4-H Club—The Collegiate 4-H Club meets Oct. 3. Any student who was a 4-H Club Member in high school is invited to attend and become a member. See any club member or the State 4-H Club Office, Ricks Hall, for the time and place.

ASCE Picnic in Honor of Freshmen—All freshmen in Civil Engineering and Civil Engineering, Const. Opt., are invited to attend the "Get Together" Picnic, Thurs., Oct. 4, 6:30 p.m., at the shelter in the lake at Pullen Park.

Reorganization of the Student Post, the Society of American Military Engineers—A meeting for all students interested in joining the Society of American Military Engineers will be held on Tues., Oct. 2, 8:00 p.m., Room 131, Coliseum.

Other offices of the Division of Student Affairs (Dean of Student Affairs, Coordinator of Student Housing, Coordinator of Student Activities, Student Personnel Office, Student Financial Aid Office, and Counseling Center) are now occupying the second floor of Holladay Hall.

State College Young Democrats Club Endorses Nolan for Secretary

The North Carolina State College Young Democrats Club announced its endorsement of Jim Nolan, president of the college's student government, as State treasurer of the North Carolina YDC organization.

In announcing Nolan's candidacy, Ed Rose, president of the State College YDC, said, "Jim Nolan has demonstrated his interest and ability during the past three years by his active participation in the local YDC unit."

It marks the first time that the State College Young Democrats have proposed a candidate for a YDC State Office.

Nolan, who served as president of the State College student body during the past school year, last spring became the first man in the 67-year history of State College to be reelected president of the student government.

A senior in industrial engineering at N. C. State, the 25-year-old student is a veteran of the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg and is a former mayor of Verville.

Nolan entered the college as a freshman in January, 1954, was a member of the Student Government Council in 1954-55, and served as chairman of the council's Rules Committee.

FREUD FRAUD?

Jim was so conceited that he had cold lips from kissing mirrors. Until one day he asked himself, "Am I truly superior? Do not girls turn me down daily? Twice on holidays? Am I not, in actuality, profoundly inferior?"

So he decided to consult the famous psychiatrist, Dr. Hy Pertensive. "My boy," said Pertensive, "your Rohrschach test shows you are going batty from collar wrinkles. It is incurable. In fact, you are incurable. Nothing I can do for you. $10, please."

Then Jim read an ad for a Van Heusen Century Shirt. He read how its soft collar won't wrinkle ever... how you can maltreat it like a maniac and it still won't wrinkle... how without a bit of starch it's impossible to wrinkle it. "Gee whiz, I am saved," said Jim, and he ran to his haberdasher to buy one. "$3.95 please," said the clerk.

Today Jim is as popular as money. And he still has his Van Heusen Century shirt because it lasts twice as long as ordinary shirts.

Wolfpack Grid Squad Dumped By V.P.I. 35-6

State's once high-riding Wolfpack were handed a very unpleasant 35-6 drubbing at the hands of Virginia Tech last Saturday afternoon in Norfolk.

The Wolfpack, victors over Carolina 26-6 two weeks ago, were helpless in trying to stop the crew of talented backs from VPI as they rolled up over four hundred yards on the ground.

State's only scoring came in the third quarter when the Pack moved 70 yards for its one touchdown, and halfback George Marinov carried for the final 6-yards and the score.

"I thought Virginia Tech turned in a smart overall job," admitted Coach Earle Edwards, "and we played poorly. We couldn't move the ball and had to relinquish it. They seemed to be ready for our wide game and that hurt."

Tech didn't do anything spectacular, but what they did they did well. We just couldn't move the ball like we did against Carolina, and naturally I think there was some let down from the Carolina game too.

A crowd of about 10,000 were in the stands for the battle, and they saw a very good Virginia Tech team. The Wolfpack just didn't play the type of ball they

Cross Country Team Opens Season Sat. Against Wake Forest Here

By Answer Joseph

On October 6 North Carolina State's Cross Country Team will officially open the 1956 season by playing host to the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest.

Coach Derr has high hopes for the 1956 red and white cross country men and will be looking forward to continuing a new winning streak. Until meeting powerful Maryland last year the Wolfpack had not lost a dual meet since 1949, running the win mark to a total of 33 consecutive victories.

Even with the loss to Maryland, State went on to a 6-1 record, placing second in the State Meet and second in the ACC Tournament, dropping such foes as North Carolina, Wake Forest, South Carolina, William and Mary, Virginia and Duke.

Clemson comes to Raleigh Saturday and from all reports are loaded for bear. Scout reports say they are as good or better than VPI, but the Wolfpack have just begun to move and anything can happen.

Oct. 12—USC & UNC	Columbia, S. C.
Oct. 20—Virginia & Duke	Durham
Oct. 24—UNC	Chapel Hill
Oct. 26—Davidson & William & Mary	Williamsburg, Va.
Nov. 2—Clemson & Maryland	Here
Nov. 12—State Meet	Here
Nov. 19—ACC Tournament	Charlottesville, Va.

CLEMSON

Wells and Jim Coleman provide the running spark along with Bob Spooner at fullback.

Bussey drew praise from assistant coach Pat Pepler who scouted the Tigers against Florida. "He really fooled them in the last few minutes of the game when Clemson got its game-tying touchdown," Pepler said. "Instead of passing like everyone thought he would, he stuck to the ground and moved the team like a pro."

Saturday's game will be the 28th between the teams since 1899. Clemson leads in the series 20-6 with one tie.

North Carolina State's Baby Wolfpack opened their 1956 season with a thrilling 14-13 win over Duke's Baby Imps. It was the first game for both teams.

Halfback Roy Seese galloped 60 yards for the first State score mid-way the first period, End Jim Sciarretta made good on the first of two conversions.

A muffed pass by State in punt formation set up the first Duke score in the second period. Deems Allie went over from the 6, but he failed on his own extra point try.

Halfback Dan Lee took a 35-yard pass from quarterback George Harris and scored for Duke in the third period. Paul Yeajel made the extra point.

State wrapped up the game when Mancini passing from the 18, hit end Joe Mazutis for a touchdown with 11 minutes left to play.

Stickler!

STICKLERS ARE TICKLERS and a mighty soft way to make money! Just write down a simple riddle and a two-word rhyming answer. For example: What's a ball player who gets a raise? (Answer: richer pitcher.) Note: both words must have the same number of syllables — bleak freak, jolly dolly, vinery finery. Send your Sticklers, with your name, address, college, and class, to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Don't do drawings! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we use in our advertising—and for hundreds that never see print. And remember—you're bound to Stickle better when you're enjoying a Lucky, because Luckies taste better. Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. Lab to Be Named
For Canton Man

North Carolina State College's newly-completed Pulp and Paper Technology Laboratory will be named in honor of Reuben B. Robertson, Sr., of Canton, chairman of the board of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company and a long-time supporter of State College.

This was announced last week by Governor Hodges in a luncheon address at State College. The Governor said the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University has approved the recommendation from the college's School of Forestry that the laboratory be named in honor of the noted industrialist.

Dedicator exercises, he said, will be held later.

The laboratory, built at a cost of $292,000, is the headquarters of a regional teaching and research program in pulp and paper technology.

Lucy Daniels To Discuss "Caleb, My Son" Tuesday at CU

On October 9, at seven o'clock the library committee will sponsor Miss Lucy Daniels for an informal discussion on her book, "Caleb, My Son."

The discussion will be held in the North Ballroom of the College Union Building.

Dr. Hartley will conduct a panel discussing with Miss Daniels outstanding points in her book.

Miss Daniels is the 22-year-old daughter of the editor of the News & Observer. She has recently won great recognition for her first novel, "Caleb, My Son," which has received excellent reviews in New York.

"Caleb, My Son" portrays an average Negro family in the modern South, and relates the effects of the Supreme Court decision on segregation in this family.

Immediately following the discussion of Miss Daniels' book, a coffee hour will be held in Catering Room B. All attending the discussion will be given an opportunity to meet the author.

CU Representatives Will Attend Meet

Representatives of the State College Union will attend the seventh annual regional conference of College Unions at Tuskegee Institute on October 4, 5 and 6. The convention is held to facilitate the exchange of ideas and to elect new officers.

Jim Smathers, CU president, will deliver the keynote address at the meeting; and Jim May, CU activities chairman, will lead a panel discussion on social activities. Bob Strother, CU vice-president, will serve on the nominating committee, and David Phelps, CU gallery chairman, on the regional fund committee.

Other State students attending the conference are: Erbie Mangum, Earl Holloman, Bob Dawson and George Colton.

Charlie Peterson Now at College Union Games Room

Charlie Peterson, world-famous billiard authority, is giving a series of billiard exhibitions in the games room of the North Carolina State College Union Building through Saturday at 8 o'clock each evening. Peterson, now on his 27th annual tour of major colleges and universities under the auspices of the National Association of College Unions, will stage his show at State College under the sponsorship of the College Union's games committee, headed by Paul Pickenheim of Tamaqua, Pa.

His program will consist of a review of the fundamentals and basic points important to billiard and pocket playing, demonstrating various ball uses, teaching the use of angles on the table, and key shots for intercollegiate competition.

You Can Win a Cash Award—and Scholarship Money for Your College in

Reader's Digest $41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write

...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country . . . and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find . . . you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles—in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

Follow the directions given below. Fill in the entry blank, paste it on a post card, and get it into the mail before the deadline. Additional blanks are obtainable at your college bookstore.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Don't delay. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will win.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

READER'S DIGEST CONTEST, Box 4, Great Neck, L. I., New York
In the space opposite the word "FIRST" write the number of the article you think will be the most popular of all. Opposite the word "SECOND" write the number of the article you think will rank second in popularity. List in this way the numbers of the six top articles in the order of their popularity. (Note: Use only the numbers of articles you choose. Do not write the title of any article.) Clip and paste this coupon on a Government post card.

YOU CAN WIN:

plus $5000 for the scholarship fund of your college or . . .

$1000 cash 2nd prize

plus $1000 for the scholarship fund of your college or . . .

Any of TEN $500 cash prizes

plus $500 for the scholarship fund of your college or . . .

Any of 100 $10 prizes

in book credit from your local college bookstore

And if your entry is the best from your college you will receive an extra award—an additional $10 in book credit at your college bookstore.

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES

1. Read the descriptions in this advertisement of the articles that appear in October Reader's Digest. Or better, read the complete articles. Then select the 6 that you think most readers will like best.

2. On the entry blank at left, write the number of each article you select. List them in what you think will be the order of popularity, from first to sixth place. Your selections will be judged by comparison with a national survey which ranks in order of popularity the 6 articles that readers like best. Fill in and mail the coupon. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956.

3. This contest is open only to college students and faculty members in the U. S., excluding employees of The Reader's Digest, its advertising agencies, and their families. It is subject to all federal, state and local laws and regulations.

4. Only one entry per person.

5. In case of ties, entries postmarked earliest will win. Entries will be judged by O. E. McIntyre, Inc., whose decision will be final. All entries become property of The Reader's Digest; none returned.

6. All winners notified by mail. List of cash-prize winners mailed if you enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Which six articles will readers of the October Digest like best?

1. Norfolk's friend to troubled teen-agers. Story of the arthritic cripple to whom youngsters flock for advice.

within short distance of both the dormitory and the proposed million-dollar fraternity row (which mainly needs only one million dollars for beginning construction). These fields are a fine answer to the problem of overcrowded intramural facilities, the cost being met by student fees.

One of the most pressing problems is the necessity for new and better dorms; this is a fact long realized both by students and the administration. Until now, much hard work has been put into the solution of this problem with little tangible evidence of results. But now a section of Verville has been designated as the site for a new, modern dormitory that will soon be constructed. It is to be an 800-man dorm, and will incorporate the far superior "section" plan; that is, it will be divided into sections of four two-man rooms—all with separate entrances, showers, telephones, etc. This will enable everybody in the dorm to have more quiet and privacy . . . and more space. Naturally, this type of dormitory will be more expensive to construct, but it will be well worth the added expense. As soon as more details are announced, an article will describe this new dorm and all its features and advantages. From the office of the Dean of Student Affairs came the comment that this new dorm could be more than filled right now by just taking the third man from the three-man rooms; the enrollment this year exceeded all estimates and is now placed unofficially at 5525!

COVERING CAMPUS

The program is planned for all students although Seniors and Graduate students may find the advice more timely.

States Mates

The States Mates Club will meet Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Student Union Building. Chancellor Boston will be the guest speaker at the get-acquainted party.

A.I.E.E.

Paul Madrin, a sophomore, was elected as a delegate to the Engineers Council at the first meeting of the joint student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers which was held on September 25 in Withers Hall.

Ashley Leggett presided over the meeting which had Dean Lampe, Dr. Hoadley and professors Manning and Winkler as speakers.

Graduate Dames

The first general meeting of the Graduate Dames of State College will be held at 8 p.m. in Rooms 256-258 of the College Union building next Monday. All wives of graduate students are Eligible for Dames' membership and will be welcome. Mrs. Neill Briggs, a member of the CU staff, will be guest speaker.

Cycle Club

The Capitol City Trailblazers, the campus cycle club, will meet every Wednesday night in the College Union at 7 p.m.

Scoters and cycles will be inspected after the meetings or between five and six p.m. at 29-C Verville to conform with College regulations. Twenty-five cents will be charged for the stickers which the club purchased.

DANNY GRAD

tends the YMCA Cabinet meetings, drops in at the College Union occasionally, and spends a part of each day reading. She plans to do some informal entertaining in the near future. She has $25 a month given her by the Danforth Foundation to be spent at her discretion each month on students. With this she plans to redecorate the YMCA Lounge, purchase a television set for this room and buy books, cards, and records for the use of the students.

This summer she spent five weeks at a camp in Michigan with the other Danforth Graduates, prior to being assigned to State.

Studied Music

In college, Lory's major was Public School Music. While at Central College in Iowa, her activities included the Campus Government; Chairman of Women's Intramurals; soloist in the A cappella Choir; a member of the Band; Music Club; Dramatics; Future Teachers of America; YWCA; Student Religious Council; Religious Emphasis Week; Campus Religious Discussion Group; Sunday School Teacher; and Vacation Bible School.

Students are reminded that Lory's office is open to them at all times. For an informal visit, a cup of coffee, or a serious talk she welcomes every student.
