S. G. Conference Set For Friday

A conference promoted by Student Government will be held in the College Union on Sunday, May 19, from 2:00-5:00.

All interested students are invited to attend. Campus leaders—Senators, class officers, executive committeemen, and other campus leaders—will attend.

The purpose of this conference is for the students to voice their ideas and complaints, for the S. G. to review their accomplishments for the previous year, and to discuss new and old campus problems. Also, the meeting is to get ideas on what can be done next year to improve the methods that were unsuccessful this year.

Free Admission for Carolina Game

State College students will be admitted to the State vs. Carolina football game free of charge on September 21, 1957, at Chapel Hill, since this game is considered our "home" game.

Time does not permit the issuance of reserved seat tickets since the game will be held the day after registration. Consequently, State students will be admitted on either their I. D. card, or coupon No. 1 of their student book, depending on which arrangement is instituted and approved by the Athletic Council.

Date tickets will be the regular price, $3.50, for State students as well as Carolina students. Date tickets may be purchased from the Coliseum Box Office beginning approximately August 15, 1957. Sections that State students and their dates will occupy will be announced at a later date. Bus transportation from the campus to Chapel Hill will be furnished, free of charge.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

$3.50 Date Tickets

An announcement from the Director of Athletics, Roy Clogston, (which appears on page 1) states that "date tickets (for the State-Carolina game next fall) will be the regular price, $3.50. . ."

On March 17, Clogston met with a group from Student Government to discuss, among other things, the date ticket situation. After the meeting the following announcement appeared in The Technician: "Date tickets will be one dollar for both football and basketball non-reserved seat games, if this proposal is adopted." (The proposal referred to is the one which this group decided upon and hoped would be adopted for next year.) Obviously, it was not.

The Athletic Council, however, meets one more time this year. The meeting is to be on Saturday. From several sources we have heard that the students do not have one chance in a thousand of getting date tickets for $1.00.

Just because we go to school here and pay our fees to the Athletic Department each year does not mean we get any more consideration in this matter than anyone else. Football games are business deals—if students cannot afford it, "to hell with them." This position is becoming more and more common as professionalism in college athletics continues. It costs more and more to get the athletes and somebody must pay for it.

If you are one of the few who still believes that athletes come here in preference to other schools for "tuition, room and board, laundry, and $15 a month," you're mistaken . . . sadly mistaken.

What we want to know is why the students—who help to support the athletic program to the tune of $83,000 per year (each student pays a $15.00 athletic fee each year)—get no better treatment than others?

Making an eleventh hour plea to the Athletic Council on the behalf of all students who date to football games, we ask that the Council give the students a better deal on date tickets than $3.50.

Long, long ago we heard that college athletics were sponsored primarily for the benefit and enjoyment of the students of the colleges—Well, as we said . . . that was long, long ago.

It is obvious to most what the primary purpose of college athletics is!

Mr. Clogston said that there would be no reserved seats because "time does not permit . . . since the game will be held the day after registration." $3.50 is a lot to pay for a seat in the end zone—which is where one and his date might have to sit—when others (non-students) get reserved seats for the same price. . .

We make a final suggestion, which the Athletic Department might use if it really is interested in the students. Why not simply set up a table at registration to exchange reserved seat tickets for coupon No. 1 of the student book, or, if we have I.D. cards, give the tickets after checking, punching, or stamping the I.D. cards? Date tickets could be sold at the same time.

We will be watching to see if there is enough interest in student-welfare at the Coliseum to provide this service for the students. . .

Letters Are Invited

We are planning to voice our opinions in next Monday's Technician on the inadequate salaries now being paid our professors. This is a subject which affects each of us vitally—and our state as well. Our efforts may have some effect on the Legislature, which is currently considering salary increases for teachers.

We invite students and faculty members to write us a "Letter to the Editor" on this subject, which we will print on Monday. Please have letters in at our offices in the 1911 Building by 8:00 p.m. Sunday.

Russians "Borrow" Murray's Book

The Russians have done it again!

Without getting permission of the author or the publisher, Soviet Union authorities have printed and made available to readers in their country a book by Dr. Raymond L. Murray, acting director of the Nuclear Reactor at State College.

The book, published by Prentice-Hall in 1954, is entitled, "Introduction to Nuclear Engineering," and was printed in its entirety by Russian publishers. They credited Dr. Murray as the book's author but gave no recognition to the American publisher.

So USSR students, whose leaders claim world supremacy in scientific matters, are learning nuclear engineering from Dr. Murray—but not by his consent.

Knowledge of the Russian literary foray on the State College professor's work was disclosed by Dr. Murray in commenting upon the publication of his second major volume, "Nuclear Reactor Physics," a 317-page book.

No International Agreement Asked how the Russians can get away with stealing his writings, Dr. Murray said the United States has no international agreement with the USSR covering the subject.

Someone did, however, send Dr. Murray a copy of the Russian translation of his work.

"Introduction to Nuclear Engineering," Dr. Murray's earlier book, has also been translated into German, Spanish, and Japanese, but his permission was requested and received for these translations.

Dr. Murray's new book explores the further peacetime development of atomic energy.

His latest book will be distributed on a national basis and is expected to be in popular demand by colleges and universities and by industrial companies planning and designing reactors.

Practical Text

Dr. Murray, a professor of physics in State College's School of Engineering since 1950, wrote the book as a practical text and guide for the design analysis of nuclear reactors.

The exhaustive volume, illustrated with numerical examples based on Dr. Murray's experiences as a consultant to the American Machine and Foundry Company, the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Alco Products, and other firms, was published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., of Englewood Cliffs, N. J.

Dedicated to his students, Dr. Murray's new book is based on a series of undergraduate and graduate courses given by the author since 1950 in the nuclear engineering curriculum at North Carolina State College, a national pioneer in the atomic energy field.

Consisting of 10 chapters, the new book covers the technical factors relating to nuclear reactors, neutron motion, flux distribution and critical mass, heterogeneous reactors, two-group theory, the time dependent reactor, temperature effects on multiplication, reactor control, transport control, and neutron slowing and multi-group methods.

"Introduction"

In the words of the author, the book "is intended to serve as an introduction to the physical concepts and calculation methods in this new branch of applied physics.

"It is designed for use by the first-year graduate student in science and engineering and the design engineer in the nuclear energy field . . ."

Dr. Murray, a physicist and administrator on the world-famed Manhattan project, has gained distinction for his work in nuclear energy at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tenn., for which he still serves as consultant, and as a consultant for several industrial firms using power reactors.

Designer and Engineer

He was one of the main designers and engineers of the State College reactor which is the world's first college-owned nuclear reactor and is devoted solely to peacetime teaching and research in the field of atomic energy.

The 36-year old nuclear scientist and author is a native of Lincoln, Neb. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in education and his Master of Science degree in physics and mathematics from the University of Nebraska. He was granted his Ph.D. degree in physics by the University of Tennessee. He has done atomic work at both Los Alamos, New Mexico, and Oak Ridge.

Dr. Murray's honorary and professional affiliations include membership in Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Mu Epsilon, Sigma Xi, the American Physical Society, American Institute of Physics, American Association of Physics Teachers, and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Dr. Murray is married to the former Irah Mae Rengler. They have three children.

Delta Sigma Phi Social Fraternity Back At State

Rho Chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi National Social Fraternity was recently re-established at State College, bringing the total number of fraternities at State to eighteen.

Initiation of the State Brothers was performed last month by the Alpha Epsilon Chapter at Duke University. On April 6, the formal initiation ceremony and a following banquet was held in Durham for the 46 newly initiated State Brothers. Mr. Francis Wacker, National Secretary of Delta Sigma Phi, was guest speaker at the banquet honoring the State Chapter.

Rho Chapter of the fraternity was originally founded at State College in 1915, but became dormant at the outbreak of the Korean War due to the heavy draw on fraternity manpower. Early interest in the revival of the chapter occurred last semester. Before long, the ideas and goals of a few students, along with the splendid work of one of the fraternity's district representatives, became a working reality.

Fred I. Joseph, President of the chapter since February, has been the keynote in the revival of the local chapter. Rho Chapter advisors are Major Hilliard B. McCullough of the Air Science Dept., and Coach Jim Edwards of the Athletic Dept.

Officers for next year of Delta Sigma Phi were installed on May 6 and are: Bob Kennel, President; Dick Goudie, Vice-President; Bob Ernulf, Secretary; Bill Byrd, Treasurer; and Edgar Smith, Sgt. at Arms.

Other chapter officers recently named are: Earl Marlowe, Social Chairman; Don Johnson, Pledgemaister; Edgar Smith, Rush Chairman; Don Waller, Athletic Chairman; John Sprinkle, Editor; Bill Laughton, Song Leader; Fred Manley, Chaplain; Jerry Sawyer, Scholarship Chairman; Bill Barksdale, Activities Chairman; Stan Timblin, Historian; Erbie Mangum, Steward; Joe DuBoise, Alumni Chairman; and Bob Hibbard, Assistant Secretary.

The Delta Sigma Phi house is located at 3306 Hillsboro Street and will house approximately 33 men. Delta Sigma Phi, founded in 1899 at the College of the City of New York, has grown into 85 active chapters with over 22,000 members. Other Chapters in North Carolina are located at Wake Forest, Duke, and High Point College; with colonies at East Carolina College and Atlantic Christian College.

Rho Chapter's Dream Girl for this year is Miss Cindy Robinson, a sophomore from Greensboro College from Lincolnton, N. C. She was crowned last Saturday night at the Fraternity's annual Sailor's Ball, and was escorted by Fred I. Joseph, President of the Chapter for this year.

Present Brothers of Rho Chapter of Delta Sigma Phi who were initiated at Duke on April 9 are:

Larry D. Almond, Albemarle; Stacy M. Austry, Clinton, N. C.; Norman E. Banks, New Bern; William B. Barksdale, Raleigh; James W. Byrd, Mt. Olive, N. C.; Jerry A. Church, Valdese, N. C.; James H. 284 Students Get '56-'57 Grants-In-Aid

The Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, on May 26, 1952, unanimously voted to establish a definite set of policies and practices to control the award of grants-in-aid.

Each year several hundred students benefit directly from grants-in-aid program here at State. Students who feel they need financial assistance apply through Dr. Lyle B. Rogers in Holladay Hall, who is in charge of scholarships and financial aid.

The money for the grants-in-aid program comes from two sources—the Students' Supply Stores and the Escheates Fund. For the past two years, 40% of the profits of the Student Supply Stores have been allocated for grants-in-aid. (The remaining 60% goes to athletic scholarships.)

WC Chorus Plans CU Appearance

On Friday, May 17, at 8:00 P.M., the Elliot Hall Chorus of Woman's College will appear in the College Union Ballroom at N. C. State College. The chorus, which is sponsored by the Elliot Hall Student Union, presents musical programs not only to the students of the college, but to civic organizations and public schools.

The chorus is under the direction of Mr. William C. DeVeny, an outstanding vocal teacher and choral director of the School of Music at Woman's College, and is accompanied on the piano by Miss Nancy Crockett.

The group concentrates a variety of music, emphasizing semi-classical music, spirituals, and other light music. Among the presentations this Friday will be several songs from the production "Brigadoon," spirituals including solo parts, individual solos, and many well-known light and popular songs.

Notes from the Wolfpack

A big pat on the back goes to State's intramural department for organization and conduction of the 11th annual Big Four Day Program this past Tuesday. . . . Director Art Hoch and his staff did an outstanding job that drew praise from Dean Stewart and other college officials. . . . the fact that State copped first place is further proof of the outstanding intramural program here at State. . . .

The recent announcement about tickets for next fall's State-Carolina grid contest left a lot to be desired. . . . The biggest bite is the $3.50 date ticket and no reserved seats. . . . and its supposed to be State's home game anyway. . . . Congrad's, however, are in order for the free transportation deal. . . . It's the same old merry-go-round. . . . when any type of date tickets deal is involved you can expect the student to come out on the short end! . . . Athletic Council here we come. . . .

Earle Edwards said recently, "If I were a sportswriter, I would predict that State will have an improved team in 1957. On paper, the prospects for a good season are bright.

"However," the Wolfpack coach continued, "I'm a coach and naturally I avoid being overly optimistic, knowing that a lot of things could happen between now and the end of the season."

Edwards' reasons for optimism are: more depth, more experience, better defense, good spirit, 19 lettermen, more size in the line, fast backfield, Dick Christy, Dick Hunter, John Collar and Bob Pepe.

On the debit side of the ledger, however, is a tough schedule with only three games in Riddick Stadium, The Wolfpack is on the road for its first five games.

Lou Dickman, former State basketball-baseball star, is Army bound in June.

Don Hafer's five home runs this year is more than half of the team's total of 9. Dick Hunter is the only other Wolfpacker with more than one round-tripper to his credit.

State players think Wake Forest's John Stokoe and Ben Tench, Maryland's Fred Gebhardt and South Carolina's Jim Craig are the most underrated pitchers in the ACC. The Wolfpack got only three hits off Craig, five off Gebhardt, six of Stokoe and seven off Tench.

Scotty Hurst and Derris Bradshaw, the Wolfpack's efficient keystone combination, are long-time buddies. The two played together on the same Wilmington High Team for four years, in addition to several summers of American Legion ball.

Carolina AAU Meet Saturday Event One of Nation's Best

Runners Sime, Beatty Calhoun Top Entries

Over 200 entries, including some of the nation's top stars, have been received for the Carolinas AAU track meet which will be held at the State College track here Saturday.

Heading the list are Duke's Dave Sime, holder of two world records; North Carolina College's Lee Calhoun, Olympic high hurdle champion; North Carolina's Jim Beatty and Dave Scurlock, outstanding miler and middle distance runner; and State last copped the crown in 1951.

The summary:

Softball: 1. State, 2. Wake Forest, 3. Carolina, 4. Duke. First round: State 3, Carolina 0; Wake Forest 6, Duke 4. Finals: State 3, Wake Forest 2 (nine innings); Carolina 3, Duke 8.
Golf: 1. Carolina (24 1/2 points), 2. State (20 1/2), 3. Wake Forest, 4. Duke.
Handball: 1. Duke, 2. State, 3. Wake Forest, 4. Carolina.
Badminton: 1. Carolina, 2. State, 3. Duke, 4. Wake Forest.
Horseshoes: 1. Carolina, 2. Wake Forest, 3. State, 4. Duke.
Table tennis: 1. State, 2. Duke, 3. Wake Forest, 4. Carolina.
Tennis: 1. Duke, 2. Carolina, 3. State, 4. Wake Forest.
Volley ball: 1. State, 2. Carolina, 3. Duke, 4. Wake Forest.

Elias Gilbert, Winston-Salem Teachers' hurdler who recently beat Calhoun.

Preliminaries will begin at 2 o'clock and the finals will be held at 7 o'clock.

The meet is under the direction of Wolfpack track coach Paul Derr and his assistant, Jim Little.

Twelve teams have entered the meet, plus a host of untached performers. Defending champion Duke, who won last year on the strength of Sime's wins in the 100 and 220, will be back to defend its title.

Other teams include Clemson, Davidson, North Carolina varsity, North Carolina frosh, Wake Forest Athletic Association, A and T College North Carolina College, Wolfpack Club, Fayetteville State Teachers, Winston-Salem Teachers, and Camp Lejeune.

Derr said that while entries have been received from Sime and Beatty, there is a possibility that both may be forced to withdraw. Sime is a regular on the Blue Devil baseball team which may be involved in a playoff game Saturday, and Beatty is recovering from a bruised instep which caused him to drop out of the recent ACC meet.

There will be 16 events on the day's program. Derr said competition will be in the 100-yard dash, 220, 440, 880, mile, 3-mile, 120 high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, 440 hurdles, mile relay, broad jump, pole vault, high jump, javelin, discus, and shot put.

Last year's meet was one of the most successful AAU events ever held in the Carolina's district.

Donations Needed In Clothing Drive

The YMCA clothing drive which began Monday will run through next week. Large red boxes have been placed in the dormitories, fraternity houses, and the YMCA lobby for those who wish to contribute old clothing.

In addition to clothing the YMCA is seeking such items as blankets, sheets, and pillowcases. The clothing collected will be sent to the Church World Service where it will be shipped overseas.

State Cops

Big 4 Day

North Carolina State walked off with top honors in the 11th annual Big Four Sports Day here Tuesday afternoon, breaking a five-year dominance held by arch-rival Carolina.

The West Raleigh lads rolled up a total of 28 points for the No. 1 spot, followed by Carolina with 25, Duke, 20, and Wake Forest trailing with 15. Points are awards in eight different events on a 5-3-2-1 basis.

State took first place in softball, table tennis, and volleyball and came in second in badminton, golf, and handball.

The Wolfpack's biggest thrill came in the softball competition the most popular event of the day, when they edged Wake Forest 3-2 in extra innings, to win first place in the event and clinch the over-all point championship.

Over 300 intramural athletes from the Big Four colleges participated in the annual event.
