An AFROTC Headquarters liaison team has just completed a two day visit to the AFROTC detachment at N. C. State College. The party, consisting of Colonel A. C. McDonald and Lieutenant Colonel S. R. Lauler, arrived Monday morning, October 29th, and conducted a thorough review of the entire detachment.

The program included a review of administrative, supply and classroom procedures. Both members of the team monitored actual classes to receive a first hand account of student reception and participation.

Monday afternoon the Cadet Wing Staff, headed by Cadet Colonel George T. Lathrop, presented a briefing for the Liaison Team. This briefing was attended by the Professor of Air Science, Colonel James F. Risher, Jr., and other members of the cadre.

Pep Rally Planned For Friday Night

Head Cheerleader Judge Clement announced plans Tuesday for a monster pep rally to be held in the Owen-Tucker quadrangle at 8:00 p.m. Friday night.

Clement said Tuesday, "I hope we'll have a big crowd. We shouldn't let the team down now especially, 'cause this is when they really need us. They'll beat Wake Forest Saturday, and it will help if we give them a big send-off."

Clement sounded one note of despair concerning the rains, saying that the rally would have to be cancelled in case of inclement weather.

The Technician wishes to announce that it will, as in the past, run election material submitted by candidates for office. It reserves the right to reject any copy it wishes to.

Candidates for Freshman offices who wish their material used must submit the material to the Technician office no later than 9:00 p.m. any Monday night. The copy must be typewritten, double-spaced, with sixty-two characters or spaces per line.

Friday Unanimously Elected As Consolidated University President

The Board of Trustees unanimously elected William C. Friday the new President of the Consolidated University at its called meeting in the State House of Representatives chamber last Friday.

Friday, who had been nominated by a special committee headed by Victor Bryant of Durham, received the approval of the Board's Executive Committee the week before.

Bryant nominated Friday before the full Board at the conclusion of his report on the activities of the special nominating committee. Seconding speeches were made by O. Max Gardner, Jr., and several other members of the Board.

Friday was seated at the Speaker's stand of the House chamber and received, with his wife, the standing applause of the Board and spectators presiding following his notification of election by Governor Luther Hodges. He made a short acceptance speech, outlining several areas in which he hoped to see improvement in the next few years, and establishing goals of continued progress and freedom for the Consolidated University.

Chi Epsilon Pledges Ten

Chi Epsilon, Civil Engineering Honorary Fraternity, announced the formation of a new pledge class of ten members this week. The men, chosen for their scholastic ability, sociability, practicality and character, are participating in pledge projects and activities during this week. The candidates chosen from (See CHI EPSILON, page 8)

Fireworks . . .

It has been brought to the attention of the Judicial Board that a few students have been setting off fireworks on the campus. These students are breaking not only campus rules, but state laws as well. Both sets of laws strictly forbid the use or possession of fireworks.

Since these infractions violate the Campus Code, and not the Honor Code, students are not bound by their honor to report them. However, the Judicial Board hopes that students will, acting on their own discretion, report the use of fireworks. In addition to the danger involved, they feel that it is a reflection on the student's maturity.

Any student convicted of an infraction involving fireworks will be dealt with by the state authorities as well as by the Judicial Board.

State's seventeen social fraternities are looking forward to the biggest weekend of the Fall semester, beginning tomorrow night with several informal fraternity parties. The individual parties at the houses tomorrow night and the concert and dance by Duke Ellington's nationally renowned band will highlight the weekend's activities.

David Barnhardt, Vice-President of the IFC and Chairman of the Dance Committee, has announced that the jazz concert by Ellington will be presented by the Ellington band in the Raleigh Amphitheater at 3:30 Saturday afternoon and that the formal dance will be held in the Coliseum Saturday night at 8:00 p.m.

In Honor of the Pledges
The Pledge Formal, as the Fall dances are known, is held each Fall in honor of the new pledges who have recently joined the seventeen fraternities. Their members, now totalling over seven hundred, have all received bids to attend both the dance and the concert. Guest bids are available in limited numbers to non-fraternity men. They may be purchased from the fraternities.

Quitters

We are quite sure that everybody at State knows we lost a ballgame to Dook Saturday.

We imagine most everybody has seen Earle Edwards statements to the press since then. He says he can't understand what happened. And we wouldn't profess to know anymore than he does.

But. We think we can offer a suggestion that might help.

And its not to him . . . it's to you.

Tom, Dick, Harry and Joe State College.

You really raised hell after State beat Carolina. You tore down goal posts and cheered like crazy and did a lot of things like that that showed State's Wolfpack you were behind them.

Our diagnosis of the Wolfpack's problem lies in that same spirit . . . or the lack of it.

You can't expect any team to do well after they are beaten and then deserted by their own classmates.

Lets go to Judge Clement's pep rallies. Lets go to Wake Forest this weekend. But more important, lets show the Wolfpack that we're behind them, win, lose or draw. Yell at the rally Friday night . . . yell at Wake Forest Saturday. Go down on the field and walk off with them if they get beat 70-0. They are the same guys that beat Carolina . . . and a lot of people said they didn't care if State won another game after that one.

Nobody showed much sign of caring either. The team's on their backs . . . give 'em a hand. We bet it would help.

The Move

Like to know how to win friends and influence people immediately after taking over a new position? Ask Bill Friday.

The announcement made early this week that the offices of the Consolidated University will be moved off the campus at Chapel Hill is one of the most welcome in years.

Ever since the consolidation back in the '30's, the State and WC campuses have heard the cries of offended dignities who claimed favoritism was shown our Chapel Hill brethren and sisters because of their closeness to the Consolidated offices. And at Carolina there has been protest about students and faculty running over the head of the Chapel Hill unit's administration, to carry their problems and requests to the President.

Now with the move off the campus and into the town of Chapel Hill some of this should be alleviated. Us poor ol' people at State and WC have to go over to Chapel Hill to make ourselves heard . . . that's twenty or seventy miles. We only hope that the barrier erected by Franklin Street and the campus boundary will be as effective.

IDGAD

Rain!

This rain has made a mess out of the campus again. We understand the Budget Commission is going to consider last year's plea for money to pave some of the walks and drives around campus. It would certainly be one of those what you call "nice things" if they did. And while we're talking about rain and its after-effects, we noticed that the mud is pretty bad just off the edge of some of those hard fought for strips of paving around the dorm lots. It would be a shame to see those torn up by the weight of the cars on the edges. Student Government might well give consideration to saving what they have before another lot is built.

Apathy

The old bugaboo, apathy, has apparently seized both the Freshman Elections and the Homecoming Queen contest. Realizing State's shortage of girls, the Homecoming sponsors opened the contest to all comers this year. Response . . . three as of Monday. Wow! The Freshman elections have got a few people signed up to run, but interest is running about as high as a snake's belly. This is the year to be non-conformists, according to some of the exchange papers we see. Why don't some people around here try it and get interested in something. Or would that take too much time from the old sack?

Y's Words

A man once said, "He who does only what is requested of him, is a slave to his surroundings; he who does more exercises the freedom he so richly deserves." These are not big words, but the meaning they convey deserves some thought. If you as a student do only what you are told to do or made to do, you can never acquire a self-sustaining attitude, much less become the individual that you have come here to learn to be. If you're continually on the defensive, you're soon to lose out of the race altogether.

On the other hand, once you give this "something extra," something "above and beyond," you'll assume a new stature, one that you will not give up easily.

C. E. Building To Be Re-Named

Forty-seven years of service to North Carolina State College will receive formal recognition on November 16 when the college names its Civil Engineering Building in honor of Prof. Carroll L. Mann of Raleigh.

Mann, now professor Emeritus of civil engineering, retired in 1948 after a teaching and administrative career which included 32 years as head of the Department of Civil Engineering.

Ceremonies will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Civil Engineering Building which will be formally re-named the Mann Building. W. H. Rogers, Jr., chief engineer of the State Highway and Public Works Commission will speak on "Carroll Lamb Mann—A Teacher of Engineers."

"I WON'T WEAR A THING BUT TOWNE AND KING!"

says HECTOR LIBERACHI, pogo stick champ.

SNOWBANK, ALA., September 10 Rated the fastest man on a pogo stick since St. Vitus, Hector circled his old man's barn on his bouncing broomstick in 7.3 sec. flat, a new record. Hector's hobbies are taxidermy, fiddlin' and girls. When interviewed, he said modestly, "Twarn't nuthin'. I had a dry track." Hector, a 7-color sweaterman, says Townella Sweater Shirts are his four season favorite.

The building which will bear his name is a four-story structure which houses one of the largest departments in the School of Engineering. About 630 students are now registered in civil engineering and are instructed by a teaching staff of 17.

An expansion program begun in 1951 and completed in 1953 enlarged the building from two to four stories and linked it to Daniels Hall, the electrical engineering building. Facilities include offices, classrooms, laboratories, an auditorium, a library, a darkroom, drafting rooms, a work shop and a study room.

State Travels to Winston for ACC Scrap with Wake Forest's Deacons

This is the week for N. C. State's Wolfpack to play one of its better games, and that fact is causing no small concern in the Wake Forest football camp.

State invades Winston-Salem Saturday afternoon to battle the Deacons in the first homecoming day game on the new Wake Forest campus, and Paul Amen, the Deacon mentor, is stressing to his boys that they had better be ready for a real tough battle.

"A look at State's record this season will show you what I mean," Amen told his quad this week. The Deacon taskmaster pointed out that Coach Earle Edwards' charges looked great in upending North Carolina, 26-

6, in their opener, but were "down" the following week, dropping a 35-6 decision to Virginia Tech.

The following week they bounced back to outplay Clemson for most of the game before losing by a 13-7 count. Against Florida State it was a bad week, the Seminoles getting a 14-0 victory. Then followed a 20-0 triumph over Dayton, and last Saturday it was the bad week again—Duke's Blue Devils coping an easy 42-0 verdict.

"If the Wolfpack continues this pattern of play, we had better watch out," Amen said as he went to work readying his de-

Pack Falls Before Duke 42-0

What can you say after you've been beaten 42-0?

North Carolina State Coach Arle Edwards was confronted with that situation Saturday afternoon after seeing his Wolfpack blasted by Duke in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. It was Edwards' worst loss since coming to State three years ago. "I guess the best explanation is that Duke played a great game and we played a real bad game," he said. "I was dumbstruck by the score. I thought I had a chance to win."

Edwards praised the Blue Devils' performance. "They played real well. They ran hard, blocked hard and showed great determination. Unfortunately for us, we helped them out considerably with our worst performance. They outclassed us badly."

The Wolfpack coach called Duke the best team in the ACC on the basis of what he's seen in his season.

"At present, we've got to forget Duke and prepare for Wake Forest," Edwards said. "We have a tough game coming up and we can't afford to make the same mistakes against the Deacons. I am looking for nothing but headaches when we tangle with them."

State and Wake Forest meet Saturday afternoon in Bowman Gray Stadium in Winston-Salem. The game, which is Homecoming for the Deacs, is set for 2 o'clock.

Edwards said he planned no lineup changes on the basis of the team's showing against Duke. "We might make a change after studying movies of the game," he explained, "but not on the basis of our loss. No one player ever lost a football game, and I am not in favor of demoting a kid because he made a few mistakes."

The Wolfpack came out of the humiliating defeat with no serious injuries and should be in good physical shape for the game with the Deacons.

State has its work cut out for it to end the season with the .500 record which was predicted by grid experts. The Wolfpack stands at 2-4 for the season with four tough games coming up. After Saturday's clash with Wake Forest, State meets South Carolina, Penn State and Maryland in that order.

Last year the Deacons came from behind in the final minutes of the game to tie State 13-13 on a Nick Consoles to John Farham touchdown pass.

Notes from the Pack

In the quarterly bulletin published by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, State's Ronnie Shavlik and Vic Molodet were selected among the top 22 players in the nation.

Each collegiate coach had one vote in the poll and Shavlik, a consensus All-America pick, placed fourth behind Bill Russell, Robin Freeman and Sihung Green.

Molodet was 19th in the voting. State, Illinois and San Francisco were the only schools with two players in the top 22.

State's football team will make two trips to Florida next season. The Wolfpack adds Miami to its schedule in addition to Florida State. Now if State makes the Orange Bowl trek it would mean three trips to the Sunshine State. Hmmm. . .

STATE VS. WAKE FOREST

fenses for State's multiple offense. "We know they have a better ball club than they showed against Duke last week, and this is the week for them to be up," he added.

Assistant Coach Elmer Barbour, who has been scouting State this season, is quick to agree with Amen that the Wolfpack is lots better than its 2-4 record indicates. "Dick Hunter and Dick Christy are two of the better boys in the conference," Barbour said, "and once they get going State will be tough to handle." Hunter tallied eight touchdowns for the Wolfpack in 1955, but so far this season he has been unable to reach paydirt. Christy is also scoreless except for a lone extra point.

Wake Forest will be seeking its first victory since the season opener with William and Mary.

Stevenson Beats Ike In Debate

Governor Adlai E. Stevenson was "elected" over President Eisenhower in a poll taken at the end of an "All-Participation" debate held at North Carolina State College Wednesday night.

This was reported yesterday by Prof. Edwin H. Paget, whose classes in debating at the college sponsored the debate and poll. The vote was 47 for Stevenson and 42 for Eisenhower.

Professor Paget, faculty director of debating at the college, also said the debate was the 20th consecutive "All-Participation" debate during which every person present spoke at least once. The "All-Participation" debate was originated by Professor Paget in 1951.

Students and others attending the Wednesday night program also adopted a resolution calling for "a full discussion by all the candidates on the possibility that Russia could carry on secret tests of the H-bomb even though they agreed to Governor Stevenson's proposal to stop testing."

Sticklers!

WHEN SMOKE FOLK get together, the chat matter is fine tobacco. Naturally, that means Lucky Strike. Luckies' taste is worth talking about because it comes from fine tobacco light, mild, good-tasting tobacco that TOASTED to taste even better. As for the Stickler, you call the minutes of a smokers' convention a Light-up Write-up. Speaking of light ups, have you tried a Lucky lately? You'll see it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoke

EVEN if you are just starting college in the "Class of 1960," we suggest that you take a long look at where you are going. Know, don't guess, what is offered by fields like engineering and science, finance, marketing and relations. Too often young people discover late in their senior year that they can't qualify for the career of their choice. Why be caught short? Selecting a career and knowing what is expected will make it possible for you to prepare for it now. Many graduates will find their place with industry.

General Electric is typical of many large industrial concerns. We employ over 27,000 college graduates from nearly 700 different colleges and universities. And our future, as the future of any progressive company, hinges on these people. Young men and women that have initiative, analytical and creative ability will make progress with industry. If you are interested, write for information about one or more of the programs listed on this page. These are the principal doorways to success at General Electric. The happiest day she ever knew!
