

Dr. Polgar After CU Appearance

Dr. Polgar, world renowned hypnotist, entertained nearly one thousand people Tuesday night at the College Union. Mental telepathy and mass hypnosis, Polgar's specialties, fascinated and amazed the onlookers.

To Play For Ball

The Harvest Ball will be held Saturday night from 8 to 12 p.m. in the College Union ballroom as a climax to the State-Duke football week-end.

Members of the football team will be honored as special guests

Fresh.-Soph. Dance Being Planned

The Sophomore Class officers held a special meeting last night with the Student Government representatives from the class. The main subject of the meeting was the Freshman-Sophomore Dance.

Second Dance
Some consideration was also given to the possibility of having a second dance sometime late this semester.

Any students wishing to participate on the dance committee should get in touch with Dave Thomas at the Sigma Phi Epsilon House.

Berry Students Move As Infirmary Expands

The number of flu cases at State has now reached large enough proportions to be honestly called an epidemic.

Intramural Athletics

Intramural contests have been temporarily suspended, due to an increase in the number of people having the flu. All athletic directors will be informed when intramurals will resume play.

A demonstration in the art of making Christmas cards from linoleum blocks and making Moravian stars will be given in the Craft Shop of the College Union (See COVERING CAMPUS page 6) at the dance.

Music will be provided by the Duke Ambassadors; in addition to the usual dance program a floor show will be presented.

A number of individual tables will be provided in the ballroom, instead of the usually periphery seating arrangement, and refreshment service will be available.

Nursery Service

For the benefit of married students who have young children, a nursery service will be operated in the College Union building at a charge of 50¢ per child. The nursery will be under the direction of Mrs. James B. Holliday, who will be assisted by a group of coeds.

Tickets are on sale at the College Union main desk for $1.00 per couple and will be on sale in the dormitories tonight at 7:00 o'clock p.m. Tickets purchased at the door will be $1.50 per couple.

valescent home; the number of patients in these two buildings number about 130.

In addition, two full floors of Berry dormitory have been vacated by their regular tenants to make space for the swelling number of flu patients. The basement floor is already completely full with three patients to a room and last night the staff at the Infirmary were beginning to fill the first floor also.

It is impossible to know when the spread of this contagious disease will end, and therefore no hint can be given as to how much additional space will be taken over by patients. The students presently occupying the second and third floors of Berry have been alerted to the fact that they may have to be prepared to move out on as little as half a day's notice.

Those being moved from their rooms are finding other places to stay through the dormitory

Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" To Be Presented Friday In Pullen

When the Grass Roots Opera appears in Raleigh for the first time this year Friday night at 8 p.m. in Pullen Hall, there will be more to it than meets the eye. In fact, quite a lot of it will meet the eye.

The visual appeal of opera has always been one of its greatest attractions, and the visual appeal of the current season's offering, Johann Strauss' Fledermaus, will rate very high.

This is not grand opera of the busom foreign prima donna in her forties (age and dress size) with her two stiff gestures as she sings a love song to the rotund tenor in his platform soles and three inch heels; this is fresh, alive "grass roots" opera sung in English by young professional American singers who can make the characters real not only with their music, but also with their appearance onstage.

Admission to the performance will be free to College Union members and their guests on presentation of membership or student identification cards.

Low Price Europe Tour Available

State College men now have an opportunity to travel to Europe this summer for approximately nine weeks for a total of only $800. Though most European tours cost two to three times this amount, the YMCA's and YWCA at the Consolidated University are sponsoring this special tour for the extremely low price stated.

There will be openings for 10 men from State, 10 women from Woman's College, and 10 men from Carolina.

Mr. M. Battsek, representative of Specialized Travel Service of New York, will speak to those who are interested in the trip on Tuesday, October 29, in Chapel Hill.

Anyone from State interested in talking about the trip should contact Mr. Oscar B. Wooldridge, YMCA Secretary, at the State "Y" before next Tuesday.

The purpose of this European trip, in addition to the pleasure of touring the European continent, is, according to Mr. Wooldridge, "to study and understand some of the European countries . . . and to give us an opportunity to serve as ambassadors of this generation of students."

SAE Celebration Set For Weekend

October 24-26 marks the celebration of ten years at State for the N. C. Alpha of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The week-end activities will begin on Friday night with a Bohemian Party at the house. On Saturday the brothers, their dates, and the SAE alumni will attend the State-Duke football game together.

Following the game, a cocktail party and banquet will be held at the Sir Walter Raleigh Hotel, and a national officer of the SAE will be a guest. To conclude the festivities, a dance is being held at the house on Saturday night.

Approximately one thousand tickets were placed on sale this morning for the State-Duke game.

For the first time since Monday students were able today to purchase date tickets.

Date Tickets Canceled
When the Coliseum ticket windows opened Monday at 8:30, the demand for date tickets, which were being sold first at a ration of two per student and later only one per student, was so great that a decision was reached at 11 a.m. to quit selling date tickets in order to guarantee that all students would be able to receive at least one ticket each for the game.

Tuesday a bulletin was distributed on campus by Student Government President Jimmy Hunt that students would be able to pick up their tickets at the Coliseum. However, no date tickets would be sold until Thursday when all tickets remaining of the original 7,000 reserved for the students would be placed on sale.

Students were able today to purchase one date ticket each.

Game To Be Televised

Saturday's game will be televised, and will provide some consolation for the student who was unable to procure tickets for both himself and his date. The ACC has allowed the sell-out game to be televised. WTVD-TV in Durham will carry the game.

Until further word is received, and until the results of this game Saturday are known, the policies concerning ticket distribution outlined at the beginning of the year will be in effect for both the Wake Forest and the Homecoming games. The Technician will report on any change in the Monday issue. Guest tickets for the Wake Forest game will remain at the price of $4.00; tickets for Homecoming will sell at $1.00 for guests.

New Cut System

Proposal Planned

The Welfare Committee of the Student Government is currently investigating the cut system that has been instituted at State College this semester.

All students who feel that they have been denied excused absences when they have had a justified reason to be excused are requested to write up their complaints very briefly and place these slips of paper in a box which will be located at the main desk of the College Union. It is requested that the student include his name, address and telephone number on these complaints as the committee would like to have follow-up interviews if time permits.

Only with your co-operation can Student Government come up with a new cut system proposal.

Notice-Tickets

All regular tickets for State-Duke football game have been sold.
At 11:00 a.m. this morning, there were approximately 500 student and date tickets left at the Coliseum Box Office.

Band Announces

Plans For Game

Both the State and Duke bands will take part in half time shows during the State-Duke game Saturday in Riddick Stadium.

The State College Band will use Dvorak's "Fifth Symphony" (New World Symphony) as its theme.

Basic formations during the half-time show will illustrate the Four Freedoms.

The one hundred and twenty piece band will form figures depicting a movietone news camera (speech), a Cross (worship) with special music from the Largo theme, "St. Louis Blues" (freedom from fear) featuring a special dance step by the band, and "America The Beautiful".

State and Duke will each use about seven minutes of half-time for their shows.

Prior to the game's beginning the band will march onto the field and form the letters NCS. The Alma Mater will be played by the band and sung by the students.

Using a wind formation, the State Fight song will be played, and the National Anthem will end the pre-game band activities.

Director of the largest band in the College's history is Robert A. Barnes, who is assisted by Nels Leonard.

Pep Rally Planned For Friday Night

State College students will have their second opportunity for this year to participate in a pep rally when one is held Friday night behind the College Union.

The "Beat Duke" rally will get underway at Tucker-Dorm at 6:30 p.m., move on to the Bagwell-Syme area, and wind up behind the College Union by seven when the pep rally will begin.

Friday night's rally will give the Wolfpack supporters their first local chance to whoop it up for the pack since the rally five weeks ago before State beat Carolina.

All State students are urged to participate in the rally, either by joining the professional as it passes their dormitory or by being at the College Union at seven when the rally begins.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Athletic Tickets

... No date tickets till Thursday? ... My seat is behind the goal posts. ... The TV camera is on the 50-yard line. ... The public before the students. ...

These are typical of the comments at State this week after the distribution of tickets to the State-Duke game began. Many students were mad; a few expected it all.

It was bound to happen, though. State is now in the football business. Our team is rated 11th in the nation, and we are playing a team Saturday rated 4th.

State has been wanting a winning team for many years. Now we have one. There are more complaints now, however, than when we had a mediocre team. As the saying goes ... "you can't have your cake and eat it too."

It takes thousands and thousands of dollars to support big-time football teams. Students just don't have that kind of money. So those that do "pays their money and takes their pick? ... and they pick the best tickets.

Date tickets ... student tickets ... these are not the main things to be considered. What should be thought about is the basic question of whether we want college professional football or the old type which has as its only end healthy intercollegiate competition by the students for the enjoyment of the students.

We hope the problems of this week will provide some good study material for both Dr. Pou's committee on the Faculty Senate and the Student Government committee—the committees which are currently studying the entire intercollegiate athletic situation.

Know The Alma Mater?

State College men will sing the Alma Mater this Saturday before the football game for the first time this year.

We have printed the Alma Mater in the lower left corner of this page so that everyone will have a copy of it. Tear it out and take it to the game. It would sound mighty good to hear about 5,000 students all singing the Alma Mater. It would be the first time it had ever happened, too. ...

To Europe for $800

On page 1 is the story. Here is an opinion ... YOU CAN'T BEAT IT! A trip to Europe usually cost about $2,000. You can go now for $800. The "Y" is now taking applications. If you can possibly afford it, this is an opportunity which you will undoubtedly never again get. See you abroad. ...

Greeks On Campus:

Students Should Get First Choice On Football Tickets

By Oscar Grant

Perhaps the main topic of conversation among fraternity men this week is the date ticket situation for the Duke game this Saturday.

This incident brings out once more the tragic plight of State students when it comes to obtaining tickets to see their own team play football. While there were probably no cases where a student did not receive a ticket if he went to the trouble to stand in line to get it, there were quite a few cases where students had no chance to buy extra tickets along with their own.

Once more, it has been brought to light that the officials seem to think far more of the alumni and members of the Wolfpack Club than the students.

To analyze this situation is far more difficult than it may seem at first glance. After talking with Mrs. Patrick Hannon at the box office on Tuesday, there seems to be two sides to the proverbial story. From talking to her, the following facts seem to be evident.

1. Approximately 7,000 seats were saved for State College students.
 2. This figure included between 1,700 and 1,800 extra guest (date) tickets.
 3. This estimate was based on figures from last year's student attendance, plus an added amount as a safety measure.
 4. These figures were set before school started this year, a time when the success of the team was not as certain as it now is.
- This writer has no quarrel with the manner in which this number was determined. It is an extremely difficult thing to determine very far in advance the number of tickets that the Student Body will want. In one case last year, over 4,400 tickets were reserved and only 3,200 were picked up by students.

My criticism is of something far more important than just the number of tickets set aside for students. What is wrong is not the number of tickets which is set aside for students, but the very fact that the public and alumni are allowed to purchase tickets before the demands of the Student Body have been met.

Letters To The Editor

State Students Are 'Visitors At Home' Faculty Should Stop New Assignments

To the Editor:

The topic of this letter, in words of one syllable, is a shaft. This shaft is not uncommon to the students of this school, but I had hoped that it might miss me this time—but I was wrong.

My problem is one of the most common to this campus—the treatment of students who want athletic tickets, more specifically date tickets. I gave up the hope of getting a good seat three years ago after my first game at State, but I didn't expect a complete freeze just because I wanted to bring a date to a football game.

I followed the prescribed pattern—that of waiting in line, handing the seller my I.D. card and money, and receiving my ticket and date ticket. All of a sudden I noticed something wrong; I got my money back so I said, "But Miss," whereas she replied, "Tough luck buddy—no more date tickets." Well that was that—the shaft again.

The Athletic Department's solution is easy—just wait until Thursday and if there are any tickets left the students can use them for their dates. What a great prospect—either they will let you pay an exorbitant $4.00 for the ticket which, at the closest will be on top of Syme Dorm., or they will let your date watch the game on television while you give up your prepaid seat to be with her. Now, for the student there are only two choices left. He can tell her not to come to State for the weekend, or he can select the proper channel and have a great time cheering in front of the TV set.

There is one other answer, but the Athletic Department will not like it. They could give the students a break—reduce prices, give us enough and better seats, and let us feel that our home games are really at home in-

To the Editor:

I sincerely hope that no one seriously believes this Asiatic flu threat is over. We should not be deceived by the fact that the infirmary is not full. This is positively a very poor indication of our standing in this war against the germs.

You professors will admit privately, if not publicly, that the material you have to offer comes to us hard and fast. No matter what you may think of us in comparison to the ideal student, we would not be here if we did not want to absorb as much of that material as possible. Maybe only a few are absent from your class due to this flu; but of those present, how many are sneezing, coughing, and in general feel just plain lousy? Quite a few, aren't there?

Herein lies the point of this stead of that "visitors at home" feeling that we usually have.

If things like these keep up, with the "breaks" that we have been getting, State fans will develop into a spiritless mob instead of one large cheering section to back our top notch Wolfpack.

STATELY yours,
Barry L. Gombrov

letter. Many more students than we know about are SICK. They refuse to stay home or in bed to get well because of the rapidity with which new material is presented and because of the hideous conditions concerning make-up quizzes which are rumored to exist in some departments!

Perhaps the germ has attacked some of you professors. If it hasn't, you have certainly carried it home and exposed it to your wives and families. Let's not wait until all h--- breaks loose to do something constructive toward conquering the ever-present germ!

As a meager suggestion only, I offer this plan: have the proper administrative official, Chancellor Bostian perhaps, issue a proclamation with this effect to the faculty at large: "All members of the teaching faculty are hereby asked to cease taking up new material for a period of 10 days." This would allow those sick to get well and those that are infected, but not yet sick, to get sick and then well again. This, I honestly believe, would be a long step in the right direction. I am not ignorant enough to believe that this plan would

"Ice Capades" Opens Friday In State College's Coliseum

A unique feature has been added to "Ice Capades of 1958" to be staged in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum at State College beginning tomorrow and running through Oct. 30.

It is the "Schuhplattlers Dance," a number imported by Producer John Harris from the Bavarian Alps. The fast-moving production will feature music, dancing, and a liberal offering of comedy.

Producer Harris has described the novel "Schuhplattlers Dance" as "the science of stamping the feet, clapping the hands, thighs, heels, knees and cheeks for an extremely complex syn-copated phythm of sounds."

The dance, Harris said, is highly popular in Austria and Germany.

Ron Fletcher will provide the choreography. Playing the starring roles will be Diane and Bobby Maxson, famed skating pair; and Eric Waite, noted skating comedian.

Dancers imported to perform in the numbers are Walter Bader and Karl Biersack of Bavaria and Franz Geierstranger and Rudi Papp, both of Austria.

Special Music

Special music will include the "Schuhplattlers Polka," "Hi Lili," "Schuhplattlers Tanz," "Extravagant Polka," and "Dance to the Music of the Ocarino."

The unique feature will be one of six big production and 20 colorful acts in the 18th edition of Ice Capades. Seven performances of the big show will be presented in the State College Coliseum.

Evening shows will be given Friday, October 25, through Wednesday October 30, at 8:30 daily, except for Sunday, October 27, when no performances will be presented. In addition, there will be matinee shows on Friday, October 25, at 3:30 o'clock and on Saturday, October 26, at 2:30 o'clock.

School children will be admitted to the Friday matinee at half price.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION GRADUATE AND POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS FOR 1958-1959

The National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council will again assist the National Science Foundation in its seventh fellowship program which has just been announced by the Foundation. The NSF plans to award approximately 850 graduate and 85 regular postdoctoral fellowships for scientific study during the 1958-1959 academic year. They are offered in the mathematical, physical, medical and biological fields, in engineering, anthropology, psychology (except clinical) and geography; and in certain interdisciplinary fields and fields of convergence between the natural and social sciences.

Graduate fellowships are available to those who are working toward the masters' or doctoral degrees in the first, intermediate or terminal year of graduate study. College seniors who expect to receive a baccalaureate degree during the 1957-1958 academic year are also eligible to apply.

All applicants for graduate (predoctoral) awards will be required to take an examination designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. This examination, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on January 18, 1958 at designated centers throughout the United States and certain foreign countries.

The annual stipends for graduate Fellows are as follows: $1600 for the first year; $1800 for the intermediate year; and $2000 for the terminal year. The annual stipend for postdoctoral Fellows is $3800. Dependency allowances will be made to married Fellows. Tuition, laboratory fees and limited travel allowances will also be provided.

Further information and application materials may be secured from the Fellowship Office, National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C. The deadline for the receipt of applications for regular postdoctoral fellowships is December 23, 1957 and for graduate fellowships, January 3, 1958.

Veteran's Corner

by Wyndy Clarke

There was a good turn-out for Monday night's meeting of the Veteran's Association. The increase in interest this year is really a fine thing to see.

There was some discussion of how much space to request in the Agromeck this year, and it was decided to buy one page. The time for everybody to "fall in" to have their pictures taken will be announced later.

The selection of a gal to sponsor for Homecoming Queen and the choosing of a committee to make a float received quite a bit of discussion. Any nominations for the girl to represent us should be given to Nick Ray. Some of you guys break out your good-looking gals and let's have a winner.

Harvest Ball

Reports from the various committees working on the Harvest Ball Dance to be held in the CU Ballroom Saturday night took up the remainder of the meeting. Everyone seemed pleased with the progress made so far. The arrangements made for the Duke Ambassadors, a fourteen piece orchestra with vocalist, and the decorations that the boys are planning indicate that it is going to be a bang-up affair. Don't forget that the dollar per couple fee goes up to one and a half at the dance Saturday night, so get your ticket early at the CU.

Will all married students, veterans, or otherwise, who purchased athletic books for their wives and were unable to get tickets for the Duke game please send a post card with your name, address, and complaint to Wyndy Clarke, Secretary, Veteran's Association, 3413 Churchill Road, Raleigh.

"The Pajama Game" Opens In Raleigh Little Theatre, Continues Thru' 27th

The opening of "The Pajama Game" on October 22 marked the first musical comedy to be presented by the Raleigh Little Theater in its 22-year history. The show will continue through October 27.

With its setting in the Sleep-Tite Pajama Factory, "The Pajama Game" concerns the humorous and romantic side of labor-management problems. The show ran for several years on Broadway, and many of its tunes became Hit Parade winners. Some of these are "Hey There," "Hernando's Hideaway" and "Steam Heat."

Among the 43 performers in the cast are Mavis Allen, formerly of Kinston, who plays the lead role of "Babe," chairman of the grievance committee, and Chee Davis, of Nashville, who plays the female comedy and dancing lead, "Gladys."

Tickets for the show may be obtained by writing to the Raleigh Little Theater and enclosing $2.20 per ticket for adults or $1.50 for students. Season tickets for this year's five RLT productions may be purchased at $7.50 for adults and $6.00 for students.

State Battles Duke Saturday

The game of the year for ACC fans will be played this Saturday when two of the nation's undefeated teams will meet in Raleigh before a sell out crowd of 18,800 in what could be the championship of the Conference.

Entertaining the fourth ranked Blue Devils of Duke will be the No. 11 team in the nation, N. C. State. Duke has a 5-0 record while the Wolfpack has won four and tied one.

The series with Duke began in 1924 and the two teams have played every year since with the exception of 1944. The Blue Devils hold a 24-7-1 record in the series.

Who will win the contest is a mystery. There are varied opinions on the strength of both clubs, in offense as well as defense.

At the present time, the Blue Devils are seven point favorites. This marks the fifth time in six games that the Wolfpack has been the underdog this year, so the position is not entirely unfamiliar.

Probably the main center of interest in Saturday's game will be the continuance of the scoring duel between Wray Carlton of Duke and the touchdown twins, Dick Christy and Dick Hunter.

Halfback Carlton leads the ACC with 49 points, and when he scores another point, he will break the old ACC held by Ed Vereb of Maryland which was 49 in 1955.

Christy, who was second in the conference last week, slipped to third, when he didn't score at Miami. He has 30 points. Hunter is seventh in the league with points.

Another center of interest will be the defense trying to stop these flashy halfbacks. Duke and State are one-two in the ACC in total defense, with each allowing less than two hundred yards per game in the air and on the ground.

Other interesting sidenotes of the game are that it will be a regionally televised game with 20 stations carrying it from Maryland to Florida.

The probable starting lineup for the State gridders will be about the same as in their previous games, however, there is a delightful uncertainty in the fullback and quarterback slots trying to figure who is best because they have all seen plenty of action. John Collar will return into the lineup after having recovered from an injury.

At the other end position will be Bob Pepe, at tackles Dick DeAngelis and Darrel Dess, at guards Francis Tokar and Bill Rearick, at center Jim Oddo. At quarterback will be Tom Katich, while halfbacks Dick Christy and Dick Hunter, and Fullback Tony Guerrieri, will complete the backfield.

It will be Dad's Day at State and that should provide some incentive for the State Gridders. Game time is 2.00 P.M. at Riddick Stadium.

Notes From The Pack

Notes From the Wolfpack . . . North Carolina State's undefeated but one-tied football team has held three opponents scoreless in five games for a 4-0-1 record. The Wolfpack blanked North Carolina and Florida State by 7-0 scores and battled to a scoreless tie with Miami.

The Wolfpack scoring machine, which accounted for 68 points in the first three games, found the Florida sunshine detrimental to touchdown production. Two games in succession in the Sunshine State saw only one TD registered, that one giving the Pack a 7-0 win over FSU.

For First Time, Pack Eleventh In Nation

The Wolfpack of State College has been named eleventh in the nation by the Associated Press weekly poll, which marks the first time in recent history that the West Raleigh boys have gained a position so high in the national picture.

Also moving up the ladder was Duke, who took over the fourth spot in place of defeated Michigan State. In the other ranking sent out by the United Press, State held on to a 14th position, one which they retained from last week.

Around the ACC

This week is a long-awaited one by followers of the Atlantic Coast Conference as three big games are on tap from Thursday through Saturday.

On Thursday the Tigers of Clemson will invade Columbia for a contest with the tough South Carolina Gamecocks, who are presently riding a three game winning streak. The only loss thus far was the season's opener against the Duke Blue Devils, 14-26. Clemson is 2-2 on the season.

On Saturday the two big fights will be Big Four ones, with N. C. State entertaining Duke and U.N.C. visiting the hapless Demon Deacons of Wake Forest. This will be the only Saturday of the season when Big Four teams will meet each other.

Wolfpack Basketball Squad Begins Preparation For First Game With Atlantic Christian, Dec. 2

Sixteen candidates for the North Carolina State varsity basketball team reported to Coach Everett Case Tuesday, October 15, and began practice for the 1957-58 season.

Christian, a newcomer to the schedule this year. Home games will be played in Reynolds Coliseum where nearly a quarter of a million persons watched basketball games last year.

es, which is one of the best in the United States. Under Case's direction, the Wolfpack has won nine out of eleven conference titles and six out of eight Dixie Classic crowns.

The Wolfpack will play its freshman team November 28, and will open its regular season Dec. 2 against Atlantic Coach Case, who is beginning his twelfth season at North Carolina State, has compiled a record of 282 wins and 71 losses.

Nick Pond and Bob Seitz have graduated from the squad, but help is expected from upcoming members of last year's freshman squad, in addition to Dan Englehardt and George Step-anovich, who were not eligible for varsity play last year.

Whitey Bell, a valuable member of the 1956-57 team, has been elected team captain of the Wolfpack for the coming season. Bell's experience, aggressive play, and fine outside shooting will be a tremendous help to the Wolfpack.

Pack Freshmen Invade Durham

Duke has a change to spoil two undefeated records this weekend in contests against North Carolina State.

The varsity teams tangle in one of the nation's top games Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Riddick Stadium, while over in Durham, the freshman teams will be staging a red-hot contest Friday afternoon. The State frosh, also unbeaten, will be looking for their fourth straight win.

Coach Bill Smaltz's rookies have taken the cue from the varsity and rolled over Virginia Tech 19-13, North Carolina 33-19 and Virginia 20-7.

Setting the pace for the Wolflets have been quarterbacks Mike Delnegro of Alexandria, Va., and Ron Wojcicki of Pittsburgh, Pa., halfbacks Claude Gibson of Asheville and Bob Wolfer of Pekin, Ill., and fullback Jim D'Antonio of Aliquippa, Pa.

In the State line, the starting seven turned in three great performances. Ends Jimmy Tapp of Roxboro and George Vollmar of Trenton, N. J.; tackles Bert Wilder of Greensboro and Dick (Tiny) Reynolds of College Park, Md.; guards Alex Gilleskie of Heidelberg, Pa. and Joe Bushofsky of Pittsburg, and center Sam Raneri of Greensburg, Pa., are the starters.

The State frosh have beaten Duke two out of three times since Smaltz took over in 1954. The Blue Imps won the opener 38-32 but have been on the short end of 33-13 and 14-13 scores since then.

Game time in Duke Stadium is at 3 o'clock.

Gridders Ahead Of All Opponents

At the end of five games, the Wolfpack gridders of State College are leading all opponents in every major field of endeavor, as far as statistics are concerned.

Perhaps the most enviable record that the State team is working on is that of allowing only three touchdowns to five victims, with none of them coming on a rush from scrimmage.

Another unbelievable fact about the half season totals is that in six kickoff returns, the Pack has an average return of 50.5 yards. Halfback Dick Christy leads his teammates with an average of 96.5 for two returns.

What I am saying is simply this: students should not only have the best seats for State's home games, but they should also have a chance to buy as many seats as they choose all before these tickets go on sale to the public. Sometimes this writer begins to wonder whether the team who will play against Duke Saturday belongs to State College students or to the very important alumni and Wolfpack Club members!

I have suggested above that students be allowed to buy tickets before the public is allowed to. How may this be accomplished and still bring in the money that a winning team requires? The answer, or at least partial answer, seems to be this: Simply allow students to pick up their own tickets three to four weeks in advance of the game. Give students a week to obtain their own tickets and any guest tickets they might desire, and then put tickets on sale to the public.

In conclusion, I would like to say this: Let's not spend our health on education, and then take the rest of our lives spending the return on that education trying to regain our health.

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOG

Last week we passed along some fashion hints for coeds. Today we will do the same for college men.

The most important thing to remember, gentlemen, is to dress with verve, with dash, with inventiveness. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry saber, or a gold derby.

Guard Against Gaudiness

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry saber. This is too much. Wear a dagger instead, or, for formal occasions, a bowie knife.

Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember this "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know because I was wearing it. I was an undergraduate then, and in love—hopelessly, in love with a beautiful statistics major named Harry Sigafoos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry madly, though her expensive tastes were the ruin of me. Bit by bit I sold off my belongings to pursue this costly courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit". One night I came calling for her in this garment and she, of course, slashed me across the face with a riding crop and sent me from her door.

I slunk home and lit a Marlboro and sat down to think. I always light a Marlboro when I sit down to think, for their good mild flavor is a great aid to cerebration. I always light a Marlboro when I don't sit down to think, too, because Marlboro is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours, too, once you make the acquaintance of that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box. As the man says, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro.

Well, sirs, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in a campus newspaper which said: "WIN A COMPLETE WARDROBE! Touhy's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best-dressed man on campus. The winner will receive absolutely free a complete new wardrobe!"

Struck by a sudden inspiration, I took pen in hand and wrote a letter to Mr. Touhy of Touhy's Toggery: "Sir—I see by the paper that you are giving a complete new wardrobe to the best-dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best-dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes, and if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe?"

"Touhy's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst-dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a crow in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has canceled my subscription.

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, a vote for the American way!"

With a flourish I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe.

And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.
