Thirty-two Elected

Phi Kappa Phi Names Senior Candidates

Thirty-two members of the senior class were elected last Friday as candidates for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society. Initiation of these men will take place in January.

Election to Phi Kappa Phi is regarded as the highest academic honor that can be awarded to a student at State.

Having chapters in America's major technological schools, Phi Kappa Phi is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa in liberal arts schools.

President of the State College chapter of Phi Kappa Phi is Professor Ivan D. Jones.

Candidates

The thirty-two candidates for membership and their hometowns are:

Kenneth Franklin Stout, Asheboro; Jimmy Langston Poate, Yanceyville; Tommy Joe Haywood, Monroe; Russell Gordon Cashwell Jr., Lumberton; Raymond Eugene Kinsland, Whittier; James Walter Watterson, Guilford; Harry Rood, Greensboro.

Preston Benton Johnson, Benson; James Robert Mauney, Cherryville; Howard Gordon Small, Fair Bluff; Thomas Woodrow Davis, Raleigh; Theo Clyde Pilkington, Durham; James Robert Howard, Kannapolis; Frank Roy Johnson, Murfreesboro.

Jimmy Truman Daughtridge, Rocky Mount; Ralph Currin Teasley, Durham; Lewis Franklin Ballard, Kernersville; William David Smith, Asheboro; Lloyd Robert Baird, Morganton; Earnest Lee Forbes, Wallace; Bonnie Shain, Wilmington; James Raymond Woodruff, Lawton, Mich.; Jesse Daniel Melton, Enfield.

Polio Shot No. 3

Polio shots will be given next Monday through Wednesday at the Infirmary for those who had their first two shots last April and May. A new program of three, spaced shots will begin sometime after Christmas for those who desire polio immunization.

Student Government Plan

Faculty Senate OK's Evaluation

The Faculty Senate endorsed on Tuesday the proposal by the Student Government to sponsor a faculty evaluation program on the campus.

The faculty evaluation, which is being worked on by the Promotions Committee of the Student Government, will be held some time in January.

Evaluation sheets will be distributed to the students by the individual instructors in all classes. The students will fill out the sheets and return them to the instructor unsigned.

The sole purpose of the faculty evaluation as stated by Promotions Committee Chairman Waring Boys, is "that the individual instructor can tell, by student criticism and sugges-

Musical Vespers Begin Mon. Night

Beginning Monday, November 25, musical vespers will be presented every Monday under the auspices of the State College YMCA between 6:30 and 7:00 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel.

As is true of the Wednesday Chapel service at 12:40 p.m., the tower chimes will serve to remind all that the service is about to begin. Following the playing of the chimes all members of the campus community are cordially invited to participate in evening vespers.

Special Music

Through a high fidelity system special music will be played throughout the service. Materials for use in meditation will be provided, but those who come to the Chapel are encouraged to use the time in any way they desire — for meditation, prayer, or just relaxing.

These evening musical vespers will be presented each Monday throughout the school year. During special religious seasons they will take place nightly. At both Christmas and Easter the entire Messiah will be performed in a series of six evenings.

The mixed choir program which was to be held at the regular Wednesday Chapel service has been postponed until December.

Dance Saturday Night

Engineer's Ball Sponsors Named

Using an outer space theme for their only formal dance of the year, State College's engineering students will launch their own "sputnik" Saturday evening in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum, scene of the annual Engineers' Ball.

The gala event is scheduled from 8 until 12 and is sponsored by the Engineers' Council, the student governing body of the college's School of Engineering.

Bids

Bids can be picked up until Friday at respective department offices.

Actors Competing Tonight In Union

Three campus organizations will compete tonight for the first place award in a one-act play competition to begin at 8 p.m. in the College Union Ballroom. The Union Theater Committee, sponsor for tonight's show, will present a loving cup to the winning organization and another cup to the best actor.

Competing Plays

Competing for the awards will be Phi Kappa Tau with "The Pot Boiler," Sigma Pi with a reading from "Submerged," and the WVWP Drama Group with "Heat Lightning." The annual affair will be presented this year on an arena style stage.

The College Union Drama Group will present a scene from "Mr. Roberts" but will not be in competition with the other groups for the awards.

The Collegians from East Carolina College will furnish music for the dance which is open to all engineering students, faculty members, and a number of special guests.

Prior to the Ball, members of the Council and dance chairman with their guests will be entertained at a banquet.

Mrs. Donald Hendrix with Donald Hendrix, Charlotte, floor chairman; Miss Lucinda Alexander, Gastonia, with Robert Thornburg, Gastonia, invitation chairman; Miss Mary Lou Hults, Greensboro, with Lawrence B. Gurley, Goldsboro, banquet chairman; Miss Phyllis Jacquelyn Barnette, Charlotte, and John Douglas Clark, Charlotte, refreshments chairman; and Mrs. Robert R. Liguori with Robert R. Liguori, Southington, Conn., entertainment chairman.

Housing Questionnaire Sent Stu.

A housing survey questionnaire was mailed to each married student on Monday.

The results of this survey will be presented to the Housing Economist of the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government.

N. B. Watts, Director of Student Housing, has stated that he hopes that every married student will complete the brief questionnaire and return it to the Housing Office. Few junior or senior married students will be here when the permanent married students housing is completed.

Nevertheless, each student has been asked to complete the questionnaire from the viewpoint of a married student arriving at State College for the first time.

Although many married students may not be interested in the size of the facility being planned, it is hoped that their questionnaires will indicate what their interest would have been had such a facility been available to them when they entered college.

Watts pointed out that no signature or names are required in the questionnaire. It is hoped that a high percentage of the married students will return the questionnaire.

Speaker Explains Purpose of WUS

Speaking to a group of campus leaders last night at the College Union, Leon Marion, Southern Regional Executive of the World University Service, told the group that the idea behind WUS was not charity as much as "a helping hand."

Marion, who was last on the State campus in 1953 was quite impressed by the growth of the school in the past four years.

He spoke earlier yesterday to the Board of Chairmen of the College Union and is scheduled to address the Student Government at their meeting at 8:00 p.m. tonight.

On campus to help plan and organize the WUS Fund Drive, which is tentatively scheduled for February 17-22. Marion explained the purpose of the World University Service and gave many examples of the work done in the past by the Service.

After his address, a business meeting was held and the dates were set for the campus-wide solicitation. The dates, which will be presented to the Student Legislature tonight for approval, are Monday, February 17, through Saturday, February 22.

Also at the business session, it was decided that a recommendation be presented to the Student Legislature that the money collected this year not be earmarked for a specific purpose but rather that the decision of where and how the money be spent be left up to the World University Service.

As in the past, 90% of the total collected will go to the WUS and the remaining 10% will be sent to the Raleigh United Fund.

Giving an example of the statement that "the idea behind the drive is not charity, but rather a helping hand," Mr. Marion told about the work done in Germany immediately after the war.

After helping the Germans in their rehabilitation program for a short time, the Germans said that they appreciated the help given them by the World University Service and that now they wanted to do their part by giving what they could to the WUS in order that some other country might also be helped.

Barnwarming Queen To Be Crowned During Dance

Winner of the Barnwarming Queen contest will be crowned during Saturday night's Barnwarming Dance in Frank Thompson Gymnasium.

The contestants will be judged at 4 p.m., Saturday, in the College Union.

Specific dress will be required for the dance—gingham dresses for the ladies and bibbed overalls for the gents.

Invitations may be picked up at 111 Patterson or from any Ag Club officer.

Broadcast Planned of Freshman Game

WVWP will inaugurate their broadcast of freshman basketball games on December 2 when the Wolflets meet the Naval Air Station team.

Air time will be 6:00 p.m. with the game beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Present WVWP plans call for broadcasting all freshman basketball games which are played in the Coliseum.

WVWP broadcasts on 580 kc.

Criticism, Reasons, Solution

Newspaper editors and the newspapers for which they work will always be criticized. Some of the criticism will be unfair, but much of it will be both fair and correct.

The Technician is no exception to this. In the past, the paper has been accused by students of being an advertisement sheet, of having insufficient coverage of campus events, of using news handouts without taking the time to rewrite them, of lacking in contact with student opinion, and of many other things too numerous to mention here.

The Technician has been criticized also by the Associated Collegiate Press, a national service that criticizes and rates hundreds of college papers. They have said, among other things, that our paper lacks feature-stories about campus events and personalities and that there is poor editing of copy (cutting out unimportant items). The paper received only a third-class rating last year—this is next to the lowest rating given.

For many years, Technician editors have realized the shortcomings of their papers. Most have attempted to do something about the situation—by writing editorials asking for help, by visiting interested or potential staff members, and by the various other methods used by the other organizations on campus to enlist new members.

One of several things done this year was to write freshmen who had past newspaper experience, asking them to serve on their college newspaper staff. Out of approximately 50 letters, we gained two new staff members. (Just this week, we have written 62 additional members of the freshman class in hopes that we will get several more helpers.)

The thing is, we realize that the paper is far from perfect, and we are trying to improve your college's paper as much as possible. But you must realize that we cannot do this without your help.

We also realize that many of the criticisms of the paper are justified. We know that we need columnists who will "pour forth with student opinion;" we need writers who can and will go out and cover our campus; and we need photographers who will give up an hour or two a week to record for our readers the day to day happenings at State.

We need workers who will toil over the technical aspects of page make-up; cartoonists who are sensitive to campus opinion and needed improvements; editorial and news assistants who have a "nose for news" and can produce accurate, interesting, and readable copy; men to rewrite, to type, and to write headlines. Yes, we need more workers in nearly every job that is necessary to putting out a newspaper.

Right now, you may be interested to know, we have on our editorial staff, (excluding one columnist and two sports writers) an editor, a managing editor, and a total of four other writers.

Since the editor and managing editor are tied up largely with the mechanics of simply getting the paper to press, there are four men who are supposed to cover the hundreds of weekly events happening to, about, and for the more than 6,500 people of our college community.

Obviously enough, this is impossible. Even The College News Bureau, which gathers, writes, and distributes news on a full-time basis can not cover everything that happens on our campus.

Is there, then, a solution for the problem? Yes, there is. Briefly, here are the two things we would like to see done by you to help us solve the problem.

First, each organization on campus should designate a member as "reporter". It would be this man's job to keep the campus newspaper informed of coming events, unusual programs, elections, etc., within his organization.

Second, any freshman or upperclassman who has had past experience on a newspaper and would like to help, or anyone who believes he could help out in one of the jobs mentioned above, should either call or drop by The Technician office and talk with the editor about working either occasionally or regularly.

And for the remainder of the campus . . . we still invite your criticism.

Greeks On Campus

'Luscious Blond' Missed At IFC Dance

by Oscar Grant

The Pledge Formal this past weekend was, as usual, a huge success. Decorations, which were based on the theme of "Around The World In 80 Days" were terrific, and Bob Gardner and his I.F.C. Social Committee are to be congratulated on a job well done as are the other fraternity men who worked on the event.

Les Elgart's music left little to be desired. In fact, the only criticism that can be made of his band is that his male vocalist did not seem to draw the attention of as many "Greeks" as did a certain luscious blond Ralph Marterie brought to the campus last year.

The importance of the meeting which will be held tonight for all fraternity kitchen stewards cannot be over emphasized. As was reported in a recent edition of this column, the savings which fraternity men can realize by using some form of group purchasing is almost unlimited.

Purpose of Meeting

The purpose of tonight's meeting will be to attempt to organize our purchasing power in order to gain discounts on food purchases, and to investigate the possibility setting up such a plan. In order to make any progress on such a project, it is necessary for all fraternities to be represented.

Legislative Controversy

It seems the biggest topic of discussion on campus this week is the controversy over the resolutions passed by the North Carolina Student Legislature. One fraternity man I talked to said he believed that State's delegation should be elected by the Student Body directly if the outside press and the public as a whole, are going to take the legislature as seriously as they did this past session. I, for one, agree. At least this method would give State students a chance to hear the platform of delegates before they go into session and not afterward.

It is hard to believe that the majority of the Student Body would have voted for a delegate who was in favor of such resolutions as the two controversial ones which passed in the recent session.

However, regardless of how delegations are chosen, if these mock assemblies are going to be censured by public officials in the future, it would be pointless to even hold them.

Worth A Try . . .

In closing this week's column, I would like to pass on an idea. If State student leaders would go out and talk to administrators of the local girls schools, they might be able to talk them into allowing these girls to take weekends in Raleigh as they do when they go to Chapel Hill, Duke, and Wake Forest. It's worth a try . . .

LETTER

Cartoon Draws Fire

To The Editor:

This is in regard to your unsigned cartoon appearing on page two of your November 18 issue. The cartoon I am referring to accuses a group of college students of being connivers and liars.

It is my opinion that the purpose of our college newspaper is to inform the students objectively and not to slander and cut students as you have permitted your anonymous cartoonist to do.

I hope in the future you will use more discretion and better judgement when presenting news to the students.

Experiment In Teaching

From the Intercollegiate Press

A unique experimental teaching project is underway at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, this year, where 20 senior engineering students have been assigned to counsel and assist in the teaching of the 100 freshmen entering the engineering division.

Each student teacher supervises the work of a group of five freshmen, giving one hour a week to a special class for discussion of the basic course, attending lectures with the new students and giving each freshman a half-hour personal conference each week. They will also grade homework and go over the students' papers with them. They will be paid $600 for the year's work.

The program, made possible by a $15,000 grant by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, has a dual purpose. Primarily it is designed to aid freshmen in acquiring effective habits of study. It is hoped also that it will initiate qualified upperclassmen into active teaching and perhaps aid in lessening the acute shortage of teachers.

Professor Daniel C. Drucker, chairman of the engineering division, said the program is designed to remedy "the lack of psychological preparation for university study" with which many students arrive in college. "The main emphasis will be on study habits," he said. "We get too many students who really haven't the least idea of how to go about studying."

Guest Editorial:

Double Jeopardy And Prima Facie Evidence

by Bob Lyne

Former Judicial Board Chairman

Basic rights are not in any way violated by the Student Judicial Board.

Some time ago a letter appeared in The Technician stating that policies of Student Government and the Judicial Board violate two fundamental rights: (1) the presumption of innocence until guilt is proven, and (2) the protection against double jeopardy.

The Constitution of North Carolina State College specifically states that students on trial shall possess certain rights, one of which is the presumption of innocence until guilt is proven. I assume that the writer in his letter refers to the acceptance of prima facie evidence in cases of mob violence.

Does acceptance of prima facie evidence violate this fundamental right? No. Prima facie evidence is defined as evidence sufficient to raise a presumption of fact or establish the fact in question unless rebutted.

Thus, acceptance of prima facie evidence, as stated in the Honor System booklet, does not preclude the introduction of other evidence; but the burden rests upon the defense to do so.

One Example

One of the many examples of the validity of prima facie evidence may be found in the law regarding automobile accidents at "yield" signs, which in effect says that in an accident occurring when one party has passed through a yield sign, prima facie evidence rules that the party passing through the sign is at fault. This does not mean that he is automatically guilty, but that at the first appearance he is, and therefore the burden is upon him to prove otherwise.

There are many more examples of the acceptance of prima facie evidence in civil law, including certain cases in which the state is the prosecution. Note that only on one offense has the Judicial Board agreed to accept prima facie evidence; the necessity for doing this is obvious.

Secondly the writer mentioned a violation of protection double jeopardy, or being tried for the same offense twice.

Protection

Protection against double jeopardy applies only to the courts having the same jurisdiction. For example, an offense that violates both federal and state laws may be tried once by both courts. Protection against double jeopardy, in effect, forbids, however, the offense's being tried more than once by either court.

I assume that here the writer refers to the policy of students being tried by the Judicial Board after having been tried by a civil court. Since no basic principles are violated, as was just shown, this policy is consistent with the concept that in becoming college students we take on additional responsibilities and obligations.

Let us remember that the Student Judicial Board is composed entirely of students and operates as a separate branch of Student Government. They are elected every spring in the general campus election.

Job Not Easy

The Judicial Board members are definitely not out to "get" anyone, as may be evidenced by the effort that they place on orientation to prevent the occurrence of offenses and by the dedication with which they serve the Student Body. Their job is never an easy one. Our duty as students is to elect men to this board who will be worthy and capable of holding this office.

The trial procedure of the Judicial Board is not completely analogous to that of civil courts—it could not be, for few students here have sufficient legal backgrounds. But our system does work fairly and does preserve all the fundamental rights to which we are entitled.

Business Opportunities Guide Is Available

Distribution of the 1958 edition of Career for the College Man was initiated on campus Monday through Alpha Phi Omega.

Over one hundred of America's leading industrial companies have helped to write this annual guide to business opportunities and have paid for its distribution on over six hundred American college campuses.

Seniors may pick up their free copy by contacting any member of Alpha Phi Omega during this week and next week. Bulletin boards will offer further information on where to receive copies of the guide.

Off-campus students can obtain a copy from the College Union Desk.

College Interview Index

Unique to Career this year is the College Interview Index—a complete cross reference showing recruiting season visits planned by employers at over two hundred campuses across the nation. Thousands of company listing assist students to plan in advance their complete job campaigns.

In addition, an "Interview Selector Card" allows the reader to pick up-to-ten Career companies he would most like to interview. Cards are IBM-processed by Careers Incorporated and forwarded directly and confidentially to the reader's choice of "Top Ten" companies. Later in the year, these companies will have an opportunity to set up interviews through the Placement Office with those men who earlier indicated interest.

Military Table

The publication also includes a detailed table showing thirty-four ways a graduate can discharge his military obligations. The guide features complete cross indexes of every company—broken down by locations, college major backgrounds preferred by companies, corporate summer work opportunities, and most immediately, by recruiting interview schedules on each campus.

Christmas Dance Date Announced

The College Union Dance Committee has announced that this year's edition of the annual Christmas Dance will be held in the College Union Ballroom from 9 to 12 PM on Saturday, December 7.

This will be an informal, date dance. Music will be supplied by Harold Nall and his troupe, who have demonstrated their ability here several times previously this year.

If there is enough interest, the College Union will charter a bus to bring students and their dates to the dance. If you are interested, you may sign up at the College Union Main Desk prior to December 2nd. There will be a charge of seventy-five cents per couple to defray expenses.

by Rob Ferrell

A photo contest for foreign students studying in the United States is being sponsored by The People-To-People Program. The contest offers over $3,000 in prizes.

The contest is open to any national of another country, who is a regular student, teaching fellow, or administrative assistant in any recognized university, college or secondary school in the U. S., or who is studying in the U. S. under an international exchange program.

The purpose of the contest is to present a Portrait Of America as seen by foreign students. The pictures selected will be exhibited throughout the world.

Each entry shall consist of not more than 4 black and white prints each at least 2 by 2 inches and not larger than 8 by 10 inches. All entries will be returned.

Any interested foreign students may secure entry blanks at Dr. Rogers' office in Holladay Hall.

Pershing Rifles Show Off New Uniforms Saturday

By Gene Rickell

State College's famed Pershing Rifles will be performing in their new uniforms for the first time this coming Saturday. The occasion will be the annual Christmas parade here in Raleigh.

The material for these uniforms was presented to the team from Burlington Industries through the School of Textiles, on October 6. The uniforms were tailored by Howard of Baltimore, and delivered to the platoon yesterday.

Tom Tolar, Burlington Industries' Pacific Mills president and John Morgan, manager of the Pacific Mills plant at Raeford who presented the cloth, inspected and saw the platoon in action during Homecoming.

Dress Saturday will include the red uniforms with yellow trim, white belts, black pots, black jump boots with white laces, white scarfs and gloves.

The parade will get under way at 10:00 A.M.

BUTTON-DOWN WINSOCK!!

College students love shirts with button-down collars, but we've never known exactly why. So Van Heusen's research department asked around and got the following answers.

L.B. Senior at Mass. Institute of Entomology. "The buttons keep things from crawling under your collar. Or, if things do crawl under your collar, the buttons prevent them from crawling out again."

D.E. Freshman at Horatio Alger Tech. "You get more buttons so I figure the shirt is more valuable. Is it?"

B.P. Junior at the Pate School of Tonsorial Arts. "They're cooler! Wisps of air blow through the little hole in the button and keep my clavicle at a refreshing temperature."

P.S. Senior of Makemoney's Correspondence School. "I'm a neurotic. With Button-down shirts I can wear one side buttoned and the other side unbuttoned, thereby giving the effect of wearing two types of shirt at one time. Oh help me, help me!"

Z.J. Graduate student at the T.S. Swinburne School of Beautiful Experiences. "Buttons remind me of pearls. Pearls remind me of oysters. Oysters remind me of indigestion. Indigestion reminds me of my doctor. My doctor reminds me of his nurse. She's gorgeous. Gorgeous! So the more buttons the better."

Yes, there's agreement that button-down collars are the thing. And there's further agreement that Van Heusen is the king of Button-down stylists. Just take a look at Van Heusen Oxfordians next time you're in the market for shirts. You'll see immediately why they're famous. $5.00.

PACK'S CHRISTY, ODDO NAMED

Wolfpack Winds Up Season Sat. In ACC Battle With South Carolina

It seems that all good things must come to an end, and that is what State supporters are thinking as the Wolfpack journeys to Columbia this Saturday to close out the season against the South Carolina Gamecocks. This year has seen a complete reversal of all pre-season poop on the Wolfpack. The West Raleigh brigade was picked to finish no higher than fourth in the ACC race, and picked by some national writers to win only one game, but now at the close of the season, the conference championship looms as a possibility on the horizon.

Pack Must Win
The game this weekend with the Gamecocks will tell much of the story. State will have to win in order to have a chance to cop the big ACC crown, so therefore, all fans and players are anxiously anticipating the outcome.

The series between State and USC stands at 8-10-2 with the Gamecocks in the lead. The first games were played in 1900, with the Wolfpack losing two. The series was continued comparatively regularly until 1935, but then there was a 21-year lapse before it was revived last year.

The Red Men have taken the last three tilts, winning 14-7 last season, 14-0 in '35, and 6-0 in '34.

USC Has 4-4 Mark
South Carolina will enter the game with a 4-4 record. They hold wins over Texas, Furman, Wofford, and Virginia, while their losses have come at the hands of Duke, Clemson, Maryland, and Carolina.

Notes From the Wolfpack

Wally Bortko, a sophomore guard on the State basketball squad, has recently dropped out of school. Bortko, a freshman starter last year, was expected to aid the famed cage Pack.

Mail orders are now being received by the Coliseum Box Office for Dixie Classic season books. The deadline for mail orders is Dec. 15 and no season books will be sold after that date.

Counter sales at the box office will begin Dec. 9. Season books

USC's Latham Wins Cross Country Meet

North Carolina took to their heels winning the fifth annual Atlantic Coast Conference cross-country meet at Wake Forest November 18.

With overcast skies and a muddy track it was South Carolina's Billy Latham who led the field with a 22:21.6 winning time on the 4.2 mile Wake Forest course.

The Tar Heels with first laurels scored 45 points, Clemson followed with 89, Maryland 94, North Carolina State 97, Duke 104, Virginia 109, and Wake Forest 121. South Carolina did not receive any points because it did not start the required five men.

The leading runner for State was Billy Inscow who made 7th place out of 58 runners with a 23:19.3 time.

The Pack goes down South sporting a 6-1-2 record. Concerning the teams that South Carolina has played, State holds a 3-0-1 mark, handling the Terps, Clemson, and the Tarheels, while tying the Duke Blue Devils.

Battle of Halfbacks
This game will feature two of the best pair of halfbacks in football today in the persons of Alex Hawkins and King Dixon for the Roosters and Dick Christy and Dick Hunter for the Pack.

Hawkins with 31 points and Dixon with 30 have done much of the Carolina scoring. Other backs who figure a great deal in the offense parade for USC are Frank Destino, who has taken over much of the season for the injured Dixon, and FB Don Johnson.

Probable standouts for the front line of Carolina are tackle John Kompara, and guard Tom Addison, both of whom made all-ACC second team.

Seniors End Career
Many of State's famed Wolfpack will be closing out their careers at USC. Besides Christy and Hunter, backs Wally Prince, Tony Guerrieri, Dave Meloni, and Tom Katich will finish up. On the stalwart front line for the Red Men, Jim Oddo, Dick Goudie, Ed Hordubay, Julie Compton, Fran Tokar, Tom Guerrieri, Dick DeAngelis, Darrell Dess, Bob Paroli, Don Mike-ta, John Collar, and Jay Beacon will complete their college careers.

Game time for the ACC tilt is 2:00 p.m. on Saturday.

INTRAMURALS

The Intramural Program, close to being caught up after the influenza layoff, will move into the final stages of the football program next Monday and Tuesday as the finals begin.

The playoffs will be a single elimination affair with the winner and runner-up in each section being represented in the finals, making a total of eight teams in both the fraternity and the dormitory sections.

All organizations who plan to enter their team in the Intramural Dixie Classic Basketball Tournament are reminded that the last day for entry is Tuesday, November 26. The team manager should see Art Hoch at the Intramural Office to sign up.

All fraternities have completed their full schedule of games. In No. 1 is Sigma Chi, the defending champions, who won the section title while Sigma Nu was runner-up. Section 2 went to the Sigma Pi's with the PEP's finishing third.

No. 3 saw the PKT's win, with the SPE's and KA's tied for second. Section 4 presents somewhat of a problem; all five teams, PIKA, FH, AGR, Delta Sig, and SAE have identical records of 3-3, with no team beating the same one twice.

A meeting this afternoon decides the outcome of this tangled affair and also the runner-up spot in Section 3.

In the dormitories, all games have not been completed as yet, and the playoffs will not begin there until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Art Hoch, the Intramural Director, also announced that the Track meet has been postponed until the spring, upon the recommendation of the Advisory Council.

Around the ACC

November 23 marks what could be called Atlantic Coast Conference day. It seems that the only time this year that all eight ACC foes will be feuding.

The Duke-Carolina tilt will be in the limelight with the Tar Heels looking for a possible upset. Duke, the favorite has been downed only once while UNC has lost three. Wray Carlton Duke HB seeks to keep his scoring lead of 58 points in the ACC.

The Wolfpack will roam Gamecock territory at Columbia in quest of a 7-1-2 record. This game will be the last for the double barrel combination, Dick Christy and Dick Hunter.

Disgusted Wake Forest will also venture and will take on the smiling Tigers displayed by coach Frank Howard.

In the first post-season poll of sports editors and sportscasters, conducted by the United Press, All-American halfback candidate Dick Christy, and center Jim Oddo represent N. C. State College in the top eleven.

Christy was the only unanimous choice of the vote-casters for the first team. This comes as little surprise to many, because this season has seen Big Mr. 40 blossom into a topnotch player with all aspects being considered.

He is now only two touchdowns from tying the season scoring record of 66 points which is now held by Alex Webster. In the first game of the season, he broke the total career yardage record of 1231, which incidentally was also held by Webster. Through the V.P.I. game, he has amassed 1748 yards, only 12 short of a mile.

Jim Oddo has been a rugged and dependable player throughout his career. This year, he has failed to make a bad pass from center and has also been a demon on defense. He will long be remembered for the pass interception in the Duke game that set up State's tying touchdown.

The Wolfpack was represented on the second team by two positions also. Tackle Darrell Dess, who has made many outstanding stops for the Pack on defense, and the other Touch-down Twin, Dick Hunter, who has excelled in every department in football, were choices for the second eleven.

Several honorable mention positions rounded out an excellent State showing. Guard Bill Rearick, Tackle Dick DeAngelis, Ends Bob Pepe and John Collar, and Fullback Don Hafer took these honors.

State ranks first in the Atlantic Coast Conference in total defense and rushing defense.

The Wolfpack has allowed only 219.7 yards per game by running and passing to top the league in that department. The rushing statistics show that State has allowed nine foes an average of 134.2 yards on the ground.

Incidentally, the Pack's defense against scoring is now third in the nation. Only 41 points have been scored against State in nine games, a 4.6 average per contest.

Small Businesses Offered
New Interviewing Guide

A guide for small companies interested in employing college graduates has been prepared by the former placement director for the School of Engineering.

"College Recruiting for Small Industry" by Marie P. Wicker, who for the past five years served as placement director for the School of Engineering at State College, has been especially prepared for the small company operator who does his own hiring.

I E Program
Number six in the "Facts for Industry Series" published last month by the college's Industrial Experimental Program, the bulletin outlines interview procedures for company representatives by covering three main phases. These are preparation before the visit to the campus, the day of the interview on campus, and the follow-up, or what should be done after the visit to the campus.

Costing only ten cents, the bulletin may be requested by writing to the Industrial Experimental Program, State College, Raleigh.

Another highlight of the booklet is a list of what the college graduate looks for in a job. These facts are compiled from the writer's own experience in arranging thousands of student interviews over the last few years.

Long-Range Program
In addition, the author discusses a long-range program for educating college students about a company.

Original illustrations are used throughout the publication.

Dr. W. C. Bell, director of the Industrial Experimental Program, says that the bulletin has been very well-received by company representatives in North Carolina and that just this week one of the State's largest industries requested fifty copies.

"Since its release, we have had numerous requests for this informative and helpful publication," the director points out. "We would be happy to send it to all interested industries in the State."

Plans Made for High School Day On Dec. 7

State College will observe its annual "High School Day" on Saturday, December 7, when hundreds of high schools students are expected to visit the campus for the day-long event.

Invitations to the senior and junior classes of the State's high schools have been issued by Dr. Carey H. Bostian, chancellor of State College, in a letter to high school principals and superintendents.

H. W. (Pop) Taylor, director of alumni affairs at State College, has been named chairman of a faculty committee to make arrangements for the observance.

L. Y. Ballentine, State commissioner of agriculture, will speak at an assembly of the visiting high school students, their teachers, and parents in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum Saturday, December 7, at 1 p.m.

Registration of the visiting students will be held at the Coliseum December 7, beginning at 11 a.m.

Following the assembly program, tours of the college campus and departmental facilities will be held from 2 until 5:30 p.m.

The visitors will be guests of State College at the Penn State-N. C. State basketball game in the Coliseum December 7 at 8 p.m.

Students Planning For Europe Tour

A group of 30 students from the University of North Carolina, Woman's College, and State College will spend six weeks in Europe next summer participating in a European Student Seminar.

Group To Fly

In announcing plans for the study tour today, the Rev. Oscar B. Wooldridge, coordinator of religious activities at State College and secretary of the College YMCA, said the group will fly to Europe June 19 and will return July 31.

Wooldridge, who is serving as temporary arrangements chairman, said students from the three institutions are arranging the seminar through Associate Consultants for Education Abroad, a non-profit agency with headquarters in London. The seminar director will be Dr. Luther Harshbarger, chaplain of Pennsylvania State University.

Cooperating in preparations for the tour are the YM-YWCA of the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, the Woman's College YWCA in Greensboro, and the State College YMCA in Raleigh.

Plans call for the traveling group to spend three days of orientation near London, five days of study in London, five days in Berlin, three days in Munich, three days in Switzerland, five days in Rome, three days in Florence, and five days in Paris.

Costs $980

The cost per student will be approximately $980.

WVWP's Schedule Centers Around Variety In Music

A regular schedule of entertainment is offered by WVWP, the Voice of the Wolfpack, on 580 Kc.

Owned and operated by the students of State College as an extracurricular activity, offices, studios, and transmission facilities are located in the 1911 Building. The station is authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to use the campus power lines for transmission, thus, WVWP cannot be received by off-campus students or fraternity houses.

Schedule

WVWP broadcasts between 6 p.m. and 1 a.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 'til 11:30 on Saturday evenings.

Programming centers around the variety of music the campus likes to hear. To round out the schedule there is a drama show, news and sports casts, and often a special production.

"Around The World" is a variety show, featuring a spiritual hymn, a look at the world and campus news, a preview of a new record, a top tune, and the movie guide.

Hit tunes and rock 'n Roll are the speciality on "Campus Beat", but almost any type of popular music is liable to be heard. On Friday night the Patter Party direct from the College Union is presented on "Campus Beat".

Easy going 45's and popular LP's are a standard on the "Twilight Show."

On Wednesday nights, "Progressively Yours" features a full hour of jazz and in the opposite vein is an hour of classical music on "The Concert Hall."

Late at night there's mood music—music to study or dream by—on "Midnight Mood".

"Music Into the Night", every Saturday night, offers a variety, ranging from popular to mood music; the Starlight Club is broadcast direct from the College Union over this show.

Drama Workshop

A newcomer in programs is the WVWP Drama workshop presently featuring the series "Exploring the Unknown". All the technical and dramatic work of this program is done by personnel of the WVWP staff. The next presentation entitled, "The Story of the Other Wise Man" will be at nine o'clock on Thursday, Dec. 10.

In the line of special productions WVWP will broadcast all freshmen basketball games, live from the Coliseum. The complete schedule will be released soon for these games.

Other special productions throughout the year will include special College Union events and other noteworthy and interesting campus events.

The Technician will carry the schedule for WVWP.

Jerry Erdahl—Creator of the Country Doctor

Jerry Erdahl, Director of the College Union, is shown here using a College Union calendar as an improvised drawing board while he works on his cartoon, "The Country Doctor." Erdahl's cartoon appears daily in The Raleigh Times and in several other newspapers in the country. (Photo by Barbot)

JERRY ERDAHL

College Union Director Draws Popular Cartoon

By Alton Lee

Few people on the State College campus realize that the unusual new cartoon, "The Family Doctor" is drawn by "one of us."

Gerald Erdahl, who has been director of the College Union for some time now is the creator and artist. The interesting drawings appear daily in the Raleigh Times and several other newspapers across the country.

Idea for Cartoon

Asked where he got his idea for such a character, Jerry had this to say:

"It was really a matter of deduction. Nowadays individuals have become very self-conscious about the question of health. They worry about health, life expectancy, and other points in our modern day life. With all this stress and tension, I thought a doctor would be the best kind of person to 'criticize' a community and to offer advice."

Doctor's Name

"T. B. Jones" (which will be the character's given name come January) has already made a big hit in Raleigh.

Erdahl was interested in art at a very young age, and earned some of his way through the University of Wisconsin by doing art work. Having minored in art, Jerry had an art career in the back of his mind while still in college.

Education Important

He feels that a good college education was imperative in his day, and even more so in this generation. Offering advice to any would-be artist, Jerry thought that he (or anyone else) should get as good an education as possible. He leans towards a diversified education also.

Jerry has many hobbies; among them are reading, drawing, bridge, hunting, hiking and fishing; he regrets that he doesn't have more time to attend to them.

Erdahl's Family

Also in the Erdahl family are Jerry's wife Frances and their daughter Cynthia, who will reach the ripe old age of six on January the tenth.

Erdahl, who stands an even six feet tall and weighs about one hundred and seventy-six "with sock," is popular with the students of State.

"The Family Doctor" is demonstrating his ability as a cartoonist and spreading his popularity beyond the bounds of a college campus.

Clogston's Trial Delayed for Week

Roy C. Clogston, Director of Athletics and William Neal Reynolds Coliseum, will be tried on Wednesday, November 27, in Wake County Domestic Relations Court on charges of assault on a minor.

Originally scheduled for yesterday (November 20), the trial was postponed due to the illness of Sam Morris, attorney for Mrs. Elizabeth McGee.

Mrs. McGee filed charges against Clogston for assault on her son, Jimmy, a fourteen year old former refreshment seller at the Coliseum. Clogston was accused by the youth as grabbing him by the neck and kicking him as he was being ejected from the Coliseum during the Harlem Globetrotters game.

Seniors To Meet In Withers Friday

A Senior Class meeting will be held at noon Friday in Withers Hall.

The Class's gift to the college will be the chief issue considered. All members of the class are urged to attend and to bring one dollar each for the class gift.

HOW TO STUDY

The makers of Marlboro Cigarettes have bought this space so I can bring a message of importance to American undergraduates each week. There is no more important message I can bring you than this: College can be beautiful. Don't louse it up with studying.

That was my mistake. At first, cowed by college, I studied so much that I turned into a dreary, blinking creature, subject to dry mouth and night sweats. This dismal condition prevailed until I learned the real meaning of college. And what is that? I'll tell you what: to prepare you to face the realities of the world. And what do you need to face the realities of the world? I'll tell you what: poise. And how do you get poise? I'll tell you how: not by sticking your nose in a book, you may be sure!

Relax! Live! Enjoy!... That's how you get poise. Of course you have to study, but be poised about it. Don't be like some drones who spend every single night buried in a book. They are not learning poise; what's more, they are playing hob with their posture.

The truly poised student knows better than to make the whole semester hideous with studying. He knows that the night before an exam is plenty of time to study.

Yes, I've heard people condemn cramming. But who are these people? They are the electric light and power interests, that's who! They want you to sit up late and study every night so you will use more electricity and enrich their bulging coffers.

Don't be taken in by their insidious propaganda! Cramming is clearly the only sensible way to study. But beware! Even cramming can be overdone. When you cram, be sure you are good and relaxed. Before you start, eat a hearty dinner. Then get a date and go out and eat another hearty dinner. Then go park some place and light up a Marlboro. Enjoy the peaceful pleasure it affords. Don't go home till you're properly relaxed.

Choose a chair that is not too comfortable...

Once at home, stay relaxed. Do not, however, fall asleep. This is too relaxed. To insure wakefulness, choose a chair that is not too comfortable. For example, take a chair with nails pointing up through the seat.

Place several packs of Marlboros within easy reach. Good, mild tobacco helps you relax, and that's what Marlboro is—good, mild tobacco. But Marlboro is more than just good, mild tobacco; it is also cigarette paper to keep the good, mild tobacco from spilling all over the place. And a filter. And a flip-top box. And a red tape to lift the cigarettes easily... It is, in short, a lot to like.

Now you've got the uncomfortable chair and the Marlboros. Now you need light. Use the lit end of your Marlboro. Do not enrich the light and power interests.

Read your textbook in a slow, relaxed manner. Do not underline; it reduces the resale value of the book. Always keep your books in prime resale condition. You never know when you'll need getaway money.

As you read you will no doubt come across many things you don't understand. But don't panic. Relax. Play some Fats Domino. Remove a callus. Go out and catch some night crawlers.

Relax! Live! Enjoy! Remember—any number of people have bachelor's degrees, but precious few have poise!

© 1957, Max Shulman
