Lasts Ten Days

Fraternities Begin Rushing Thursday

Fraternity visiting and rushing activities will begin on Thursday and will last for ten consecutive days.

There are eighteen social fraternities at State, all of which have scheduled many and varied activities in an attempt to show the hundreds of men who will go through fraternity rush exactly what a fraternity is. Some of the functions will be held at the individual fraternity houses while others will be scheduled outside of the houses at clubs, restaurants, etc.

Interfraternity Council President George Howard has asked that all freshmen and other rushees, as well as fraternity men, abide by the Rushing Rules set forth by the IFC. The Rushing Rules are printed below.

Rushing Rules

1. No contact whatsoever, either direct or indirect, is to be made by any fraternity man with any freshman except during the hours set forth in the rushing rules.

2. Transportation may be provided for the rushee, as long as this transportation is within the prescribed hours and providing this transportation is not against the rushee's will.

3. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Sept. 26, 27, and 28 are known as "Visiting Days." On these days the rushees will visit the various fraternity houses without signing up for any rush functions. The hours for such visitation will be 6:00-10:00 P.M. on Thursday and Friday and 2:00-10:00 P.M. on Saturday.

4. Sunday and Monday, Sept. 29 and 30 will be used for the purpose of signing up for the rushee for various rush functions during the following week. No rushee may be signed up for more than a total of twelve hours during rush or more than three hours on one day by any respective fraternity. The hours

Attendance Regulations Changed

The following class attendance regulation will be in force this year.

Freshmen and sophomores still are allowed 15 unexcused absences during the semester. More than 15 unexcused absences will render the student ineligible to register for courses at State for the following regular semester. After 12 unexcused absences in any semester, the freshman or sophomore will be sent a warning notice, copies of which will go to the Dean of the School in which he is registered and to his parents or guardian.

Every student is required to attend all tests, examinations, and laboratory work.

The new part of the regulation is as follows. No Excused Absence Slips will be issued for absences for personal reasons. Such absences will be counted as unexcused. The only absences for which a student will be excused this year will be in case the student is sick, attending to official college duties, or on an approved college trip. If a class is missed for any of these reasons, the student should go to the Attendance Office, Room No. 11, in Holladay Hall and receive an Excused Absence Slip. In the event of an excused absence, the work missed may be made up at the convenience of the instructor in any way agreeable to the instructor.

In summary, then, the attendance regulations are: (1) a maximum of 15 unexcused absences for freshmen and sophomores; (2) no excuses given for any personal reason; and (3) Excused Absence Slips will be given for sickness and official trips at Room No. 11, Holladay Hall.

IDC Ball Planned For October 29

A new location has been chosen for the Inter Dormitory Council Ball for this year. For the first time the IDC Ball will be held in the Coliseum.

With the increased interest and the increased dormitory enrollment, IDC officers have chosen the Coliseum to replace the College Union Ballroom as the scene for the dance.

The formal IDC Ball will be held on October 19 beginning at 8 o'clock.

To Cost $2,822,000

New Gymnasium Given Approval

A project calling for the construction of a $2,822,000 gymnasium at North Carolina State College was recently approved by Gov. Hodges and the Advisory Budget Commission.

The 1957 Legislature appropriated half the money for the project. The other half is expected to come from the state's revolving fund.

State Budget Director D. S. Coltrane said the commission has made no decision on the interest rate to be charged for loans from a fund of nearly seven million dollars appropriated by the Legislature. The fund was set up to make loans to state-supported educational institutions for self-liquidating projects, primarily dormitories.

Cafe. Announces Increase In Prices

A. G. Sutherland, Jr., has announced that the Cafeteria has been forced to make slight increases in its food prices this year. These price increases are already in effect.

At the same time, however, it was announced that $5 worth of meal tickets would be sold this year for $4.50, rather than $4.75 as was the policy last year.

State Improvements

State College has recently completed several projects. Among these are 17 acres of intra-mural athletic fields valued at $40,000; a paved dormitory parking area south of Alexander, Turlington, Owen, and Tucker Dormitories; a $400,000 Agriculture Engineering Building; paved parking and playing area between Frank Thompson Gymnasium and William Neal Reynolds Coliseum; and renovations to Berry and Becton Dormitories.

The college is also building a new 800-man dormitory which will cost $2,000,000. The new dormitory will not be ready for use until next year.

Fred Houtz, President-elect of the Student Government last spring, failed to meet academic requirements for returning to State this fall. Jimmy Hunt, who was elected vice-president, will assume the position of President, and the vice-presidency will be filled by an election in the student legislature.

Houtz was elected in a runoff last spring between him and George C. Cochran. On the first ballot, when Dan Yager was in the running for the office, Cochran received the greater number of votes. In what was considered somewhat of an upset, Yager's supporters threw their votes to Houtz in the runoff and thereby gave him the majority vote. Jim Hunt, however, won the office of vice-president by a clear majority on the first ballot.

Houtz failed to meet the college rule which states, in effect, that a student must pass a minimum of eight credits per semester to remain in school the following semester. Houtz entered his last semester at State with grades far above average and was considered an excellent scholar.

Jimmy Hunt, the new President of Student Government, issued the following statement to The Technician last night:

"I am deeply disappointed that Fred will not be in school this year. He has made many outstanding contributions to State College Student Government, and we were all looking forward to working with him. I ask for the cooperation of all in undertaking the responsibilities of the presidency. With the attitude that has been expressed by student leaders during the past week, I am sure that we will have a very successful year in which student government will continue to ably serve our student body. I ask the cooperation of everyone."

Hunt was not prepared last night to make a statement as to the policies he will follow for the coming year, or whether he proposes any changes in the policies set forth by Fred Houtz in his election platform. However, Jim will have a statement for The Technician later this week in order to clarify his position.

Changes Made In Faculty, Staff

Several changes and additions to the faculty and staff of State College have been announced for the current college year.

Harold A. Lamonds, staff member in the School of Engineering, has been named project director of the Nuclear Reactor.

Succeeding Dr. H. A. Fisher, who retired after serving as head of the Mathematics Department for 24 years, is Dr. John W. Cell, a member of the college faculty since 1935.

Dr. Clifton A. Anderson, a member of the Pennsylvania State University faculty since 1938, has assumed his duties as head of the Industrial Engineering Department.

A former member of the Pennsylvania State University faculty, Dr. Joel Walter Harrington, has been named professor of mathematics in the School of Engineering.

Dr. Eustace Robinson Conway, a former engineering student at State College, returns to the School of Engineering as assistant professor of Chemical Engineering.

New instructors in the English Department are Richard Weinberg Goldsmith, John Henderson Gilbert, Max Halperen, Umphrey Lee, Jr., and Mrs. Marilyn Lammert-Williamson. Returning to the faculty of the English Department after an absence of several years is Miss Hazel Griffin.

Dr. Lyle B. Rogers, a member of the faculty for the past 10 years, has been promoted to the post of director of counseling. Dr. Kingston Johns, Jr., was named assistant director of counseling.

Named to the post of director of student activities at the College was Banks C. Talley, Jr., a member of the faculty for the past six years.

Robert A. Barnes succeeded Christian D. Kutschinski as director of music.

New associate secretary of the YMCA is William G. Long.

Two new members of the staff of the College Union are Mrs. Peggy Fisher and Norman Larson.

5 Years For Pilots

"Hundreds of fledging Air Force pilots are turning in their wings in revolt against a recent Pentagon order extending their tours from three to five years.

"The order requires that ROTC pilot-trainees give the Air Force four years' active duty after completion of primary and basic training. (This preliminary training takes 12 to 13 months.)"

The paragraphs above are quoted from an article by Jim Lucas which appeared a few weeks in a Washington, D. C. newspaper.

Mr. Lucas goes on to say: "At one Southern base, 80 per cent of one training unit have applied for ground duty. In another flight of 22 men, 10 trainees have asked for relief, 11 are undecided and only one has agreed to sign up for five years."

State students enrolled in Air Force ROTC have recently found out by means of a handout given them at registration that this order hits them squarely in the face—that is, if they were planning to fly.

Those men who are in Category I (candidates for flight training) are now faced with the decision of whether to fly, and stay in the Air Force for five years, or to sign up for three years on the ground. For those men who plan to graduate in June, this decision must be made before February 1 of next year. Those who plan to graduate the following year (1959) must make the five-year/three-year decision by next October 1.

The new order has still another, and more immediate effect on AFOTC men at State. To be eligible to participate in the flight training being offered here at State, a man must sign the five-year contract. (This flight training is in light, single engine planes and is carried on at Raleigh Municipal Airport. The program is now in its second year here.)

The cost of training a pilot is between $100,000 and $150,000 and takes, altogether, two years and three months of the three-year tour. Thus, the Air Force says, that simply isn't enough return on the investment. Another aspect is that after staying in five years, a man is more likely to make a career of the Air Force—and career men are what the Air Force wants and needs.

The decision of whether to fly for five years or to serve a non-flying three-year tour will be a hard one for many men. There are others, though, who can tell you what they are going to do and what they think of the order quite briefly.

We must say, however, that the Air Force is to be complimented on the way the order is being handled. Last year, just two or three weeks before graduation, seniors were forced to make a somewhat similar decision almost on the spur of the moment. The new order gives the student several months in which to make his decision.

The Air Force was forced to increase the tour for pilot trainees for financial reasons. We believe that the order is in the best interests of both the Air Force and the country. But, for those men who wanted to have the exciting adventure of three years of flying, we feel very sorry.

Dorm Dues - Why? How They Are Used

by Leonard Dean

In the past few years the officers of some of the larger dormitories on campus have collected dormitory dues. This year, for the first time, all occupants of dormitories have been asked to pay dormitory dues. It is the purpose of this article to clear up some of the misunderstanding about these dues.

Just where does this money go? This question has been asked many times around the dormitories. Forty per cent of the $2.50 fee remains in the dormitory in which the student lives; the other 60% goes to the IDC.

The one dollar per occupant that remains in the respective dormitory is to be spent for social events, floats for Homecoming parade, awards for outstanding students who have participated in dormitory athletics, and other projects sponsored by the dormitories.

In the past these activities were financed by having the floor managers "pass the hat around." Such a method of financing dormitory activities is not only unreliable but it is unfair to the students; some students have paid much more than a dollar while other students have paid nothing. Dormitory dues give each student an equal share in the finance of dormitory activities. It also permits the officers of each dormitory to budget the money that the dormitory will need during the year so that it will not be necessary to charge for dormitory picnics or to "pass the hat" to collect money for a Christmas present for the dormitory host and hostess. Once you have paid your dormitory dues, there will not be any collection of dues in the dormitory the rest of this school year.

IDC Ball

The $1.50 per occupant that goes to the IDC is to be used to finance the IDC Ball. For many years the IDC Ball has been a semi-formal dance with a local orchestra. This year the IDC Ball will be formal, held in the Coliseum, and the music will be furnished by a big-name band. In planning for the IDC Ball, the IDC has set as its goal to have the best dance on campus this year; estimated cost of the Ball this year is about $3500.

The IDC realizes that dormitory dues are new to the students, and that there is always opposition to change. However the IDC feels that by collecting dormitory dues, each dormitory will be able to function more efficiently, and that the IDC Ball will be a high spot in the campus social life.

Cafeteria Prices

The recently announced price increases at the College Cafeteria will make many dig a little deeper this year.

The reason for the increases, though, is that the Legislature passed a law last session—the same session that they appropriated nearly $3 million for our new gym—which requires the director of any self-sustaining operation to pay for a salary increase to employees through increased receipts. The result of this is a $25,000 jump in the Cafeteria's operating costs.

Another factor which should be taken into consideration before screaming too loudly is that there are only five months in which the Cafeteria can make a profit—October, November, January, March and May. Yet the Cafeteria must remain open for the students all the time they are in school.

We are sorry to hear of the higher prices even though $5 worth of tickets for $4.50 is some consolation. We realize, however, that because of the salary increases, Mr. Sutherland had no alternative.

Sparked by a line that couldn't be moved, the Wolfpack from West Raleigh made shambles of the secretive offensive attack of Coach Jim Tatum's Tarheels as they downed the Blue Boys, 7-0, before a sweltering crowd of 39,000.

Making it three in a row over the new area Sunny Jim Tarheels, State spoiled Carolina's opener for the second successive year. Last September, the Pack welcomed Jim Tatum to the ACC fold with a resounding 26-6 upset of his favored Chapel Hill brigade.

Saturday's game was marked by first game jitters for both teams and also a new record for career rushing set by Dick Christy of State. Big no. 40 eclipsed Alex Webster's five-year old record of 1,231 yards by picking up 57 yards in 16 carries to run his three-year total to 1,248 yards.

The afternoon's only score came late in the first quarter as left halfback Dick Hunter scored on a five yard line plunge, climaxing a 75 yard drive. Captain Hunter kicked the point after touchdown to end the day's scoring.

At two times in the long afternoon, it looked as if Carolina's Tarheels would break into the scoring column. Early in the fourth quarter, fullback

John Haywood intercepted a pass by quarterback Frank Cackovic on the State 39 and ran it to the 23 before he was downed. On the next four plays, though, the Pack line couldn't be budged and State took over after three incomplete passes and a line plunge.

One other time about midway the final quarter, the Tarheels looked like they might go all the way when QB Jack Cummings hit end Al Goldstein for a 35 yard gain to the State 28. After two incomplete passes and a 16 yard loss, Carolina kicked into the end zone and State took over on the 20.

In the first quarter, State took the kickoff and marched from the Pack 41 to the Carolina 15. There a field goal was attempted, but fell short and wide, and the Tarheels gained possession.

The State forward wall did a very creditable job of defending the goal and also kept the Tarheel rushing down to 73 yards in 32 plays for a mediocre 2.3 average.

Also playing outstanding ball for the Wolfpack were reserve halfback Ron Podwika and fullback Wally Prince.

Next Saturday the Red Men will journey to College Park where they will face the Terrapins of Maryland, another conference foe. Carolina will encounter the Clemson Tigers and Duke will face the Cavaliers from Virginia in other family squabbles.

Comment of Week

A former State man who came to Raleigh for the weekend and for the State-Carolina game, had a long drive back to Washington on Sunday. When asked why he was leaving so early in the afternoon he replied, "I've got to leave pretty early because a lot of people get out and walk their cars on Sunday afternoon."

Although the ACC Orange Bowl representative wasn't officially named on Saturday, a good hint was given at Columbia, South Carolina, when the favored Duke Blue Devils ran over U.S.C. 26-14.

The Gamecocks kept it 7-7 at the first half, but a superior Devil backfield, sparked by the running of halfback Wray Carlson, weakened the South Carolina defense.

Elsewhere in the ACC, Clemson downed Presbyterian 66-0 in a non-conference game while Maryland gave second-ranked Texas A&M a rough time before succumbing 21-13.

Virginia rallied to tie West Virginia in the last period 6-6, while Wake Forest was idle.
