Pi Tau Sigma

Honor Fraternity Initiates Twelve

Twelve top-ranking engineering students have been initiated into Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honor fraternity at State College, chapter officials reported Saturday.

The new members were received into the honor society on the basis of scholarship, character, and prospects of future contributions in their field.

New Members

Chosen from the junior and senior classes in mechanical engineering, they are Hubert P. Barringer, Bessemer City; James Frank Great, Jr., Winston-Salem; James H. Gwaltney, Durham; William A. Harrell, Rocky Mount; Roy Lee Harrington, Concord; Charles Borden Johnson, Greensboro; Joe C. McCaslin, Maiden; C. R. Meeks, Winston-Salem; William D. Smith, Asheboro; Larry M. Talbert, Albemarle; Billie R. Todd, Winston-Salem; and Bill Wynne, Morganton.

Activities of the organization include various service projects for the State College School of Engineering.

Officers

This year's Pi Tau Sigma officers are Tilson E. Chappell, Belvidere, president; Guy Myers, Jr., Winston-Salem, vice president; John F. Vogler, Mt. Airy, recording secretary; Charles E. Feltner, Raleigh, corresponding secretary; Thomas J. Bost, Newton, treasurer; and Melvin D. Sidbury, Hamstead, historian.

Prof. J. S. Doolittle of the Mechanical Engineering Department faculty is adviser to the group.

Either Dorsey's Or Basie's Band Will Play for Freshman-Sophomore

Present plans call for either the late Tommy Dorsey's Band or Count Basie and his Band to play for the Freshman-Sophomore Dance.

At a meeting of the Freshman and Sophomore Classes Friday night Dave Maharan, Freshman Treasurer, reported on the cost for securing several orchestras. After a discussion it was decided to contact both Dorsey's and Basie's bands about playing for the May 3 Dance.

Televising Possible

Clyde Hoey, Freshman Vice-President, reported that WBT-TV in Charlotte was interested in televising the dance and if they televise the dance they would send an MC for the dance. Hoey is also planning to contact WRAL-TV and WTVD-TV about televising the Dance.

Freshmen and Sophomores are required to pay their two dollars class dues by registration. A check list will be prepared next semester and those who have not paid their class dues will have to pay three dollars for bids to the Freshman-Sophomore Dance.

Other items discussed were rental of tuxedos and choice of photographers for the dance.

Lecture On Missiles To Be Given Tonight

Major General Robert J. Wood, deputy chief of research and development for the U. S. Army, will deliver a public lecture in the auditorium of the Nelson Textile Building tonight at 8 p.m.

Assistant to Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, who requested retirement as the Army's research chief last weekend, Wood will speak on "Ballistic Missiles."

Drills Cancelled

Both the Army and Air Force drills have been called off for Tuesday to give students extra study time so that they might attend the lecture.

Originally scheduled for Tuesday night but changed to Monday because of complications arising in Washington, Wood's presentation will be sponsored by the College Union Forum Committee, headed by Ellen Culler of Zionville.

A discussion period and coffee hour will follow the talk, which is open to the public without charge.

Students Planning For European Trip

Approximately 20 students from State and Carolina met last Friday afternoon in Chapel Hill to discuss plans for the European tour which is being taken this summer by students from the Consolidated University.

Two different tours were discussed by the group. Both tours cost less than $1000. The first tour, which goes by charter plane over and back, lasts for 44 days. The second tour goes by boat and is gone for 72 days.

The group discussed both tours and finally decided that both tours would be sponsored by the Consolidated University. By this decision, students are now left free to decide whether they would rather take a longer tour which covers more territory or a shorter tour which goes to fewer places but stays in each place longer.

THAT'S A RIDICULOUS RUMOR, DEAN I RUN HERE A VERY DEMOCRATIC CLASSROOM.

Students Begin To Rate Faculty

Today marked the start of a campus Faculty Evaluation program sponsored by the Student Government and planned by the Promotions Committee of the Student Legislature.

Over 25,000 rating sheets have been distributed to all departments desiring to take part in the program which allows students to evaluate their individual instructors.

Evaluation Purpose

Waring Boys, Chairman of the Promotions Committee, stated that, "the evaluation sheets are not given merely to rate an instructor, but they are meant to be of a suggestive type whereby students can give constructive and helpful suggestions."

The three little ink drops were crying because their father was in the pen and they didn't know how long the sentence was going to be.

Refund Available For Dorm Occupants

Occupants of three-man rooms continuously from Sept. 20 to Dec. 1 will receive a refund of $10 per person.

Eligible students may obtain refunds at the Dormitory Rental Office beginning Thursday.

All rooms for the spring semester will rent for $67.50 per semester regardless of the number of students per room. No refund will be made to occupants of three-man rooms.

Students in three-man rooms are urged to move to vacancies in two-man rooms.

Room reservations period ends Wednesday for students who wish to retain their present room.

Stressed by the Faculty Senate was the fact that when the evaluation sheets are handed back to the instructor after being filled in by the students, they will have enough natural curiosity to want to discover the results of the ratings, how his students regard him, and how he might possibly improve his methods of instruction.

On Judicial Board

Byrd To Fill Vacancy

By Pierre Leveque

Resulting from the resignation of a Judicial Board member, the January 9 meeting of the Student Government was asked to approve the appointment of Bill Byrd by Student Government President Jim Hunt to the vacancy.

In all, six persons of character and leadership were nominated by the Judicial Board for this position, but only one was recommended to the President for appointment.

In an address to the Student Government, President Hunt gave a report on the events that took place and the decisions that were made at the last meeting of the Chancellor's liaison committee meeting.

He reported that a traffic light would soon be installed at the Dunn-Pullen intersection, a dangerous intersection of the State College Campus. Also he announced that a donation of a 100 acre tract of land at Buggs Island had been given to the college for student and faculty use.

Freshman Senators

The freshman senators that had been installed at an earlier meeting of the Senate were appointed to positions on committees. Senators Hoey, Fryed, and

Four Hospitalized By Gas Accident

By Billy Evans

Two members of the Nuclear Reactor staff and two graduate students were still hospitalized Sunday night after accidentally inhaling fumes last Tuesday from a gas cylinder which they thought was empty.

C. M. Baldwin Jr. and H. B. Carter of the Nuclear Reactor Staff and graduate students O. B. Morgan of Raleigh and W. S. Thompson of Goldsboro were admitted to Rex Hospital Thursday after suffering from congestion in the bronchial tubes. Primary purpose of their hospitalization, according to Dr. A. C. Menius Jr., head of the Physics Department, is to avoid complications setting in.

Graduate Students Plan Informal Dance

An informal dance will be held for graduate students Saturday night from nine until midnight at the Tar Heel Club on U.S. 64.

Music for the dance, which is sponsored by the Graduate Student Association, will be furnished by the Woody Hayes Dance Trio.

Tickets may be obtained from Graduate School representatives for one dollar.

Soft drinks and refreshments will be furnished.

For those who aren't familiar with the location of the Tar Heel Club, turn left off U. S. 64 on the first paved road after crossing the Neuse River. After reaching the sign saying "Tar Heel Club," proceed for three miles on the dirt road indicated.

"Got something in your eye?"
"No, I'm just trying to look through my thumb."

Nothing robs a man of his good looks like a hurriedly drawn shade.

Contained Nickel Carbonyl

The staff members and graduate students opened what they thought to be an empty gas cylinder. The cylinder contained nickel carbonyl which breaks up into free nickel, which brought about the bronchial congestion, and carbon monoxide when exposed to air.

Dr. Joseph J. Combs treated the four at the Infirmary and told them to rest Wednesday.

After they later began suffering from the congestion in their bronchial tubes, all four were admitted to Rex.

They are under the care of Dr. Combs and Dr. Benjamin Anderson.

Dr. Menius has emphasized that no radioactive materials nor the reactor itself was involved in the accident. The cylinder was to be used in an experiment of Morgan. It was originally purchased by another department in 1950 or '51 and stored in the Reactor Building.

Eck were appointed to the Rules Committee.

Senator Hoey was transferred from his position on the Investigations Committee to the Rules Committee for work on constitutional revisions. Senator Leveque requested that he be placed on the Investigations Committee and President Hunt approved his request.

A move was made by SG Treasurer Brooks that $400 be appropriated to the band for buses for a tour, which the Senate approved. A bill for appropriating $84 to the Vetville Council passed after much discussion and argumentation.

Committee Reports

Speaking for the Welfare Committee, Senator Carlton requested that Senators suggest changes that might be made in the registration procedure. Senator Boys of the Promotions Committee reported that the faculty evaluation project would begin next Monday as previously scheduled.

Senator Know requested that suggestions be made for changes in the constitution and constitutional revisions. Senator Ray stated that a date for the spring elections would be chosen at the next meeting of the Senate, which is scheduled for January 23.

Eleven Members Added to Staff

The Technician has recently added several new members to the staff of the student newspaper.

Billy Evans, Managing Editor of The Technician, has announced the following additions to the staff which have been made in the last few weeks.

Robert S. Farrell, a sophomore in Mechanical Engineering from Graham, N. C., has been appointed to the position of Technician News Editor.

Jack Williams, from Halifax, Va., has assumed the title, responsibilities, and duties of Photography Editor. Assisting him are, Skipp Kugler, from Charlotte, N. C.; Charlie Shufford, from Hickory, N. C.; Nick Kjosnes, from Winston-Salem; and Maurice Autry from Clinton, N. C.

New members of the News or Feature Staff include: Alton Lee, of Raleigh; Philip Bunting, from Greensboro; Pierre Leveque, Jr., Oxford; Chuck Wood, Greensboro; and Tommie Lewis, from Raleigh.

Lack Of Money ?

As I walked through the mud toward the old building, I noticed there was no lock on the time-worn door. Coming to a stop directly in front of the building, I saw that there was no doorknob either.

Standing there, wondering how to gain entrance, I gazed at the building before me. All the windows were boarded up; most of the window panes were broken; and the wooden awning above the door was about to fall.

I picked up a nail, turned the latch, and walked in. Before me lay a wide assortment of tools, machinery, old cotton, pipes, empty boxes, and literally hundreds of other odd pieces of old and new equipment and an assortment of junk.

Walking through the building and out the other side, I saw machines which someone had probably forgotten long ago. One was in a large wooden crate. Though the machine was probably new, one would never have thought so by looking at it as it lay there in the weather-worn wooden crate that held it.

Yes, as I walked around the old buildings up on Western Boulevard, I knew they had seen better days.

Having satisfied myself that the saw mill (in which students were working) that lies behind the old buildings, is the only thing up there that has any excuse for existing, I left, with no more unexposed film, this embarrassingly ugly part of our campus.

How Much Longer?

Why are these buildings still there? Is it really lack of money? Or is it lack of energy?

The Ag Engineering School was to move their equipment from these buildings when they got their new building. The building they got, the machines moved not. They were next to move their things when they finished a new tool shed. The tool shed was completed months ago. The machinery in the old buildings is still there. Now, it is said, they are waiting until they build a new wing on their building. How much longer after a new wing is built?

It seems as though the equipment is not wanted. Surely it is not being used. If the machinery is not wanted, why, then, is it kept?

Either the machinery and other things should be kept and used, or they should be sold to someone who would use them. If this were done, and, thus, the usable equipment removed, the remaining junk and the old buildings could be taken down by M & O, who has been wanting to tear the buildings down for some time.

Organization Reporters

Once again The Technician appeals to all organizations on campus to appoint an organizational reporter.

It is impossible for The Technician to cover the events of every organization, which we would like to do, with our limited staff. It is easy to see why we say this is impossible when you consider that there are nearly 125 organizations now on our campus.

It is certainly to the advantage of the organization more than to anyone else to have its meetings, announcements, and projects publicized. One man from each organization could keep the entire campus informed about the many events which happen in, to, and about the many campus organizations.

Maryland Financing Greeks

College Park, Md. (I. P.)

Under the new fraternity housing program, originally proposed by President Wilson H. Elkins of the University of Maryland, the University agrees to aid in financing individual houses that do not exceed $110,000, of which approximately 40 per cent must be provided by the interested organization.

The funds provided by the University would be obtained from the endowment funds of the University, and have to be repaid over a period of not more than 40 years. According to the policy statement of this program, the rate of interest would be no less than 4.5 per cent, and a provision would have to be made that this rate of interest is subject to renegotiation at the end of each five year period.

The houses constructed under the program would be considered the property of the University, and the fraternities or sororities would live in the houses so long as:

1. The investment is being amortized on schedule;
2. The house is being maintained in a condition satisfactory to the University; and
3. The organization is considered an asset to the University.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IFC President On P E P

The dust of the battle of rush week has settled, and the Interfraternity Council has moved on to its full schedule of social events, athletic programs, and campus and city service projects. However, we of the IFC feel that a final comment is in order concerning our finding Phi violation of rushing rules and the subsequent penalizing of the fraternity. The fixing of this penalty was prolonged for a period of a month, during which time Phi Epsilon Pi received much unfavorable publicity, including a Technician cartoon which questioned the good character of the fraternity. The IFC does not question the good character of Phi Epsilon Pi and regrets the poor publicity given them. We hope to avoid in the future any such extended trial procedure.

Michigan State's Married Housing Put Up Or Shut Up

By Mottie V. Griffith, Jr.
Raleigh Times Writer

Married students at N. C. State College, who were denied a 500-unit apartment development by the Board of Higher Education, should consider themselves really out of luck as compared with married students at Michigan State University.

Michigan State is now the possessor of 1,140 permanent brick units and 1,100 barracks-type units . . . and the building program is still going forward.

With 24 per cent of the East Lansing institution student body married, less than half of their number can be accommodated with on-campus housing.

By 1960 Michigan State expects to have 2,460 permanent apartments for married housing, with total construction amounting to about $23,500,000.

Self-Liquidating

The projects are self-liquidating, financed with borrowed funds to be paid back from earnings.

At N. C. State, University officials secured a $3 million federal loan to build the 500-unit development which was scheduled to replace Vetville.

The plan was never developed as the Board of Higher Education cut the proposed building program to $1.8 million and 300 units.

But at Michigan State University, President John Hannah believes the married student is here to stay:

"Michigan State University will maintain and is expanding its housing for married students because we believe the married student is not a liability, as was once believed, but an asset who lends quality, stability and admirable strength of purpose to the student body as a whole."

One of the arguments used by the North Carolina Board of Higher Education was that with the end of the GI bill benefits . . . a married student as such, would cease to be in a few years.

A survey run by the East Lansing, Mich., school revealed that married students' grades averaged slightly better than all-university averages.

Apartments Furnished

The married student units at Michigan State, the brick-permanent-type, are furnished with steam heat, wall-to-wall carpeting, venetian blinds, dinette, living room and bedroom sets.

The barracks apartments rent for $30 per month for no-bedroom units, $34.50 for one-bedroom units, and $39 for two bedroom units. Utilities are furnished in each of the three types of apartments.

The more desirable brick units rent for $69 and $75 per month for one and two bedrooms, respectively.

With 2,240 units now available for students at Michigan State, it still is not an easy thing to get an apartment . . . the demand is so great.

To the Editor:

Does the editor have a few hundred thousand dollars with which to replace the "eyesores" on Western Boulevard? If not, let him keep his mouth shut on the subject of removing them, until he or the school does have the money. Students use these buildings every week, even the one which you say is an "old sawmill now used as warehouse."

Wolfpack Falls Before Duke

It was strictly a case of "Almost, but not quite," as the Pack dropped their second game of the season to the Duke Blue Devils Saturday afternoon, 76-75, in two overtimes.

The West Raleigh Boys fought back numerous times in the second half and in the overtime periods, sometimes from deficits of as much as seven points, only to find their hopes erased in the last five seconds by two free throws by Bob Vernon, senior Duke guard.

For the Wolfpack it was not a dreary afternoon in every respect. Whitey Bell, as valuable as any guard in the country pumped in 29 big points to lead both teams. Bell's points came on nine field goals and eleven free tosses.

Another bright spot for the Pack was their free throw accuracy. Bounding back from a mediocre 28.7% in last week's Virginia game, State popped in 21 of 28 charity shots for 75%.

Following Bell in scoring for the Wolfpack was Bob MacGillivray with 13 and Don Gallagher with 12. Getting ten tallies each for the Pack were Lou Pucillo and John Richter.

Leading the Blue Devils were Jim Newcombe and Bucky Allen with 18 each and Bobby Joe Harris with 17.

This Wednesday night, the Wolfpack will continue their road trip as they face the Tar Heels of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. In their only meeting thus far this season, Carolina got by the Pack, 39-30, in the championship game of the Dixie Classic.

The Tar Heels will probably go with the same starting lineup that lost to Maryland, 74-61, Saturday night. At the forward positions will be Pete Brennan and Lee Shaffer, while the starting center will be Dick Kepley. Guards for the Tar Heels will be Bob Cunningham and Tommy Kearns.

Ice Hockey Looms As Possible ACC Sport

Ice Hockey, which is growing rapidly in popularity on college campuses around the forty-eight, may at last invade the Tar Heel state on an inter-collegiate basis.

With the availability of an ice rink near Durham, both Duke and Carolina are now organizing hockey teams, and there is a very good possibility that the teams will be approved by the ACC. Permission has already been granted the two schools to use the facilities of the new rink.

There is a very good possibility of forming a team here at State College if enough interest is shown by the students. Those who feel they are interested are urged to contact either Allan Hammer or Mark Laurie at TE 4-0544.

Off-Campus Rooms Needed For Spring

Between 100 and 200 new students plan to enroll at State College for the spring semester opening February 5, college officials said today.

The increased enrollment will bring about a further strain on the college's crowded housing facilities.

In view of this, N. B. Watts, director of student housing, appealed to Raleigh property owners who may have apartments or rooms for rent to list these accommodations with the college.

Apartments Needed

Watts said those who have or will have vacant apartments on or about February 5 and who would rent them to married students may list their vacancies with H. H. Hutchinson, manager of Verville, TE 2-4306, between the hours of 8:30 and 4:30 Monday through Friday.

Property owners who have rooms for rent to single students may list their rooms with J. S. Fulghum, Dormitory Rental Office, TE 4-5211, Extension 349, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

YDC Plans Meeting To Climax Semester

The YDC will finish the semester activities Wednesday night with a meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Capital Room at the Downtown S&W Cafeteria.

Entertainment for the meeting will be supplied by Judy Smithwick of Rex Hospital and students from Meredith and State Colleges.

The meeting will be preceded by a supper beginning at 6:30 p.m. for which YDC members are asked to go through the cafeteria line.
