Blue Key Honor Fraternity Initiates Thirteen

Four Freshmen's Fame Grows

The Four Freshmen, who started their career while still in college, have gained such momentum in popular taste that they are being hailed in many quarters as the greatest vocal group in popular music today.

Under the sponsorship of the Interfraternity Council, they open at William Neal Reynolds' Coliseum on February 9; the concert will be from 2:30-4:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Tickets are now on sale at the College Union, Student Supply Store, and the Coliseum box office. The tickets are $1.25 per person; all seats are general admission.

The IFC will donate one-half of the proceeds to the School for the Blind, and the other half will go to the World University Service.

While playing in many different towns throughout the country, the four Indiana boys have established a great following. It was not, however, until their recent Capitol recording successes that the Four Freshmen hit the big time.

Their success on records has made them one of the most sought-after groups in the country. For three consecutive years they have been chosen by the readers of both Downbeat and Metronome magazines as the top vocal group in the nation.

The Four Freshmen were recently chosen to record the love song for the sound track of the Paramount picture "Lucy Gallant," starring Jane Wyman and Charlton Heston. Their tremendous success at the Hollywood Bowl this past summer has awakened the entire nation as to their power as a concert attraction.

Students Receiving Dormitory Refunds

All but 200 of the 1300 dormitory rental refunds had been picked up as of Friday.

The Dormitory Office pointed out that the refunds not picked up by the end of the semester will be mailed to the students.

The refunds are made available to students who have occupied three-man rooms from the beginning of the semester through December 1.

Any students who are due refunds may pick them up at the Dormitory Office.

State College Receives Large Grant From AEC

The School of Engineering at North Carolina State College has been granted $106,779 by the Atomic Energy Commission for the procurement of training equipment and facilities to be used in the nuclear instructional programs of three engineering departments — civil, chemical, and mechanical.

In reporting this, Dr. J. Harold Lampe, dean of engineering at State College, said that the grant "supports and furthers North Carolina State College's broad academic program in nuclear engineering and will enable us to purchase special equipment for training required by the new advances recently made and the new areas opening up in the nuclear field."

"The grant is also further recognition and a continuing appreciation on the national level that nuclear engineering is not restricted only to the field of physics," said Dean Lampe.

Dean Lampe explained that nuclear engineering is such a broad area of science that its application in research and education cuts across many of the established departments of engineering and embraces an extensive body of knowledge.

The Atomic Energy Commission last May for the first time supported the broadening of the college's educational program in nuclear engineering to include the fields of electrical engineering and metallurgy along with physics by granting the State College School of Engineering $122,800 for special nuclear equipment to be used in these fields.

Equipment Planned

To the mechanical engineering department, headed by Prof. Karl P. Hanson, the recent grant will make available a liquid metal heat transfer loop, a guarded hot plate, and other equipment needed in the study of heat transfer and nuclear power plants.

Dr. Ralph E. Fadum, head of the Civil Engineering Department, said that several small devices such as chart recorders, Geiger tubes and counters, rate meters, and gas flow counters will be purchased by his department. These will enable the department to employ nuclear techniques within the fields of soil testing and sanitary engineering, especially in the area of radioactive waste disposal.

The equipment to be purchased for the Chemical Engineering Department, according to Dr. E. M. Schoenborn, department head, will aid in the studies of thermal problems and separation processes in nuclear engineering. In addition, a nuclear chemical engineering laboratory will be fully equipped.

Theta Chi Names Dream Girl

A State College fraternity has selected its representative to compete in regional competition for the title of "Regional Dream Girl."

Delta Rho Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity named Mrs. Dolla Beman, wife of Lyle Lew Beman, a State College junior, as its "Dream Girl" at a dance held recently in the Woman's Club Ballroom. The couple is from Charlotte.

Mrs. Beman will compete in the Mason-Dixon Jubilee, which will be held March 15 in Richmond, Va., for the title of "Regional Dream Girl." Delta Rho's

"Dream Girl" has won the regional title for the past two years.

Other finalists were Miss Margaret Stroupe and Mrs. Chris Dunlap.

The winner and finalists were selected from girls attending the dance with members of Theta Chi.

Fraternity rushing for the second semester will be held Thursday and Friday, February 6 and 7. Hours for rushing will be from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

$5000 Fellowship

Design Students Enter Competition

A number of students in the School of Design at State College have completed their drawings in a national competition for a $5,000 Fellowship which a State College student won last year, Dean Henry L. Kamphoefner announced today.

Fifteen members of the fifth year class in architecture and several graduates of the School of Design are entering competition for the 1958 Paris Prize in Architecture.

The winner will be announced on January 25 by Kenneth K. Stowell, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the National Institute for Architectural Education.

Nineteen Schools

A group of 19 architectural schools throughout the United States are represented in the competition with other contestants being entered from 13 different states. Over 130 applications for the award were filed by November 1 of last year.

The competitors have been given five weeks in which to present their solution of an architectural design problem. Since the award is made solely on the merit of the competitor's work, the subject matter of the competition as well as the solutions are not disclosed until a panel of prominent architects has reviewed and selected the winner.

largest student prize in the United States, is used by the successful competitor for 12 months of travel and study in Europe and America. The winner chooses his own itinerary (See DESIGN STUDENTS, page 4)

Phi Kappa Phi Holds Initiation Tonight

Thirty-two Seniors will be initiated into Phi Kappa Phi in ceremonies to be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the College Union. Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society, is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa at Liberal Arts schools.

The initiation ceremony will include an address by Dr. James L. Godfrey, Dean of the Faculty and professor of English History at the University of North Carolina.

8:00 p.m. at the United Church dining room.

The discussions will be opened with an address by tonight's speaker, foreign news analyst for the Associated Press, Thomas P. Whitney. Mr. Whitney, an expert on post-war Russia, will speak on the subject, "The Challenge of Soviet Science and Education." Students are invited.

The speech given by Mr. Whitney tonight and the other talks and discussions to be given each Monday night beginning tonight and terminating on February 24 will be centered around the general theme for this year chosen by the Institute of Religion, "Our Enlarging Responsibilities in a Revolutionary World."

Dr. R. Norris Wilson, member of the President's Coordinating Committee on Hungarian Relief and Secretary of the advisory committee in Interchurch Aid of the US Conference of the World Council of Churches, will speak at the Institute's meeting on January 27.

Other speakers, to be heard on the next five successive Monday nights include: Gwen Terasaki, a well-known author and widow of a former high-ranking Japanese diplomat; Dr. Martin Luther King, pastor of the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church in Montgomery, Alabama and president of the Montgomery Improvement Association; Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution; and Victor G. Reuther, a brother and administrative assistant to the United Auto Workers' president, Walter Reuther.

Topics to be discussed by speakers at these conferences

Hell Week Or Help Week?

Displayed quiet prominently in an issue of The Raleigh Times last week was a picture showing fraternity pledges painting the house of a low-income family.

The busy students, however, were not pledges of a State College fraternity, for the picture was taken in Tennessee.

Help Week instead of Hell Week is not a new idea for some of the eighteen State College fraternities. Several chapters, IFC President George Howard reports, have a Help Week which, at present, is confined to improving and cleaning up the fraternity houses. Others, he states, definitely have a form of Hell Week for pledges.

The opportunities offered by a Help Week are numerous. Students would benefit if, for example, pledges would be required to conduct drives or raise money in other ways to establish scholarships or loan funds.

Another suggestion which could be seriously considered is the establishment of a fraternity walkway in some area which is presently unpaved. Each fraternity could be responsible for seeing that its pledges (under skilled supervision) hard surface a certain amount of space. The work of each fraternity could be identified by placing the fraternity's letters in it.

On a community level even more opportunities are available. Projects like the one undertaken by the Tennessee fraternity would do much to raise the opinions held by Raleigh residents of State's fraternity system.

Clothing drives, donations to the blood bank, and parties for underprivileged children (such as the ones given each Christmas) are just a few ideas which could be undertaken by fraternities as part of Help Week.

It was good to see a picture in The Raleigh Times of fraternity pledges during their Help Week. It would be even better to see a similar picture of State College fraternity pledges during their Help Week.

What Is Phi Kappa Phi?

The announcement that Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society is initiating new members tonight will bring to the minds of many students the question, "What is Phi Kappa Phi?"

With the many other societies that are on campus, it would be easy for one to think that Phi Kappa Phi is "just another honor society."

But it is not! Phi Kappa Phi is the "top" scholastic honorary society at State. Juniors and Seniors are eligible for membership. Juniors must have a 3.50 grade-point average, and Seniors must have a 3.25 average.

Phi Kappa Phi can probably best be explained by saying that it is to a technical school as Phi Beta Kappa is to a liberal arts school.

Though less familiar to many than Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi membership requires the same academic excellence as Phi Beta Kappa. As stated in the Phi Kappa Phi Constitution, There is no honor society whose standards are higher than those of Phi Kappa Phi.

Briefly then, there is no higher scholastic honor a college student can attain than Phi Kappa Phi.

Future Plans For Old Buildings Told

To the Editor:

The stupidity of The Technician's Editor astounds me. For months he has been "shooting his mouth off" about the "old buildings" on Western Boulevard when he knows absolutely nothing about their present or future status. If the Editor in name only had made an investigation he would have learned that the state legislature appropriated $250,000 for a new wood products laboratory last June. An architect has been working on plans for a new building to replace the old one ever since the appropriation was made.

If the Editor would come over to the forestry school, I'm sure someone there would enlighten him, if that is at all possible, on the future plans for the buildings on Western Boulevard.

Poem Expresses Views On Calculus

To the Editor:

As a member of one of the "big-lecture-small problem period" sophomore Calculus 1 classes, I am submitting this poem in which the views of perhaps many of the "average" students are expressed.

How Do We Learn?

It's not from what we learn in class,
For heaven knows it's little.
That's not the way we learn at last,
'Cause some days we just fiddle
Or sleep; but when we sit—
Alert, intent—and hear each word that's uttered
By the prof who works with cultured fit,
We always get befuddled.
He never stops to say—"Now mind,
Here's what we have, that's given,
And here's what we have to find;
That V. is only an X derivin. . ."
No, we are an experiment;
And we should feel proud, you see?
But this "don't" calm a grade lament
Or please our folks—"What, a D!!"

Freshmen Tickets On Sale

By Oscar Grant

There is no doubt in this writer's mind that the Four Freshmen concert to be held in the Coliseum on Sunday, February 9 will be one of the highlights of the social year for State students, both fraternity and otherwise. Tickets go on sale this Friday at the Coliseum Box Office, the "Mop-Up", and the College Union at the very low price of $1.25. The I.F.C. should be congratulated for bringing such fine entertainment to our campus at a price which is within reach of all State students.

Incidentally, the low price for which tickets are going is due to some very slick maneuvering on the part of the I.F.C. in securing a contract at an unusually low price. All profits go to the World University Service and the State School for the Blind. Curtain time is 2:30.

From the talk that is going around the campus, quite a race is taking place as State's 18 fraternity pledge classes compete for the coveted Sigma Pi Scholarship Trophy which goes to the fraternity with the highest pledge class average.

All of which leads me to wonder just how many of the men who pledged at the beginning of the year will be

Letter To Senior Class

This letter is primarily directed to those members of the Senior Class who plan to graduate in June.

At a class meeting last November 22 a motion was passed which stated "That we, as the Class of 1958, give a gift to N.C. State College; that voluntary donations of $1.00 be collected during spring registration for the gift; that a committee be set up two weeks after collection of the donations to recommend a gift to the class; that a class meeting will be held to hear committees' recommendations and decide on the gift." This was the only motion of three brought up during the meeting of the twenty-second that was passed.

There will be a table set up at registration on February 5 to handle the donations of the seniors. Those at the table will only ask who are seniors and if you would like to donate for a class gift. There will definitely be no pressure on those who feel that they had rather not donate toward the class gift. The other three officers will only try to explain the situation of the class's extremely low financial state to those who have not previously decided whether or not to donate.

I would like to see some of you donate more than one dollar. When I consider that we will have only that money donated by you to pay for our class gift, it leaves in my mind the big question of exactly how many members of the class of '58 have a genuine interest in State College and its welfare. The class gift, whether large or small, will be remembered by many of us as a token of our appreciation to a college that has tried to give us an education at the undergraduate level.

State College is our college because without the students it would not exist. It belongs to each of us an equal amount, but in actuality some feel that it means a great deal more to them than do others. How much does State mean to you?

Sincerely,
Jim Peden, Jr.
President of Senior Class

Sigma Phi Epsilon succeeded in taking first place honors in bowling by defeating Sigma Chi. The SPE's took second place last year falling to Pi Kappa Alpha. Charles Settlemyer was the SPE's top bowler averaging 100.1 for the season.

The semi-finals listed Sigma Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Tau Kappa Epsilon. Sigma Chi stopped the Delta Sigs while the SPE's beat the TKE's.

Featured on the All-Campus fraternity bowling league is Bob Kennel of the Del Sigs with a 104.5 average, Charles Settlemyer of the SPE's with 100.1, Frank Hayworth of the TKE's with 98.6 and Neil Birch of Sigma Chi with a 97.8 average.

Kennel, Top Bowler
Bob Kennel also was Top Bowler in 15 games for the fraternity league and Hayworth was high for Total Pins dropping 2064 in 21 games. Moore of the PKP's had High Game bowling a 145.

Syme defeated Turlington 1, 3-1, for the dormitory bowling championship. Syme also took 1st place last year defeating Owen 1 and Turlington 1 resigned to 3rd place. Clark led Syme's attack with 108.5 average and Poteat was high for Turl 1 with a 102.4 average.

All-Campus bowling laurels in the dormitory league saw Clark of Syme with a 108.5 average, Little of Becton No. 1 with a 103.4 average, Irvin of Bagwell No. 2 with a 103.1 average, Poteat of Turlington No. 1 with a 102.4 average, and Brady of Syme with a 100.1 average.

As for Top Bowler, Total Pins, and High Game, all credit goes to Paul Clark who took all of these honors.

Notes: Lou Pucillo Played With Cold Handicap

Lou Pucillo's sparking performance in a 58-57 overtime win over North Carolina last Wednesday night will have to go down as a highlight of the current basketball season.

Sick with a cold and sore throat, Pucillo begged Coach Everett Case to let him play. During the game he was coughing, dribbling and directing traffic at the same time, and he was master of the stall and strategy.

The 5-9 guard from Philadelphia, who is State's top scorer with a 14.4 average, hit for 10 points against the Tar Heels.

In the 12 years Everett Case has coached the Wolfpack, his teams have won 10 out of 12 games from the Tar Heels in Woolen Gym. His overall mark against UNC is 25-6.

Coach D. C. (Peahead) Walker of the Montreal Alouettes is interested in two State players and was in town recently for talks with halfback Dick Hunter and tackle Darrell Dess.

Walker may take a chance on Hunter, despite his size, because of his speed, broken field running and pass catching talents. The Los Angeles Rams also have expressed an interest in Dess and fullback Wally Prince.

'Pack Grid Schedule Previewed; Miss. Southern, Newcomer to Slate

Every team in the Atlantic Coast Conference will get a crack at North Carolina State's defending conference champions next year.

The Wolfpack's 1958 football schedule, released Sunday by athletic director Roy Clogston, lists ten games including one with each member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Meets Mississippi Southern
In addition to the league contests, State will take on Virginia Tech and William and Mary of the Southern Conference, and Mississippi Southern, a rising football power.

Virginia and Mississippi Southern are the only newcomers to the card, replacing Miami and Florida State. The Cavaliers will be met for the first time since 1948, with the series standing at 5-4-2 in favor of State. The game with Mississippi Southern, to be played at Hattiesburg, is the first between the two schools.

Four Home Games
Four of the ten games will be played at home, while six contests will be played away. Homecoming is Nov. 8 with Virginia Tech providing the opposition.

Returning Nov. 8 for a Homecoming tilt with the Gobblers, the Wolfpack is at home for the remainder of the season, playing host to Clemson Nov. 15 and South Carolina Nov. 22.

Seventeen lettermen will be on hand to form the nucleus of the 1958 squad.

The league-leading Terrapins of the University of Maryland will have trouble on their hands tonight when they entertain the Wolfpack of State College in a contest that could have much to do with the final outcome of the ACC race.

At present, the West Raleigh boys are in third place in the standings, but a win over Maryland tonight would put them in a first place tie with the Tarheels of Carolina, and drop the Terps into third spot, a half-game off the pace.

So far this season, Maryland and State have not met. As for mutual opponents, both teams have defeated Wake Forest, Carolina, and South Carolina, while losing to Clemson. The only other loss by the Terps was to Memphis State.

Maryland coach Bud Millikan will probably go with John Nacincik and Charlie McNeil at the forward positions. These two boys are in 16th and 17th places respectively in the ACC scoring race, averaging close to twelve points a game. At the center post will be 6-9 Al Bunge, who is eleventh in scoring with 13.5. Nick Davis and Tom Young will be the ones at guard.

Case will probably send out the same five who strated the Carolina game. Guards Lou Pucillo and Captain Whitey Bell, Center John Richter, and Forward Bob MacGillivray are all averaging over eleven points a game. Pucillo, with 14.4, leads the Pack and holds down the sixth spot in the Conference.

Classic Teams Get Record Payoff; Tournament Is Richest In States

Participating teams in the ninth annual Dixie Classic Basketball Tournament received a record payoff this week, according to Roy B. Clogston, N. C. State College Athletic Director.

Clogston released the following figures for the eight teams, which include travel and subsistence expenses for the three-day holiday event.

St Louis, $9,953.81; Northwestern, $9,453.81; Seton Hall, $8,859.27; Duquesne, $8,820.77; Wake Forest, $8,090.13; Duke, North Carolina, and North Carolina State, $8,013.81.

Tournament attendance this year was 69,200. North Carolina won the championship, beating North Carolina State 39-30 in the finals.

Clogston said it is believed that the eight-team Dixie Classic is the richest three-day holiday tournament in the United States.

There can be no doubt that there will be some border-line cases, but if each fraternity's scholarship chairman has been doing his job, there is no reason why the great majority of these men won't have a "C" average. This is especially true if pledges are encouraged to study for exams.

The informal rush which the "18" will have on February 6 and 7 will give non-fraternity men an excellent chance to visit fraternity houses. This year, as in the past, no invitations will be sent out, but all students interested in fraternities will be welcome at any fraternity house. Since these are the first two days of class after registration, a large turnout is expected.
