CU Fashion Show To Be Given Friday

The annual College Union Spring Fashion Show will be given this year on Friday, March 21, in the Union Ballroom at 8 p.m. This year's show has as its theme "Swinging into Spring, a la Chemise."

Sponsored by the College Union Hospitality Committee, the show and the coffee hour afterwards are open to the public.

Spring Styles

Featuring fashions by Jean's of Raleigh, the show will give a preview of the spring styles, with emphasis on the new chemise. Moderator will be Mrs. Virginia M. Nance.

Modeling for the show will be State College coed members of the Hospitality Committee, as well as girls from Meredith, Peace, the YMCA, campus secretaries, members of the State's Mates and the State College Woman's Club.

Added Attraction

As an added attraction, several models of the sack style of the '20s, owned by Mrs. Neill Bridggs, will be shown, pointing up the contrast between the sack lines then and now.

An additional air of the '20s will be present in the entertainment for the show, with Suzy Adams and Archie Copeland doing a Charleston number. Also on the program is the Dream Dance from the Raleigh Little Theater production of "Pajama Game," choreographed by James Leocarta and danced by Martii Preston and John Randolph.

YMCA Open House

The College YMCA will hold open house tomorrow afternoon for all students, faculty members, and staff members from 4-6 p.m.

The open house will be in the recently renovated North Parlor of the "Y" Building. Refreshments will be served.

All students, whether "Y" members or not, are invited to attend.

O. Max Gardner Award Dinner Sat.

The 10th annual Oliver Max Gardner Award Dinner will be held in the main ballroom of the College Union Building, Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting will be featured by the presentation of the 1958 Oliver Max Gardner Award to the member of the faculties of the Consolidated University of North Carolina who, in the judgment of the Board of Trustees, "has made the greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race" during the current academic year.

The recipient's name is always a closely-kept secret until the time of the presentation.

Under the terms of the will of the late Governor Gardner, the award is given each year to a member of the faculties of the Consolidated University.

The award carries a cash grant from the income of $25,-

Stu. Gov. Investigates College Union Business

By Roy Lathrop

Student Government Senator Royce Hagaman announced Tuesday night that the Investigations Committee has completed its study of the College Union.

Facets of the College Union under investigation are the budget and the methods of electing officers. The committee will give its report to the Student Government at their next regularly scheduled meeting on March 27.

Kappa Sig Plans Dance, Conclave This Saturday

By Waring Boys

The North Carolina State College chapter of Kappa Sigma Fraternity will be hosts on Saturday to the fraternity's District Conclave, which is being held in Raleigh this year.

Two hundred and fifty members of Kappa Sigma are expected to attend. These members and delegates will come from the seven colleges and universities in North and South Carolina which comprise the district. The institutions represented will be South Carolina, Wofford, Davidson, Wake Forest, North Carolina, Duke, and North Carolina State.

Business Session

A business session Saturday afternoon will launch the Conclave. Presiding will be Gene McCracken, of Raleigh, chairman of the conclave committee. Matters to be discussed will include scholarship, alumni relations, house management, social affairs, rushing, and finances.

Banquet and Dance

In the evening the Conclave Banquet and Ball will be held in the Sir Walter Hotel. Awards for scholarship and leadership will be presented to boys from various chapters during the banquet. Wesley Kergan, one of the national officers of the fraternity, will attend.

A cabin party is to be given by the host chapter after the banquet, and the Kappa Sigma house will be open for guests on Sunday.

that time to begin immediate investigation.

Senator Hagaman released the following statement:

"I have found the books of the College Union completely open for investigation; any student may examine these books, as I have, at any time. Each item of expenditure is clearly designated and easy for anyone to understand. Students may have some complaint as to the areas wherein the money is being spent; however, in my estimation, they could not question the methods of managing the books."

Hagaman said he would rather wait until after the report is given to Student Government to give the full text to The Technician. If space allows, the entire detailed budget of the C.U. will appear in this paper on Monday, March 31.

Fraternity Men Exchange Meals

Greeks Plan Field Day

Throughout the week, the eighteen social fraternities at State have been holding "Greek Week."

Last night and tonight door-to-door collections in the Raleigh area were carried out to collect food to be given to the local welfare office to distribute to needy families.

During the week fraternity men have been participating in exchange suppers. Each fraternity sends its members to the other fraternities for the evening meal.

Saturday afternoon fraternity men will take part in a field day which will consist of inter-fraternity competition in various sports events.

A banquet will be held in the College Cafeteria Friday night for all fraternity men, their dates, and guests. An award will be presented at the banquet to the fraternity that collects the most canned food. Other awards will be presented to the fraternity with the highest scholastic average for the last college year and to the fraternity whose pledge had the highest scholastic average.

Keys will be presented to the IFC officers and representatives and to the fraternity presidents.

Committee chairmen for "Greek Week" are: Montie Hicks, Sherrill Brinkley, Earl Thompson, Ben Kittrell, and Jerry Church.

Fraternity men enjoy a change of atmosphere during "Greek Week" as they visit other houses for meals.

In Coliseum

Military Ball Sat.

The annual Military Ball at North Carolina State College will be held Saturday from 8 until midnight in the Coliseum.

Playing for the dance will be the Tactical Air Command Band whose members are stationed at Langley Air Force Base, Virginia. The 16-piece band is under the direction of Gene Gartrell.

Songs will be provided by a vocalist, Miss Connie Craine, and three members of the band who combine with Miss Craine to form a quartet called the "Sonics."

The formal dance will be sponsored by the Military Ball Association.

Eight members of the band and the vocalist will present a concert in the Raleigh Little Theater Rose Garden from 3 until 5 p.m. Saturday afternoon. The concert, which will be jointly sponsored by the Military Ball Committee and the College Union, will be open to the public.

Parking Problem Being Studied

By Rob Farrell

According to data recently collected by the College Traffic Committee, there are approximately 5600 cars on campus and only 4070 parking spaces.

The Traffic Committee is presently conducting a study of the parking problem on the campus. The study has been divided into four parts—parking permits, parking spaces, penalties, and administration. Each of these four stages is being studied by a subcommittee.

The major parking problem is on the North Campus (classroom area). There are approximately 2800 staff parking permits and only 1736 parking spaces.

The student parking area on South campus has 2334 parking spaces and 2856 registered student cars. Also, there are 269 parking spaces set aside on North campus for student parking.

Some of the suggestions being considered by the Traffic Committee are: re-classification of parking permits, construction of new parking areas, and special zones for certain personnel.

L. L. Miller, Chairman of the Traffic Committee, pointed out that the committee is trying to match the number of cars to the number of parking spaces. Miller also stated that the Committee is open to suggestions.

'Lambda Chi Alpha To Hold Banquet

Gamma Upsilon Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity will hold its Founders' Day banquet this year on Saturday night.

The banquet, to be held at Balentine's Restaurant, is in honor of the founding of the fraternity at Boston University in 1909.

The guests of honor for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. James W. Klibbe and Mr. and Mrs. Gaither Calvin Lassiter, Sr.

Mr. Klibbe is faculty advisor to the chapter. Mr. Lassiter, who is speaker of the evening, is a charter member of the chapter, the eighteenth brother to be initiated.

Stu. Gov. Filing

Twice this year we have suggested that the Student Government set up a more logical filing system. No action, however, has been taken.

Our suggestion is that the many actions, investigations, recommendations, etc. of the Student Government be filed according to subjects. The present system of filing the minutes of each meeting chronologically is definitely inadequate.

Think for a minute how ridiculous it would be for a company to file all correspondence, orders, bills, etc., according to the day on which they were received! It would be rather time-consuming for an employee to look back through all the company files to find out, for example, what his company had done, over the years, on a particular project on which he was currently working.

It is somewhat like the secretary who files a letter on taxes under the subject of "Republicans," since she feels that they are the ones responsible for our having to pay them: Or, it is even more like our Student Government who files a recommendation on dormitory telephones under "March 13" . . . since the recommendation was made on that day.

The folly of such a filing system is obvious. It should be corrected at once.

Wolfpack Club Debt

Two weeks ago The Technician asked for immediate administrative action on the $26,000 debt of the Wolfpack Club.

Since that time, it has been learned that another $5,000, which was reportedly owed the Print Shop by the Athletic Department, is actually more of the debt of the Wolfpack Club—bringing the total debt to over $30,000.

On the other hand, and most important, the college administration has taken some definite action on the matter.

In addition to the Chancellor's comment that "our need for a definite agreement with the people who use the College Print Shop is long overdue," it was heard that President Friday was also very concerned with the matter.

Mr. Vann, State's Business Manager, was also concerned. And, last week, Mr. Vann took steps to clear up the whole mess.

A proposal has been drawn up by Mr. Vann and has been presented to the Alumni Association, The Wolfpack Club, and the Publications Board—the three owners of the Print Shop.

The proposal, in essence, reduces the equity in the Print Shop held by the Wolfpack Club and increases the percentage of the shop owned by the other two groups. In exchange for the reduction in equity, the entire debt of the Wolfpack Club will be wiped out.

Though the best solution to the problem would have been to make the Wolfpack Club "pay up," this could not have been done without seriously injuring the athletic program of the college. And, since our college is committed to so-called "big-time athletics" by its own choice, "paying up" was out of the question.

As one college administrator said, "It is the best solution to a bad situation."

The immediate action that has been taken on the problem by the administration is commendable.

Such action should not pass without due notice . . . nor without due praise.

"GRAB A PENCIL MISS GRAVES - I'VE JUST FOUND AN EXCELLENT ESSAY QUESTION!"

Campus Cosmo Same Screaming And Scares

By Chuck Lombard
We have a real problem here at State. Our problem is that it's the same sad old heart-rending rhythm.

The unhappy facts are we just can't seem to find anything new to gripe about. Forgive me for saying it I'm tired of hearing about our muddy old cowpaths.

When reading the papers of some of our neighboring schools in the state, I was immediately impressed with what interesting things those other students have had to gnash their teeth over.

The best basic problem a school can have seems to lie in being church supported. This condition paves the way for all sorts of meaty small complaints.

This is mainly because the administrators at these schools always feel compelled to live not less than one generation in the past. This condition is the result of an old rule of thumb laid down for administrators of religion sponsored institutions: "live modern—lose your job."

Let's examine the effect of a typically interesting problem brought on by the ever obliging political victorians in scholastic vestments. Shall we take a look at the famous no dancing decision for Wake Forest. (The dullards at Meredith deserve no credit in this.)

Those spirited Deacons recognized their rare opportunity and responded to the ban with "cathedral bounce". This was, at the time, the newest thing in bop — to be done only when storming out of chapels.

Unfortunately, most of the juice has now been sucked out of no dancing in Winston. However, I have confidence that those loyal Baptist administrators will provide their flock with more exciting prospects for righteous student rath. While we State men continue dull under intelligent government and liberal rules.

But perhaps our despondence is ill considered. Maybe we wouldn't be better off griping over having only one chapel out, as they do at Davidson. After all we can keep on tearing our now bald scalps over profs who insist upon keeping role in junior and senior courses.

So what if I'm tuned to that old frequency of, "Why don't you teachers plan the lecture so we can get out of class when the bell rings?"

From The Daily Tar Heel

State's Greek Week Supports Carolina Editorial

The Daily Tar Heel, Chapel Hill's student newspaper, believes there are two sides to every question, including the fraternity question. In an editorial entitled "Despite Publicity, Greek Societies Have Two Sides," the Tar Heel gives the good side of fraternities, taking the state's press to task in the process. The editorial follows:

There are two sides to everything. But some of us are content to view only the one side, and to draw our criticism from there.

Take, for instance, fraternities at the University of North Carolina. They recently have been branded irresponsible; they need reform. All the papers have been telling us this.

But what about the other side to Greek life at UNC? What about the contributions they make to charity, what of their contributions to the community?

These, too, exist, but they have been overlooked, forgotten in the turmoil of bad publicity and editorial comment appearing throughout the state. These are the forests behind the trees. Tuesday afternoon more than 300 fraternity pledges spent more than 1,000 man hours of labor in "Greek Week" projects which have replaced hazing by constructive tasks in various areas of Chapel Hill.

Will we read about these projects in the editorial columns of our state press? Will these same newspapers call our student body president to inquire about the good being served by fraternities at the University?

Or will we continue the target of an attack which links hazy facts with misinformation and paint a picture of "pajama parties" and early-morning orgies scarcely typical of fraternity life at the University?

We have made mistakes. We have been wrong. But, currently, our Greek leaders are pooling their efforts and ideas to correct the shortcomings which have led to adverse publicity and public criticism of our fraternity activities.

But still the criticism continues. It continues because the

IDGAD

ROY LATHROP

There's a new book out that will be good reading for anyone, literature-hound or otherwise; its name is The Unsilent Generation.

This book is perhaps the most revealing recording of college men's thoughts that has been published to date . . . written by eleven college seniors, it gets the ideas of boys from a variety of backgrounds and representing many different attitudes and values.

Any of us reading this book (which is also being put out, one chapter at a time, by "Life" magazine) will find a great many surprising ideas expressed . . . there are many things you may disagree with violently, but others will strike a familiar note.

After these eleven college seniors were selected, they were asked to write on the following pertinent questions: "What do you want out of life? What do you want to contribute to life? Has your background affected you in this? What do you think of happiness, success, security, God, education, marriage, family, and your own generation? What, if any, moral problems have you encountered or do you expect to have to face? How do you relate yourself to America's future and the future of mankind in general?"

To answer this multitude of sensitive questions took a great deal of thought, and it is reflected in the answers. In the words of Otto Butz, editor of the book, comes these comments: "These eleven citizens of tomorrow are not always admirable; yet they are all fiercely articulate, aware, and eager to deal with their ideas of the world honestly."

They are anything but silent! Just to give you an idea of the tone of the book, let me quote a few lines. . . . the reason our generation has been accused of quietude is probably because our elders are afraid of our image, when they compare it to their own" . . . "in life the thing I value most is happiness, which to me is roughly material comfort, (and) I not only want this for myself, but also for the rest of the world" . . . "we are the generation of the third eye, the eye of self-consciousness, the eye of self-criticism" . . . "Maybe God just triggered everything, and then sat on his haunches to watch; I figure I can be indifferent to an indifferent God."

While the book as a whole seems quite valuable, there are two criticisms that can be made that should perhaps be kept in mind when reading. First, even though these eleven boys wrote anonymously, they knew in advance that their views would be published and therefore they were a bit self-conscious in striving to create a "sensation" among the readers. Secondly, even though the boys came from a very wide range of backgrounds, they are all seniors at Princeton and are probably slanted somewhat in their thinking by the very strong influence of this Ivy League school.

Everybody we know who has read the book enjoyed it thoroughly . . . that's why we wanted to pass the name on to you. If you don't feel like spending the money for a paperback in the book store, try to get hold of the last few issues of "Life" magazine and keep up with it from there . . . it's mighty fine reading.

College Students Like Participation More Than Simply Watching Athletics

Results of a recent survey by Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion show that college students in general prefer to take part in sports rather than just to watch. As might be expected, however, the men interviewed contributed most strongly to this overall high preference. The coeds who would rather participate just barely edged out their sisters who would prefer to be spectators.

To obtain these preferences, Associated Collegiate Press asked the following question:

Do you prefer to watch sports events, or would you rather take part in them?

	Men	Wom.	Tot.
Prefer to watch	13%	46%	24%
Prefer to participate	65%	42%	56%
No preference	18%	18%	18%
Undecided	4%	—%	2%

Finale To The Fine Arts

By Paul Essex

Now over two weeks old, the first Fine Arts Festival has become a memory . . . a memory of work, planning, expectation. Behind are the programs, the details, the midnight thoughts of things that might go astray . . . behind are the posters, the printed programs, the coffee hours.

Ahead lie the function re-

The Music Committee was responsible for three of the eight programs . . . the Gallery Committee worked for months preparing for the Good Design Show . . . and so it goes . . .

By the very scope of the program, someone was needed to coordinate the Festival activities . . . this task fell to Charlie Selden.

Over 3,000 attended the events . . . and Charlie had to make the nose count . . . and see that there were enough seats . . . and ashtrays . . . and coffee . . . and programs.

Chancellor Aycock Says Frats Training Ground

Citing social fraternities as excellent training ground for the leadership which the present needs, Chancellor William B. Aycock of the University of North Carolina said Saturday night, "The fraternity man must leave with his fraternity more than he takes from it. He must leave something for the future to build on." Addressing Phi Kappa Tau at its Founder's Day Banquet, Aycock, an alumnus of Chi Chapter, stressed the role the fraternity must play in providing opportunities for leadership. During the evening, Miss Dana Borden of Goldsboro was named Sweetheart of Phi Kappa pa Tau, and Hugh Milton Holt of Burlington received an award for being chosen the outstanding pledge of his pledge class. The banquet and Carnation Ball were held at Scandia Village in celebration of the fifty-second anniversary of the founding of Phi Kappa Tau.

South Squad Completed With Maryland's Davis

The South squad for the North-South All-Star basketball game was completed today with the announcement that Temple Tucker of Rice and Nick Davis of Maryland had accepted bids.

The game, which features 21 of the nation's top cage stars, will be played in the Coliseum here Friday night, March 28.

Everett Case of North Carolina State will coach the South squad and Joe Lapchick of St. Johns will coach the North squad.

Tucker is a 6-10 pivotman who was named on the All-Southwest Conference first team. He broke the career scoring record of 1,328 points at Rice. His single game high was 43 points against the Texas Aggies. Tucker is a senior from Bowie, Texas.

Davis, the great Terp backcourt performer, replaces Kentucky's Vern Hatton who had to cancel his appearance here because of the Wildcats' surge to the NCAA finals in Louisville. One of the top shooters in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Davis was a sparkplug in Maryland's drive to the ACC championship. Last Saturday night in Charlotte he was second high in the balloting for the NCAA District 3 All-Tournament team, placing behind Temple's All-America Guy Rodgers.

Other members of the South squad announced previously are Whitey Bell, N. C. State; Jim Newcome, Duke; Tommy Kearns, North Carolina; Wendell Carr, Wake Forest; John Nacinek, Maryland; Joe Hobbs, Florida; Dom Flora, Washington and Lee; Pete Gaudin, Loyola of New Orleans; and Dave Keleher, Morehead State.

The two teams will arrive in Raleigh Wednesday, March 26, and will work out twice a day until the game.

Tickets for the game are on sale at the Coliseum box office and are priced at $3, $2.50 and $2. All seats are reserved.

Coach Leonhardt Announces Beginning of Soccer Practice

Bill Leonhardt, head coach of the Varsity Soccer team, announced today that the off-season practice session would begin on Monday, March 31, and continue after the Spring Vacation for about five weeks.

Leonhardt stated that it would be compulsory for all candidates for next year's varsity eleven to be present for the off-season drills. He said that practice would take place every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons at 4:00 p.m. on the athletic field beside Alexander Dormitory.

All persons who are interested in trying out for a place on the team are urged to attend the meetings, regardless of their respective abilities or experience. Anyone desiring any further information should contact Coach Leonhardt at his office in the Thompson Gymnasium.

Winter Sports Finish Rounds; Softball Begins

As the last week of winter rolls around so does the last week of the Intramural Winter Sports Program come to pass. From all indications, this phase of the Intramural set-up has been a very successful one.

The basketball leagues have wound up their play for this year and all champions have been determined. All that remains in the handball and table tennis sports are the championship tilts which will take place within the next week.

The finals of swimming will be held tonight in the Thompson Gym, with the festivities getting underway at 7:00 p.m. with the diving phase. Immediately after this is completed, the swimming finals proper will take place.

In the March 24 issue of The Technician a complete coverage of all winter sports will be carried, provided they have been wrapped up by that time.

Also on Monday, March 24, Art Hoch, director of the Intramural Program here, will conduct a clinic for all aspiring softball umpires. The games will be played on Monday through Thursday of each week and all persons who are able and interested in officiating are urged to attend this meeting.

Next week will see the beginning of the Dormitory and Fraternity Double Elimination Tennis Tournament, and the start of Softball League play.

Wolfpack Baseballers Strong As All Departments Improved

Coach Vic Sorrell, beginning his 13th year at North Carolina State, believes this year's Wolfpack baseball team will follow in the footsteps of football and basketball and be a contender for Atlantic Coast Conference laurels.

"Our pitching is better, our defense is better, we have more depth, and our hitting should be as good or better than last year," the veteran baseball coach said in describing this year's team.

Nine Returning Lettermen
The 22-man squad will be built around the nine lettermen who return from the 1957 team including Bob Kennel, a great catcher who is an All-America candidate.

Kennel hit .315 last year and was named to the All-Conference team and the NCAA All-District team. He has been approached by numerous major league teams as a "bonus baby."

Outfield Returns
Last season's outfield returns in tact along with Russ Casteen, a first-stringer two years ago who sat out the '57 season. The outfield will have Don Hafer, the ACC's home run king in left field, All-Conference Dick Hunter in center, and Casteen in right. Jimmy Hill, a starter last year, will fill in as a reserve.

Hunter hit .300 last year and had 13 RBIs, while Hafer hit .299 and had 15 RBIs in addition to five home runs.

The infield shapes up with Danny Casteen playing first base when he isn't taking his turn on the mound, lettermen Derris Bradshaw at second and John (Scotty) Hurst at shortstop, and newcomer Glenn Sparrow, a sophomore, at third.

Bradshaw and Hurst Regulars
Bradshaw and Hurst, both seniors, have been regulars for the past two years. Reserve strength will come from Al Hardison and Jim Lancaster at first base, Jim Cox at short, and Bernie Latusiek and Jim Story at third.

Three Hurlers Back
Righthander Jim Walch, 4-4 last year, and Joe Jones, the mainstay of the 1956 squad, return along with lefthander George Stepanovich. Newcomers being counted upon are sophomores Owen Wright, a southpaw, Wilson Carruthers and Harold Gilbert.

Notes From The Pack

Will Bennett, reserve forward for the Wolfpack in the recently completed basketball season, withdrew from school last Monday for personal reasons. He will return to college for the fall semester of 1958-59.

next fall will be another good one. Said Alex Webster following the Varsity-Old Timers game, "Man, that line was tough. I got racked up good and hard every time I carried the ball."

The basketball team will be honored with a banquet at Finley's Cabin Thursday night, March 27 with William Friday, president of the Consolidated University, as the main speaker. Gifts will be given to the graduating seniors.

Several basketball players are taking part in AAU tournaments during the next few weeks.

Whitey Bell and Don Gallagher will play in a week-end tourney in Gallagher's hometown of Binghamton, N. Y., George Stepanovich will play in Chicago, and Bob Seitz is participating in the Roxboro, N. C., tournament.

Little Theater— Joe Keller (Jack Porter) listens as Mrs. Keller (Betty Dick) tells him that the only thing to do is to confess to the fraud in which he and his partner are a part. Scene is from "All My Sons" currently being presented at the Little Theater.

'All My Sons' Now At RLT

"'All My Sons' is the most powerful and professional performance to come from the stage of the Raleigh Little Theatre this season" says Raleigh Times writer A. C. Snow.

The well-known play, by Arthur Miller, concerns itself with man's responsibilities both to society and to himself; it is brought to Raleigh by the Raleigh Little Theatre which is increasingly improving its reputation as a fine performing group.

The drama is an intensely emotional investigation of a family's problem in meeting realism. The father of the family is guilty of turning out faulty engine heads for airplanes during the last war, and many of these planes crash in combat. The father's partner in business was convicted of allowing the heads to be sold to the government and is in a penitentiary . . . even though the father is just as guilty.

The family's son is missing in action, and all but the mother believe him dead; however, the mother insists upon believing the son is still alive, which causes much tension in the family. Another son, living at home, is an extreme idealist who believes that patriotism should be the only guiding factor in people's business activities in wartime; this idea is in direct conflict with the father's philosophy of "everybody has to get what he can".

It is easy to see that characters such as these can be well set in a story of intense emotional conflict. Norman Larsen does an outstanding job as Chris Keller, the living son, as do Betty Dick as his mother Kate and Jack Porter as the father. The whole cast performs with nothing less than professional poise.

State College contributes a fair share of the talented cast. Dr. Bumgardner, member of State's faculty, has an important part as the revengeful son of the business partner who has gone to prison for the crime of the family father; Jack Porter, also a faculty member, and Jo Lassman, wife of a State student, also add their talents to this outstanding production.

Quoting from A. C. Snow's Tuesday review of the play, "Only a cast such as the one which opens the Little Theatre production to the public tonight (Tuesday night) could satisfactorily handle Miller's sometimes terrible realism. The play is a daring adventure by artists and audience alike as it leads along the dark, unexplored avenues of emotional conflicts and sabrelike piercings of the human character.

Collegiate Council For UN Organized

At the College Union last Thursday night, a group of students met to form a new campus organization, the Collegiate Council for the United Nations (CCUN). This council is sponsored nationally by the American Association for the United Nations, an official organization of the UN. The main purpose of the all students interested in acquiring knowledge of international affairs should attend the meetings.

At the March 24 meeting of the CCUN, members of the YMCA UN Seminar, to be held March 27-30, will meet with CCUN members to discuss questions to be brought up before foreign delegations at the UN Seminar in New York.

Miss Ellen Culler, a representative to last summer's UN Conference, said last week that a large membership in this organization is desired and that

Professor To Judge Fiction

A North Carolina State College English professor will serve as judge for fiction entries in the Alamance County Arts Festival in May.

Dr. Jack Sumnerman has accepted an invitation from the Arts Association of Alamance County, sponsors of the Festival, to judge the fiction entries. The Arts Festival will be held on May 2, 3, and 4.

Dr. Sumnerman received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Florida and his Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina.

A native of New York City, he is the co-author with Henry Rosenberg of a remedial reading book, "Basic Composition," which was published by Prentice-Hall, Inc.

CU Carnival Queen To Reign Over Festivities On April 19

The annual Carnival Queen Contest sponsored by the C.U. will be held March 10—April 10 this year. The queen will reign over the C.U. Carnival Night festivities April 19.

The queen, who will be crowned at 9:30 Carnival Night, will be presented a loving cup in recognition of this honor. A cup will also go to the organization sponsoring her.

Only organizations sponsoring a booth for Carnival Night may enter a contestant for Queen. However, any organization may enter as many contestants as they desire.

Each contestant must submit an 8 x 10 photograph along with a full length snapshot. The contestants' photographs will be on display in the College Union from April 10-18.

Winthrop Girls Hear State's Glee Club

The girls at Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S. C., heard the State College Glee Club perform there last Friday night.

The Glee Club had dinner with the eleven hundred girls prior to the concert in the Winthrop College dining hall.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the concert included numbers ranging from classical selections to light comedy. Afterwards the girls entertained the club members.

(The next concert by the Glee Club is scheduled for April 11, in the College Union here.)

Three Win $100 Yarn Scholarships

Three State College students have been awarded scholarships from a fund provided by the Carolina Yarn Association of Charlotte.

Receiving the awards, which are worth $100 each are John Kenneth Culbreth of Woodruff, S. C., a sophomore; Willie Lee Hodge of Rutherfordton, a junior; and John Franklin Nixon of Cramerton, a freshman.

All three young men, college officials said, are making "excellent progress in textile curricula."

Hodge is enrolled in textile chemistry. The other two are enrolled in the textile technology program.

The three students were unanimously recommended for the scholastic awards by the School of Textile Scholarship Committee, headed by G. H. Dunlap, director of the Placement Bureau and student activities in the School of Textiles.

The awards were made by the college's Scholarship and Student Aid Committee.

Culbreth participates in intramural sports and is a member of the College Glee Club.

Hodge is employed by the Student Supply Stores of the college and is a member of the State College Chapter of the American Association of Chemists and Colorists.

Nixon is a member of the Kappa Alpha social fraternity and participates in intramural baseball.

Then there's the one about the lazy recruit who stenciled one pair of pants and put ditto marks on the rest of his clothing.

"Spend a day with me at work"

"I'm an Equipment Engineer for Illinois Bell Telephone Company in Chicago. Speaking personally, I find Bell Telephone engineering darned interesting and very rewarding. But judge for yourself."

"8:30 a.m. We start at my desk. I'm studying recommendations for installing additional dial telephone facilities at the central office in suburban Glenview. This is the beginning of an interesting new engineering assignment."

"10:20 a.m. I discuss a proposed layout for the additional central office equipment with Supervising Engineer Sam P. Abate. I'll want to inspect the installation area this afternoon, so I telephone the garage and order a car."

"11:00 a.m. At an interdepartmental conference I help plan procedures for another job that I've been assigned. Working closely with other departments of the company broadens your experience and know-how tremendously."

"2:00 p.m. After lunch I drive out to the Glenview office. Here, in the frame room, I'm checking floor space required by the proposed equipment. Believe me, the way our business is growing, every square foot counts."

"3:10 p.m. Then I drive over to the office at nearby Skokie where a recent engineering assignment of mine is in its final stages. Here I'm suggesting a modification to the Western Electric installation foreman on the job."

"3:30 p.m. Before starting back to Chicago, I examine a piece of Out Sender equipment being removed from the Skokie central office. This unit might fit in just fine at one of our other offices. I'll look into it tomorrow."

"Well, that was today. Tomorrow will be different. As you can see, I take a job from the beginning and follow it through. Often I have a lot of jobs in various stages at the same time. I think most engineers would agree, that keeps work interesting."

Keith Lynn is one of many young engineers who are finding rewarding careers in the Bell Telephone Companies. Find out about opportunities for you. Talk with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus. And read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL AND HOW IT GREW

Today let us investigate a phenomenon of American college life laughingly called the student council.

What actually goes on at student council meetings? To answer this burning question, let us reproduce here the minutes of a typical meeting of a typical student council.

Meeting scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Students Union. Called to order at 10:53 p.m. by Hunrath Sigafoos, presiding. Motion to adjourn made by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative. Motion ruled out of order by Hunrath Sigafoos, presiding. Hunrath Sigafoos called "old poop" by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative. Seconded by Delores Wheatgerm, sophomore representative. Tabled by Hunrath Sigafoos, presiding.

Minutes of last meeting read by Zelda Pope-Toledo, secretary. Motion to accept minutes made by Hunrath Sigafoos, presiding. Motion defeated.

Treasurer's report not read because Rex Mercredi, treasurer, not present at meeting. Rex Mercredi, treasurer, impeached and executed in absentia.

Motion made by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative, to allow sale of hard liquor in school cafeteria. Seconded by Delores Wheatgerm, sophomore representative. Motion tabled by Hunrath Sigafoos, old poop.

Motion made by Booth Fishery, fraternity representative, to permit parking in library. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Dun Rovin, athletics representative, to conduct French conversation classes in English. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Esme Plankton, sorority representative, to allow hypnosis during Rush Week. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Pierre Clemenceau, foreign exchange student, to conduct Spanish conversation classes in French. Motion referred to committee.

Observation made by Martha Involute, senior representative, that in her four years on student council every motion referred to committee was never heard of again. Miss Involute was tabled.

Motion made by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative, to allow sale of hard liquor in Sociology I and II. Seconded by Delores Wheatgerm, sophomore representative. Motion tabled by Hunrath Sigafoos, presiding, crossly.

Refreshments served—coffee, cake, Marlboro Cigarettes. The following resolution adopted by acclamation:

"WHEREAS Marlboro is milder, tastier, and more pleasing to smokers of all ages and conditions; and WHEREAS Marlboro is contained in the crushproof flip-top box which is the slickest, quickest, neatest container yet devised for cigarettes; and WHEREAS Marlboro, that most commendable of smokes in the most admirable of wrappings, is graced with the exclusive Selectrate filter; therefore BE IT RESOLVED that it is the sense of this meeting that Marlboro is far and away the best cigarette on this or any other campus."

Meeting adjourned with many a laugh and cheer at 11:74 p.m.

The makers of Marlboro, who bring you this column, here-with move that Marlboro is the finest cigarette ever. We know you'll second the motion.

SEA TO OCEAN ACROSS SOUTH AMERICA—AND BACK—IN 41 HOURS! CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world — the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make it harder, the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires — no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began — across the blazing Argentine pampas, into the ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 2½ miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet — but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of grades up to 30 percent. Then a plunge to the Pacific at Valparaiso, Chile, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes — and the engine was never turned off!

*Extra-cost option.

The sure-footed Chevrolet purrs past a road sign that says "danger"—and ahead lies the toughest part of the perilous Andean climb!
