Spring Fashion Show Held

One of the largest fashion shows in the eastern part of the State was held in the State College Union Ballroom last Friday at 8 p.m.

An added attraction was a sack style dress of the 20's, owned and modeled by Mrs. Neill Bridges.

The annual State College Union Spring Fashion Show had as its theme, "Swinging Into Spring, a la Chemise." The show and the coffee hour afterwards was sponsored by the C.U. Hospitality Committee and was open to the public without charge.

Featuring fashions by Jean's of Raleigh, the show gave a preview of spring styles, with emphasis on the new chemise. Moderator was Mrs. Virginia M. Nance of the college staff.

Models in the show included students from Meredith, Peace, and State Colleges, members of the Raleigh YMCA, the State's Mates Club, the State College Woman's Club, and secretaries at State. As an added attraction, several models of the sack style of the 20's were shown, pointing up the contrast between the sack lines then and now.

An additional air of the 20's was present in the entertainment, with Suzy Adams and Archie Copeland, both of Raleigh, doing a Charleston number. Also on the program was the Dream Dance from the Raleigh Little Theater production of "Pajama Game."

Nancy Mumford of Raleigh, a State College coed, was in charge of the Fashion Show.

Another of the many spring fashions that were shown. Here is a kitt-like wool outfit.

Dr. Hamilton Wins Gardner Award

Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, nationally-known head of the Department of Rural Sociology at State, was named 1958 winner of the Oliver Max Gardner Award Saturday night at the banquet held in the college Union.

The award, accompanied by a citation, was presented to Dr. Hamilton as the member of the faculties of the Consolidated University of North Carolina who, in the judgement of the Board of Trustees, "has made the greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race" during the current academic year.

A veteran teacher and author whose writings have influenced public policy on medical care and population problems, Dr. Hamilton long has been one of the nation's key figures in the realm of rural sociology.

He was president of the Rural Sociological Society in 1949-50 and is currently president of the Southern Sociological Society.

A prolific writer, Dr. Hamilton is author or co-author of 14 books and monographs, 67 scholarly articles for professional journals and other periodicals, and 10 special rural sociology reports.

The award citation declared that Dr. Hamilton "has been applying horse sense to the science of sociology for more than 30 years as teacher, scholar, interpreter of social problems, social statistician, and social philosopher.

"He has published in so many fields that some of his associates classify him as a sociologist, some as an economist, and still others as an authority on medical care. . ."

President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University presided and introduced previous recipients of the Gardner Award.

Presentation of the award was the highlight of the 10th annual Gardner Award dinner, held in the main ballroom of the State College Union Building. Approximately 525 including trustees, university officials, and representatives of the three faculties of the Consolidated University attended.

The award carries a cash grant from the income of $25,000 which was placed in trust by the late Governor Gardner, a 1903 graduate of State College who later earned a law degree from the University at Chapel Hill.

Prison Chaplain Will Give Talk

A chaplain for Sing Sing prison will speak in the College Union Ballroom Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Rabbi Irving Koslowe will describe life inside a prison as seen by a chaplain. He is Jewish chaplain at Sing Sing in New York and is also Rabbi at the Westchester Jewish Center.

In his talk, "Inside Sing Sing," he will discuss life in prisons today, and what is being done to fit ex-convicts back into their communities.

His talk, which will be open to the public, will be followed by a coffee hour.

Deadline Extended On Election Book

The Student Government has extended the deadline on signing the election books from Tuesday, March 25 until Friday, March 28, at 5:00 p.m.

At the present time there are not enough candidates running for office to fill all the available campus offices.

Elections Committee Chairman Nick Ray has sent notices to all campus organizations and fraternities asking them to encourage any of their members who are qualified to run for office.

Candidates can file for office in the Student Affairs Office on the second floor of Holladay Hall until Friday at 5:00 p.m. Both the signature of the candidate and the signature of one other student is required to nominate a candidate to any office.

Barter Theatre Coming

A Barter Theatre of Virginia sampler of great world theatre, "Nine by Six," in which six actors present nine scenes from great plays, is the next attraction of the Theater Committee in the College Union Ballroom Thursday at 8 p.m.

The diversified production presents the actors in the best of theater. The unusual parade will consist of scenes from Sophocles' Greek tragedy "Antigone," Moliere's "Tartuffe," "Venice Preserved" by Thomas Orway, "Death of a Salesman" by Arthur Miller, as well as improvisations of commedia dell'arte, a style of theater in Italy belonging to the Renaissance.

The overall production has been assembled and directed by Jerry Hardin, who studied for two years at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London on a Fulbright Scholarship after graduating from Southwestern University.

Field Day Ends Greek Week

By Chuck Lombard

The eighteen social fraternities at State wound up their Greek Week of fun and community service Saturday afternoon with a rousing Field Day.

This event, consisting of "athletic" contests, which ranged from car pushing for the boys to sack races for their girls, was won by Sigma Chi Fraternity. This was the first year for an event that now seems destined to become a very popular part of the traditional Greek Week.

A more serious part of Greek Week was devoted to the collecting of food for needy families of the city. The estimated seven thousand pounds of food which the fraternities collected will be turned over to the community Health Department for distribution. The award for the fraternity collecting the most food went to Sigma Nu Fraternity, which collected over 1500 pounds.

WVWP Features Special Lecture

On Wednesday night WVWP will present on "Exploring the Unknown," a rebroadcast of the talk on gravity given on this campus by Dr. Bryce DeWitt. Dr. DeWitt, of the University of North Carolina, is one of the nation's foremost authorities on gravity. His talk was delivered on March 13, and was sponsored by Sigma Psi, honorary fraternity.

On April 16, "Exploring the Unknown" will continue its series of science fiction plays when Theodore Sturgens' novelette, "Baby is Three" is presented.

The annual Interfraternity "Greek Week," which ended Saturday, featured a food drive, banquet, field day, and exchange suppers between fraternities. Above, left to right, show the banquet which was attended by about 750 men, the sack race, Gladiator ring, and the wheel-barrow race. Other events of the field day included an egg-throwing contest, a three-legged race, and an automobile race—with the cars powered, not by gasoline, but by fraternity men who pushed the cars from Doak Field to Turlington Dorm. (Photos by Kjosnes)

Elections Important?

The elections book has been open in the Student Affairs Office for one week.

Election time is nearing; candidates are making feverish plans; the race is on.

Or is it? Will the elections really be important this year? And do you care?

We laugh when we read in the papers that the great masses in Russia flock to the polls to choose their leaders by casting a ballot which lists only one candidate for each office.

But how many people would notice if the same thing happened right here? And how many would even care?

Though the elections book has been open for a week, there are many offices for which no candidate has filed. And for a number of other offices only one candidate has been nominated.

Some time ago there was a great deal of talk about the unfairness of our Judicial Board and the prejudices of some of its members. Now comes an opportunity for the people who were talking to do something about the situation.

But look at the elections book. There are still seven vacant places on the Judicial Board. And, if the new Constitution is approved, there will be 23 places on the Judicial Board to be filled.

The situation makes the entire student body look extremely apathetic.

This is one matter about which no American should ever be apathetic. Too many thousands of our countrymen have died to insure that our way of life would continue . . . and free elections of representatives is one of the most important parts of our democracy.

If you do not feel capable of running for office yourself, surely you know a fellow student who would make a good candidate. Go to him and encourage him to run. Many times a man needs only a little push to make him run. That push could come from you. . . .

Exercise your rights; run for office, or back someone you feel is a good man. Offices filled by poor candidates, or offices left unfilled, reflect directly on you . . . and show how much interest you have in your campus.

—DB

Good Going, Greeks!

The Technician wishes to congratulate the fraternity men on an excellent "Greek Week."

The members of FarmHouse and the pledges of Theta Chi deserve praise for their scholastic records. The men on the "Greek Week" committee, headed by Sherrill Brinkley, deserve equal praise. And so does each fraternity man who took part in the food drive.

The Field Day, which was new this year, turned out to be quite a success. The affair could have been improved, however, if more fraternities had taken part in it.

In the years to come, if all the fraternities would take part, and the three girl's schools encouraged to participate, and local merchants urged to give prizes to the winners, etc., the field day would be even more fun than it was on Saturday.

We hope next year it will be "bigger and better."

Towels, Anyone?

Committee on this serious matter immediately. Yes indeed. RL

Towels, towels, who's got the towels?

A new high in inefficiency and red tape has come to light . . . all The Technician wanted was some more paper towels with which to dry our hands and our picture mats. Sounds simple enough, eh?

Well, we asked the janitor to get us some, and he said he didn't know where to get them. Then, we called M&O . . . and they checked and told us that we would have to go through the Administration and get them requisitioned . . . requisitioned yet!

We suggest that Student Government set its investigations

Campus Apathy Devastating

(ACP) "Apathy" at the University of New Mexico is "devastating," says campus paper LOBO. And that apathy has crept into student government, thinks editor Danny Zeff.

Student president Jack Little takes an "admittedly idealistic viewpoint: the student body should be the motivating force in student government."

Little concedes "there isn't a jigger of motivation" in UNM's 6,000 students.

"Apathy is a poor excuse for inactivity," concludes LOBO. "It's a poor excuse for anything, except stupidity."

Wheaton, Ill., college RECORD comments on the same attitude: "Apathy is not only a characteristic of this campus, but of most campuses. It has become a rather general characteristic of Americans as a whole . . ."

"Apathy probably stems from too easy a life and too little pain and trouble . . . not only is it difficult to arouse interest in policies, whether international or campus, but it is even hard to get any excitement over a championship basketball team turning in a fine performance

"At a time in life when the stimulation of interest and emotion should be the easiest, we equate apathy with sophistication and maturity . . ."

"Not only does apathy pre-

'Greek Week' Called Success

By Oscar Grant

When North Carolina State's Inter-fraternity Council meets this coming Wednesday, its members will be presented with a proposed slate of candidates for I.F.C. officers which has been drawn up by the executive council of that body. Among the names on this proposed slate will be junior members who have contributed a great deal to the council's work this year.

However, there is one unfortunate thing about this year's slate of officers which this writer hopes will not go unheeded by council members. What is being referred to here is the fact that only one man has indicated an interest in running for the presidency of the council. And, while this writer has no reason to believe this candidate is not capable of holding such an office, the fact that only one man out of all the council members wants this office is a bad indication.

During the meeting Wednesday, an opportunity will be given for nominations from the floor, and the prestige of this office will receive quite a blow unless an additional nomination comes during that time. . . .

Successful Greek Week

There could hardly be any doubt among fraternity men that Greek Week was a great success. Not only did the food drive, banquet, and inter-house visiting seem to meet with great success, but also the field day, and added event this year, was enjoyed by those attending.

The only change which could be made would be to create more events so that more "greeks" could participate. Since the length of the event was about right, the only way this could be done would be by closing the interval of time between events so that a greater number could be included in the same amount of time.

Concert Figures

As can be seen from last week's TECHNICIAN, the proceeds from the Four Freshmen concert resulted in $574 going to each of the two benefactors. What this represents is 1148 good reasons why next year's I.F.C. should arrange for a number of concerts of this type.

Year-Round Study Is Tried

The year-round term of study which replaced the old "Semester System" at Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons has been pronounced a success by Dean Willard C. Rappleye. The plan, which gives students five academic years in four calendar years, is an important segment of a continuing program designed by the College to keep pace with a changing philosophy of . . . education.

Dr. Rappleye explained that under the year-round study plan, third-year students register immediately upon completion of their second year. In effect, he added, the student remains in constant attendance from the beginning of his second year until graduation, except for one month's vacation each year. The program was initiated several years ago without public announcement.

The plan, Dr. Rappleye declared, has permitted the more intensive and complete study of many problems of medicine and longer student contacts with clinic patients and their problems. It has also given the student a real sense of responsibility similar to what he will later assume when he goes into hospital training or medical practice. It has also allowed him, under the system of electives, to set aside periods for research and investigation.

Professors Paid Up To $15,000? Yep!

One of the best faculty salary scales in the country has been approved by St. Joseph's College (Rensselaer, Ind.) and will become effective with the 1958-59 school year. The new salary scale, according to the Very Rev. Raphael H. Gross, president of St. Joseph's, "is, as far as we know, the best in any Catholic college in the U. S., graduate or undergraduate." The new scale also tops most of the Ivy League schools.

All four teaching ranks will receive an average scale increase of about $1,500 per year. Full professors will range from $9,000 to $15,000; associate professors from $7,000 to $9,500; assistant professors from $6,000 to $8,500; and instructors from $5,000 to $7,500.

The wide range in each of the ranks allows the college to pay more to the teacher with a Ph.D. degree than it pays to those in the same rank with only a Master's degree. The overlapping among ranks has been set up so the teacher with a Ph.D. in a lower classification falls within the same pay range as the teacher in the classification above him with a Master's degree.

The new salary boost is St. Joseph's second in two years and represents an increase of more than 100 per cent since the College received the Ford Foundation grant of $270,000.

North-South All-Star Game To Feature Tall Performers

If basketball is a big man's game, the first annual North-South game here March 28 has enough tall and talented performers to please everyone.

The North squad, which will be coached by Joe Lapchick of St. John's, is a towering array of all-star talent which averages almost 6-feet-5 in height with scoring power to boot.

Coach Everett Case's South team averages 6-feet-2½, which doesn't fall into the midget category by any means.

The North has three big men in Jack Paar, the 6-9 Kansas State husky, Tink Van Patton, a 6-8, 225-pounder from Temple, and Wayne Embry, a 6-8, 240-pounder from Miami of Ohio.

The shortest man on the Yankee team is guard Tom Garberina, a 6-1 sharp-shooter from LaSalle. Falling into the 6-3 group are Hal Greer of Marshall, Jack Quiggle of Michigan State and Rudy Finderson, a little All-America star from Brandeis.

Going up the height ladder at 6-4 are Don Ohl, an All-Big Ten guard from Illinois, George Kline, another All-Big Ten choice from Minnesota and Arlen Bockhorn of Dayton.

The South's biggest cager is 6-10 Temple Tucker, an All-Southwest Conference pivotman from Rice. The shortest player is Tommy Kearns, the 5-11 pepper-pot from North Carolina.

Between Tucker at 6-10 and Kearns at 5-11, are six-footer Whitey Bell of N. C. State, 6-1

Joe Hobbs of Florida, 6-2 Dom Flora Washington and Lee and Nick Davis of Maryland, 6-3 John Nacincik of Maryland, 6-5 Wendell Carr of Wake Forest and Pete Gaudin of Loyola of New Orleans, 6-6 Jim Newcome of Duke, and 6-7 Dave Keleher of Morehead State.

The North Squad will use Greer, Kline, Finderson and Bockhorn at forwards; Paar, Van Patton and Embry at center; and Quiggle, Ohl and Garberina at guards.

Lining up for the South will be Nacincik, Newcome, Carr and Gaudin in the front court; Tucker and Keleher at center; and Bell, Kearns, Davis, Hobbs and Flora at guards.

The teams arrive here Wednesday afternoon and will work out twice Wednesday and twice Thursday. A short blackboard drill will occupy the squads Friday morning.

Tickets for the game are $3, $2.50 and $2, and are on sale at the Coliseum Box Office.

Many Types of Players Here for Tilt

Temple Tucker, the 6-10 center from Rice, will be married when he returns to Houston following the North-South game here. He is the son of a Presbyterian minister and is active in religious work on the Rice campus.

Three of the North-South players will hurry to Raleigh after taking part in post-season tournaments. Jack Parr of Kansas State and Tink Van Patton of Temple participated in the NCAA finals in Louisville, and Arlen Bockhorn, of Dayton in the NIT in New York.

Dom Flora of Washington and Lee was recently named Player of the Year in the Southern Conference, and Joe Hobbs of Florida was the second high scorer in the Southeastern Conference. Both will play for the South squad. Hobbs had a 23.9 scoring average and Flora hit 1 for the Generals, tops in the Southern Conference.

North players George Kline of Minnesota and Don Ohl of Illinois were selected on the All-Big Ten first team this year. Kline will be remembered by local fans for his appearance in the 1954 Dixie Classic.

Jack Parr of Kansas State, a native of Richmond, Va., went out for basketball in high school because the coach made him. "You're a big boy," the coach said, "and should be playing basketball." He is 6-9.

Hal Greer of Marshall College, a North squad member, averaged 23.6 points per game this year and was among the nation's top five field goal shooters with a 55% accuracy mark. He was his team's top rebounder, also, with 12 recoveries per game.

Wolfpack Opens Today With Dartmouth

North Carolina State opens its baseball season here today in the first of a three-game series with Dartmouth. The Wolfpack also plays host to the visiting Indians tomorrow and Wednesday.

Game time is at 3:30 on the varsity diamond behind Reynolds Coliseum.

Coach Vic Sorrell said the team was taking shape slowly after being hampered by inclement weather. "We have had only one full-squad practice in the past six days," he remarked, "and the lost time has slowed our preparations."

Sorrell said a tentative starting lineup for Monday's opener includes five seniors, a junior and two sophomores. All but the two rookies are lettermen.

The veteran coach said he plans to start Danny Casteen, a sophomore from Wilmington, at first base replacing the graduated Eddie Wyant. Casteen also is one of the Wolfpack's top pitchers and will take a regular turn on the mound.

Derris Bradshaw will hold down second base for the third straight year and John (Scotty) Hurst returns to shortstop for the second straight year. Both are seniors from Wilmington.

Glenn Sparrow, a sophomore from Chapel Hill, will get the starting nod at the hot corner. He will replace Jim Creekmore, who handled the job a year ago but since has dropped out of school.

Bob Kennel, the All-America nominee, will handle the catching chores. He's a senior from New Bern and is rated one of the best receivers in college baseball. Kennel hit .315 last season.

Monogram Club Initiates 31 In Spring Ceremonies

On March 5, the Monogram Club of N. C. State College held the initiation ceremonies for thirty-one new members who have lettered in the past year in at least one of the following sports: Football, Basketball, Soccer, Cross-Country, Wrestling, Swimming, and Track.

This year, as part of the pledge period and initiation, the pledges were required to do work on the renovation of the Monogram Room in the Field House. This constructive work which was done by the pledges so greatly enhanced the appearance and the facilities of the Monogram Room that the members of the Club have decided to make it a part of each initiation.

The Monogram Club appreciates greatly all the work that various individuals and groups did to make the recent Old Timers game the success that it was. It realizes that without the aid of these factions, the tilt could never have gone over so well.

The new members of the Monogram Club are Jim Sherron, Jim Crain, Ken Trowbridge, John Hutchins, Gunter Hafer, Peter Bazonos, Bob Harrison, Dick Goudie, Hal Hughes, Lex Marks, Kelly Minyard, Paul Balonick, Frank Marocco, Larry Dixon, and Ernest Driscoll.

Also initiated were Ron Podwika, Ronald Savage, Bailey Kahl, Frank Trotman, John Lawrence, Tony Maltest, John Troutman, Carl Ruff, Bob Adams, Charles Bittinger, David Broyhill, Yalcin Kermen, Gaylord French Jr., Roy Seese, Parks Fields, and Peter Nohl.

STUDENTS! MAKE $25

Do you like to shirk work? Here's some easy money—start Stickling! We'll pay $25 for every Sticker we print—and for hundreds more that never get used. Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send your Sticklers with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.
