1958 Parent's Weekend Is April 18-20

New Dorm Sign-Up Rules Announced

The sign-up procedure for rooms in the new dormitory will be on a priority system which was recently recommended to the Administration by Student Government.

It was also announced that room rental for rooms in the new dorm will be the same as charged for other dormitories. Housing officials also pointed out that the cost of repairs will be higher for the new dormitory and that any damage or abuse will be repaired at the occupant's expense.

According to dormitory policy, each occupant will be held strictly responsible for his room and furnishings. Each suite occupant will also be held responsible for his share of damage to the suite hall and bath.

Details of Sign-Up

Details of the sign-up procedure are given below:

1. Each student must present his application in person to the Dormitory Rental Office, 4 Holiday Hall.

2. Each student must present along with his application BOTH his Identification Card and his Registration Card.

3. The class status placed upon the registration card at the beginning of the 1957-58 school year by the Admission Office will be the class status accepted by the Dormitory Rental Office. Students who may have completed sufficient hours during the Fall Semester for a higher classification will still be classified according to the status indicated on his card. Any incorrect information submitted will cause an application to be cancelled.

4. The following sign-up periods are announced:

Class status as shown on Registration Card: Grad.-Sr.-Jr., 8 a.m.-5 p.m., April 14-15; SO. 8 a.m.-5 p.m., April 16-17; FR. 8 a.m.-5 p.m., April 18-21; All Others 8 a.m.-5 p.m., April 22.

5. If the new dormitory should not be available in September, 1958, all students assigned to it will be assigned as the third occupants in other dormitory rooms temporarily. These temporary assignments will be determined by the Dormitory Rental Office.

6. Any student who is assigned a space in the new dormitory (as in all other dormitories), who does not make payment to the Dormitory Rental Office on or before July 1, 1958, will cause

New Policy Approved For Fall Orientation

Dick Ribakove, Co-Chairman of the College Orientation Committee and Chairman of the Student Government Commission on Orientation announced today that the Chancellor had approved a sweeping new policy regarding New Student Orientation Week. In his letter to The Technician, Ribakove said:

"For the past three months, the newly formed Student Government Commission on Orientation (SGCOO) has worked toward the development of a more adequate New Student Orientation Program. On February 28, their final report and proposals were presented to the College Orientation Committee of which the SGCOO is a part."

"After some amendments and modifications, the proposals were approved as Orientation Committee policy and forwarded to the Chancellor for his approval. While some of the Committee policies are still being studied, a major change in the Orientation Week was approved. It was 'That an Orientation Week be held to include the implementation of a "small-group plan".'"

The heart of this plan was the idea that the new students should be broken down into groups of 20-25 with upper-class group-leaders. It was felt that this basic idea will promote a friendly atmosphere for the new students and that it will present a far better method to communicate with the new students on a multitude of subjects.

Appointment to the position of group-leader is open to any rising sophomore, junior, or senior who has at least a 2.0 grade point average.

In order to be considered for appointment, interested students must submit application form SGCOO/58-2 and, after returning the application, be interviewed by the Commission. Forms are now available at the College Union Main Desk, the College YMCA, or 207 Holladay Hall.

The SGCOO plans a group-leader training program this semester in which group-leaders will be provided with a newly developed group-leader's handbook and additional information on the program.

To conclude, Mr. Ribakove said that a number of awards and rewards were being planned for group-leaders. As yet they are still in the planning stage but it is expected that many of them will be implemented by this fall. The following awards are under consideration:

1. Dormitory accommodations for all group-leaders at no expense to them during the five days in which they participate in the Orientation Week Program.
2. Early Registration for group-leaders.
3. Some remuneration or an allowance for food at the College Cafeteria.
4. Notation in their permanent record of their contribution in the program.
5. Publicity in the local, campus, and hometown papers.
6. Selection of the best group-leader, with his name to be inscribed on a permanent plaque to be hung in a prominent place.
7. A certificate or key from Student Government.

Enrollment Drops

The enrollment summary for State College shows a drop from 6169, the high for the year, to 5440 students at the present. The enrollment for the individual schools is as follows:

Agriculture, 749; Design, 206; Education, 607; Engineering, 3123; Forestry, 294; Textiles, 374; for a total of 5363 students. Including auditors, graduates not classified, special students, unclassified general studies students, and WC and UNC graduates, the grand total is brought to 5440.

Breaking the total enrollment of 5440 down into classes, the freshman class has a total of '429 students; the sophomore class has 1216 students; juniors, '086; seniors, 1013. The graduate students total 476 while the professional students number only 29. The unclassified students totaled 104. There are 1454 veterans enrolled.

The men outnumber the women by 5319 to 121.

59 Top Juniors Named

Fifty-nine State College Juniors have recently been named to the highest scholastic honorary society on campus—Phi Kappa Phi.

All candidates for membership in the society have been notified and will be initiated on April 26.

Membership in Phi Kappa Phi is the highest reward that State College can give a student for scholastic achievement. Phi Kappa Phi in technical schools is the equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa in liberal arts schools; scholastic standards for both societies are the same.

At the initiation banquet to be held in the College Union at 6:30 p.m. on April 26, the speaker will be Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, who last Saturday was named the winner of the 1958 O. Max Gardner Award. The award is presented to that member of the faculties of the Consolidated University of North Carolina who, in the judgment of the Board of Trustees, "has made the greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race during the current academic year." # Parent's Week-end

In this issue of The Technician there appears a special feature on Parent's Week-end, which is scheduled for April 18-20.

Golden Chain, senior honor society, is going to mail this issue of the paper to the parents of every student at State. In addition, the dean of each school is going to write to the parents of the students enrolled in his school, and formal invitations to attend Parent's Week-end will be mailed to all parents.

This year there will be more events scheduled for Parent's Week-end than ever before—Engineer's Fair, Consolidated University Day, Carnival Night, the State-Duke baseball game, and a host of others.

A great deal of planning and working will be required to make the week-end a success, and the many participating campus organizations are gladly giving their time and effort.

But the success of the week-end depends entirely upon one factor: whether or not your parents attend. The best laid plans will be in vain if only a few of our parents attend.

In this matter, which is by far the most important part of the plans, you can do more than anyone else to help.

When you go home for spring holidays next week, talk to your parents and ask them to come up for Parent's Week-end. A surprisingly large majority of the parents have never seen our campus.

Tell them what is being planned and that, in addition to visiting the campus, they will be treated to a wonderful week-end of fun and entertainment.

Certainly this is the largest Parent's Week-end that has ever been held at State. But, we repeat, the success of the event depends to a very great extent on the individual student.

It is up to each one of you to talk to your parents and urge them to come. We are sure that your parents will find the week-end interesting, entertaining, and quite a lot of fun. —DB

On Teacher's Salaries

We Can Not Afford Not To Act

By David Barnhardt

"There is nothing wrong with American education that substantial raises in teachers' pay would not correct." So stated Cal Tech Professor Harrison Brown on February 23, 1958, on the television program, "The Great Challenge."

On the next day, February 24, the Visiting Committee of the Consolidated University of North Carolina reported to the Board of Trustees: "Over the last 50 years, salaries of professors in large universities have increased, in relation to purchasing power, less than two per cent, while the wages of coal miners, automobile workers, electric machinery workers, and telephone operators have increased more than 100 per cent. Fifty years ago an assistant professor earned 15 per cent more than railroad conductors and 77 per cent more than firemen. Today, an assistant professor is 20 per cent behind conductors and 10 per cent behind firemen."

The above comparison should show that, even with the small increase granted by the 1957 Legislature, teachers' salaries offer little encouragement to a man to enter the teaching profession.

Several weeks ago, The Technician ran a feature (prepared by McGraw-Hill Economics Department) comparing professors' salaries in the United States with those in Russia with respect to purchasing power.

It was pointed out that the equivalent purchasing power of the salary of a full professor in Russia is eight times that of the average worker in Russia, while in the United States, the average salary of the full professor is approximately one and one-half times that of the average worker's wage. And for the instructor in Russia, the salary is equivalent to two and one-half times that of the average worker's wage, though in the United States the average salary of an instructor (still in terms of purchasing power) is less than the average worker's wage.

Dr. R. J. Monroe, a member of the Faculty Senate at State, has stated that there is "an increasing tendency in North Carolina to identify efficient education as low-cost education."

And Dr. W. W. Austin, Jr., Faculty Senate Chairman, referring to the fact that many highly trained persons elect to teach at salaries substantially less than they could command in business and industry said, "The biggest scholarship program of all is underwritten by faculty members all over the United States."

Speaking of the rising pay schedules for faculty personnel in other colleges and universities in the nation and the resulting loss of North Carolina professors, the Visiting Committee told the Board of Trustees that the Consolidated University "has made some gains, but continues to suffer a long-run loss." "Our position," they continue, "in 1959 could be worse than it was for 1957."

When professors see railroad conductors drawing a better salary than they draw, when they see some of their students offered starting salaries higher than their present salary, and when they receive offers from industry to work for two, three, or four times as much as they are now receiving in the teaching profession, it is easy to see why we continue to suffer "a long-run loss" in the quality of instruction.

With the Russian threat slowly turning from a nuclear attack to an attack on the economic and capitalistic system which has made our country great, are we to let the Russians beat us at our own game? They are rapidly doing so by employing capitalistic principles in their teaching profession.

As most of us plan to live and work in North Carolina and thus have a vital interest in its growth and prosperity, are we going to sit back and watch colleges in other states slowly steal our best teaching brains? Higher salaries in other states are doing exactly that right now.

Will the proposed "Research Triangle" be able to offer the high quality of "brainpower" that will attract industry to our state, or will there be another "research triangle" in some other state by then that has, by offering higher salaries, attracted better brains than are available in North Carolina?

Are we, as individuals, content with knowing that other college students are receiving a higher quality of education than we are, just because we live in North Carolina?

These questions are important to you and to me—they must be answered . . . soon . . . and with action.

Governor Hodges recently said that North Carolina must be ready to spend "more than it can afford" for education.

It is becoming alarmingly apparent that the time to do this is now, and that, for the sake of the state and the individuals who make up the state, we simply cannot afford not to do so.

Campus Cosmo

Reading Comics Wasteful? No!

By Chuck Lombard
Who says reading "the comics" is a waste of time? It has now been proven that reading the funnies can lead to great social benefit. (For females, that is.)

I give you, for example, the case of hungry Hilda and her male crazed mates, on the campus of the University of Alaska.

It seems Hilda has been reading "L'il Abner". Guess what occurred to L'il Hilda?

That's right! Sadie Hawkins Day—with amendments.

Stark raving women get to chase "them" desperate Alaskan males, all over the tundra for three whole days. Figure the escape probability on that one. And for a clincher, the only safe place to hide is in classes.

Yes men, those poor fellows just don't have a chance. But we can't linger too long on their unhappy fate. They have been sacrificed on the altar of experience.

I only pray that we at State can learn from this tragic example.

On first glance, we men at State appear to be comparatively safe from fevered females. But men, this is a delusion!

We are veritably surrounded by a potential horror. Think of the blood bath that could ensue, if the girls at St. Mary's and Meredith were to break their chains and all come at us at once! Oh, nightmares were never so bad as this!

Our duty is clear. Any man that gets caught distributing dangerous secrets (in the form of funny papers, comic books, etc.) to the enemy must be severely dealt with. We can't be gentle with these violators, men; our precious isolation is at stake!

Izunt It Weerd?

Bowling Green University NEWS writer Ray Dangle suggests the United States adopt phonetic spelling. Says he:

"Woodent it bee grate if sumbudee wood dream up a noo langwidge, spokn and ritn as it sowndz? It shurlee wood make thingz eazier for sumbudy frum a forun nashun whoo tryz to lern Inglish. . . ."

Cartoonist Needed

The Technician is still looking for an editorial cartoonist who has done some cartoon work before and who is sensitive to the prevailing and ensuing campus problems, and can deal with these problems or trends graphically, constructively, and effectively.

IDGAD

ROY LATHROP

Year after year, at State as in almost every other college and university campus leaders knock their brains out trying to get people interested in campus politics.

Year after year, people have to be begged to sign up to run for office, so that the theoretical honor of holding an elected office becomes almost meaningless.

Year after year, you people who studiously ignore the potential ability to serve both yourself and your campus are missing out on one of the most fascinating facets of college life, just because you are too lazy and dull to put your name on a ballot.

How many of us ever know even three or four names out of the scores that appear on all the ballots . . . how many of us have any idea what kind of people are running our campus . . . and how many of us will go through four years of college at State griping at everything and anything our campus leaders do?

What a strange situation! Most of us have no idea just how extensive are the powers of State's Student Government . . . and yet every meeting "your elected representatives" decide things that have great and tangible effects on our lives while at State, and all the while we don't even know who is representing our school. For example: Student Government is now right in the middle of making sweeping changes in its constitution . . . the constitution will be rewritten almost all the way through. The entire Judicial Board set-up is being changed, a matter that affect every one of us directly or indirectly . . . are you interested in knowing what kind of people are making these changes . . . does it matter to you whether or not we have capable men deciding upon such important issues? Year after year, someone writes an article like this one, raving and ranting about campus disinterest. But you see, there's a reason for raving . . . because State can never hope to be a vital force in our college lives until most of us wake up to the fact that we the students are the ones who can make college more than a drudge of classes, eating, studying, and sleeping. Tomorrow, the books close for those who want to run for office . . . it is not too late for some of you to sign those books. And if you don't bother to run for office and you don't bother to learn who is running, then don't bother to gripe when "your elected representatives" make the rules whereby you are governed while at State College.

"Nine by Six" was created entirely by the Barter players and first presented before audiences attending the annual Virginia Highlands Festival last summer and later before delegates attending the South Eastern Theatre Conference at Abingdon.

Creativity Talk To Be Monday

"Creativity in An Age of Conformity" will be the theme of a public lecture in Riddick Building at North Carolina State College Monday (March 31) at 8 p.m.

John E. Arnold, professor of mechanical engineering at Stanford University, will present the lecture which will be sponsored by the School of Design.

The lecture, in addition to describing the personality of the creative individual will be devoted primarily to showing the influence of today's culture in its tendency to inhibit original thinking.

Seminars will be conducted by Arnold for students in the School of Design at State College Tuesday (April 1).

Arnold received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, specializing in psychology, from the University of Minnesota in 1934. In 1940, he received a master's degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He joined the MIT faculty in 1942 as an instructor and left the institution in 1957 as associate professor of mechanical engineering for his present position at Stanford.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE by Bill Bridgeman

Douglas Test Pilot

"My closest shave was during the first try at a speed record in the fantastic Douglas Skyrocket," says Test Pilot Bill Bridgeman, author of The Lonely Sky. "A special B-29 dropped me like a bomb at 30,000 feet... I turned on my rockets and climbed to 40,000... when suddenly all power failed. Rocket power, cabin pressure, heat—everything went—and the window frosted over so I couldn't see. Finally I got the radio going on an emergency battery... and a pilot in a chase plane talked me down to a blind landing!"

RICHARD MONTMEAT is a 1947 Industrial Design Graduate of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York. He joined General Electric's Television Receiver Department in 1948.

"A company that plans far ahead gives me the chance to work out my future"

"Pleasing design is no accident," says 32-year-old TV set designer Richard Montmeat. "It takes creative planning. At General Electric, we're constantly developing new product designs — including some for products which won't be on the market for several years. Ever since joining General Electric, I've had the opportunity and challenge of working toward the designs of the future. As I see it, a company which plans ahead gives me the chance to work out my own future, too."

The creative accomplishments of Richard Montmeat have already brought him widespread recognition. He was awarded design patents in 1950 and 1955; he won the Industrial Designers Institute Award in 1955; and his design for the 1958 General Electric 17-inch portable television receiver was selected for showing in an international design exposition in Milan, Italy.

Progress in pleasing design — making appliances more enjoyable to own and use — is an important factor in our nation's growing use of electricity and in our constantly rising level of living. Planning now to satisfy future customers is important not only to the continued growth of the electrical industry, but to individual progress as well. Opportunity for long-range planning is part of the climate for self-development which is provided for General Electric's more than 29,000 college-graduate employees.

Notes From The Pack

North Carolina State's baseball roster looks like the Wilmington City directory with four of the 21 players hailing from the Port City. They are Danny and Russ Casteen, Derri Bradshaw and John (Scotty) Hurst.

Sixteen of the 21 players are native North Carolinians.

In a recent basketball tournament in Roxboro, ex-cagers Whitley Bell and Ronnie Shavlik teamed up for a one-sided victory for their team. Bell hit 40 points while Shavlik had 22.

In the same tournament but playing for different teams, Bucky Waters, Bob Seitz and football All-America Dick Christy lost in three overtimes to the Duke All-Stars, paced by Bob Vernon.

Christy drew the assignment of guarding Vernon and reportedly turned in a fine job. Dick was a top-notch high school cage star.

Coach Everett Case and athletic director Roy Clogston were on hand for the NCAA finals in Louisville over the week-end. Clogston is interested in lining up two outstanding teams for a basketball double-header next year with State and North Carolina.

Quote from a track coach: "My squad is improving. When I took over this team there wasn't a man on the squad who could out-run my grandmother. Now, several of the boys can beat her." (Anonymous)

Dud Whitley, State's All-Conference shortstop of two years ago, is in spring training with Atlanta. He played for Jacksonville last year.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE WRINKLING

While everybody knows that the soft collar on Van Heusen Century Shirts won't wrinkle, ever, a Van Heusen survey among college students has revealed that precious few know why. Here are some of the responses:

J. L.—sophomore at the Psychodynamic Institute for Arts, Crafts, and Number Painting—"Obviously, the collar won't wrinkle, because it's afraid to wrinkle. It may have been threatened by some surly Van Heusen vice-president. Ergo, it exhibits the Cavandish anti-wrinkle syndrome."

G. F.—junior at Usury School of Advertising—"Collar-wise, there's no demand for wrinkles. No customer benefit. Now, this is strictly off the top of my cranium, but the statement, 'the soft collar that won't wrinkle, ever,' is too negative. Substitute 'never' for 'ever' and you not only have a positive statement—but—as demonstrated by that famous cigarette, this ungrammatical concept will be attention-getting."

L. V.—senior quarterback at Milltown College—"I wouldn't be without a Van Heusen. Look here... under my pleatless shoulder pads. See? Out of simple decency, the collar refrains from wrinkling. It's this kind of restraint that recently led to our glorious victory over Birdbrain U. Not a man was scathed. Huzzah for the collar—and fight furiously, fellows."

Yes, this is the kind of ignorance we run across. Actually, while other collars are made of 3 pieces of material, the secret of this soft collar with its wrinkle-shunning qualities is one-piece construction. Van Heusen Century shirts come in 5 collar styles. $4 and $5.

North-South Game To Be Played Here This Friday Night

Two talented all-star teams and two veteran coaches will oppose each other here Friday night in the first annual North-South basketball game.

Game time in the Coliseum is 8:15. Tickets for reserved seats are $3, $2.50 and $2, and may be purchased at the gate prior to game time.

The all-star teams represent 21 of the nation's top collegiate stars, who have finished their eligibility, and include several of basketball's leading scorers.

Coaching the North is Joe Lapchick of St. John's who has compiled a 214-70 record in 13 years of college coaching. He masterminded the New York Knickerbockers of the NBA for several years.

The South squad will be under the tutelage of North Carolina State's Everett Case who has a 12-year record of 300-77 with the Wolfpack.

Each of the coaches is blessed with a wealth of basketball material. The two teams boast "the three S's" of basketball with size, speed and scoring.

The North has a combined scoring average of 168 points per game and the 10-man squad averages 6-foot-5 in height. The South has a combined scoring punch of 165 points per game and averages 6-foot-2½ in size.

Three of the North players have averages in the twenties. They are Rudy Finderson of Brandeis at 27.1, Wayne Embry of Miami (Ohio) at 24.5, and Hal Greer of Marshall at 23.6.

Intramurals

Cold Snap Halts Activity; Winter Results Released

With the onslaught of a new regime of wintry weather, all intramural games which had been scheduled for this week and next have been called off until after the Spring Holidays, announced coach Art Hoch, director of the Intramural program, on Tuesday.

This turn of events will postpone the final outcome of the fraternity handball championship, to be played off between PEP and SAE; but except for this, all returns are in for the Winter Sports, and the leaders in each league have been tabulated.

In basketball, the Delta Sigs took the SPE's, 42-41, to cap the fraternity title while Tucker 1 swamped BerWat, 49-29, for the dormitory nod. The fraternity title game went into overtime before the Delta Sigs could eke out the win.

For the open league championship it was the Hot Rods over the Kremfins, 53-42, while the Saturday P.M. league winner was the same Kremfins, winning this time, 47-40, over the Cyclones.

Making the fraternity All-Campus team were Clippard and Gilbert, Delta Sig; SPE Smith; Kappa Sig Tripp; and SAE Lyth. For the dorms it was D. Casteen, Bradshaw, R. Casteen, and Hurst, all of Tucker 1; and Gill of BerWat. Open league selections were Pangle, Henson, and Payne, of the Hot Rods; and Morocco and McCann of the Kremfins.

In table tennis the Delta Sigs topped the SPEs for the fraternity title while the Becton 2 brigade won out over the Turlington 2 crew for the dorm championship. All-Campus selections were Albanna, Turl 2;

Glenn, Bect 1; and Gardner and Eliades, Bect, 2, in the doubles.

In the dormitory title fight for the handball championship, Turl 2 defeated Owen 1. All-Campus for the dorms were Albanna, Turl 2; Salisbury, also of Turl 2.

Pack Downs Dartmouth Behind Jones, Wright

In the bottom of the ninth with two men out and the score evened at 2-2, it was N. C. State's Dick Hunter who broke the tie to win this season's first, with Dartmouth. Hunter placed a .750 average, hitting a triple and two singles on four trips to the plate.

Joe Jones covered the mound for State. Jones held the Indians scoreless until the sixth inning in which he relinquished two runs. Coach Vic Sorrell replaced Jones with Owen Wright who scored on Hunter's winning single. These Wolfpack tossers gave up only 4 hits.

Hunter started the scoring with his triple in the sixth. He scored on Casteen's infield out. The tying run was set up by Hunter's second hit. He advanced to second base on Casteen's sacrifice, and moved to third on a hit by Don Hafer. He completed the bases when a wild throw was made by the Dartmouth catcher.

State, scheduled to meet Dartmouth on Tuesday and Wednesday, was rained out.

In addition, there will be a number of commercial exhibitions on display.

Other chairmen for the Engineers' Fair are William N. Foss, industrial engineering student of Cary, co-chairman; Ray Briggs, electrical engineering sophomore of Raleigh, program chairman; and Robert R. Liguori, nuclear engineering senior of Southington, Conn., publicity chairman.

E. J. Poindexter, civil engineering senior of Tarboro, is in charge of the formal opening ceremonies.

In previous years, the Engineers' Fair has attracted thousands of parents, high school students, and others to the State College campus.

Event To Include Carnival, IFC Sing, Fair, Ball Game, Dances

Golden Chain, State College's senior honorary society, will sponsor the 1958 Parent's Weekend at the college April 18-20.

Included in the tentative plans for the weekend are the annual Engineers' Fair, the College Union Carnival Night, Consolidated University Day, a tea by Blue Key Honor Fraternity, the State-Duke baseball game, a special service at State's Danforth Chapel, the Interfraternity Council Sing, dormitory and fraternity open houses, and two informal dances at the College Union.

Golden Chain President, Jim Peden, said that "The primary purpose of the week-end is to acquaint the parents with the life of the students at State." "Parents will have the opportunity," Peden continued, "to observe one of the nation's outstanding technical colleges."

The week-end will begin on Friday, April 18, at 2:00 p.m. when Governor Luther Hodges formally opens the Engineers' Fair. Registration for parents will be the following morning on the ground floor of the College Union.

During the registration by members of Golden Chain, the College Union will hold a coffee hour for parents and students.

Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., the State Wolfpack will take on the Duke Blue Devils on the baseball diamond behind the Coliseum. Immediately after the game, at 4:00 p.m., Blue Key Fraternity will hold an informal tea in the College Union.

Carnival Night will open Saturday at 1:00 p.m. and the booths will remain open all afternoon and night until 1:00 a.m. Booths from State, Woman's College, and Carolina will be entered in the event.

A Consolidated University Day Dance will be held Saturday night with a 14-piece orchestra from WC furnishing the music. Dress for the dance will be informal and it will be held in the College Union. The Carnival Night Queen will be crowned at 9:30 Saturday night at the dance.

During the afternoon on Saturday, dormitories and fraternity houses will be open for parents' visitations.

On Sunday, Rev. O. B. Wooldridge, Coordinator of Religious Affairs, will deliver the message in a special worship service for parents and students in State's new Danforth Chapel in the YMCA Building.

The week-end will conclude with the annual Interfraternity Sing, sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi social fraternity, which will be held in the College Union from 2:00-3:00 p.m.

In addition to this issue of The Technician, the parents are being sent letters of invitation by the deans of the six major schools, and formal invitations to Parent's Week-end.

Visitors to last years Engineers Fair examined the mechanical engineering display of a V-8 and a jet engine.

Wolfpack To Play Duke On Saturday

On April 19, during Parent's week the N. C. State College Wolfpack will entertain the forces of Duke University on the Varsity diamond here in an important Atlantic Coast Conference baseball tilt.

At present the State Pack has a record of 1-0, having defeated strong intersectional foe Dartmouth, 3-2, last Monday, March 24. Duke was rained out in its only scheduled outing so far this season.

It looks like a hard game for the Wolfpack when Duke does come. The Devils are the defending ACC champs, and although they lost several of their top men of last year by graduation, they will field a tough team.

The Wolfpack was not hit as hard by graduation as the Blue Devils were, but they did suffer some. Perhaps the greatest loss sustained by the Pack was that of first baseman Eddie Wyant, a .329 hitter and All-Conference choice last season. Also gone is hurler Roger Hagwood, 2-2 last year, and third baseman Jim Creekmore, who dropped out of school.

Special Service

Rev. O. B. Wooldridge, Coordinator of Religious Affairs, will speak to students and their parents Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, April 20, in Danforth Chapel at State College. The service is a special service for Parent's week-end.

Letter From Chancellor

To the parents of students:

The administrative officers of North Carolina State College take pleasure in joining with our students in extending a most cordial invitation to you to come to the campus for Parents' Week-end on April 18, 19, 20. Under the leadership of Golden Chain, our Senior leadership society, special events are being planned to help you know more of what goes on at State College.

Beginning with the opening of the annual Engineers' Fair by Governor Luther H. Hodges at 2 p.m. on Friday, April 18, a series of features has been devised to help you become acquainted with our facilities and instructional programs. We believe that you will derive much pleasure from seeing where your son or daughter sleeps, eats, studies, attends classes, works in laboratories, goes to church, and participates in recreational and other activities.

From personal experience I know that it can be a constant source of satisfaction to have a good understanding of the day by day activities of a son or daughter who is away from home getting an education. I am confident also that your presence on our campus during this week-end being planned for you will mean a great deal to your son or daughter—Come if you can.

Very cordially yours,
Carey H. Bostian
Chancellor

Booths, Dances, Fun

Carnival Night Planned

Scheduled to be the "largest Carnival Night ever," the annual Carnival Night this year will be held in conjunction with Parent's Day and Consolidated University Day on April 18-19.

In addition to the many carnival booths which will be entered by State College organizations, Woman's College and Carolina are also expected to enter at least 10 to 12 more booths.

Organizations Get 90%

Organizations entering the booths keep 90% of the profits made by the booth and the remaining 10% go to the College Union.

Booths can be anything that the sponsoring organization wants. In the past they have included penny tosses, guess-the-song events, knock-the-bottles down, ring throwing, fortune teller's booths, shooting booths, and a host of others.

Carnival Queen

Organizations entering booths are entitled to enter also a contestant for Carnival Queen, who will be crowned at 9:30 p.m. Saturday night, April 19. Photographs of candidates will be on display at the College Union April 10-18.

A kick-off dance Friday night will open the Carnival festivities and the booths will be "open for business" at 1:00 Saturday.

15 to 18 busloads of girls from Woman's College are expected to come down on Saturday for Carnival Night and the Consolidated University Day dance Saturday night.

At Last Year's Carnival Night . . .

Two young visitors to the Carnival Night last year seem to be quite amazed by the carnival fortune teller.

IFC 'Sing' On Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, April 20, Pi Kappa Phi fraternity will sponsor the 6th Annual Interfraternity Sing, which will be held at three o'clock in the College Union Building.

The Interfraternity Sing at N. C. State is an annual affair and was initiated in 1952.

The fraternity presenting the best program will be awarded an appropriately engraved plaque which will be kept by the winner until the next year's sing. If not won by any fraternity three consecutive times, the plaque will be retired to Pi Kappa Phi when completely filled with the names of winners.

Judges for the "Sing" are well-known leaders of music education in the Raleigh area.

Past double winners of the "Sing" have been Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi, with Sigma Phi Epsilon having won one victory.

Last year the PKP Interfraternity sing was recorded by and broadcast over the nationwide facilities of "Monitor."

The "Sing," which begins at 2:00 p.m., will be open to all students, parents, and faculty members.

It is not known at this time which fraternities will enter the contest.
