

On CU Terrace

Band Concert Is Tues.

The first in a series of outdoor concerts will be given by the Symphonic band at 7:00 p.m. tomorrow night on the terrace of the C.U.

The concert will feature a variety of popular and semi-classical tunes with a feature number by the Dixieland Band (see picture).

According to Mr. Robert A. Barnes, Director of Music at State, the concerts will represent a new and, it is hoped, popular addition to the social activities on this campus.

Among the numbers presented will be the music from "Porgy and Bess," "Blue Mist," by Leroy Anderson, and "The Student Prince."

Robert A. Barnes, director of music at State College, will conduct. The concerts will be open to the public without charge.

The other concerts of the series will also be at 7:00 on Thursday, May 8; Tuesday, May 13; and Thursday, May 15, on the College Union terrace. These concerts will also feature special soloist groups.

PR's Initiate 30 Cadets

Company L-4, State College Pershing Rifles, brought to a close their rush activities for the year last night. The initiation of the last of a group of thirty men was held. This initiation culminated a series of pledge training periods which have been taking place during the month of April.

The spring rush of the PR's set a precedent here on State College campus. Among the initiates were Air Force cadets. This is the first time Company L-4 has included Air Force. The society of Pershing Rifles is set up nationally to include all branches of ROTC.

YMCA Banquet Is Wednesday Night

New officers of the State YMCA will be formally installed Wednesday night at the annual YMCA membership banquet. The banquet for all YMCA members will be in the Cafeteria at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday.

The banquet speaker will be Mr. Al Payne, Secretary of the Southern Region of the YMCA. Installation ceremonies will be at 6:00 p.m. in Danforth Chapel and are open to the students. All members of the YMCA have been mailed cards which they should mail or take by the YMCA by tomorrow in order that the YMCA will know how many to count on for the banquet.

After Mr. Payne's address, certificates of merit will be awarded the retiring members of the Board of Directors, and YMCA keys will be presented the outstanding Cabinet members.

There is no charge to YMCA members for the banquet.

Summer School

During the week of May 5, 1958, students who are planning to attend the first term of summer school are asked to fill out a blank for registration permit and to complete a questionnaire. A table for this purpose is provided outside of the summer sessions office, 101 Pullen.

Dormitory Election Results Announced

Officers have been elected by dormitory residents at State College to serve as dormitory officers during the 1958-59 academic year.

The posts of president, vice president, and secretary were filled through a primary election on April 23 and a final election on April 30.

New officers by dormitories are:

Alexander — William Fred Reareck of DuBois, Pa., president; Charles H. Bryant of Yadkinville, vice president; and Jack Riley Poteet of Morganton, secretary.

Bagwell — William Ronald Keen of Rich Square, president; Anthony Sherrill Capps of Smithfield, vice president; and Edwin Ray Edwards of Newton Grove, secretary.

Becton — Phillip M. Deans of Wilson, president; James A. Lewis of Dunn, vice president; and Rodney McSwain Dixon of Statesville, secretary.

Berry — Joseph T. Jones of Wilson, president; T. Wayne Miller of Tabor City, vice president; and Gwyn Norman Crump of Hickory, secretary.

Fourth — Daniel Ferrel Mann of Manteo, president; Ben Gay Futrell of Rocky Mount, vice president; and Charles Allen Wethington of Grifton, secretary.

Gold — Jimmy Ray Jacumin of Rutherford College, president; Larry D. Eudy of Charlotte, vice president; and Ben Clark Boren of Siler City, secretary.

Owen — Carlton Walker Duke of Norlina, president; Hybert Williamson of Clarkton, vice president; and James Thomas Knight of Charlotte, secretary.

Stadium — Von McLoyd Baldwin of Durham, president; Charles Van Buren Peele of Goldsboro, vice president; and Otis Edwin Goad of Mount Airy, secretary.

Syme — Garland G. Warren of Mt. Airy, president; Fred Toney, Jr., of Mooresboro, vice president; and Charles O. Gentry of Ca-Vel, secretary.

Tucker — Leonard F. Dean of Oxford, president; Samuel W. Brummitt of Henderson, vice president; and Craig J. Smith of Albemarle, secretary.

Turlington — Julian M. Capps of Henderson, president; John Anthony Lawrence of Heidelberg, vice president; and Muri Everdell Seagel of Cherryville, secretary.

Watauga — Lynn W. Eury of New London, president; Paul Rice of Sunbury, vice president; and Charles Samuel Hicks of Newland, secretary.

Welch — Donald Hugh Williamson of Lucama, president; Larry Edward Pond of Davis, vice president; and Robert Edward May of Kinston, secretary.

Hundreds of State Alumni Participate In Annual "Alumni Weekend" Activities

Hundreds of State College alumni arrived in Raleigh Friday to participate in the annual "Alumni Weekend" activities Friday and Saturday.

Scheduled for the entertainment of the alumni were luncheons, reunions, baseball games, and informal gatherings. An interesting feature of the weekend was the golden and silver anniversary class reunions of the classes of 1908 and 1933.

The festivities began Friday with alumni registration in the C.U. from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Following the State-South Carolina baseball game at 3:30, the alumni attended the reception held in the C.U. until 5:30 p.m.

The ten classes holding reunions this year dined at 6:30 p.m. in various places on campus and in town.

The evening was climaxed with informal gatherings in the College Union at 9:00 p.m.

Among those attending the Alumni Weekend were Sam Young of Raleigh, a member of State's first graduating class—the class of '93.

Top feature of the two-day event was the annual Alumni luncheon Saturday at 12:30 in the C.U. The Alumni Association, in ceremonies at the luncheon, presented three principal awards: the Meritorious Service Award, to a leading alumnus; the Award of Merit, to a leading non-alumnus; and the Alumni Athletic Trophy, this year to Dick Hunter.

Also, Saturday was "Ag Day" at the college dairy farm, campus tours, and a hospitality hour in the Alumni Memorial Room of the newly-completed Alumni Building.

Leslie N. Boney, Jr., of Wilmington is currently President of the Alumni Association.

Golden Chain Plans Tapping Ceremonies

Golden Chain, senior honorary society at State, will hold its annual tapping ceremonies this Friday at 12 noon in Riddick Stadium.

At this time, the top twelve rising seniors on the campus will be tapped into the society by the present members of Golden Chain.

The ceremonies, which have been held behind the College Union for the past few years, have been changed to the Stadium this year so that the student body will have somewhere to sit and so that they will be able to see and hear better.

It is hoped that the College band will play for the ceremonies and that the Glee Club will also take part. Both the Army and Air Force ROTC will form in the Stadium on Friday at 12:00.

All Juniors are requested to sit in a large circle around the sundial, which will be in the middle of the field. The ceremonies will begin at 12:10.

IFC Spring Dance Set for Saturday

The annual "Spring Greek" dance will be held by the 18 social fraternities in the Reynolds Coliseum at North Carolina State College, Saturday, May 10, from 8 p.m. until midnight. Music for the dance will be provided by the late Tommy Dorsey's Band.

The dance is sponsored by the College's Interfraternity Council.

Sponsors for the dance and their escorts are:

Tom Henderson of Hickory, IFC vice president-elect; Jane Smith of Tabor City with David Weinstein of Lumberton, IFC treasurer; Camilla Croom Rodman of Washington, N. C., with Gary Schultz of Dayton, Ohio, IFC treasurer-elect.

Mary Louise Hill of Winston-Salem with Layton H. Gunter, Jr., of Graham, IFC social committee; Anna Thompson of Raleigh with Ralph Boswell of Fairfax, Va., IFC dance committee.

Betsy Haisten of Dillon, S. C., with Ray Cronin of Charlotte, IFC social committee; Joan Barber of Charlotte with Waring Boys of Tuxedo, Kappa Sigma representative; and Anne Beam of Raleigh with Aubrey Davis of Hertford, Phi Kappa Tau representative.

Recession To Be Topic of Talk

"Can Government Halt the Recession?" will be the subject of a public lecture by a leading economist in the auditorium of the Broughton Building at State College on Monday at 8 p.m.

The speaker will be Dr. V. Lewis Bassie, professor of economics and director of the Bureau of Economics and Business Research at the University of Illinois.

Sponsoring the lecture by Dr. Bassie, who will also speak at a seminar Tuesday, is the college's Department of Economics.

Prior to becoming associated with the University of Illinois in 1948, he held key positions with the Federal Reserve Board, the War Production Board, the Foreign Economic Administration, and the Department of Commerce, where he became Assistant to the Secretary.

Dr. Bassie has been on the advisory committee to the National Bureau of Economic Research for several years and is a major contributor to the Conferences on Income and Wealth. He is currently a frequent consultant to government agencies and to industry.

His work as a leading economic forecaster is frequently cited in metropolitan newspapers and in national news magazines, as well as in professional circles.

Theater to Present "Matchmaker"

The final Raleigh Little Theater play of the current academic year will be held this week.

The current production, "The Matchmaker," opens tomorrow night and runs through May 11. The price for students who are not members of the Little Theater is $1.50. The box office is open this week from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

The play is about a certain rich old merchant of Yonkers, who decides to take a wife. He employs a matchmaker—a woman. Immediately he becomes enmeshed in the antics of his apprentice clerks, assorted young ladies and the head waiter of an expensive restaurant. Baffled and fooled by hilarious hide-and-seek scenes perpetrated by his clerks, the merchant's bluster finally explodes in his face . . . and yours . . . to the sheer delight of everyone.

An Opportunity

Long ago, in the misty haze of Orientation Week, Freshman Year, we had some pretty high-flung notions about the idea that professors are people—more enlightened, more cultivated of course, but people just the same.

Four years later, little remains of this somewhat naive illusion. It's not that the illusion has been disproven; rather, since we're of the "doubting Thomas" school of thought, the illusion has suffered because it has never been proved.

For what, to the State College Student, is a professor? A lecturer, an attendance taker, a quiz-popper, an instructor in technique, at best a guide and counselor. Is there really nothing more to be gained from these highly educated men?

We contend that communication between minds is an integral part of education. We further contend that this communication is virtually impossible in the classroom situation most of the time. Thus, we advocate measures to improve the chances for such communication.

The "Apple Polishing Hour" sponsored by the College Union offers tremendous possibilities in this line. But past experience has shown this opportunity to have been little patronized by either students or faculty. We do not think it presumptuous to suggest dropping by the office of one of the professors and asking him over to the C.U. for coffee some Tuesday afternoon around 5. We'd even be willing to bet he'll accept.

'Coats And Ties' Reaction

To the Editor:

If it's my place, I would like to comment on "Coat and Tie Day." My first impression was "great idea" and I immediately began to prepare my wardrobe. Not too many hours later, when the Technician hit the dorms, I had cause to wonder if my first impression wasn't a bit off base.

In the dormitories, I saw boys parading through the halls, dressed in white T-shirts and a tie, loosely hung around their necks, exclaiming "I'm ready! Are you?" Also seen: one pair of Army fatigues with tie.

Is it really possible, I thought, to make students who aren't even capable of using campus waste cans, who can't resist passing by an unbroken light bulb, who collect odds-and-ends, at school expense, to satisfy a childish kleptomania, is it really possible to make these students even pretend as though they lived somewhere other than an athletic supply room?

No, Dave, these students have paid several thousands of dollars to be educated in the skills of engineering, agriculture, or perhaps architecture. They did not pay to be given the privilege of doing something, however small, for the school and get no material or sensual reward for it.

I heard the question asked: "What is this—Carolina, or sump'tin'?" Of course not. Carolina is not littered with overturned trash baskets and obscene political posters. Carolina, instead, is a school littered with students who are, at times, found reading something other than a slide-rule. Carolina is a school littered with students who have lived some place other than an athletic supply room. That question was absurd. How could anyone confuse N. C. State College with the University?

Beginning "C & T Day," to me, was a "great idea," but I am afraid that the announcement rather stunned a large part of the student body. I don't believe that a great part of the students are capable of an act such as the one you describe. Perhaps a dare or a bet would produce a more favorable outcome than the one I foresee. Perhaps I am a pessimist. But, personally, I'll be with you. It may do Charlie Craven some good to see his "trained apes" in their ties.

Honor System?

To the Editor:

Last year's Freshman Chemistry quizzes were patrolled by proctors who acted as if they were looking for security leaks. No one coughed for fear of being checked. Naturally many of us resented this type treatment very openly. Why sign a pledge when the instructors and department wouldn't honor it anyway? This attitude seemed perfectly justified at the time; didn't we leave the idea of copying and cheating behind us even before we graduated from short pants? Well, maybe we did.

This year I'm beginning to wake up to the facts. Fair play on quizzes isn't expected because it doesn't always exist. I'm not talking about the spectacular headline material such as rocked one of our nation's military academies a few years ago. This kind of cheating is the common garden variety. The little peak at the poop sheet that really "doesn't hurt anything."

I doubt that I would have accepted the comments I just made, had I not walked head first into a clear cut case of cheating. By some strange twist of society, I am right now on the spot at least as much as the offender. The book says that we should warn him first. If necessary, we should report him. The society seems to think that to report a case of cheating is rather "chicken." To bear this out, just how many student plaintiffs have appeared before the Judicial Board in the last two or three years?

The big question now seems to be who is out of step with whom? Is the student body willing to turn the other way so they won't have to turn in a minority group that believes in a little peak once in a while? If my views are behind the times, tell me soon so I can catch up. In this day of widespread "Ivy League Fashions" and mass communication, everyone conforms to the mores so naturally I don't want to be out of step, even where honesty is concerned.

Let's wake up and think about this a little. Just what do we stand for?

The Truth Hurts

As is noted in a "Letter To The Editor" on this page, there was quite a strong reaction to our suggestion that State students wear a coat and/or tie on Friday.

All kinds of outfits were seen last Friday, evidently in protest that anyone should dare suggest that State students aren't exactly the best dressed men in the college world.

It could be that the truth hurts. It could be that all of us at State know that we have a strong reputation for being inmates of an institution called Cow College. It could be we resent being reminded that we are now old enough to take a little pride in how we look both to ourselves and to other people.

Yet it is true that dressing sloppy takes a little less effort than looking neat, putting on the first thing that we see in the morning is easier than planning to wear clothes that match, or wearing wranglers of blue-jeans is better than wearing khakis or cords because they don't show dirt as quickly.

Men at other colleges don't wear coats and ties every day . . . but they don't look like slum-bums.

Fraternity Line

Busy Spring In I.F.C.

by Oscar Grant

The Events which will highlight State's "Spring Greeks" next weekend will perhaps make the event the most successful in its history. Things will start on Friday night at most houses with each having their own parties ranging from combos to costume parties.

Saturday afternoon will find "greeks" driving out on the Durham highway for a Kai Winding concert in the open.

Perhaps the biggest highlight will come Saturday night at the dance. The I.F.C. social committee has gone all out to make this the biggest and best ever and word is that the decorations will far surpass any in the history of the event.

P.E.P. Appeal

Once again, the Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity has appealed the rushing probation which was dealt out by the I.F.C. at the beginning of this year for a violation of rushing rules. This writer has nothing personal against this fraternity, but still, firmly believes the I.F.C. should vote against any motion to repeal the sentence.

Even if the fraternity is in danger of being obliterated by the sentence as they claim, the I.F.C. should be careful in voting to repeal the sentence since to do so might bring chaos to the system next year in the form of other violations encouraged by the repeal.

New Committees

The new administration which has just taken over the running of the I.F.C. faces a tremendous task. Word is that Larry Carter, new I.F.C. President, is in the midst of setting up new committees and is perhaps looking around for I.F.C. representatives who would like to fill these posts.

Past experience has proven that it is to a fraternity's advantage to have their representative on a key committee and each fraternity should encourage its representative to volunteer for such a position. This year's I.F.C. President has received unlimited support from representatives of the "18" and the result speaks for itself. In doing so, it has set standards which next year's I.F.C. can only hope to meet if every member of the council works hard and long hours to meet these standards. . . .

Fraternity Track Set
It has been decided after much discussion that a track meet for the fraternities will be held. The tentative date for the meet is set for Tuesday, May 13th. The track meet, an annual phase of the intramural fall sports, was decided to be held because of the close fraternity intramural race and because many boys who couldn't participate in other sports would have a chance in track. It also has the advantage of being a contest which is relatively easy to run off.

This decision will have no effect on the dormitory intramurals.

Big 4 Sports Day

The annual big 4 Sports Day is posted to be played on the Wake Forest campus on Wednesday, May 7th. Members of teams to represent N. C. State will be listed today at the Frank Thompson Gymnasium. The State golfers will leave from the Thompson Gymnasium at 8:00 a.m., and the other teams will depart at 10:00 a.m. They will travel by bus.

State was the winner of the Intramural Big 4 contest last year, dropping Carolina to 2nd place. This was the first time Carolina had lost the Big 4 session in 6 years. Duke took 3rd position, placing Wake Forest in 4th.

Spring Sports

Softball heads the list of spring intramural sports: softball, badminton, tennis, horse-shoes, and golf. All games except golf and badminton will be rescheduled if they are rained out.

Frosh Trackers Down Deaclets

The North Carolina State Freshman Track squad followed in the footsteps of their Varsity brothers as they completed their regular season of play by soundly trouncing the Deaclets of Wake Forest, 103-27, in a meet held here Saturday.

The big gun for the State Frosh was Art Reed, who equalled the ACC freshman record for the two-mile by running it in nine minutes, forty-five seconds. He shares the mark with Carolina's Jim Beatty, who accomplished the feat in 1954.

Also contributing much to the success of the Wolflets' win was Bob Wolfer, who picked up two first spots and one second. Wolfer was first man in the 100-yard dash and the broad jump while finishing second in the 220.

At Duke on Wednesday afternoon, the Wolflets will wind up their schedule when they go to Durham to participate in the Big Four Freshman championships. They finished the regular season of play with a 4-2 record.

Dropped by Tigers

Wolfpack Splits Pair

State College's Wolfpack, already out of the Atlantic Coast Conference race itself, did nothing to help its Big Four sparring partner Carolina take the title as they dropped another conference game to the Tigers of Clemson on Saturday.

The game was another of those wild tilts upon which the West Raleigh brigade usually thrives, but this time, when nine innings were finished, the Wolfpack found itself on the short end of a 15-11 score.

Miscues Take Toll

What took the main toll of the Wolfpack was their consistent miscues. In all, there were six errors committed by the Wolfpack, three of them by first baseman Danny Casteen. Also having a rocky day in the field were Rightfielder Russ Casteen, third baseman Jim Cox and shortstop Scotty Hrust.

For two-thirds of the game the Pack played good ball and after six innings the score was tied at eleven-all. But then the Clemson cause got a terrific boost when star hurler Harold Stowe, sporting a 8-1 record on the season, entered the contest, and quickly pushed his mark to 9-1.

Pack Gets Sixteen Hits

The Wolfpack batsmen had a field day despite the fact that they lost the ball game, as they connected for sixteen hits, including a triple by Russ Casteen and two-baggers by Danny Casteen and pitcher Jim Walch, the starter for State.

Three of the Pack went three for five, driving in seven of the State runs. They were catcher Bob Kennel, second-sacker Dennis Bradshaw, and D. Casteen.

In all, State coach Vic Sorrell used four pitchers. Besides starter Walch, Owen Wright, Harold Gilbert, and Joe Jones took their turns on the mound. Gilbert, the third hurler for the West Raleigh brigade, was credited with the loss.

Pack Trounces Maryland

On Thursday, it was a different story as the Wolfpack, behind the three-hit pitching of George Stepanovich, firmly trounced the Terrapins of Maryland, 11-3.

State was never in any real trouble as they led 8-3 at the end of three innings, and thereafter only supplemented that lead. Danny Casteen was the leading Wolfpack batsman as he went three-for-five and drove in three tallies. Also contributing his share to the win was Stepanovich, who got two hits in four trips, while driving in three runs.

Casteens Get Homers

The Casteen brothers were the leading extra-base hitters in the

Golf Championships Staged for Friday

WINSTON-SALEM — Wake Forest puts its ACC golf championship on the line here Friday and Saturday when firing in the two-day event is staged over the Old Town Club links.

The tournament, being staged at Old Town for the fifth consecutive year, is expected to draw entries from all eight members of the conference.

As in past years, team and individual championships will be determined over 36 holes of play with 18 holes slated each day. The team championship is decided on the 36-hole score of the four low individual players from each school.

Student Affairs Bulletin

SUMMER SCHOOL ATTENDANCE
During the week of May 5, students who are planning to attend the first term of summer school are asked to fill out a blank for registration permit and to complete a questionnaire. A table for this purpose is provided outside of the Summer Sessions Office, 101 Pullen Hall.

DORMITORY STUDENTS—Students have been observed playing ball near the dormitories and in quadrangles. This is to notify all occupants of the dormitories that they are held responsible for their rooms and any window breakage occurring will be charged to occupants. They can avoid unnecessary charges by reminding students who are playing ball in the vicinity of their rooms that such activities should be carried out on the intramural fields.

DORMITORY STUDENTS—Information has been published and distributed concerning dormitory rooms for the summer sessions. Every dormitory occupant is reminded that all rooms that have not been reserved for the first session of summer school must be completely vacated and the keys returned to the Dormitory Rental Office no later than Fri., June 6. After that date a room rental charge of $2.00 per day will be made until keys are returned or until such time as the College, upon inspection, determines that the room has been vacated. If the Rental Office is closed, put your keys in an envelope with your name and drop into the letter slot in the door to Room 4, Holladay Hall.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS ON MAIL AND MAGAZINES—To avoid delay in delivery of mail and magazines during the summer, students should file change-of-address notice with the Post Office. Send publishers your present and summer address four weeks in advance indicating the starting and ending dates if for summer only. Enclose address label from a copy of the magazine. Obtain change-of-address cards from the Post Office or the Dormitory Rental Office.

PART OF TOMPKINS HALL CLOSED FOR NIGHT STUDY—For several years it has been customary to leave some classrooms in college academic buildings open at night so that they are available as study areas for students living under crowded conditions. Due to continuous abuse for the past several months in rooms in Tompkins Hall, it has become necessary to close and lock these rooms at night. It is hoped that students using other classrooms on the campus will make every effort to prevent building abuse and thus retain the privilege of having these areas for night study.

Veterans Assoc. Plans Spring Picnic

Plans are being made for the State College Veterans Association's annual spring picnic. The picnic will be held at Umstead State Park on Sunday, May 18, at 1:30 p.m. Members are encouraged to bring their dates or wives and children.

Final plans for the picnic will be made at the next regular meeting of the Veterans Association which will be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow night.

At the April 21 meeting new officers were elected. The new officers are Ben Treese, President; Lary Micol, Vice-President; Darrell Eudy, Secretary; and Virgil Kelly, Treasurer.

Science Students Will Attend Events

Top-ranking high school science students picked by the Rotary Clubs in this area will attend and participate in the Junior Science Symposium May 7-9.

During the three-day event, the high school students will attend general morning sessions at Duke University, North Carolina State College, and the University of North Carolina.

Afternoon tours on the three days will give the visitors a chance to observe a wide range of research projects now underway at the three institutions.

Morning sessions are planned for Duke University on Wednesday, May 7; the Textile Building at State College on Thursday, May 8; and Carroll Hall in Chapel Hill on Friday, May 9.

Glee Club Concert

The State College Men's Glee Club will present its last open concert of the season at Peace College on Tuesday night at 8 p.m. The concert is open to the public.

Drill Teams To Perform

State College's crack drill team from the Army and Air Force ROTC units, the Pershing Rifles, will march in Greensboro's Centennial Parade Saturday, May 10.

Commanding the Pershing Rifles Company in the parade will be Cadet Captain Sam T. Smathers of Canton. The first platoon will be commanded by Cadet Lt. Thomas P. Lennon of Anderson, S. C., while the second platoon will be under the command of Cadet Ehsley Hamner of Newport News, Va.

The Pershing Rifles have performed in several events this spring including a movie premiere parade in Washington, N. C., the National Cherry Blossom Festival at Washington, D. C., the State-Oldtimers Spring Football game, the Inter-School Drill Competition held at Duke University, and the opening ceremonies for the State College Engineers' Fair.

Members of the Pershing Rifles with the exception of officers and cadre are chosen from the Freshman and Sophomore classes.

Faculty Adviser for the company is Captain Edward B. Turner, Jr., U. S. Army, a member of the college's Army ROTC staff.

Chapel Services

for Wednesday, May 7, 12:40-1:00 p.m. Service: Conducted by the N. C. State Collegiate Chapter of 4-H Music: Duet from St. Mary's Junior College (Everyone is reminded of these services by the playing of the Tower chimes. Come and worship with us!)

A tourist stopped by the road, where he noticed an Indian wandering aimlessly. "What's the matter, Chief?" the man asked, good-naturedly, "you lost?"

"Me here!" said the Indian, with dignity, hitting his chest with his fist, "Wigwam lost!"

IF SILENCE WERE REALLY GOLDEN, fishermen would be up to their hip boots in cash. They're so noiseless, they won't even wear loud shirts. But when they (Groan!) run out of Luckies, they almost lose control. They rant, rave and blow their stacks—all in sign language, of course! Result? The unusual phenomenon called a Quiet Riot! Lucky's popularity, after all, is no fluke. A Lucky is the best-tasting cigarette you can buy—and for good reason. It's made of naturally light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. So why flounder around? Get Luckies yourself!
