

Fall Orientation Leaders Appointed

Jimmy Hunt, President of the Student Government, announced yesterday the appointment of the Group-Leaders and Alternates for next fall's Orientation Program.

In his letter to The Technician, President Hunt said: "After interviewing more than 125 applicants for the position of Group-Leader, the Commission on Orientation recommended 113 students who had the requisite qualifications for the job. After much deliberation, 100 of these were selected for appointment as Group-Leader and the remaining 13 were appointed as Alternates."

"I am very enthusiastic," Hunt continued, "about the wonderful reception this idea has had on campus from students, faculty, and administration. This is a pioneer effort on our campus and I am sure that through the efforts of the Group-Leaders the Orientation of new students next fall will be significantly improved over that of past years."

Group-Leader Workshop Held

Last Monday and Tuesday night, the First Annual Group-Leaders Workshop was held in the Leazar Cafeteria. The Workshop, in essence, is a training program designed to give Group-Leaders the information and skills in methods necessary for good leadership during the Orientation Program.

In an interview with The Technician, Chairman of the Student Government Commission on Orientation, Dick Ribacove, said: "Our object was to give the Group-Leaders a more specific breakdown of the Orientation Week schedule, some stimulation in five of the six discussion areas to be covered by them next fall, and a preliminary briefing on group discussion techniques. More specifically," Ribacove continued, "we discussed the basic philosophy behind orientation, how it relates to the educational philosophy of this institution, and to the Group-Leader."

Six trombonists will be featured in the music concert behind the CU next Tuesday Night. The group is called the "Trombreros".

Final Concert Tonight at CU

The Symphonic Band of State College will present its final concert tonight from 7:00 to 7:45 p.m. on the terrace of the College Union. The CU Music Committee has sponsored the series of four concerts without charge to the public.

The concert will feature a variety of popular and classical music. Special solos and ensembles will include music from "Porgy and Bess," "Blue Mist" by Leroy Anderson, and "The Student Prince."

The director of music at State College, Robert A. Barnes, will conduct.

Dr. J. T. Cleland Will Deliver Baccalaureate

Dr. James T. Cleland, Dean of the Chapel at Duke University, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon during commencement exercises Sunday, June 1, at 10:30 a.m. in the Reynolds Coliseum at State College.

Dr. Cleland's sermon will follow a band concert at 9:30 and the academic procession of the graduating students at 10 a.m. Following the sermon, degrees will be conferred.

Dr. Carey H. Bostian, chancellor of State College, will preside and present the degrees.

Governor Hodges and President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University of North Carolina will also participate in the exercises.

Representing the students in the program will be Jimmy Hunt of Lucama, president of student body, and James M. Peden, Jr., of Raleigh, president of the Senior Class.

Diplomas will be awarded by the college's seven schools in separate Sunday afternoon exercises at 2:30.

Subject of Dr. Cleland's message will be "Education in Depth." The scripture text will be Mark 12:28-34.

Dr. Cleland is a James B. Duke Professor Preaching in the Divinity School at Duke University. He first became associated with Duke University in 1945, was named a James B. Duke professor in 1954, and became the Dean of the Chapel in March, 1955.

A native of Glasgow, Scotland, he received his academic training from Glasgow University and the Union Theological Seminary in New York City where he received his T.D.D. in 1954.

He has also taught at Glasgow University Divinity Hall, Amherst, Union Theological Seminary, and the Pacific School of Religion.

Dr. Cleland has participated in a number of lectures and several of his sermons have been published.

Planned in addition to Sunday's exercises are the Chancellor's reception, an informal dance, and commissioning of ROTC officers.

Army and Air Force officers will be commissioned at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 31, in the Coliseum.

Chancellor and Mrs. Bostian will honor the seniors with a reception in their home on Hills-. (See BACCALAUREATE, page 2)

L. F. Dean Elected IDC President

New officers for the State College Inter-Dormitory Council were elected last week during the annual IDC Banquet in the Capitol Room of the S & W Cafeteria.

Heading the IDC during the 1958-59 academic year will be Leonard Dean of Oxford, president; Jim Jacumin of Rutherford College, vice president; and Phil Deans of Wilson, secretary.

Banks C. Talley, coordinator of student affairs, was speaker at the banquet. He was introduced by Leonard Dean.

Certificates were presented to IDC members for the present academic year by James L. Elsmore of Statesville.

Congratulation were extended to the Council members for their dormitory work by N. B. Watts, director of student housing.

Watts is adviser of the organization.

Invitations

Attention Seniors! Graduation invitations are now available at the Students Supply Store in the YMCA Building.

Invitations are 10¢ each, which includes two envelopes for mailing of invitations.

Which Diploma?

Above are the two contrasting types of layout and print for diplomas. The top diploma is the one which will be received by this year's graduating seniors—the bottom diploma features the Old English script for which a campaign is being carried on at present. Those interested in the Old English script are urged to sign the petition which is being circulated about the campus (see last issue of The Technician). (Photo by Williams)

Paving Of Roads, Sidewalks Slated For Early Summer

By Jerry Anderson

Improvements are coming to State. New roads will soon be started, sidewalks will soon be paved, and the new gym will soon be under construction.

Bids were opened today at 2:00 p.m. in Pullen Hall for the road-and-sidewalk-paving project. Three contractors submitted bids.

A total of $179,800 has been appropriated by the State Legislature for the job.

"All streets will be paved, with the exception of those on the newer end of the campus," Bob Fite, Assistant College Engineer, explained.

"Not all sidewalks are to be paved, because some of them cross areas where future buildings are to be placed. Only those walks which have been designated as permanent will be improved by the project," Fite added.

New Hot Water System

Presently, the M&O is installing a new hot water distribution system for the buildings in the center of the campus.

Work is slated to begin shortly for the installation of a new electrical distribution system in the same area. It will replace the overloaded system now in use. The red crosses recently painted on the campus roads are manhole locations for this system.

"We hope that the campus will be in a much improved condition for students when they arrive next fall," stated Malcolm Rowland, temporary director of M&O operations.

Work on the paving project is slated to begin immediately after graduation.

Funds for all three projects were appropriated through the State Legislature.

Gym to Start in Fall

Construction on State's new gymnasium will probably get underway late next fall.

Architects are still in the process of finishing the working drawings for the structure. After the drawings are complete, they must be approved by the Board of Trustees and the Budget Bureau.

After approval, bids will be let and the contract awarded for the construction of the gym.

The State Legislature has already appropriated $1,400,000 for the gymnasium. This sum will cover approximately half the cost of the building and equipment. The other half will be borrowed from the state's revolving fund, and will be repaid by an increase in student physical education fees for the next forty years.

The rise in student fees will be $8.00 per year, raising the sum from $9.00 to $17.00.

The new gym will be located on the present baseball field. The gym will be able to handle 8500 people, and can be expanded when it becomes necessary.

The building will house, among other things, a swimming pool with a seating capacity of about 1400 people.

The gym should be completed by September of 1960. The old gym will be renovated for use as a classroom building.

38th Annual Pi Kappa Phi Rose Ball

Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity will hold their annual Spring Weekend on May 17. A house party Friday night with the Count Hayes Combo will initiate the weekend's activities.

An informal party Saturday afternoon will set the mood for the night, when the Pi Kappa Phi will journey to Scandia Village for the Rose Ball.

After a banquet and dance, with music by the Quintones, the social year will reach its climax with the crowning of the Pi Kappa Phi Rose.

Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity present the sponsors for the annual Rose Ball. Top row: Mrs. Shelton Collier with Brad Pennell, Secretary; Mrs. Billy Deal with Billy Deal, Past Archon. Second Row: Miss Kay Felton with Warren Stephenson, Warden; Miss Frances Candler with Doug Journey, Historian; Miss Carol Lynn Johnson with Craven Poole, Treasurer.

Maybe This Time . . .

We have an unusual opportunity to assert our student opinions in the conflict over diploma style.

Last fall, a special seven-man committee composed of a majority of students (three class presidents and the President of Student Government) turned down the Old English style in favor of the block print; it was evident at the time that the true desires of the whole student body were not properly reflected in the decision to accept block print . . . it was felt among many groups that a policy of "appease the faculty" was followed rather than "represent the students".

Now, the president elect of the senior class is circulating a petition to change the diploma style . . . his aim is 2,000 signatures. This petition will be presented to the proper authorities for action before the final contracts are signed which would definitely commit us to the block-style print for the next five years.

Public opinion has always been a powerful force, both in and out of college. If a petition is the only way we can express our wishes . . . LET'S SIGN IT!

An Unfair Secret

The executive committee of the UNC Board of Trustees has approved the report of a special committee which has been studying conflicts in authority between the trustees and the State Board of Higher Education.

That is an important report, a very important one. It involves a basic conflict of authority: Whether the trustees shall run the University entrusted to their care or whether the State Board of Higher Education shall run that University, thereby reducing the post of trustee to the place where its function shall be that of receiving free tickets to the football games.

Despite the fact that it is such a very important report, the executive committee has decided to hide it from the rest of the trustees and from the public until the full board of trustees meets at State College on May 26.

That secrecy is not fair to the trustees. The individual members will come to that May 26 meeting and will be asked to hear a report read and to vote on it without even having a chance to consider it. The matter is of vital importance, and the trustees should not be asked to shoot from the hip on it. Shots fired from the hip too often go astray and hit innocent people, if they hit anything at all.

That secrecy is not fair to the people themselves. After all, the people are the ones who pay the bill for the trustees and for the board of higher education. The people should be permitted to know what is in that report so that they can let the trustees know what they think of that report and what action they want the trustees to take.

It is always important for all public business to be transacted in public, right on top of the table where everybody can see it.

It is especially important at this time that all public business regarding education be transacted in public. Education is now taking the biggest of the Tar Heel tax dollar. It will need an even bigger share of that dollar during the years to come.

Those tax dollars can come from only one source: The People themselves. If the educators want the people to continue to furnish those tax dollars, the educators must play fair with the people.

This business of making a very important report and then hiding it is not playing fair with the people who pay the bills.

New Diploma—Now or Never

By Chuck Lombard
State College. The tower. Perhaps this has become symbolic of State for all of us.

But if we look around we find another symbol of State. This second symbol is found in the kind of students we have here.

We have been gifted, by our neighbors on the hill I presume, with the endearing name of "cow college." There was a time not so long ago when I was proud to be a member of "cow college" for its own sake. Proud, because "cow college" meant that people at State had a little different set of values from the norm of our society.

The men at State wore blue jeans and khakis, primarily, and many carried their slide rules on their belts. I came from a high school where we wore flannels and other assorted finery to class every day as a matter of social necessity. State was then for me a big change in environment.

But in those early days, three years ago, the very non-conformity seemed to me a symbol of great personal strength. State represented for me an individual spirit of men who dared to be individuals, in a world of conformity.

Three years later I still feel the individualism and the strong spirit of men here. But now I have come to know a little bit of men among us who lead us and the difficult job they have.

The individualism which is our strength has also often proved our weakness. There are times when we all must stop going our own separate ways and join a single line.

One of those times is very definitely now!

I have heard that one of the reasons we have the current post card block print type of diploma is because one powerful figure on the faculty — who thinks he has fine taste in design — simply dislikes the traditional, full size, Old English script diploma that we all favor.

Now it is not really disputed that the student body really wants the old diploma back. But somebody is so stubborn that the only way we can possibly get what we want and deserve is to prove it in black and white.

Our hopes for getting the old diploma rest in the petition that is now being distributed for students to sign.

When we graduate from State it will mean a great deal to us then and in the years after that we have a symbol of our effort in which we will feel just pride.

It's all our duties to each other. Take the time and sign!

Letters To The Editor

A Pleasant Surprise

To the Editor:

In recent weeks, The Technician has once again come under fire. Yet surely, those old timers who have been here a few years must be proud of the many fine changes which have evolved for our campus a finer, more accurate and more objective paper.

Ours is a College without a School of Journalism and any comparison between the paper of the hard oppressed technical student with that of the Journalism major is hardly valid.

It would seem to me that we at State have just cause to be proud of our paper. The paper, its articles, and means of presentation have stopped being an insult to one's intelligence, thanks to the efforts of Dave Barnhardt and his staff.

For a change, Technician, thanks for a job well done!

WAY OUT . . .

with John Cocke

Believe it or not, there are people who would accuse "Way Out" of being pessimistic. A few even go so far as to say that it is tearing down the whole moral fiber of the college. For the few who read it, that is.

Well, that may be; but it is also very possible that anyone who is thrown into a state of either depression or active rebellion by a few lines of criticism is sorely in need of stepping back and taking a good, objective look at himself, his environment, and his relationship with this environment.

He would, it is true, find much that is good in his position. He is enrolled in an institution of higher learning and presumably will graduate in due time. The facilities and appearance of his campus, while not the best in the country, are nevertheless steadily improving. All in all, it could be a very satisfying and profitable life.

But there is always the other side of the story, and to be optimistic about everything merely for the sake of being optimistic is not what I would call a positive outlook. In fact, it serves only to cloud and gloss over the real issues.

For many sociologists and essayists, the advent of the popular version of the "positive outlook" has been cause for alarm. The typical upper-middle-class citizen, they say, lives in hopes of a dream world where competition and controversy are submerged in a golden age of "belongingness." Everyone will be adjusted to The Gorup; and an ultra-cooperative, we're-just-one-big-happy-family atmosphere will descend over everything. Whether this will ultimately involve sharing everything you have, including your wife, with your neighbors, is problematical.

The corporations and their "progressive management" policies, they say, are responsible to a large extent. According to most management authorities, much more creative power lies hidden in a group of togetherized nitwits than in a lone genius following up some shamelessly unorthodox hunch. If this is true, it must be hidden exceedingly well indeed; for I doubt very seriously that any original work has ever been accomplished by such a collectivity of brainwashed parrots. Little can be accomplished by rehashing old ideas and worn-out concepts, only to wind up agreeing with them all over again for fear of disconcerting anyone by introducing untraditional, and therefore disagreeable, viewpoints.

But still the tirade continues. "Brainwash everyone into an optimistic, group-centered [and stereotyped] frame of mind, and we will see real progress." The optimism is one of the key points here; and it involves not necessarily belief that this is the best of all possible worlds, but that it almost is, and that any improvement will lie in strengthening the stranglehold that the belongingness concept has on society.

Such lazy, blind, group-enforced optimism has as many inherently totalitarian possibilities as Communism, which everyone fears but few understand; and the more I can do to thwart the movement, the better I will feel.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE WRINKLING

While everybody knows that the soft collar on Van Heusen Century Shirts won't wrinkle, ever, a Van Heusen survey among college students has revealed that precious few know why. Here are some of the responses:

J. L.—sophomore at the Psychodynamic Institute for Arts, Crafts, and Number Painting—"Obviously, the collar won't wrinkle, because it's afraid to wrinkle. It may have been threatened by some surly Van Heusen vice-president. Ergo, it exhibits the Cavendish anti-wrinkle syndrome."

G. F.—junior at Usury School of Advertising—"Collar-wise, there's no demand for wrinkles. No customer benefit. Now, this is strictly off the top of my cranium, but the statement, 'the soft collar that won't wrinkle, ever,' is too negative. Substitute 'never' for 'ever' and you not only have a positive statement—but—as demonstrated by that famous cigarette, this ungrammatical concept will be attention-getting."

L. V.—senior quarterback at Milltown College—"I wouldn't be without a Van Heusen. Look here . . . under my pleatless shoulder pads. See? Out of simple decency, the collar refrains from wrinkling. It's this kind of restraint that recently led to our glorious victory over Birdbrain U. Not a man was scathed. Huzzah for the collar—and fight furiously, fellows."

Yes, this is the kind of ignorance we run across! Actually, while other collars are made of 3 pieces of material, the secret of this soft collar with its wrinkle-shunning qualities is one-piece construction. Van Heusen Century shirts come in 5 collar styles: $4 and $5.

Alumni Assn. Designed For Students

By Jerry Anderson
Have you ever wondered about the Alumni Association? Very few State College students really know what the Association is, or what its functions are. In effect, it is an organization designed to better the relationship between the College and its graduates.

The Alumni Association is directed by H. W. "Pop" Taylor. It has three objectives: (1) promoting the growth, progress, and general welfare of State College; (2) fostering among former students a sentiment of regard for one another and continued attachment to their Alma Mater; and (3) interesting prospective students in attending State College.

These objectives are reached through various means, including the Alumni Fund, the State College News, and the Alumni Weekend.

The Alumni Fund is made up of voluntary contributions from former State College students. The fund was established in 1952 to replace the unsatisfactory method of paying dues. Contributions to the fund are made annually.

The State College News is published every month and is sent to contributors of the Alumni Fund. The magazine is designed to keep members of the Association in touch with one another and in touch with the College.

Alumni Weekend is an annual affair, featuring class reunions, luncheons, sporting events, and informal gatherings. The Alumni Athletic Award is presented annually by the Association in ceremonies held during Alumni Weekend. The Association recently held the Alumni Weekend activities for this year. The class reunions are scheduled so that each graduating class has a reunion every five years after graduation.

Membership in the Association is not limited to graduates of the college. Any person who has attended State College is eligible for membership. Members of the faculty, administrative staff, teachers of agriculture in North Carolina High schools,

The newly remodeled Alumni Building is located on Pullen Road beside Holladay Hall. The remodeling was completed last year, and will be paid for from alumni donations.

Kennel, R. Casteen
Will Play for Pros

Outfielder Russ Casteen and catcher Bob Kennel are planning to turn pro after their graduation this spring. Neither has decided with which club he'll cast his lot, but several teams have their big brass hot on the trail of both players. At the present, Kennel likes the Baltimore Orioles, while Casteen has talked to both the Orioles and the Phillies.

Notes From The Pack

Dick Hunter was State's top hitter with a .364 average, as the Wolfpack ended the season with a 10-7 record. Hunter also led the team in triples, with four; in stolen bases, with five; and in runs scored, with 20. The speedy football-baseball star went hitless in only two of State's 17 games.

Four players batted over .300 this year. In addition to Hunter, Russ Casteen hit .329, Danny Casteen hit .309, Bob Kennel hit .304 and Glenn Sparrow hit .303.

Hunter recently was elected to membership in Blue Key, a national leadership fraternity, which has a very active chapter here at State College. Coach Earle Edwards was named an honorary member of the select group.

Vic Bubas, State's fine assistance basketball coach, has been mentioned in connection with three head coaching vacancies this year. His name was linked with spots at New Mexico, Ohio State and Carolina.

It has been reported that Freshman basketball star Stan Niewierowski will play summer basketball in the Phillipines with Pete Brennan of Carolina.

When State's baseball team lost this year, it picked the best hurlers to lose to. Clemson's Harold Stowe claimed the Wolfpack twice while single losses were at the hands of Virginia's Herb Busch, UNC's Ben Harding and Wayne Young, Duke's Bert Lattimore and Wake Forest's Ben Tench.

Carolinas AAU Track Meet Scheduled Here

The Carolinas AAU Track meet will be held here Saturday afternoon and evening with 16 schools participating. The event will be held at the State College track behind Reynolds Coliseum.

Preliminaries will be held in the afternoon with the field events beginning at two o'clock and the track events getting underway at 2:30. Finals Saturday night start at 7.

A highlight of the track season, the Carolinas AAU has been one of the area's most successful events. This year's Caromeet will climax the careers of many outstanding performers, including Duke's great sprinter, Dave Sime.

Sime, the record-breaking redhead, will be the favorite in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and will share the meet spotlight with Elias Gilbert, the hurdles star from Winston-Salem Teachers.

Taking part in the meet are teams from Duke, North Carolina, N. C. State, Clemson, Davidson, Wake Forest, North Carolina College, A and T College, Presbyterian, East Carolina, Elizabeth City Teachers, Belmont Abbey, Chowan Junior College, EMI, St. Augustine's and Winston-Salem Teachers.

Camp Lejeune, a strong contender for team honors, will not take part this year because of a schedule conflict.

Also absent are Dave Scurlock and Wayne Bishop of Carolina, two of the Atlantic Coast Conference's top stars. They will be in California for a meet.

Track events scheduled are the 100, 220, 440, 880, mile, three-mile, 120 high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, 440 hurdles and the mile relay. Field events include the high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, javelin and discus.

The meet is under the direction of State College track coach Paul Derr. The referee is Dr. Charles Spencer, starter Ed Fogg, head judge J. L. Pierce, head timer Bill Smith, and head field judge L. J. Phipps.

INTRAMURALS

In the Intramural picture this week we see the final rounds of the tennis competition coming up soon. In the Fraternity league, all winners in the losers bracket will play Thursday, May 15, at 5:00. All winners in the losers bracket of the Dormitory league will play Friday at a time designated by the supervisor at the tennis courts. The respective Athletic Directors will be notified of such time.

Due to the excessive rains for the past few weeks, all teams will be playing a heavy schedule this week in the softball competition. There remains only three weeks to complete the schedule and the Athletic Directors and all teams concerned are asked to please cooperate and give the Intramural Office a hand in completing a successful schedule.

The Fraternity Track Meet will be held Friday, May 23. All preliminaries and finals will be held Friday afternoon. The public is invited to be present.

"Talks were given by Donald Roy, a senior in Nuclear Engineering on 'Academics at State,' James T. Spence, a member of the Commission on Orientation, on 'Group Living,' Jimmy Hunt, President of the Student Government, on 'Co-curricular Activities,' Fred Manley, President of the State College YMCA, on 'Religious Life,' and Paul Essex, President of the College Union, on 'Social Life.'"

Albert Einstein Quoted
"The tone of the orientation program was summed up by Essex, quoting one of our late scientists: 'The school should always have as its aim that the young man leave it as a harmonious personality, not as a specialist. This, in my opinion, is true in a certain sense even for technical schools. . . . The development of general ability for independent thinking and judgment should always be placed foremost, not the acquisition of special knowledge. . . . It is essential that the student acquire an understanding of and a lively feeling for values. He must acquire a vivid sense of the beautiful and of the morally good. Otherwise he—with his specialized knowledge—more closely resembles a well-trained dog than a harmoniously developed person.—Albert Einstein."

The beautiful Delray 2-Door Sedan, one of three budget-priced Delray models.

Chevrolet's dollar-stretching DELRAY

YOU JUST CAN'T TIE THIS BUY!

Here's surefire proof Chevrolet always knows how to give you more for your money—from longer, newer, lovelier bodies to a wider range of engines, transmissions and suspension systems. The more you look the more you'll find to like in Delray—THE LOWEST PRICED OF ALL THE LOW-PRICED CHEVROLETS!

Chevy doesn't have any "smaller" models. The big, beautiful Chevrolet Delray is just as long, just as wide, just as softly sprung on the same 117-inch wheelbase as the luxurious Bel Air models. Like every other Chevrolet, it has the extra solidity and quality of Body by Fisher. There's no stinting on optional equipment, either. You can get anything from Fuel Injection* to Level Air* ride, any Chevrolet transmission, any Chevrolet engine, just as you choose. Take a long, long look at this one next time you drop in at your Chevrolet dealership—because the more you demand for your money the surer it is you'll decide on Delray!

*Optional at extra cost.

They're Full-Size Chevies

No skimping in seat width, leg-room, wheelbase—Delray gives you every generous dimension offered by any Chevrolet.

A COMPLETE CHOICE OF ENGINES

You can order a Delray with Chevy's top Fuel Injection V8 if you like—or get any one of the five V8's or the Blue-Flame Six!

AUTOMATIC DRIVES

Choice of time-proved Powerglide* or supremely smooth Turboglide*—the only triple-turbine drive in Chevy's field.

UNIQUE

Full Coil Suspension

Delray's standard suspension system puts a cloud-soft coil spring at each wheel, blends this with the beautiful roadability of four-link rear control arms!

and Delray is the only car in its class with the extra rigidity of an all-new Safety-Girder frame, the extra clarity of Safety Plate Glass all the way around, the extra convenience of crank-operated vent windows!

Drive with care... everywhere!

THE ENGINEERS HAVE HAIRY EARS

Today in this age of technology when engineering graduates are wooed and courted by all of America's great industries, how do you account for the fact that Rimbaud Sigafoos, who finished at the very top of his class at M.I.T., turned down hundreds of attractive job offers to accept employment as a machinery wiper at the Acme Ice Company at a salary of $20 a week with a twelve-hour day, a seven-day week, and only fifteen minutes for lunch?

..Engineering Grads are wooed and courted..

I know what you are thinking: "Cherchez la femme!" You are thinking that Mr. Acme, head of the Acme Ice Company, has a beautiful daughter with whom Rimbaud is madly in love and he took the job only to be near her.

Friends, you are wrong. It is true that Mr. Acme does have a daughter, a large, torpid lass named Clavdia who spends all her waking hours scooping marzipan out of a bucket and staring at a television set which has not worked in some years. Rimbaud has not the slightest interest in Clavdia; nor, indeed, does any other man, excepting possibly John Ringling North.

So how come Rimbaud keeps working for the Acme Ice Company? Can it be that they provide him with free Marlboro Cigarettes, and all day long he enjoys that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box?

No, friends, no. Rimbaud is not allowed to smoke on the job, and when he finishes his long, miserable day, he has to buy his own Marlboros, even as you and I, in order to enjoy that estimable filter, that incomparable flavor, that crazy flip-top box.

Well, friends, you might as well give up because you'll never in a million years guess why Rimbaud works for the Acme Ice Company. The reason is simply this: Rimbaud is a seal!

He started as a performing seal in vaudeville. One night on the way to the Ed Sullivan show, he took the wrong subway. All night the poor mammal rode the B.M.T., seeking a helping hand. Finally a kindly brakeman named Ernest Thompson Sigafoos rescued the hapless Rimbaud.

He took Rimbaud home and raised him as his own, and Rimbaud, to show his appreciation, studied hard and got excellent marks and finished a distinguished academic career as valedictorian of M.I.T.

Rimbaud never complained to his kindly foster father, but through all those years of grammar school and high school and college, he darn near died of the heat! A seal, you must remember, is by nature a denizen of the Arctic, so you can imagine how poor Rimbaud must have suffered in subtropical New York and Boston, especially in those tight Ivy League suits.

But today at the Acme Ice Company, Rimbaud has finally found a temperature to his liking. He is very happy and sends greetings to his many friends.
