Drill Team Given Bright Red Cloth

Two hundred yards of bright red gabardine cloth presented yesterday to State College's School of Textiles will soon brighten the public appearances of State College's famed Pershing Rifles, Army ROTC Drill Team.

Making the presentation to the college were Burlington Industries' Pacific Mills president Tom Tolar of Halifax, Va., and John Morgan, manager of the Pacific Mills plant at Raeford, N. C., where the cloth was made.

E. B. Grover, head of the Department of Yarn Processing in the School of Textiles, accepted the gift on behalf of the college and expressed his thanks for the gift, which included lining material furnished by the Duro Finishing Company of Fall River, Mass.

State College's first student was honored in exercises marking the 68th anniversary of the institution last Thursday.

In the ceremonies held in the Alumni Memorial Building, the family of W. J. Mathews of Goldsboro, first student to register when the college opened its doors October 3, 1889, presented a portrait of the college's original student to the institution.

In a surprise announcement, Joseph L. Mathews of New York, president of the New York Export Import Company and son of N. C. State's first student, informed the college that the family later will present the college a "sizeable fund" for the creation of the "Walter J. Mathews Scholarship" in honor of their father.

Mathews, a retired 87-year-old Wayne County contractor, was on hand for the exercises and spoke briefly, recalling his first day on the N. C. State campus back in 1889.

Also attending the program was Sam Young of Raleigh, a member of the college's original class, the Class of 1893, and a Capital City hardware merchant.

Both Mathews and Young expressed pride in the growth of their alma mater both in physical facilities and academic prestige.

Dr. Carey H. Bostian, chancellor of State College, accepted the portrait of Mathews on behalf of the college and announced it will hang in a memorial room in Holladay Hall, the institution's original building which is now the headquarters of the college administration.

Both Chancellor Bostian and President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University of North Carolina expressed appreciation for the portrait and scholarship fund.

Dr. Bostian said the college regards "Mr. Mathews as a living symbol of the faith that the people of North Carolina had in the founding of State College."

President Friday pointed out that State College is a relatively new institution in that its first student is still living but declared that the college, even though it is young comparatively, already has established itself as one of the key technological institutions of higher learning in the United States.

Others taking part in the program were H. W. (Pop) Taylor, director of alumni affairs; Dr. Stuart Noblin, chairman of the college's history committee, who presided; and E. L. Cloyd, retired dean of students, who pronounced the invocation.

Meeting Planned For Journalists

The Technician is holding a special meeting at 7:30 this Thursday night to meet all students interested in working on the student newspaper.

Letters have been mailed to a number of students who have had past experience in newspaper work or who have already expressed a desire to help. However, any other student who would like to work on The Technician is welcome to attend the meeting.

The meeting will be held in Room 138 of the 1911 Building at 7:30. (Room 138 is on the south end of the 1911 Building.)

Cecil Brooks presents Ben Kittrell with Outstanding Freshman Award for 1956-57 achievements in Agriculture Education. The award was made last Thursday night.

Judicial Board Decisions Released

Results of Judicial Board trials since the last issue of The Technician for the 1956-'57 college year are published below as directed by Student Government regulations.

Spring Trials

On May 16 two students were suspended for the remainder of the spring semester, one for cheating on a quiz and the second for cheating in preparing a project.

Two students were suspended for the remainder of the spring semester and the two summer school semesters at the May 21 meeting of the Board. The charge was cheating on a quiz for both students. In addition a third student was found not guilty of using material in an unauthorized manner on a test, and a fourth student was given a reprimand for conduct unbecoming to a gentleman.

Suspension for the summer school and fall semesters was the decision reached in a case on May 25 where a student was accused of cheating on a quiz.

Summer School

On August 19 a student was found not guilty for ungentlemanly conduct by the summer school judicial board.

Two students accused of cheating on a final examination were suspended for the fall semester on Sept. 18.

For conduct unbecoming to a gentleman a student received two semesters probation in a Sept. 19 trial.

Film Series Opens Tuesday Night

Less than forty season tickets remain for sale for the Fall season design film series which opens tomorrow night at 8:00 in the College Union Theatre.

Opening attraction of the series will be "The Earrings of Madame De" starring Charles Boyer, Danielle Darrieux, and Vittorio De Sica. In French with English subtitles the film was rated the "best film of 1954" by Time.

The remaining attractions of the series—all of which will begin at 8 p.m. in the CU Theatre—are "The Great Adventure" on Oct. 29; "Henry V", Nov. 12; "The Titan", Nov. 26; and "My Little Chickadee", Jan. 7.

Four outstanding short subjects including "The Great Train Robbery" will also be shown during the series.

Season tickets will cost two dollars for the entire series. Tickets may be purchased at the School of Design, Room 200, Brooks Hall, the bookstore of the North Carolina Museum of Art, and at the Theatre Door Tuesday night.

The Design Film Committee is an independent, non-profit student organization whose purpose is to bring to the college and the community outstanding motion pictures which might not ordinarily be seen through commercial channels.

State YDC Post Won By NCS's Bob Futrelle

For the second year in a row, the State College Young Democratic Club has captured a top office in the state-wide organization.

Bob Futrelle, president of the College YDC, defeated Bob Riddle of Wake Forest for the office of Vice-President by a vote of 329 to 281.

The three-day convention which began Thursday and ended Saturday was held at the Mid-Pines Hotel in Southern Pines.

Representing State in addition to Futrelle were Jim Hunt, Tom Gilmore, Jesse Morgan, Dan Yager, Bob Lane, Clay Price, Marcus Turner, Dick Burgess, Cecil Brooks and Mrs. Brooks, Carolyn Leonard, and Mrs. Bob Futrelle.

Student Legislature Plans Nov. Meet

The 21st N. C. State Student Legislative Assembly will convene at the capital on November 7, and will continue for three days. There will be a meeting for all State College students who are interested in becoming delegates or alternate delegates on Friday, October 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Government Office.

The assembly was started in 1936 by a State College Forensic Fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta. The original group was more an oratorical society than a legislative assembly. This society developed and officially formed the legislative assembly in 1947.

The assembly is composed of the Senate, which has two Senators from each college, and the House of Representatives, in which the number of representatives for each college is determined by the number of students enrolled in the college. State College is allotted 15 Representatives.

During the legislature the delegations from the various colleges present bills which are discussed and voted on. All resolutions which are passed are presented to the N. C. Legislature when they convene at each session.

Freshmen and Sophomores who are interested in the legislature are especially invited to attend this meeting. At the meeting suggestions will be taken for prospective bills to be presented by the State College delegation.

State College has always been very active in the assembly. The President of the Interim Council, which is the governing unit of the legislature, is George C. Cochran, a senior in Textiles. Other members of the Interim Council from State College are Bob Lane and Bob Hutchins who Fraternity Row - How Much Longer?

A new fraternity row is now under construction! Twelve new fraternity houses, costing upwards of $30,000 each, are being built and are expected to be finished by next fall!

Too good to be true? Nope. This is actually happening. But not at State. . . . All this is going on about 110 miles southwest of here—at Davidson College.

State's long expected, long sought after, long needed fraternity row has bogged down. Much work has been done in the past two or three years by both fraternity men and college officials to try to make the new fraternity row a reality.

The visiting Trustees have stated that the need exists, one house is already sketched out, lots were drawn last year, the IFC President last year and this writer talked to the members of the powerful Finance Committee of the Greater University last fall, architects were contacted, and many other plans were made. But still we wait.

One fraternity was prohibited from moving into an off-campus house this fall because the residents of the area petitioned the City Council to re-zone the section to forbid fraternity houses. Many present fraternity houses are getting awfully old.

The need for a fraternity row is growing greater. Yet, somewhere amidst the ever-increasing tangles of red

Simply A Preview . . .

The student newspaper at Carolina is screaming at the recent disclosure by Roy Armstrong, Director of Admissions at the University at Chapel Hill, that the freshman enrollment is down this year by 87 students.

Though Armstrong has attributed the decline in freshman enrollment to: (1) Increased interest in technological studies; (2) Rise in the cost of living; and (3) Poor crops in North Carolina, "The Daily Tar Heel" says the drop is because of "over-emphasis on restrictive entrance examinations and requirements."

We cannot agree with the stand taken by "The Daily Tar Heel." State has recently initiated entrance exams and has stiffer entrance requirements than ever before. But what has happened here? We have had more applicants and larger freshman classes than ever before. And the predictions for State are that the enrollment will continue to swell—to over 11,000 students within the next nine years.

The reason? Just as Roy Armstrong said: Increased interest in technological studies.

As much as it hurts the pride of our brother institution at Chapel Hill, they must soon realize that the "Cow College" in Raleigh is rapidly becoming one of the outstanding technological schools in the country.

If they consider the drop in freshman enrollment such a "blow," what will they have to say in just three, four, or possibly five years when they see that the total enrollment of the "Cow College" has surpassed that of their own?

It looks like the decrease in freshman enrollment at Chapel Hill, in view of the fact that State's freshman enrollment jumped from 1,693 last year to an estimated 2,000 this year, is simply a "preview of coming statistics."

tape, the thing has bogged down.

Deans Stewart and Talley as well as many others, have worked long and hard on this project. Several times last year they thought the money and authorization were forthcoming. Up to now, however, no "go ahead" has been given.

We urge the Interfraternity Council to continue their efforts to make the new fraternity row a reality. Possible a vote of confidence would be in order to see if the fraternities still feel that they want the project. At least a discussion of the matter should be held.

Then, if the fraternities still are as strongly in favor of a new fraternity row as they have been for the past two or three years, a committee should begin immediately to do everything in their power to see that the project proceed as rapidly as possible.

"UP HERE NOW MISS BREWSTER - IT SEEMED MORE PRACTICAL TO SEAT THE CLASS ALPHABETICALLY."

Why Judicial Board Shields Offenders

Undoubtedly many students have often wondered why the Judicial Board never releases the names of any of the students who stand trial at State.

You may say, "All other courts in our country release the names of those who are tried. Why shouldn't State's Judicial Board do the same?"

If you feel this way, we must admit that we are in agreement with you—the names ought to be released. Even the names of the people who commit crimes most detrimental to their names and reputations are made public in most courts. Why should State have a "Star Chamber"?

We talked to a "J" Board member last night about this. He said that the Judicial Board simply states the charge on which a person is convicted because the only important thing is that the violation and the penalty be made public—as a warning to others. They say that this serves to protect the student's name, should be later return to State.

Should a student who violates the Honor Code be shielded? Should his name be kept a secret? We would like your views on this in a "Letter To The Editor."

"I like it; I wish it could happen every week!" So said head football coach Earle Edwards as he and the undefeated Wolfpack were met at the Coliseum by an exuberant group of State followers at 1:00 A.M. Sunday morning.

The reason for the large cheering section is not unknown. The big Red from West Raleigh had just returned from their third straight successful road game, this one being a hard-fought victory over the Tigers of Clemson, 13-7.

Although the win on Saturday was not as impressive as the Maryland game of a week ago, it served notice to all teams concerned that the Wolfpack means business in the ACC race.

For the second straight week, the Pack wasn't the top team in statistics, but it was the lightning-quick striking power and the excellent clutch play on defense that preserved the win.

By far, the most exciting single play was the opening kick-off which saw State's All-America candidate, Dick Christy, take the kick on the Red three-yard line and race 97 yards for the score. This was the second longest scoring kick-off return in State's history surpassed only by Howard Turner's 98-yard runback in the Clemson game of 1946.

After the kick-off until early in the fourth quarter, the Pack did nothing exceptional on offense. Jim Sciarretta, Soph right half, attempted a field goal in the second period, but it fell short and wide.

In the fourth quarter, the Pack again demonstrated that scoring punch that made them 13th in the nation. Taking a punt on their own 42, State went all the way in five quick plays. Christy went for 17, Dick Hunter knocked out 24, and Christy came back for 15. Then Christy hit the line for one, followed by FB Don Hafer who bulled over for the score. Hunter then made the point try, which he had missed after Christy's long score. Hunter has now made 7 of 8 conversions for the season.

Next week the Wolfpack will travel to Tallahassee to take on non-conference foe, Florida State. After the Miami game on the following weekend, the Pack will come home to face the Duke Blue Devils in the big game of the season, on October 26.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Bill Tyer discusses features of a training program for operators with Miss Edith Sanders.

"There's always something different"

"In my job, there's always something different coming along—a new problem, a new challenge. When I got out of college I wanted to make sure I didn't settle down to a job of boredom. There's never been a chance of that at Bell."

That's Charles W. (Bill) Tyer talking. Bill graduated from Texas Christian University in 1953 with a B.S. in Commerce. He went right to work with Southwestern Bell in Fort Worth.

How did he make his choice? Here's what he says: "From what I'd seen it was an interesting business with tremendous room for expansion. And a big feature with me was the opportunity to choose my location. I wanted to work in the Fort Worth area."

"I came in under the Staff Assistant Program for college graduates. I spent several weeks in each of the company's five departments. Then I went back for six months of intensive training in our Traffic Department."

"After training, I was promoted. One of my first jobs was setting up and supervising a customer service improvement program."

"In January, 1956, I was again promoted. My present job is assistant to the District Traffic Superintendent. My responsibilities include instruction of PBX operators, employee and public relations, and scheduling operators to handle calls to and from 185,000 telephones."

"No—there's no chance for boredom!"

Bill Tyer is typical of the many young men who are finding their careers in the Bell System. Other interesting careers exist in the Bell Telephone Companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about these companies.

As the Intramural Football League goes into its second week of play, the favorites in both the dorm section and the fraternity section won handily over their opponents in last week's play. Becton 1 downed Tucker 1, 12-0, while Sigma Chi was humiliating the forces of Lambda Chi Alpha, 27-0.

This week the Bowling and Volleyball Leagues swing into action with a full schedule of games. As in Football, the dorms will meet on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, while the fraternities play on Mondays and Thursdays.

THE LITTLE SAVER

Among America's great savers, George T. Coffee is a legend. One day, George discovered that by going to sleep with his shoes on, he could save a full 60 seconds dressing in the morning. Multiplying this by 365 days—gave him over 6 hours saved per year. Then, multiplying this by 8 years—gave him 48 hours—or two full days saved! George was giddy. "Think of it," he mused. "Two full days saved to do anything . . . read, sleep or go to Europe!"

Another time, George passed a store that advertised "Save $50 When You Buy These $100 Suits!" George immediately saw the fantastic opportunity . . . realizing that he could save $100 by not buying any of these suits. Thereupon, he proceeded not to buy ten suits and rolled up a tidy $1,000 in a few seconds.

However, the best saving George ever did by far—was signed statement by a physician under his letterhead clearly indicating that the student was, because of health reasons, unable to attend classes and specifically indicating the dates the student was ill.

Curly: "I ran across one of my old friends this morning." Shorty: "What did you do with him?"

Curly: "Took him to the hospital."

Of Two Minds

On the one hand, you have Thirsty G. Smith. Good taste to him means zest and zip in a beverage, sparkle and lift and all like that . . . On the other hand, T. Gourmet Smythe perceives good taste as the right, fit and proper refreshment for a Discriminating Coterie. So . . . Have it both ways! Coca-Cola . . . so good in taste, in such good taste. Et vous?
