30&3 Promoting Homecoming Parade

N. C. State will hold its annual Homecoming Parade on Saturday, October 31st. At 10:15 a.m., eight visiting bands, an R.O.T.C. Drill Unit, and many beautiful floats will "step off" from the City Memorial Auditorium—led by the N. C. State Band.

The Parade will follow a line of march that will take it around the Capital, down Hillsboro Street, and onto the campus through the gateway. The floats will turn at the corner of Hillsboro Street and Woodburn Road to go to Cameron Village, where they will be on display.

There will be prizes given for the best floats in the Dormitory and Fraternity Divisions. Floats will be judged on the basis of originality, construction, appearance and theme. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded. Winners will be announced at the half-time of the State-Wyoming football game. The College Union float, on which the Homecoming Queen contestants will ride, will not be in the contest.

The Homecoming Parade is sponsored by the Thirty and Three, sophomore honor society. Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will assist in the directing of the buses which bring the visiting bands. The Homecoming Queen Contest is sponsored by the Blue Key, junior honor society.

Campus Crier

The Blue Key announces that all entries for Homecoming Queen must be submitted to the Student Government Office in the College Union before 10 p.m. today.

The Forestry Club will hold its weekly meeting Tuesday, Oct. 27. The meeting will be held in room 159 Kilgore Hall at 7:00 p.m.

The Agriculture Club will meet at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27. Pictures will be taken. Please wear coat and ties.

The cadet brigade of the Army ROTC has a float entry planned for the homecoming parade on Oct. 31. The theme is the contrast of old and new. Working on the float are representatives from the Pershing Rifles, Scabbard and Blade, and Drum and Bugle Corps.

The Scabbard and Blade Military Society held a business meeting at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 22, in the MSI classroom in the Coliseum. After the regular business meeting, at 7:30 p.m., a pledging meeting was held.

An organization meeting is planned for early November for the formation of a Saddle Club at State College. The C U Hospitality Committee and the Outing Committee have formed a sub-committee to investigate the possibilities and hope that any interested student or staff member will contact the activities office to express ideas and opinions. The meeting will be announced as soon as information has been gathered. Watch for the announcement.

The Fall Bridge Tournament will be held in the C U on November 10, at 7:00 p.m. All persons interested in playing are asked to sign-up at the C U main desk by November 5th. The tournament is sponsored by the Games Committee and will be duplicate bridge games. Prizes will be awarded to the first and second place winners.

On Friday, October 30th at 8:00 p.m. the C U Hospitality Committee sponsors the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in the C U ballroom. The dance will be Dogpatch Style, and it is hoped that students will wear costumes depicting the characters of Dogpatch. A prize will be given for the best costume.

The Musical, "The Boy Friend", will be presented in the C U ballroom on November 10th. Woman's College presents the lampoon of the entertainment patterns of the mad-cap decade of the twenties.

Student Govt. Attacks Date Ticket Policy

The Student Government passed a mandate that condemned the present system of student seating and student date tickets for athletic contests and requested that the Athletic Council remedy these situations.

Mr. John McDermott, a noted foreign correspondent, spoke to the Legislature on his experiences in Russia.

President Eddie Knox reported on the first Liaison Meeting with the Chancellor. He remarked that Chancellor Caldwell was most receptive to student opinion.

Knox made the following appointments:

Board of Review: Gerald James; John Fulton was appointed to the Board of Review by nomination.

Chairman of Investigations Committee: Jim Caldwell.

Chairman of Campus Affairs Committee: Wes McGee.

Womans Campus Board: Stella Joseph, Peggy Hamilton, Francis Goodwin, and Clyda Weeks. Honor Code Commission: Dick Currie, Frank Madren, Lad Daniels, Bob George, Waring Boys, Mel Poulson, Gilbert Alligood, and Bill Marks.

All of these appointments were approved by the Legislature.

$122.50 was appropriated to Blue Key for use in the Homecoming activities.

Resolutions A-3-1 and A-3-2 were passed by the legislature. These resolutions follow:

RESOLUTION A-3-1

FACT: The Athletic Council of North Carolina State College has set the following provisions for home football and basketball games:

1. A student's athletic ticket and his I.D. Card will gain admission for him to all home football and basketball games.
2. Date tickets to home football games are available to students at the following prices:

Carolina	$4.50
Wake Forest	4.00
Duke	4.00
Wyoming	1.00
3. Married students may obtain $6.00 season tickets for their wives for all home football games excluding the Carolina game for which wives must hold $4.50 date tickets to gain admission.

4. Student date and student wife tickets to all home basketball games will be $1.00.

5. Date tickets may be used only by someone of opposite sex, within the same age bracket.

FACT: Students and their wives and dates are allowed to sit only in Riddick Stadium and the Coliseum which afford them the poorest view of the occurring football or basketball games.

FACT: The students of North Carolina State College are disgruntled at the poor seating afforded them and their wives and dates at exorbitant price of date tickets for four of the home football games at the expense of the Carolina home football game from season tickets for student wives.

FACT: The students demand continuation of the present provisions set by the Athletic Council governing home basketball games and the Wyoming football game.

PRINCIPLE: Intercollegiate athletics are extra-curricular activities existing of and for students.

DECLARATION: Student Government cannot ignore the clamoring of the student body for proper seating, for the reduction of $1.00 of all home football date tickets, and for the continuation of the present policy of the Athletic Council toward date tickets to home basketball games.

MANDATE: Student Government demands that the Athletic Council improve the seating status for all students, their dates and wives, reduce all home football date tickets to $1.00, and maintain the present policy toward date tickets to home basketball games.

RESOLUTION A-3-2

WHEREAS: There appears to be no organized method by which the student body, the faculty, and the administration are informed of the work being done by student leaders in Student Government; and

WHEREAS: There is no clear-cut route through which Student Government leaders are enabled to gain understanding of the thoughts and attitudes of the student body, the faculty, and the administration, or to gain such information as directed necessary for the proper functioning of Student Government; and

WHEREAS: In the past the Promotions Committee of Student Government has not been concerned primarily with promoting the affairs of Student Government but has dealt with miscellaneous items. Now

THEREFORE: Be it resolved that the Promotions Committee of Student Government be expanded in membership to act as a Student Government Council of Student Government, and be it further resolved,

THAT: The Promotions Committee of Student Government shall be charged with the specific tasks of

1. Placing through every available and reasonable means the issues involved in anticipated actions of Student Government as well as the expected date of action before the student body, the faculty, the Chancellor, the President of the Consolidated University, and any other interested parties, and
2. Registering through every reasonable and available means completed actions of Student Government and an explanation of their effects upon interested parties with the student body, the faculty, the Chancellor, the President of the Consolidated University, and any other interested parties, and
3. Conducting such surveys and planning such information as directed necessary by the Vice President of Student Government for the proper functioning of Student Government, and be it further resolved

THAT: The Promotions Committee shall be authorized to request for simple majority approval whereby the provisions of this mandate may be executed with thoroughness and deliberate speed.

Pershing Rifles Meet, Initiate Seven Members

The Pershing Rifles held its second meeting on last Thursday, October 20th. This meeting was a combination smoker and business meeting.

Seven brothers were formally initiated into the Society. After the initiation the business of the company was discussed by the members and the pledges.

During the meeting cadet 2nd Lieutenant Jim Jones described the trip that he and three other members made to the National Convention of Pershing Rifles in Baton Rouge Louisiana.

It is interesting to note that at the formal date held for the cadets, the distinctive red uniforms of the State Pershing Rifles were complimented and admired by many cadets from other schools, according to Mr. Jones.

After the business meeting the smoker was held at which the members and pledges became better acquainted.

ROTC Represented In Shriner's Parade

ROTC unit at State College was well represented in the Shrine Bowl Parade sponsored by the Shriners for the Crippled Children's Fund, which preceded the Shrine Bowl Game between State's Wolfpack and The Blue Devils of Duke University.

The Drum and Bugle Corps, Pershing Rifles, and the State College Marching Band showed their stuff under the eyes of lovely Judi Ann Klipfel, of Asheboro, Miss North Carolina of 1959.

Drum and Bugle Corps preceded the float which Miss North Carolina graced, while the Pershing Rifles served as the Rear Guard.

The array of color presented by State's marching band and the R.O.T.C. units helped in the success of the Shriners' parade. The proceeds from the Shrine game will go to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Greenville, S. C.

Monogram Club To Sponsor Homecoming Ball

The Homecoming Dance will be held this Saturday from 8:00 p.m. until midnight in the College Union ballroom. This dance is sponsored by the Monogram Club and will be semiformal.

Tickets may be bought from members of the Monogram Club this week for $1.75 per couple or per individual. Tickets at the door will cost $2.00.

Correction

In the October 22 issue of The Technician, the headline which read, "State, Toledo University Prepare Exchange Program" should have read, "State, Toronto University Prepare Exchange Program".

Attention Freshmen

There will be a meeting of all candidates for all Freshmen offices at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, October 27, 1959 in the College Union Theatre.

This will be a very important meeting. Positions on ballots will be determined. Please plan to attend if possible.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

S. G. . . Active, But Immature

Now that the State College Student Government has finally begun operation for the school year, it seems that they are trying to do the impossible. We refer to the resolution that was passed in the Thursday meeting concerning date tickets and seating arrangements to the football and basketball games. (See story, page 1.)

For at least the last ten years, all of the presidents of the various State College Student Governments have been going before the Athletic Council with a proposal from the students that the cost of date tickets be reduced to one dollar. And in each of these ten years, the vote for the proposal has been about five students in favor and ten alumni and faculty members against.

After so many years of attempting to pass a motion which was dead before it was brought up, it seems that the Student Government would realize the futility of bringing up the same motion again.

It has been suggested that the Student Government asked for this drastic cut with the thought in mind that they would probably not receive that, but that they would be able to get something rather than nothing by making the proposal.

This line of reasoning is all right to use when dealing with some bodies, but the Athletic Council is a hard group to convince when the question of reducing its income is brought up. Therefore, in each of the past ten years, it has immediately defeated the motion and forgot about it.

This year, however, when the motion was brought up in the Council meeting on Saturday morning, there was considerable discussion. After compromises on the part of the student delegation and the other members of the Council, it was decided to refer the matter to the Faculty Athletic Council.

Now the important factor underlying this whole matter is that the Athletic Director of State College had already agreed to back a request by the Student Government president to reduce the cost of date tickets to two dollars a game when bought on the seasonal basis. This would give the unmarried State student the opportunity to date to each game at the same cost as the married student. This motion would have easily passed had it not been for the completely ridiculous motion submitted by the Student Government.

Evidently, the members of the Student Government don't understand that they can't fight City Hall. A recommendation made by the president would have been approved at this minute, but, because of the bullheadedness of some members, the matter now awaits the

Little Forethought

The Maintenance and Operations Department here at State College has often been accused of using many workers to do a small job, and taking more time than is necessary in reaching the completion of the job.

It has also been accused of doing a task without forethought, only to find out too late that their completed job would have to be torn up. If there has been any classic example of this latter accusation in the past, then it should be forgotten, for the M & O, since mid-summer, has shown us a perfect and most obvious standard.

We are referring to the walk in front of Winston Hall. In the first session of summer school, the M & O began the task of rebuilding the sidewalks. A wall was built and a brick sidewalk was laid, giving State that rustic appearance of a small college town in New England.

Praise flowed frequently and loudly for the M & O. They were commended by the summer school students for giving State College a pleasing outward appearance.

But, now all of that appearance is gone. Once again the mud is abundant in front of Winston Hall; and the students are upset.

Possibly, the M & O is not responsible for this latest mistake. It is possible that they weren't notified of the long-range plan for improvement until they had already begun this summer.

But, wherever the fault lies, a serious lesson is responsibility and forethought should be taught soon.

action of the Faculty Athletic Council. It is our hope that this body will approve the motion calling for the two-dollar per game season date book.

The student body can consider itself lucky that the matter is still under consideration by the Athletic Council. The students may also feel thankful that the sponsors and backers of this immature Student Government resolution were not in the meeting on Saturday morning; for if they had been there, we can be sure that the question of a reduction in date tickets would have been lost for at least one more year.

"NOW THERE'S A STUDENT WHO'LL GO PLACES."

L.G.

As I walked through the door, his speech in a clear, penetrating tone; his voice wavered as he came to a tender passage, hesitating to let the full force of the lesson soak into our open, willing minds, giving us the full effect of his wisdom and authority. Even though we had heard his lesson at every weekly gathering, the emotion with which he delivered it moved us deeply. The assembled clan was the epitome of silence as he rambled on, teaching us a valuable fact with every breath. If you could only have heard him in all his glory and magnificence; but, then, how could an outsider be expected to understand, to comprehend the necessity of such lessons.

The lights again regained their full and shimmering brightness, showing us the assembled candidates from whom we were allowed to choose one who we felt was qualified to join our ranks, to become one of us. We fully realized the anxiety experienced by each of them; after all, we each had been in the place of the fortunate one of their midst at one time; we sympathized with the less fortunate who were to walk from our grand meeting place, never to see any of us again.

After the election of the new member, the closing meditation inspired us to fulfill our obligations, pay our fees, and be on our way, an inspired people.

Obviously, The Technician is following the juvenile lead of last year's paper in its attempt to discredit and disregard anyone who has the courage to write in about some of the weaker spots of The Technician. The replies of the editor to last week's criticism show that the editor knows how to express himself, that someone on the staff can't take criticism of any kind, and why some students have courage.

Anything The Technician does is liable to bring criticism of some kind. The fact that such criticism is sent to The Technician should be an indication that The Technician carries enough weight in some respects to be considered important. It also indicates that some students would like to take pride in an excellent newspaper.

The Technician staff is obviously doing a good job. A little toleration and a little bit of self-criticism would make it a better paper.

Bill Isler

To the members of the Junior Class:

The Student Government of State College may keep us from getting our class rings before Christmas! How? By simply refusing to change a 1932 Faculty Council rule which says, "... rings may not be delivered to, nor worn by members of the Junior Class until they have entered the second semester of their Junior Year."

It was stated at the Junior Class Meeting that we could get our rings before Christmas. That is, the ring company had agreed to have them ready for us. It was also stated that this rule would have to be changed, and your help was asked. And help was certainly needed last Thursday night when a bill was introduced to change the rule. Over half of our Junior senators were absent.

The bill met stiff opposition from some members of the Senior and Sophomore classes. The opposition felt that it would degrade the class ring for us to receive them before second semester. It was even suggested that class rings should not be received before one was a senior. Finally, the bill was tabled.

Since class rings have been ordered during the first semester of the Junior year for many years, and since a student may still receive his ring even if he flunks out of school at the end of this semester, this is hardly a valid argument. What it boils down to is some students objecting to our receiving our rings about two months before they did.

What can you do to help? Contact your senator and let him know how you feel. Write him a three-cent post card. His name is in the Tower, and a list of names and addresses will soon be placed on dormitory and campus bulletin boards. Listen to WKNC for further information.

I have done all that I can, alone. I need your help now.

Duke Edges Wolfpack In 17-15 Excitement

RIDDICK STADIUM... Duke University edged North Carolina State College Saturday afternoon in a real squeaker. The final score was 17-15, and the closeness of the score indicates the tenseness that was prevalent during the game.

The game was not played in ideal conditions, as a driving rainstorm about a half-hour before the kickoff made the field a muddy mess. By the end of the game it was hard to distinguish the ball players on either side.

It was a game that both ball clubs wanted very badly, for before the game each team had won only one game. The seniors on the Wolfpack squad wanted the game very badly because none of them had ever been on a Wolfpack team that had beaten Duke. In fact there had not been a Wolfpack team to beat Duke since the 1946 Gater Bowl team.

The Wolfpack came close, but close doesn't count in the win columns.

The game was an even played, hard-fought contest. Both teams had the same number of touchdowns. State had 234 yards of scrimmage advance to 170 yards for Duke. However, the Blue Devils had a field goal and the Pack didn't. This was the final margin of victory for the Blue Devils.

The Wolfpack marched 60 yards in 12 plays for the first score in the game. Ron Wojcicki raced over from the 2-yard line for the score. Wojcicki also made the try for the extra point and the Wolfpack led the Dukesters 7-0. This came at the 13:13 mark in the first quarter.

The Blue Devils were not about to play dead to the Wolfpack as they came fighting back. Jack Wilson scored from the 10-yard marker to put the Duke team back into the game. Art Browning converted the try for the extra point, and the score was STATE 7 Duke 7.

Just a couple of minutes after that, Wilson intercepted a Wojcicki pass and ran it back 61 yards for his second TD of the game. Browning made his second extra point of the day, and the Blue Devils led the Wolfpack 14-7. That was the way the score stood at the halfway mark in the contest.

There was a Blue Devil tail pulling contest at halftime with State side emerging victorious.

The only scoring that was done in the third quarter was done by the Blue Devils. It was their field goal by Browning in this quarter that proved to be the margin of victory. That made the score read Duke 17 STATE 7, as the game entered the final quarter of play.

State scored their second TD of the day, when Al Taylor, a sophomore halfback, scored from the 2-yard line. There was a little over two minutes left in the game. A two-point play was of utter necessity if the Wolfpack was to win. The Wolfpack cashed in on their first two-pointer, since the rule came into effect last year, with Ron Podwika passing to Jim Tapp for the conversion.

The Wolfpack had to get the ball. The Wolfpack got the ball with less than a minute left on the clock when Duke tried to make the yardage on a fourth down play that fell short.

The Wolfpack with Wojcicki leading the way marched from their own 40 to the Duke 20 with four seconds left in the game. At this point Wojcicki tried a field goal and missed.

So another State-Duke game is history. Bill Murray continues his jinx over the Wolfpack.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

DR. FROOD'S MORAL OF THE MONTH

Most college students today do not know the meaning of the word "adversity." Those who do are just a handful of English majors.

Dear Prof's Spouse: Leave a note saying you'll be back.

Dear Dr. Frood: Our library is full of "no smoking" signs. When I want a Lucky, I have to go outside. Is this right?

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes more and more important to be solidly grounded in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers of Philip Morris, tousling my yellow locks. Oh, grand men they are, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make, just as clean and fresh, just as friendly, just as agreeable to have along in all times and climes and places. "Of course, fond boy," laughed the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, giddy with giggling, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morris and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language we will take up French. We will approach French in the modern manner—ignoring the tedious rules of grammar and concentrating instead on idiom. After all, when we go to France, what does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? What matters is that we should be able to speak idiomatic conversational French.

So, for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd).

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane elevates itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has elevated itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: How many years has the small gray cat of the sick admiral?

PIERRE: She has four years, but the tall brown dog of the short blacksmith has only three.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence! In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural significance, like the Louvre, the Tomb of Napoleon, and the Eiffel Tower. . . What shall you do?

PIERRE: I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

Et vive aussi les Marlboros et les Alpines, les cigarettes très bonnes, très agréables, très magnifiques, et les sponsors de cette colonne-là.
