

East Carolina Coed Is Homecoming Queen

The favorite of 6,102 State College men, crowned Miss Wolfpack 1959 during Saturday's Homecoming game, is East Carolina College's contribution to Wolfpack beauty, Miss Peggy Breedlove.

A sophomore at East Carolina College, Peggy is the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Breedlove and the late Mr. Breedlove of Nashville, N. C. She was sponsored in the Homecoming Queen contest by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and escorted by Jimmy Parrish.

An attractive brunette who stands 5 feet 5 inches, Peggy has vital statistics of 34-24-34. She was crowned Homecoming Queen during half-time ceremony in Saturday's State-Wyoming game. As the Pershing Rifle Drill Team offered the Queen Anne Salute, Linda Wey, last year's Miss Wolfpack, placed the crown upon Peggy's head.

Chosen from a field of ten finalists in the annual Homecoming Queen contest, sponsored by Blue Key, Peggy won out over the following finalists: Vickie Taylor, sponsored by Sigma Chi; Elaine West, sponsored by Becton Dorm; Ann Lee, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi; Kathryn Crumpler, sponsored by the Ag Economics Club; Margaret Simmey, sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi; Diane Toff, sponsored by the Monogram Club; Virginia Padgett, sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon; Bonnie Brinser, sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha; and Mary Ruth Gordon, sponsored by the Young Democrats Club.

In the Homecoming parade Saturday morning, thousands of State students and Raleigh citizens witnessed 27 gaily-decorated floats, a part of the 41 marching units featured in the parade.

First place winners in each of the three divisions of competition were: Fraternity-Sigma Chi; Dormitory-Welch; and Organization-American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The second and third place floats were: Fraternity-Alpha Gamma Rho and Pi Kappa Phi; Dormitory-Owen and Fourth; and Organization-Horticultural Club and Alpha Phi Omega.

The winning float in the fraternity division depicted a wolf and cowboy on the gridiron, with the wolf branding the cowboy in a 'most tender spot.' The dormitory winner followed much the same scheme with a football field and the cowboy and wolf.

The organizational float carried a huge meat grinder, churning a cowboy into cowboy-burgers. (Adjacent photo by 'Sky' Kugler)

'Cloudy Skies,' Defeat Fail To Mar Pageantry Of Weekend Highlights

State College celebrated its 1959 Homecoming with a wide range of events Saturday.

A big Homecoming parade, held Saturday morning, attracted thousands of people to downtown Raleigh and along Hillsboro Street to State College.

Other highlights of the day-long program included the football game between N. C. State and Wyoming in Riddick Stadium; the selection of a Homecoming queen; "open house" in the Alumni Memorial Building; and the annual Homecoming dance.

In addition, eight North Carolina high school bands appeared in the parade and in special ceremonies at the football game.

Sponsoring the parade was the Order of Thirty and Three, sophomore leadership society, headed by Charles Russell of Jamesville. Blue Key, the junior leadership society, headed by Phil Carlton of Pinetops, sponsored the Homecoming queen contest.

The Homecoming dance was sponsored by the Monogram Club, headed by Richard (Tiny) Reynolds of College Park, Md., a tackle on the Wolfpack football team, and was held in the main ballroom of the College Union Saturday from 8 o'clock until midnight. Music was provided by the Lamplighters.

The Raleigh Merchants Bureau presented trophies to winning floats in three categories in today's parade. The winners were Sigma Chi, Welch Dorm, and A.S.M.E.

A group of 25 floats competed in the parade. They included 10 from dormitories, seven from fraternities, and eight from other student organizations.

The parade judges were James E. Briggs, former Raleigh mayor and president of T. H. Briggs and Sons; G. Akers Moore, Jr., vice president of the Commercial Printing Company and president of the Research Triangle Corporation; and G. Wesley Williams, executive secretary, Raleigh Merchants Bureau.

Linda Wey of Boone, major-ette with the State College Band and queen of the 1958 Homecoming, crowned the new queen, Peggy Breedlove, during half-time exercises at the game.

The College Band, along with the visiting high school bands, presented a special program prior to the game. Following the game, the Alumni Association held an "open house" and coffee hour at the Alumni Memorial Building.

The board of directors of the Alumni Association met at the college Saturday at 10 a.m., with Mose Kiser of Greensboro, chairman, presiding. The association's president is Richard L. Rice of Raleigh.

Freshman Election Rules

Today, final steps are being taken to open the election booths for the primary voting of Freshman officers.

A freshman class meeting is scheduled for tonight in Williams Hall at 7:30 p.m.

The primary elections will be Tuesday, November 3; the finals are to be held Thursday, November 5. On poll days the booth will be open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. These booths will be located at the following sites:

- #1 College Union
- #2 YMCA
- #3 Winston Hall
- #4 Becton-Berry-Bagwell
- #5 Between Alexander and Turlington (White House)

- #6 Bragaw Dorm
- #7 Riddick

All Student Government members are required to be present at the College Union at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday to count votes.

ATTENTION

Thursday, November 5, 1959, is the last day to pick out your proof picture for the Agromeck. These proofs can be seen downstairs at the College Union between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

To Prevent Apathy

In the Bond Referendum which came before the people of North Carolina last week, the section that referred to additional building for the State's educational institutions passed by almost a two-to-one margin. Although this was a sweet victory for many persons who had worked long hours for the affirmative vote, there was still a sting of defeat in their minds when the final tabulations were released.

This defeat, which put a damper on any kind of victory celebration, was that only a very small number of eligible North Carolina voters came forth to register their feelings.

It is sad that the adult population of this State feel that their votes are useless, but only wishful thinkers can hope to change their voting habits. Many years ago, they decided that it was useless to vote because of some mistaken opinion that one vote never makes any difference.

So let them remain happy in their apathetic state. But, because they have degenerated is no reason for our generation to follow in their footsteps. Every year, here on the State campus, students are given at least one opportunity to form healthy voting habits. And the first opportunity for the Class of 1963 is now on top of us.

We speak of the primary and final elections for Freshman Class officers and representatives which will be held tomorrow and Thursday. (See story, page one.)

Some may say that this election means very little because they will only represent us for the rest of this year. However, the past has shown us that the students who win in their freshman year are many times the campus leaders when they are juniors and seniors. Because of this, these leaders must be chosen carefully.

But, despite the importance of the election in this respect, we must go back to the original reason given for our urging of a strong turn-out. In the past, there have been several times when the margin of victory for a candidate was less than ten votes.

Therefore, it seems like it would be impossible for a class of students to become indifferent. But such is not the case. Often, students have followed the example set by the adults of this State, with the result being that less than one-third take part in choosing their leaders.

Strange as it may seem, in the past, the Freshman Class has always been the weakest. One reason for this is that they have been here such a short time that they have not learned the potential leaders of their class and, therefore, cannot make an intelligent selection.

This may be true, but the ones who want to win this election will be coming to the dorms tonight and Wednesday night, wanting to meet their classmates and discuss the policies of the Freshman Class.

After you talk to these men, and decide on the best candidate for each office, go and register your choice in the primary and final elections. A high percentage of votes for the candidates who are anxious to win is the only thing that can assure State College of having capable leaders in the future.

In deep respect, we bow to you,
O, State!
The miracles you work are truly great.
We come in as Freshmen, and, as such,
Find that in high school we missed too much.
But, we accept that, bitter or sweet;
We are not willing to accept defeat.
We settle down. Just four years away
We'll reach our goal, Graduation Day.
Yes, we come to you; you take us in
As we are and as we have been.
You have taken us, a diamond in the rough,
And polished us into a smoother, better stuff.
You transformed us, such as glass from sand.
We emerge and we bow—you've made us a man!

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Why is it that every year each new staff on The Technician tries to pull the same old hoax? And why is it that the students always have to stretch their imaginations to believe it?

It seems to me that, if you really wanted to pretend that there was somebody at State College rude enough to condemn a little racy humor, you should have made the deception reasonable by inserting a feminine signature, and, speaking of signatures for heaven's sake: what planet would a man of that name come from? Come now, can't you think of a more plausible name?

Furthermore, if you are going to create this imaginary writer of such inexorable taste, you should not destroy the vision by allowing it to refer to Adam, Sir Knight, and Campus Howl like a connoisseur.

Mike Harley

P.S. In reply to your request for constructive criticism, here you are: The Penguin's Roost is much too short. And it doesn't appear in each edition. Correct this situation, please!

To the Editor:

Congratulations to you and your staff of The Technician for the splendid work you are doing with this year's student newspaper. I emphasize the word student, because I am under the impression that The Technician is written and published by State College students; for State College students . . . not our parents.

I look forward to each edition of The Technician and read its entire contents. I can truthfully say that the articles are quite informative, and some are very amusing.

"The Penguin's Roost" . . . I personally enjoy it, but I can see, from previous criticism of the column, that it is written for the benefit and enjoyment of the more mature students only. Being in this category, I feel that the column is neither obscene nor vulgar, but that it offers the student a form of amusement and an outlet for the pressure created by intense studying.

I've spoken to many students concerning this article, and they have expressed the same opinion as I. So, speaking for them, myself, and all other Penguin supporters, let me again congratulate you and encourage you to keep up the fine work. We are behind you one hundred per cent.

Jerry Moore Winberry

To the Editor:

I have been very impressed by the lack of coverage our sports department has been giving to the minor sports on campus. It appears to me that this is an act of carelessness or gross negligence on the part of the sports staff. Many more college men participate each year in minor sports on campus than do in major sports. Track, swimming, cross country, soccer, and tennis, to mention some, have, participating in them, some very fine athletes. Yet, no one on campus ever knows of the fine job that they are doing.

Do not misunderstand me. I love football and basketball, but I do not think that they are the only sports in which the student body would be interested.

For instance, our cross country team has a 5-1 record: a fine record in any sport. We have defeated Wake Forest, Clemson, Virginia, South Carolina, and Carolina, while losing only to Duke.

I speak of track because I am more familiar with it. But, in the three years that I have been reading The Technician, there has been only one "Athlete of the Week" from this sport. By some coincidence, he was also an outstanding football player. He certainly deserved the award,

L.G.

I started thinking the other day—you know how things usually come out when you try to think about something that you can't really comprehend. Thoughts begin to get all tangled up and start making little or no sense at all. I was way over my head in ever thinking about it; I have never really been too good a thinker. Anyway, the ideas came and I started trying to put them together. I ended up with a mass of jumbled facts that didn't seem to have any logical relation to each other. There seemed to be one main fact missing in my scheme of thought. If I could find that fact, I thought, I would be able to find the answer. I started searching my mind for that one important missing fact, that one necessary piece of thought.

After thinking for a long time—I don't remember how long—I decided that I would never be able to find my fact. That night I went to sleep, still trying to find my answer, listening to the tune of cars scurrying their busy way past my window.

I went walking alone the next day. The woods were beautiful in the warm spring air. The trees were just beginning to offer their color to the picturesque scene that I was watching in a sort of trance. The birds were singing in clear tones, announcing their return from some unknown, hidden stronghold, making the forest echo with their song, their proclamation of a new life, another year. The ground was covered with a living dampness, reminding me that the night had been here only a short while before. The bright red sun began to appear far off in the distance, throwing soft shadows of the trees across the cool ground, still hiding the small creatures scampering around oblivious to my being there, running and playing new games, stretching their legs for the first time since fall; greeting each other in the morning dew. The ground was as yet untouched by civilization, clean for the life of the forest.

As I walked home from the woods, away from nature, into civilization, I again began to think as I had the night before; except, this time, I had my answer.

Greeks On Campus

By Bill Marley

The Interfraternity Council was relatively busy this past week, and several items were passed, discussed, etc., that most of you Greeks will be interested in.

The Kingston Trio has been sent a contract which, if accepted, will make way for the Trio to give an outdoor concert at the Spring I.F.C. Dance. We want them to sing out at Brewer's, and I, personally, can't think of a more casual way to spend an afternoon prior to a dance.

Fire inspection will be conducted as usual this year in all fraternity houses by the Raleigh Fire Department and we have requested that they try to get it done between the Fall Pledge Dance weekend and the Christmas holidays. The Fire Department will notify the individual houses in advance so that they can conduct their own "pre-inspection" inspection.

A motion concerning all fraternities directly was brought up and passed at the Wednesday meeting. It was presented by Dave Thomas, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and it was made in the interest of good inter-fraternity relations. In essence, the bill stated that should a fraternity use derogatory material or make derogatory statements about other fraternities in front of rushers, that that fraternity using the material should receive the condemnation of all other fraternities here at State.

Perhaps this motion will spotlight and hence help eliminate the past use of such rushing and allow all fraternities to sell themselves on their own good points and not on others bad points.

Wyoming Hands State Fifth Setback, 26-0

By Earl Mitchell

The Cowboys from the University of Wyoming exploded in the second quarter of their game with the N. C. State on Saturday afternoon to hand the Wolfpack their fifth setback of the current season. A homecoming crowd of some 13,500 saw the two teams play a good even first period before the boys from the West crossed the goal line into paydirt for twenty points in the last twelve minutes of the second quarter.

The Wolfpack lost the toss, but got the ball after Wyoming failed to move the ball for a first down and was forced to punt. The Pack took the ball on their own 34 and moved to a first down on the 45 before Bernie Latusick slipped into the Cowboy secondary for 13 yards. Latusick added four more yards and Ron Podwika picked up five yards to put the Pack in position for another first down. Ron Wojcik picked up the one yard necessary for the first down at the Cowboy 27.

The State College team got only one yard closer and then an attempted field goal fell short ending State's more serious scoring threat of the day. The Wolfpack did get to the Wyoming 13 yard marker in the latter part of the game when sub-quarterback Tom Dellinger uncorked a 36 yard pass to John Morris, but the Wolfpack attack couldn't push on and lost the ball.

On the first play of the second period Jerry Hill of the Skyline champs picked off a State aerial and returned it to the Wolfpack 34. From here the Cowboys moved into the scoring column in seven plays with Hill covering the final yard with 12:11 remaining in the half. The point after attempt failed and the Cowboys went into a six point lead and they stayed in that position for the rest of the game.

The next time the Wyoming team got their hands on the ball they moved 56 yards in ten plays on the strength of the passing arm of Jim Walden to a touchdown with 5:58 remaining in the second stanza. The point after attempt failed and the Cowboys held a 12-0 lead.

The Wyoming team was not satisfied with their lead and they took over the ball on the State 45 in the closing minutes of the first half and moved to a third touchdown in just four plays with a Walden to Kevin Ward pass covering the final 16 yards. This time the Cowboys made good on their pass attempt for the extra point and went to the locker room with a 20-0 lead.

The Wyoming team concluded their scoring exhibition in the third period when they recovered a State fumble on the State 18. They moved the distance in three plays with Walden stepping the final yard into the end zone. The try for the point-after failed and the Cowboys had the winning margin of 26-0 on the scoreboard.

Late in the third period the Wolfpack turned to the spread formation in an effort to get more protection for their passers, but this move did not help the Pack attack too much. A blocked Wyoming punt midway in the fourth period gave the Wolfpack the ball on the Wyoming 49 and it was in this series that Dellinger hurled his 36 yard aerial to Morris.

The Pack led the Cowboys in only two department of the statistics end of the game. The Pack picked up 11 first downs which was one more than the Cowboy's ten. The Pack had no penalty yards stepped off against them while the Wyoming team lost 80 yards. The Cowboys picked up 156 yards on the ground and 130 in the air while State picked up 36 and 83 in these departments respectively.

The Wyoming game marked the end of the home season for the Wolfpack with the State seniors playing their last game in Riddick Stadium. This week the Wolfpack will move down to Mobile, Ala. to take on Mississippi Southern. This will be the second game of the current series between the two schools. Last year the Pack dropped a 26-14 decision.

Registration Opens For Cage Tourney

The registration period for all teams which would like to participate in the Intramural Dixie Basketball Classics began today.

This year the tournament will begin on November 16. The tourney is open to all Dormitory, Fraternity and Open League teams.

This year there will be no resident or organizational restrictions placed on the teams, but all players must be students. Last year a total of 64 teams registered and participated in the first round games of the tournament.

Tucker No. 1, Kappa Alpha Win Feature Grid Games

The action was fast and heavy in the different grid leagues last week. In the top dormitory game of the week Tucker No. 1 slipped passed Turlington 12-7. Over in the Fraternity League Kappa Alpha won a close decision over Sigma Alpha Mu by rolling up 14 more yards rushing than the Sigma Alpha Mu team. The regular game ended in a tie but the decision went to Kappa Alpha on yardage.

Two other games were also won by the yardage route in the Fraternity League. The PEP-TKE game ended in a tie, but the PEP team won the game on the yardage rule. The game, however, was protested by the TKE team. The Delta Sigma team fought to a 6-6 tie with the Farm House team and won the game on the yardage rule.

Ralph Abernethy was the big gun in the Tucker attack as he scored all of Tucker's 12 points. Abernethy returned a punt for a touchdown and also caught a scoring aerial. Turlington got its only score when Horne caught a pass good for a touchdown.

Brummit, Abernethy and Davis were the leading performers for the Tucker team while Horne and Burton led the Turlington team in that contest.

The fraternity thriller of the week ended in a 6-6 tie, but the KA's edged the SAM team on yardage 123-109 to take the victory. Ferrell, York, Miller and Ritchie led the KA team in their win while Cohen, Silver and Saffran were the top players for the losers.

Scores for last week's action in the Fraternity League are as follows:
KA 6-SAM 6 (KA Won By Yardage)

SAE 7-AGR 0
S. Chi 25-PEA 6
Sigma Nu 12-PEP 6
PEP 6-TKE 6 ((PEP Won By Yardage))
KA 12-TKE 0
K. Sigma 12-T. Chi 8
D. Sigma 6-Farm House (D. Sigma Won By Yardage)
K. Sigma 12-D. Sigma 6
SPE 16-PKT 8
SAM 14-Sigma P1 7

The action in the Dormitory League went as follows:
Watagus 32-Becton 0
Berry 15-Owen 22, 0
Tucker #1, 12-Turlington 7
Bragaw 12-WGS4 0

This week another big week is slated in both the volley ball and football leagues. The volleyball games scheduled for tonight have been moved to tomorrow night because of a Military Science that is being given tonight. The following is the line-up of games on tap in the Fraternity Football League for this week.

Tuesday

Freshman Candidates Issue Statements

President—Norwood

Carroll Norwood, a freshman in ME, has announced his candidacy for president of the Freshman class.

Norwood made this statement to The Technician.

"I am glad to have the opportunity to say a few words regarding the coming elections. My name is Carroll Norwood, and by now if you haven't seen that name on campus, it is my fault, for I have tried to cover as much as possible. Let's just pretend for the time being that you do not know who I am or what I am running for.

I am running for President of your Freshman class, and urge you to support me in the elections. No doubt most of you have ridden horses at one time or another. When you went to the stables, did you ask the manager for the slowest, most flea-bitten nag he had? No, I don't believe you did! You probably said something like, 'Hey, Mac—I want the most spirited one you got!' In a horse, you want spirit. In a president, the first thing you must have is desire.

Friends, I know I have that sincere desire. I want this position because there are things which need doing in College! There is prestige to be gained for the freshman class, influence to be acquired, and an election to be won!

Tonight on WKNC radio (580 kc) about 9:30, I am going to make a short talk in another effort to win your vote and your friendship. In the meantime, remember that my name is "Norwood" and is the last name on the ballot for president. Without you, there can be no election—without your support I have worked in vain."

V. P.—Floyd McCall

Floyd McCall, a freshman in EE, has announced his candidacy for vice-president of the freshman class.

His campaign manager made this statement to The Technician.

"Floyd is a scholarship winner and a WKNC staff member. He comes to State as an experienced leader. He was valedictorian of his class at Brevard High School, president of the Beta, Journalism, and 4-H clubs. McCall was the editor of his high school newspaper and a member of the Debating Team for four years. He held numerous other offices and received various other awards.

"Floyd worked for two years as sports director of WPNF in Brevard and was outstanding in church work."

In a recent statement, McCall said, "Certainly with seventeen hundred ambitious and outstanding freshmen on campus, there are many who possess the qualities of good leaders. I hope that each man and woman will stop to compare the records of the candidates before casting his vote.

"It pleases me very much to be selected to seek this important position, and I assure my fellow freshmen that I will always work to the best of my ability and render my fullest service in serving them if they see fit to honor me with the opportunity of service as their vice-president.

V. P.—Jim Henry

Jim Henry wishes to announce his candidacy for the office of vice president of the Freshman class. His campaign statement is:

"Realizing certain facts about the office to which I aspire, I am not going to make any wild campaign promises. Almost the entire duty of freshman class officers is the Freshman-Sophomore Dance. Their power to improve the lot of the freshman class is strictly in the imaginations of certain over-zealous candidates.

"What I will try to do, if elected, is to try to make Freshman-Sophomore Dance a big success. I have had considerable experience with parties and dances and feel that I am well-qualified to bring this one off the way we all want it. Remember, a vote for Jim Henry is a vote for a terrific Freshman-Sophomore Dance."

DIARY OF A COED

MONDAY: Prof. Pomfrit sprang quiz in English lit this morning. If Shakespeare didn't write Canterbury Tales I'm a dead duck . . . Lunch at the house—turkey hash. Question: how can we have turkey hash when we never had turkey? . . . Smoked a Marlboro after lunch. I dig those better makin's the most! . . . Played bridge with sorors in afternoon. When game was over, my partner stabbed me several times with hatpin. Must learn weak club bid . . . Dinner at house—lamb hash. Question: how can we have lamb hash when we never had lamb? . . . Smoked a Marlboro after dinner. What filter! What flavor! What pack or box! . . . Chapter meeting at night. Motion made to abolish capital punishment for pledges. Motion defeated . . . Smoked more Marlboros. Quelle joie! . . . And so to bed.

TUESDAY: Faculty tea at the house. Spilled pot of oolong on Dean of Women. She very surly. Offered her a Marlboro. Still surly. Offered skin graft. No help . . . Dinner at Kozy Kampus Kafe—24 hamburgers. But no dessert. Have to watch waistline . . . And so to bed.

WEDNESDAY: Got our marks in English lit quiz. Lucky for me Shakespeare wrote Canterbury Tales! . . . Afternoon date with Ralph Feldspar. Purely platonic. Ralph wanted to consult me about love trouble he's having with his girl Nymphet Calloway. I assured him things would get better. Ralph said he certainly hopes so because last four times he called on Nymphet, she dumped vacuum cleaner bag on him . . . Smoked several Marlboros. Wonderful cigarette. No confusion about which end to light. Saves loads of time . . . Dinner at house—bread. That's all; just bread . . . And so to bed.

THURSDAY: Three packages from home—laundry, cookies, records. So hungry I ate all three . . . Quiz in American history. If Millard Fillmore didn't invent cotton gin, I'm in big trouble . . . Dinner at house. Big excitement—Nymphet Calloway announced her engagement to Ralph Feldspar. While sorors flocked around to congratulate Nymphet, I ate everybody's side meat . . . Then smoked Marlboro. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! . . . And so to bed.

FRIDAY: Got our marks in American history quiz. Was shattered to learn that Millard Fillmore did not invent cotton gin. He wrote Canterbury Tales . . . How very odd! . . . Lunch at the house—bread hash . . . Marlboro after lunch. Great smoke. Must send valentine to manufacturers . . . Spent entire afternoon getting dressed for date tonight with Norman Twonkey. Norman is tall, dark, loaded—a perfect doll! Only thing wrong is he never tells a girl where he's going to take her. So I put on a bathing suit, on top of that an evening gown, and on top of that a snowsuit. Thus I was ready for a splash party, a dance, or a toboggan slide . . . So what do you think happened? He entered me in a steeplechase, that's what! . . . Would have taken first prize easily if I hadn't pulled up lame in the last furlong . . . And so to bed.

Yes, the college life is a busy one and you may be having trouble choosing the cigarette that's right for you. Here's a handy guide: For filter plus flavor—Marlboro. For flavor without filter—Philip Morris. For filter plus flavor plus coolness—Alpine . . . All made by the sponsors of this column.
