AGROMECK PICTURE SCHEDULE

The Agromeck is making an early start in taking individual pictures. The schedule set up by the Agromeck is a sequence divided into classes, starting today. All pictures will be taken in the College Union Art Gallery between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Agromeck has made a request that coats and ties be worn for all individual shots.

Freshmen are reminded that the Agromeck is the State College Yearbook publication. The Agromeck was paid for through the general fees of the tuition.

The schedule of times to have ones picture taken is as follows: Freshmen: A-F Mon., Sept. 21; G-J Tues., Sept. 22; K-O Wed., Sept. 23; P-T Thurs., Sept. 24; U-Z Fri., Sept. 25.

Seniors: Mon.-Fri., Sept. 28-Oct. 2.

Juniors: Mon.-Fri., Oct. 5-9.

Sophomores: Mon.-Fri., Oct. 12-16.

Graduate & Special: Mon.-Fri., Oct. 19-23.

Enrollment Reaches All-Time Peak Last Fall's Total Surpassed

"State's enrollment reaches all-time high", Mr. E. G. Overton, Assistant Director of Admissions and Registration at State College, reported to The Technician yesterday.

Enrollment has already reached 5,800 and registration will not be completed until Friday. During the period between now and Friday, students may still register if they pay a late registration fee of five dollars. Registration officials are expecting three or four hundred additional students to register before the deadline.

Highest previous enrollment peak was reached in the fall of 1956 when 5,573 students were enrolled here.

No final figures on enrollment can be made until Friday, but with over 5,800 students already registered and at least two of three hundred more expected, the total is expected to top 6,000.

The expected 6,000 students will surpass last fall's enrollment by approximately 300 and last spring's enrollment by approximately 1,000.

Freshmen registration was held on Thursday and upperclassmen registered on Friday. Approximately 1,700 freshmen and 4,100 upperclassmen registered during the two-day period.

These students will be enrolled in all six of the College's degree-granting schools. Approximately half of the students will be registered in the School of Engineering. The School of Agriculture will probably be second in total enrollment and the School of Education will probably be third.

The Schools of Forestry and the Textiles will have approximately the same enrollment and the School of Design will have the least.

The total State College enrollment figure does not include students registered at two of the institution's divisions outside Raleigh, Gaston Tech and Charlotte College, students enrolled in night college here, or students taking extension courses from State.

One of the better features of registration was the attractive coeds and secretaries who helped inside the Coliseum. (Photo by Khosla)

Ticket Time Schedule Now Made Available

Tickets for the State-Carolina football game will be available starting September 22. This game will be played in Chapel Hill on October 3.

Students may pick up these tickets by presenting their Athletic Tickets and their I. D. cards to Window #2 at the Coliseum between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. September 21-25. There will be no charge for student tickets, but date tickets will cost $4.50.

Round trip bus tickets to Chapel Hill can be obtained at Room 100 in the Coliseum on Tuesday, September 29 from 7:00 o'clock to 9:00 p.m. Student bus tickets are free, however date tickets are priced at $1.50. The bus is to leave at 12:00 noon from the front of the Coliseum, Saturday, October 3.

Tickets for all home football games will be issued from the Coliseum ticket booths. A married student may purchase a season football ticket for his wife from the Coliseum Box office for $6.00. The price of date tickets and the date that tickets may be picked up for the home games are listed below:

For the Wake Forest game, October 17, the cost will be $4.00 for date tickets, and the issuing dates are from October 12 to 16. For the Duke game, October 24, the cost will be $4.00 for date tickets, and the issuing dates will be from October 19 to 23. For the Wyoming game, October 31, the cost will be $1.00 for date tickets, and the issuing dates will be from October 26 to 30. The tickets can be picked up between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Students will be admitted to all general admission basketball games by presenting their athletic tickets and their I. D. cards at the door. Date tickets may be bought at the door for one dollar.

A student will be required to present both his Athletic Ticket and his I. D. Card when picking up his ticket for a reserved seat game.

For the Wake Forest game, January 16, the tickets can be picked up from January 11-15 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For the Duke game, February 9, the tickets can be picked up from February 6-8 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Mancini Pass to Latusick Highlights Pack Comeback

By Jay Brame

A 72-yard touchdown pass from second string quarterback Gerry Mancini to halfback Bernie Latusick, also a second stringer, was the margin of victory as N. C. State launched its 1959 football campaign on a victorious note for the fourth consecutive year.

Virginia Tech's Gobblers provided the Wolfpack some rough competition throughout the game before the final gun went off with the Wolfpack winning by the narrow margin of 15-13.

This game was the first varsity competition for State's heralded soph quarterback, Roman Gabriel. The "Rocket" gave a good account of himself in the first half as he completed four out of seven passes for 54 yards.

The Wolfpack started the scoring off when sub quarterback Ron Wojicki kicked a 44-yard field goal in a professional like manner. The field goal came with 6:58 left in the first quarter.

State scored its first touchdown when Roman Gabriel hit pay dirt in the second quarter to give the Wolfpack a 9-0 lead. The try for the extra point failed. The drive for the touchdown went 73 yards. Key plays in the drive were Gabriel's pass to end Jim Tapp for 15 yards to the 22-yard line and Ron Podwika's 21-yard run to the one-yard line.

The Forestry Club meeting will be held on September 22, at 7 p.m. The meeting is to be in Kilgore Hall Room 159. Refreshments will be served.

The Alpha Zeta book exchange is to be held in the College Union cloak room. The book exchange started today, and it will last until Friday. The exchange starts every day of this week at twelve noon.

Auditions for the N. C. State Men's Glee Club and Band will be held in the music building, Pullen Hall. The auditions will be conducted between the hours of eight a.m. to five p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday.

The Danforth Chapel services will be conducted each Wednesday at 12:40 p.m. In Danforth Chapel of the E. S. King Religious Center.

The last day of registration is this Friday the 25th. A fee of five dollars is charged for late registration.

State students resting and standing in the long lines that are evident at all registrations. These students were in for a pleasant surprise when they finally got in the Coliseum. The lines inside were much smaller and the registration inside moved smoother than it had in previous years. (Photo by Khosla)

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Sign of the Future

The fact that the enrollment here at State College has reached an all-time high this fall is indeed something of which we can all be proud. (See story, page 1.)

Many people have speculated that the main reason for this great increase in enrollment is the new ruling concerning the relaxed requirements for readmittance once a student is down points. Certainly this theory has some merit; this could be noted by seeing the number of blue rosters during registration Friday.

But, let us look at this increase in a more optimistic light. Students, both in school and out of school, are realizing that the technical mind is the mind of the future. This fact has been brought to the surface by the recent accomplishments of the Soviet Union and the United States in the space field.

Because of this realization, students know that, in order to insure their future well-being, it will be necessary to receive their education.

Let us remember this year that we are here for the purpose of receiving that education. It may seem unimportant at this time, but the future well-being of ourselves and our world is in our hands.

—JM

A Chance Remains

With a great deal of interest and anticipation, we came back to State this fall. The reason for this unusually high optimism was that we had heard one of the local radio stations was now broadcasting on a full, twenty-four hours a day schedule.

Much to our chagrin, we found, by listening to this station until 4:30 a.m., that they are operating on a complete diet of "rock and roll". Now, this form of music is all right at parties and other social affairs, but it is close to impossible to do any serious work with it blaring in the background.

Perhaps this radio station has some ulterior motive behind its saturation of the air waves with "rock and roll". It is hard to believe that adults could think that all people enjoy listening to "rock and roll" all the time.

We hope that this supposed ulterior motive is to play the music so much and so often that the people of Raleigh get sick of it. We hope it works, but, in the meantime, we have to put up with it until something better comes along.

And maybe this "something better" is on the way. WKNC, the campus radio station, is now on the air each night until 1:30 a.m. In the near future, the staff of WKNC hopes to extend their broadcasting time until 3 a.m.

To make it more possible for WKNC to have this added air time, it's important that they have enough listeners to warrant such a change. Write to WKNC, and we may soon have legitimate music late at night here.

"WE'D LIKE TO CHECK OVER THE REQUIRED TEXT FOR THIS COURSE... COONSKIN & I TIRE AT HAVING TO CARRY A HEAVY BOOK."

Several Additions Made to Staff; Opportunity for Writers Wide Open

In the past three days since the first issue of The Technician was published, we have been overwhelmed by the number of freshmen who are interested in working with The Technician this year. Not only does this mean that there will be better coverage of the news on campus this year, but also it means that more students are finding that participation in extra-curricula activities improve their chances for advancement after the college years.

Although we have had many freshmen by the office, we still need both freshmen and upperclassmen to work during this year on the newspaper. Most of the students that have come by so far have been primarily interested in writing columns. We need those students who are interested in working with page layouts, copyreading, news coverage, and typing.

If any of you have had experience in any of the positions listed above, we invite you again to come by the offices of this newspaper in Rooms 137-140 of the 1911 Building. Even if you have not had experience in work of these sorts, but are sincerely interested in learning, we want you to come by. Remember that we must have a complete staff to have a reputable newspaper.

Greeks On Campus

by Bill Marley

Well, here we are ready to start another year with the Greeks here at North Carolina State. For those of you who are new on campus, I am Bill Marley, a senior in Nuclear Engineering from Southern Pines. I will be writing the news of the Greeks and for the Greeks—the fraternity men here at State.

Since there are eighteen fraternities here at State with approximately six hundred men in them, I find it impossible, as one man, to report all that goes on at each house every weekend. Therefore, I would like to say to each house that whenever anything big is going to happen or when there is any news at all, just let me know by Sunday each week before 5 p.m. and I'll see that it is included in this column.

Newt week, I hope to give some time-tested advice to the Freshmen about the "right" way to rush a house.

(Editor's note: Again this year, we are fortunate in having Bill Marley's artistic penmanship assisting The Technician in keeping up with the news of the fraternity men at State. Actually, this year Marley will be more of a Fraternity Editor than a columnist as he was last year . . . All news, whether it be of parties, elections, honors, or general news, will go through young Marley.)

Therefore, when there is any news coming from any of the fraternity houses here, call Bill Marley at TE 2-4843.)

From here Gabriel went over their belts the Wolfpack now looks forward to two weeks when they will journey over to Chapel College to play the Tar Heels. The Tar Heels were beaten by the Tigers from Clemson College who handed the Tar Heels their fourth straight opening day loss. The score was 20-18.

The Wolfpack has an open date this Saturday, while the Tar Heels journey to South Bend, Ind., to play the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame.

This is where hero, Gerry Mancini, came to the rescue. He, as stated above, heaved a touchdown pass that saved the Pack from its first opening day defeat in four years.

The half ended with the Pack ahead by the score of 9-0. The second half saw the Gobblers come back and score two touchdowns to lead the Wolfpack 13-9 going into the final quarter.

Coach Earle Edwards will have a Sunday night television show this fall for the third straight year. The show will originate on WRAL-TV (Channel 5) each Sunday evening beginning at 5:30.

There's a lot of hard work in football, to be sure. But Bill Smaltz, State's freshman coach, is the kind of guy who likes to inject humor into the game.

When the varsity is scrimmaging, Smaltz takes charge of the defensive team. He tells the players which defensive formation to use and takes great pride when his defensive team stops the varsity.

Twice last week Smaltz was caught using 12 players. "No wonder we couldn't move the ball," Coach Earle Edwards laughed.

"I just wanted to make things tougher," Smaltz replied.

Right halfback Ron Podwika, a senior, has learned a lot about football during the past four years, but there's one thing the handsome griddler wants to learn before leaving.

After seeing sophomore quarterback Roman Gabriel score touchdowns on runs of 32 and 25 yards in a scrimmage, Podwika said, "I've got to learn to dance, side-step and shake off tacklers like Gabe . . . then I'll have it made."

In 25 years as a football coach, Earle Edwards has never been associated with a team which used a balanced line . . . except for one week when he was on the staff of the Blue-Gray All-Star game.

Edwards was a high school coach for one year, then was an assistant at his alma mater, Penn State, for 13 years and an assistant at Michigan State for five years.

The popular Wolfpack coach is beginning his sixth season at State.

Coach Earle Edwards says the two most underrated players on the North Carolina State squad are fullback Arnold Nelson and guard Frank Marocco.

"Those two boys don't capture a lot of headlines," the Wolfpack coach says apologetically, "but there aren't two more dependable players on the squad. They get the job done with a maximum of effort and a minimum of mistakes."

"Some players have a flare for the spectacular," Edwards continues, "and their play captures the public's fancy. Nelson and Marocco aren't flashy, but they are steady, hard-working boys who give their best from the opening kickoff to the final second."

Nelson, a 204-pounder from Charleroi, Pa., has impressive statistics to back up Edwards' statements. Last year he led the Wolfpack in scoring and was the team's second leading ground gainer.

As a junior in 1958, the hard-charging Nelson picked up 325 yards in 84 carries for a 3.9 average. He was responsible for four of the Wolfpack's 18 touchdowns.

"Nelson will probably make less mistakes than anybody in our backfield," Edwards declares. "He rarely fumbles and he usually gets his man when he has a blocking assignment."

Marocco, who has earned the nickname "Rock," has the difficult job of replacing Bill Rearick as State's "pulling guard." He was Rearick's sub last fall and was first-rate.

An Aliquippa, Pa., native, Marocco's duties are many. Besides the important task of pulling out to lead interference, he serves as the middle linebacker on defense, a job he handles efficiently.

"Rock" has upped his weight to 210 this year, 15 pounds above last year's playing weight. He carries the extra poundage well and has been using it to good advantage, backing up his jarring blocks and tackles with increased power.

Both Nelson and Marocco will be called upon for punting chores this fall, another talent which they contribute to the squad.

"They may be underrated as far as the public is concerned," Edwards concludes, "but you can bet our opponents don't take them lightly. That's for sure."

The intramural department is happy to announce that the intramural fields have been reconditioned this past summer and are now in the best shape ever. Intramural Fraternity football begins Monday, September 28, and Dormitory league will begin Wednesday, September 30. Fraternity football games will be played on Mondays, while Dormitory football games will be played on Wednesdays. Rained out games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the fraternities and dormitories respectively.

The golf and volleyball schedule will be released in the near future. The intramural office will give a more detailed report on the up and coming events in the next issue of The Technician.

All intramural football officials are urged to attend a clinic and meeting to be held Wednesday, September 23, 1959, at 4:15 in the lobby of Frank Thompson Gym. Freshmen and upperclassmen are urged to attend as anyone interested in working with the intramural program must be familiar with the intramural rules and regulations, before their services can be used. The intramural department will pay all officials and supervisors for their services rendered. If you are remotely interested in officiating football or any other phase of working with the intramural program, you are urged to attend this meeting.

Air Force ROTC Staff Sees New Additions

The Air Force Organization at State College has announced the assignment of two officers and one enlisted man to its staff. These men are Major Maynard Gosworth, Captain Charles Rowan and Airman First Class Don Helsabeck.

Major Gosworth served previously as a C-123 type airplane flight commander in Alaska. He is an aeronautical engineering graduate of the University of Illinois and is also a senior pilot with over 16 years of active military service. He will be an air science instructor at State College.

He was the first pilot to land a heavy wheeled airplane on Ice Island Number 2 on the Arctic Ocean in Alaska. In addition, he was awarded the Bush Pilots Certificate in Alaska by the Air Force for making 10 bush landings.

Capt. Rowan was previously assigned as a flight commander with a flight interceptor squadron in Germany.

A graduate of the University of Georgia with a B.S. degree, Captain Rowan is a senior pilot with 10 years of active service. He piloted fighter aircraft on combat missions in Korea during the emergency there.

He will be an air science instructor at the college.

Helsabeck was formerly assigned to Seymour Johnson AF Base, Goldsboro, as a clerk and food service technician. He will be an administrative clerk with the AFROTC Detachment at State College.

Airman Helsabeck has seven years of active service. He is a Mason with membership in the Masonic Lodge at High Point.
