Students Announce Candidacy For S. G. Prexy

Dick Currie Promises True Representation

In a statement to The Technician, Dick Currie, candidate for president of the student government, said:

"I decided to become a candidate for the office of President of Student Government after serious consideration of my own qualifications, and the role that I felt that Student Government should take in the life of North Carolina State College. I have been interested in all areas of student activity since entering State, especially those pertaining to Student Government, and would welcome the opportunity to work for you, the students of North Carolina State, as your Student Government President.

"What do you want your Student Government to do for you? If I am elected, that or a similar question is one that you are going to hear again and again, for I want to develop a Student Government that is truly representative of you, the student. Student Government should be a vital part of campus life. This can only be accomplished when students are kept informed of the issues, their opinions requested, and these opinions acted upon. I will make every effort to keep students informed of Student Government activities, by the appointment of a Student Government reporter whose sole job will be the reporting of these activities to the students. Also, I will constantly seek your opinion on all issues coming before Student Government.

"There are several areas in which I will want Student Government to work during the coming year. I want Student Government to look carefully into the question of fees and self-liquidation of college buildings. I do not feel that all students are getting the full benefit of the fees that they pay. I want Student Government to look carefully into this question, and to ascertain how these fees could be better spent. In the area of self-liquidation of college buildings I want Student Government to take a strong stand against the continuation of this practice. For instance, the students of State College are now helping to pay for a gym, which many of them will never even get to use. Student Government should take the lead in getting this practice stopped.

"I also want Student Government to study the registration procedure. There are many cases in which students do not get the courses that they want or need, because they were among the last to register. This

Group Leader Recruiting Service

By Norris Tolson

Last Wednesday and Thursday nights the Student Government Commission on Orientation held interviews for prospective group leaders for next fall's orientation program. This year there were 82 new group leader applicants to be interviewed. Of this number 75 appeared and were interviewed by the members of the Commission.

There were actually 105 applications from students who hadn't been group leaders before. In this 105, there were 23 from rising seniors. After reviewing the applications, the Orientation Commission decided to accept the rising seniors without an interview because the Commission was so impressed by the applications from them. They were sent letters of acceptance. These rising seniors with the old group leaders will attend a group leader workshop tonight in the cafeteria at 6:15.

Out of a total of 127 applications from old group leaders, new group leaders, and rising seniors, 115 group leaders and alternate group leaders were appointed. These 115 students, to the Commission, represent the finest among State College men. They are all active in many extra-curricular activities and they all possess the fine qualities of leadership necessary for being a group leader.

As a group, these students rank very high academically.

The grade-point average of the group is 2.62. This is very high when one considers the fact that there are 115 grades averaged in this figure.

The Commission was very much impressed by the appearance and attitude of these students. Most of them were rated

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will hold its thirty-fifth annual Sig Ep Ball Saturday night, April 9, in Chapel Hill.

The gala affair will get under way at 6:30 with a banquet at the American Legion Building, followed by the ball which will continue until midnight.

Contributing to the beauty of the Ball will be six girls competing for the honor of Queen of the Sig Ep Ball. Queen competitors will be: Miss Gloria Miller of N. C. State, Miss Janice Carpenter of Lenoir Rhyne, Miss Carroll Rapold of High Point College, Mrs. Sorita May of Wake Forest, Miss Beverly Edwards of Atlantic Christian College, and Miss Pattie McKay of the University of North Carolina.

Also on the list of events will be the annual singing contest with all chapters competing for the singing trophy. Music for

Bob Cooke Endorsed As Active Candidate

Bob Cooke's candidacy for president of the Student Government was formally announced in a statement to The Technician today by his campaign managers, Bob Davis, IFC President and Dan Cash, Tompkins Textile Council President.

"Although the nominations book is still open, we publicly endorse Bob as the most capable and qualified candidate. Bob Cooke's outstanding record of service to the State College student body, his personality, character and sincerity are reasons for our endorsement.

"Bob has been very active in the Student Government since entering State and, therefore, is familiar with the responsibilities of the president. He has demonstrated his leadership abilities and has shown a keen sense of responsibility in carrying out the duties of vice-president this year. Much of this leadership is attributed to two years experience as a senator in the Legislature.

"As vice-president, Bob presided over the meetings of the Legislature; co-ordinated committee work; represented the student body in many college-wide, state-wide, and nationwide meetings and assemblies; and served on the College Union Board of Directors; the Consolidated University Student Council; and the Interim Council of the North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly. For two years he served as a member of the Orientation Commission, which established the "small group plan."

Bob Cooke

"In recognition of his scholastic and leadership abilities, he has been elected to membership in The Order of Thirty and Three, Blue Key National Honor Fraternity and Alpha Zeta. Bob has served on the YMCA cabinet. Also, he has served as an officer of the "Y" and of the ASAE. He is the recipient of the North Carolina Section of the ASAE scholarship.

"In the next issue of The Technician, Bob will be discussing some of the issues which should be of utmost importance to the student body during the coming school year."

Phi Kappa Phi Plan Annual Ball

By Horace Corbett

On Wednesday afternoon, April 13, the majority of the State students will be packing up and making tracks home for the Easter Holidays. On campus, will remain the Pi Kappas, who are preparing for the biggest function of the school year, the annual Rose Ball. The brothers and pledges of Tau will spend Wednesday afternoon in the preliminary preparation of the four day event and in contemplation of the good times that will be had. Wednesday night will mark the beginning of the festivities with a party at the Pi Kappa Phi house, or if the weather permits, beneath the stars on the patio. The attire will be casual and the music will be provided by the hi-fi. It is anticipated that the party will launch the week-end's activities with a bang. Most of the better partying men will still be awake to greet the rising sun Thursday morning, but will somehow, after a few winks of sleep, awake to attend a party at the house that same afternoon.

Thursday night, the partying will be in full swing as the Corvettes, a popular combo which has made several hit records, entertain. The dress for this party will be semi-formal, girls wearing party dresses and the boys, coats and ties. The social committee has carefully calculated that the party will last until four o'clock in the morn, on the basis of the consideration that even our best party men must get to bed early in order to keep up with the increasing tempo of the festivities that have been planned.

On Friday afternoon, another party is planned, and liquid refreshment will be provided. Friday night a cabin party, which will probably be the most unique of the parties, will be held with the ringing of pirates' swords to the music of the "Down-beats".

It will be Saturday when many a bleary-eyed brother and pledge will wake up to a noon-day sun and prospects of one of the biggest days of his life.

They will have to rush to take in the full schedule of events planned for the day as the quickening tempo builds up to the climax of the weekend's activities. A buffet lunch will be served on the patio Saturday afternoon for members of the fraternity, alumni, wives and dates. This lunch will be followed by a party where beverages will provide refreshment, and a talented local combo will entertain. After much merry-making, the members of Tau will let their dates retire in order to prepare themselves for the finale, the formal Rose Ball Dance and Banquet. Shortly, the scene will change to the Sir Walter Hotel where the banquet and dance will be held. An array of tuxedos and evening dresses will make the event sparkle with impressiveness. The banquet itself will be a work of art, prepared tediously in order to reach perfection. A program that is always entertaining will follow the meal with members of the distinguished alumni being introduced and the outstanding pledge award and the brother's scholarship trophy being presented. With all the formalities of the banquet completed, and all the members of the combo, the "Collegiates" from East Carolina College, present, the Rose Ball will get under way. The festivities of the week-end will come to a dramatic climax as Tau crowns its Rose Queen for 1960, at some unsuspecting moment during the dance. The crowning will be followed by tears of joy, congratulations, and general melee as the dance turns into a full-fledged party. The party at the hotel will last till one in the morning or until the band leaves. At such a time, the members and their dates will go their separate ways, but only to change into something more comfortable, bermudas, slacks, etc., and migrate back to the house where the party will be continued. This final party will wrap up the most exciting four days of functions ever held in the history of Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

A Student Dilemma

For at least three years, the officers of most of the major organizations on campus, i.e., the four classes, the Engineers' Council, the Army and Air Force R.O.T.C., the Interfraternity Council, and the Interdormitory Council, have become increasingly more disturbed when confronted with the costs of renting the Reynolds Coliseum for their major social functions of the year.

And these organization heads have had the right to be disturbed. In 1957-58, the average costs for the student dances was $327.50. Last year, that figure rose to $437.82, and, so far this year, the average cost has been $561.48. This amount of money simply for using the Coliseum! Needless to say, this slice is more than most student organizations' budgets can stand.

Possibly, the amount of money that is charged for these events is justified. We think not, but that is not the point of contention at the present time.

Two of the organizations listed above have already succumbed to the high rental prices and will hold their dances in the College Union this year. This answer may prove to be the correct one for a few years, but, obviously, with the yearly increasing enrollment, the C. U. will be unable to handle the expected dance patrons in the near future.

So, under the assumption that the C. U. will lose this present asset, let us explore other possibilities.

Several times in the past, officials of this College have tried to obtain appropriations for the construction of a large hall which could be used for both social events, as the annual dances, and cultural events, as the "Friends of the College" presentations. State College has no auditorium now which will seat even one-tenth of the enrollment, and repeated efforts to obtain one have always been squelched in the higher echelons of the North Carolina educational system.

Without going to the ridiculous, such as suggesting that all major dances of the school year to be held in Doak field or Riddick Stadium, it is fairly apparent that only one avenue of escape remains if the student organizations are to continue to have their social gatherings when the College Union is outgrown.

This avenue is plain: the Coliseum must receive money for its operation from a source other than the student organizations' coffers. And it seems only right that this money should come from the State of North Carolina, as a sort of compensation for not providing the students with a gathering place, which, at the same time, would cost the students little or nothing.

Little imagination is required to see that the students are in a quandary. With the costs of entertainment, invitations, favors, etc., rising every year, the student organizations are left with the problem of little money to expend when renting the scene of their functions.

If the State of North Carolina is content to let its leading citizens of tomorrow exist in a college atmosphere completely void of anything but the curricula-connected activities, then let the matter die. But, if the State is concerned with providing a wholesome program for the benefit of nearly all students, then it will be compelled to act by making available the necessary funds for the continuance of some of the programs that help make this college worthwhile.

Rambling Round

I don't remember, offhand, that was in evidence this year, which department was chosen as having presented the best exhibit at the Engineers' Fair last weekend; in fact, the decision does not even interest me. What did attract my attention was the noticeable improvement in both quality and quantity

Nightmare

The plain, the plain, endless, flat and rolling
Stretching its tortured fingers to nowhere
Like a hapless beggar
Deprived of bread.
And dry, bone dry and hot
Consuming that which would live,
Unmerciful rule.
A monstrous, arid ogre
Unbroken by form.
Mother Nature cried out in pain
And so did I,
Poached brains on toast.
Even the voice of solitude was drowned out
By the stream's fearful whimper of extinction.
Elijah was sleeping, with death for an alarm clock.
Sleep on, for I must not arouse you;
You cannot help. But why are you tired?
And then, and then—yes!
Shape! the horizon is no longer perfect
And though I am far away I can see it clearly now
A man writing in the sand with a stick.
He sees me, too. God! that look in his eyes!
He is truning away now, leaving, his work is done.
What message has he left?
And the writing drifts up from the sands
To meet my hungry eyes;
"Elijah is waking."

The Chemical Engineering Department, for instance, has in former years presented little more than a demonstration of their laboratory equipment; this year they presented a variety of displays and demonstrations which were interesting and educational, and which even a layman could understand. The Physics Department had about three times as much as they have ever had before, and even the E.E. displays were the largest I personally remember.

The only obvious faults I found in the fair were those few 'gimmick' displays which demonstrated nothing and whose sole purpose seemed to me to be to dumbfound and confuse the public.

The College Union did not fare as well with Carnival Night as they have in former years. There were comparatively few booths, and attendance at the event was also low; I can remember when the Union was one large sardine can on Carnival night. The weather may have had something to do with keeping people away, although I am of the opinion that the main trouble with Carnival Night this year was that it unfortunately fell on the same weekend as the Azalea Festival in Wilmington.

Someone should explain to M and O about that wonderful thing, PLANNING. If streets and parking spaces need paving, there is certainly nothing wrong with blocking them off and paving them. However, they should be able to look far enough ahead to decide just which ones can be paved in a single day—but perhaps this from the powers that be around the M and O department. The present policy seems to be to go ahead and block off all of them, and then pave them when you get around to it. After all, M and O employees don't have to park on Primrose Drive, or in the College Union parking lots, so why not block them off for a week or so? With the parking situation the way it is around here, there is no excuse for this sort of thing!

Definitions of the week: I am told that W. C. students call their institution 'Horny Hill.' Gentlemen, our duty is clear! . . . the cast of the Raleigh Little Theater's recent production of The Lark supplied this statement of the moral of the play: 'Joan burns good, like a heretic should!'

Letter to the Editor

To The Editor of The Technician:

With campus elections coming up on April 28, I want to take this opportunity to present to the students the person I feel most qualified to represent N. C. State as President of the Student Government. I have had the opportunity to work closely with Dick Currie for the past year on the Consolidated University Student Council where he served as Secretary-Treasurer. Throughout the year Dick has repeatedly brought forth ideas which have been instrumental in turning a dormant, highly-sectional group without a purpose into a well knit, integrated body with definite objectives.

A Junior in Industrial Engineering, Dick has served as Secretary of his technical society, as representative to the Engineers' Council, as a member of the Student Government's Orientation Commission and Honor Code Commission, and as Business Manager of the Southern Engineer where he was almost personally responsible for the financial success of this year's magazine. Dick has also been recognized for his leadership ability by being initiated into the Order of Thirty and Three. A student of high scholastic standing, he is also a member of Alpha Pi Mu, the Industrial Engineering Honorary Society. Dick Currie is well-acquainted with the responsibilities that the office of President holds. But more important, he is familiar with all aspects of campus life from Student Government to the Consolidated University. I sincerely hope that you will consider Dick Currie as your Candidate for Student Government President.

Lad Daniels, President
Consolidated University
Student Council

The Word

Once again it is time for campus elections. Soon each candidate for office will have a great big picture of himself smiling at you every time you turn around. Blotters and "wolf cards" listing the phone numbers of the several girl's schools in Raleigh will be circulated through the dorms, and probably even a few candidates will present themselves personally to potential voters. Campaigning will soon be in high gear, but to what avail?

There are few people on this campus who care who is in office. Everybody complains about the way State College is run, and, when they have a chance to improve things, they just sit around with that "don't give a damn" attitude. No wonder the older generation is worried about the future of the nation. With the attitude State students have about government, Charles Craven will probably be President of the United States in ten years, if he can get his name first on the ballot.

Those few who do care are the beginning of a highly organized political machine. Actually this is government by few people, too few. Why not place a grain of sand in the bearings of a few "big-wheels" and cause some hotboxes. "Down with the old regime" has been the cry that started many a battle. People around here don't even care enough to vote, and fighting is so far out of the picture that even the most imaginative minds can't perceive it. I know this is absurd, but not half as much as the attitudes of State students.

Remember, Big Brother is watching you.

SG Candidates Vie For Top Positions

Allen Kimball

Jim Floyd

Allen Kimball, a candidate for secretary of the student government, issued this announcement to The Technician:

"I will be a rising junior in the School of Agriculture, majoring in Field Crops. Since I entered State College I have been a member of the YMCA, YDC, served on the Student Government, belong to Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity and have been chosen to serve as an orientation group leader for the coming fall.

"I feel that the office of secretary is of vital importance to any organization especially to an organization such as student government. Since I have been in the student government, I feel that I know many of the duties that the secretary must perform. There are several specific ways in which the secretary can contribute to a better more well-rounded legislature. I feel that I have the ability and experience to carry out these jobs and provide the Student Government with a capable secretary.

"I promise to you students of State College that if you see fit to elect me to this position I will do everything within my power to represent State College to the best of my ability at all times."

Jim Floyd, a candidate for treasurer of Student Government, released this statement to The Technician:

"Fellows, I realize that with the Easter Holidays fast approaching, the main thing on your mind is marking off the days and preparing to go home to see 'Mom'. After the holidays and wonderful visits with 'Mom', you are sure to be confronted with two things. First, a test in every course you are taking. Second, an anxious group of politicians seeking office and keeping you from studying. Sure, I am included in the second group but only partly because I promise I will not keep you from studying.

"I became interested in running for Treasurer of the Student Government sometime ago and have decided to exploit my interest in our Student Government by becoming a candidate for this office. Our Student Government has improved greatly during the last few years. I feel that we need officers who are willing to work to continue and advance this improvement, officers who have the time to devote toward this improvement, officers who believe that deeds speak louder than words. As you well know, without confidence, you accomplish nothing.

Isler Seeks YMCA Post

Bill Isler has announced his candidacy for secretary of the YMCA. His campaign managers released the following statement to The Technician.

John Kanipe Announces SG Intentions

John Kanipe, a candidate for senator in Student Government, made this statement to The Technician:

"The time has arrived for me to speak. With the end of the semester drawing near, it is also time for us to elect officers for our various campus positions.

"As many of you, I was confident that our Student Government was in excellent hands, with overall cooperation. Several weeks ago I had the opportunity to fulfill the seat of a senator who was absent. During this meeting I carefully observed that a minority of the senators present participated in all discussion and debate, as well as presenting their views. Realizing that several of these senators will graduate this year, I am wondering about the future of our Student Government. Being one of the few who believes that there are two sides to every story and three answers to every question—mine, yours, and the right one—I believe that I can express more views in the interest of the students than were expressed at many meetings this year.

"I have spoken once—will I have a chance to speak again as your Junior Education Senator?"

"In the past year, he (Isler) has been an energetic participant in many extra-curricular activities, among these the varsity swimming team, Theta Chi Fraternity, and the YMCA cabinet. He participates in his church choir is a member of the A.I.Ch.E., and serves as Bagwell Social Director.

Isler had this to say concerning his candidacy: "During the past year I have become familiar with the YMCA and many of its problems. At the present, the YMCA is one of the most important and beneficial organizations on the State College campus. Yet, at the present, the YMCA is in serious trouble. Out of over one thousand members, barely forty people shoulder the burden of all the work of the YMCA; non-members of the YMCA have little knowledge of its existence, its purpose, or its accomplishments. These and other problems facing the YMCA must be solved.

"As secretary of the YMCA and as a member of its executive council, I believe that I could help in finding the solution to these problems and in restoring the YMCA to its proper place as a leading organization on campus."

U and the Y

There is a petition in Tom Johnston's office at the "Y" which will be sent to the Mayor's Advisory Committee on racial tension. The petition is to the effect that the undersigned will eat at counters "which serve all citizens" and will "... support stores which decide to re-open their lunch counters on a non-discriminatory basis".

Sponsored by the Fellowship of Southern Churchmen, an inter-denominational group, the petition is being sent to student groups and churches. Anyone who is interested in the petition should contact Mr. Johnston.

The Southern Area YMCA and YWCA Student Council will hold its organizational and planning meeting April 22-24, at Blue Ridge, near Black Mountain, N. C. Officers of the YMCA will attend the meeting. They are: Norman Owen, president; Sandy Mathews, vice president; Lamar Thomas, secretary; and Robert Cook, treasurer.

'Modern' Churches On View In CU

An exhibit on "Modern Church Architecture" is now on display in the gallery of the College Union.

The exhibit is open to the public and will remain in the Gallery until Wednesday, April 6.

The exhibit, circulated by The Museum of Modern Art, New York, shows through photographic enlargements, plans and interpretive text some 24 buildings in seven countries in which an atmosphere appropriate to the religious aspirations of our day has been achieved through the use of contemporary architectural forms and techniques.

They said it couldn't be done! And when I say "they," I am including a certain professor in the Electrical Engineering department who said of the electro-magnetic gun which members of the Veterans' Association designed and built, "it won't work!" Did he really think it wouldn't work or was he just underestimating the ability of our members? Anyway it did work and the hundreds who "pulled the trigger" during Carnival Weekend will attest to it. The Veterans' Association also received a trophy for sponsoring the Space Shooting Gallery in which the electro-magnetic guns were featured. The trophy was for the MOST ORIGINAL BOOTH.

The Association has its eye on more trophies in the near future! To win the particular trophies in mind, the Association will need the financial support of its members. The Campus Chest Drive ends tomorrow, so all veterans who plan to contribute to this worthy drive, please bring or send your contributions to the meeting of the Association tomorrow night at 7:30 in the College Union. These contributions will be collected and turned over to Drive officials as a lump sum donation from the Association. The campus organization contributing the largest donation will receive a trophy. We are not competing with fraternities or dormitories, but only with the various organizations on campus of which the Association is the largest. Don't let your Association lose face—GIVE!

Tomorrow is also the last day to support the Association's entry in the BLIT contest. We have a good start and the field is limited, but we still need your votes in order to win. The votes are 1¢ each or 110 votes per dollar. Take another look at the picture of the legs in Monday's issue of the Technician and then take out your billfold!

The meeting of the Association tomorrow night is an important one. The Nominations Committee will make its report to the Association after which nominations for the general elections will be received from the floor. State Pitching vs. Blue Devil Hitting

North Carolina State's Wolfpack goes against Duke in an Atlantic Coast Conference battle Saturday in Durham. The Wolfpack played Maryland this afternoon in their first ACC clash of the year.

Wilson Carruthers or Joel Gibson will pitch against Duke Saturday. Adjar Perry will handle the catching chores, while Stacy Wells will be at first, Jimmy Cox at second, Vern Strickland at short, and Neil Eason at third. Roman Gabriel will be in leftfield, Bernie Latu-sick in center, and either Jim Story or Gibson in right.

Duke has not played any ACC games this year. They were scheduled to have met Clemson Tuesday, but the game was cancelled due to wet grounds. The Wolfpack, before this afternoon's clash with Maryland, had a 3-3 record against inter-sectional opponents.

The Blue Devils, who are coached by Ace Parker, have only seven lettermen on the squad. Don Altman has been the pitching star for the Blue Devils in the early season games so far.

Lynn Fader, a 5-10 sophomore, has been handling the shortstop duties as well as supplying the Duke nine with some early season hitting power. Jack Mullen and Butch Allie have also aided the Blue Devil hitting cause. Of the seven letter men that returned, three were catchers. The Blue Devils have been using a sophomore infield with the exception of Allie at third base.

Cox has led the Wolfpack hitters in the early season games. Gibson has also come through with some timely base hits. The State pitching has been the talk of many teams throughout the conference. Carruthers has given up only one earned run in the two games that he has pitched, while Gibson has given up only two in the three contests he has pitched.

Come Saturday, it will be the Wolfpack pitching vs. the Duke hitting. Who will win? I have always heard that pitching was 75% of the game. If that is so, the Wolfpack will come home the victors.

Bob Adams Elected Pres. of Monogram Club

The Monogram Club elected its officers for the 1960-61 school year at its monthly meeting last night.

Bob Adams was elected president, succeeding Dick (Tiny) Reynolds. Other officers elected were vice president, Doug Matthews; recording secretary, Marie Thomas; membership secretary, Joyce Meares; treasurer, Tom Michaels; sergeant-at-arms, John Gill; and publicity director, Jay Brame.

Reynolds welcomed the new members to the club last night.

The club recently voted to accept cheerleaders into the club as members.

Golfers Split

State's golf team split in two matches earlier this week. They were the victims of Maryland, 15½-11½, on Maryland's University golf course. Then, Tuesday, they defeated Virginia, 18½-8½, at the Farmington Country Club. Bob Smith was medalist in the Maryland match with a 72. Their record is now 3-2.

Freshman Golf Tryouts Set

The freshman golf team will have three golf matches this year. Coach Al Michaels would like any freshman that is interested in playing on this year's team to qualify for the team this week at the Raleigh Country Club. The fresh will play Carolina and Duke in three triangular matches. The first match is scheduled for Monday April 11, at Chapel Hill. The three schools will then play at Durham, April 26. The other match, to be played in Raleigh, will be announced.

Big Four Rod And Gun Meet Set For May 2; 3 New Records Established

Seventy eight students participated in the Third Annual Rod and Gun Meet held this year for State College students.

Three new records were established with Robert Gray shooting 25 for 25 in the skeet shoot. Bob Waller shot 282 to set a new archery record, while Charles Tate had a record 183 out of a possible 200 in rifle.

Due to a conflict in facilities at UNC, the Big Four Rod and Gun Meet has been postponed until May 2.

The following is the scores in the meet held here:

Skeet		2nd Harry Golderer	252
1st Robert Gray	25	3rd James Harris	242
2nd Lacy Langdon	20	4th Bob Denning	226
3rd Vance Long	19	Rifle (unofficial)
4th Ed Langston	17	1st Charles Tate	183
John Brady	17	2nd G. L. Barrier	182
Archery		3rd Milton Mills	175
1st Bob Waller	282	4th Koumpsrakis	174
		State will be the favorite in this year's meet at UNC.

Coliseum Rental Policy Changes As Students Take Different Views

Before one can understand the problems that presently face student groups as they apply for use of the Reynolds Coliseum for dances, speeches, symphonies, etc., it is necessary to view the history of the Coliseum rental with respect to the above-mentioned presentations.

In Spring, 1952, students of State College were paying approximately one thousand dollars to rent the Coliseum for one dance. Student leaders, aware of the fact that such a situation, allowed to continue, could bring nothing but the eventual abandonment of all school dances in the Coliseum.

So, at the insistence of the student leaders, the College Administration agreed to offer the Coliseum for all school dances to the students for the base price of three hundred dollars. This policy also included the stipulation that any alterations in the existing make-up of the Coliseum would be charged for in addition to the base fee.

In the middle fifties, students again became dissatisfied with the prices of the Coliseum rental and asked that they might again be charged on a cost basis, i. e., that there be no base fee, and that they would be charged for each action that the Coliseum was compelled to make in preparation for the event, such as removal of seats, additional lighting, etc.

At the time the students suggested this return to the cost basis, it was the general feeling that such a plan would allow the students' organizations which sponsored dances to hold the price of renting the Coliseum to a figure lower than the base fee that had been agreed on in 1952. Likewise, this plan also was accepted by the College Administration and effected immediately.

Since the time of the adoption of this cost basis, there has been no change in the method by which the Coliseum rents its facilities to student groups.

above average by the members of the Commission who interviewed them. When the time came to eliminate some of the applicants, the interviewers found it very hard to do. There were so very few below average ratings that it became necessary to discuss every applicant with an average rating, and come to a decision as to whether or not to keep him. The Commission is glad to say that they had to turn down only 12 applicants. The Commission feels this fact shows that only the highest caliber student is willing and able to do the job.

The new group leaders met in the cafeteria last night for the first of two training sessions that they have to attend. At this training session the new group leaders were given almost all of the information that they will have to use next fall during Orientation Week.

Army ROTC Announces Drill Comp. Winners

The winner of the annual competition for the best drilled platoon in the Army ROTC cadet brigade at State College was announced today (Thursday, April 7) by the cadet brigade commander, Cadet Colonel Sam T. Smathers of Canton.

A former star of the Wolfpack basketball team, Cadet Lieutenant Donald M. Gallagher of Binghamton, New York, was the leader of the winning 1st platoon, D Company of the 3rd battle group. Don is completing his senior year in ROTC at State College.

Gallagher's platoon compiled enough points in basic marching maneuvers to win out over the other two platoons in the final competition.

The runner-up units were 2nd platoon, D Company of the 2nd battle group commanded by Cadet Lt. William A. Hall of Hickory; and 1st platoon, C Company of the 1st battle group commanded by Cadet Lt. Donald M. Dawkins of Rockingham. Members of the winning platoon are:

John Broughton, III of Hertford; J. F. Adkins of Stoneville; G. F. Fowler of Salisbury; P. L. Gurley of Goldsboro; R. N. Garner of Winston-Salem; B. B. Best of Stumpy Point; L. B. Carwan of Greenville; H. F. Biggs of Lumberton; D. E. Freas of Walnut Cove; L. M. Stillwell of Hickory; C. S. Finch of Henderson; L. C. Best of Charlotte; H. C. Enloe of Asheville; W. S. Guion of Charlotte; R. L. Boger of Winston-Salem; H. A. Fishel of Charlotte; K. G. Davenport of Newland; H. P. Brown of Washington, N. C.; K. R. Thoms of Pearl River, N. Y.; J. L. should never be allowed to happen at State College. Also, we have all had the carefully worked out schedule that we prepared torn up and replaced by a group of eight and five o'clock classes. There are many ways in which this procedure can be improved to eliminate the missed courses, fouled up schedules, and long lines characteristic of our present registration system. Student Government should investigate the possibilities, decide upon the best solution for State, and use all its power to get such a system installed.

"I also want Student Government to work to guarantee the present graduation procedure. I see little benefit in making Seniors wait until after the present exam week to graduate, for this would only serve to delay many students for a time ranging from a few days to a week. However, if Student Government does not take a firm stand on this issue we may well see the date for graduation changed until after exam week.

"As we all know, our campus is growing at a rapid rate, and the living areas are getting further and further from the academic areas of the campus. With the completion of the Married Student Housing Project and Fraternity Row this will be even more true. I feel that it is time for Student Government to begin the study of a campus transportation system. We do not now have a serious problem in this area, but work should be begun now, to insure that such a problem will not result.

Senior Candidates Seek Class Offices

President—Roger Mozingo

Roger Mozingo, today announced his candidacy for president of the Senior Class. Mozingo made this statement to The Technician:

"Since entering State College three short years ago, I have participated and obtained membership in a number of clubs, fraternities, and activities. To mention a few: Alpha Zeta, Kappa Phi Kappa, Apollo Club, 30 & 8, Blue Key, Student Government Senator, Young Democrats Club, and my departmental clubs.

I feel that these organizations and activities have done much to provide the extra know-how, desire, and interest which should be possessed by any candidate choosing to pledge his services to our class.

"In past years, I realize that the chief responsibility of the Senior Class President has been that of preparing and presenting a graduation speech at the fall and spring commencement exercises. Now, however, the senior class president not only has to present commencement speeches, but he must also assume the responsibility of leadership in the newly established program for the selection of the Outstanding Teacher of the Year in our various schools.

"Still in the trial stage, the Outstanding Teacher program should be continued and improved where possible, for it is my belief that this program can and will do much to improve our classroom instruction by honoring those teachers who are doing outstanding work here at State College.

"Surely, the present senior class should be recognized for the time and effort involved in initiating such a program. Without further renewed interest and support the program could fail—it is the responsibility of the rising seniors to see that a means is reached for its continuance. If elected your class president, I will work toward this end.

"In conclusion, I offer you myself as a candidate with the desire and willingness to give your complete representation to any and all matters which will be of concern to our class."

State and am a prospective pledge of the Tau Beta Pi Engineering Honor Society. I feel that my grade point average will allow me the extra time this office needs, if I should have the honor of being elected.

"To close, I would like to urge you and all of your friends to be sure and vote on April 28, and to all of the Juniors, I would sincerely appreciate your vote."

Currin Announces Jr. Pres. Campaign

David Currin, a candidate for president of the junior class, made this announcement to The Technician:

"In the past, I have held various positions of responsibility and feel that I am capable of handling the many responsibilities that the presidency carries. I realize that this office requires a great deal of work and if I am elected I will do the very best work possible to fulfill the faith shown in electing me."

Education, Legislation Discussed by Sanford

By Jim Page

The State College Union Forum Committee presented its first in a series of gubernatorial candidate speeches last Monday night in the Ballroom of the Union. Terry Sanford, one of the major candidates, was the guest speaker for the occasion.

Mr. Sanford was introduced by Phil Carlton, president of the Senior Class and a strong supporter of Sanford. In his opening remarks Carlton pointed out that Sanford was a native of Laurinburg, N. C. and attended Presbyterian Junior College. From there he transferred to the University of North Carolina, which is nothing particularly to boast about. Mr. Sanford was later a special agent for the F.B.I. and served with the U. S. Army in World War II as a paratrooper in Europe. Mr. Carlton also pointed out that Sanford has been a state Senator, President of the Y.D.C. clubs of North Carolina, a democratic national convention delegate, and was one of the state ports authorities. Along with these duties, he has also served in numerous other civic, church, and political positions.

In concluding his introduction Carlton said, "Now ladies and gentlemen I present to you the next governor of North Carolina." This promptly brought a great applause from the audience and a bright beam from the face of Sanford.

In his speech Sanford said that legislation dealing with purely local matters should be handled on a local level.

"Why not have the bill passed in the county where it will be discussed if it needs discussion," said Sanford. "These decisions should be made on a local level, close to the people who are affected by them."

Sanford also stated that Education was the dominating issue in the present campaigns. With this statement he emphatically declared that if elected he would go to the General Assembly to ask for more money to support the public school system of the state. He said, "My chief goal is quality education—teaching the child to think for himself, to learn how to keep on learning, and to become educated, not just trained."

Sanford said that in his opinion that State College was one of the greatest factors concerning the economic standards of the State. He especially emphasized that this is true in the field of agriculture.

At the conclusion of Sanford's speech, the floor was opened to questioning by Fred Toms chairman of the Forum Committee. In a round of questioning which varied from who Sanford's choice for the presidency was to what he thought on integration, Sanford stated very frankly and firmly what he thought on each of the subjects he was questioned on.

At the conclusion of the speeches and questioning, this reporter had a chance to speak to Sanford for a few moments in strict regard to the help State College students were (See SANFORD, page 8)

At The College Union

By Ann Smith
The College Union Outing Committee will sponsor a trip to Long Beach, near Southport, N. C., April 9 and 10. The approximate cost of the trip will be $3.00. This will include food and transportation. Interested students must sign up at the College Union Main Desk before 12 noon April 8.

The Contest is sponsored by the CU Photography Committee. All entries must be submitted to the CU Activities Office before May 3, 1960.

Only State College students and College Union members are eligible to enter this contest. No previously published or College Union Contest winning photograph or slide can be entered in this contest.

Dr. I. Beverly Lake will speak in the College Union Ballroom Friday, April 8, at 8 p.m. He is the second in a series of candidates for governor to speak at the CU. The third speaker will be Malcolm Seawell who will speak Tuesday, April 12, at 8 p.m. in the CU Theatre.

These talks are sponsored by the CU Forum Committee. All students who are eligible to vote are particularly invited to attend.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" is the movie for this week-end. The film, starring Micheal Redgrave and Joan Greenwood, relates Oscar Wilde's views on morals, manners, and matrimony in this first-rate comedy hit. Showings will be at 1, 3, 5, 7, & 9 in the CU Theatre. The week-end movies are presented by the CU film Committee.

The College Union Photo Contest is now in progress. Anyone interested in submitting photos are asked to drop at the CU Activities Office and pick up a copy of the Contest Rules.

The Contest is divided into two divisions: (1) Black and white, (2) Color slides. Three prizes are awarded in each division.

"Annapurna" will be the PANORAMA scheduled for Friday, April 8, at 8 p.m. in the CU Theatre. Filmed as it happened—the magnificent color documentary of the conquering of Annapurna, one of the great mountains on earth. Maurice Herzog's Himalaya expedition, with its wealth of human interest, its vividly picturesque jungle and mountain setting, is one of the amazing true stories of our time.

The PANORAMA for Friday, April 22, at 8 p.m. will be "Hemo the Magnificent." It is a cleverly animated cartoon study of human blood—what it is, how it circulates, and how it nourishes the body.

Entertaining animation shows how the heart pumps blood through arteries to the capillaries then back through the veins to the lungs for purification. Micro-photography is used to show blood cells moving through capillaries. Other remarkable photography shows the human heart beating, and also the hearts of a number of animals.

PANORAMA is a feature of the CU film Committee.

President—Floyd McCall

It was announced today that Floyd McCall, present vice-president of State's freshman class will be a candidate for the presidency of the rising sophomore class in the coming campus elections.

In a statement to The Technician his campaign manager pointed to McCall's past record as evidence of the quality which can be expected of him if elected. He pointed out that in addition to his serving as freshman class vice-president, McCall has had other positions of responsibility. He has been a member of the WKNC radio staff and is presently employed as a staff announcer at WRAL radio in Raleigh. He has served as a member of the CU Dance Committee, Collegiate 4-H Club, and Freshman Diners' Club since

Secretary—Dillard Dehart

Dillard L. DeHart, Jr. has announced his candidacy for sophomore secretary. Jim Henry, his campaign manager, stated to The Technician:

"Dillard L. DeHart, Jr. is one of the outstanding students in the rising sophomore class. It elected it is a certainty that he will perform his duties to the utmost of his ability. This year he has served ably as engineering senator and alternate representative of the State Student Legislature. He has been a member of the YMCA Freshmen Diners' Club and discussion group, and also the Young Democrats Club. To take the time to perform this job adequately it is necessary that a candidate be qualified academically. DeHart has a 3.2 average. I'm certain that you will see that Dillard DeHart would make an outstanding sophomore secretary and engineering senator."

Kuskraa had this to say: "The rising sophomore class is in need of a qualified body of officers. The rising sophomore class will always work to the best of my ability and will strive to render my fullest service in representing them."

Treasurer—Buck Champion

Buck Champion has announced his candidacy for treasurer of the sophomore class. His campaign manager made this statement to The Technician:

campus character:

"The office of treasurer is a position of grave responsibility since the job of collection of dues and the financial stability of the class depends on his proficiency.

"In this position experience is the prime objective. Without any previous experience, a treasurer would run into many problems he would not be able to handle. Buck has this necessary experience to efficiently govern the class's funds.

"Another major task of the treasurer and class officers is the planning of the annual Freshman - Sophomore Class Dance. Buck is presently working hard on the upcoming dance. This another big area where experience is most important. In his close connection with the dance, he realizes the importance of close financial supervision. He urges each and every freshman to support his dance by attending.

"Another important issue which Buck has expressed grave concern over is the number voting in the last election. The class officers represent you. Vote for who you please, but please vote. If anyone has any suggestions on the affairs of the present freshman class please contact Buck. He is vitally interested in improvement in himself and the affairs of our present class."

Ghost Charge Haunts Lucky Strike's Dr. Frood

Dear Dr. Frood: I am writing my term paper and would like to know how the average professor differentiates between research and plagiarism?

Lit. Major

Dear Lit: Plagiarism is when you copy your paper from a book. Research is when you copy your paper from more than one book.

Dear Dr. Frood: I was shocked when I read of ghostwriting firms preparing term papers for certain college students. But I was doubly horrified, upset and stunned when I heard a rumor that you, Dr. Frood, also use a ghost. Tell me it isn't so, Doctor.

Jacob Marley

Dear Jacob: I categorically deny your accusation. I do not use, nor have I ever used, a ghost to write this column. I admit, however, that when confronted with certain difficult student problems, I have called upon my late departed Uncle Purdy for advice and counsel.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have just been informed that there are over 100 brands of cigarettes on the market today. Why so many?

Harvey J. Wamerdam

Dear Harvey: Conceivably, there are 100 people in the country who do not smoke Luckies.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a sophomore who has finally mastered every syllable of the Whiffenpoof Song. To my chagrin, I have just discovered that I am not attending Yale. Any suggestions?

Jivy Leaguer

Dear Jivy: Fake it, man, fake it!

Dear Dr. Frood: I have just completed my doctorate thesis on "The Socio-Political-Religio-Economic Aspects of Tribal Development in Central Africa, 1805-1809." I believe my work has immense popular appeal and would like to have it published in pocket-book form. How does one go about doing this?

Dear Ethelbert: One changes the title to "Love-Starved in Mau Mau Land."

Dear Dr. Frood: I am going nuts—nuts, I tell you!—trying to solve this puzzle. Please! What is the secret?

Puzzled

Dear Puzzled:

Dear Dr. Frood: I didn't make the crew because I get seasick. I couldn't make the baseball team because the resin bag gives me a rash. I was kicked off the track team because cinders kept getting in my eye. And I had to drop tennis because I get vertigo watching the ball go back and forth. "It means a great deal to me to have the support of some of the leading State College Students such as Eddie Knox, Phil Carlton, Jim Hunt, and Don Blizzard. I truly am grateful for their help during my campaign. I would also welcome any other help from any of the State College Students."

Don Blizzard, president of the young Democrats Club, made this statement for the Technician in regard to the attendance of the other two meetings to be held at later dates. "I would deeply urge each and every student to attend the next two in the series of talks by the gubernatorial candidates. This is one of the best ways I know to prepare yourself to vote intelligently on May 28."

College Union

(Continued from page 6) be held Wednesday, April 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the CU Craft Shop. These weekly classes are sponsored by the CU Hobby Committee.

News has come to the CU that our Chess Club defeated the Chapel Hill Chess Club 2½ to 1½. For the State Chess Club, which was just reorganized this year, this was a great victory over the highly favored Carolina Club.

Dr. Norman Hornstein, president of the North Carolina Chess Association and vice-president of the United States Chess Federation, will stage an exhibition at the weekly Chess Club meeting Monday, April 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the CU. All persons are cordially invited to attend.

APPLIED PHILOSOPHY 221

Thought Process of Women

Dr. A. Tract

Emphasis on philosophy of getting dates. Background of dateless students who use sticky hair creams or alcohol hair tonics. Fundamental logic of students who have discovered that 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic takes care of hair even when used with water. Philosophy of the Enlightenment: one may use all the water one wants with 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic. Students who use 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic think—therefore they are sought after by lovely females. Cause: 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic. Effect: Dates.

Materials: one 4 oz. bottle 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic chosen by YOU, the members at large. The Association's future is in the hands of those interested members who come to the next two meetings (April 8th, nominations; April 22nd, elections) and express their opinions vocal and by the ballot. After the business session tomorrow night, our program will feature another speaker in the current financial series. Mr. Marsden DeRosset, representing Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner and Smith Inc. Securities, will present an informative lecture on stocks and bonds. Plan now to attend!

As a special note to those members (and interested non-members) who have not attended the last two meetings, by-laws of the Association have been modified. The by-law concerning dress now reads: "Preferred dress for Association meetings is semi-formal." Also the meeting time has been changed to 7:30.
