Married Students Protest Housing

Knox, Vetville Head Issue Joint Release

Eddie Knox, the president of the Student Government, and Gene Hartsell, Mayor of Vetville, recently issued the following statement concerning the high rent that is proposed for the new married housing development.

"The married students of State College have united in a movement to protest the college administration's policy pertaining to the housing project, Stateville.

"The administration released details of operational procedures and policies on April 26. The announcement listed rental rates as follows: efficiency—$43.00, one-bedroom—$57.00, two-bedroom—$69.00; with no utilities furnished by the college.

"Under the present proposal, the present housing project, Vetville, will close on September 15. Rent in these apartments is $19.00 a month. Married students in Vetville were given five days in which to make a decision to establish their priority in the new apartments.

"Notice was served that no student would have an option of using his presently owned refrigerator, stove, hot water heater, or washing machine.

"Five years ago, student leaders united with the administration in an effort to secure replacement units for the present

Vetville. The purpose of a replacement project was to provide adequate housing at a minimum cost to the individual. The married students, in consideration of the administration's policy, are contending that the new project fails to meet the original objective.

"To determine the need of the new housing project, a survey of married students was conducted around November 20, 1957. Within the contents of the questionnaire, the following question was asked of the married students: 'Would you be interested in renting a new college-owned (permanent type) apartment located on the State College campus with heat, water, stove, and refrigerator furnished for efficiency apartment @ $42 per month [and/or] one-bedroom apartment @ $50 per month. At the stipulated rates, many students responded requesting such apartments. The suggested rates are far below those now being proposed.

"The married students recognize the 'fire hazard' conditions of the present temporary apartments, Vetville. It is not their contention to preserve this project. The students are contending that the entire rates are far in excess of the financial means of the married students. The administration has not taken into consideration the married students' long-range financial plans. For example, request for early release of information pertinent to the college's intent on rental arrangement of the new apartments met with no success. The President of the Student Body made request, both oral and written, to obtain such information. The administration, to the contrary, did not release this information until April 26. Due to

Urbie Green Slated To Play At Jr.-Sr. Dance

This year the annual dance honoring the senior class will feature the music of Urbie Green and his orchestra. The Junior-Senior will be held at the College Union on the main dance floor. There will also be room for dancing downstairs, and the snack bar will be open. The dance begins at 8 p.m. on May 14.

Urbie Green broke into the big time with Woody Herman. Since that time he has been featured with Gene Krupa, Hugo Winterhalter, Ray Block, Perry Como, Jackie Gleason, and many others. His TV musical credits include "The Jackie Gleason Show", Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town", "Studio One", and "The Perry Como Show".

Benny Goodman used Urbie as soloist for a special engagement at New York's Basin Street Club. This led to a job as the trombone soloist in "Then Benny Goodman Story." RCA Victor has recently signed Urbie to do a series of albums in New York.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Stateville . . .

Student Government President Eddie Knox and Vetsville Mayor Gene Hartsell have prepared a comprehensive statement summing up the main protests which the State College married students hold against the recently released rules and regulations governing the new married student housing project, Stateville (See story, page one.)

Several items in their statement demand more than passing notice. For instance, the statement says that five years ago, student leaders and the administration united in an effort to secure the project which is nearing completion now. In the report that was prepared in 1955, the following appeared: "Mr. L. L. Vaughan, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the Housing Authority of the City of Raleigh, stated that in his opinion suitable permanent one and two bedroom apartments for married students could be provided for a maximum rental of $49.00 per month. Such a return would liquidate the cost of the project in a 40 year period; and, at the same time, lights, heat, and water could be furnished without additional cost to the renters. Mr. Vaughan pointed out that he used a 300 unit housing center as the basis for his estimates. If fewer units were constructed, the cost per unit would be increased." Without questioning the competence of Mr. Vaughan, it is hard to believe that the cost of living has risen over fifty per cent in the past five years.

The statement that Knox and Hartsell have prepared goes on to mention two main reasons for the protests being registered by the students. They are that the handling of the situation has been improper and that the high rental rates are more than the average married student could hope to be able to pay.

Little imagination is required to see that the situation has been handled improperly. Students were informed of the regulations on April 26, 1960, barely one month before the end of this semester. Needless to say, most married students are forced to work during the summer months so that they will be able to come back to school in the fall, leaving them with this one month of May in which they must prepare long-range budgets, prepare to dispose of many new kitchen appliances, and decide on other plans which must be completed before they will be able to leave school for the summer.

No one need reiterate the facts behind the protest of the high rental rates set down in the statement on the project. Many families with both husband and wife working pay less than the rates prescribed and yet live comfortably in a respectable neighborhood. Here are families with only one, if any, working, and they are expected to pay a rent that is consistent, if not higher, than that paid by many young, working couples.

It may be too late for anything to be done about the rates that will be charged. It, of course, is already too late for anything to be done about the late timing which came with the publication of the regulations governing the project. But, the contention is that the students be informed of the manner by which the rules in question were made. And, it is definitely not too late for that. It may ease the pain . . . but not necessarily.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of The Technician:

How many of the students at State College would like to see an organization similar to the Friends of the College, Inc., on campus? Well, there now is an organization like that—the Library Committee Incorporated of the College Union.

However, this new form of the Library Committee is just starting, and we need help—especially help from students. One of the purposes of this new Library Committee is to bring several outstanding authors,

Cooke, Pres.-Elect, Releases Statement

I wish to express my appreciation for the support and vote of confidence given me by the student body. It is my desire to further develop an active, functioning student government to promote the interests of the student body.

In order to achieve this, the student government must be sensitive to student needs and opinions. Consequently, your ideas, suggestions, and constructive criticisms will be appreciated.

A number of appointments to important committees which are concerned with specific areas of campus welfare and policy will be made this week. Wednesday afternoon in the student government office I will interview those persons who are interested in serving. Committee appointments or reappointments will be made as soon as possible after the interview. Application blanks should be picked up at the main desk of the College Union, filed out, and brought with you to the interview. If you can not be present Wednesday afternoon for the interview, you should write or call the student government office (TE 2-8738).

Appointments to be made are as follows: Traffic Committee, Orientation Commission, Consolidated University Student Council, Cheerleader Selection Committee, NSA Coordinator, Campus Stores Advisory Committee, Cafeteria Advisory Committee, and the Honor System Study Commission. I shall look to meeting you Wednesday.

President-elect

writers, critics, etc., to this campus. The Library Committee will draw funds from the College Union, the School of General Studies, and the sale of memberships in the corporation by way of the Raleigh book clubs. In short, we will have ample funds to bring in excellent speakers.

However, as I said before, we need help; by this, I do not mean people who would join just to belong, but I mean people who are genuinely interested in something like this and are willing to work. If you are interested and willing to work, please feel free to come to the Library Committee meeting. Meeting times will be posted in the College Union on the meeting day, Friday, and, on other days, the Main Desk will have information as to when the next meeting will be.

Bob Burgess, chairman
Library Committee

To the Editor of The Technician:

I would like to ask all my supporters in the past campaign for President of the sophomore class to shift their support to Floyd McCall. I know that Floyd is capable of doing the job, and I hope that all sophomores will vote for him.

Barry Shaw

To the Editor of The Technician:

Many students of the University of California campus and throughout California are rallying to the support of Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination. We would like to invite the students of your campus to join us in our work.

Through rallies and petitions, students can contribute an important part in demonstrating the continued popular support of Mr. Stevenson. If we, of the college community, can unite ourselves, our role may be decisive in influencing the nomination of this great statesman for president.

Greeks On Campus

By Bill Marley

The brothers and pledges of Gamma Upsilon and Lambda Chi Alpha held a dinner this past Sunday at the College Inn in honor of the pinned women of the fraternity. President Harold Colston addressed the gathering. The women that were honored were Miss Edwina Armstrong, pinned to Charles Gup-ton; Miss Peggy Breedlove, engaged to James Parrish; Miss Kay Jones, pinned to Herb Rosenthal; Miss Rachel Lowe, pinned to Earl Long; Miss Linda Reece, pinned to Frank Gaffney; Miss Sonya Robertson, pinned to Lanny Rayfield; Miss Mattie Sapp, pinned to Ted Bales; and Miss Donna Starnes, pinned to John Parker. A number of friends and guests were also present.

A consensus of opinion I have gathered would be that Spring Greeks really was successful as far as music is concerned. The concert needed better sound for reaching the mountaineers high in the snow-covered tops of Brewer's pasture, but what little I heard was quite sufficient. The dance was not as well attended this year as last for unknown reasons. I'll have to admit I missed it, but I did hear Maynard Ferguson at the '59

Junior-Senior, so I can say that all the Greeks who missed it did miss some fabulous trumpet and dance music.

Report on the food drive seems to finalize at approximately 4500 lbs., according to the Delta Sigs' Wes Perry. The Sigma Nu's had a landslide total to win the contest easily.

The IFC Banquet was successful with an excellent meal at the College Inn for the three representatives from each house. The scholarship award went to FarmHouse for the sixth year in a row. The Sigma Pi pledge scholarship cup was awarded to the Sigma Chi's. The new E. L. Cloyd awards went for the first year to George Watts Hill, a Durham businessman, and William D. Carmichael, Vice-President of the Greater University of North Carolina, both men having made great contributions to N. C. State fraternities in the last few years. William C. Friday, President of the Greater University of North Carolina, spoke at the banquet.

Finally in Greek news is that the Field Day was won this year by the Pi Kappa Phi's.

I failed to list a reference for the article in this column last Thursday. The reference material for the article was the April issue of Your Good Neighbor, edited and published by J. Harold Smith.

Despite all of M & O's many blunders, they do accomplish some good. For instance, recently around Syme they have set out trees and shrubbery as well as laying more brick walks and, in general, improving the landscape.

The new chairs that Syme residents now have are a big improvement over the old worn-out ones we were using.

Parts of our campus are very beautiful at this time of year. The pretty red and white flowers against a background of green grass and shrubs in front of the cafeteria help to make our campus more attractive. We can thank M & O's yard crew for this.

Through their riotings and protests, Korean students and others led a campaign that ended with the downfall of President Syngman Rhee. Turkish students are staging violent demonstrations against their Premier, whom they accuse of being a dictator. They have fought policemen on a number of occasions. In Japan, 6,000 students tried to break their way through police lines to get to the Parliament building to protest against Japan's New Security Pack with the United States. In the United States, students started the sit-down strikes in Greensboro. These strikes and the accompanying demonstrations soon spread to many other cities. These demonstrations were carried out largely by students.

What makes students the first to protest against something, or to initiate an action such as the sit-down strikes?

Does education cause such an "enlightenment"? If education is the reason, then why do not the businessmen, teachers, and other people with college educations join in on a large scale such as the students have done in their protests?

Do students have any rights, privileges, or freedoms that other people do not have? I think not. Then what motivates them to act as they do? What causes them to act, but at the same time keeps the other people of the nation, state, or community from taking the same action? Restraint is the answer. Students have little restraint. Many of us are out on our own for the first time. We have freedom, but sometimes we do not use our freedom wisely. We are not completely mature. We are beginning to think for ourselves, and sometimes we go to extremes. When we were living with our parents, they helped to guide us in the decisions we made and the action we took. When we are older, our mature minds and wise reasoning will guide us. Right now, we have

Tar Heels Halt Pack; State Tied For Third

By Earl Mitchell

The State Wolfpack was denied its fifth win in a row this past Saturday when they became the fourth consecutive victim of the University of North Carolina by a 7-2 count. The game was played here on the State campus before one of the largest crowds so far this season.

The loss dropped State's season mark to a 7-6 and put them in a tie for third place in the conference with Wake Forest and Carolina. All three teams have 4-3 loop marks at the present. The win was the second big conference win for the Tar Heels in as many days. On Friday the Tar Heels dropped previously undefeated Duke.

State led off the scoring in the bottom of the second inning with two runs. The Tar Heels came back to get three runs in the third, two in the seventh and two in the ninth to win going away. Wayne Young of the Tar Heels limited the Wolfpack to only five base blows while the Carolina nine collected nine hits off the offerings of Joel Gibson and Wilson Carruthers. The loss was charged to Gibson giving him a 5-3 mark for the season. Gibson was able to add only three strike outs to his total of 39 to give him 41 for the season. Gibson was leading the conference in this department before the Carolina game.

With one out in the second frame, Adjar Ray Perry banged out a single to rightfield. Wayne Edwards got another single and then a Carolina error allowed Perry to score to give the Pack a one run lead. Two walks loaded the sacks and Edwards scored on an infield out. A pop fly ended the inning and the scoring threat for the Wolfpack for the entire game.

In the top of the third inning the Tar Heels struck back with three big runs to step into the lead for keeps. Larry Carver reached first on an infield hit and Griffin reached first on a free pass but was promptly picked off by Perry. Norton walked and Burgwyn knocked out a double to score Carver. Ellerbe cleaned the sacks with a single to give the Tar Heels their three runs.

In the seventh inning, Carver doubled and was followed by a home run by Griffin. In the ninth inning Norton walked and Burgwyn contributed the second home run of the game and the final two runs of the game.

While the varsity was being defeated by the Tar Heels, the State freshmen were beating the Tar Babies in Chapel Hill. The Wolflets hauled a Carolina rally in the ninth inning to win the game by a 6-5 count.

Don Montgomery paced the State attack with three hits and four runs batted in. He had a double, triple and a home run. Going into the ninth inning the State team held a 6-1 margin over the Carolina freshmen, but the Carolina team pushed across four runs before the rally was brought to a halt on a pop fly.

Boyette was the winning pitcher for the State team but he required some help from Bone in the ninth inning.

The State varsity team met Virginia at Virginia this afternoon and will play the Maryland team tomorrow afternoon at College Park, Maryland. The Pack will return to the State campus to take on the current conference leading Duke Blue Devils.

Wolfpack Drops Clemson, Ties Deacs

The State tennis team had a very successful weekend this past Friday and Saturday. On Friday afternoon the Pack beat Clemson and on Saturday afternoon they tied Wake Forest at 3-all in the singles matches before rain halted play. The three doubles matches will be played at a later date this season.

The Pack took four singles matches and two doubles in downing the Clemson Tigers by a 6-3 count. The Tigers won the first and second singles matches and the first doubles for their only wins of the day. James Spence, Jim Hart, Elon Faelton and Capt. Irwin Holmes won the four singles matches with the teams of Hart and Sargal and Ellison and Skidmore winning the two doubles matches.

Spence, Faelton and Holmes contributed the singles wins for the Wolfpack in the Wake Forest match before rain brought the court action to a halt. This match will be completed at the Atlantic Coast Conference tennis tournament on May 12. The State netters played the Virginia team here this afternoon and will face the Duke team in Durham on Wednesday afternoon. They return home on Saturday to face Ft. Eustis in match.

Housing

the fact that the information was not released until late in the academic year, the students have been unable to make long-range plans. Many students have purchased appliances that otherwise would not have been purchased had they been informed of the administration's decision to prohibit the use of individually owned appliances in the new development.

"Under the proposed plan, the new units will not approach a competitive level with commercial firms in surrounding areas. Since the new facilities are built on state owned property, it would appear that this factor would contribute to lower rent.

"The students further contend that if the rates are figured at the most reasonable arrangement, that the information as to how the proposed figures were obtained should be released to the students and the public. Such detailed information has not been made available. The students are requesting the administration to review the entire proposal and if at all feasible to provide a more equitable situation."

little restraint from either of these two stabilizing forces. The results? Many students were killed and others were injured in Korea. Many others were injured in Japan when they fought with policemen. In Turkey, many students are being jailed, and many have been injured. In the United States, there have been fights between groups of white and Negro students.

As in Korea, sometimes the students accomplish good by their actions, but could not the same thing have been accomplished in a more peaceful manner?

Why do so many of students' protests end in violence sooner or later? Is it because they do not use good judgment? When will students learn to think and act wisely?

A GUIDE FOR THE LOVELESS

Gentlemen, take warning. June is almost upon us—June, the month of brides. Have you got yours yet? If not, don't despair. You don't have to be rich or handsome to get a girl. All you have to be is kind, considerate, thoughtful, and obliging—in short, a gentleman.

For example, don't ever call a girl for a date at the last minute. Always give her plenty of advance notice—like three months for a coke date, six months for a movie, a year for a prom, two years for a public execution. This shows the girl that she is not your second or third choice and also gives her ample time to select her costume.

And when you ask for a date, do it with a bit of Old World gallantry. A poem, for instance, is always sure to please a young lady, like this.

I think you're cute,
Daphne La France.
I'll put on a suit,
And take you to a dance.

In the unlikely event that you don't know any girls named Daphne La France, try this:

I think you're cute,
Winifred Jopp.
I'll put on a suit,
And take you to a hop.

In the extremely unlikely event that you don't know a Winifred Jopp either, try this:

I think you're cute,
Isabel Prall.
I'll put on a suit,
And take you to a ball.

Have You Got Yours Yet?

If there is no Isabel Prall, Winifred Jopp, or Daphne La France on your campus, it is quite obvious why you've had trouble finding dates all year: you've enrolled in an all-male school, you old silly!

Next let us take up the question of etiquette once you are out on a date with Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne. The first thing you do, naturally, is to offer the young lady a Marlboro. Be sure, however, to offer her an entire Marlboro—not just a Marlboro butt. Marlboro butts are good of course, but whole Marlboros are better. You get an extra inch or two of fine flavorful tobacco—and I mean flavorful. Do you think flavor went out when filters came in? Well, you've got a happy surprise coming when you light a Marlboro. This one really delivers the goods on flavor, and when you hand Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne a whole, complete, brand-new Marlboro, she will know how highly you regard and respect her, and she will grow misty and weak with gratitude, which is very important when you take her out to dinner, because the only kind of coed a college man can afford to feed is a weak and misty coed. Latest statistics show that a coed in a normal condition eats one and a half times her own weight every twelve hours.

At the end of your date with Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne, make certain to get her home by curfew time. That is gentlemanly. Do not leave her at a bus stop. That is rude. Deliver her right to her door and, if possible, stop the car when you are dropping her off.

The next day send a little thank-you note. A poem is best. Like this:

For a wonderful evening, many thanks,
Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne.
I'll take you out for some more merry pranks
Next Saturday if you'll haph me.

We can't give you rhyme but we'll give you good reason why you'll enjoy Marlboro and Marlboro's unfiltered companion cigarette, Philip Morris. One word says it all: flavor.
